A standout guard for the University of Pittsburgh (1987-92), Miller was the Big East Freshman of the Year in 1988, won a gold medal on the 1991 U.S. World University Games team and was a member of his alma mater's all-centennial team in 2005 ... ARIZONA IN THE NATIONAL STATISTICAL RANKINGS: As a team, Arizona ranked in the top 100 nationally in three statistical categories: free throw percentage (.733/36th), three-point field goal percentage defense (.314/50th) and three-point field goal percentage (.358/91st). Individually, two UA players ranked in the top 100 of two categories: Derrick Williams, field goal percentage (.574/12th) and Nic Wise, free throw percentage (.878/18th). Incidentally, UA's .314 (180-of-574) three-point FG percentage defense was the lowest for the program since the 2000-01 national runners-up posted a .305 figure and was the third lowest in program history since the advent of the three-point shot in 1986-87. Furthermore, UA's 180 treys allowed was the lowest opponent total since 1992-93.

FRESHMAN OF THE YEAR: Derrick Williams was named the Pac-10 Conference's Freshman of the Year, March 8, in voting done by the league's head coaches. The 6-foot-8 La Mirada, Calif., forward averaged team-leading totals of 15.7 points and 7.1 boards per game to go with a .574 (162-of-282) field goal percentage. He is the sixth Cat to win the award, joining Sean Elliott (1985-86), Mike Bibby (1996-97), Michael Wright (1998-99), Salim Stoudamire (2001-02) and Chase Budinger (2006-07).

FRESHMAN ALL-AMERICAN: Derrick Williams was one of five players named to the Sporting News all-Freshman team. Williams was also tabbed a freshman All-American by collegeinsider.com, marking the fourth time in the last five seasons that Arizona has had a player named to the website's freshman All-America squad.

ALL-DISTRICT: Two Arizona players earned all-district honors from the National Association, as Nic Wise was a first-team all-District 20 selection, while Derrick Williams was a second-team pick. Wise and Williams are the 88th and 89th Arizona players to earn all-district honors from the NABC since 1952.

ALL-CONFERENCE: Two University of Arizona men's basketball players received all-Pac-10 honors on March 8, as Derrick Williams and Nic Wise both received first-team recognition in voting done by the league's head coaches. Williams is just the 16th freshman to earn first-team all-conference kudos since the league expanded to 10 teams in 1978-79. He was the lone freshman on this year's all-conference team.

RARE AIR: Derrick Williams' 14 points and eight rebounds in the Pac-10 Tournament capped a year in which he placed his name among elite players in Arizona history. The 6-foot-8 forward ended 2009-10 as UA's leader in scoring (15.7 ppg), rebounding (7.1 rpg) and field goal percentage (.574). He is just the sixth player – and first freshman – to lead the Cats in all three categories in the same year in the era of freshman eligibility (since 1972-73). Other Wildcats to accomplish the feat: Ben Davis (1995-96), Chris Mills (1992-93), Pete Williams (1983-84), Frank Smith (1982-83) and Larry Demic (1978-79). Relating to this year's performers, Williams was one of three Pac-10 players – Stanford's Landry Fields and Washington's Quincy Pondexter were the others – to rank in the top 10 in the league in scoring, rebounding and FG percentage.

A PRESENCE AT THE LINE: Arizona's two top scorers – Derrick Williams and Nic Wise – certainly made their presence felt at the free throw line, as the duo combined to take 388 free throw attempts. Over the course of the 2009-10 season, Williams and Wise posted these notable accomplishments from the charity stripe: Williams set a new UA single-game record with 21 FT attempts vs. Wisconsin on Nov. 23; Williams' 158 makes and 232 attempts rank seventh and tied for fourth, respectively, on the UA single-season lists; Wise's 87.8 percentage (137-of-156) ranks sixth on the single-season chart, while his 83.9 career percentage (329-of-392) ties him for fifth place in UA annals. Additionally, Williams averaged 7.48 free throw attempts per game, a figure that was the third-highest single-season average in school history.

A FINE DEBUT: By finishing with 28 games in double figures, including his last nine consecutively, Derrick Williams ended the 2009-10 campaign with 486 points, which makes him the No. 6 freshman scorer in Arizona history. Here is the top 10: 1.) Jerryd Bayless (2007-08), 592; 2.) Coniel Norman (1972-73), 576; 3.) Gilbert Arenas (1999-2000), 523; 4.) Sean Elliott (1985-86), 499; 5.) Eric Money (1972-73), 492; 6.) Derrick Williams (2009-10), 486; 7.) Chase Budinger (2006-07), 484; 8.) Mike Bibby (1996-97), 458; 9.) Salim Stoudamire (2001-02), 434; and 10.) Marcus Williams (2005-06). Furthermore, Williams joined Bayless, Elliott and Norman from the list above as the only freshmen to lead the team in scoring in the era of freshman eligibility.

CLUTCH: Nic Wise closed his final McKale Center appearance in style by collecting yet another game-winning bucket. The 5-foot-10 senior guard from Houston, Texas, had three big shots to his credit this season, as he also sank buzzer beaters against Lipscomb (Dec. 21) and North Carolina State (Dec. 23). His three game-winners were the most for a Wildcat in a single season since Salim Stoudamire's three in 2004-05.

HE RANKS RIGHT UP THERE: Nic Wise capped his 115-game collegiate career by etching his name in the Arizona record book. The point guard is ranked among the top 10 in the following career statistical categories: scoring (1,285 points/25th), three-point field goals (160/10th), three-point field goal attempts (405/10th), three-point field goal percentage (.395/8th), free throw percentage (839/T4th) and steals (167/9th).

BALANCED ATTACK: Coach Sean Miller said early on that he wanted steady contributions form each of his players, and when looking at the statistics, that is what he got. Six players averaged better than 6.5 points per game with three of those players (Williams, Wise and Fogg) finishing the season in double figures. The fact that five players scored more than 200 points continues a streak that has seen every Arizona team since 1989-90 post at least five 200-point scorers.

YOUNG AND PRODUCTIVE: In addition to being guided by the program's fourth head coach in four seasons, Arizona weathered the 2009-10 campaign with 12 underclassmen as part of its 14-man roster. All of that youth was remarkably productive, as 67.2 percent of the scoring (1,499 of 2,229 pts.), 74.6 percent of the rebounds (792 of 1062 reb.) and 70.1 percent of the minutes played (4,453 of 6,350 min.) were logged by underclassmen. That bodes well for 2010-11, as the Cats are scheduled to return no less than 79.6 percent of the productivity in each of those categories.

A SOLID START: Sean Miller is the sixth appointed University of Arizona men's basketball coach since 1925-26, joining Fred A. Enke, Bruce Larson, Fred Snowden, Ben Lindsey and Lute Olson. Miller's 16-15 record gave the current UA mentor just the second winning record in a debut season in Tucson, joining Snowden, and his 16 wins equal the most ever for a UA rookie head coach (Snowden was 16-10 in 1972-73). As a group, the five previous Wildcat appointees amassed 1,405 wins, 24 conference championships and 30 postseason appearances.

STATS DON'T LIE: While a 16-15 record may not indicate as much, the statistics certainly show that Arizona was a vastly improved club at the end of the 2009-10 season. In nearly every statistical category, the Wildcats made improvements during conference play when compared against its non-conference numbers, including sizeable boosts in three-point FGs allowed, rebound margin and scoring margin.

	FG%	Opp FG	3/g-Opp	Reb	Mar	A/G	TO/G	S/G	PPG	Opp	Mar

ON THE RISE: A late signee back in the spring of 2008, sophomore guard Kyle Fogg continues to work himself into a productive performer. The 6-foot-3 native of Brea, Calif., nearly doubled his scoring from a year ago and displayed marked improvements in practically every category. Fogg, who ranked third on the club with 18 games in double figures, was Arizona's second leading scorer in Pac-10 play (13.4 ppg) and his .415 three-point field goal percentage ranked fifth in the league.

GP-GS Min/G FG-A Pct. 3FG-A Pct. FT-A Pct. Reb. A Stl Pts.-Avg. Year 2008-09 35-27 23-60 .383 24.1 63-140 .450 66-84 .786 2.5 59 30 215-6.1 2009-10 31-24 28.8 107-258 .415 48-115 .417 83-110 .755 3.1 68 27 345-11.1

FINISHING STRONG: Lamont Jones proved to be one of the most productive Cats down the stretch, averaging 9.3 points, 2.3 rebounds and 2.2 assists, while shooting .481 (37-of-77) from the field in the last 10 games. Perhaps more impressively, his assist:turnover ratio is 2:1 (22:11) in that span. Five of his nine games in double figures came in the last 10 games. On the season, Jones averaged 6.6 points, 1.8 rebounds and 1.6 assists per game in 30 appearances.

STEADY: Arizona won three of its last four games to close the season with a 16-15 record, and posted the following records by month: 3-2 in November, 3-5 in December, 6-2 in January, 2-5 in February and 2-1 in March. When looking for signs of progress, it is worth noting that the Cats held a share of first place in the Pac-10 standings at the midpoint of the league schedule.

RANDOM NOTES: Arizona was 15-5 this season when scoring 70 or more points, including a spotless 6-0 mark when topping the 80-point plateau. Of Arizona's 31 games, 12 (39 percent) were decided by five points or less (seven by 3 or less) and the Wildcats had a 7-5 record in those games. UA was 3-1 in overtime contests this season, and the four extra-frame games were the most for the program in four years.

EARLY SIGNEES: The Arizona coaching staff signed three student-athletes to National-Letter-of-Intent to date. Daniel Bejarano (G, 6-5, 200) from Phoenix, Ariz., North High School signed in November, while Jordin Mayes (G, 6-2, 170) from Los Angeles, Calif., Westchester High School and Jesse Perry (F, 6-7, 210) from St. Louis, Mo., John A. Logan Community College inked in April.

Game 2 Arizona 66, Rice 49 Nov. 19, 2009 • Tucson, Ariz.

Four players in double figures proved to be enough to offset an up-and-down defensive effort as Arizona posted a 17-point win. Game 3

Wisconsin 65, Arizona 61 EA Sports Maui Invitational Quarterfinal Nov. 23, 2009 • Lahaina, Hawaii

Arizona dug itself an early 13-0 hole, spent the next 22 minutes digging out of it, but couldn't fully complete the comeback in what was a four-point loss to Wisconsin. On the strength on Derrick Williams (25 points) and Nic Wise (13 points), the Wildcats actually took a lead on three separate occasions late in the contest before two rebound dunks by UW's Keaton Nankivill settled things in the final minute. Thirteen of Williams' career-high 25 points came from the free throw line in 21 attempts, a UA single-game record.

Arizona 91, Colorado 87 (OT) EA Sports Maui Invitational Consolation Nov. 24, 2009 • Lahaina, Hawaii

In what was a tight game throughout, Arizona's Nic Wise proved to be the difference as the Wildcats prevailed in overtime during Tuesday's consolation-bracket game. The senior point guard was a steadying influence when UA needed it most, scoring 16 of Arizona's last 19 points in the contest, including eight of 11 points in the extra session. Game 11

Arizona 76, North Carolina State 74 Dec. 23, 2009 • Tucson, Ariz.

For the second time in 48 hours Nic Wise saved the day for the Cats, as his driving layup with one second remaining enabled UA to hold off North Carolina State. Wise, who scored 16 of his 18 points in the second half, gave just enough to stave off a Wolfpack rally that saw NCSU erase an eight-point deficit with 53 ticks to play. Derrick Williams scored 24 points, while Jamelle Horne added 12 points, eight boards and four steals.

Game 13 USC 56, Arizona 50

Dec. 31, 2009 • Los Angeles, Calif. Hitting 16-of-18 free throws was not enough to offset 15-of-50 shooting from the field, as the Wildcats dropped a six-point decision. Game 15

Washington State 78, Arizona 76 Jan. 8, 2010 • Tucson, Ariz.

DeAngelo Casto's bucket with one-tenth of a second remaining sealed Arizona's fate in a game that featured 10 ties and four lead changes. Arizona did enough things right to keep itself in the game – four players in double figures, forced 16 WSU turnovers – but couldn't get enough stops when it needed them, punctuated by WSU's 35-26 rebound advantage that included eight second-half offensive rebounds. Nic Wise led the Cats with 15 points, while Derrick Williams and Kyle Fogg added 13 apiece.

Arizona used a balanced offensive attack and a smothering defensive effort to post a decisive 19-point road win. Trailing 20-10 with 7:57 to go in the opening half, the Cats simply turned up the pressure and ran away from there, outscoring the Sun Devils, 67-38, the rest of the way. UA limited ASU to just 30.2 percent shooting and posted a 36-32 rebound advantage in handing the Devils its worst loss of the season. Kyle Fogg's 21 points led an attack that placed four Wildcats in double figures.

Game 20 Arizona 76, Stanford 68 Jan. 28, 2010 • Tucson, Ariz.

Jan. 28, 2010 • Tucson, Ariz.

Derrick Williams scored 16 of his 23 points in the second half to keep the Cats in front in what turned out to be an eight-point win. Arizona led for the final 23:22, but needed every point down the stretch, as 11 of the team's final 14 points came from the stripe. UA shot just 32.8 percent for the game, but collected 19 offensive rebounds and forced 18 Stanford turnovers to offset the inaccuracy in what was Arizona's third consecutive victory.

Arizona 76, California 72 Jan. 31, 2010 • Tucson, Ariz.

Nic Wise equaled a career high with 30 points and provided the winning margin as Arizona earned a share of the conference lead at the midway point of the schedule. Game 22

Washington 81, Arizona 75 Feb. 4, 2010 • Seattle, Wash.

Arizona shot 41 percent from the field, was outrebounded and committed a season-high 20 turnovers in the six-point loss. Washington's Quincy Pondexter proved to be the difference, tallying 30 points and 12 rebounds and the Huskies sank 21-of-25 free throws in the second half. Led by Lamont Jones' 14 points, Arizona got a seasonligh 40 points from its bench, but it wasn't enough to offset a 25-8 disadvantage in turnover points.

Game 23

Washington State 78, Arizona 60 Feb. 6, 2010 • Pullman, Wash.

Simply put, Washington State outplayed Arizona in all facets of the game as it pulled away for the 18-point win. WSU shot it better, rebounded better and made all the hustle plays before breaking it open in the second half. Arizona cut the deficit to two possessions twice in the second period, the last coming at 5:03, but a 12-0 WSU spurt from that point put a cap on the outcome. Derrick Williams led the Cats with 16 points and seven rebounds, while Kyle Fogg added 13 points and four boards.

Game 31 UCLA 75, Arizona 69 Pacific Life Pac-10 Tournament Quarterfinal March 11, 2010 • Los Angeles, Calif.

Arizona scored the first bucket of the game and never led again as UCLA controlled tempo and made all the hustle plays necessary to win. The Bruins shot 53 percent from the field, won the rebounding battle and held a 16-6 advantage in turnover points in posting a six-point win. Arizona managed to trim the deficit to three or fewer points four times in the second half, but each time UCLA answered immediately with points of its own. The loss was Arizona's fourth consecutive in the Pac-10 Tournament quarterfinals.
