The New Orleans Saints today announced a new feature on the team’s Mobile App called, “Light up the Dome” presented by SeatGeek, an interactive fan-engagement tool that enhances the game-day atmosphere during the introduction video and player introductions. The feature allows users in attendance to activate their mobile device during introductions and participate in a synchronized light show produced by the fans themselves.

In order to participate, fans will need to have the most up-to-date version of the Saints Mobile App and grant permission for the app to use their microphone, as the light is activated by in-arena audio.

The Saints encourage fans to download the Saints Mobile App Saints App \(Apple/Android\) prior to entering the Mercedes-Benz Superdome and have their phones open and ready prior to introductions.
