NFL POSTSEASON CREDENTIAL APPLICATION PROCEDURES

AFC AND NFC WILD CARD AND

DIVISIONAL GAMES

(Saturday and Sunday, January 3-4, 10-11):
Credential requests for the AFC and NFC Wild Card and Divisional Playoff Games should be made to the public relations director of the home team.

AFC AND NFC CHAMPIONSHIP GAMES

(Sunday, January 18): To apply for credentials to the AFC and NFC Championship Games, go to www.NFLmedia.com and click on the NFL Event Credentialing link, which will take you to the online registration form. The deadline to apply is Tuesday, January 6, 2009. Credentials can be picked up at the media headquarters hotels in the host cities. The hotels that will serve as media headquarters for the AFC and NFC Championship Games will be announced on www.NFLmedia.com in early January. NO CREDENTIALS WILL BE MAILED. Credentials will be issued at the media headquarters beginning at noon (game-site time) on Friday, January 16. Each media member must present a government-issued photo identification (passport, driver's license, etc.) at credential pickup. Those credentials not picked up at the media headquarters will be available at Press Will Call the day of the game and will require presentation of government-issued photo identification. If you have any questions, please call Corry Rush
(212/450-2066) for the AFC game or Randall Liu (212/450-2382) for the NFC game.

SUPER BOWL XLIII

(Sunday, February 1, 2009)
The NFL is no longer accepting applications for Super Bowl XLIII credentials. The only requests that will be considered are those from media organizations within the metropolitan areas of the AFC and NFC champion teams competing in Super Bowl XLIII,
Sunday, February 1, 2009 at Raymond James Stadium in Tampa Bay. All other space has been assigned. Organizations wishing to cancel previous accreditation are asked to contact Leslie Hammond at the NFL office (212/450-2000) as soon as possible.

SAN DIEGO 17, TENNESSEE 6—Philip Rivers passed for 292 yards, and the Chargers' defense allowed just 248 yards, as San Diego won its first playoff game in 13 years. The Titans led 3-0 early in the second quarter and drove to the Chargers' 12, but Shawne Merriman forced Chris Brown to fumble and Shaun Phillips recovered. However, Nate Kaeding missed a 45-yard field-goal attempt and Rob Bironas' second field goal, from 44 yards as the half expired, stretched the Titans' lead to 6-0. The Chargers converted two third downs on their second-half opening 86-yard drive, but had to settle for a field goal. The Chargers' defense then forced a punt, and Rivers began the ensuing 78-yard drive with a 20-yard pass to Vincent Jackson and ended the possession with a 25-yard touchdown pass to Jackson to give the Chargers a 10-6 lead. The Titans drove to the Chargers' 20, but Bironas' 38-yard field-goal attempt was wide left with 14:04 to play. The Chargers then drove 72 yards, highlighted by Chris Chambers' 39-yard catch on third-and-10, and capped by LaDainian Tomlinson's fourth-and-1 leap across the goal line. Tomlinson was met in midair by Stephen Tulloch, and Colin Alford knocked the ball out of his hands once his second effort got him across the goal line. Jeff Fisher challenged the play, but the touchdown call on the field stood and San Diego led 17-6 with 8:45 remaining.

Drayton Florence's interception at the Titans' 20 with 3:33 remaining ended Tennessee's final possession. Rivers was 19 of 30 for 292 yards and 1 touchdown, with 1 interception. Chambers had 6 catches for 121 yards, and Jackson added 5 receptions for 114 yards. Vince Young was 16 of 29 for 138 yards, with 1 interception.

JACKSONVILLE 31, PITTSBURGH 29—David Garrard's 32-yard fourth-down run set up Josh Scobee's game-winning 25-yard field goal with 37 seconds left as the Jaguars won their first playoff game in eight years. The Steelers outgained the Jaguars 340-239 yards, but Jacksonville's defense forced 4 turnovers and the offense made just enough big plays. The Steelers opened the game with an 80-yard touchdown drive, but Maurice Jones-Drew returned the ensuing kickoff 96 yards to the Steelers' 1. Fred Taylor scored on the next play. In the second quarter, Rashean Mathis returned an interception 63 yards for a touchdown. Moments later, Mathis intercepted another pass that was followed three plays later by Jones-Drew's 43-yard touchdown catch-and-run of a short pass for a 21-7 lead with 8:34 left in the half. The Steelers had a chance to score just before halftime, but Derek Landri intercepted a pass at the Jaguars' 25 to maintain the 14-point lead. Two plays into the second half, James Farrior intercepted a pass to set up Jeff Reed's field goal. The Jaguars answered with an 82-yard touchdown drive. Pittsburgh then drove to the Jaguars' 37. Faced with a fourth-and-12 on the first play of the fourth quarter and trailing 28-10, Pittsburgh went for the first down. Ben Roethlisberger connected on a quick pass to Antonio Holmes that resulted in a 37-yard touchdown. The Steelers' defense then forced a three-and-out, and the offense drove 69 yards, capped by Heath Miller's 14-yard touchdown catch with 10:25 to play. Trailing 28-23, the Steelers converted the 2-point conversion, but a holding penalty wiped out the score. Pittsburgh still went for the 2-point conversion, and Roethlisberger was stopped on a scramble for the 12-yard line. Two plays later, Ike Taylor intercepted a pass and returned it 31 yards to the Jaguars' 16. A defensive pass interference penalty on fourth-and-goal from the Jaguars' 1 kept the drive alive, and Najeh Davenport scored with 6:21 remaining to give Pittsburgh a 29-28 lead. Roethlisberger's 2-point conversion pass for Nate Washington fell incomplete. After an exchange of punts, Dennis Northcutt had a 16-yard return that gave the Jaguars' possession at their own 49 with 2:38 remaining. Faced with a fourth-and-2 from the Steelers' 43 with 1:56 to play, Garrard dropped back, and then scrambled right up the middle for 32 yards. Scobee's 25-yard field goal was good with 37 seconds left. Starting from their own 28-yard line, Bobby McCray sacked Roethlisberger on the first play, forced him to fumble and Landri recovered to clinch the victory. Garrard was 9 of 21 for 140 yards and 1 touchdown, with 2 interceptions. Roethlisberger was 29 of 42 for 337 yards and 2 touchdowns, with 3 interceptions. Hines Ward had 10 receptions for 135 yards.

NEW ENGLAND 37, NEW YORK JETS 16—Tom Brady passed for 2 touchdowns as the Patriots held off the Jets' squad led by first-year coach, and former Patriots' defensive coordinator, Eric Mangini. Chad Pennington's 77-yard touchdown pass to Jericho Cotchery gave the Jets a 10-7 lead early in the second quarter. The Patriots responded by scoring on their next five possessions. Brady's 1-yard touchdown pass to Daniel Graham with 11 seconds left in the half capped a 15-play, 80-yard drive and gave the Patriots a 17-10 halftime lead. The Jets trailed just 20-13 late in the third quarter when Pennington threw a backward pass that was knocked down by Rosevelt Colvin, resulting in a fumble. Vince Wilfork picked up the loose ball and returned it 31 yards, setting up Stephen Gostkowski's 28-yard field goal. The Jets responded with Mike Nugent's third field goal and trailed just 23-16 with 11:39 remaining. Brady answered with a 13-play, 63-yard drive, capped by Brady's 7-yard touchdown pass to Kevin Faulk on third-and-goal with 5:16 remaining. Two plays later, Asante Samuel intercepted Pennington's pass and returned it 36 yards for the final touchdown. Brady was 22 of 34 for 212 yards and 2 touchdowns. Jabar Gaffney had 8 catches for 104 yards. Pennington was 23 of 40 for 300 yards and 1 touchdown, with 1 interception. Cotchery had 4 receptions for 100 yards.

INDIANAPOLIS 23, KANSAS CITY 8—Joseph Addai rushed for 122 yards, and the Colts' defense did not allow a first down until the third quarter en route to a wild-card victory. For the game, the Colts outgained the Chiefs 435-126 in total yards, had a 28-7 advantage in first downs, and a 39:23-20:37 edge in time of possession. At halftime, the Chiefs had been outgained 255-16 in total yards, but trailed just 9-0. A 12-play, 89-yard drive in the third quarter, capped by Addai's 6-yard run, increased the lead to 16-0. With 3:38 left in the third quarter, Trent Green's 6-yard pass to Tony Gonzalez resulted in the Chiefs' initial first down. Six plays later, the pair hooked up on a similar pass to score, and Green added a 2-point conversion pass to Kris Wilson to cut the deficit to 16-8. But Peyton Manning engineered a 9-play, 71-yard drive on the next possession, capped by Reggie Wayne's 5-yard touchdown catch, for a 23-8 lead with 10:16 to play. The Chiefs had one good scoring opportunity, but Robert Mathis and Bo Schobel sacked Green and forced him to fumble. Josh Thomas recovered at the Colts' 30 with 3:55 to play. Manning was 30 of 38 for 268 yards and 1 touchdown, with 3 interceptions. Addai carried 25 times for 122 yards. Dallas Clark had 9 receptions for 103 yards for the Colts. Green was 14 of 24 for 107 yards and 1 touchdown, with 2 interceptions.

PITTSBURGH 31, CINCINNATI 17—Ben Roethlisberger passed for 3 touchdowns and the Steelers' defense shutout the Bengals in the second half to post the first postseason road victory of Bill Cowher's 14-year coaching career. Carson Palmer injured his knee on the Bengals' second play of the game. Kimo von Oelhoffen was blocked into Palmer's knee. The play resulted in a 66-yard pass to Chris Henry, who also was injured on the play. The pass set up Shayne Graham's 23-yard field goal, and Jon Kitna engineered touchdown drives of 76 and 57 yards on the next two possessions to take a 17-7 lead with 6:13 left in the second quarter. Roethlisberger's 54-yard pass to Cedrick Wilson set up Hines Ward's 5-yard touchdown grab on third-and-goal. On the opening possession of the second half, the Bengals led 17-14 and drove to the Steelers' 15, but from field-goal formation Brad St. Louis's snap was high and holder Kyle Larson could not hold onto the ball. The Steelers responded with a 66-yard touchdown drive to take the lead. After forcing a punt, the Steelers were faced with third-and-3 from the Bengals' 43. Antwaan Randle El took the Shotgun snap, rolled right, passed backwards across the field to Roethlisberger, who then fired long downfield to a wide open Wilson, who caught the ball at the 5-yard line and jogged into the end zone for a 28-17 lead. James Farrior's interception on the next drive led to Jeff Reed's field goal with 10:29 to play. The Bengals drove to the Steelers' 45 with 4:12 to play, but Troy Polamalu's diving interception ended the Bengals' final hope. Roethlisberger was 14 of 19 for 208 yards and 3 touchdowns. Wilson had 3 catches for 104 yards. Kitna was 24 of 40 for 197 yards and 1 touchdown, with 2 interceptions.

NEW ENGLAND 28, JACKSONVILLE 3—Tom Brady passed for 3 touchdowns and Willie McGinest registered an NFL-postseason record 4½ sacks as the Patriots won their NFL-record 10th consecutive postseason game. Brady improved to 10-0 as a postseason starter, and McGinest set a career postseason record with 16 sacks, surpassing Bruce Smith's mark of 14½. Tim Dwight's 27-yard punt return set up Troy Brown's 11-yard touchdown catch on third-and-5. The Jaguars had a 12-play drive just before halftime that culminated with Josh Scobee's 36-yard field goal to pull within 7-3.

New England forced a punt to begin the second half, and the offense drove 81 yards in 12 plays, highlighted by Andre' Davis' fumble recovery of Ben Watson's bouncing fumble at the Jaguars' 3, and capped on the next play by Brady's 3-yard touchdown toss to Givens in the back of the end zone. The touchdown marked Givens' sixth consecutive postseason game with a scoring catch, second in NFL history, and two games shy of John Stallworth's record. The Patriots forced another punt, and on third-and-13 Brady completed a short pass to Watson, who broke three tackles en route to a Patriots' postseason-record long 63-yard touchdown for a 21-3 lead with 3:03 left in the third quarter. The Jaguars' drove to the Patriots' 32, but on fourth-and-5, Asante Samuel stepped in front of Byron Leftwich's pass and returned it untouched 73 yards on the first play of the fourth quarter to complete the scoring. Brady was 15 of 27 for 201 yards and 3 touchdowns. Leftwich, making his first start since missing the final five games with an ankle injury, was 18 of 31 for 179 yards, with 1 interception. David Garrard played the final two drives and was 3 of 8 for 68 yards.

INDIANAPOLIS 49, DENVER 24—Peyton Manning passed for 457 yards, the second-most in postseason history. Reggie Wayne had 221 receiving yards, the third-highest mark in postseason annals, on 10 receptions for the Colts. Manning passed for 360 yards and 3 touchdowns in the first half, and the Colts outgained the Broncos 529-338 for the game, and 395-103 in the first half. The Colts scored 7 touchdowns in 10 possessions, punting twice, and driving at least 75 yards four times. Manning's 1-yard sneak with 38 seconds left in the half capped a 75-yard drive and gave the Colts a 35-3 halftime lead. The Broncos scored on their first three possessions of the second half, but got no closer than 18 points. The Broncos pulled within 42-24 on Tatum Bell's 1-yard run with 7:45 to play, but Manning completed a 22-yard pass to Dallas Clark on third-and-4 to set up Dominic Rhodes' 2-yard run with 2:02 remaining. Manning was 27 of 33 for 457 yards and 4 touchdowns, with 1 interception. Wayne had 10 catches for 221 yards, and Clark added 6 catches for 112 yards. Jake Plummer was 24 of 34 for 284 yards and 2 touchdowns, with 1 interception.

NEW YORK JETS 20, SAN DIEGO 17 (OT)—Doug Brien kicked a 28-yard field goal in overtime as the Jets overcame a game-tying Chargers' touchdown in the final minute of regulation and a missed Chargers' field-goal attempt in overtime to give the Jets their first road postseason victory since 1982. With the game played in a steady rain on a soaked field, Brien missed a 33-yard field-goal attempt in the first quarter as the teams went into the locker room tied 7-7. The Jets scored on their first possession of the second half when Chad Pennington completed a 47-yard perfectly placed touchdown pass to Santana Moss on a post pattern, just over the outstretched arms of Quentin Jammer and Jerry Wilson, and Brien added a 42-yard field goal, that bounced off the upright and crossbar before going through, on their next possession for a 17-7 lead. Nate Kaeding capped the ensuing possession with a 35-yard field goal with 10:43 to play to pull within 17-10, and the Chargers forced a punt and started from their own 20 with 4:46 left. Antonio Gates had catches of 21 and 44 yards as the Chargers reached the Jets' 1. On third-and-goal, LaDainian Tomlinson was dropped for a 1-yard loss. On fourth-and-goal with 24 seconds left, Brees was chased 20 yards behind the line of scrimmage and lofted a pass into the end zone that fell incomplete. Roughing the passer was called on Eric Barton, placing the ball at the Jets' 1, and Brees completed a touchdown pass to Gates with 11 seconds left to tie the game. The Chargers won the overtime toss, and after an exchange of punts, the Chargers drove 47 yards in 13 plays to set up Kaeding's 40-yard field-goal attempt, which sailed wide right. Pennington completed passes to Moss and Justin McCareins, and LaMont Jordan had a 19-yard run to the Chargers' 15 to set up Brien's game-winning kick with five seconds remaining. Pennington was 23 of 33 for 279 yards and 2 touchdowns, and Moss had 4 catches for 100 yards. Brees was 31 of 42 for 319 yards and 2 touchdowns, with 1 interception.

INDIANAPOLIS 41, DENVER 10—Peyton Manning passed for 5 touchdowns as the Colts scored on their first seven possessions and avenged a 31-17 home loss to the Broncos two weeks earlier. The Colts took the opening kickoff and drove 70 yards in 6 plays, capped by Brandon Stokley's 31-yard touchdown catch. The Broncos responded with a 8:14 drive that culminated with Jason Elam's 49-yard field goal. The Colts answered with another touchdown, which came when Marvin Harrison made a diving catch at the 30-yard line, and when nobody touched him he got up and ran into the end zone. The Colts scored on all three of their second quarter possessions, highlighted by Manning's 87-yard touchdown pass to Stokley with 1:51 left in the half, and capped by Mike Vanderjagt's 27-yard field goal, which was set up by David Macklin's interception, as the half expired for a 31-3 lead. At halftime Manning was 16 of 18 for 327 yards and 4 touchdowns. Raheem Brock blocked Elam's 46-yard field-goal attempt to begin the second half, and Manning engineered a 12-play, 64-yard drive that ended with Reggie Wayne's 7-yard touchdown catch for a 38-3 lead with 5:19 left in the third quarter. Dwight Freney forced a fumble by Jake Plummer and Rob Morris recovered to set up Vanderjagt's second field goal with 55 seconds left in the third quarter. Plummer's 7-yard touchdown pass to Rod Smith with 7:04 remaining ended the scoring. The Colts outgained Denver 479-322. Manning was 22 of 26 for 377 yards and 5 touchdowns, for a perfect 158.3 passer rating. Harrison had 7 receptions for 133 yards, and Stokley had 4 for 144. Plummer was 23 of 30 for 181 yards and 1 touchdown, with 2 interceptions.

TENNESSEE 20, BALTIMORE 17—Gary Anderson kicked a 46-yard field goal with 29 seconds left as the Titans snapped a five-game losing streak to the Ravens. Chris Brown's first professional touchdown, on a 6-yard run, capped a 10-play, 67-yard opening drive for the Titans. Tennessee then forced a punt, but two plays later Steve McNair's pass was tipped by Ed Reed and intercepted by Will Demps, who returned it 56 yards for his first-ever NFL touchdown. The Titans drove to the Ravens' 17 early in the second quarter, but Reed intercepted his third-down pass. Baltimore led 10-7 in the middle of the third quarter when McNair lofted a pass down the left sideline. Justin McCareins adjusted to the underthrown ball, caught it near the 15-yard line before racing untouched into the end zone. Samari Rolle intercepted Anthony Wright's pass at the Ravens' 31 with 11:33 left to set up a 45-yard field goal by Anderson for a 17-10 lead with 9:13 to play. The 44-year-old Anderson had not made a field goal longer than 43 yards all season, but surpassed that feat twice in the final 10 minutes of the game. Wright engineered a 9-play, 71-yard drive after Anderson's first field goal and hit Todd Heap with a 35-yard scoring pass with 4:30 left. The Titans got the ball at their own 37 with 2:44 left and drove 35 yards in 8 plays, highlighted by a 13-yard pass to Derrick Mason and an 8-yard run by Eddie George on third-and-1, to set up Anderson's winning kick. The Ravens reached their own 40 before Wright's final pass fell incomplete. McNair was 14 of 23 for 159 yards and 1 touchdown, with 3 interceptions. Wright was 20 of 37 for 214 yards and 1 touchdown, with 2 interceptions.

PITTSBURGH 36, CLEVELAND 33—The NFL's comeback player of the year, Tommy Maddox, led the Steelers to 29 points in the final 19 minutes to overcome a 17-point deficit. On the game's third play, Kelly Holcomb, starting in place of the injured Tim Couch, connected on an 83-yard pass to Kevin Johnson to set up William Green's 1-yard run. A muffed punt by Antwaan Randle El early in the second quarter was followed on the next play by Holcomb's 32-yard touchdown pass to Dennis Northcutt. Randle El redeemed himself five minutes later with a 66-yard punt return for a touchdown. The Browns led 17-7 at halftime, and when Northcutt returned a punt 59 yards and three plays later caught a 15-yard touchdown pass, the Browns had a 17-point lead with 12:11 left in the third quarter. Maddox engineered touchdown drives of 71 and 65 yards, sandwiched around a Browns' field goal, but Holcomb's 22-yard touchdown pass to Andre' Davis with 10:17 left gave Cleveland a 33-21 lead. Two possessions later, the Steelers drove 77 yards, with the benefit of three Browns defensive penalties, and cut the deficit to 33-28 on Maddox's 5-yard scoring pass to Hines Ward with 3:06 left. Faced with third-and-12 on the ensuing possession, Northcutt dropped Holcomb's pass for what would have been a first down, and the Browns punted. Needing 61 yards with 2:35 remaining, Maddox completed 2 passes each to Plaxico Burress and Ward, and Chris Fuamatu-Ma'afala scored from 3 yards out with 54 seconds left. The Browns reached the Steelers' 45 with seven seconds left, but Andre King could not get out of bounds on a 16-yard reception as time expired, thus denying Cleveland a game-tying field-goal opportunity. Maddox was 30 of 48 for 367 yards and 3 touchdowns, with 2 interceptions. Ward had 11 catches for 104 yards, and Burress added 6 receptions for 100 yards. Holcomb was 26 of 43 for 429 yards and 3 touchdowns, with 1 interception. Johnson had 4 catches for 140 yards.

NEW YORK JETS 41, INDIANAPOLIS 0—Chad Pennington passed for 3 touchdowns and the Jets' defense permitted just 176 yards to post the first shutout in the franchise's postseason history. The 41-point deficit marked the worst postseason loss in Colts annals. On the Jets' fifth play from scrimmage, Richie Anderson caught a misdirection screen pass from Pennington, and, with a bevy of blockers, Anderson went 56 yards for a touchdown to give the Jets a 7-0 lead. Later in the quarter, Mike Vanderjagt's 41-yard field-goal attempt into the wind fell short, and John Hall responded with a 41-yard field goal from the same spot early in the second quarter. Troy Walters fumbled the ensuing kickoff return, Ray Mickens recovered, and LaMont Jordan scored on a 1-yard run seven plays later to give the Jets a 17-0 lead. Santana Moss' fingertip catch while keeping both feet inbounds for a 4-yard touchdown 37 seconds before halftime increased the lead to 24-0, and Chad Morton ran back the opening kickoff of the second half 70 yards to set up another field goal. The Colts had the ball for just 19:42, and for only 7:44 of the second half. Pennington was 19 of 25 for 222 yards and 3 touchdowns. Jordan rushed for 102 yards and 2 scores. Peyton Manning was 14 of 31 for 137 yards, with 2 interceptions for the Colts.

BALTIMORE 20, MIAMI 3—The Ravens' offense rushed for 226 yards and the Ravens' defense allowed just 9 first downs, 151 total yards, and forced 3 turnovers as the Super Bowl champions won their fifth consecutive postseason game. Tommy Hendricks recovered Jermaine Lewis' fumble on the opening kickoff at the Ravens' 24, but the Dolphins could only manage Olindo Mare's 33-yard field goal. Terry Allen's 4-yard touchdown run capped an 11-play, 90-yard drive and gave the Ravens a 7-3 lead early in the second quarter. The Ravens had a chance to extend the lead just before halftime when Peter Boulware recovered Travis Minor's fumble at the Dolphins' 41, but Matt Stover's 40-yard field-goal attempt hit the left upright. Matt Turk's 44-yard punt pinned the Ravens back to their own 1-yard line midway through the third quarter, but a few nice runs by Allen, and a 45-yard pass from Elvis Grbac to Travis Taylor, set up the duo's 4-yard touchdown to give the Ravens a 14-3 lead. On the ensuing possession, Boulware sacked Jay Fiedler and forced him to fumble. Sam Adams recovered to set up Stover's 35-yard field goal, and Duane Starks' interception at the Ravens' 28 on the next drive led to Stover's 40-yard field goal with 2:01 left to finish the scoring. Grbac was 12 of 18 for 133 yards and 1 touchdown. Allen rushed 25 times for 109 yards. Fiedler was 15 of 28 for 122 yards, with 1 interception.

OAKLAND 38, N.Y. JETS 24—Jerry Rice had 9 catches for 183 yards and became the oldest player to catch a postseason touchdown pass in NFL history as the Raiders fought off a late rally to defeat the Jets in the NFL's first-ever prime-time playoff game. The Raiders' first three possessions all ended with Sebastian Janikowski field goals. The Jets' first three possessions also ended with field-goal attempts, but John Hall missed a 45-yard attempt, made a 45-yard attempt, and had a 41-yard attempt blocked by Anthony Dorsett with 3:05 left in the first half. Dorsett's block, and a 29-yard run by Charlie Garner, set up Rich Gannon's 2-yard touchdown pass to Tim Brown with 22 seconds left in the first half to give the Raiders a 16-3 lead. Vinny Testaverde's 17-yard touchdown pass to Wayne Chrebet to open the second half cut the deficit to 16-10, and the Jets moved into Raiders' territory late in the third quarter. But Richie Anderson fumbled, Grady Jackson recovered, and Gannon's 47-yard pass to Rice set up Zack Crockett's 2-yard touchdown run on the first play of the fourth quarter to give Oakland a 24-10 lead. Testaverde's 3-yard touchdown pass to Anderson cut the lead to 24-17, but the Raiders answered, keyed by Jerry Porter's 22-yard catch on third-and-8, with Gannon's 21-yard touchdown pass to Rice. At 39 years old, Rice broke the record held by Pro Football Hall of Fame tight end Jackie Smith, who was 38 years old when he caught a touchdown pass in the Cowboys' 1978 NFC Divisional Playoff Game. Testaverde's 4-yard touchdown pass to Chrebet with 1:56 left cut the lead to 31-24, and the Jets stopped the Raiders on their first two plays to set up third-and-11 from the Raiders' 20 with 1:40 left. However, Garner broke free and raced 80 yards for a game-clinching touchdown with 1:27 remaining. Gannon was 23 of 29 for 294 yards and 2 touchdowns. Garner had 15 carries for 158 yards. Testaverde was 27 of 41 for 277 yards and 3 touchdowns. Curtis Martin had 16 carries for 106 yards, and Laveranues Coles had 8 catches for 123 yards.

BALTIMORE 21, DENVER 3—Rookie Jamal Lewis rushed for 110 yards and 2 touchdowns, and the Ravens' defense permitted the Broncos to cross midfield just once, as the city of Baltimore hosted its first NFL playoff game since 1977. Trent Dilfer completed 2 key passes to Qadry Ismail before Lewis scored on a 1-yard run early in the second quarter to give the Ravens a 7-0 lead. The Broncos responded with their lone sustained drive of the day, but Mike Anderson was stopped for no gain on third-and-1 and Denver settled for Jason Elam's 31-yard field goal with 4:31 remaining in the first half. On the Ravens' next play, Dilfer's short pass deflected off the hands of Lewis and Terrell Buckley before being caught by Shannon Sharpe, who eluded two tacklers and raced 58 yards into the end zone to give the Ravens a 14-3 lead. The Broncos never threatened again, and Lewis' 27-yard scoring run in the third quarter capped the Ravens' victory in the franchise's first postseason game. The Ravens' defense limited the Broncos to just 9 first downs and 42 rushing yards. Dilfer completed 9 of 14 passes for 130 yards and 1 touchdown. Gus Fretotte, who played for the injured Brian Griese, was 13 of 28 for 124 yards, with 1 interception.

MIAMI 23, INDIANAPOLIS 17 (OT)—Lamar Smith's 17-yard touchdown run around right end 11:26 into overtime capped a remarkable performance and lifted the Dolphins to a come-from-behind victory. Smith rushed for 209 yards, the second most in playoff history, on an NFL-postseason record 40 carries to wear down the Colts' defense and give Miami a 43:40-27:46 time of possession advantage. The Colts led 3-0 early in the second quarter when the Dolphins dropped holder Hunter Smith for a 6-yard loss on a fake field-goal attempt. However, the Colts' defense responded with interceptions on the Dolphins' next two possessions, which resulted in 11 points, capped by Peyton Manning's 17-yard pass to Jerome Pathon to take a 14-0 lead. The Dolphins opened the second half with an 11-play, 70-yard drive, which consisted of 7 carries by Smith, and was capped by Smith's 2-yard touchdown run. The teams exchanged field goals, including a 50-yard kick by Mike Vanderjagt with 4:55 remaining, to give the Colts a 17-10 lead. The Dolphins methodically drove down field, keyed by Jay Fiedler's 19- and 13-yard passes to O.J. McDuffie, and tied the game on Fiedler's third-and-goal pass to Jed Weaver from 9 yards out with 34 seconds remaining. The Colts ran out the clock, and the Dolphins won the overtime coin toss but were forced to punt after gaining one first down. Manning hit Marvin Harrison with a 30-yard pass on the Colts' first play of overtime and the Colts moved the ball into Dolphins' territory. Faced with third-and-12 from the Dolphins' 42, Manning completed an 11-yard pass to Harrison. The Dolphins were offside on the play, but the Colts elected to take the play and allow Vanderjagt to attempt a 49-yard field goal. Vanderjagt's kick missed wide right, and the Dolphins marched 61 yards in 11 plays, capped by Smith dragging Jeff Burris into the end zone on his game-winning run. Fiedler completed 19 of 34 passes for 185 yards and 1 touchdown, with 3 interceptions. Manning was 17 of 32 for 194 yards and 1 touchdown. Edgerrin James had 21 carries for 107 yards.

MIAMI 20, SEATTLE 17—J.J. Johnson rushed for 86 yards, and his 2-yard scoring run with 4:48 left vaulted the Dolphins past the Seahawks. The Seahawks led 10-3 at halftime, but Dan Marino completed 11- and 27-yard passes to O.J. McDuffie on the opening drive of the second half to set up his tying 1-yard touchdown pass to Oronde Gadsden. Charlie Rogers returned the ensuing kickoff 85 yards for a touchdown, but Olindo Mare's 50-yard field goal late in the quarter trimmed the deficit to 17-13. Faced with third-and-17 from his own 8-yard line with 8:26 remaining, Marino fired a 23-yard completion to Tony Martin. Marino completed a 20-yard pass to Martin and 24-yard pass to Gadsden to set up Johnson's go-ahead 2-yard run. Terrell Buckley's interception at the Seahawks' 42 clinched the victory. The Seahawks failed to cross midfield in the second half. Marino was 17 of 30 for 196 yards and 1 touchdown. Jon Kitna was 14 of 30 for 162 yards and 1 touchdown, with 2 interceptions. The Dolphins' defense recorded 6 sacks and limited the Seahawks to 171 total yards. This was the final game played in the Kingdom, the Seahawks only home since joining the NFL in 1976.

TENNESSEE 22, BUFFALO 16—Kevin Dyson received a crossfield lateral from Frank Wycheck and raced 75 yards down the left sideline for a touchdown with three seconds remaining to lift the Titans past the Bills. The Titans' defense permitted just 3 first downs in the first half, and Jevon Kearse sacked Rob Johnson for a safety, as Tennessee took a 12-0 lead into the locker room. Antowain Smith's 44-yard run on the first play of the second half set up his 4-yard scoring jaunt, quickly cutting the deficit to 12-7. Johnson's 37-yard pass to Eric Moulds early in the fourth quarter led to Smith's go-ahead touchdown with 11:08 remaining, but Johnson's 2-point conversion pass attempt fell incomplete. A 16-yard punt return by Isaac Byrd with 6:15 remaining sparked the Titans, and five consecutive carries by Eddie George set up Al Del Greco's 36-yard field goal with 1:48 remaining to give Tennessee a 15-13 lead. With time winding down, Johnson, who lost a shoe on a 3-yard scramble, completed a 9-yard pass to Peerless Price with 20 seconds left to set up Steve Christie's go-ahead 41-yard field goal with 16 seconds remaining. Lorenzo Neal fielded Christie's ensuing kickoff at the Titans' 24, ran a yard, and handed the ball to Wycheck, who began running to his right, stopped, and threw across the field to a wide-open Dyson, who had a wall of blockers and streaked 75 yards untouched for the game's final points. McNair was 13 of 24 for 76 yards, with 1 interception. George had 29 carries for 106 yards.

JACKSONVILLE 25, NEW ENGLAND 10—Fred Taylor rushed for 162 yards, the most in the postseason by a rookie since Timmy Smith in Super Bowl XXII, and scored a touchdown as the Jaguars reached the divisional playoffs for the second time in the franchise's four seasons. The Jaguars scored on two of their first three possessions, the second keyed by Taylor's 46-yard run, to take a 6-0 lead. Taylor reversed field on a 21-yard gain before sprinting 13 yards for a touchdown in the second quarter to give the Jaguars a 12-0 halftime lead. The Jaguars' defense forced 7 punts in the first half, as Jacksonville had more first downs (12-1) and total yards (199-54). The Patriots retaliated with a 17-play, 85-yard scoring drive that took 8:48 off the clock on their first possession of the second half, capped by Robert Edwards' 1-yard run. Adam Vinatieri's field goal on the next drive cut the deficit to 12-10, but Mark Brunell, who missed the previous three games with an ankle injury, needed just six plays to respond, lofting a 37-yard touchdown pass to a diving Jimmy Smith to give the Jaguars a 19-10 lead with 12:24 remaining in the game. Tony Brackens recovered a fumble and sacked Scott Zolak on fourth down to set up 2 late Mike Hollis field goals as the Patriots never crossed midfield the remainder of the game. Brunell was 14 of 34 for 161 yards and 1 touchdown. Zolak, who started in place of injured Drew Bledsoe, was 21 of 44 for 190 yards, with 1 interception. The Jaguars' defense limited the Patriots to 35 rushing yards on 19 carries.

MIAMI 24, BUFFALO 17—Trace Armstrong sacked Doug Flutie and forced him to fumble at the Dolphins' 3-yard line with nine seconds left to preserve Miami's first postseason victory in four seasons. Flutie completed a 65-yard pass to Eric Moulds on the game's first play, but Terrell Buckley stripped Moulds and Brock Marion recovered. Olindo Mare kicked field goals to finish each of the Dolphins' first 2 possessions. Following the second score, Mare attempted an onside kick, but Buffalo's Dan Brandenburg recovered the ball. Flutie's 37-yard pass to Moulds set up Thurman Thomas' touchdown run to give Buffalo a 7-6 lead. The Bills drove to the Dolphins' 6 late in the half, but Marion intercepted Flutie's pass in the end zone. Dan Marino's 52-yard Hail Mary pass was caught by Oronde Gadsden at the Bills' 9 with six seconds left, but Mare's 26-yard field-goal attempt hit the right upright as the half expired. Karim Abdul-Jabbar's 3-yard run, and Stanley Pritchett's 2-point conversion jaunt, gave the Dolphins a 14-7 lead with 2:32 left in the quarter. However, Flutie's 23-yard pass to Moulds set up the pair's 32-yard touchdown connection to tie the game in the quarter's final minute. Mare's 23-yard field goal gave the Dolphins a 17-14 lead with 9:45 left, and Jerry Wilson forced Andre Reed to fumble and Buckley recovered at the Dolphins' 44 with 8:02 left. The Dolphins burned 4:20 off the clock and scored on Marino's 11-yard touchdown pass to Lamar Thomas. On the following drive, Buffalo reached the Dolphins' 1, but a personal foul penalty on Reed pushed the Bills back and they settled for Steve Christie's field goal with 1:33 left to cut the deficit to 24-17. Sam Madison bobbled the ensuing onsides kick, and Buffalo's Curt Schulz recovered at the Bills' 31. The Bills drove to the Dolphins' 5 with 17 seconds left before Shane Burton recovered the fumble that Armstrong forced. Marino was 23 of 34 for 235 yards and 1 touchdown, with 1 interception. Flutie was 21 of 36 for 360 yards and 1 touchdown, with 1 interception. Moulds, who had 9 catches, set an NFL playoff record with 240 receiving yards.

NEW ENGLAND 17, MIAMI 3—Todd Collins returned an interception for a touchdown, and Chris Slade's interception set up another as the Patriots' defense permitted just 10 first downs and 162 total yards. Each team punted twice before Collins and Lawyer Milloy stopped Karim Abdul-Jabbar on fourth-and-1 from the Patriots' 39 late in the first quarter. The Patriots reached the Dolphins' 31, but Adam Vinatieri's 48-yard field-goal attempt sailed wide left, keeping the game scoreless. Slade intercepted Dan Marino three plays later, returning the ball to the Dolphins' 29 to set up Drew Bledsoe's 24-yard touchdown pass to Troy Brown. The Patriots had the only other scoring opportunity of the first half, but Vinatieri pushed a 47-yard field-goal attempt wide right in the final minute. Collins' interception was on the second play of the second half to give the Patriots a 14-0 lead, and, after forcing a punt, Vinatieri capped a 15-play, 66-yard drive with a field goal. Corey Harris returned the kickoff 47 yards to set up Olindo Mare's 38-yard field goal nine seconds into the fourth quarter. Harris recovered the ensuing onsides kick, however, Chris Canty forced Marino to fumble on the next play, Slade recovered, and the Dolphins never got inside the Patriots' 43 on their final three possessions. Bledsoe was 16 of 32 for 139 yards and 1 touchdown. Marino was 17 of 43 for 141 yards, with 2 interceptions. Derrick Cullors, who rushed for 101 yards during the season, gained 86 yards on 22 carries in place of injured Curtis Martin. The Dolphins are 0-6 in road playoff games since 1972, and, for the first time ever, lost to a team three times in one season.

DENVER 42, JACKSONVILLE 17—Terrell Davis rushed for 184 yards and 2 touchdowns in three quarters as the Broncos avenged last season's playoff loss to the Jaguars. The Broncos marched 73 yards on 15 plays and consumed nearly half the first quarter on their opening possession, capped by Davis' 2-yard touchdown run. John Elway hit Rod Smith with a 43-yard touchdown pass on their next possession, and Davis capped a 92-yard drive on the following possession with a 5-yard run to take a 21-0 lead early in the second quarter. The third possession saw Elway complete passes to Smith, Willie Green, and Smith again on third-and-6, -9, and -13 situations. The Jaguars used a 34-yard pass interference penalty on Darrien Gordon at the Broncos' 4 to set up Natrone Means' 2-yard touchdown run. Reggie Barlow returned the second half's opening kickoff 58 yards to the Broncos' 27, but the Jaguars settled for Mike Hollis' 38-yard field goal to cut the deficit to 21-10. Four minutes later, Travis Davis plucked the ball out of the air, before Mike Horan could punt the ball, and scampered 29 yards for a touchdown. On their next possession the Jaguars drove to the Broncos' 16, but Mark Brunell fumbled the snap and Allen Aldridge recovered. Davis responded with a 59-yard run two plays after the fumble late in the third quarter, but bruised his ribs when he was tackled and did not return. Derek Loville replaced Davis and scored on Denver's next possession on a 25-yard run to give the Broncos a 28-17 cushion. Loville's 44-yard run later in the quarter led to his 8-yard touchdown run with 3:43 left, and Vaughn Hebronn added a 6-yard run with 1:11 remaining. Elway was 16 of 24 for 223 yards and 1 touchdown. Loville gained 103 yards on 11 carries and, combined with Davis' 184 yards, became the third duo in playoff history to gain at least 100 yards in a game. Brunell was 18 of 32 for 203 yards with 1 interception. The Broncos more than doubled the Jaguars in first downs (28-14), total yards (511-237), and time of possession (40:31-19:29).

PITTSBURGH 42, INDIANAPOLIS 14—Jerome Bettis scored 2 touchdowns, and the Steelers' defense permitted just 8 first downs, 146 yards, and compiled 4 sacks as they advanced to play the New England Patriots. The Colts led 14-13 at halftime on the strength of Eugene Daniel's 59-yard interception return and a 48-yard pass play from Jim Harbaugh to Marvin Harrison. The Steelers opened the second half with a 9:30 drive, with Bettis' first touchdown capping the 16-play march. Late in the third quarter, Carnell Lake forced Marshall Faulk to fumble and recovered the ball at the Colts' 18-yard line. Bettis scored his second touchdown moments later, and the rout was on. Pittsburgh scored a postseason-team record 42 points while totaling 407 yards and controlling the ball for 37:36. Bettis, who eleven times during the season broke the 100-yard barrier, had 25 carries for 102 yards.

JACKSONVILLE 30, BUFFALO 27—Mike Hollis' third field goal, a 45-yard boot that caromed off the right upright before going through with 3:07 remaining, gave Jacksonville a playoff victory in its first-ever postseason game. The second-year franchise also pinned the Bills with their first-ever postseason home loss, after having won their first nine playoff games at Rich Stadium. Thurman Thomas scored two first-half touchdowns, but Jacksonville got a defensive touchdown from Clyde Simmons and a 30-yard run by Natrone Means. The teams entered the fourth-quarter tied 20-20 when Buffalo's Jeff Burris intercepted Mark Brunell's tipped pass and raced 38 yards to give the Bills a 27-20 advantage 43 seconds into the final quarter. The Jaguars put a 10-play, 65-yard drive together, keyed by 2 receptions by Keenan McCardell and a fourth-and-1 conversion by Means, to tie the game on Jimmy Smith's 2-yard pass with 8:40 remaining. On the ensuing possession, Chris Hudson sacked a scrambling Jim Kelly, forcing him to fumble and injuring him on the play. Aaron Beasley recovered the ball at the Jaguars' 41 with 7:13 left. Facing third-and-7 from the Bills' 41, Brunell hit McCardell with an 11-yard passing play to set up Hollis' winning kick. Todd Collins replaced the injured Kelly on Buffalo's final two possessions, but the Bills could not move the ball. Means carried 31 times for 175 yards, with 21 carries coming in the second half as the Jaguars won the time of possession battle (33:06-26:54) and total yards (409-308).

INDIANAPOLIS 35, SAN DIEGO 20—Unheralded rookie Zack Crockett rushed for a Colts' playoff-record 147 yards as Indianapolis stunned the defending AFC champions. Crockett, who carried only one time for no yards during the regular season, was in the game because starting running back Marshall Faulk reinjured his knee on the first play from scrimmage, and fullback Roosevelt Potts was out for the season with an injured knee. But the third-round draft choice from Florida State averaged 11.3 yards on his 13 carries against a defense that had allowed only 105.7 rushing yards per game during the regular season. The Chargers, who entered the playoffs with a five-game winning streak, took a 3-0 lead on John Carney's 54-yard field goal 5:32 into the first quarter. The lead changed hands five times after that—once on Crockett's 33-yard touchdown run 1:47 before halftime—until Jim Harbaugh's 42-yard touchdown pass to Sean Dawkins in the final minute of the third quarter put the Colts ahead for good at 21-17. San Diego pulled within 21-20 on Carney's 30-yard field goal with 11:53 to play, but Crockett raced 66 yards for a touchdown on the next play from scrimmage to give Indianapolis a 28-20 lead. Harbaugh's 3-yard touchdown run with 6:55 to play provided the final margin of victory. The Chargers had 429 total yards to Indianapolis' 333, but were victimized by 4 interceptions of quarterback Stan Humphries. Jason Belser had 2 of the thefts, including 1 he returned 33 yards to set up Indianapolis' final touchdown. The Colts' victory was their first in a postseason game since 1971.

BUFFALO 37, MIAMI 22—Thurman Thomas ran for 158 yards and 1 touchdown as the Bills routed the Dolphins. Buffalo amassed an NFL postseason-record 341 yards on the ground, averaging 6.6 yards per carry. Reserve running back Darick Holmes gained 87 yards, and seldom-used third-stringer Tim Tindale added 68 yards on only 4 carries, one a 44-yard touchdown. The Bills marched 58 yards to Thomas' 1-yard touchdown run the first time they had the ball, and they never looked back, building a 24-0 advantage by the intermission and leading 27-0 before Miami could score. Buffalo finished with 536 total yards, and combined with the Dolphins' 502 to set another postseason record of 1,038 yards total offense in the game. Most of Miami's yardage came long after the issue was decided, however. Quarterback Dan Marino completed 33 of 64 passes for 422 yards and 2 touchdowns, but was intercepted 3 times. Wide receiver O.J. McDuffie caught 11 passes for 154 yards. For the Bills, Steve Tasker caught 5 passes for a career-high 108 yards. Tasker, a special-teams player most of his 11-year career, was thrust into the lineup at wide receiver because of injuries to others this season. He had 3 catches for 45 yards on Buffalo's opening drive.

CLEVELAND 20, NEW ENGLAND 13—Vinny Testaverde threw for 268 yards and 1 touchdown and the Browns survived a late scare to beat the Patriots. After Matt Stover's 21-yard field goal with 3:36 remaining gave Cleveland a 20-10 advantage, the Patriots marched from their own 22-yard line to the Browns' 15. The drive stalled there, and Matt Bahr trimmed New England's deficit to seven points with a 33-yard field goal at the 1:30 mark. The Patriots recovered the ensuing onside kick and picked up a first down before four consecutive incompletions from their 48-yard line ended their comeback hopes. Testaverde completed 20 of 30 passes for the Browns, including a 5-yard touchdown to Mark Carrier in the second quarter. Michael Jackson caught 7 passes for 122 yards. Drew Bledsoe completed only 21 of 50 passes for 235 yards for New England and was intercepted 3 times.

MIAMI 27, KANSAS CITY 17—Dan Marino threw 2 touchdown passes and the Dolphins' defense forced a pair of critical turnovers in the fourth quarter to preserve the victory. A wild first half ended in a 17-17 tie after Marino and Chiefs quarterback Joe Montana each had three possessions (excluding a Kansas City kneel down on the final play) and produced a pair of touchdowns and a field goal. Marino picked up in the third quarter where he left off, directing a 64-yard touchdown drive following the second-half kickoff. He capped the six-play march with a 7-yard touchdown pass to Irving Fryar. Late in the quarter, Pete Stoyanovich kicked a 40-yard field goal to give Miami a 10-point lead, and the Dolphins' defense then took over. Cornerback J.B. Brown intercepted Montana at the goal line early in the fourth quarter, and safety Michael Stewart wrestled the ball from Kansas City running back Marcus Allen at Miami's 34-yard line with 7:31 left. Miami held onto the ball for nearly six minutes after that. Marino completed 22 of 29 passes for 257 yards for the Dolphins. Montana was 26 of 37 for 314 yards for the Chiefs. Kansas City running back Kimble Anders caught 6 passes for 103 yards, including a 57-yard touchdown.

KANSAS CITY 27, PITTSBURGH 24—Nick Lowery kicked a 32-yard field goal 11:03 into overtime to give the Chiefs the come-from-behind victory. Kansas City rallied from a 10-point halftime deficit to tie the game at 17-17 in the fourth quarter, only to fall behind again before forcing the extra session when Joe Montana threw a 7-yard touchdown pass to Tim Barnett with 1:43 remaining in regulation. That came four plays after the Chiefs' Keith Cash blocked a punt and teammate Fred Jones returned it 31 yards to the Steelers' 9-yard line. Two running plays and an incomplete pass netted only 2 yards, but Montana teamed with Barnett on fourth down. Pittsburgh led 17-7 at intermission largely on the strength of 2 touchdown passes from Neil O'Donnell, the second of which was a 26-yard strike to Ernie Mills 18 seconds before halftime. That came six plays after the Steelers stopped Kansas City on downs near midfield. Lowery's 23-yard field goal and Marcus Allen's 2-yard run 6:02 into the fourth quarter tied the game, but Pittsburgh answered with a 74-yard drive capped by O'Donnell's 22-yard pass to tight end Eric Green to take back the lead. The Chiefs had a chance to win the game in regulation, forcing the Steelers to punt just 29 seconds after Barnett's touchdown catch. Montana quickly directed a 47-yard drive, setting up Lowery's 43-yard field-goal try in the closing seconds, but the kick was wide right. The teams exchanged punts in overtime, then Kansas City drove 66 yards in 11 plays to win it. Montana started slowly, completing only 1 of his first 8 passes, but wound up 28 of 43 for 276 yards. Backup Dave Krieg subbed briefly when Montana hurt his ribs in the first quarter, and completed his only pass attempt for a 23-yard touchdown to J.J. Birden. O'Donnell completed 23 of 42 attempts for 286 yards and 3 touchdowns. Pittsburgh nose tackle Gerald Williams had 3 sacks. There were no turnovers in the game.

LOS ANGELES RAIDERS 42, DENVER 24—Napoleon McCallum rushed for 3 second-half touchdowns to decide what began as a shootout between quarterbacks Jeff Hostetler and John Elway. A wild first half ended in a 21-21 tie after the Raiders' Hostetler and the Broncos' Elway each traded 3 touchdown passes. But field position played a big role early in the third quarter: Los Angeles pinned Denver deep in its territory with a Jeff Gossett punt that was downed inside the 5, and moments later the Raiders took over at the Broncos' 35 after a short punt by Tom Rouen. Three plays later, McCallum turned a third-and-1 into a touchdown, scampering 26 yards—the team's longest run from scrimmage all year—for the score that put Los Angeles ahead for good with 8:08 left in the period. Another short punt set up McCallum's 2-yard touchdown run at the 4:27 mark; the key play on the 52-yard drive was Hostetler's 33-yard completion to tight end Ethan Horton. After the Broncos closed within 35-24 early in the fourth quarter, the Raiders put the game out of reach with a time-consuming, 76-yard drive that culminated in McCallum's 1-yard run with 6:43 remaining in the game. McCallum finished with 81 yards on 13 carries and tied an NFL postseason record with his 3 touchdowns. Hostetler averaged better than 15 yards per attempt, throwing for 294 yards while completing 13 of 19 passes. James Jett had 111 yards on just 3 receptions, including a difficult over-the-shoulder grab to complete a 54-yard touchdown in the second quarter. Elway completed 29 of 47 passes for 302 yards. Tight end Shannon Sharpe tied a postseason record with 13 catches for 156 yards. The two teams combined for 814 total yards.

BUFFALO 41, HOUSTON 38—Frank Reich threw 4 second-half touchdown passes and Steve Christie kicked a 32-yard field goal 3:06 into overtime as the Bills mounted the greatest comeback in NFL history to stun the Oilers. Houston led 35-3 after Warren Moon threw 4 first-half touchdown passes and safety Bubba McDowell returned an interception 58 yards for a score 1:41 into the third quarter. Then Reich, who as a collegian had rallied Maryland from a 31-0 halftime deficit to a 42-40 victory over Miami, began the dramatic rally by engineering a 50-yard drive capped by Kenneth Davis' 1-yard run with 8:54 left in the third quarter. Christie recovered his ensuing onside kickoff and Reich's 38-yard touchdown pass four plays later made it 35-17. After a short punt by the Oilers, Reich took only four more plays to march his team 59 yards to a touchdown on his 26-yard pass to Andre Reed. Houston's next possession ended in an interception by Buffalo safety Henry Jones, which set up Reich's 18-yard pass to Reed, the Bills' fourth touchdown in a span of 6:54. It stayed 35-31 until late in the game, when Buffalo drove 74 yards in seven plays. The drive was capped by Reed's third touchdown, a 17-yard throw from Reich that gave the Bills the lead for the first time. Moon rallied the Oilers for a short field goal with 12 seconds left in regulation to tie the score, but was intercepted by cornerback Nate Odomes on the first possession of overtime. Odomes' 2-yard return and a 15-yard facemask penalty on Houston wide receiver Haywood Jeffires positioned Buffalo for the winning field goal three plays later. Reich, subbing for injured starter Jim Kelly, completed 21 of 34 passes for 289 yards, including 8 for 136 yards to Reed. Moon, who was 19 of 22 as the Oilers built their first-half advantage, finished 36 of 50 for 371 yards. Ernest Givins caught 9 passes for 117 yards and Jeffires had 8 receptions for 98 yards and 2 touchdowns. Previously, the largest deficit any NFL team had overcome to win was 28 points, when the 49ers rallied to a 38-35 victory over the Saints after trailing 35-7 in 1980. The largest postseason comeback came when the Lions erased a 27-7 deficit to the 49ers to win 31-27 in a Western Conference playoff in 1957.

WILD CARD PLAYOFFS

SAN DIEGO 17, KANSAS CITY 0—Marion Butts broke a scoreless tie with a 54-yard touchdown run in the third quarter and the Chargers ground out a victory over the Chiefs. San Diego, whose lone loss over the final 12 weeks of the regular season came against Kansas City, rushed for 192 yards while limiting the Chiefs to 61. Butts had 119 yards on 15 carries, including his scoring run with 5:53 left in the third quarter. On Kansas City's next possession, Chargers defensive tackle Blaise Winter tipped a Dave Krieg pass, and end Leslie O'Neal intercepted it to set up John Carney's 34-yard field goal. San Diego put the game away in the fourth quarter with a 10-play, 90-yard drive capped by Steve Hendrickson's 5-yard touchdown run with 4:57 left in the game. Hendrickson, a linebacker who doubles as a blocking back in goal-line situations, carried for the first time all year. The Chargers' defense did the rest, limiting the Chiefs to 251 total yards. Krieg passed for 233 yards, but completed only 16 of 34 attempts, was sacked 7 times, and was intercepted twice. San Diego defensive end Burt Grossman had 2½ sacks, while O'Neal and tackle Shawn Lee added 2 each.

HOUSTON 17, NEW YORK JETS 10—The Oilers' defense stopped the Jets inside Houston's 5-yard line twice in the second half to preserve the Oilers' victory. Houston built a 14-10 halftime lead on 2 scoring passes from Warren Moon to Ernest Givins (5 and 20 yards). The Jets embarked on an eight-minute drive to open the second half, but they were denied by Bubba McDowell's interception at the 2-yard line. Trailing 17-10 in the fourth quarter, New York drove to the Houston 3. Needing a yard for a first down, the Jets were stopped for no gain on both third and fourth down and Houston took over.

NEW YORK GIANTS 24, TAMPA BAY 14—Eli Manning passed for 2 touchdowns as the Giants, who had won their final seven regular-season road games, again won away from home. Trailing 7-0 early in the second quarter, Manning connected on a 13-yard pass to Amani Toomer on third-and-9 to set up his 5-yard touchdown pass to Brandon Jacobs to tie the game. The Giants' defense then forced a three-and-out. Manning completed another key third-down pass, a 21-yard strike to Steve Smith, that led to Jacobs' 8-yard touchdown for a 14-7 lead. The Giants opened the second half with Corey Webster recovering Micheal Spurlock's fumble to set up a field goal. The Buccaneers then drove to the Giants' 27, but Webster intercepted Jeff Garcia's pass in the end zone for a touchback. The Giants put the game away early in the fourth quarter with a 15-play, 92-yard drive that featured seven carries by Ahmad Bradshaw for 38 yards, and was capped by Manning's 4-yard touchdown pass to Toomer on third-and-goal with 8:03 to play for a 24-7 lead. The Buccaneers answered with an 88-yard touchdown drive, and got the ball back with 2:10 to play, but R.W. McQuarters intercepted Garcia's deep pass with 1:53 remaining to clinch the victory. Manning was 20 of 27 for 185 yards and 2 touchdowns. Garcia was 23 of 39 for 207 yards and 1 touchdown, with 2 interceptions.

SEATTLE 35, WASHINGTON 14—Matt Hasselbeck passed for 229 yards and the Seahawks' defense returned 2 fourth-quarter interceptions for touchdowns to lead Seattle to victory. Midway through the first quarter, Fred Smoot recovered a fumble by Shaun Alexander, but replay reversed the call. On the next play, Leonard Weaver ran 17 yards for a touchdown and 7-0 lead. The Redskins punted to end each of their first seven possessions, and on the eighth possession Mike Sellers was stopped for no gain on fourth-and-1 from the Seahawks' 43 with 1:21 left in the half, allowing Seattle to take a 10-0 lead into the locker room. With the score 13-0, the Redskins drove 12 plays in 84 yards, capped by Todd Collins' 7-yard touchdown pass to Antwaan Randle El on third-and-6 on the first play of the fourth quarter. Two plays later, LaRon Landry intercepted Hasselbeck's pass. Three plays after the interception, Collins hit a streaking Santana Moss deep down the left sideline for a 30-yard touchdown and 14-13 Washington lead with 12:38 to play. On the ensuing kickoff, the harsh wind forced the ball to drop suddenly. It fell untouched and was recovered by Anthony Mix at the Seahawks' 14-yard line. However, Shaun Suisham's 30-yard field-goal attempt was wide left with 11:37 remaining. Landry responded with his second interception, at the Redskins' 9, to thwart the drive. But Seattle's defense forced a three-and-out, and Hasselbeck's 15-yard pass to Nate Burleson on third-and-6 set up his 20-yard touchdown pass to D.J. Hackett. Marcus Pollard caught the 2-point conversion pass for a 21-14 lead with 6:06 left. Rock Cartwright returned the ensuing kickoff 55 yards, but on the next play Marcus Trufant intercepted Collins' pass and returned it 78 yards for a touchdown. Washington drove to the Seahawks' 31, but Collins' fourth-down pass fell incomplete with 2:41 remaining. The Redskins' defense forced a final punt, and Jordan Babineaux intercepted Collins' pass and returned it 57 yards for the final touchdown with 27 seconds remaining to complete the scoring. The 2 fourth-quarter interceptions thrown by Collins were his first in 10 years, and the game marked the first time in 18 playoff games that Joe Gibbs had lost when leading in the second half. Gibbs retired two days later. Hasselbeck was 20 of 32 for 229 yards and 1 touchdown, with 2 interceptions. Hackett had 6 catches for 101 yards.

PHILADELPHIA 23, NEW YORK GIANTS 20—David Akers kicked a 38-yard field goal as time expired to give the Eagles a hard-fought playoff victory. The Giants scored on their first drive, highlighted by Jared Lorenzen's 2-yard sneak on third-and-1, and capped two plays later by Eli Manning's 17-yard touchdown pass to Plaxico Burress. The Eagles answered in the second quarter with three consecutive scoring drives. The 84- and 80-yard touchdowns drives had a short field-goal drive in the middle, which was set up by Sheldon Brown's interception, and the Eagles led 17-10 at halftime. The Giants, trailing 20-13 with 12:13 to play, converted 3 third-down situations on the ensuing 80-yard drive, capped by Burress' 11-yard touchdown catch with 5:04 remaining to tie the game. The Eagles used runs of 11 and 13 yards by Brian Westbrook to get into position to set up Akers' game-winning 38-yard kick. Jeff Garcia was 17 of 31 for 153 yards and 1 touchdown. Westbrook had 20 carries for 141 yards. Manning was 16 of 27 for 161 yards and 2 touchdowns, with 1 interception. Tiki Barber, playing in his final game, rushed 26 times for 137 yards.

SEATTLE 21, DALLAS 20—Jordan Babineaux tackled Tony Romo at the 2-yard line in the final minute after Romo mishandled the snap for the potential game-winning field goal, giving the Seahawks an improbable victory. The Seahawks trailed 10-6 at halftime, but drove 62 yards in 12 plays to begin the second half. Shaun Alexander's 4-yard run on fourth-and-1 was the key play of the drive, and Jerramy Stevens capped it with a 15-yard touchdown catch to give Seattle a 13-10 lead. However, Miles Austin returned the ensuing kickoff 93 yards for a touchdown and the Cowboys regained the lead. Early in the fourth quarter, Terence Newman tipped a pass to Roy Williams and Williams intercepted it, leading to Martin Gramatica's second field goal and a 20-13 lead. The Seahawks drove to the Cowboys' 1, but Alexander lost 7 yards on the first play of the series, and Matt Hasselbeck's fourth-down pass fell incomplete. On the next play, from the 2-yard line, Terry Glenn caught a quick pass from Romo. Glenn was stripped by Kelly Jennings and a mad scramble ensued for the football, which eventually went out of the end zone for a safety with 6:32 to play. On the fourth play after the free kick, Hasselbeck completed a 37-yard touchdown pass to a wide-open Stevens and the Seahawks led 21-20 with 4:24 remaining. Julius Jones' 35-yard run helped get the Cowboys deep into Seahawks' territory. Faced with fourth-and-1 from the 2-yard line with 1:19 to play, the Cowboys lined up for a field-goal attempt. However, Romo, the holder, dropped the snap. Romo picked up the ball and ran left. He had a clear path to the end zone, but Babineaux, who had been coming hard off the right end, never stopped pursuing Romo and tackled him from behind at the 2-yard line with 1:14 to play.

The Cowboys forced a punt and had the ball at midfield with two seconds remaining, but Romo's Hail Mary pass fell incomplete in the end zone. Hasselbeck was 18 of 36 for 240 yards and 2 touchdowns, with 2 interceptions. Romo was 17 of 29 for 189 yards and 1 touchdown. Jones rushed 22 times for 112 yards.

CAROLINA 23, NEW YORK GIANTS 0—Steve Smith scored 2 touchdowns and the Panthers' defense allowed just 132 yards and forced 5 turnovers to post the NFL's first road postseason shutout in 25 years. The Panthers held the ball for 42:45 of the 60 minutes, and did not commit a turnover. In the second quarter, Jake Delhomme's 22-yard touchdown pass to Smith capped a 12-play, 77-yard drive that included 3 third-down conversions. With 1:28 left in the first half, Dante Wesley recovered Gibril Wilson's muffed punt at the Giants' 15 to set up a field goal. In the third quarter, Ken Lucas intercepted a pass and returned it 14 yards to the Giants' 12. On the next play, Smith scored on an end around for a 17-0 lead. Marlon McCree intercepted passes on the next two possessions that resulted in John Kasay field goals for a 23-0 lead with 2:40 to play. Delhomme was 15 of 22 for 140 yards and 1 touchdown. Smith had 10 catches for 84 yards. DeShaun Foster rushed 27 times for 151 yards. Eli Manning was 10 of 18 for 113 yards, with 3 interceptions.

WASHINGTON 17, TAMPA BAY 10—The Redskins' defense scored 14 points off turnovers as Washington won its first postseason game since 1999. The Redskins won despite gaining just 120 yards of offense, the lowest output ever by a winning playoff team in NFL history. LaVar Arrington intercepted a pass and returned it 21 yards to the Buccaneers' 6 to set up Clinton Portis touchdown run on the next play for a 7-0 lead with 8:45 left in the first quarter. On the ensuing drive, Marcus Washington forced Carnell Williams to fumble. Washington picked up the loose ball, ran 7 yards, and he fumbled. Sean Taylor picked up the bouncing ball and raced 51 yards for a touchdown and 14-0 lead with 4:15 remaining in the first quarter. With the score 17-3, the Buccaneers opened the second half by forcing a punt and Chris Simms' 22-yard pass to Michael Pittman on third-and-5 set up Simms' 2-yard dive over the left pylon on third-and-goal to pull Tampa Bay within 17-10. With 7:41 remaining in the game, the Buccaneers drove to the Redskins' 19, but Mike Alstott was stopped on third-and-1, and Simms' fourth-and-1 pass fell incomplete. Brian Kelly intercepted a pass at the Redskins' 35 with 3:43 remaining. On third-and-10 with 2:48 left, Simms' long pass into the end zone was nearly caught by Edell Shepherd. Simms tried for Shepherd again on fourth down, but just overthrew him. The Buccaneers forced a punt with 1:05 left and had the ball on their own 46-yard line, but Washington intercepted Simms' pass to clinch the victory. Mark Brunell was 7 of 15 for 41 yards, with 1 interception. Simms was 25 of 38 for 198 yards, with 2 interceptions.

MINNESOTA 31, GREEN BAY 17—Daunte Culpepper passed for 4 touchdowns and the Vikings' defense intercepted 4 passes to defeat the Packers in the first postseason matchup between the two rivals. Culpepper's 68-yard touchdown pass to Moe Williams three plays into the game set the tone. Following a three-and-out, the Vikings needed just 4 plays to take a 14-0 lead on Randy Moss' 20-yard scoring catch. Antoine Winfield intercepted Brett Favre's pass three plays later to set up Morten Andersen's field goal to give the Vikings a 17-0 lead just 8:54 into the game. The Packers scored on their next two possessions to pull within 17-10, and the Packers blocked Andersen's 27-yard field-goal attempt to swing the momentum. However, on the next play Brian Russell intercepted Favre's pass and Nate Burleson caught a 19-yard touchdown pass two plays later for a 24-10 lead. Ryan Longwell missed a 28-yard attempt wide left just before halftime, but the Packers rallied and drove 78 yards, capped by Najeh Davenport's 1-yard run with 13:37 to play, to cut the deficit to 24-17. On the next possession, Culpepper completed a 8-yard pass to Burleson on third-and-6, and three plays later Moss broke free for a 34-yard touchdown catch with 10:18 remaining. The Vikings' defense forced a punt with 8:21 left, and the offense ran out the clock, with Onterio Smith's 16-yard catch on third down and Culpepper's 1-yard sneak on fourth-and-1 keeping the drive alive. Culpepper was 19 of 29 for 284 yards and 4 touchdowns. Favre was 22 of 33 for 216 yards and 1 touchdown, with 4 interceptions.

ST. LOUIS 27, SEATTLE 20—Cam Cleeland caught a 17-yard touchdown pass from Marc Bulger with 2:11 remaining, and Bobby Engram could not hold onto a pass in the end zone in the waning seconds, as the Rams advanced. The Rams had a pair of 75-yard touchdown drives in the first half en route to a 14-10 halftime lead. Darrell Jackson capped a 76-yard drive with a 23-yard touchdown catch to give Seattle a 20-17 lead with 13:43 to play. The Rams responded with an 11-play, 60-yard drive that consumed 6:53 and was capped by Jeff Wilkins' tying 27-yard field goal with 8:07 remaining. The Rams forced a punt, and on third-and-2 from their own 32, Bulger completed a short pass to Shaun McDonald who raced 31 yards down the right side. Four plays later, on third-and-3 from the Seahawks' 17, Bulger found Cleeland, who only had 7 catches all season, open in the seam at the goal line for a touchdown. The Seahawks needed just four plays to reach the Rams' 11. Following a Jimmy Kennedy sack and an incomplete, Matt Hasselbeck completed a 12-yard pass to Engram to the Rams' 5 to set up fourth-and-4 with 27 seconds left. Hasselbeck scrambled within the pocket and threw sidearm and low to Engram cutting across the middle of the end zone, who got his hands on the pass but was unable to hold on. Bulger was 18 of 32 for 313 yards and 2 touchdowns, with 1 interception. Torry Holt had 6 catches for 108 yards, and Kevin Curtis added 4 receptions for 107 yards. Hasselbeck was 27 of 43 for 341 yards and 2 touchdowns, with 1 interception. Jackson had 12 catches for 128 yards.

GREEN BAY 33, SEATTLE 27 (OT)—Al Harris returned an interception 52 yards for a touchdown 4:25 into overtime as the Packers improved their home postseason record to 14-1. With the score 3-3 in the second quarter, Koren Robinson dropped a touchdown pass on third down, forcing the Seahawks to settle for Josh Brown's second field goal with 6:50 left in the half. Brett Favre responded with a 44-yard pass to Javon Walker on the next play to set up his 23-yard touchdown pass to Bubba Franks. Favre set a postseason record with a touchdown pass in 14 consecutive postseason games. The Packers' defense forced a punt and Ryan Longwell booted a 27-yard field goal just before halftime for a 13-6 lead. Seattle came out of the locker room and put together touchdown drives of 10-plays, 74-yards and 11-plays, 77-yards, both culminated by 1-yard runs by Shaun Alexander, for a 20-13 lead with 1:57 left in the third quarter. Alexander's second touchdown came on fourth-and-goal, and was set up by tackle Steve Hutchinson's 4-yard reception of a deflected third-down pass. Seattle ran just three plays in the next 14:13, as Green Bay countered with consecutive 12-play touchdown drives of 60 and 51 yards. Both featured successful fourth-and-1 carries by Ahman Green and were capped by 1-yard scoring runs by Green, giving Green Bay a 27-20 lead with 2:44 to play. Matt Hasselbeck completed a 34-yard pass to Bobby Engram to the Packers' 8, and a pass interference penalty in the end zone gave Seattle the ball at the 1-yard line to set up Alexander's third touchdown with just 51 seconds left. A 27-yard pass by Favre to Walker got the Packers to the Seahawks' 30, but Longwell's 47-yard field-goal attempt in the 20 degree weather fell short. The Seahawks won the coin toss, and after an exchange of punts, faced third-and-11 from their own 45. The Packers blitzed, and Harris stepped in front of Alex Bannister to intercept Hasselbeck's pass and outrun the pair down the right sideline to the end zone. Favre was 26 of 38 for 319 yards and 1 touchdown. Walker had 5 receptions for 111 yards. Hasselbeck was 25 of 45 for 305 yards, with 1 interception.

CAROLINA 29, DALLAS 10—Stephen Davis rushed for 104 yards and 1 touchdown, Jake Delhomme passed for 273 yards and a score, and John Kasay kicked 5 field goals as the Panthers won their first playoff game in seven seasons. The Panthers' defense limited Dallas to 204 yards and 10 first downs and forced 2 turnovers. On Carolina's first possession, Steve Smith turned a short pass into a 70-yard gain to the Cowboys' 1, where only tremendous hustle by Pete Hunter, who raced across the field to knock down Smith, prevented a touchdown. Two runs by Davis and an incompletion forced the Panthers to settle for Kasay's first field goal. Later in the quarter, a 32-yard punt by Toby Gowin gave Carolina the ball at the Cowboys' 41, setting up Kasay's second field goal. A 17-yard punt by Gowin gave the Panthers the ball at their 49 in the second quarter to set up Davis' 23-yard touchdown run on third-and-10 with 6:10 left in the half. Billy Cundiff made a 37-yard field goal for Dallas with 1:12 left in the half, but any momentum shift was nullified when Delhomme completed a 49-yard pass to Muhsin Muhammad, who fumbled at the 10-yard line but recovered the ball at the Cowboys' 2 to set up Kasay's third field goal and a 16-3 halftime lead. Delhomme's 32-yard touchdown pass to Smith capped a 4-play, 63-yard drive early in the third quarter and gave Carolina a commanding 23-3 lead. It took a 41-yard kickoff return by Michael Bates with the Cowboys trailing 26-3 to set up a 47-yard touchdown drive, capped by Quincy Carter's 9-yard run with 7:36 to play. An interception by Julius Peppers with 4:59 to play set up Kasay's final field goal. Delhomme was 18 of 29 for 273 yards and 1 touchdown. Smith had 5 receptions for 135 yards. Muhammad had 4 catches for 103 yards. Davis rushed 26 times for 104 yards. Carter was 21 of 36 for 154 yards, with 1 interception.

SAN FRANCISCO 39, NEW YORK GIANTS 38—A botched snap averted a potential game-winning 41-yard field-goal attempt as time expired and enabled the 49ers to post the second-largest comeback in NFL postseason history. The 49ers trailed 38-14 late in the third quarter before scoring the game's final 25 points. Jeff Garcia's 76-yard touchdown pass to Terrell Owens came on the 49ers' first play from scrimmage—which followed an interception by Julian Peterson—to give the 49ers an early 7-0 lead. With the score tied 14-14 in the second quarter, Cedrick Wilson muffed a punt and the Giants recovered at the 8-yard line. Kerry Collins' scoring pass to Amani Toomer on the next play gave the Giants a 21-14 lead with 2:49 left in the half, and, following a punt, Collins and Toomer connected on a 24-yard scoring pass with 10 seconds left in the half for a 28-14 advantage. The Giants scored on their first two possessions of the second half, too, but a dropped pass in the end zone by Jeremy Shockey forced the Giants to settle for a field goal on the latter drive. Still, the Giants owned a 38-14 lead with 4:27 left in the third quarter. Garcia then engineered a 7-play drive and, following a short Matt Allen punt, a 27-yard drive, with 2 two-point conversion passes to Owens, to cut the lead to 38-30 with 14:55 remaining. After forcing a punt, the 49ers drove 74 yards but were forced to settle for Jeff Chandler's field goal with 7:49 to play. Collins drove the Giants to the 49ers' 24, but on fourth-and-1 with 3:01 remaining, Matt Bryant slipped while attempting a 41-yard field goal and pulled the kick wide left. Garcia completed two third-down passes on the ensuing drive, capped by a 13-yard scoring pass to Tai Streets with 1:00 left to give the 49ers a 39-38 lead. Offsetting personal foul penalties after the touchdown and the failed two-point conversion attempt added to the wild finish, and a 32-yard kickoff return by Delvin Joyce to the Giants' 48 gave New York a chance to erase the comeback. Collins' 19-yard pass to Ron Dixon to the Giants' 28 with 15 seconds left, followed by a 5-yard pass to Toomer with six seconds left, set the stage for Bryant's 41-yard field-goal attempt. But the snap by Trey Junkin, who was signed during the week to replace injured long snapper Dan O'Leary, was low, and holder Matt Allen scrambled to his right and heaved a pass downfield as time expired. The ball fell incomplete and the Giants were flagged for an illegal man downfield. The following day, the NFL ruled that pass interference should have been called on Chike Okefor for running into eligible receiver Rich Seubert, and the offsetting penalties would have enabled New York to run one more play. Garcia was 27 of 44 for 331 yards and 3 touchdowns, with 1 interception. Owens had 9 catches for 177 yards. Collins was 29 of 43 for 342 yards and 4 touchdowns, with 1 interception. Barber rushed for 115 yards, and Toomer added 8 catches for 136 yards and 3 touchdowns (12, 8, and 24 yards).

ATLANTA 27, GREEN BAY 7—Michael Vick passed for 117 yards and rushed for 64 yards as the Falcons handed the Packers their first postseason home defeat. Green Bay had won its previous 13 home playoff games. Atlanta drove 76 yards to open the game, capped by Vick's 10-yard touchdown pass to Shawn Jefferson. Later in the quarter, Mark Simoneau blocked Josh Bidwell's punt and Artie Ulmer picked it up on the 1-yard line and scored to give Atlanta a 14-0 lead. In the second quarter, George Layne recovered what was ruled a muffed punt at the Packers' 21, and T.J. Duckett scored four plays later. The Packers drove to the Falcons' 2, but Ellis Johnson dropped Ahman Green for a 4-yard loss on fourth down. The snow began to fall late in the second quarter, and Jay Feely's 22-yard field goal as the half expired gave the Falcons a 24-0 lead. The Packers scored on their opening possession of the second half, but the Falcons responded with a 6:43 drive capped by Feely's second field goal. The Packers' next two possessions concluded with Ryan Longwell's second missed field-goal attempt and Brett Favre's fourth-and-2 pass falling incomplete, the latter with 7:40 remaining, to secure Atlanta's victory. Favre had a record of 35-0 in home games with the game-time temperature below 34 degrees. Vick was 13 of 25 for 117 yards and 1 touchdown. Favre was 20 of 42 for 247 yards and 1 touchdown, with 2 interceptions. Javon Walker had 5 catches for 104 yards for the Packers, who were without Darren Sharper, and who lost three receivers to injury during the game.

GREEN BAY 25, SAN FRANCISCO 15—Brett Favre set a Green Bay playoff record by completing 75.9 percent of his passes as the Packers improved to 11-0 all-time in postseason games at Lambeau Field. With the game-time temperature of 28 degrees, Favre improved to 31-0 when the temperature is 34 or below. Allen Rossum's 35-yard punt return set up Favre's 5-yard touchdown pass to Antonio Freeman. However, Dana Stubblefield blocked the extra point. Ahmed Plummer intercepted Favre late in the first quarter, but the Packers' defense forced the 49ers' into a field-goal attempt, and Cletidus Hunt blocked Jose Cortez's 34-yard attempt. The 49ers got the ball back midway through the second quarter and put together a 15-play, 86-yard drive, capped by Garrison Hearst's 2-yard touchdown run with 11 seconds left in the half to give the 49ers a 7-6 lead. Ryan Longwell's 26-yard field goal capped a 12-play drive to begin the third quarter, and Corey Bradford's 51-yard reception on the Packers' next possession set up Favre's 19-yard touchdown pass to Bubba Franks to give the Packers a 15-7 lead. Jeff Garcia's 14-yard touchdown pass to Tai Streets, and the ensuing 2-point conversion hookup by the same pair, tied the game with 12:00 left. Longwell's 45-yard field goal on the ensuing possession staked the Packers to a precarious 18-15 lead with 7:02 left. On first-and-10 from the Packers' 41 with 5:03 remaining, Terrell Owens broke open deep down the right sideline. However, Garcia's pass was slightly under-thrown and Mike McKenzie hustled back to tip the pass into the hands of Tyrone Williams for an interception at the Packers' 7. Sensing an opportunity to put the game away, Favre engineered an 8-play, 93-yard drive, highlighted by a 37-yard pass to Freeman on third-and-7, and capped by Ahman Green's 9-yard scoring run with 1:55 remaining. Paul Smith fumbled the ensuing kickoff and Bradford recovered to clinch the victory. Favre was 22 of 29 for 269 yards and 2 touchdowns, with 1 interception. Garcia was 22 of 32 for 233 yards and 1 touchdown, with 1 interception.

PHILADELPHIA 31, TAMPA BAY 9—Donovan McNabb passed for 2 touchdowns and the Eagles' defense recorded 4 interceptions to defeat the Buccaneers in an NFC Wild Card Game in Philadelphia for the second consecutive season. Dexter Jackson's interception and 9-yard return to the Eagles' 39 three plays into the game set up the first of three Martin Gramatica first-half field goals. A 39-yard run by McNabb on the ensuing possession led to David Akers' 26-yard field goal to tie the game, and McNabb's 41-yard pass to Todd Pinkston early in the second quarter set up Chad Lewis' 16-yard scoring catch to give the Eagles a 10-3 lead. With the Eagles leading 10-6, Mark Royals' 28-yard punt to the Buccaneers' 31 with 1:46 left in the half set up McNabb's 23-yard touchdown pass to Duce Staley. The Buccaneers answered quickly, with Brad Johnson's 46-yard pass to Keyshawn Johnson allowing Gramatica to kick his third field goal to trim the deficit to 17-9 at halftime. Correll Buckhalter's 25-yard touchdown run in the third quarter increased the Eagles' lead to 24-9. Troy Vincent's interception in the end zone stopped the Buccaneers' ensuing possession, Brian Dawkins intercepted a pass at the Eagles' 3 with 5:34 left to stop another drive, and Damon Moore's 59-yard interception return for a touchdown with 2:08 remaining iced the game. McNabb was 16 of 25 for 194 yards and 2 touchdowns, with 1 interception. Johnson was 22 of 36 for 202 yards, with 4 interceptions.

PHILADELPHIA 21, TAMPA BAY 3—Donovan McNabb passed for 2 touchdowns and ran for another, and the Eagles' defense limited the Buccaneers to just 11 first downs. The Buccaneers dropped to 0-20 when the game-time temperature is below 40 degrees, though Martin Gramatica's 29-yard field goal early in the second quarter staked Tampa Bay to a 3-0 lead. The tide changed a few possessions later when Hugh Douglas sacked Shaun King from behind, forced him to fumble, and Mike Mamula recovered at the Buccaneers' 15. Four plays later, McNabb scrambled 5 yards up the middle for a touchdown with 3:21 left in the half. The Eagles' defense then forced Tampa Bay to punt, and McNabb engineered an 8-play, 69-yard drive, keyed by his 25-yard pass to Charles Johnson. McNabb capped the march with a 5-yard touchdown pass to Na Brown 12 seconds before halftime to take a 14-3 lead. McNabb's 2-yard pass to Jeff Thomason on third-and-goal less than a minute into the fourth quarter finished the scoring. The Buccaneers threatened once in the second half, but King threw consecutive incompletions from the Eagles' 21 with just under four minutes remaining to seal the victory. The Eagles converted 9 of 18 third-down plays, while allowing the Buccaneers to convert just 3 of 13 third-down situations. McNabb completed 24 of 33 passes for 161 yards and 2 touchdowns, with 1 interception. King was 17 of 31 for 171 yards. Keyshawn Johnson had 6 receptions for 106 yards.

NEW ORLEANS 31, ST. LOUIS 28—Aaron Brooks passed for 4 touchdowns, and Brian Milne recovered Az-Zahir Hakim's muffed punt return with 1:43 remaining to secure the first playoff victory in Saints' history. The defending Super Bowl champion Rams scored on their first possession, driving 68 yards in 11 plays and taking a 7-0 lead on Kurt Warner's 17-yard pass to Isaac Bruce, but were then shut out for the next 40 minutes. The Saints drove 70 yards on their ensuing possession to tie the game on Brooks's 12-yard pass to Robert Wilson, who had not caught a touchdown pass all season. Sammy Knight's 52-yard interception return to the Rams' 20 set up Doug Brien's 33-yard field goal just before halftime, giving New Orleans a 10-7 lead. Chris Oldham's third-quarter interception near midfield led to Brooks's 10-yard touchdown pass to Willie Jackson, and Brooks and Jackson hooked up for 2 more scores within the first 3:03 of the fourth quarter to give the Saints a 31-7 lead with 11:57 remaining. The Rams needed just 4 plays, capped by Warner's 17-yard pass to Ricky Proehl, to cut the deficit to 31-13, and Hakim's 65-yard punt return to the Saints' 9 moments later gave the Rams hope. But Knight intercepted Warner on the next play from scrimmage with 6:28 remaining. However, the Rams' defense forced a punt, and St. Louis needed just 3 plays to drive 62 yards and cut the deficit to 31-20 on Marshall Faulk's 25-yard catch and run. Dre' Bly recovered the ensuing onside kick, and a 38-yard pass to Hakim set up Warner's 5-yard touchdown run. Warner's quick pass to Faulk for the 2-point conversion trimmed the deficit to 31-28 with 2:36 left. Darrin Smith recovered the onside kick for the Saints, but the Rams' defense again forced a punt. Hakim muffed the punt and Milne recovered the ball at the Saints' 11 to seal the victory. Brooks completed 16 of 29 passes for 266 yards and 4 touchdowns, with 1 interception. Jackson had 6 receptions for 142 yards. Warner was 24 of 40 for 365 yards and 3 touchdowns, with 3 interceptions. Bruce had 7 receptions for 127 yards and a touchdown.

MINNESOTA 27, DALLAS 10—Robert Smith rushed for 140 yards and Jeff George passed for 3 touchdowns as the Vikings defeated the Cowboys. The Cowboys drove 73 and 79 yards on their first two possessions to claim a 10-3 lead. Anthony Bass recovered Robert Thomas's fumble at the Cowboys' 23 early in the second quarter, and four plays later Smith caught a screen pass from George and faked out George Teague at the 12-yard line before running into the end zone. George gave the Vikings their first lead with a 58-yard touchdown bomb to Randy Moss 28 seconds before halftime. The Vikings led 27-10 before the Cowboys put together two final drives, only to turn the ball over inside the Vikings' 20 on both occasions. George was 12 of 25 for 212 yards and 3 touchdowns. Moss had 5 receptions for 127 yards. Troy Aikman was 22 of 38 for 286 yards, with 1 interception. Raghbi Ismail had 8 catches for 163 yards.

WASHINGTON 27, DETROIT 13—Stephen Davis rushed for 119 yards and 2 touchdowns as the Redskins scored on their first four, and five of their first six, possessions to defeat the Lions. The Lions forced the Redskins to punt on their first possession, but Clint Kriewaldt was flagged for running into punter Matt Turk, giving the Redskins a first down. A 41-yard pass interference penalty moments later set up Davis's first touchdown. Davis rumbled 58 yards to begin the Redskins' next possession, but injured his right knee on a 4-yard touchdown run to cap the drive. Champ Bailey's interception set up Conway's first field goal, and Davis returned to carry 5 times for 45 yards on the Redskins' fourth possession to lead to Conway's second field goal. Davis sat out the remainder of the game, but Washington put together one more scoring drive to take a 27-0 halftime lead. The Lions did not cross midfield until midway through the third quarter, and Lamar Campbell's blocked field-goal attempt led to Ron Rice's 94-yard return. Gus Frerotte's 5-yard touchdown pass to Ron Rivers came on the last play of the game. Brad Johnson was 15 of 31 for 174 yards and 1 touchdown, with 2 interceptions. Frerotte was 21 of 46 for 251 yards and 1 touchdown, with 2 interceptions. Washington had more rushing yards (223-45) and longer time of possession (38:28-21:32).

SAN FRANCISCO 30, GREEN BAY 27—With eight seconds left and no timeouts remaining, Steve Young fired a 25-yard strike to Terrell Owens to give the 49ers a victory against the Packers in stunning fashion. Darren Sharper forced Owens to fumble at the Packers' 47 on the game's third play. Pat Terrell recovered the ball, leading to Ryan Longwell's first field goal. Merton Hanks forced Dorsey Levens to fumble later in the quarter, and Chris Doleman recovered. Greg Clark caught a touchdown pass from Steve Young three plays later to give the 49ers a 7-3 lead. Brett Favre threw a 2-yard touchdown pass to Antonio Freeman on the next drive, but R.W. McQuarter's 19-yard punt return set up Wade Richey's tying field goal midway through the second quarter. Randy Kirk recovered Roell Preston's muffed punt at the 49ers' 18, but George Koonce intercepted a Young pass two plays later and the Packers proceeded to drive 83 yards to take a 17-10 lead on Levens's touchdown run. Recently signed free-agent Charles Haley pressured Favre into throwing an early second-half interception, returned 17 yards by Lee Woodall to the Packers' 33. From there, Young threw his second touchdown pass of the game to Clark to tie the score. Three field goals on successive possessions, 2 by Richey, gave the 49ers a 23-20 lead with 6:12 to play. Darnell Walker intercepted Favre at the Packers' 43, but the 49ers were forced to punt giving Green Bay the ball at their own 11 with 4:19 remaining. Favre threw a 47-yard pass to Corey Bradford, and a few plays later lofted a 15-yard scoring pass to Freeman to give the Packers a 27-23 lead with 1:56 to play. The 49ers drove to the Packers' 25 with eight seconds left and no timeouts, when Young fired a 25-yard strike to Owens, who was belted by Terrell and Sharper but held on for the winning points. Young, who completed 7 of 9 passes on the game-winning 76-yard drive, was 18 of 32 for 182 yards and 3 touchdowns, with 2 interceptions. Garrison

ARIZONA 20, DALLAS 7—Jake Plummer passed for 2 touchdowns, and Aeneas Williams had 2 interceptions as the Cardinals won a postseason game for the first time since 1947. Richie Cunningham missed a 36-yard field goal in the latter part of the first quarter, and Plummer immediately seized the opportunity, firing a 59-yard pass to Frank Sanders. Three plays later, Plummer threw a shovel pass to Adrian Murrell, who scooted into the end zone to give Arizona a 7-0 lead. The Cowboys drove deep into Cardinals' territory, but Mark Maddox stopped Emmitt Smith on fourth-and-1 at the Cardinals' 7. Chris Jacke kicked a field goal 19 seconds before halftime, and Murrell raced 74 yards on the second play of the second half, setting up Plummer's 3-yard toss to Larry Centers to give the Cardinals a 17-0 lead 1:16 into the third quarter. Williams's second interception at the Cowboys' 37 set up Jacke's second field goal 2:05 into the final quarter. The Cardinals' defense twice stopped Dallas on fourth-down attempts before Troy Aikman's 6-yard pass to Billy Davis averted the shutout with 3:33 remaining. Larry Centers recovered the ensuing onside kick, and Tommy Bennett intercepted an Aikman pass with 48 seconds remaining to secure the victory. Plummer was 19 of 36 for 213 yards, 2 touchdowns, with 2 interceptions. Aikman was 22 of 49 for 191 yards, 1 touchdown, with 3 interceptions.

TAMPA BAY 20, DETROIT 10—The Buccaneers broke out to a 20-0 lead and held on to record their first postseason victory since 1979. Michael Husted's 22-yard field goal with 5:24 left in the first quarter began the Buccaneers' scoring spree. After forcing a punt, Tampa Bay drove 89 yards, with Horace Copeland's 9-yard touchdown catch capping a 17-play drive. On the Lions' next possession, Anthony Parker's 19-yard interception return to the Lions' 20 set up Husted's second field goal. The Buccaneers had a chance to score just before halftime, but Warrick Dunn fumbled at the Lions' 14. However, Mike Alstott capped the Buccaneers' opening drive of the second half with a 31-yard scoring burst. The Lions drove deep into Tampa Bay territory, but Scott Mitchell's fourth-and-3 pass from the Buccaneers' 8 fell incomplete. Jason Hanson kicked a 33-yard field goal to cap the Lions' next drive, but Mitchell was injured on the play previous to the field goal. He left the game with a concussion. The Lions forced another punt, and Frank Reich guided the offense to its first touchdown on a 1-yard plunge by Tommy Vardell with 7:48 left. The Lions reached no farther than the Buccaneers' 42 on their final drive. Trent Difer was 13 of 26 for 181 yards and 1 touchdown, with 1 interception. Mitchell was 10 of 25 for 78 yards, with 1 interception, while Reich was 11 of 15 for 129 yards. Barry Sanders, who gained 2,053 rushing yards during the season, was held to 18 carries for only 65 yards.

MINNESOTA 23, NEW YORK GIANTS 22—Eddie Murray's 24-yard field goal with 10 seconds remaining capped a 10-point rally in the final 1:30 as the Vikings shocked the Giants. Bernard Halsey and Michael Strahan each recovered first-quarter Randall Cunningham fumbles in Vikings' territory to set up Brad Daluiso field goals. Danny Kanell's 37-yard pass to David Patten led to his 2-yard touchdown pass to Aaron Pierce three plays later to give the Giants a 13-0 lead. Jason Sehorn's interception set up Daluiso's third field goal, and after Duane Butler's fumble recovery of Amani Toomer's punt allowed Murray to put the Vikings on the board, Daluiso added his fourth field goal of the half to give the Giants a 19-3 halftime edge. The Vikings were limited to 68 total yards in the first half. Tony Williams forced Tiki Barber to fumble, and Jerry Ball recovered at the Giants' 4. Leroy Hoard scored on the next play to cut the deficit to 19-10. Murray missed a 48-yard field-goal attempt on the their next possession, but a 14-yard punt by Brad Maynard late in the third quarter gave the Vikings good field position and Murray kicked his second field goal fifteen seconds into the fourth quarter. The Giants responded with a 13-play, 74-yard drive capped by Daluiso's fifth field goal, from 22 yards with 7:03 left, to give the NFC East champions a 22-13 lead. When Strahan and Keith Hamilton corralled Robert Smith for a 3-yard loss on third-and-4 from the Vikings' 43, and Minnesota chose to punt, the Giants were in position to run out the clock. But the Vikings forced the Giants to punt, and Maynard's 26-yard boot sailed out of bounds at the Giants' 49 with 2:06 left. Cunningham found Carter for 19 yards between a pair of incompletions before Jake Reed got past Tito Wooten and caught a 30-yard touchdown pass in the back of the end zone with 1:30 left to cut the deficit to 22-20. Chris Caloway bobbed the ensuing onside kick on the wet turf, and Chris Walsh recovered for the Vikings at the 39-yard line. Carter caught a 21-yard pass on third-and-4 to the Giants' 34, and Phillip Sparks was flagged for pass interference two plays later to put the ball on the 21-yard line with 43 seconds left. Smith broke free for 16 yards to the Giants' 5, and Murray kicked the game-winning field goal with 10 seconds left. Cunningham was 15 of 36 for 203 yards and 1 touchdown, with 1 interception. Kanell was 16 of 32 for 199 yards and 1 touchdown. The victory snapped a six-game postseason losing streak for the Vikings.

SAN FRANCISCO 14, PHILADELPHIA 0—Steve Young ran for a touchdown and threw for one as the 49ers defeated the Eagles in the mud of 3Com Park. The Eagles blew three scoring chances in the first half. Gary Anderson missed a 40-yard field goal on the Eagles first possession. Trailing 7-0 after a scrambling touchdown run by Young in which he bruised his ribs, the Eagles drove deep into 49ers territory. On third-and-1 from the 8-yard line, Detmer attempted to throw the ball away on a pass attempt. However Marquez Pope grabbed the errant toss for the interception. After a punt, Philadelphia drove to the 49ers' 5-yard line, but Roy Barker intercepted Detmer's third-and-4 pass. Philadelphia got into 49ers territory only once the remainder of the game. Young, who left the game in the second quarter with a rib injury, threw a 36-yard pass to Jerry Rice, who made a spectacular one-handed catch, to set up the duo's third-quarter touchdown. San Francisco garnered its first postseason shutout since the 1984 NFC Championship Game.

DALLAS 40, MINNESOTA 15—Three big plays by George Teague catapulted Dallas to a 30-0 halftime lead en route to routing the Vikings. With the Cowboys leading 7-0, the Vikings Amp Lee caught a pass over the middle on this way to the end zone. However, Teague lunged at Lee from behind, slapping the ball through the end zone to give Dallas possession at their 20-yard line. Chris Boniol capped the 12-play drive with a 28-yard field goal to put Dallas ahead 10-0. On the next play from scrimmage, Teague forced Leroy Hoard to fumble the ball away. On the next play Emmitt Smith streaked 37 yards for a touchdown. Exactly one minute later, Teague intercepted Brad Johnson's pass and returned it 29 yards for a touchdown, giving the Cowboys 17 points in a one-minute, 32-second span and a 24-0 lead. It was the Vikings seventh consecutive playoff loss, and the fourth under coach Dennis Green. Dallas completely dominated the game statistically, compiling more first downs (27-12), total yards (438-268), time of possession (42:03-17:57), and committing fewer turnovers (5-2).

GREEN BAY 37, ATLANTA 20—Edgar Bennett rushed for a club playoff-record 108 yards, and Antonio Freeman returned a punt 76 yards for a touchdown in the Packers' victory. Green Bay led just 14-10 in the second quarter before Freeman's punt return and an 85-yard drive just before halftime broke open the game at 27-10. The latter, a 14-play march capped by Brett Favre's 2-yard touchdown pass to tight end Mark Chmura with 49 seconds left in the second quarter, featured 34 rushing yards by Bennett and completions to seven different receivers. The Falcons pulled within 27-17 on Jeff George's 27-yard touchdown pass to J.J. Birden in the first minute of the fourth quarter, but the Packers countered with another lengthy drive to put the game out of reach. The 12-play, 70-yard march took 6:22 and concluded with Favre's 18-yard touchdown pass to running back Dorsey Levens. Favre, who also threw a 14-yard touchdown pass to Robert Brooks in the first quarter, was 24 of 35 for 199 yards. Bennett, who carried 24 times, broke the Packers' postseason rushing record of 105 yards shared by Pro Football Hall of Fame members Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung. George completed 30 of 54 passes for 366 yards and 2 touchdowns for the Falcons. Eric Metcalf caught 8 passes for 114 yards.

PHILADELPHIA 58, DETROIT 37—Rodney Peete passed for 270 yards and 3 touchdowns as the Eagles blasted the Lions. The game was tied 7-7 before

Philadelphia put the game away by exploding for 31 points in the second quarter. Gary Anderson began the onslaught with a 21-yard field goal 2:04 into the second quarter, and just 2:13 later Peete teamed with Fred Barnett on a 22-yard touchdown pass for a 17-7 lead. Two plays after that, cornerback Barry Wilburn returned an interception 24 yards for a touchdown, and when Ricky Watters ran 1 yard for a touchdown 4:59 before halftime, the Eagles led 31-7. They ended any remaining suspense when Peete threw a 43-yard desperation pass for a touchdown to Rob Carpenter on the final play of the second quarter. By midway through the third quarter it was 51-7 and Detroit's seven-game winning streak was in tatters. Peete completed 17 of 25 passes in all and was not intercepted. Lions quarterbacks Scott Mitchell and Don Majkowski, meanwhile, combined for 361 yards and 4 touchdowns, but suffered 6 interceptions. The 95 points scored by the two clubs set an NFL postseason record. Philadelphia's second-quarter barrage has been bettered only once in NFL postseason play. Washington scored 35 points in the second quarter of Super Bowl XXII against Denver.

CHICAGO 35, MINNESOTA 18—Steve Walsh threw 2 touchdowns passes as the Bears stunned the NFC Central Division-champion Vikings. Chicago, which didn't score more than 27 points in any game during the 1994 regular season, ended a six-game losing streak to the Vikings by shredding the NFL's fifth-ranked defense for 5 touchdowns. Despite turnovers on their first two possessions, the Bears forged a 14-3 lead in the second quarter on Lewis Tillman's 1-yard run and Walsh's 9-yard touchdown pass to tight end Keith Jennings. Minnesota pulled within 14-9 on Warren Moon's 4-yard touchdown pass to Cris Carter 19 seconds before halftime, but Chicago struck quickly in the third quarter to bolster its lead. Walsh teamed with Curtis Conway on a 23-yard completion and with Jeff Graham on an 18-yard gain before Raymont Harris ran 29 yards for a touchdown just 2:03 into the second half. It was the longest rushing play of the season for the Bears. Walsh's 21-yard touchdown pass to Graham early in the fourth quarter helped keep the game out of reach. He finished with 15 completions in 23 attempts for 221 yards. Graham caught 4 passes for 108 yards. Moon completed 29 of 52 passes for 292 yards and running back Amp Lee caught 11 passes for 159 yards for the Vikings, who had sizeable advantages in plays (82-54) and total yards (389-308). But Minnesota was victimized by 4 turnovers and 11 penalties.

GREEN BAY 16, DETROIT 12—The Packers won their first playoff game at home in 12 years by staving off the Lions in the closing minutes. After Chris Jacke's third field goal of the game, from 28 yards with 5:35 to play in the fourth quarter, gave Green Bay a 16-10 lead. Detroit's Eric Lynch returned the ensuing kickoff 27 yards to the Packers' 49-yard line. The Lions reached the 11 at the two-minute warning, but linebacker Bryce Paup sacked Dave Krieg for a 6-yard loss, and on fourth-and-14 from the 17, Herman Moore caught Krieg's pass at the back of the end zone, only to come down past the end line with 1:45 to play. Green Bay ran out the rest of the clock, giving up a concession safety on the last play. Brett Favre passed for 262 yards for the Packers, but it was Green Bay's defense that made the difference. The Packers limited Barry Sanders, the NFL's leading rusher with 1,883 yards during the regular season, to minus-1 yard on 13 carries. Sanders, who caught 3 passes for 4 yards, was held to negative yardage eight of the 16 times he touched the ball. The Lions rushed for minus-4 yards as a team.

GREEN BAY 28, DETROIT 24—Brett Favre's 40-yard touchdown pass to Sterling Sharpe with 55 seconds remaining lifted the Packers to victory in their first playoff game in 11 years. Favre, unable to find intended receiver Mark Clayton, scrambled left and threw across the field to Sharpe, who had gotten behind cornerback Kevin Scott down the right sideline. The quarterback's heroics offset brilliant individual performances by the Lions' Barry Sanders and Brett Perriman. Sanders, playing for first time since injuring his knee against the Bears on Thanksgiving Day, rushed for 169 yards on 27 carries. Perriman caught 10 passes for 150 yards, including a 1-yard touchdown from Erik Kramer late in the second quarter to give Detroit a 10-7 edge at halftime. The Lions increased that advantage to 17-7 when cornerback Melvin Jenkins intercepted Favre's pass and returned it 15 yards for a touchdown 6:40 into the third period. After Green Bay countered with a 28-yard touchdown pass from Favre to Sharpe, Detroit appeared poised to score again, driving to the Packers' 5-yard line. But Kramer's pass in the end zone was intercepted by rookie safety George Teague, who raced a playoff-record 101 yards to give Green Bay a 21-17 lead with 1:40 to go in the third quarter. The Lions then pieced together a 15-play, 89-yard drive that consumed more than 8 minutes, taking the lead for the last time on Derrick Moore's 5-yard touchdown run 6:33 into the fourth quarter. Kramer finished with 22 completions in 31 attempts for 248 yards for Detroit, which amassed 410 total yards but could not overcome the Packers' big plays. Sharpe, who set an NFL record with 112 receptions during the regular season, caught only 5 passes but made the most of them, gaining 101 yards and scoring 3 times.

N.Y. GIANTS 17, MINNESOTA 10—Rodney Hampton's 2 third-quarter touchdown runs erased a 7-point halftime deficit and lifted the Giants to the victory. Freezing temperatures and blustery winds limited the effectiveness of each team's offense, so much so that all the points in the game were scored by the team that had the wind at its back. New York, trailing 10-3, had such conditions in the third quarter when it rallied to win. The Giants tied the score on their first possession of the second half, as Hampton barreled over right end for 51 yards and a touchdown just 2:54 into the third period. Shortly after that, a 21-yard punt positioned New York at Minnesota's 26-yard line, and six plays later, Hampton ran 2 yards for the game's deciding score. Primarily on the strength of Hampton, the Giants controlled the game by rushing 41 times for 176 yards and maintaining possession for 35:23 of the game's 60 minutes. Vikings quarterbacks Jim McMahon and Sean Salisbury combined to complete only 15 of 34 passes for 192 yards.

PHILADELPHIA 36, NEW ORLEANS 20—The Eagles exploded for 26 points in the fourth quarter to rally past the Saints and win a playoff game for the first time since the 1980 NFL Championship Game. New Orleans, the only NFL team that has never won a postseason game, led 20-7 until Philadelphia's Roger Ruzek kicked a 40-yard field goal late in the third quarter to trim the margin to 10 points. In the fourth period, Randall Cunningham's 35-yard touchdown pass to Fred Barnett with 10:37 remaining sparked an Eagles' scoring frenzy against the Saints, who had allowed the fewest points in the NFL during the regular season and had not permitted any opponent more than 21 points in a game all year. On the first play from scrimmage following Barnett's touchdown, Eagles linebacker Seth Joyner intercepted a Bobby Hebert pass and returned it 14 yards to the Saints' 26-yard line. That set up a 6-yard touchdown run by Heath Sherman for a 24-20 Philadelphia lead with 6:48 left in the game. Seventy-two seconds later, defensive end Reggie White sacked Hebert in the end zone to make it 26-20, and Roger Ruzek's 39-yard field goal at the 2:36 mark made it 29-20. Cornerback Eric Allen sealed the victory 19 seconds later with his second interception of the game, returning it 18 yards for a touchdown. Sherman finished with 105 yards on 21 carries, while Cunningham passed for 219 yards and 2 touchdowns, both to Barnett. Hebert completed 23 of 39 passes for 291 yards and a touchdown, but was intercepted 3 times.

WASHINGTON 24, MINNESOTA 7—Third-string running back Brian Mitchell ran for 109 yards and added 100 yards on punt returns and receptions as the Redskins, the NFC's lowest seed in the playoffs, upset the Central Division-champion Vikings. Mitchell had carried the ball only 6 times during the regular season and 18 times in his three-year NFL career, but with backup Ricky Ervins injured, he had 16 rushes in this game. The key play was his 36-yard run from Washington's 44-yard line on a fake punt late in the second quarter. Moments later, he scored on an 8-yard run to increase the Redskins' lead to 17-7 at intermission. Minnesota took the game's opening kickoff and marched 79 yards to a touchdown. Terry Allen's 1-yard run, but then managed only 69 total yards the rest of the way. Quarterback Sean Salisbury completed 42- and 14-yard passes to Cris Carter to key the first drive, but finished only 6 of 20

ATLANTA 27, NEW ORLEANS 20—Michael Haynes turned a short reception into a 61-yard touchdown to provide the decisive points in the Falcons' win over the Saints. Haynes, who had 6 catches for 144 yards, had given Atlanta its first lead at 17-13 with a 20-yard scoring catch in the third quarter. After the Saints regained the lead on a 1-yard touchdown run by Dalton Hilliard, Chris Miller led the Falcons to a tying field goal and winning touchdown in the final quarter. Miller completed 18 of 30 passes for 291 yards and 3 scores.

NEW YORK GIANTS 17, SAN FRANCISCO 3—A balanced offense and a ferocious defense combined to lift the Giants over the 49ers. Terry Kinard's interception set up the game's first touchdown on an 18-yard pass from Phil Simms to Mark Bavaro. Simms's 3-yard touchdown pass to Don Hasselbeck in the third quarter concluded the scoring. New York's offense rushed for 174 yards and passed for 181, while its defense recorded 4 sacks and did not allow a touchdown.

SAN DIEGO 28, INDIANAPOLIS 24—Billy Volek scored on a quarterback sneak with 4:50 remaining, and the Chargers' defense made 2 fourth-down stops in the final 2:01 to advance to the AFC Championship Game for the first time in 13 years. The Colts outgained the Chargers 446-411 in total yards, but committed 3 turnovers compared to San Diego's 1 miscue. The Colts scored on their first possession, and drove to the Chargers' 22 on their next drive, but Marvin Harrison, playing his first game in 11 weeks after recovering from a knee injury, fumbled at the Chargers' 22 and Marlon McCree recovered. Philip Rivers completed 2 key third-down passes on the ensuing drive, capped by Vincent Jackson's 14-yard touchdown on third-and-8, to tie the game. LaDainian Tomlinson injured his knee on the play prior to Jackson's scoring catch, and did not return. Trailing 10-7, Antonio Cromartie intercepted Peyton Manning's pass on the final play of the half, and weaved his way 89 yards into the end zone, but a holding penalty nullified the return. Undaunted, the Chargers opened the second half with an 83-yard touchdown drive, capped by Rivers' perfect pass to Chris Chambers, between two defenders in the end zone, for a 30-yard touchdown. The Colts drove to the Chargers' 4, but Eric Weddle intercepted Manning's pass to thwart the drive. On their next possession, the Colts took a 17-14 lead on Manning's 9-yard touchdown pass to Reggie Wayne, who clipped the right front pylon while diving for the goal line. On the ensuing possession, faced with third-and-14, Rivers connected on a 22-yard pass to Chambers. Two plays later, on the final play of the third quarter, Rivers dumped a screen pass to Darren Sproles, who broke free down the left sideline for a 56-yard touchdown and 21-17 lead. Rivers injured his knee on the play, and did not return. After an exchange of punts, faced with third-and-9, Manning completed a 55-yard touchdown pass to Anthony Gonzalez for a 24-21 lead with 10:07 remaining. Volek completed 3 of 4 passes on the next drive, including a 27-yard dump pass to Legedu Naanee, to set up Volek's 1-yard sneak with 4:50 to play. The Colts used Manning's 16-yard pass to Dallas Clark on fourth-and-5 to reach the Chargers' 9 with 2:51 remaining. Joseph Addai gained 2 yards, but then Manning fired three consecutive incomplete passes, the last with 2:01 to play. The Colts' defense forced a punt with 1:30 to play, and Mike Scifres boomed the punt 66 yards. T.J. Rushing's 12-yard return gave Manning the ball at his own 32. After a 5-yard pass to Addai, Manning again threw three straight incompletions, the last over Clark's head with 58 seconds left. Rivers was 14 of 19 for 264 yards and 3 touchdowns, with 1 interception. Volek was 3 of 4 for 48 yards. Manning was 33 of 48 for 402 yards and 3 touchdowns, with 2 interceptions.

NEW ENGLAND 31, JACKSONVILLE 20—Tom Brady completed a postseason-record 92.9 percent of his passes as the Patriots advanced to the AFC Championship Game for the fifth time in seven seasons. The victory also allowed the Patriots to match the 1972 Dolphins as the only teams to win their first 17 games of a season. The Jaguars began the game with an 80-yard touchdown drive, but New England answered with touchdowns on their first two possessions. The latter was set up by David Garrard's fumble, forced by Ty Warren and recovered by Mike Vrabel at the Jaguars' 29. The Jaguars responded with a 95-yard touchdown drive to tie the game. New England had a chance to score before halftime, but Stephen Gostkowski missed a 35-yard field-goal attempt. Brady completed his first 16 passes until an incompletion to Ben Watson with 10:27 left in the third quarter. However, Brady completed 2 third-down passes on that possession, capped by Wes Welker's 6-yard touchdown catch to cap an 82-yard drive for a 21-14 lead. The Jaguars answered with a field goal, but Brady then completed all 4 pass attempts on the ensuing 76-yard drive, capped by Watson's 9-yard touchdown catch with 49 seconds left in the third quarter for a 28-17 lead. The Jaguars added Josh Scobee's second field goal of the half to pull within 28-20, but Brady then completed a 53-yard pass to Donte Stallworth to set up Gostkowski's 35-yard field goal with 6:39 remaining for a 31-20 lead. Rodney Harrison intercepted a pass with 4:08 left, and Brady's final completion, an 8-yard pass to Stallworth on third-and-7, helped run out the clock until just 21 seconds remained. Harrison tied an NFL record with his fourth consecutive postseason game with an interception. Brady was 26 of 28 for 262 yards and 3 touchdowns. Laurence Maroney carried 22 times for 122 yards. Garrard was 22 of 33 for 278 yards and 2 touchdowns, with 1 interception.

NEW ENGLAND 24, SAN DIEGO 21—Stephen Gostkowski's 31-yard field goal with 1:10 remaining, and three key plays in the final seven minutes by Reche Caldwell, lifted the Patriots to an improbable victory. Michael Turner's 6-yard touchdown run with 2:04 left in the first half, which was set up by Philip Rivers' 58-yard pass to LaDainian Tomlinson on the previous play, gave the Chargers a 14-3 lead. At that point, the Chargers had outgained the Patriots 198-62, but the Patriots drove 72 yards in 11 plays in 1:56, capped by Tom Brady's 6-yard touchdown pass to Jabar Gaffney, to pull within 14-10 with eight seconds left in the half. Eric Parker's muffed punt, recovered by David Thomas, set up Gostkowski's second field goal to pull the Patriots' within 14-13. Rivers' 31-yard pass to Vincent Jackson set up Tomlinson's 3-yard run for a 21-13 lead with 8:35 to play. On fourth-and-5 from the Chargers' 41 with 6:16 to play, Marlon McCree intercepted Brady's pass. Troy Brown immediately ripped the ball from McCree, and Caldwell recovered the fumble at the Chargers' 32. Five plays later, Caldwell caught a 4-yard touchdown pass from Brady, and Kevin Faulk ran up the middle for the 2-point conversion, to tie the game with 4:36 remaining. The Patriots' defense forced a three-and-out and on third-and-10 Brady connected deep down the right sideline to Caldwell for a 49-yard pass play to set up Gostkowski's go-ahead field goal. The Chargers had a chance to tie, but Nate Kaeding's 54-yard field-goal attempt fell short. Brady was 27 of 51 for 280 yards and 2 touchdowns, with 3 interceptions. Gaffney had 10 catches for 103 yards. Rivers was 14 of 32 for 230 yards, with 1 interception. Tomlinson carried 23 times for 123 yards.

INDIANAPOLIS 15, BALTIMORE 6—Adam Vinatieri kicked 5 field goals and the Colts' defense forced 4 turnovers as Indianapolis advanced to the AFC title game. The Colts kicked field goals on their first two possessions, the latter set up by Gary Brackett's recovery of Todd Heap's fumble, to take a 6-0 lead. Trailing 6-3 in the second quarter, Ed Reed intercepted a pass and the Ravens drove to the Colts' 4. On third-and-goal, Alvin Bethea intercepted Steve McNair's pass to thwart the rally. The Colts converted two third downs on the ensuing 65-yard drive, capped by Vinatieri's 51-yard field goal, which hit the crossbar and bounced over, for a 9-3 halftime lead. Trailing 12-3 early in the fourth quarter, Matt Stover kicked a 51-yard field goal, and three plays later Reed intercepted a pass at the Ravens' 39. But six plays later, Nick Harper intercepted McNair's pass at the Colts' 23. With 7:39 to play, the Colts began a drive on their own 36-yard line. Dominic Rhodes carried 11 times on the 13-play drive, which had 3 third-down conversions, and was capped by Vinatieri's 35-yard field goal with 23 seconds to play. Manning was 15 of 30 for 170 yards, with 2 interceptions. McNair was 18 of 29 for 173 yards, with 2 interceptions.

PITTSBURGH 21, INDIANAPOLIS 18—Mike Vanderjagt missed a 46-yard field goal with 17 seconds left to cap a wild finish and send the Steelers to their sixth AFC Championship Game in Bill Cowher's 14 seasons as head coach. The Steelers became the first sixth-seed to reach a conference championship game. The Steelers opened the game with a 10-play, 84-yard touchdown drive, and two possessions later drove 72 yards to take a 14-0 lead less than 12 minutes into the game. The Colts had a 15-play, 96-yard drive that consumed 9:39 off the clock, but were forced to settle for Vanderjagt's 20-yard field goal with 1:20 left in the second quarter to pull within 14-3. Antwaan Randle El's 20-yard punt return set up Jerome Bettis' 1-yard touchdown run with 1:26 left in the third quarter for a 21-3 lead. On the final play of the third quarter, Peyton Manning completed a 13-yard pass to Brandon Stokley on fourth-and-2 to keep alive the drive and set up his 50-yard scoring pass to Dallas Clark. The Steelers responded by barely converting 2 fourth-and-1 situations before punting with 6:03 to play. Troy Polamalu nearly intercepted a pass near midfield with 5:33 left, but the Colts maintained possession and Edgerrin James scored four plays later to pull within 21-16. Reggie Wayne caught the 2-point conversion pass in the back left corner of the end zone to cut the deficit to 21-18 with 4:24 remaining. The Colts' defense forced a three-and-out, but on fourth-and-16 Joey Porter and James Farrior sacked Manning at the Colts' 2 with 1:20 to play. Since the Colts had all 3 timeouts, the Steelers could not kneel on the ball. On the first play, Gary Brackett forced Bettis to fumble. Nick Harper scooped up the ball and returned it 35 yards to the Colts' 42, where Ben Roethlisberger made a touchdown-saving tackle. The Colts drove to the Steelers' 28, but Manning's passes on second- and third-and-2 fell incomplete. Vanderjagt's 46-yard attempt sailed wide right. Roethlisberger was 14 of 24 for 197 yards and 2 touchdowns, with 1 interception. Manning was 22 of 38 for 290 yards and 1 touchdown.

DENVER 27, NEW ENGLAND 13—Denver's defense forced 5 turnovers that led to 24 points as the Patriots had their NFL-record 10-game postseason winning streak snapped. The Patriots outgained the Broncos 420-286 in total yards, but committed 5 turnovers. The Patriots led 3-0 and had the ball with 2:00 left in the second quarter, but Courtney Brown forced Kevin Faulk to fumble. Ian Gold recovered at the Patriots' 40. On the next play, a 39-yard pass interference penalty set up Mike Anderson's 1-yard run. On the ensuing kickoff, kicker Todd Sauerbrun forced Ellis Hobbs to fumble and Cecil Sapp emerged from the pile with the ball. Three plays later, Jason Elam kicked a 50-yard field goal for a 10-3 halftime lead. Adam Vinatieri capped the Patriots' first drive of the second half with a field goal, and New England drove to the Broncos' 5 on their next possession. On third-and-goal, Champ Bailey intercepted Tom Brady's pass and returned it 100 yards to the Patriots' 1, where Ben Watson forced him to fumble the ball out of bounds. It was the longest non-scoring play in postseason history, and Anderson scored on the next snap for a 17-6 lead. New England drove to the Broncos' 25, but Vinatieri missed a 43-yard attempt wide right. The Patriots then forced a punt, but Troy Brown muffed it and Mike Leach recovered at the Patriots' 15. Three plays later, Rod Smith caught a 4-yard touchdown pass from Jake Plummer for a 24-6 lead with 8:38 remaining. Deion Branch's 73-yard catch was followed by David Givens' 4-yard touchdown with 8:05 to play, but Elam kicked a 34-yard field goal with 3:20 remaining, and John Lynch intercepted Brady's long pass with 2:56 to play to clinch the victory. Plummer was 15 of 26 for 197 yards and 1 touchdown, with 1 interception. Brady was 20 of 36 for 341 yards and 1 touchdown, with 2 interceptions. Branch had 8 receptions for 153 yards.

NEW ENGLAND 20, INDIANAPOLIS 3—The Patriots' defense permitted just 276 yards and forced 3 turnovers as New England held the NFL's highest-scoring offense without a touchdown in a game played in sleet and a 16-degree wind chill. The Patriots held possession for 37:43, including 21:26 in the second half. The Colts had just 2 first downs when Adam Vinatieri's second second-quarter field goal gave the Patriots a 6-0 lead. The Colts drove 67 yards in the final 1:52 of the half. With two seconds remaining, Eugene Wilson knocked down Peyton Manning's pass in the end zone for an incompleteness, forcing the Colts to settle for Mike Vanderjagt's 23-yard field goal. After an exchange of punts to begin the second half, the Patriots used 8:16 to drive 87 yards in 15 plays, 11 on the ground, and capped by David Givens' 5-yard touchdown catch for a 13-3 lead with 1:30 left in the third quarter. Five plays later, the Colts punted and the Patriots drove 94 yards in 14 plays, with 7:50 elapsing off the clock. Corey Dillon's 27-yard run to the Patriots' 1 set up Tom Brady's 1-yard sneak for a 20-3 lead with 7:10 to play. Rodney Harrison intercepted Manning's pass in the end zone with four seconds left to preserve the 17-point margin of victory. Brady was 18 of 27 for 144 yards and 1 touchdown. Dillon rushed 23 times for 144 yards. Manning was 27 of 42 for 238 yards, with 1 interception.

PITTSBURGH 20, NEW YORK JETS 17 (OT)—Jeff Reed kicked a 33-yard field goal in overtime as the Steelers survived two missed field goals by the Jets in regulation to advance to the fifth AFC Championship Game in Bill Cowher's 13-year tenure. Two plays after Reed's 45-yard first-quarter field goal, Troy Polamalu intercepted Chad Pennington's pass and returned it 14 yards to the Jets' 25. Jerome Bettis scored five plays later for a 10-0 lead. Trailing 10-3, Santana Moss fielded a punt and returned it 75 yards down the left sideline for a touchdown with 3:00 left in the half to tie the game. The Steelers drove to the Jets' 33 late in the third quarter when Reggie Tongue intercepted Ben Roethlisberger's pass and returned it 86 yards for a touchdown and 17-10 lead. The Steelers drove to the Jets' 22, but Bettis fumbled and Erik Coleman recovered. The Steelers forced a three-and-out, and the offense converted 3 third-down situations, including 2 passes by Roethlisberger, to set up his 4-yard touchdown pass to Hines Ward to tie the game with 6:00 left. The Jets drove to the Steelers' 28 with 1:58 left, but Doug Brien's 47-yard field goal hit the upright. On the next play, David Barrett intercepted Roethlisberger's pass at the Steelers' 37, but Brien's 43-yard field-goal attempt went wide left as time expired. In overtime, the Jets won the toss but were forced to punt. Roethlisberger completed a 17-yard pass to Ward on third-and-6, and Verron Haynes gained 8 yards on third-and-4 to keep the drive alive and set up Reed's winning kick 11:04 into overtime. Roethlisberger was 17 of 30 for 181 yards and 1 touchdown, with 2 interceptions, and became just the fourth rookie since 1970 to win his first postseason start. Bettis rushed 27 times for 101 yards, and Ward added 10 catches for 105 yards. Pennington was 21 of 33 for 182 yards, with 1 interception.

INDIANAPOLIS 38, KANSAS CITY 31—Peyton Manning passed for 304 yards and 3 touchdowns, and Edgerrin James rushed for 125 yards and 2 scores, as the Colts advanced to their first AFC Championship Game since 1995. The teams combined for 842 yards, 434 by the Colts, and it was the first postseason game in history without a punt. The Colts scored on six of their first seven possessions, with the lone non-scoring drive coming on a three-play series in their own territory as the half expired. The Colts' five touchdown drives were 70, 76, 71, 64, and 76 yards. The Chiefs attempted to keep pace, scoring on five of their first seven possessions. But Morten Andersen missed a 31-yard field goal just before halftime, allowing the Colts to maintain a 21-10 lead, and Kansas City fumbled two plays into the second half, with David Macklin recovering Priest Holmes' fumble at the Colts' 22 at the end of a 48-yard run. Holmes' 1-yard scoring run with 4:22 left cut the deficit to 38-31, but the Colts got two first downs on their ensuing possession, and by the time the Chiefs stopped the Colts on downs, Kansas City was at its own 27 with eight seconds left. Trent Green completed a screen pass to Holmes, who was tackled immediately by Gary Brackett to clinch the victory. Manning was 22 of 30 for 304 yards and 3 touchdowns. James rushed 26 times for 125 yards and 2 touchdowns. Green was 18 of 30 for 212 yards and 1 touchdown. Holmes rushed 24 times for 176 yards.

NEW ENGLAND 17, TENNESSEE 14—Adam Vinatieri's 46-yard field goal with 4:06 remaining lifted the Patriots past the Titans in four-degree weather. Tom Brady's 41-yard touchdown pass to Bethel Johnson on the Patriots' sixth offensive play staked New England to a 7-0 lead. The Titans needed just six plays to answer, as Chris Brown scored from 5 yards to tie the game. Vinatieri missed a 44-yard field goal on the Patriots' next possession, but Rodney Harrison intercepted a pass by Steve McNair on the next play to set up Antowain Smith's 1-yard touchdown run. The Titans reached the Patriots' 13 just before halftime, but Richard Seymour blocked Gary Anderson's 31-yard field-goal attempt. Tennessee had success moving the ball on its first possession of the second half, too, driving 11 plays and 70 yards, highlighted by third-down conversion passes to Tyrone Calico and Justin McCareins, to set up McNair's game-tying 11-yard scoring pass to Derrick Mason with 4:14 left in the third quarter. A 32-yard punt by Craig Henrich and 9-yard return by Troy Brown gave New England the ball at the Titans' 40 with 6:40 remaining. Brady completed a 4-yard pass to Brown on fourth-and-3 with 5:14 left and Vinatieri's 46-yard field goal three plays later gave the Patriots a 17-14 lead. McNair's fourth-and-12 desperation heave intended for Drew Bennett fell incomplete with 1:45 remaining, and New England ran out the clock. Brady was 21 of 41 for 201 yards and 1 touchdown, as he completed passes to 10 different receivers. McNair was 18 of 26 for 210 yards and 1 touchdown, with 1 interception.

OAKLAND 30, NEW YORK JETS 10—Rich Gannon passed for 2 touchdowns and the Raiders' defense forced 4 turnovers as top-seeded Oakland advanced to the AFC Championship Game. Both teams opened with drives that resulted in field goals. Travian Smith gave the Raiders the game's first break when he sacked Chad Pennington, forced him to fumble, and recovered the ball at the Jets' 27 late in the first quarter. Zack Crockett scored six plays later to give Oakland a 10-3 lead. The Jets tied the game in the half's final minute, capping a 16-play, 81-yard drive with Pennington's 1-yard touchdown pass to Jerald Sowell. The Raiders opened up the offense in the second half for Gannon, who had passed for just 94 yards in the first half. Tory James' interception midway through the third quarter was followed two plays later by Gannon's 29-yard touchdown pass to Jerry Porter. The Jets drove to the Raiders' 35 on the next possession, but Pennington's fourth-and-3 pass fell incomplete. Four plays later, Gannon found Jerry Rice for a 9-yard touchdown and a 24-10 lead with 14:15 to play. An interception and fourth-down stop led to 2 field goals by Sebastian Janikowski during the final eight minutes. Gannon was 20 of 30 for 283 yards and 2 touchdowns, with 1 interception. Porter had 6 receptions for 123 yards. Pennington was 21 of 47 for 183 yards and 1 touchdown, with 2 interceptions.

TENNESSEE 34, PITTSBURGH 31 (OT)—Joe Nedney's 26-yard field goal in overtime, after his missed 31-yard attempt on the previous play was nullified by a running into the kicker penalty, lifted the Titans to victory. Tennessee dominated the first quarter to take a 14-0 lead on a pair of drives that consumed 12:22. But Eddie George's fumble at the Titans' 8 in the second quarter set up Tommy Maddox's touchdown pass to Hines

Ward, and 2 field goals by Jeff Reed, including a 39-yard boot as the half expired, cut the deficit to 14-13. On the first play of the third quarter George fumbled again, and Amos Zereoue raced 31 yards for a touchdown on the next play to give the Steelers the lead. Steve McNair engineered scoring drives of 63 and 58 yards on the next two possessions to give Tennessee a 28-20 lead, but Ward caught a 21-yard touchdown pass and threw a 2-point conversion pass to Plaxico Burress to tie the game with 10:09 left. Deshea Townsend's interception on the next play from scrimmage led to Reed's go-ahead 40-yard field goal with 8:30 left. Nedney tied the game with a 42-yard field goal with 5:40 remaining, but his 48-yard attempt with three seconds left sailed wide right. After the Titans won the overtime coin toss, Justin McCareins caught a short pass, made Dewayne Washington miss a tackle, and raced 31 yards to the Steelers' 38. On the next play, McCareins had a 22-yard catch, his only two catches of the game, to put the Titans in field-goal range. On second-and-7 from the Steelers' 13, the Steelers called time out just before the ball was snapped and Nedney booted a 31-yard field goal. With celebratory fireworks cascading over The Coliseum, Nedney tried to regroup, but he pushed the next attempt wide right. However, Washington was flagged for running into Nedney. The 5-yard penalty was marked off, and Nedney made the game-winning 26-yard field goal 2:15 into the extra session. McNair was 27 of 44 for 338 yards and 2 touchdowns, with 2 interceptions. Frank Wycheck had 10 receptions for 123 yards. Maddox was 21 of 41 for 266 yards and 2 touchdowns, with 1 interception.

PITTSBURGH 27, BALTIMORE 10—Amos Zereoue rushed for 2 touchdowns and the Steelers' defense forced 4 turnovers, recorded 3 sacks, and permitted just 150 yards and 7 first downs en route to their fourth AFC Championship Game appearance in Bill Cowher's 10-year tenure. The Steelers played without Jerome Bettis, who had missed the season's final four games because of a groin injury, when he suffered complications from a pregame injection in his leg. Three plays into the game, Joey Porter hit Elvis Grbac as he attempted a pass downfield. Chad Scott intercepted the underthrown ball at the Ravens' 43 to set up Kris Brown's 21-yard field goal. After the Steelers' defense forced a three-and-out, Kordell Stewart completed 17- and 20-yard passes to Plaxico Burress and Hines Ward, respectively, to set up Zereoue's first touchdown with 3:49 left in the first quarter. Chris McAlister's 18-yard interception return to the Steelers' 7 late in the first quarter gave the Ravens hope, but two plays later Brent Alexander intercepted Grbac's pass in the end zone to thwart the scoring opportunity. A 27-yard punt return in the second quarter set up Zereoue's second touchdown and gave the Steelers a 17-0 lead with 5:43 left in the half. Two plays later, Terry Allen fumbled and Jason Gildon recovered, setting up Brown's second field goal of the half. The Ravens recorded their initial two first downs on the ensuing possession, capped by Matt Stover's 26-yard field goal to cut the deficit to 20-3. Jermaine Lewis' 88-yard punt return in the third quarter pulled the Ravens to within 10 points, but Stewart's 32-yard touchdown pass to Burress two plays into the fourth quarter staked the Steelers to a 27-10 lead. Alexander intercepted Grbac in the end zone for the second time, with 4:18 left, to quell the Ravens' final scoring threat. Stewart was 12 of 22 for 154 yards and 1 touchdown, with 1 interception. Grbac was 18 of 37 for 153 yards, with 3 interceptions.

NEW ENGLAND 16, OAKLAND 13 (OT)—Adam Vinatieri's 23-yard field goal in the snow in overtime capped a 13-point rally and propelled the Patriots to victory. With the game being played in a driving snowstorm, both defenses dominated early. There was only one possession in the first half inside the opponents' 30, but the Raiders made that possession count, as James Jett caught a 13-yard touchdown pass from Rich Gannon early in the second quarter for a 7-0 lead. The clubs exchanged field goals on their first possessions of the second half, and the Raiders extended the lead to 13-3 late in the third quarter on Sebastian Janikowski's second field goal, which was set up by Gannon's 22-yard pass to Jerry Rice. With the wind at their backs for the fourth quarter, the Patriots began at their 33 with 12:29 to play. Operating without a huddle, Tom Brady completed 9 consecutive passes to begin the drive, and then scored on a 6-yard quarterback draw to cut the deficit to 13-10 with 7:52 remaining. After an exchange of punts, the Raiders were faced with third-and-1 at their 44 with 2:24 remaining, but Zack Crockett was stopped for no gain. Troy Brown returned the ensuing punt 27 yards. He fumbled at the end of his return, but Larry Izzo recovered at the Patriots' 46 with 2:06 to play and no time outs. With 1:50 remaining from the Raiders' 42, Charles Woodson blitzed and hit Brady, but after a replay review the loose ball was ruled an incomplete pass. Brady's 13-yard pass to David Patten on the next play, and a 1-yard run by Brady three plays later, set up Vinatieri's game-tying 45-yard field goal with 27 seconds remaining in regulation to force overtime. Driving into the snowstorm in overtime, Brady completed all 8 of his pass attempts, including a 6-yard pass to Patten on fourth-and-4 to the Raiders' 22, to set up Vinatieri's winning kick 8:29 into overtime. Brady was 32 of 52 for 312 yards, with 1 interception. Jermaine Wiggins had 10 receptions for 68 yards, and Patten added 8 catches for 107 yards. Gannon was 17 of 31 for 159 yards and 1 touchdown.

BALTIMORE 24, TENNESSEE 10—Ray Lewis' 50-yard interception return for a touchdown midway through the fourth quarter iced the Ravens' comeback victory. The Titans drove 68 yards in 11 plays on the game's opening drive, capped by Eddie George's 2-yard touchdown run. It turned out to be the only touchdown allowed by the Ravens' defense in four 2000 postseason games. Trent Dilfer's 56-yard pass to Shannon Sharpe early in the second quarter led to Jamal Lewis' 1-yard scoring run to tie the game. After Al Del Greco's 45-yard field-goal attempt in the second quarter was blocked by Keith Washington, Chris Coleman blocked Kyle Richardson's punt deep in Ravens' territory. However, Del Greco missed a 31-yard attempt just before halftime. Coleman blocked another punt by Richardson two minutes into the second half, but the Titans had to settle for Del Greco's 21-yard field goal and a 10-7 lead. A 15-yard fair-catch interference penalty on Tennessee led to Matt Stover's game-tying field goal late in the third quarter. Early in the fourth quarter, Washington blocked another field-goal attempt by Del Greco. Anthony Mitchell caught the ball and scampered 90 yards down the right sideline for the go-ahead touchdown. Down 17-10, the Titans had the ball at their 47 with 6:55 remaining when Steve McNair's short pass bounced off George's hands to Lewis, who raced 50 yards for the game's final points. Dilfer completed 5 of 16 passes for 117 yards, and the Ravens won despite being held to 6 first downs. McNair was 24 of 46 for 176 yards, with 1 interception.

OAKLAND 27, MIAMI 0—The Raiders rushed for 140 yards on offense and forced 4 turnovers on defense to hand the Dolphins their first shutout loss in postseason history. Jeff Ogden's 45-yard punt return gave Miami an excellent scoring opportunity on its first possession. However, Tory James stepped in front of Jay Fiedler's second-down pass and returned it 90 yards for a touchdown. The Raiders added field goals by Sebastian Janikowski on their next two drives to take a 13-0 lead. On the Dolphins' ensuing possession, Charles Woodson recovered Lamar Smith's fumble to set up Rich Gannon's 6-yard touchdown pass to James Jett, which gave Oakland a 20-0 lead. Tyrone Wheatley's 2-yard touchdown run capped a 12-play, 54-yard drive on the Raiders' first possession of the second half for the game's final points. Gannon completed 12 of 18 passes for 143 yards and 1 touchdown. Fiedler was 18 of 37 for 176 yards, with 3 interceptions.

TENNESSEE 19, INDIANAPOLIS 16—Eddie George rushed for 162 yards and scored the Titans' lone touchdown as the franchise formerly known as the Houston Oilers reached its first AFC Championship Game since 1979. The Colts led 9-6 at halftime, but George's 68-yard touchdown run on the third play of the second half gave the Titans a 13-9 lead. While the Colts had to punt to conclude their first four possessions of the second half, an Al Del Greco field goal gave Tennessee a 16-6 lead, and after an instant-replay reversal ruled that Terrence Wilkins stepped out of bounds on his own 34 during an 87-yard punt return, Del Greco added a second field goal to give the Titans a 19-9 lead with 4:19 left. The Colts were stopped on downs, but George fumbled three plays later, and Mark Thomas recovered with 3:11 left. Peyton Manning scrambled 15 yards for a touchdown to cut the deficit to 19-16 with 1:51 left, but Yancey Thigpen recovered the ensuing onside kick and the Colts had no time-outs to stop the clock. Steve McNair was 13 of 24 for 112 yards. Manning was 19 of 43 for 227 yards.

JACKSONVILLE 62, MIAMI 7—The Jaguars scored 38 points in the first 17 minutes, 55 seconds en route to the highest point total in AFC postseason history. Mark Brunell's 8-yard touchdown pass to Jimmy Smith capped a game-opening 9-play, 73-yard drive. Aaron Beasley intercepted Dan Marino's pass on the Dolphins' first play, setting up Mike Hollis' 45-yard field goal with 6:19 remaining in the quarter. Two plays after a Dolphins' punt, Fred Taylor scampered 90 yards down the right sideline. On the next play from scrimmage, Tony Brackens stripped Marino, recovered the ball, and, after not being touched, was pushed into the end zone by teammates to give Jacksonville a 24-0 lead with 3:21 left in the quarter. Taylor dodged three tacklers en route to the end zone on a 39-yard screen pass on the first play of the second quarter. Corey Chamblin blocked the Dolphins' punt on the ensuing possession, and James Stewart scored three plays later to give the Jaguars a 38-0 lead before Miami had a first down. The Dolphins drove 80 yards just before halftime to get on the board, but Jacksonville, with reserve Jay Fiedler, scored on its first two possessions of the second half to take a 55-7 lead. Brunell was 5 of 9 for 105 yards and 2 touchdowns. Taylor carried 18 times for 135 yards. Marino was 11 of 25 for 95 yards and 1 touchdown, with 2 interceptions before being replaced in the third quarter by Damon Huard. The Jaguars had more first downs (21-10), total yards (520-131), registered 5 sacks, and forced 7 turnovers.

NEW YORK JETS 34, JACKSONVILLE 24—Keyshawn Johnson caught a touchdown pass, rushed for a touchdown, and intercepted a pass to seal the Jets' first post-season victory since 1986. The Jets needed just seven plays on the game's opening drive to reach the end zone, courtesy of Vinny Testaverde's 21-yard pass to Johnson, to take a 7-0 lead. A 13-play drive set up John Hall's 52-yard field goal to give the Jets a 10-0 lead, and Otis Smith's interception on the Jaguars' first play after the field goal gave the Jets the ball at their 40. Ten plays later, from the Jaguars' 22, Curtis Martin fumbled, and Chris Hudson recovered the ball. Hudson ran into Jets' territory and attempted a lateral, recovered by Johnson at the Jets' 35. The Jets then took 11 plays to march 65 yards, capped by Johnson's 10-yard reverse run to take a 17-0 lead with 33 seconds left in the half. The Jets had run 34 of the last 35 plays from scrimmage. The Jaguars got on the scoreboard, as Jimmy Smith caught Mark Brunell's 52-yard bomb as the half expired. Corwin Brown's interception in the opening minutes of the second half set up Martin's 1-yard touchdown run, but Reggie Barlow's 88-yard kickoff return led to Brunell's 3-yard touchdown pass to Keenan McCardell to cut the deficit to 24-10. Martin scored again on the next drive, but the Jaguars used Brunell's second touchdown pass to Smith to cut the lead to 31-21, and then used Wayne Chrebet's fumble to set up Mike Hollis' 37-yard field goal with 6:38 left. Donovan Darius halted the Jets' next drive with an interception in the end zone, but he stepped out and was tackled at the Jets' 1 with 2:24 left. The Jaguars failed to get a first down, and Hall iced the game with a 30-yard field goal with 24 seconds left. In the final seconds, Brunell's Hail Mary pass was picked off by Johnson, who finished with 9 receptions for 121 yards, with a touchdown, interception, and fumble recovery. Testaverde was 24 of 36 for 284 yards and 1 touchdown, with 1 interception. Martin rushed 36 times for 124 yards, while Johnson had 9 receptions for 121 yards. Brunell was 12 of 31 for 156 yards and 3 touchdowns, with 3 interceptions. Smith had 5 catches for 104 yards.

DENVER 38, MIAMI 3—Terrell Davis rushed for 199 yards and 2 touchdowns and the Broncos' defense limited Miami to just 14 rushing yards as Denver began its post-season bid to repeat as Super Bowl champions. The Broncos scored on their first three possessions, driving 92 and 66 yards in the first quarter and, following an Orlando Mare field goal, marching 87 yards to a third touchdown in the second quarter to take a 21-3 lead at halftime. Davis rushed for more yards (129) than the Dolphins had gained (119) at intermission. Davis scampered 62 yards on the first play of the second half to set up Jason Elam's field goal to give Denver a 24-3 lead. The Dolphins drove into Broncos' territory three times in the second half, but Bill Romanowski and Darius Johnson each recorded interceptions and Neil Smith recovered Oronde Gadsden's fumble and rumbled 79 yards for the game's final points. John Elway was 14 of 23 for 182 yards and 1 touchdown. Dan Marino was 26 of 37 for 243 yards, with 2 interceptions. O.J. McDuffie had 9 receptions for 118 yards.

DENVER 14, KANSAS CITY 10—Terrell Davis recovered from bruised ribs to rush for 101 yards and 2 touchdowns as the Broncos knocked the number-one seeded Chiefs out of the playoffs. The Chiefs pinned the Broncos deep in their own territory early in the second quarter when Bucky Brooks leaped over the goal line and tipped a punt back onto the field where it was downed at the 2-yard line. Tom Rouen's punt three plays later traveled just 25 yards, giving the Chiefs excellent field position at the Broncos' 30. However, Pete Stoyanovich, who missed just one field goal all season, sailed his 44-yard attempt wide left. The Broncos proceeded to march 65 yards, with Davis' first touchdown with 1:56 left in the half giving Denver a 7-0 lead. Elvis Grbac threw a 34-yard pass to Andre Rison on the first play of the second half to set up Stoyanovich's 20-yard field goal. The Broncos used a 41-yard run by Davis to get deep into Chiefs territory, but John Browning forced Derek Loville to fumble and Reggie Tongue recovered at the Chiefs' 11 to thwart the drive. After an exchange of punts, Grbac connected with Joe Horn on a 50-yard pass and, three plays later, found Tony Gonzalez in the end zone for a touchdown to give the Chiefs a 10-7 lead with 10 seconds left in the third quarter. Loville returned the ensuing kickoff 20 yards, and an unnecessary roughness penalty on Danan Hughes gave the Broncos the ball at the Chiefs' 49. On third-and-5, John Elway threw a short pass to Ed McCaffrey, who tightroped his way 43 yards to the Chiefs' 1. Davis scored three plays later to give Denver a 14-10 advantage with 12:32 left. The Chiefs drove to the Broncos' 37 where they faced fourth-and-6. Kansas City lined up in field-goal formation, but holder Louie Aguiar ran with the ball and was tackled by Gordon three yards shy of the first down. A couple of punts later, the Chiefs began their final drive at their own 17 with 4:04 remaining. Faced with fourth-and-9 from the 47, Grbac hit Lake Dawson with a 12-yard pass and, after getting sacked, connected on a 23-yard pass to Rison to get the Chiefs to the Broncos' 28 with 1:51 left, where they used their final timeout. Grbac netted 1-, 3-, and 4-yard passes to Kimble Anders, Gonzalez, and Ted Popson before Gordon batted down Grbac's final pass attempt in the end zone on fourth-and-2 with 19 seconds left to seal the victory. Elway was 10 of 19 for 170 yards.

PITTSBURGH 7, NEW ENGLAND 6—Chad Scott intercepted Drew Bledsoe's long pass intended for Terry Glenn on the game's third play, returning it 27 yards to the Steelers' 38. On second-and-10 from the Patriots' 40, Kordell Stewart ran the option left and tightroped 40 yards down the sideline for a touchdown. The Patriots strung together a 10-play, 65-yard drive that culminated with Vinatieri's 31-yard field goal in the middle of the second quarter to cut the deficit to 7-3. After a third quarter that saw neither team drive within the opponents' 40, Vinatieri's second field goal with 12:16 left made it a one-point game. The Steelers reached the Patriots' 1 on fourth down with 3:29 left, but Stewart was stopped at the line of scrimmage. The Patriots reached their own 42-yard line, but Mark Vrabel sacked Bledsoe with 1:50 left, and Jason Gildon recovered the ensuing fumble. The Steelers were forced to punt, but Bledsoe's desperation pass was intercepted by Levon Kirkland at the Steelers' 20 to end the game. Stewart was 14 of 31 for 134 yards, with 1 interception. Bledsoe was 23 of 44 for 264 yards, with 2 interceptions. Shawn Jefferson had 9 receptions for 104 yards. The Steelers had 1 more first down, and the Patriots gained 1 more yard, but the Steelers had an 11:14 edge in time of possession because of Stewart (68 yards) and Jerome Bettis (67 yards), and forced 4 turnovers.

NEW ENGLAND 28, PITTSBURGH 3—Curtis Martin scored three touchdowns and New England's defense stifled Pittsburgh as the Patriots routed the Steelers in the fog in Foxboro. The Patriots broke Pittsburgh's back on their first play from scrimmage as Terry Glenn beat Rod Woodson and, despite heavy fog, caught a 53-yard bomb from Drew Bledsoe. Martin scored on the next play to start the rout. The Patriots next drive lasted 1:59, finishing with Keith Byars' 34-yard touchdown off a screen pass. Martin then raced 78 yards up the right sideline to stake New England to a 21-0 second-quarter lead. The Steelers were forced to punt after each of their first seven possessions. Chad Brown's interception in Patriots' territory set up Norm Johnson's field goal. Martin capped his 166-yard rushing day by scoring on a 23-yard jaunt. Pittsburgh shuffled quarterbacks throughout the game, with Mike Tomczak completing 16 of 29 pass attempts for 110 yards and 2 interceptions, while Kordell Stewart finished a dreadful 0 for 10. Jerome Bettis, hampered by a groin injury, gained just 43 yards.

JACKSONVILLE 30, DENVER 27—Mark Brunell passed for 245 yards and 2 touchdowns to lead the Jaguars to their second consecutive post-season victory. The Broncos, who finished the season 8-0 at home and had home-field advantage throughout the playoffs, blew a 12-0 lead. After Vaughn Hebronn's short run began the scoring, Clyde Simmons blocked the extra-point attempt. The Broncos failed to convert the 2-point conversion following Shannon Sharpe's touchdown catch late in the first quarter. The Jaguars responded by scoring on their next six possessions. Natrone Means, who carried the ball 21 times for 140 yards, pulled the Jaguars within two points before Mike Hollis' 42-yard field goal with 10 seconds left in the half put Jacksonville ahead 13-12. Brunell, rolling to his left, lofted a perfectly placed 31-yard touchdown pass to Keenan McCardell in the left corner of the end zone to put the Jaguars ahead 20-12. Jacksonville took 8 minutes, 32 seconds off the clock with its next possession, ending with Hollis' third field goal. The 17-play drive was kept alive when Michael Dean Perry failed to hustle off the field when the Jaguars were punting in a fourth-and-5 situation. Denver got the ball back with less than 11 minutes remaining, and Terrell Davis scored and tallied a 2-point conversion, to cut the deficit to 23-20. Jacksonville calmly marched down field, and Jimmy Smith caught a 16-yard touchdown pass on third-and-5 to put Jacksonville ahead by 10 points with 3:39 remaining. John Elway quickly led the Broncos to another touchdown, with Ed McCaffrey doing the honors with 1:50 left. However Le'Shai Maston recovered the onside kick and the Jaguars ended the Broncos postseason home-winning streak at 6 games. Neither team committed a turnover.

INDIANAPOLIS 10, KANSAS CITY 7—Cary Blanchard broke a 7-7 tie with a 30-yard field goal late in the third quarter, and the Colts held on to stun the Chiefs. Kansas City, which had compiled the NFL's best record during the regular season by winning 13 of 16 games, had a chance to tie the game in the final minute, but Lin Elliott's 42-yard field-goal try with 37 seconds left was wide left. Elliott also missed a 35-yard attempt in the first half and a 39-yard try early in the fourth quarter. Indianapolis, which won on the road for the second consecutive week, relied on a ground game that produced 147 yards and a stingy defense that forced 4 turnovers and shut out the Chiefs after the first quarter. Kansas City quarterback Steve Bono completed only 11 of 25 passes for 122 yards and was intercepted 3 times before being lifted in favor of backup Rich Gannon late in the fourth quarter. Colts quarterback Jim Harbaugh did not fare any better, completing only 12 of 27 passes for 112 yards, but tied the game with a 5-yard touchdown pass to Floyd Turner midway through the second quarter and scrambled for 48 yards. The Chiefs' Marcus Allen led all rushers with 94 yards on 21 carries.

PITTSBURGH 40, BUFFALO 21—Neil O'Donnell passed for 262 yards and Byron (Bam) Morris ran for 2 game-clinching touchdowns in the fourth quarter as the Steelers advanced to the AFC Championship Game for the second consecutive year. O'Donnell completed 19 of 35 passes, including a 10-yard touchdown to Ernie Mills to give Pittsburgh a 14-0 lead 42 seconds into the second quarter. Norm Johnson added 3 field goals before halftime and another 6:36 into the second half to increase the Steelers' advantage to 26-7. After the Bills pulled within 26-21 on Jim Kelly's 9-yard touchdown pass to running back Thurman Thomas with 11:23 left in the game, Pittsburgh answered with a 9-play, 76-yard drive capped by Morris' 13-yard touchdown run with 6:16 to go. Moments later, linebacker Levon Kirkland's interception and 4-yard return set up Morris' 2-yard touchdown run at the 1:58 mark. Morris finished with 106 yards on 25 carries, helping the Steelers' balanced offense produce 409 total yards. Buffalo, which had amassed a record 341 rushing yards and more than 500 total yards in its victory over the Dolphins a week earlier, managed only 94 rushing yards and 250 total yards in this one. Quarterback Jim Kelly completed only 14 of 29 passes for 135 yards and was intercepted 3 times. Buffalo played without defensive end Bruce Smith, who missed the game because of the flu.

PITTSBURGH 29, CLEVELAND 9—The Steelers scored on their first three possessions to open a 17-0 lead and went on to defeat the Browns for the third time this season. Pittsburgh dominated the first playoff meeting ever between these long-time rivals (they've played each other twice a year in the regular season since 1950), rushing for 238 yards while amassing 424 total yards and maintaining possession for 42:37 of the game's 60 minutes. Barry Foster ran for 133 yards on 24 carries, and rookie Byron (Bam) Morris added 60 yards on 22 attempts. Neil O'Donnell was efficient, completing 8 of his first 9 passes and finishing with 16 completions in 23 attempts for 186 yards. He threw a 2-yard touchdown pass to tight end Eric Green early in the second quarter and put the game out of reach with a 9-yard touchdown pass to Yancey Thigpen for a 24-3 lead just 16 seconds before halftime. That touchdown was set up by Tim McKyer's interception and 21-yard return to Cleveland's 6-yard line. It was 1 of 2 interceptions (safety Darren Perry had the other) of Vinny Testaverde, who was 13 of 31 for 144 yards. Testaverde received little help from Cleveland's running game, which managed only 55 yards. Ernie Mills caught 5 passes for 117 yards for the Steelers.

SAN DIEGO 22, MIAMI 21—Stan Humphries threw an 8-yard touchdown pass to Mark Seay with 35 seconds remaining, and the Chargers held on to win when Pete Stoyanovich's 48-yard field-goal try fell short and wide right with one second to play. To qualify for the AFC Championship Game for the first time since 1981, San Diego had to rally from a 21-6 half-time deficit. After having 2 drives stall inside Miami's 5-yard line in the first half, the Chargers opened the third quarter by marching 71 yards to the Dolphins' 1-yard line, only to be turned away on fourth down. But on the next play, defensive tackle Reuben Davis dropped Miami running back Bernie Parmalee in the end zone for a safety. San Diego took the ensuing free kick and marched 54 yards to a touchdown, pulling within 21-15 on Natrone Means' 24-yard run with 2:42 left in the third quarter. Late in the fourth quarter, Humphries drove his team from its own 39-yard line to the go-ahead touchdown. The Dolphins got one more chance when Chargers safety Eric Castle was whistled for a 32-yard pass interference penalty, but the snap was high on the strong-legged Stoyanovich's errant field-goal attempt. Humphries completed 28 of 43 passes for 276 yards, while Means rushed for 139 yards on 24 attempts for the Chargers. Miami quarterback Dan Marino was 24 of 38 for 262 yards and 2 touchdowns. But only 56 yards came after halftime, when the Dolphins were limited to five plays in the third quarter and 11 in the fourth quarter. Miami tight end Keith Jackson caught 8 passes for 109 yards and 2 touchdowns.

BUFFALO 29, L.A. RAIDERS 23—Jim Kelly threw 2 second-half touchdown passes to Bill Brooks and the Bills overcame an 11-point deficit to advance to the AFC Championship Game for the fifth time in six years. Napoleon McCallum scored on a pair of 1-yard touchdown runs for the Raiders, the second of which gave Los Angeles a 17-6 advantage with 1:57 remaining in the first half. But Buffalo took only 67 seconds to march 76 yards and trim the deficit to 4 points at intermission. A 37-yard pass interference penalty preceded Thurman Thomas' 8-yard touchdown run with 50 seconds remaining in the second quarter. That set up a flurry of activity that saw the lead change three times in a span of 6:18 late in the third and early in the fourth quarters. Kelly gave the Bills a 19-17 edge with a 25-yard touchdown pass to Brooks with 3:23 left in the third period. Moments later, Buffalo safety Henry Jones recovered McCallum's fumble on the Raiders' 30-yard line, setting up Steve Christie's 29-yard field goal 59 seconds before the end of the quarter. Two plays after that, Raiders wide receiver Tim Brown took a short pass from a scrambling Jeff Hostetler and turned it into an 86-yard touchdown that put Los Angeles back on top 23-22. But the Bills responded by driving 71 yards to Kelly's 22-yard touchdown pass to Brooks 2:55 into the fourth quarter. That held up for the winning points as Buffalo's defense shut down the Raiders. After gaining 14 first downs in the first half, Los Angeles managed only 1 in the second half, that coming on the long touchdown pass. Kelly completed 27 of 37 passes for 287 yards for the Bills, while Brooks caught 6 passes for 96 yards. Hostetler was 14 of 20 for 230 yards for the Raiders. The game was played in frigid conditions. Temperature at kickoff was zero degrees, with the wind-chill at minus-32.

KANSAS CITY 28, HOUSTON 20—Joe Montana threw 3 second-half touchdown passes, including 2 just 54 seconds apart in the fourth quarter, to rally the Chiefs past the Oilers. Houston, which entered the game with an 11-game winning streak, jumped out to a 10-0 lead in the opening quarter and still led 13-7 after Al Del Greco's 43-yard field goal with 9:37 remaining in the fourth quarter. But Kansas City marched 71 yards in only 59 seconds, the key play a 38-yard pass interference penalty against Oilers cornerback Cris Dishman, to take the lead for the first time on Montana's 11-yard touchdown pass to J.J. Birden. On the next play from scrimmage, Chiefs linebacker Derrick Thomas sacked Houston quarterback Warren Moon, forcing a fumble that defensive tackle Dan Saleaumua recovered at the Oilers' 12-yard line. On third down, Montana's 18-yard touchdown pass to Willie Davis put Kansas City ahead 21-13 with 7:44 left. Houston drove 80 yards to a touchdown to pull within 1 point with 3:45 to go, but Marcus Allen's 21-yard touchdown run at the 1:55 mark sealed the Oilers' fate. The key play on the Chiefs' 79-yard march came on third-and-1 from Kansas City's 30-yard line. Montana's arm was hit as he threw, but his wobbly pass was caught by tight end Keith Cash, who rumbled 41 yards to Houston's 29. Cash also had a 7-yard touchdown reception in the third quarter. Montana finished with 22 completions in 38 attempts for 299 yards. Allen rushed for 74 yards on only 14 carries. Moon completed 32 of 43 passes for 306 yards for the Oilers. But without the benefit of an effective rushing attack (Houston ran for only 39 yards), he was under pressure all afternoon and was sacked 9 times. Thomas, Joe Phillips, Albert Lewis, and Bennie Thompson each had 2 sacks for the Chiefs, who equaled the NFL record for sacks in a postseason game.

BUFFALO 24, PITTSBURGH 3—Frank Reich passed for 2 touchdowns to lead the Bills to a methodical victory over the Steelers. Reich, playing for injured starter Jim Kelly, completed 16 of 23 passes for 160 yards and was not intercepted, while running back Kenneth Davis added 104 yards on the ground. Pittsburgh, which led the NFL with 43 takeaways during the regular season, did not register any in this game while turning the ball over 4 times. Trailing 3-0 in second quarter, Buffalo drove 59 yards to a touchdown after defensive end Phil Hansen recovered O'Donnell's fumble at the Bills' 41-yard line. Reich's 1-yard touchdown pass to tackle-eligible Mitch Frerotte capped that drive and gave Buffalo the lead for good. Reich's 17-yard touchdown pass to James Lofton 11 minutes into the second half gave the Bills all the cushion they would need. O'Donnell, who missed the last three games of the regular season, was rusty in his return, completing 15 of 29 passes for 163 yards, with 2 interceptions. Steelers running back Barry Foster gained 104 yards on 20 carries.

MIAMI 31, SAN DIEGO 0—Dan Marino threw 3 first-half touchdown passes, including 2 just 79 seconds apart late in the second quarter to break open a close game with the Chargers. Cornerback Troy Vincent's interception and 2-yard return to San Diego's 48-yard line set up Miami's first touchdown, a 1-yard pass from Marino to running back Tony Paige 6:30 before halftime. Minutes later, Vincent intercepted another pass, and it took Marino only two plays to put the Dolphins in the end zone again, this time on his 9-yard strike to tight end Keith Jackson with 1:46 left in the half. Chargers quarterback Stan Humphries then was intercepted for the third time in the second quarter, this time by linebacker Bryan Cox, who picked off Humphries pass and returned it seven yards to the San Diego 42. Marino's 30-yard touchdown pass to Jackson with 27 seconds to go in the half put the game out of reach. Miami controlled the ball on the ground for most of the second half, with Aaron Craver adding a 25-yard touchdown run in the fourth quarter. Craver finished with 72 rushing yards, while Bobby Humphrey had 71. San Diego managed only 10 first downs and 202 total yards, and Humphries suffered 4 interceptions. The Chargers entered the game with victories in each of their last eight games and 12 of their last 13.

DENVER 26, HOUSTON 24—David Treadwell's 28-yard field goal with 16 seconds remaining lifted the Broncos over the Oilers. Treadwell's winning kick capped a dramatic 87-yard drive engineered by quarterback John Elway. The key play on the drive was Elway's 44-yard pass to Vance Johnson on fourth-and-10 from the Denver 35. Houston built a 21-6 lead on 3 touchdown passes by Warren Moon. After Denver closed to 21-16, the Oilers added a field goal to up their lead to 24-16 with 13:25 left. But Elway marched the Broncos 80 yards for a touchdown that pulled them within one point and set up his last-minute heroics.

Kelly, who completed 23 of 35 passes for 273 yards, teamed with Andre Reed for scoring passes of 25 and 53 yards as Buffalo built a 17-0 halftime lead. Kelly's 10-yard touchdown pass to James Lofton in the third quarter put the game out of reach at 24-0. The Bills gained 448 total yards while limiting Kansas City to 213.

BUFFALO 44, MIAMI 34—Thurman Thomas ran for 2 touchdowns and Andre Reed caught 2 to lead the Bills over the Dolphins. Jim Kelly, returning to the lineup after being sidelined with an injury, passed for 339 yards and 3 touchdowns. Kelly had scoring strikes of 40 yards (to Reed) and 13 yards (to James Lofton) to help Buffalo take a 27-17 halftime lead. After Miami closed within 30-27 early in the fourth quarter, Thomas ran 5 yards for his second touchdown, and Kelly hit Reed for a 26-yard score to clinch the victory.

CLEVELAND 34, BUFFALO 30—Clay Matthews' interception at the 1-yard line with 3 seconds to play preserved the Browns' win over the Bills. Buffalo quarterback Jim Kelly passed for 405 yards and 4 touchdowns, while his Cleveland counterpart, Bernie Kosar, had 3 scoring strikes. After the Bills pulled within 24-21 in the third quarter, Browns rookie Eric Metcalf returned the ensuing kickoff 90 yards for a touchdown and a 31-21 lead. The teams traded field goals, and then Kelly's fourth scoring pass made it 34-30. But the Bills missed the extra point, a mistake that proved crucial on their final drive when they had to try for the end zone instead of kicking a potential tying field goal.

BOSTON 26, BUFFALO 8—Running back Larry Garron turned short pass receptions into 59- and 17-yard touchdowns as the Patriots defeated the Bills in 10-degree weather. Garron took a short pass from Babe Parilli, broke two tackles, and sprinted over the icy turf for a 59-yard touchdown catch and a 10-0 lead in the first quarter. Leading 16-8 in the fourth quarter, Parilli and Garron hooked up again for a 17-yard score that sealed the victory. Parilli passed for 300 yards on only 14 completions, while Garron collected 164 yards from scrimmage.

NEW YORK GIANTS 21, DALLAS 17—R.W. McQuarters intercepted a pass in the end zone with nine seconds remaining as the Giants advanced to the NFC Championship Game for the first time in seven seasons. On the game's opening possession, Amani Toomer caught a short pass, spun away from the defense, and raced into the end zone for a 52-yard touchdown. Late in the first quarter, Marion Barber had carries for 36 and 20 yards on a 96-yard touchdown drive to tie the game. The Cowboys' defense then forced a punt, and the offense marched 90 yards in 20 plays, highlighted by 3 third-down completions by Tony Romo, and capped by Barber's 1-yard touchdown run for a 14-7 lead with just 53 seconds left in the half. However, Eli Manning completed passes of 22 and 11 yards to Steve Smith, and a 19-yard pass to Kevin Boss to the Cowboys' 4 with 11 seconds left. Manning completed the drive with a 4-yard touchdown toss to Toomer with seven seconds left in the half to tie the game. The Cowboys opened the second half with a field goal, but late in the quarter McQuarters' 25-yard punt return to the Cowboys' 37, and Manning's 11-yard pass to Smith on third-and-6, led to Brandon Jacobs' 1-yard touchdown run for a 21-17 lead with 13:29 to play. The Giants' defense forced two punts, but the Cowboys got the ball at the Giants' 48 with 1:50 to play. Romo completed three passes to the Giants' 23, but on fourth-and-11 McQuarters intercepted his pass in the end zone with nine seconds remaining. Manning was 12 of 18 for 163 yards and 2 touchdowns. Romo was 18 of 36 for 201 yards and 1 touchdown, with 1 interception. Barber carried 27 times for 129 yards.

GREEN BAY 42, SEATTLE 20—Ryan Grant rushed for 201 yards and 3 touchdowns, and Brett Favre added 3 scoring passes, as Green Bay scored the game's final six touchdowns. The Packers outgained the Seahawks 408-200 in total yards. Seattle benefited early as Grant fumbled twice in the first 1:09. Lofa Tatupu recovered the first fumble and returned it 12 yards to the Packers' 1, setting up Shaun Alexander's touchdown 20 seconds into the game. Grant's second fumble was recovered by Jordan Babineaux at the Packers' 49. Matt Hasselbeck's 11-yard touchdown pass to Bobby Engram six plays later gave Seattle a 14-0 lead with 10:59 left in the first quarter. The Packers responded by scoring touchdowns on their next six possessions. Five of the scoring drives covered at least 64 yards, with the exception coming on the first play of the second quarter. With the score tied 14-14, Atari Bigby forced Marcus Pollard to fumble. Aaron Kampman recovered at the Seahawks' 18, and Favre completed a 2-yard touchdown pass to Greg Jennings three plays later for a 21-14 lead. Snow began falling in the second quarter and blanketed the field for the remainder of the game. The Seahawks' defense finally stopped the Packers with 9:11 to play, and the offense drove to the Packers' 41 trailing 42-20, but Hasselbeck threw four consecutive incompletions to end the drive with 8:03 to play. Favre was 18 of 23 for 173 yards and 3 touchdowns. Grant carried 27 times for 201 yards. Hasselbeck was 19 of 33 for 194 yards and 1 touchdown.

CHICAGO 27, SEATTLE 24 (OT)—Robbie Gould kicked a 49-yard field goal 4:58 into overtime as the Bears advanced to the NFC Championship Game for the first time since 1988. The Seahawks tied the score 7-7 early in the second quarter, but on the next play Rex Grossman connected with Bernard Berrian deep down the middle for 68-yard touchdown pass and a 14-7 lead. Shaun Alexander's 4-yard touchdown run, on fourth-and-1, was set up Chuck Darby's recovery of a Grossman fumble forced by Julian Peterson and tied the score 14-14. The Bears responded with their own touchdown on fourth-and-1, a 7-yard run by Thomas Jones with 48 seconds left in the half, for a 21-14 half-time lead. The Seahawks scored on their first two possessions of the second half to take a 24-21 lead, and Pete Hunter intercepted Grossman near the goal line to thwart a rally with 13:31 to play. Later in the quarter, Devin Hester's 66-yard punt return for a touchdown was nullified by a penalty, but the Bears did drive 48 yards and Gould made a 41-yard field goal with 4:24 to play to tie the game. In overtime, the Seahawks were forced to punt, and Ryan Plackemeier's kick went 18 yards and out of bounds at the Bears' 34. Grossman's 30-yard pass to Rashied Davis on third-and-10 set up Gould's game-winning 49-yard kick. Grossman was 21 of 38 for 282 yards and 1 touchdown, with 1 interception. Berrian had 5 receptions for 105 yards. Matt Hasselbeck was 18 of 33 for 195 yards and 1 touchdown, with 1 interception.

NEW ORLEANS 27, PHILADELPHIA 24—Deuce McAllister rushed for 143 yards and scored twice as the Saints won their first playoff game since 2000. Brees was 20 of 32 for 243 yards and 1 touchdown. The Eagles used two big plays, a 75-yard touchdown pass from Jeff Garcia to Donte' Stallworth, and a 62-yard touchdown run by Brian Westbrook three plays into the second half, to take a 21-13 lead. The Saints came right back, keyed by Billy Miller's 29-yard catch, and capped by McAllister's 5-yard touchdown run, to pull within 21-20. The Saints' defense then forced a punt, and the offense drove 84 yards, highlighted by a 23-yard run by McAllister, and capped by Drew Brees' 11-yard touchdown pass to McAllister, for a 27-21 lead with 1:05 left in the third quarter. The Eagles drove to the Saints' 4, but on third-and-1 Garcia's short pass to Thomas Tapeh resulted in a 2-yard loss, forcing the Eagles to settle for David Akers' 24-yard field goal to pull within 27-24 with 11:08 remaining. On third-and-1 with 1:37 to play, McAllister gained 5 yards and the Saints ran out the clock. McAllister carried 21 times for 143 yards. Garcia was 15 of 30 for 240 yards and 1 touchdown. Westbrook carried 13 times for 116 yards.

CAROLINA 29, CHICAGO 21—Steve Smith had 12 receptions for 218 yards and 2 touchdowns as the Panthers knocked off the second-seeded Bears. Despite facing a defense that had set a modern NFL record by allowing just 61 points in eight home games, the Panthers tallied 434 total yards. Smith caught a 58-yard touchdown pass from Jake Delhomme deep down the right sideline on the game's second play to set the tone. Smith outleaped Charles Tillman for a 46-yard catch later in the quarter to set up John Kasay's 20-yard field goal for a 10-0 lead. Kasay added a second field goal for a 13-0 lead before the Bears answered with a 67-yard drive capped by Adrian Peterson's 1-yard scoring run on fourth-and-goal with 1:57 left in the half. The Panthers responded with Kasay's third field goal of the quarter, ending the half with a 37-yard boot to extend the lead to 9 points. The Bears drove 68 yards to begin the second half, highlighted by Bernard Berrian holding onto a 17-yard catch at the Bears' 1 despite a strong tackle by Mike Minter. Desmond Clark capped the drive with a 1-yard catch to pull within 16-14. DeShaun Foster broke his ankle on the next play from scrimmage, but the Panthers scored later in the quarter on Smith's 39-yard touchdown catch down the left sideline to take a 23-14 lead. Smith had set up the touchdown with his 21-yard reception on third-and-9 two plays earlier. The Bears answered with a 66-yard drive, kept alive by a facemask penalty that nullified a fumble for a touchback. Jason McKie culminated the drive with a 3-yard run with 12:23 to play. The Panthers needed just seven plays to answer, highlighted by Smith's 22-yard run, and capped by Kris Mangum's 1-yard scoring catch with 8:04 remaining. Kasay slipped and his extra-point attempt hit the right upright, allowing the Bears to trail by just eight points. After an exchange of punts, the Bears drove to the Panthers' 37, but Ken Lucas intercepted Rex Grossman's third-and-10 pass with 2:26 to play, and after a punt, Grossman's fourth-and-1 pass from the Bears' 45 fell incomplete with 41 seconds left to clinch the victory. Delhomme was 24 of 33 for 319 yards and 3 touchdowns, with 1 interception. Smith, who had the fourth-best receiving yardage total in postseason history, also had 3 carries for 26 yards. Grossman, who had made just one start during the season, was 17 of 41 for 192 yards and 1 touchdown, with 1 interception.

SEATTLE 20, WASHINGTON 10—Matt Hasselbeck passed for 1 touchdown and ran for another as the Seahawks posted their first playoff victory since 1984. Shaun Alexander suffered a concussion late in the first quarter, and a muffed punt set up a field goal to give the Redskins a 3-0 lead. Seattle responded with a 12-play, 74-yard touchdown drive, capped by Darrell Jackson's 29-yard touchdown catch. Joe Jurevicius' 31-yard reception led to Hasselbeck's scrambling 6-yard touchdown run on third-and-5 for a 14-3 lead with 9:35 left in the third quarter. Seattle extended the lead to 17-3, but Mark Brunell completed a 52-yard pass to Chris Cooley to set up Santana Moss' 20-yard touchdown catch off of a deflection to pull the Redskins within 17-10 with 11:51 remaining. John Hall then recovered a fumble on the ensuing kickoff, but he missed a 36-yard field-goal attempt wide left with 8:01 to play. Mack Strong's 32-yard run on third-and-6 set up Josh Brown's 31-yard field goal with 2:54 remaining. Brunell's fourth-and-2 pass intended for Moss was batted down in the end zone by Michael Boulware with 47 seconds left to quell their final scoring chance. Hasselbeck was 16 of 26 for 215 yards and 1 touchdown. Jackson had 9 receptions for 143 yards. Brunell was 22 of 37 for 242 yards and 1 touchdown. Moss had 7 catches for 103 yards.

PHILADELPHIA 27, MINNESOTA 14—Freddie Mitchell scored 2 touchdowns as the Eagles earned a berth in their fourth consecutive NFC Championship Game. The Eagles drove 53 and 92 yards for touchdowns to jump to a 14-0 lead. Following Daunte Culpepper's 7-yard scoring scramble, the Eagles drove to the Vikings' 14. Donovan McNabb completed a pass to L.J. Smith, who was hit by Antoine Winfield at the 4-yard line and fumbled. The ball popped into the air and Mitchell caught it on the fly in the end zone for a touchdown and 21-7 lead with 10:08 left in the half. Both teams failed on two scoring chances. The Vikings failed fake field-goal attempt from the Eagles' 3 ended a drive before halftime, and Ike Reese intercepted a tipped pass at the Eagles' 28 in the third quarter. Dorsey Levens was tackled at the Vikings' 5 as time expired in the first half, and, while reaching for the pylon in the third quarter, Mitchell fumbled the ball out of the end zone for a touchback. At the end of the third quarter, Culpepper's fourth-and-22 pass into the end zone, intended for Randy Moss, fell incomplete, and the Eagles made 2 fourth-quarter field goals to pull away. McNabb was 21 of 33 for 286 yards and 2 touchdowns. Culpepper was 24 of 46 for 316 yards and 1 touchdown, with 2 interceptions. Marcus Robinson had 5 receptions for 119 yards.

ATLANTA 47, ST. LOUIS 17—The Falcons rushed for 327 yards and Allen Rossum set a postseason record with 152 punt-return yards as the Falcons advanced to their second NFC Championship Game appearance. The Falcons had a 35:35-24:25 advantage in time of possession, and scored on five of their first six possessions to jump to a 38-17 lead with 5:54 left in the third quarter. On the first possession, faced with third-and-3, Michael Vick scrambled around right end and ran 47 yards to set up Alge Crumpler's 18-yard touchdown pass just three minutes into the game. The Rams tied the game five plays later with Kevin Curtis' 57-yard touchdown catch, but the Falcons needed just four plays to retake the lead on Warrick Dunn's 62-yard scoring run. Leading 21-14, Rossum returned a punt 68 yards for a touchdown with 59 seconds left in the half for a 28-14 lead, and Rossum's 39-yard return early in the third quarter led to Peerless Price's 6-yard catch for a 35-17 lead. Rossum's 45-yard punt return to the Rams' 13 moments later led to Jay Feely's 38-yard field goal for a 38-17 lead. Vick was 12 of 16 of 82 yards and 2 touchdowns, and rushed 8 times for 119 yards. Dunn rushed 17 times for 142 yards. Marc Bulger was 23 of 35 for 299 yards and 2 touchdowns, with 1 interception. Curtis had 7 catches for 128 yards.

PHILADELPHIA 20, GREEN BAY 17 (OT)—The Eagles used an improbable 28-yard pass on fourth-and-26 to set up David Akers' game-tying field goal in the final seconds en route to an overtime victory and a berth in the NFC Championship Game for the third consecutive season. In the middle of the first quarter, Brett Favre's 40-yard touchdown pass to Robert Ferguson came one play after Mike McKenzie's cornerback blitz forced Donovan McNabb to fumble the ball away. Akers missed a 33-yard field-goal attempt on the Eagles' next possession, and Green Bay responded with an eight-play, 77-yard drive, capped by Favre's 17-yard touchdown pass to Ferguson, for a 14-0 lead with 1:22 left in the first quarter. A 45-yard pass from McNabb to Todd Pinkston set up Duce Staley's 7-yard touchdown on a shovel pass. The Packers once again drove right down field, but on fourth-and-goal from the Eagles' 1 with 2:00 left in the half, Ahman Green was stopped short of the goal line. A 24-yard scramble by McNabb set up his 12-yard touchdown pass to Pinkston on the first play of the fourth quarter to tie the score. Two possessions later, Favre's 44-yard pass to Javon Walker set up Ryan Longwell's go-ahead field goal with 10:22 left. After an exchange of punts, the Eagles started on their own 20 with 2:21 left. With 1:12 left, McNabb was sacked for a 16-yard loss by Bhawoh Jue, setting up fourth-and-26. McNabb fired a pass down the middle to Freddie Mitchell, who caught the ball beyond the marker for a 28-yard gain. Akers' 37-yard field goal with five seconds left forced overtime. The Eagles won the toss, but were forced to punt. But on the Packers' first play, Favre lofted a pass downfield which was intercepted by Brian Dawkins, who returned it 35 yards to the Packers' 34. Six plays later, Akers kicked a 31-yard field goal with 10:12 left on the clock for the victory. McNabb was 21 of 39 for 248 yards and 2 touchdowns, and rushed for 107 yards on 11 carries. Favre was 15 of 28 for 180 yards and 2 touchdowns, with 1 interception. Green rushed 25 times for 156 yards.

CAROLINA 29, ST. LOUIS 23 (2 OT)—Steve Smith caught a 69-yard touchdown pass from Jake Delhomme on the first play of the second overtime as Carolina advanced to the NFC Championship Game. The Rams drove inside the Panthers' 10 on each of their three first-half possessions, but settled for a field goal each time. After struggling on its first two possessions, Carolina scored on five consecutive drives, capped by Brad Hoover's 7-yard touchdown run following Mike Minter's interception, to give Carolina a 23-12 lead with 8:50 to play. Deon Grant intercepted Marc Bulger's pass on the next play from scrimmage, giving the Panthers a chance to put the game away. But Tyoka Jackson dropped Delhomme for an 11-yard loss on third-and-6, and John Kasay's 53-yard field-goal attempt hit the left upright with 6:29 remaining. The Rams converted four third downs and a fourth down, on a 16-yard pass from Bulger to Marshall Faulk, and scored on Faulk's 1-yard run with 2:39 left. Bulger's 2-point conversion pass to Dane Looker pulled the Rams within three points, and Jeff Wilkins recovered his own onside kick to give the Rams a chance to tie or win. St. Louis reached the Panthers' 19 with 42 seconds left, but the Rams opted to let the clock run down, and Wilkins tied the game with a 33-yard attempt as regulation expired. In overtime, the Panthers won the toss and reached the Rams' 22 to set up Kasay for an opportunity to win the game. Kasay made a 40-yard attempt, but the play was nullified by a delay of game penalty. After a few unsuccessful runs, Kasay attempted a 45-yard field goal, but pulled it wide right. The Rams responded by driving to the Panthers' 35, but Wilkins' 53-yard field-goal attempt landed short. The Rams' defense stiffened to force a punt, but Ricky Manning Jr. intercepted Bulger at the Panthers' 35 with 1:01 left in overtime. On third-and-14, Delhomme completed a pass to Smith near midfield. Smith split the seam and outran the secondary for the game-winning touchdown 10 seconds into the second overtime. Delhomme was 16 of 26 for 290 yards and 1 touchdown, with 1 interception. Smith had 6 receptions for 163 yards and 1 touchdown. Bulger was 27 of 46 for 332 yards, with 3 interceptions. Isaac Bruce had 7 receptions for 116 yards.

TAMPA BAY 31, SAN FRANCISCO 6—The Buccaneers' defense forced 5 turnovers and registered 4 sacks as Tampa Bay handed Steve Mariucci a loss in his final game as the 49ers' coach. Quarterback Brad Johnson, who missed the last two regular-season games with a bruised back, helped the Buccaneers convert all 6 of their third-down conversions on their first two drives en route to a 14-3 lead. San Francisco countered with Jeff Chandler's second field goal, but the Buccaneers, aided by a 36-yard pass interference penalty, scored just 1:07 later on Johnson's 12-yard touchdown pass to Rickey Dudley to take a 21-6 lead. Corey Ivy downed Tom Tupa's punt at the 49ers' 3 late in the first half, and Derrick Brooks intercepted Jeff Garcia's pass at the 49ers' 26 two plays later to set up Mike Alstott's second touchdown with 50 seconds left in the half, which staked Tampa Bay to a 28-6 halftime lead. Dwight Smith intercepted Garcia on the first play of the second half to lead to a field goal and finish the scoring. The 49ers' defense, which was riddled with injuries, allowed Tampa Bay to convert 10 of 17 third-down attempts and hold on to the ball for 36:46 of the game's 60 minutes. Johnson was 15 of 31 for 196 yards and 2 touchdowns, with 1 interception. Garcia was 22 of 41 for 193 yards, with 3 interceptions.

PHILADELPHIA 20, ATLANTA 6—Donovan McNabb returned from a broken ankle to pass for 247 yards and a fourth-quarter touchdown pass as the Eagles outlasted the Falcons. McNabb, playing his first game since November 17, proved he was healthy with a 19-yard run on the Eagles' second play from scrimmage. Midway through the first quarter, Bobby Taylor intercepted Michael Vick's pass and weaved his way down the right sideline 39 yards for a touchdown. The Eagles added field goals on their next two possessions to take a 13-0 lead. The Falcons responded with 2 field goals, and after David Akers missed a 51-yard field-goal attempt in the third quarter, Atlanta drove to the Eagles' 20. Vick scrambled out of the pocket and scored what would have been the game-tying touchdown, but the 20-yard scoring run was nullified by a holding penalty. Feely missed a 37-yard field goal a few plays later to end Atlanta's final offensive threat. The Eagles put the game away in the fourth quarter with a 75-yard drive, capped by McNabb's 35-yard touchdown pass to James Thrash on fourth-and-1 with 6:26 left. McNabb was 20 of 30 for 247 yards and 1 touchdown. Vick was 22 of 38 for 274 yards, with 2 interceptions, and was limited to just 30 rushing yards on 6 carries.

ST. LOUIS 45, GREEN BAY 17—Aeneas Williams set a postseason record by returning 2 interceptions for touchdowns as the Rams' defense intercepted 6 passes en route to their second NFC Championship Game appearance in three seasons. On the Packers' second possession, Brett Favre and Bill Schroeder had a miscommunication, which enabled Favre's pass to go directly to Williams, who raced 29 yards untouched for a touchdown. Darren Sharper's interception set up Favre's 22-yard touchdown pass to Antonio Freeman late in the first quarter, but the Rams responded with a 6-play, 66-yard drive, keyed by Marshall Faulk's 38-yard run, and capped by Kurt Warner's 4-yard touchdown pass to Torry Holt. Three plays later, Kim Herring's 45-yard interception return to the Packers' 4 led to Warner's 4-yard touchdown pass to James Hodgins and a 21-7 lead. Leading 24-10 early in the third quarter, Williams recovered a fumble and raced 69 yards for a touchdown, only to have the touchdown overturned, with Williams being ruled down by contact. Undaunted, the Rams drove 69 yards in four plays, highlighted by Holt's spectacular 50-yard over-the-shoulder catch, and capped by Faulk's 7-yard run. Five plays later, Favre's pass was deflected by Grant Wistrom into the hands of Tommy Polley, who returned it 34 yards for a touchdown and a 38-10 lead with 8:12 left in the third quarter. Williams capped the day with his 32-yard interception return for a touchdown midway through the final quarter. Warner was 18 of 30 for 216 yards and 2 touchdowns, with 1 interception. Favre was 26 of 44 for 281 yards and 2 touchdowns, with a post-season-tying 6 interceptions.

PHILADELPHIA 33, CHICAGO 19—Donovan McNabb passed for 2 touchdowns and ran for another as the Eagles advanced to the NFC Championship Game for the first time since 1980. The Eagles drove 61 and 63 yards on their first two possessions to set up field goals by David Akers. Damon Moore's interception at the Eagles' 2 thwarted a Bears' drive early in the second quarter, and also ended the day for Jim Miller, who was injured during the return. Behind Shane Matthews, the Bears took the lead later in the quarter as wide receiver Ahmad Merritt ran 47 yards on a reverse for a touchdown. The Eagles responded with an 11-play, 69-yard drive, highlighted by McNabb's 9-yard pass to Jeff Thomason on fourth-and-1, and capped by his 13-yard touchdown pass to Cecil Martin with 14 seconds left in the half to give the Eagles a 13-7 lead. Jerry Azumah's 39-yard interception return early in the second half put the Bears back in front. Later in the quarter, Brad Maynard's 15-yard punt gave the Eagles the ball at the Bears' 36. The Bears forced the Eagles into a third-and-14 situation, but McNabb completed a 30-yard pass to Thomason to set up his 6-yard scoring pass to Duce Staley and give Philadelphia a 20-14 lead. The Bears answered with Paul Edinger's 38-yard field goal 44 seconds into the fourth quarter, but the Eagles used 11 plays on the ensuing drive and took a 23-17 lead with 8:48 to play on Akers' third field goal. Quinton Caver recovered Atry Denson's fumble on the ensuing kickoff to set up Akers' fourth field goal, and Rashard Cook's 15-yard interception return to the Eagles' 20 set up McNabb's 5-yard touchdown run with 3:21 remaining to take a 33-17 lead. Sean Landeta ran out of the end zone as time expired to provide the final margin. McNabb was 26 of 40 for 262 yards and 2 touchdowns, with 1 interception. Matthews was 8 of 17 for 66 yards, with 2 interceptions, while Miller was 3 of 5 for 23 yards, with 1 interception.

NEW YORK GIANTS 20, PHILADELPHIA 10—Ron Dixon returned the opening kickoff 97 yards for a touchdown to spark the Giants to their first playoff victory since 1993. Dixon became the first player to begin a post-season game with a kickoff return for a touchdown since Miami's Nat Moore in 1974. The Giants' defense did not allow a first down during the Eagles' first three possessions, and on their fourth possession Torrance Small fumbled and Dave Thomas recovered to set up Brad Daluiso's 37-yard field goal. Late in the first half, Jason Sehorn made a diving interception, batting the ball in midair with one hand before catching it, got to his feet, and outran the Eagles to the end zone for a 17-0 Giants' lead. The Eagles got on the board when David Akers kicked a field goal before halftime, but Akers missed from 30 yards in the third quarter. James Bostic's blocked punt in the final minutes set up Donovan McNabb's 10-yard touchdown pass to Small to close out the scoring. Kerry Collins was 12 of 19 for 125 yards. McNabb completed 20 of 41 passes for 181 yards and 1 touchdown, with 1 interception. The clubs combined for only 423 total yards, but the Giants controlled the clock for 36:09 thanks to 112 rushing yards, including 53 from Ron Dayne and 35 from Tiki Barber, despite a broken left forearm.

MINNESOTA 34, NEW ORLEANS 16—Daunte Culpepper passed for 302 yards and 3 touchdowns as the Vikings defeated the Saints. The Vikings scored on their third play from scrimmage, when Randy Moss caught a short pass and raced untouched 53 yards for a touchdown. The Vikings led 10-3 late in the first half when Culpepper scrambled for 30 yards and, on the next play, fired a 17-yard touchdown pass to Cris Carter. Moss scored on the third play of the second half as well, again taking a quick pass and this time outrunning the Saints 68 yards for a touchdown and a 24-3 lead. Robert Tate's interception at the Saints' 29 late in the third quarter led to Robert Smith's 2-yard touchdown run to give the Vikings a 34-10 lead with 10:46 remaining. Culpepper completed 17 of 31 passes for 302 yards and 3 touchdowns. Moss had 2 catches for 121 yards, and Carter had 8 receptions for 120 yards. Aaron Brooks was 30 of 48 for 295 yards and 2 touchdowns, with 2 interceptions. Chad Morton had 13 catches for 106 yards, and Willie Jackson added 9 receptions for 125 yards.

ST. LOUIS 49, MINNESOTA 37—Kurt Warner passed for 391 yards and 5 touchdowns to put the Rams in the NFC Championship Game for the first time since 1989. Gary Anderson's 31-yard field goal capped the game's first drive, but on the Rams' first play, Warner found Isaac Bruce on a post pattern for a 77-yard touchdown. It took the Rams' four plays to score on their next possession, capped by Marshall Faulk's 41-yard scoring screen pass. The Vikings drove 96 yards to cut the deficit to 14-10, and Robert Griffith's fumble recovery near mid-field set up Leroy Hoard's 4-yard scoring run to give the Vikings a 17-14 halftime lead. Trailing at halftime at home for the first time all season, Tony Horne promptly returned the second half's opening kickoff 95 yards for a touchdown. While the Vikings failed to gain a first down on their first four possessions (three punts and a fumble) of the second half, the Rams scored touchdowns on four of their first five possessions, capped by Warner's 2-yard touchdown pass to Roland Williams to give the Rams a 49-17 lead with 8:13 remaining. Jeff George engineered touchdown drives of 75, 63, and 85 yards in the final minutes. Warner was 27 of 33 for 391 yards and 5 touchdowns, with 1 interception, and completed passes to 10 different Rams. Bruce had 4 receptions for 133 yards. George was 29 of 50 for 423 yards and 4 touchdowns, with 1 interception. Randy Moss had 9 catches for 188 yards, and Cris Carter had 7 for 106 yards.

TAMPA BAY 14, WASHINGTON 13—Turnovers set up both of Tampa Bay's second half touchdowns, and an errant snap squashed the Redskins' field-goal attempt in the final minutes as the Buccaneers earned their first trip to the NFC Championship Game since 1979. The Redskins' defense forced 6 first-half punts, and Brett Conway's 28-yard field goal gave the Redskins a 3-0 halftime lead. Brian Mitchell returned the second half's opening kickoff 100 yards for a touchdown, and Darrell Green's interception in Buccaneers' territory set up Conway's second field goal to give Washington a 13-0 lead. John Lynch's interception at the Redskins' 27 sparked the Buccaneers' offense, which needed just 6 plays, capped by Mike Alstott's 2-yard run, to cut the deficit to 13-7 late in the third quarter. Warren Sapp recovered Brad Johnson's fumble at the Redskins' 32 early in the fourth quarter, and Alstott converted a fourth-and-1 to set up Shaun King's 1-yard touchdown pass to John Davis with 7:29 remaining. The Redskins reached the Buccaneers' 33 with 1:08 left, but Conway never got a chance to attempt the winning kick because of a poor snap by Dan Turk, which allowed Floyd Young to sack the holder, Johnson. King was 15 of 32 for 157 yards and 1 touchdown, with 1 interception. Johnson was 20 of 32 for 149 yards, with 1 interception. Both defenses were stifling, as Tampa Bay outgained Washington 186-157.

MINNESOTA 41, ARIZONA 21—Randall Cunningham passed for 3 touchdowns, and Leroy Hoard scored 3 times, as the Vikings reached the NFC Championship Game for the first time since 1987. The Vikings consumed nearly half of the first quarter during a 13-play, 80-yard game-opening drive capped by Hoard's 1-yard plunge. After a Cardinals' punt, the Vikings were set to score again, but Aeneas Williams intercepted a pass in the end zone. However, Jake Plummer threw interceptions on consecutive plays, leading to a Vikings' touchdown and a field goal. The Vikings led 17-0 before the Cardinals recorded a first down. The clubs exchanged touchdowns, with Hoard's second coming with just 24 seconds left in the half, as Minnesota took a 24-7 lead into the locker room. The Cardinals used the first 7:35 of the third quarter to drive 80 yards, capped by Mario Bates' second touchdown run. However, David Palmer's 38-yard kickoff return set up Gary Anderson's 20-yard field goal and, after Antonio Banks recovered Plummer's fumble at the Cardinals' 10, Cunningham completed a 2-yard scoring pass to Randy Moss to give Minnesota a 34-14 lead late in the third quarter. Eric Metcalf's 36-yard punt return set up Bates' third touchdown, with 11:45 left, but the Vikings went on a 12-play, 73-yard drive that consumed more than seven minutes and culminated with Hoard's third touchdown with 4:23 left. Cunningham was 17 of 27 for 236 yards and 3 touchdowns, with 1 interception. Robert Smith had 19 carries for 124 yards.

ATLANTA 20, SAN FRANCISCO 18—Jamal Anderson rushed for 113 yards and 2 touchdowns as the Falcons won just their third playoff game in club history. Tim Dwight's 36-yard punt return midway through the first quarter set up Anderson's first touchdown run, and Anderson carried 4 times for 52 yards on a 7-play, 82-yard second-quarter drive, capped by a 34-yard scamper, to give Atlanta a 14-0 lead. The 49ers scored twice in the final 1:10 of the half, with Steve Young's 34-yard pass to Chuck Levy on third-and-23 setting up Jerry Rice's 17-yard touchdown catch, and Junior Bryant's interception leading to Wade Richey's 36-yard field goal as the half expired. Eugene Robinson stopped a 49ers' drive late in the third quarter by intercepting a pass at the Falcons' 3 and returning it 77 yards, being denied a touchdown by Terry Kirby's tackle. Atlanta settled for Morten Andersen's 29-yard field goal, and Andersen tacked three more points on the board less than six minutes later following William White's interception. The 49ers responded with a 13-play, 87-yard drive, capped by Young's 8-yard run with 2:57 remaining. A high snap on the extra-point attempt prompted holder Ty Detmer to roll out and throw a 2-point conversion pass to Greg Clark to cut the deficit to 20-18. The 49ers' outside kick hopped out of bounds, and San Francisco did not gain possession until getting the ball on their own 4-yard line with 38 seconds left. The 49ers' hopes ended when White intercepted Young at the 49ers' 35 as time expired. Chris Chandler was 13 of 19 for 169 yards, with 1 interception. Young was 23 of 37 for 289 yards and 1 touchdown, with 3 interceptions.

GREEN BAY 21, TAMPA BAY 7—Dorsey Levens rushed for 112 yards and 1 touchdown, and the Packers' special teams set up two scores and halted three others as Green Bay advanced to the NFC Championship Game for the third consecutive season. Bob Kuberski blocked Michael Husted's 43-yard field-goal attempt midway through the first quarter to spark a 67-yard drive, capped by Brett Favre's 3-yard touchdown pass to Mark Chmura. Derrick Mayes' 14-yard catch on third-and-9 to the Buccaneers' 3 gave the Packers the impetus to reach the end zone. The Buccaneers reached the Packers' 25 early in the second quarter, but Steve Walsh's fake field-goal attempt pass on fourth-and-2 was incomplete. Warren Sapp forced Levens to fumble and recovered the ball at the Packers' 30 two plays later, but a third field-goal attempt was aborted when Dave Moore's snap sailed past Walsh and was recovered by Husted. LeRoy Butler's 12-yard sack of Trent Dilfer pinned the Buccaneers back to their own 11, and Robert Brooks returned the ensuing punt 28 yards to give the Packers the ball at the Buccaneers' 29 with 4:07 left in the half. The Packers had to settle for Ryan Longwell's 21-yard field goal with 1:52 left in the half, but Tyrone Williams' interception on the next play from scrimmage set up Longwell's second field goal and gave Green Bay a 13-0 lead at halftime. The Packers took the second half's opening kickoff and drove deep into Buccaneers territory before John Lynch hit Favre's arm on a pass attempt and Donnie Abraham intercepted the pass at the 6-yard line. Faced with third-and-11 from their own 5-yard line, Dilfer threw a 53-yard pass to Reidel Anthony. Dilfer then completed a 28-yard pass to Moore on third-and-3, and Mike Alstott scored two plays later to cut the deficit to 13-7. On the last play of the third quarter Favre completed a 23-yard pass to Mayes on third-and-18, and Levens scored three plays later. The Buccaneers drove into Packers territory twice but were stopped on downs, and Mike Prior's interception at the Packers' 34 with 1:49 left ended the game. Favre was 15 of 28 for 190 yards and 1 touchdown, with 2 interceptions. Dilfer was 11 of 36 for 200 yards, with 2 interceptions. With the game-time temperature at 29 degrees, Favre improved his record to 23-0 when the temperature is below 35.

SAN FRANCISCO 38, MINNESOTA 22—Terry Kirby had 25 carries for 120 yards and 2 touchdowns as the 49ers defeated the Vikings. Mitch Berger's 12-yard punt to the Vikings' 26 enabled William Floyd to score four plays later to give the 49ers a 7-0 lead. Two plays later, Randall Cunningham threw a 66-yard touchdown pass to Cris Carter to tie the game. A 28-yard pass interference penalty on Torrian Gray to the Vikings' 4 set up Terry Kirby's 1-yard run, and Ken Norton's 23-yard interception return 47 seconds later staked the 49ers to a 21-7 halftime edge. Gary Anderson's 34-yard field goal capped the 49ers' initial drive of the second half, but the Vikings responded with Cunningham's 53-yard pass to Jake Reed setting up Carter's 3-yard touchdown grab to pull the Vikings within 24-14. However, Steve Young threw a 15-yard touchdown pass to Terrell Owens on their next drive, and Kirby scored two possessions later to give the 49ers a 38-14 lead midway through the fourth quarter. Cunningham threw a 13-yard touchdown pass to Matthew Hatchette, and the Vikings drove to the 49ers' 16 with 2:30 to play, but Cunningham threw 4 consecutive incompletions to end the Vikings' threat. Young was 21 of 30 for 224 yards and 1 touchdown. Cunningham was 18 of 40 for 331 yards and 3 touchdowns, with 1 interception. The 49ers had more first downs (30-16) and led in time of possession (38:04-21:56).

CAROLINA 26, DALLAS 17—The Panthers defense intercepted 3 passes, and John Kasay booted 4 field goals, as Carolina won its first playoff game in franchise history.

DIVISIONAL PLAYOFFS

Dallas, which had won the Super Bowl three of the previous four years, scored on its first possession and went ahead 3-0 on Chris Boniol's field goal. However, the scoring drive was costly because Michael Irvin separated his shoulder making a 23-yard catch and missed the remainder of the game. Carolina responded with a 68-yard scoring drive, keyed by two Cowboys' penalties, and took the lead on Wesley Walls' touchdown catch. After forcing a punt, Collins threw his second touchdown pass, this one to Willie Green, to put the Panthers ahead 14-3. Dallas put its best drive of the game together, with Daryl Johnston's touchdown catch ending the 15-play, eight-minute, 21 second drive. A bad snap over Rohn Stark's head and through the end zone on the following possession pulled Dallas within three points and gave them momentum. However, Chad Cota's interception and 49-yard return set up Kasay's 24-yard field goal three seconds before half-time giving the Panthers a 17-11 lead. Four second-half field goals, 2 by each team, gave the Panthers a 23-17 lead. Dallas got the ball back on a Carolina punt, but with poor field position after Dwight Stone downed it at the 2-yard line. Just as the Cowboys were mounting a possible game-winning drive, Pat Terrell intercepted Aikman and returned the ball 49 yards to set up Kasay's final field goal. Sam Mills' interception in the final minute iced the game. Johnson totaled 104 yards, the first 100-yard rushing game by a Cowboys playoff opponent since Eric Dickerson in 1985.

GREEN BAY 35, SAN FRANCISCO 14—Desmond Howard had two big punt returns, one for a touchdown and one to set up another, and Edgar Bennett scored twice to lead the Packers to victory at muddy Lambeau Field. Howard's 71-yard punt return for a touchdown 2:15 into the game to gave the Packers an early lead. A 46-yard punt return by Howard set up Andre Rison's touchdown catch, Bennett completed a short 15-yard drive, set up by Craig Newsome's interception, with a touchdown to give Green Bay a commanding 21-0 advantage. Two careless turnovers brought the 49ers back into the game. Chris Hayes had a 49ers punt bounce off his foot. Curtis Buckley recovered the ball and Terry Kirby scored 24 seconds before halftime. As Green Bay prepared to receive the opening kickoff to the second half, Howard still was in the locker room changing his pants. Andre Rison ran onto the field as the ball was kicked. Steve Israel beat Rison to the ball, giving the 49ers possession at the 4-yard line. Elvis Grbac's 2-yard run cut the deficit to 21-14. The Packers responded with a long drive, but chaos ensued as they were about to score. Bennett, in his effort to break the end zone plane with the ball, fumbled at the goal line, causing a pileup in the end zone. After sifting through bodies, the officials ruled Antonio Freeman had recovered the ball for a touchdown. Bennett scored the game's final points after Kirby fumbled a punt return at his own 32-yard line. Brett Favre, tempered by the poor weather conditions, attempted just 15 passes, completing 11 for 79 yards. Grbac, who came in during the first quarter after Steve Young's bruised ribs inhibited his performance, completed 19 of 36 passes for 125 yards, 1 touchdown, and 3 interceptions. The teams combined for just 404 total yards and 6 turnovers.

DALLAS 30, PHILADELPHIA 11—Emmitt Smith rushed for 99 yards and 1 touchdown to lead the Cowboys to the NFC Championship Game for the fourth consecutive year. Smith's 1-yard touchdown run 3:42 before halftime capped a 79-yard drive and helped break open the game at 17-3. Quarterback Troy Aikman accounted for most of the yards on the march with a 37-yard completion to wide receiver Kevin Williams and a 26-yard toss to fullback Daryl Johnston. A pair of field goals by Chris Boniol extended Dallas' lead to 23-3 in the third quarter, and Aikman made it 30-3 with a 9-yard touchdown pass to Michael Irvin with 5:43 left in the game. Aikman finished with 17 completions in 24 attempts for 253 yards. Williams caught 6 passes for 124 yards. The Eagles mounted little opposition after tying the game at 3-3 on Gary Anderson's 26-yard field goal on the first play of the second quarter. Starting quarterback Rodney Peete had suffered a concussion on the previous play, and backup Randall Cunningham came on to complete only 11 of 26 passes for 161 yards.

GREEN BAY 27, SAN FRANCISCO 17—The Packers jumped to a 21-0 lead and never were seriously threatened as they dethroned the defending Super Bowl champions. Green Bay dominated the game early, taking the opening kickoff and maintaining possession for 11 plays and 7:11 before Chris Jacke's 44-yard field-goal attempt was blocked by Tim McDonald. But on the 49ers' first play from scrimmage, fullback Adam Walker fumbled because of a hard hit by linebacker Wayne Simmons, after catching a pass from Steve Young. Packers cornerback Craig Newsome picked up the loose ball and returned it 31 yards for a touchdown. After San Francisco failed to make a first down on its ensuing possession, the Packers took only 4 plays to drive 62 yards to Brett Favre's 3-yard touchdown pass to tight end Keith Jackson. Green Bay scored again the next time it had the ball, with Favre's 13-yard touchdown pass to tight end Mark Chmura coming early in the second quarter. By halftime, Favre had completed 15 of 17 passes for 222 yards. He finished the game 21 of 28 for 299 yards, and was not intercepted. Trailing 21-3, the 49ers opened the second half with an 80-yard, 14-play touchdown drive that consumed 7:14, but Jacke kicked a pair of field goals to keep the game out of reach. San Francisco quarterback Steve Young passed for 328 yards and led all rushers with 77 yards, but was forced to attempt a postseason-record 65 passes and completed only 32. He also was intercepted twice, lost a fumble, was sacked 3 times, and consistently harassed by the Packers' pass rush.

DALLAS 35, GREEN BAY 9—Troy Aikman passed for 337 yards and 2 touchdowns, including a 94-yard strike to Alvin Harper, to lead the Cowboys to an easy victory over the Packers. The win set the stage for the third consecutive NFL title game between Dallas and San Francisco. Aikman, who completed 23 of 30 passes, spread his passes around to tight end Jay Novacek and wide receivers Michael Irvin and Harper, each of whom caught passes for more than 100 yards. Novacek had a club playoff-record 11 receptions for 104 yards, Irvin caught 6 passes for 111 yards, and Harper had a pair of receptions for 108 yards. His 94-yard touchdown catch gave the Cowboys a 14-3 lead late in the first quarter. It was the longest play from scrimmage in NFL postseason history. Dallas running back Emmitt Smith ran for 44 yards and a touchdown in the first quarter, but left the game after aggravating a hamstring injury. His backup, Blair Thomas, ran for 70 yards and 2 touchdowns, including a 1-yard score to help break open the game at 21-3 midway through the second quarter.

SAN FRANCISCO 44, CHICAGO 15—William Floyd ran for 3 touchdowns and Steve Young ran for 1 and passed for 1 as the 49ers tuned up for the NFC Championship Game by routing the Bears. After turning over the ball on its first possession and spotting Chicago an early field goal, San Francisco scored on six consecutive possessions to turn the game into a rout. Floyd's 2-yard run with 3:41 left in the first quarter gave the 49ers the lead for good, and his 4-yard run midway through the second quarter increased their advantage to 20-3. Young, who tossed an 8-yard touchdown pass to tight end Brent Jones early in the second quarter, ran 6 yards for a score 1:17 before halftime to make it 30-3. Floyd's third touchdown, from 1 yard, capped a 70-yard drive on San Francisco's first possession of the second half, and many of the 49ers' starters, including Young, took the rest of the afternoon off. The Bears, limited to only 95 total yards behind starting quarterback Steve Walsh in the first half, turned to Erik Kramer in the second half. Kramer passed for 161 yards in his two quarters of play and generated 2 touchdowns in the fourth quarter, but they came long after the game had been decided.

SAN FRANCISCO 44, NEW YORK GIANTS 3—Ricky Watters scored an NFL playoff-record 5 touchdowns to key the 49ers' victory. Watters ran for 118 yards on 24 carries, caught 5 passes for 46 yards, and scored all of his touchdowns on short runs. No player had scored more than 3 touchdowns in a postseason game. San Francisco started the rout early, with quarterback Steve Young completing all 4 of his passes for 63 yards on an 8-play, 80-yard touchdown drive following the opening kickoff, a march capped by Watters' 1-yard run 4:27 into the game. The Giants failed to make a first down on their initial possession, and the 49ers' Dexter Carter returned the ensuing punt 31 yards to set up Mike Cofer's 29-yard field goal. Safety Tim McDonald intercepted Phil Simms' pass on the next play, leading to another 1-yard touchdown run by Watters, and San Francisco led 16-0 two seconds into the second quarter. It was 23-3 at halftime, and the 49ers never were threatened. Young completed 17 of 22 passes for 226 yards as San Francisco amassed 413 total yards to just 194 for the Giants. New York, which led the NFL by averaging 138 rushing yards per game during the regular season, managed only 41 yards on the ground. The 49ers' de-

DALLAS 27, GREEN BAY 17—Troy Aikman passed for 302 yards and 3 touchdowns, and the Cowboys scored 10 points in a span of 18 seconds shortly before halftime to break open a close game. Aikman's 25-yard touchdown pass to Alvin Harper 5:53 into the second quarter put Dallas ahead 7-3, a lead the Cowboys would not relinquish. After Eddie Murray kicked a 41-yard field goal 23 seconds before halftime to stretch the advantage to 10-3, Kenneth Gant made the key play of the game on the ensuing kickoff. Gant knocked the ball loose from Packers kick returner Corey Harris, and Dallas' Joe Fishback recovered at Green Bay's 14-yard line. Aikman completed an 8-yard pass to Michael Irvin, then teamed with tight end Jay Novacek on a 6-yard touchdown pass with five seconds left in the first half to make it 17-3. Aikman's 19-yard touchdown pass to Michael Irvin 9:05 into the third quarter put the game out of reach. Aikman finished with 28 completions in 37 attempts, while Irvin caught 9 passes for 126 yards. Packers quarterback Brett Favre completed 28 of 45 passes for 331 yards, but most of it came after the issue was decided. Running back Edgar Bennett caught 9 passes. Sterling Sharpe had 6 receptions for 128 yards.

SAN FRANCISCO 20, WASHINGTON 13—Steve Young threw 2 touchdown passes and survived 4 turnovers as the 49ers eliminated the Super Bowl XXVI champions. Young completed 20 of 30 passes for 227 yards, including scoring strikes of 5 yards to wide receiver John Taylor and 16 yards to tight end Brent Jones that helped San Francisco build a 17-3 advantage in the first half. But the 49ers' quarterback also lost 3 fumbles, the last of which the Redskins converted into a 15-yard drive capped by quarterback Mark Rypien's 1-yard sneak for a touchdown that trimmed the margin to 17-13 with 14:36 left in the game. Moments later, Washington was driving again, and reached San Francisco's 23-yard line before Rypien fumbled while trying to hand off. The 49ers took over and ate up more than seven minutes on a 59-yard, 14-play drive that culminated in Mike Cofer's 33-yard field goal with 2:22 remaining. Ricky Watters ran for 83 yards and Young added 73 yards on only 8 carries for San Francisco, which amassed 401 total yards. The Redskins had 323 total yards, but also were victimized by 4 turnovers. 49ers defensive end Pierce Holt recorded 3 of his team's 5 sacks.

DALLAS 34, PHILADELPHIA 10—The Cowboys converted a balanced offense and a stingy defense into an easy victory over the Eagles. Philadelphia took a 3-0 lead on Roger Ruzek's 32-yard field goal 7:15 into the game, but Dallas countered with Troy Aikman's 1-yard touchdown pass to tight end Derek Tennell for a 7-3 advantage. Aikman's second touchdown pass, a 6-yard toss to tight end Jay Novacek, gave the Cowboys a 14-3 advantage just 47 seconds before intermission. On the ensuing kickoff, Vai Sikahema fumbled, and Dallas converted the turnover into a 20-yard field goal by Lin Elliott as time ran out in the half. The Cowboys went on to build a 34-3 advantage in the fourth quarter before the Eagles got their lone touchdown in the final minute. Emmitt Smith ran for 114 yards, including a 23-yard touchdown run, as Dallas amassed 160 rushing yards. The Cowboys added 185 yards through the air as Aikman completed 15 of 25 passes. Philadelphia managed only 178 total yards. Randall Cunningham completed 17 of 30 passes, but was sacked 5 times and accumulated most of his 160 yards in the final period, long after the game had been decided.

WASHINGTON 24, ATLANTA 7—The Redskins overcame poor weather conditions by rushing for 162 yards, while the Falcons succumbed to the wind, rain, and mud by turning the ball over 6 times. Ricky Ervins gained 104 yards on 23 carries as Washington held the ball for more than 36 minutes. In the second quarter, Ervins capped an 81-yard drive with a 17-yard touchdown run and, after the Redskins recovered a fumble on Atlanta's next possession, Gerald Riggs scored on a 2-yard run. Riggs' second touchdown run clinched the victory in the fourth quarter.

MINNESOTA 14, LOS ANGELES 7—Chuck Foreman ran for 101 yards to lead the Vikings. After losing three playoff games in frigid Minnesota, the Rams thought a home game would provide them with good weather. But the game was played in a torrential downpour that turned the field into a quagmire. After stopping the Rams' opening drive on downs, the Vikings drove 70 yards for a touchdown on Foreman's 5-yard run. Sammy Johnson provided the winning score with a 1-yard run early in the fourth quarter.

MINNESOTA 35, WASHINGTON 20—Chuck Foreman and Brent McClanahan each ran for more than 100 yards to lead the Vikings. McClanahan, who gained 101 yards, set the tone by racing 41 yards on the game's first play. Foreman gained 105 yards, scoring on runs of 2 and 30 yards. Fran Tarkenton passed for 3 touchdowns, including 2 to Sammy White. Tarkenton's second scoring pass to White gave Minnesota a commanding 35-6 lead.

LOS ANGELES 14, DALLAS 12—The Rams won thanks to two defensive stands in the final five minutes. Leading 14-10, Los Angeles stopped Dallas on downs at the Rams' 32 with three minutes left. But the Cowboys blocked a punt and took over at the Rams' 17 with 1:59 left. Roger Staubach's first-down pass to Butch Johnson was ruled incomplete when Johnson could only get one foot down in the end zone. Two incompletions followed, and Staubach's fourth-down pass to Billy Joe DuPree was a yard short of the first down. The Rams took an intentional safety as time expired.

LOS ANGELES 19, WASHINGTON 10—Big plays by their defense and special teams rallied the Rams over the Redskins. Trailing 10-7, the Rams' defense recovered a fumble to set up David Ray's tying field goal. On the ensuing kickoff, the Rams' special teams recovered a fumble, and Ray kicked another field goal for a 13-10 lead. The Redskins were driving for a possible tying field goal or winning touchdown, but Merlin Olsen pressured Sonny Jurgensen into a bad throw that Isiah Robertson returned 59 yards for a score.

DALLAS 30, SAN FRANCISCO 28—Roger Staubach led one of the greatest comebacks ever to propel the Cowboys over the 49ers. San Francisco led 28-13 when Staubach came off the bench late in the third quarter. With 10 minutes left, Staubach drove Dallas to a field goal. With two minutes left, he drove the Cowboys 55 yards, the last 20 on his scoring pass to Billy Parks. Dallas recovered the onside kick, and Staubach drove the Cowboys 50 yards, hitting Ron Sellers for the winning 10-yard score with 52 seconds remaining.

WASHINGTON 16, GREEN BAY 3—Larry Brown's running and a unique defensive alignment led the Redskins over the Packers. Brown, who had missed the final two regular-season games, ran for 101 yards on 25 carries. Brown's counterpart on Green Bay, 1,000-yard rusher John Brockington, was held to 9 yards on 13 carries by the Redskins' five-man front. Washington built a 10-3 halftime lead, then used Brown's running and Mike Bragg's punting to control the game.

DALLAS 5, DETROIT 0—The Cowboys came out on top in the lowest scoring playoff game in NFL history. Facing the league's top rushing defense, Dallas came out throwing. That strategy failed, though the Cowboys did manage a field goal after recovering a Lions' fumble. Dallas switched in the second half, using 15 consecutive running plays to drive 76 yards to the Detroit 1. The Lions stopped them on fourth down, only to be sacked for a safety three plays later. In the final minutes, Bill Munson drove the Lions to the Dallas 29. But Mel Renfro made a game-saving interception.

SAN FRANCISCO 17, MINNESOTA 14—The 49ers used punt returns and turnovers to defeat the Vikings. Bruce Taylor's 30-yard punt return set up the 49ers' first score, a 24-yard pass from John Brodie to Dick Witcher. San Francisco converted a fumble recovery into a field goal and a 10-7 halftime lead. Taylor's 23-yard punt return to the Minnesota 14 set up Brodie's 1-yard touchdown, which gave San Francisco a 17-7 lead with 1:20 remaining. The 49ers forced 4 turnovers.

Bill Nelsen, who completed 18 of 27 passes for 219 yards, threw a 6-yard touchdown pass to help Cleveland build a 17-0 halftime lead. The Browns took the second-half kickoff and drove to another touchdown to make it 24-0. The Cowboys scored and were en route to another touchdown when they were stopped by Jim Houston's interception. Cleveland then added 2 touchdowns to put the game away. The Browns' Paul Warfield had 8 catches for 99 yards despite constant double teaming.

Baltimore drove 75 yards for a touchdown just before halftime, mostly on the strength of 2 long passes by Earl Morrall. In the third quarter, John Mackey turned a pass from Morrall into a 49-yard touchdown. Moments later, the Vikings were at the Colts' 30, but Bubba Smith forced a fumble that Mike Curtis returned 60 yards to give the Colts a 21-0 lead.

With Johnny Unitas and Gary Cuozzo injured, Baltimore used halfback Tom Matte at quarterback for the entire game. Still, the Colts forged a 10-0 halftime lead and their chances looked good after they knocked Packers quarterback Bart Starr out of the game. But Zeke Bratkowski rallied Green Bay, and the Packers tied the game on a controversial field goal (the Colts claimed the kick was just outside the right upright) with 1:58 left in regulation.

NEW YORK GIANTS 10, CLEVELAND 0—The Giants limited Cleveland to just 86 total yards to defeat the Browns. New York forced this playoff game with a last-minute victory over Cleveland the week before. The teams traded turnovers until the Giants drove 84 yards for the game's only touchdown on a trick play. Frank Gifford ran 8 yards on a reverse, then pitched to Charlie Conerly, who ran 10 yards for a touchdown. The Giants added a field goal, then concentrated on stopping the Browns. Jim Brown, who had 1,527 rushing yards during the regular season, had just 8 yards on 7 carries.

CLEVELAND 8, NEW YORK GIANTS 3—Lou Groza's 28-yard field goal with 58 seconds left gave the Browns the victory after they had lost to the Giants in both regular-season meetings. The offenses were thwarted by 10-degree weather and a numbing wind. The Giants had a chance for a touchdown, but after a bizarre series of plays inside the Browns' 10, they had to accept a tying field goal. Then Otto Graham used the quarterback draw to move Cleveland down the field to Groza's winning kick. Moments later, the Browns added a safety. Graham ran for 70 yards on 8 carries.

AFC CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

AT STAKE

American Football Conference Championship and the Lamar Hunt Trophy

DATE

January 18, 2009

NETWORK TELEVISION

Nationwide by CBS

More than 200 television stations and 450 radio stations in the United States, plus more than 290 worldwide facilities of Armed Forces Radio and Television, will broadcast the AFC Championship live.

The first AFL Championship Game was the 1960 meeting in which the Houston Oilers defeated the Los Angeles Chargers 24-16 at Houston's Jeppesen Stadium on New Year's Day, 1961. It was nationally televised by ABC-TV.

The AFL Championship Games were telecast nationally by ABC from 1960 through 1964. NBC carried the game from 1965 until 1969, and then carried the AFC Championship Game from 1970 until 1997. CBS has carried the game since 1998.

PLAYER SHARES

$37,500 to each participating player. Winners advance to Super Bowl XLIII where the share is $78,000 for each winner, $40,000 for each loser.

TROPHY

The winning team receives permanent possession of the Lamar Hunt Trophy, named in honor of the late owner of the Kansas City Chiefs and founder of the American Football League. The trophy, which was designed by Don Weller, features a bas-relief action frieze developed by Merv Corning. It has a black walnut wood base with an engraved bronze faceplate. The AFC monogram is cast in bronze with a high gloss front and back and a soft satin finish on the top and sides. The frieze is a classic football action cast in heavy silver plate. The trophy was authorized by NFL club presidents in 1983 and first presented following the 1984 season.

NETWORK TELEVISION

Nationwide by FOX

More than 200 television stations and 450 radio stations in the United States, plus more than 290 worldwide facilities of Armed Forces Radio and Television, will broadcast the NFC Championship Game live.

The first nationally televised NFL Championship Game was the 1951 meeting in which the Los Angeles Rams defeated the Cleveland Browns 24-17 in Los Angeles. It was carried by the now-defunct DuMont network.

The NFL Championship Games were televised nationally by DuMont from 1951 through 1954. NBC purchased the rights for 1955 from DuMont, then contracted with the NFL for the rights from 1956 through 1963. CBS broadcast the NFL Championship Game from 1964 until 1969, then broadcast the NFC Championship Game from 1970 until 1993. FOX has carried the game since 1994.

PLAYER SHARES

$37,500 to each participating player. Winners advance to Super Bowl XLIII where the share is $78,000 for each winner, $40,000 for each loser.

TROPHY

The winning team receives permanent possession of the George S. Halas Trophy, named in honor of the former owner, coach, and player of the Chicago Bears and one of the founders of the National Football League. The trophy, which was designed by Don Weller, features a bas-relief action frieze developed by Merv Corning. It has a black walnut wood base with an engraved bronze faceplate. The NFC monogram is cast in bronze with a high gloss front and back and a soft satin finish on the top and sides. The frieze is a classic football action cast in heavy silver plate. The trophy was authorized by NFL club presidents in 1983 and first presented following the 1984 season.

SUDDEN DEATH

Under the sudden-death rules, the team scoring first during overtime play shall be the winner. The game is ended automatically upon any score (including a safety), or when a score is awarded by the referee for a palpably unfair act. At the end of regulation playing time, the referee immediately will toss a coin at the center of the field, in accordance with rules pertaining to the usual pregame coin toss. The visiting team captain again calls the toss. Following a three (3) minute intermission at the end of the regular game, play shall continue by fifteen (15) minute periods with a two (2) minute intermission between each overtime period with no halftime intermission. Teams will change goals between each period. The rules for game timing and team timeouts shall be the same as in a regular game, including the last two (2) minutes of the second and fourth quarters.

NEW ENGLAND 21, SAN DIEGO 12—Laurence Maroney rushed for 122 yards and the Patriots played a bend-but-don't-break defense to advance to their fourth Super Bowl in seven seasons. New England became the first team to win its first 18 games of a season. LaDainian Tomlinson, who injured his knee the previous week, attempted to play, but after 2 carries and a reception on the first two drives, he sat out the rest of the game. Philip Rivers, who also injured his knee against the Colts, played the entire game and three times drove the Chargers inside the Patriots' 10-yard line. It was not until afterward that it was revealed Rivers played despite having knee surgery six days earlier. Quentin Jammer's interception late in the first quarter led to Nate Kaeding's 26-yard field goal. The Patriots responded with a 65-yard touchdown drive. Vincent Jackson had catches of 15, 16, and 21 yards to reach the Patriots' 9 on their next drive, but San Diego again settled for Kaeding's field goal to pull within 7-6. With 4:36 left in the half, Asante Samuel intercepted Rivers' pass and two plays later Tom Brady completed a 12-yard touchdown pass to Jabar Gaffney for a 14-6 lead. A 26-yard run by Darren Sproles just before halftime led to Kaeding's 40-yard field goal, pulling the Chargers to within 14-9. Drayton Florence's interception to begin the second half led to the Chargers driving to the Patriots' 4. But on third-and-1, Junior Seau submarined Michael Turner for a 2-yard loss. Kaeding's fourth field goal cut the deficit to 14-12. The Patriots seemed poised to take a big lead on the next drive, but Antonio Cromartie intercepted Brady's pass in the end zone. New England forced a punt, and Maroney had a 20-yard run to set up Brady's 6-yard touchdown pass to Wes Welker for a 21-12 lead with 12:15 remaining. The Chargers punted on fourth-and-10 from the Patriots' 36 with 9:13 remaining and never got the ball back. Brady completed a swing pass to Kevin Faulk for exactly 11 yards on third-and-11, and then connected with Faulk for 14 yards on third-and-3. Maroney had a 5-yard run on third-and-2 with 3:36 left, and clinched the game with his 5-yard run on third-and-4 just after the two-minute warning. Brady was 22 of 33 for 209 yards and 2 touchdowns, with 3 interceptions. Maroney had 25 carries for 122 yards. Rivers was 19 of 37 for 211 yards, with 2 interceptions.

INDIANAPOLIS 38, NEW ENGLAND 34—Joseph Addai's 3-yard touchdown run with 1:00 left, and Marlin Jackson's interception with 16 seconds remaining, capped the Colts' 18-point comeback and led the franchise to its first AFC title since 1970. In the second half, the Colts outgained the Patriots 311-149 in total yards to rally from a 21-6 deficit. The Patriots had scored on touchdown drives of 75 and 72 yards for a 14-3 lead. Two plays later, Asante Samuel intercepted a pass and returned it 39 yards for a touchdown and 21-3 lead with 9:25 left in the second quarter. The Colts drove 80 yards just before halftime to set up Adam Vinatier's field goal to pull within 21-6. The Colts then had consecutive 76-yard touchdown drives to begin the second half, capped by Dan Klecko's tackle-eligible 1-yard touchdown catch and Marvin Harrison's 2-point conversion grab, to tie the game 21-21. Ellis Hobbs returned the ensuing kickoff 80 yards, and Tom Brady's 6-yard touchdown pass to Jabar Gaffney gave the Patriots a 28-21 lead. The Colts then drove to the Patriots' 2. On second-and-goal, Dominic Rhodes fumbled but center Jeff Saturday recovered the ball in the end zone to tie the game 28-28. New England left guard Logan Mankins had also recovered a fumble for a touchdown in the first quarter, in addition to Klecko's scoring grab, which meant three offensive linemen scored a touchdown in the game. Stephen Gostkowski's 28-yard field goal with 7:42 to play gave the Patriots a 31-28 lead, but Peyton Manning quickly completed a 52-yard pass to Dallas Clark to set up Vinatier's 36-yard field goal with 5:31 left. Gostkowski's 43-yard field goal with 3:49 remaining gave New England a 34-31 lead, and the Patriots' defense forced a punt. Brady's third-and-4 pass fell incomplete, and the Colts forced a punt and got the ball on their own 20 with 2:17 to play. Manning completed an 11-yard pass to Reggie Wayne. After an incomplection, he hit Bryan Fletcher with a 32-yard pass. On the next play, Manning completed a 14-yard pass to Wayne, and with a roughing the passer penalty tacked on, the Colts got the ball on the Patriots' 11 with 1:53 to play. On third-and-2 from the 3-yard line, Addai scored up the middle for a 38-34 lead with 1:00 left. The Patriots reached the Colts' 45 with 24 seconds left, and still had a timeout, but Jackson intercepted Brady's pass to clinch the victory. Manning was 27 of 47 for 349 yards and 1 touchdown, with 1 interception. Clark had 6 catches for 137 yards. Brady was 21 of 34 for 232 yards and 1 touchdown, with 1 interception.

PITTSBURGH 34, DENVER 17—Ben Roethlisberger passed for 2 touchdowns and ran for another as the Steelers earned the sixth AFC title in franchise history. The Steelers were the first team to beat the first-, second-, and third-seed in the same postseason, and became just the second team to win three playoff road games to reach the Super Bowl (1985 Patriots). The Steelers converted 10 of 16 third-down situations to maintain possession for 36:07, and forced 4 turnovers that led to 21 points. Pittsburgh scored on each of its four first-half possessions to take a 24-3 halftime lead. On their first drive, Roethlisberger's third-and-3 pass intended for Hines Ward was nearly intercepted by Champ Bailey, but the ball was tipped and caught by Ward for a first down. Jeff Reed's 47-yard field goal completed the drive, and three plays later Joey Porter forced Jake Plummer to fumble. Casey Hampton recovered at the Broncos' 39. Five plays later, on third-and-8, Roethlisberger lofted a touchdown pass to Cedrick Wilson in the back left corner of the end zone. The Broncos answered with a field goal, but the Steelers responded with a 14-play, 80-yard drive capped by Jerome Bettis' 3-yard run with 1:55 left in the half for a 17-3 lead. On the next play from scrimmage, Ike Taylor intercepted Plummer's pass, and Ward caught Roethlisberger's 17-yard scoring toss with seven seconds left in the half for a 24-3 lead. Plummer's 32-yard pass to Rod Smith on third-and-1 led to Ashley Lelie's 30-yard touchdown catch to pull within 24-10. Reed's 42-yard field goal capped the ensuing drive, and Larry Foote intercepted Plummer on the next play from scrimmage. Denver forced a punt and Mike Anderson scored with 7:52 left to pull within 10 points. The Broncos' defense forced a three-and-out, but on fourth-and-10 from their own 20 with 4:52 left, Brett Keisel sacked Plummer and forced him to fumble. Travis Kirschke recovered and Roethlisberger scored on a bootleg run five plays later with 2:59 remaining to clinch the victory. Roethlisberger was 21 of 29 for 275 yards and 2 touchdowns. Plummer was 18 of 30 for 223 yards and 1 touchdown, with 2 interceptions.

NEW ENGLAND 41, PITTSBURGH 27—Tom Brady passed for 2 touchdowns and the Patriots' defense forced 4 turnovers, which resulted in 24 points, as New England advanced to its third Super Bowl in four seasons. Eugene Wilson intercepted Ben Roethlisberger's first pass to set up Adam Vinatier's 48-yard field goal just 3:40 into the game. On Pittsburgh's next possession, Jerome Bettis fumbled on fourth-and-1 and Mike Vrabel recovered. Brady completed a 60-yard touchdown pass to Deion Branch on the next play for a 10-0 lead. Leading 10-3 in the second quarter, Brady's 45-yard pass to Branch set up David Givens' 9-yard scoring catch with 7:08 left in the second quarter. The Steelers responded by driving to the Patriots' 19, but on second-and-6 Rodney Harrison intercepted a pass and returned it 87 yards for a touchdown and 24-3 lead with 2:14 left in the half. Trailing 31-10 and faced with fourth-and-5, Roethlisberger completed a pass to Hines Ward, who caught the ball at the 15-yard line and got a block to walk into the end zone for a 30-yard touchdown. The Steelers' defense then forced a three-and-out and the offense drove to the Patriots' 4. Bettis gained one yard on first down, and Plaxico Burress was unable to come down with an alley-oop pass on second down. Bettis gained 1 yard on third down, and faced with fourth-and-goal from the Patriots' 2, the Steelers settled for Jeff Reed's field goal to cut the deficit to 31-20. The Patriots responded with a field goal and Wilson's second interception two plays later led to Branch's 23-yard touchdown run on a reverse with 2:23 remaining for a 41-20 lead. Brady was 14 of 21 for 207 yards and 2 touchdowns. Branch had 4 receptions for 116 yards. Roethlisberger was 14 of 24 for 226 yards and 2 touchdowns, with 3 interceptions. Ward had 5 catches for 109 yards.

NEW ENGLAND 24, INDIANAPOLIS 14—Adam Vinatieri kicked 5 field goals and the Patriots' defense forced 5 turnovers en route to New England's second Super Bowl appearance in three years. The Colts had 4 first-half possessions, and turned the ball over all four times. The Patriots began the game with a 65-yard touchdown drive. Peyton Manning was intercepted on the Colts' first two possessions, including the first one in the end zone by Rodney Harrison, to set up 2 field goals for a 13-0 lead. The Colts were then forced to punt for the first time in two and a half postseason games, and Justin Snow's snap sailed over Hunter Smith's head. Smith intentionally kicked the ball out of the end zone for a safety. A New England fumble gave Indianapolis life, but Marvin Harrison fumbled at the Patriots' 16 just before halftime, and Tyrone Poole recovered. The Colts scored on Edgerrin James' 2-yard run to open the second half, a drive that featured James' 3-yard run on fourth-and-1. The Patriots drove inside the Colts' 10 on each of their next two possessions, but settled for field goals by Vinatieri for a 21-7 lead. An interception by Ty Law gave New England a chance to put the game away, but Walt Harris intercepted Tom Brady in the end zone for a touchback with 13:28 to play. The Colts took five minutes off the clock on the ensuing drive, but Law intercepted Manning's fourth-and-13 pass with 8:17 left. The Colts forced a punt, but it took them nearly four minutes to drive 67 yards to cut the deficit to 21-14 on Marcus Pollard's 7-yard catch with 2:27 to play. Christian Fauria recovered the onside kick, but the Patriots failed to gain a first down and the Colts got the ball back with 2:01 left, but Manning threw four consecutive incompletions. Vinatieri's 34-yard field goal with 50 seconds left iced the game. Brady was 22 of 37 for 237 yards and 1 touchdown, with 1 interception. Antowain Smith had 22 carries for 100 yards. Law had 3 interceptions. Manning was 23 of 47 for 237 yards and 1 touchdown, with 4 interceptions.

OAKLAND 41, TENNESSEE 24—Rich Gannon passed for 3 touchdowns and ran for another and Oakland's defense forced 2 key turnovers to help catapult the Raiders to their fifth Super Bowl. Both teams scored on each of their first two possessions, but Tennessee took a 17-14 lead on Steve McNair's 9-yard touchdown run with 2:47 left in the half. The Titans reclaimed possession after forcing the Raiders to punt, but on second-and-5 from their own 16, Eric Barton forced Robert Holcombe to fumble. Anthony Dorsett recovered with 1:28 left in the half, and Gannon's 1-yard touchdown pass to Doug Jolley two plays later gave Oakland a 21-17 lead. John Simon then fumbled the ensuing kickoff return. Alvis Whitted recovered the ball at the Titans' 39 with 49 seconds remaining, and Sebastian Janikowski's 43-yard field goal as the half expired increased the lead to 24-17. On the opening drive of the second half, John Parrella's 11-yard sack of McNair on third down pushed the Titans out of field-goal range, and later in the quarter, a fierce Raiders rush forced punter Craig Henrich to abort a punt attempt and, instead, run with the ball. Henrich was tackled at the Titans' 19, setting up Janikowski's second field goal for a 27-17 lead. The Titans responded with McNair's second touchdown run, but the Raiders answered with touchdown drives of 69 and 66 yards on their next two possessions, which consumed more than 10 minutes. In the first three quarters, on 39 plays from scrimmage, the Raiders called only 1 running play, although Gannon was forced to scramble 6 times. Gannon was 29 of 41 for 286 yards and 3 touchdowns, and was the club's leading rusher with 41 yards and 1 touchdown. McNair was 21 of 36 for 194 yards and 1 touchdown.

NEW ENGLAND 24, PITTSBURGH 17—Troy Brown returned a punt for a touchdown, made a key play on a blocked field-goal return, and had 8 receptions for 121 yards, as the Patriots advanced to their third Super Bowl. Neither team threatened early until Brown returned a punt untouched 55 yards for a touchdown to give the Patriots a 7-0 lead. The return came one play after Troy Edwards had been penalized for not attempting to get in bounds while running downfield during punt coverage, forcing the Steelers to punt again. The Steelers responded with Kris Brown's 30-yard field goal early in the second quarter to cut the deficit to 7-3. Late in the first half, Tom Brady injured his ankle while completing a 28-yard pass to Troy Brown. Taking over at the Steelers' 40, Drew Bledsoe completed all 3 of his pass attempts, capped by an 11-yard touchdown pass to David Patten with 58 seconds left in the half to take a 14-3 lead. The Steelers' defense stopped the Patriots on fourth-and-7 from the Steelers' 32 early in the second half, and the offense responded by driving into field-goal range. But Brandon Mitchell blocked Kris Brown's 34-yard attempt. Troy Brown scooped up the ball and ran 11 yards before lateraling to Antwan Harris, who raced the remaining 49 yards untouched for a touchdown and 21-3 lead. Pittsburgh answered with an 8-play, 79-yard drive, capped by Jerome Bettis' 1-yard run. The Steelers' defense forced a punt on the ensuing possession and Edwards returned it 28 yards to set up a 32-yard drive, culminating with Amos Zereoue's 11-yard scoring run, to trim the deficit to 21-17 late in the third quarter. Bledsoe responded by engineering an 11-play, 45-yard drive capped by Adam Vinatieri's 44-yard field goal with 11:12 remaining. Interceptions by Ty Law and Lawyer Milloy, the latter with 2:02 remaining, stopped the Steelers, and Antowain Smith's 19-yard run with 1:56 left allowed the Patriots to run out the clock. Brady was 12 of 18 for 115 yards, and Bledsoe was 10 of 21 for 102 yards and 1 touchdown. Stewart was 24 of 42 for 255 yards, with 3 interceptions.

BALTIMORE 16, OAKLAND 3—Duane Starks intercepted 2 passes and Baltimore's defense forced 5 turnovers as the Ravens earned their first Super Bowl berth. In a battle of field position, the Ravens got their first break when Robert Bailey intercepted Rich Gannon's pass at the Raiders' 19 midway through the first quarter. However, Matt Stover missed a 36-yard field-goal attempt. In the second quarter, the Ravens were pinned on their 4-yard line and faced third-and-18 when Trent Dilfer fired a short pass over the middle to a slanting Shannon Sharpe, who streaked untouched down the middle of the field for a 96-yard touchdown and a 7-0 lead. On the Raiders' next possession, Tony Siragusa knocked down Gannon on a passing play. Gannon left the game with an injured non-throwing shoulder, and Bobby Hoying replaced him. Starks intercepted Hoying's first pass, returning it 9 yards to the Raiders' 20 to set up Stover's 31-yard field goal. Three plays into the second half, Johnnie Harris intercepted a pass by Dilfer. Gannon returned for the Raiders and guided the club to first-and-goal at the Ravens' 2. However, Tyrone Wheatley lost a yard, Gannon was sacked by Jamie Sharper, and on third down Gannon's pass fell incomplete, so the Raiders had to settle for Sebastian Janikowski's 24-yard field goal. The Ravens responded with a 9-play, 51-yard drive, capped by Stover's second field goal to take a 13-3 lead. Early in the fourth quarter, Peter Boulware sacked Gannon and forced him to fumble. Ray Lewis recovered at the Raiders' 7, which set up Stover's third field goal for a 16-3 lead with 7:28 left. Hoying returned for the Raiders and drove Oakland to the Ravens' 5. Hoying's 5-yard touchdown pass to Andre Rison was nullified by offensive pass interference, and Sharper intercepted Hoying two plays later to clinch the victory. Dilfer completed 9 of 18 passes for 190 yards and 1 touchdown, with 1 interception. Gannon was 11 of 21 for 80 yards, with 2 interceptions, while Hoying was 8 of 16 for 107 yards, with 2 interceptions. The Ravens' defense limited the NFL's number-one rushing offense to 24 rushing yards on 17 carries.

TENNESSEE 33, JACKSONVILLE 14—Steve McNair rushed for 91 yards and 2 touchdowns, and the Titans' defense forced 6 turnovers to earn the franchise's first-ever trip to the Super Bowl. The Jaguars marched 62 yards with their first possession and took a 7-0 lead on Mark Brunell's 7-yard touchdown pass to Kyle Brady. The Titans responded with a 44-yard kickoff return by Derrick Mason to set up McNair's tying touchdown pass to Yancey Thigpen. The Jaguars led 14-7 with 1:34 left in the first half when Reggie Barlow fumbled a punt at his own 19 and Steve Jackson recovered to set up Al Del Greco's 34-yard field goal. Roughing-the-passer and defensive pass-interference penalties on the Titans' first drive of the second half set up McNair's 1-yard sneak to give the Titans a 17-10 lead. A fumble gave Tennessee excellent field position, but Frank Wycheck fumbled at the Jaguars' 1 and Lonnie Marts recovered. The Titans responded as Josh Evans sacked Brunell for a safety, and Derrick Mason returned the ensuing free kick 85 yards for a touchdown to give Tennessee a 26-10 lead with 4:56 remaining in the third quarter. The Jaguars committed three turnovers in the fourth quarter, one of which led to a 51-yard scramble on third down by McNair to set up his second touchdown and finish the scoring. McNair was 14 of 23 for 112 yards and 1 touchdown, with 1 interception. Brunell was 19 of 38 for 226 yards and 1 touchdown, with 2 interceptions. Fred Taylor had 19 carries for 110 yards.

DENVER 23, NEW YORK JETS 10—In John Elway's final game in Denver, Terrell Davis rushed for 167 yards, and the Broncos forced 6 Jets' turnovers en route to scoring the game's final 23 points to capture their second consecutive AFC title. The game was played in a strong wind, with the wind chill dipping to 18 degrees and causing special teams problems for both sides. John Hall missed a 42-yard field goal on the game's opening drive, but the Jets kept the game scoreless by forcing Elway to throw an incomplete pass on fourth-and-goal from the Jets' 1 late in the first quarter. Tom Rouen dropped the ball while attempting to punt early in the second quarter, resulting in a 9-yard loss and giving the Jets the ball at the Broncos' 43. However, Keith Byars fumbled on the ensuing possession. Hall ended the half with a 32-yard field goal to give the Jets a 3-0 lead going into the locker room. Blake Spence blocked Rouen's punt early in the second half, and Fred Baxter recovered the ball at the Broncos' 1. Curtis Martin crashed into the end zone on the next play to give the Jets a 10-0 lead with 11:56 left in the third quarter. Elway, who had passed for just 33 yards in the first half, completed a 47-yard pass to Ed McCaffrey on the first play of the next drive, and then found Howard Griffith two plays later for a touchdown. A strong wind knocked Jason Elam's next kickoff to the ground near the Jets' 25. James Farrior momentarily recovered the bouncing ball, but he fumbled and Keith Burns' recovery gave the Broncos the ball at the Jets' 31. Elam's field goal tied the game with 8:23 left, and, after forcing a punt, Elam gave the Broncos the lead with 2:58 left in the quarter. The Broncos' defense forced another punt, and Darrien Gordon returned it 36 yards, setting up Davis' 31-yard touchdown run to give the Broncos 20 points in a span of 11:38. Gordon intercepted Vinny Testaverde twice in the final five minutes, the first of which led to Elam's final field goal. Elway was 13 of 34 for 173 yards and 1 touchdown. Testaverde was 31 of 52 for 356 yards, with 2 interceptions.

DENVER 24, PITTSBURGH 21—John Elway threw 2 touchdown passes, and the Broncos' defense intercepted 2 passes in the end zone as Denver earned its fifth trip to the Super Bowl. Levon Kirkland intercepted Elway's pass on the second play of the game, but Norm Johnson's 38-yard field-goal attempt sailed wide left. Terrell

Davis scampered 43 yards on the next play and scored five plays later to give the Broncos a 7-0 lead. The Steelers responded with a 6-play drive of their own, capped by Kordell Stewart's 33-yard option run down the right side for the game tying touchdown. Darren Perry forced and recovered Davis' fumble at the Steelers' 32 on the next drive, and Pittsburgh marched 68 yards in 11 plays, keyed by 2 third-down passes by Stewart and culminating with Jerome Bettis' 1-yard run. Elway's 17-yard pass to Rod Smith on third-and-10 kept alive the next drive and allowed Jason Elam to cut the deficit to 14-10 with 8:20 left in the half. Ray Crockett intercepted Stewart's bomb in the end zone to halt a Steelers drive with 4:04 left in the half. On the strength of 3 Elway completions, and a 22-yard pass interference penalty by Chad Scott, the Broncos reached the 15-yard line. Elway then threw a swing pass behind Howard Griffith, who reached back and made a one-handed grab before stepping into the end zone with 1:47 remaining. The Broncos forced a punt, and Darrien Gordon's 19-yard return gave them the ball at their own 46 with 43 seconds left in the half. Carnell Lake's 34-yard pass interference penalty put Denver in position, and Elway's 1-yard pass to Ed McCaffrey with 13 seconds left in the half gave Denver a 24-14 lead. The Steelers used nearly the first seven minutes of the second half to drive to the Broncos' 5, only to have Stewart's pass intercepted in the end zone by Allen Aldridge. The next scoring opportunity came when the Steelers got the ball back following a punt with 5:43 left in the game. Stewart threw the ball eight times and ran two times on the 10-play, 79-yard drive, capped by his 15-yard touchdown pass to Charles Johnson with 2:46 left to cut the deficit to 24-21. The Steelers elected to kick deep and had the Broncos pinned at their own 15-yard line on third-and-6 with 2:00 left. But Elway fired an 18-yard pass to Shannon Sharpe. After a Steelers timeout, Elway threw a 10-yard pass to McCaffrey, and Davis broke free for a 19-yard run two plays later to ice the AFC championship. Elway was 18 of 31 for 210 yards and 2 touchdowns, with 1 interception. Davis had 26 carries for 139 yards. Stewart was 18 of 36 for 201 yards and 1 touchdown, with 3 interceptions. Bettis had 23 carries for 105 yards. In what was an evenly matched game, the teams each had 23 first downs, the Steelers had 9 more total yards, while Denver had the ball for two more seconds than Pittsburgh.

NEW ENGLAND 20, JACKSONVILLE 6—Otis Smith's 47-yard fumble return with 2:24 remaining gave the Patriots their second Super Bowl berth in franchise history. The Patriots received a couple big plays from their special teams. Jacksonville punted after its opening possession, but the snap was high. Larry Whigham tackled the scrambling Bryan Barker at the 4-yard line, setting up Curtis Martin's 1-yard touchdown. After a Jacksonville field goal, Ray Lucas stripped punt returner Chris Hudson of the ball. Mike Bartrum recovered it at the 20-yard line, and Adam Vinatieri kicked a 29-yard field goal to put New England ahead 10-3. Shawn Jefferson hauled in a 38-yard pass to the Jaguars' 2-yard line with eight seconds left before halftime after Ben Coates' 5-yard reception on fourth-and-2 kept a Patriots' drive alive. Vinatieri's field goal gave the Patriots a 10-point cushion. Eddie Robinson's fumble recovery led to Mike Hollis' 28-yard field goal to pull the Jaguars within 7 points. In the fourth quarter the Jaguars drove to the Patriots' 5-yard line, but Willie Clay intercepted Mark Brunell's pass in the end zone with 3:43 left to preserve the 13-6 lead. The Jaguars forced New England to punt, and Jacksonville got the ball on their own 42-yard line with 2:36 to play. However, Chris Slade stripped James Stewart of the ball, knocking it into Smith's hands. Smith streaked down the right sideline for the score. Tedy Bruschi intercepted Brunell near midfield to quell the Jaguars' third consecutive upset bid.

PITTSBURGH 20, INDIANAPOLIS 16—Byron (Bam) Morris ran 1 yard for a touchdown with 1:34 remaining to lift the Steelers to their first AFC championship in 16 years. Despite the late touchdown, however, Pittsburgh didn't secure its Super Bowl berth until Colts quarterback Jim Harbaugh's desperation pass on the game's final play fell incomplete in the end zone. The Steelers, who lost the 1994 AFC title game to San Diego when their final possession ended three yards short of the end zone in the final minute, began their last possession in this game at their own 33-yard line and trailing 16-13 with 3:03 left. Five plays later, quarterback Neil O'Donnell kept the winning drive alive by completing a 9-yard pass to Andre Hastings on fourth-and-3 from the 47. A 37-yard pass to Ernie Mills moved the ball to the Colts' 1, and two plays later Morris bulled his way into the end zone. Indianapolis' final chance began at its 16-yard line with 1:30 to go. Harbaugh passed for 38 yards and scrambled for 17 as the Colts reached Pittsburgh's 29 with five seconds remaining. His final heave into the end zone nearly was caught by Aaron Bailey, but Bailey was not able to cradle the ball as he hit the ground. Harbaugh finished with 21 completions in 33 attempts for 267 yards and 1 touchdown. O'Donnell was 25 of 41 for 205 yards and 1 touchdown for the Steelers. Upstart Indianapolis was bidding to become only the second team (the 1985 Patriots were the first) to win three consecutive road games en route to the Super Bowl.

SAN DIEGO 17, PITTSBURGH 13—Stan Humphries threw 2 second-half touchdown passes and the Chargers turned back the Steelers with a goal-line stand late in the game to earn their first trip to the Super Bowl. Neil O'Donnell's 16-yard touchdown pass to running back John L. Williams and a pair of field goals by Gary Anderson staked Pittsburgh to a 13-3 lead early in the second half. But Humphries' 43-yard touchdown pass to tight end Alfred Pupunu pulled San Diego within 13-10 midway through the third quarter, and his 43-yard strike to Tony Martin with 5:13 left in the game gave the Chargers the lead. O'Donnell tried to rally the Steelers by completing 7 consecutive passes and marching his team from its own 17-yard line to a first-and-goal at San Diego's 9. Three plays later, it was fourth-and-goal from the 3, but O'Donnell's pass, intended for running back Barry Foster, was knocked down at the goal line by Chargers linebacker Dennis Gibson with 1:04 remaining. San Diego, which came from behind to win for the second consecutive week (the Chargers beat Miami 22-21 in the divisional playoffs after trailing 21-6 at halftime), snapped a six-game losing streak in Pittsburgh despite heavy deficits in total yards (415-226), plays (80-47), and time of possession (37:13-22:47). O'Donnell passed for 349 yards for the Steelers on AFC title-game records for attempts (54) and completions (32).

BUFFALO 30, KANSAS CITY 13—Thurman Thomas rushed for 186 yards and 3 touchdowns as the Bills qualified for an unprecedented fourth consecutive Super Bowl. Thomas, who ran for 129 yards in the first two quarters, helped stake Buffalo to a 20-6 advantage at intermission by scoring on touchdown runs of 12 and 3 yards. The Chiefs had an opportunity to cut that deficit in half, marching 75 yards to the Bills' 5-yard line in the closing seconds of the first half. But Joe Montana's pass to a wide-open Kimble Anders near the goal line bounced off the running back's hands and was intercepted in the end zone by Buffalo safety Henry Jones. Montana, who completed only 9 of 23 passes for 125 yards, sat out most of the second half after suffering a concussion on the third play of the third quarter. Backup Dave Krieg, who completed 16 of 29 passes for 198 yards, came on and led a 90-yard touchdown drive that pulled Kansas City within 20-13 late in the third quarter. But Buffalo answered with a 14-play, 79-yard march capped by Steve Christie's 18-yard field goal 3:05 into the fourth quarter. Thomas' third touchdown, a 3-yard run with 5:30 remaining, put the game out of reach. Thomas averaged 5.6 yards on his 33 carries as the Bills overwhelmed the Chiefs on the ground, outrushing them 229 yards to 52.

BUFFALO 29, MIAMI 10—The Bills used an efficient offense and an opportunistic defense to rout the Dolphins. The Bills forced 5 turnovers, including 3 in the first half, as they built a 13-3 halftime advantage. The Dolphins fumbled away the second-half kickoff, and Buffalo recovered, then drove 24 yards to make it 20-3 on Kenneth Davis' 2-yard touchdown run. Steve Christie secured the victory with 3 more field goals, giving him a postseason-record-tying 5 for the day. Buffalo utilized a balanced attack (182 rushing yards, 176 passing yards) that held the football for more than 36 minutes. The Bills' defense limited Miami to 33 rushing yards while recording 4 sacks. Dolphins quarterback Dan Marino completed 22 of 45 passes for 268 yards and a touchdown, but he was intercepted twice and fumbled once. Buffalo advanced to its third consecutive Super Bowl, joining the Miami Dolphins of the 1971-73 seasons as the only teams to accomplish that feat.

BUFFALO 10, DENVER 7—The Bills overcame their offensive futility to win a second straight AFC championship. Buffalo collected only 213 total yards, while allowing 304 to Denver. But the Broncos managed only 1 touchdown on seven trips into Buffalo territory, including misses on 3 field-goal attempts. The game was scoreless until 5:28 remained in the third quarter, when Buffalo's Jeff Wright tipped John Elway's screen pass over the middle. Linebacker Carlton Bailey intercepted the deflected pass and returned it 11 yards for a touchdown. The Bills made it 10-0 on Scott Norwood's 44-yard field goal with 4:18 to play in the game. Denver answered with an 85-yard drive, capped by Gary Kubiak's 3-yard touchdown run with 1:43 remaining. Denver recovered the ensuing onside kick at its 49-yard line, but turned over the ball one play later when running back Steve Sewell fumbled after being hit by the Bills' Kirby Jackson. Kubiak, who entered the game in the fourth quarter when Elway was injured, completed 11 of 12 passes for 136 yards in his final NFL game.

BUFFALO 51, LOS ANGELES RAIDERS 3—The Bills' No-Huddle offense overwhelmed the Raiders as Buffalo earned its first trip to the Super Bowl. The Bills set an NFL postseason record with 41 first-half points, led by Jim Kelly's 2 scoring passes to James Lofton (13 and 8 yards). Kenneth Davis rushed for 3 touchdowns (2 in the record-setting first half) to tie an AFC playoff record. Thurman Thomas finished with 138 rushing yards (including a 12-yard touchdown) and 61 receiving yards. Linebacker Darryl Talley added a 27-yard interception return. Kelly completed 17 of 23 passes for 300 yards, while Lofton had 5 receptions for 113 yards. Buffalo's 51 points also tied an AFC playoff record.

DENVER 37, CLEVELAND 21—John Elway passed for 385 yards and 3 touchdowns to lead the Broncos to their third AFC title in four seasons. Elway tossed touchdown passes of 70 yards to wide receiver Michael Young and 5 yards to tight end Orson Mobley to help Denver build a 24-7 third-quarter lead. After Cleveland scored 2 quick touchdowns to pull close at 24-21, the Broncos answered by scoring on three of their four possessions in the fourth quarter. Elway hit Sammy Winder with a 39-yard touchdown, then David Treadwell kicked 34- and 31-yard field goals to clinch the victory. Elway completed 20 of 36 passes, and set club records for passing yards and total offense (424).

CINCINNATI 21, BUFFALO 10—Rookie running back Ickey Woods ran for 102 yards and 2 touchdowns to lead the Bengals to victory. Cincinnati controlled the game with its running attack, producing 175 yards on 50 rushes. The Bengals' defense chipped in with 3 interceptions, including 1 by Eric Thomas that set up Woods' first touchdown. After Buffalo tied the game at 7-7, Boomer Esiason found James Brooks for a 10-yard touchdown pass that gave Cincinnati the lead for good. Woods clinched the victory with his second scoring run, which capped a drive that was kept alive by a fake punt. The Bengals limited Buffalo to 181 total yards.

DENVER 38, CLEVELAND 33—Jeremiah Castille's fumble recovery at the 3-yard line with 1:05 to play preserved the Broncos' victory over the Browns. Denver built leads of 21-3 and 28-10 before Cleveland stormed back behind quarterback Bernie Kosar to tie the game at 31-31. The Broncos answered with a 75-yard drive, capped by John Elway's 20-yard scoring pass to Sammy Winder, to take a 38-31 lead with 4:01 left. The Browns took the ensuing kickoff and drove 67 yards to the Broncos' 8, where Earnest Byner took a handoff and had a clear path to the tying score. But Castille stripped the ball from Byner, then recovered it at the 3-yard line to dash the Browns' hopes. Kosar completed 26 of 41 passes for 356 yards and 3 touchdowns for Cleveland, while Elway passed for 281 yards and 3 touchdowns for Denver.

DENVER 23, CLEVELAND 20 (OT)—Rich Karlis' 33-yard field goal 5:38 into overtime gave the Broncos a dramatic victory over the Browns. Trailing 20-13, Denver assumed possession at its 2-yard line with 5:32 left in regulation. In 15 plays, John Elway drove the Broncos 98 yards to the tying touchdown on a 5-yard pass to Mark Jackson with 37 seconds left. Elway was 6 of 9 for 78 yards on the drive, including a key 20-yard completion to Jackson on third-and-18 from the Browns' 48. He also scrambled twice for 20 yards. After the Broncos forced the Browns to punt in overtime, Elway completed passes of 22 and 28 yards to lead a 60-yard drive to the winning field goal. Elway finished with 22 completions in 38 attempts for 244 yards. He also rushed for 56 yards on 4 carries. The Browns' Bernie Kosar completed 18 of 32 passes for 259 yards and 2 touchdowns, including a 48-yard scoring strike to Brian Brennan that gave Cleveland a 20-13 fourth-quarter lead.

NEW ENGLAND 31, MIAMI 14—The Patriots picked an opportune time to end their 18-game losing streak in the Orange Bowl, converting 4 of 6 turnovers into 24 points to win their first AFC title. A fumble recovery set up New England's first points, a field goal by Tony Franklin. Miami responded with an 80-yard touchdown drive for a 7-3 lead, the Dolphins' only lead of the day. Tony Eason answered with touchdown passes to Tony Collins, Derrick Ramsey, and Robert Weathers, giving New England a 24-7 third-quarter lead. The scoring passes to Ramsey and Weathers were set up by fumble recoveries. After Miami closed to 24-14, the Patriots clinched the victory on Moseley's 1-yard touchdown run with 7:34 to play. Tatupu's score also was set up by a fumble recovery. The

CHAMPIONSHIP GAMES

Patriots rushed for 255 yards, led by Craig James (22 carries for 105 yards) and Weathers (16 for 87). With the victory, the Patriots became the last of the original eight AFL teams to win an AFL or AFC title. Miami lost for the first time in six AFC championship games.

MIAMI 45, PITTSBURGH 28—Dan Marino passed for 421 yards and 4 touchdowns, both AFC Championship Game records, to lead the Dolphins to victory. Marino found Mark Clayton for a 40-yard scoring pass on Miami's first possession. The Steelers, however, used their ground attack to forge a 14-10 second-quarter lead. That lead lasted only 1:22, the time it took Marino to drive Miami 77 yards, the last 41 on his scoring toss to Mark Duper, which gave the Dolphins the lead for good. Marino finished with 21 completions in 32 attempts. His favorite targets were running back Tony Nathan (8 catches for 114 yards), Duper (5 for 148 and 2 touchdowns), and Mark Clayton (4 for 95 and 1 score). Miami amassed 569 total yards to 455 for Pittsburgh. The Steelers' Mark Malone could not keep up with Marino, despite passing for 312 yards and 3 touchdowns. John Stallworth caught 4 passes for 111 yards, including touchdowns of 65 and 19 yards, in what turned out to be the last postseason game for the Steelers' great.

LOS ANGELES RAIDERS 30, SEATTLE 14—The Raiders dominated the Seahawks to avenge two regular-season defeats to Seattle. Los Angeles stacked its defensive line, limiting Seahawks running back Curt Warner to 26 rushing yards. Seattle was forced to go to the air, and the results were disastrous—5 interceptions and 4 sacks. Meanwhile, the Raiders amassed 401 total yards, led by Marcus Allen, who ran for 154 yards on 25 carries and caught 7 passes for 62 yards. Los Angeles built a 20-0 halftime lead on the strength of 2 field goals by Chris Bahr and 2 touchdown runs by Frank Hawkins. Both of Hawkins' scores were set up by passes from Jim Plunkett to Malcolm Barnwell. The Raiders clinched the victory with a 2-play drive in the third quarter. Allen broke off a 46-yard run, then caught a 3-yard touchdown pass to make it 27-0. Plunkett was 17 of 24 for 214 yards, including 5 to Barnwell for 116 yards.

MIAMI 14, NEW YORK JETS 0—Linebacker A.J. Duhe scored one touchdown and set up another to lead the Dolphins to victory. The day belonged to the defenses, thanks to a steady downpour that turned the field to mud and made the football slippery. Neither offense threatened in a first half that ended 0-0. On the opening drive of the third quarter, Duhe intercepted a tipped pass from Richard Todd at the Jets' 48. An eight-play drive ensued, capped by Woody Bennett's 7-yard touchdown run. In the fourth quarter, Duhe picked off a screen pass in the Jets' backfield and returned it 35 yards for the clinching touchdown. The teams combined for just 337 total yards (198 by Miami, 139 by New York).

CINCINNATI 27, SAN DIEGO 7—The Bengals shut down the Chargers' record-setting passing attack to win one of the coldest games in NFL history. The temperature was minus-9 degrees at game time, and a 35-mile per hour wind created a wind-chill factor of minus-59 degrees. Cincinnati scored first, on a 31-yard field goal by Jim Breech. On the ensuing kickoff, San Diego's James Brooks fumbled, and the Bengals recovered to set up a touchdown that made it 10-0. San Diego cut the lead to 10-7, but the Bengals, aided by a long kickoff return, answered quickly with a short touchdown drive that gave them a 17-7 halftime lead. In the second half, Cincinnati converted a fumble recovery into a field goal, then drove 68 yards in 14 plays for the clinching touchdown. San Diego, which averaged more than 300 passing yards a game during the regular season, managed only 173.

OAKLAND 34, SAN DIEGO 27—The Raiders built a 28-7 lead, then used a ball-control offense to hold off the Chargers and become the second wild-card team to qualify for the Super Bowl. The Raiders moved at will during a first half reminiscent of AFL shootouts in the 1960s. Jim Plunkett passed for 2 touchdowns and ran for 1 to give Oakland a 21-7 lead at the end of the first quarter. After Mark van Eeghen's 3-yard run made it 28-7, the Chargers rallied to within 28-24 in the third period. But the Raiders answered with two time-consuming field-goal drives to make it 34-24, and after San Diego kicked a field goal to close within 7 points, the Raiders ran the final 6:43 off the clock. Plunkett completed 14 of 18 passes for 261 yards, including 5 completions to tight end Raymond Chester for 102 yards and a score.

PITTSBURGH 27, HOUSTON 13—The Steelers used a stifling run defense to hold off the Oilers and advance to their fourth Super Bowl. Pittsburgh limited Houston to 24 rushing yards, including only 15 yards on 17 carries by NFL rushing champion Earl Campbell. Still, Houston led 7-0 after Vernon Perry returned an interception 75 yards for a touchdown. Terry Bradshaw rebounded to fire touchdown passes to Bennie Cunningham (16 yards) and John Stallworth (20 yards) to help the Steelers take a 17-10 halftime lead. The Oilers cut the deficit to 17-13 early in the fourth quarter, but Pittsburgh answered with a long drive for a field goal. The Steelers then recovered a fumble to set up Rocky Bleier's 4-yard touchdown run that clinched the victory. The Steelers totaled 358 yards while limiting the Oilers to 227.

PITTSBURGH 34, HOUSTON 5—The Steelers' defense and freezing rain combined to pound the Oilers. Pittsburgh collected 9 turnovers, shortening the field for the Steelers' offense (their longest drive of the day was 57 yards). Leading 14-3, Pittsburgh exploded for 17 points in the final 1:30 of the first half. Fumble recoveries set up Terry Bradshaw's touchdown passes to Lynn Swann (29 yards) and John Stallworth (17 yards), and Roy Gerela's 37-yard field goal that made it 31-3 at intermission. The Steelers recorded interceptions on 4 of the Oilers' 6 second-half possessions. The teams combined for a postseason-record 12 fumbles.

DENVER 20, OAKLAND 17—The Broncos used three big plays to win in their first title-game appearance. Two plays after falling behind 3-0, Craig Morton threw a 35-yard pass to Haven Moses, who outraced the Raiders' secondary to complete a 74-yard touchdown pass. In the third quarter, Brison Manor recovered a fumble at the Raiders' 17 to set up Jon Keyworth's 1-yard touchdown run, which gave Denver a 14-3 lead. After Oakland cut the deficit to 14-10, Denver linebacker Bob Swenson intercepted Ken Stabler's pass and returned it to the Oakland 17, setting up Moses' second touchdown catch. OAKLAND 24, PITTSBURGH 7—The Raiders played mistake-free football to end the reign of the two-time Super Bowl champion Steelers. The Raiders parlayed a partially blocked punt into a 3-0 first-quarter lead. They made it 10-0 in the second period when linebacker Willie Hall intercepted Terry Bradshaw's pass and returned it to the Steelers' 1, setting up Clarence Davis' 1-yard scoring run. After Pittsburgh closed the gap to 10-7, Ken Stabler's 4-yard touchdown pass to Warren Bankston seconds before halftime gave Oakland a 17-7 lead. Stabler added a 5-yard scoring pass to Pete Banaszak in the third quarter to complete the scoring.

PITTSBURGH 16, OAKLAND 10—The Steelers held off the Raiders in a game punctuated by hard hitting and a furious fourth quarter. The defenses and the playing conditions (wind, snow flurries, and 16-degree temperatures) combined to make the first three quarters a defensive struggle. Leading 3-0 in the fourth period, Pittsburgh broke through when linebacker Jack Lambert recovered a fumble in Raiders' territory to set up Franco Harris' 25-yard scoring run. After the Raiders answered with a 14-yard touchdown pass from Ken Stabler to Mike Siani, Lambert recovered another fumble (his third recovery of the day) to set up Terry Bradshaw's touchdown pass to John Stallworth. In the final minute, Oakland kicked a field goal to make it 16-10, then recovered an onside kick. Stabler completed a long pass to Cliff Branch, who made it to the Steelers' 15 but could not get out of bounds before time expired.

PITTSBURGH 24, OAKLAND 13—The Steelers won their first championship of any kind thanks to a defense that allowed only 29 rushing yards and an offense that exploded for 3 fourth-quarter touchdowns. Trailing 10-3, Pittsburgh tied the game in the fourth quarter on Franco Harris' 8-yard touchdown run. After the ensuing kickoff, linebacker Jack Ham intercepted a pass to set up Terry Bradshaw's 6-yard touchdown pass to Lynn Swann that gave Pittsburgh a 17-10 lead. The Raiders answered by driving to the Steelers' 7, but were forced to settle for a field goal. Another interception set up Harris' second touchdown run, which clinched the victory. MIAMI 27, OAKLAND 10—The Dolphins used a methodical running game to pound out a victory over the Raiders. Larry Csonka gave Miami a 7-0 lead with an 11-yard touchdown run, which was set up by quarterback Bob Griese's 27-yard scramble. Csonka's second touchdown run made it 14-0 just before halftime. The teams traded field goals, then Oakland's Ken Stabler found Mike Siani for a 25-yard touchdown pass that made it 17-10. But in the fourth quarter, the Dolphins countered with another field goal and Csonka's third touchdown of the day to seal the victory. Miami averaged 5 yards a carry while compiling 266 rushing yards. Csonka gained 117 yards on 29 carries.

MIAMI 21, PITTSBURGH 17—Quarterback Bob Griese came off the bench in the second half to lead the Dolphins to victory and preserve their hopes of a perfect season. Griese, who had been sidelined for 10 weeks with an ankle injury, directed an 80-yard drive to give Miami its first lead at 14-10. The key play on the drive was Griese's 52-yard pass to Paul Warfield. Griese then led a 49-yard touchdown march that increased Miami's lead to 21-10 in the fourth quarter. Pittsburgh closed within 21-17, but the Steelers were stymied by 2 interceptions after that. Miami's first touchdown was set up by punter Larry Seiple, who ran 37 yards out of punt formation to the Steelers' 12 in the second quarter.

MIAMI 21, BALTIMORE 0—The Dolphins used big plays to upend the defending Super Bowl champion Colts. Miami took a quick 7-0 lead when the Colts' defense, frozen by Bob Griese's play-action fake, allowed Paul Warfield to get behind them for a 75-yard touchdown catch. It stayed that way until the third quarter, when the Colts' Johnny Unitas tried to go deep. His underthrown pass was intercepted by Dick Anderson, who weaved his way 62 yards for a touchdown that gave Miami a 14-0 lead. The Dolphins put the game away in the fourth quarter when Griese hit Warfield again, this time for 50 yards, to set up Larry Csonka's 5-yard touchdown run. Baltimore outgained Miami 302 yards to 286.

BALTIMORE 27, OAKLAND 17—Johnny Unitas completed only 11 of 30 passes, but he made them count for 245 yards to lift the Colts to victory in the first AFC title game. Unitas' passing spotted Baltimore to a 10-0 lead, but the Raiders, led by 43-year-old quarterback George Blanda, tied the game on a field goal and Blanda's 38-yard scoring pass to Fred Biletnikoff. Unitas responded by leading Baltimore to a field goal and a touchdown, but Blanda came right back with another scoring pass to make it 20-17. After that, however, Blanda suffered 2 interceptions in the Colts' end zone, and Unitas found Ray Perkins for a 68-yard scoring pass that clinched the victory. Blanda was 17 of 32 for 271 yards.

KANSAS CITY 17, OAKLAND 7—The Chiefs used a stellar defensive effort to win their third league title in the last AFL Championship Game. The Raiders took an early 7-0 lead on Charlie Smith's 3-yard touchdown run, but they were shut out after that. Meanwhile, the Chiefs tied the game on Wendell Hayes' 1-yard scoring run, which was set up by Len Dawson's 41-yard pass to Frank Pitts. In the third period, Kansas City drove 94 yards to the tie-breaking touchdown on Robert Holmes' 5-yard run. Leading 14-7, the Chiefs tried to give the game away in the fourth quarter, fumbling 3 times inside their 40. But the defense turned the Raiders away with 2 interceptions and a sack, and then the offense added a field goal. The Chiefs held the Raiders to 233 total yards while intercepting 4 passes, all inside the Chiefs' 30.

NEW YORK JETS 27, OAKLAND 23—A rookie mistake helped the Jets defeat the Raiders in frigid conditions. Oakland gained 443 yards to 400 for New York as the teams combined for 96 pass attempts. The Raiders rallied from deficits of 10-0 and 20-13 to take a 23-20 lead in the fourth quarter. Jets quarterback Joe Namath responded with his second scoring pass of the day to Don Maynard to reclaim the lead for New York. Daryle Lamonica, who completed 20 of 47 passes for 401 yards, marched the Raiders to the Jets' 24 with two minutes to play. He threw a backwards swing pass to rookie halfback Charlie Smith, who could not make the catch but failed to cover the loose ball. The Jets recovered the fumbled lateral to secure the victory. Namath completed 19 of 49 passes for 266 yards and 3 touchdowns. The Raiders' Fred Biletnikoff had 7 catches for 190 yards.

OAKLAND 40, HOUSTON 7—A touchdown on a fake field goal propelled the Raiders to an easy victory over the Oilers. Oakland built a 10-0 lead on a 37-yard field goal by George Blanda and Hewritt Dixon's 69-yard touchdown run. Late in the first half, the Raiders lined up for another field goal. This time, however, holder Daryle Lamonica rolled to his right and threw a 17-yard touchdown pass to Dave Kocourek for a 17-0 halftime lead. The Raiders coasted from there, led by a running attack that amassed 263 yards. Dixon (21 for 144 yards) and Pete Banaszak (15 for 116) led the ground game.

KANSAS CITY 31, BUFFALO 7—An interception just before halftime was the turning point as the Chiefs earned a spot in the first Super Bowl. Len Dawson fired 2 touchdown passes to give Kansas City a 14-7 lead. Near the end of the first half, Buffalo, led by quarterback Jack Kemp, advanced to the Chiefs' 10. But Kemp's bid for the tying touchdown pass was thwarted by Chiefs safety Johnny Robinson, who intercepted Kemp's pass in the end zone and returned it 72 yards to set up a field goal. Instead of a 14-14 tie, Kansas City led 17-7 at halftime, then put the game away with 2

BUFFALO 23, SAN DIEGO 0—The Bills used a host of defensive alignments to shut out the Chargers. San Diego had outgained Buffalo 816-381 in two regular-season meetings, but in this game the Bills employed three-man lines, safety blitzes, and double coverage of receiver Lance Alworth to limit San Diego to 229 total yards. San Diego's defense was equally successful for the first 25 minutes, until the Bills broke through on Jack Kemp's 18-yard touchdown pass to Ernie Warlick. Minutes later, George (Butch) Byrd returned a punt 74 yards for a touchdown to give Buffalo a 14-0 halftime lead. The Bills added 3 field goals in the second half.

BUFFALO 20, SAN DIEGO 7—The Bills utilized a balanced attack to defeat the Chargers. San Diego scored on its first possession, and was threatening again, when star running back Keith Lincoln left with an injury. The Chargers struggled after that, while the Bills, led by Cookie Gilchrist (16 carries for 122 yards), took control. Jack Kemp clinched the victory in the fourth quarter by passing 48 yards to Glenn Bass, then sneaking 1 yard for a touchdown on the next play. Buffalo ran for 219 yards and passed for 168.

SAN DIEGO 51, BOSTON 10—Keith Lincoln put on a spectacular display as the Chargers crushed the Patriots. Lincoln rushed for 206 yards on only 13 carries (15.9-yard average per carry), including a 67-yard touchdown run that helped San Diego build a 21-7 first-quarter lead. He also caught 7 passes for 123 yards, including a 25-yard touchdown pass from John Hadl. Lincoln, with 329 total yards from scrimmage, outgained the Patriots, who had only 261. He also completed a pass for 20 yards. The Chargers finished with 610 yards of total offense, including 318 rushing yards.

DALLAS TEXANS 20, HOUSTON 17 (OT)—Tommy Brooker's 25-yard field goal after 17:54 of overtime lifted the Texans over the Oilers in the longest game in history (to that point). Dallas built a 17-0 halftime lead behind Abner Haynes, who had a touchdown rushing and receiving. But then the Texans turned conservative, and Houston rallied to tie. In overtime, despite Haynes' gaffe on the coin toss that gave the Oilers both the football and the wind, neither team could score. Dallas finally broke through when defensive end Bill Hull intercepted a pass and returned it to midfield. The Texans drove to the Houston 18 to position Brooker for the winning kick. Dallas' defense made numerous big plays, intercepting 5 passes and blocking a potential winning field goal.

HOUSTON 10, SAN DIEGO 3—George Blanda kicked and passed the Oilers to victory over the Chargers. The game was expected to be a shootout, but 7 turnovers by Houston and 6 by San Diego turned it into a defensive battle. The only score of the first half, Blanda's 46-yard field goal, was set up by a 9-yard punt. In the third quarter, Blanda led the Oilers 80 yards, the last 35 coming on his pass to Billy Cannon. San Diego managed a field goal early in the fourth quarter, but no more.

HOUSTON 24, LOS ANGELES CHARGERS 16—George Blanda passed for 301 yards and 3 scores to lead the Oilers over the Chargers in the first AFL Championship Game. Blanda threw a 17-yard touchdown pass to Dave Smith and kicked an 18-yard field goal to give Houston a 10-9 halftime lead. Blanda made it 17-9 with a 7-yard scoring pass to Bill Groman, but the Chargers answered with a 2-yard scoring run by Paul Lowe. Blanda struck again in the fourth quarter, hitting Billy Cannon on third-and-9 from the Oilers' 12. Cannon broke a tackle and was off to the races for an 88-yard touchdown pass. Trailing 24-16, the Chargers had a chance to tie (the AFL allowed 2-point conversions), but they were stopped at Houston's 22 in the final minute. Lowe led Los Angeles with 165 yards on 21 carries.

NEW YORK GIANTS 23, GREEN BAY 20 (OT)—After missing 2 fourth-quarter field goals, Lawrence Tynes made a 47-yard field goal 2:35 into overtime as the Giants earned their second Super Bowl appearance in 17 years. Playing in sub-zero temperatures, the kickoff wind chill of minus-23 made this the third coldest game in NFL postseason history, trailing just the 1967 NFL Championship Game (The Ice Bowl), and the 1981 AFC Championship Game. The Giants outgained the Packers 377-264 in total yards, and maintained possession for 40:01 of the game's 62:35. Tynes' second field goal of the first half gave the Giants a 6-0 lead. On the next play, Brett Favre completed a 90-yard touchdown pass to Donald Driver for a 7-6 lead. The Packers added a field goal just before halftime, but the Giants opened the second half with a 12-play, 69-yard touchdown drive, capped by Brandon Jacobs' 1-yard scoring plunge for a 13-10 lead. Tramon Williams returned the ensuing kickoff 49 yards, and Favre completed a 12-yard touchdown pass to Donald Lee moments later for a 17-13 lead with 5:00 left in the third quarter. Domenik Hixon answered with a 33-yard kickoff return, and Eli Manning completed a 23-yard pass to Amani Toomer to set up Ahmad Bradshaw's 4-yard scoring run for a 20-17 advantage. The Packers drove to the Giants' 31, but R.W. McQuarters intercepted a pass. However, Ryan Grant forced McQuarters to fumble the return, and Mark Tauscher recovered at the Giants' 19. Mason Crosby tied the game four plays later with a 37-yard field goal with 11:46 remaining. Tynes missed a 43-yard field-goal attempt wide left with 6:49 left, and his 36-yard field-goal attempt as time expired also went wide left, forcing overtime. The Packers won the coin toss, but on the second play of overtime Corey Webster intercepted Favre's pass and returned the ball 9 yards to the Packers' 34. On fourth-and-5, Tynes kicked a 47-yard field goal for victory. Manning was 21 of 40 for 251 yards. Plaxico Burress had 11 receptions for 151 yards. Favre was 19 of 35 for 236 yards and 2 touchdowns, with 2 interceptions. Driver had 5 catches for 141 yards.

CHICAGO 39, NEW ORLEANS 14—Thomas Jones rushed for 2 touchdowns and the Bears' defense forced 4 turnovers in windy, cold, wet conditions en route to Chicago's first NFC title since 1985. The game-time temperature was 28 degrees, with a wind chill of 13 degrees. A pair of first-quarter fumbles led to field goals and gave Chicago a 6-0 lead. With the score 9-0, Jones carried the ball all 8 plays of a 69-yard drive, capped by his 2-yard run, for a 16-0 lead with 1:56 left in the half. The Saints drove 73 yards in 1:10 to pull within 16-7 just before halftime. Then, on the Saints' second play of the third quarter, Drew Brees lofted a pass down the left sideline to Reggie Bush, who cut across the field and raced 88 yards for a touchdown to pull within 16-14. The Saints had a chance to take the lead during their next possession, but long-distance kicker Billy Cundiff's 47-yard field-goal attempt was short. The Saints forced another punt, but Brad Maynard's punt went out of bounds at the 5-yard line. Two plays later, Brees was pressured in the end zone and tossed a pass out into the flat, but with no receiver in the area he was flagged for intentional grounding, resulting in a safety. Two plays into the fourth quarter, Rex Grossman completed a 33-yard touchdown pass to leaping Bernard Berrian for a 25-14 lead. Adewale Ogunleye forced Brees to fumble two plays later, leading to Cedric Benson's 12-yard scoring run. Later in the quarter, following Brees' fourth-down incomplete pass, Jones added a 15-yard touchdown with 4:19 to play. Grossman was 11 of 26 for 144 yards and 1 touchdown. Jones rushed 19 times for 123 yards. Brees was 27 of 49 for 354 yards and 2 touchdowns, with 1 interception. Bush had 7 catches for 132 yards.

SEATTLE 34, CAROLINA 14—Matt Hasselbeck passed for 2 touchdowns and Shaun Alexander rushed for 132 yards and 2 scores as the Seahawks earned their first-ever Super Bowl appearance. The Seahawks forced 4 turnovers, outgained the Panthers 393-212 total yards, and held the ball for 41:51. The Seahawks scored 17 points in a span of 5:38 in the first half to pull away. Midway through the first quarter, Hasselbeck completed a 28-yard pass to backup quarterback Seneca Wallace, who had lined up split left. On the next play, Jerramy Stevens caught a 17-yard touchdown pass. Three plays later, Lofa Tatupu intercepted Jake Delhomme's pass to set up Josh Brown's 24-yard field goal. After Marquand Manuel intercepted Delhomme's pass, Alexander scored four plays later for a 17-0 lead with 14:53 left in the half. Steve Smith returned a punt 59 yards for a touchdown with 9:05 remaining in the half, but the Seahawks responded with a 10-play drive to set up Brown's second field goal. Seattle opened the second half with a 65-yard drive capped by Darrell Jackson's 20-yard touchdown catch for a 27-7 lead with 11:09 left in the third quarter. The Panthers never ran a play inside the Seahawks' 32. Hasselbeck was 20 of 28 for 219 yards and 2 touchdowns. Delhomme was 15 of 35 for 196 yards and 1 touchdown, with 3 interceptions.

PHILADELPHIA 27, ATLANTA 10—Donovan McNabb completed 2 touchdown passes as the Eagles reached their first Super Bowl since Super Bowl XV after the 1980 season. The Eagles, who had lost the previous three NFC Championship Games, allowed just 202 yards in a game played in a wind chill between 0 and -5 degrees. The Eagles had the lead in the first quarter, but used a 36-yard run by Brian Westbrook to set up Dorsey Levens' touchdown run. The Falcons responded with a 17-play drive, but after reaching the 2-yard line, the Falcons had to settle for a field goal after Hollis Thomas sacked Michael Vick on third-and-goal from the Eagles' 3. The Eagles drove into the 35-mile-per-hour wind and drove 72 yards, keyed by Freddie Mitchell's 13-yard reception on third-and-11 near midfield, and Greg Lewis' 45-yard catch that led to Chad Lewis' 3-yard scoring grab. Atlanta needed just five plays late in the half to pull within 14-10 on Warrick Dunn's 10-yard run. The Eagles added a field goal to begin the second half, and Brian Dawkins' interception and 19-yard return to the Falcons' 11 led to David Akers' second field goal and a 20-10 lead. The Falcons were unable to take advantage of the wind in the fourth quarter, failing to drive beyond the Eagles' 37 in three possessions. Philadelphia extended the lead on an 11-play, 65-yard drive that culminated with Chad Lewis' 2-yard catch with 3:21 remaining. McNabb was 17 of 26 for 180 yards and 2 touchdowns. Vick was 11 of 24 for 136 yards, with 1 interception.

CAROLINA 14, PHILADELPHIA 3—Jake Delhomme passed for a touchdown and the Panthers forced 4 turnovers to advance to their first Super Bowl appearance. After a scoreless first quarter, Delhomme engineered an 8-play, 79-yard drive with 2 third-down conversions and capped by Muhsin Muhammad's 24-yard touchdown catch. The Eagles responded with a 41-yard field goal by David Akers. Two plays before the field goal, Donovan McNabb injured his ribs when, after tripping, he was hit by Mike Rucker. In the third quarter, Ricky Manning Jr. twice intercepted McNabb's passes. The first came at the Panthers' 14 to stop a drive, and the latter came at the Eagles' 37 to setup DeShaun Foster's 1-yard run with 4:11 left in the third quarter. Koy Detmer replaced the injured McNabb with 9:31 left, and drove the Eagles 81 yards to the Panthers' 11, but Dan Morgan intercepted his third-and-3 pass with 5:16 left. The Eagles got the ball back one last time, but Detmer's fourth-and-18 pass from midfield fell incomplete with 1:58 left. Delhomme was 9 of 14 for 101 yards and 1 touchdown. McNabb was 10 of 22 for 100 yards, with 3 interceptions, and Detmer was 7 of 14 for 88 yards, with 1 interception.

TAMPA BAY 27, PHILADELPHIA 10—A 71-yard pass reception by Joe Jurevicius sparked the Buccaneers, and Ronde Barber's 92-yard interception return for a touchdown in the final moments clinched Tampa Bay's first NFC title. The final game at Veterans Stadium began with a bang, as Brian Mitchell returned the opening kickoff 70 yards, and Duce Staley scored on a 20-yard touchdown run two plays later to stake the Eagles to a 7-0 lead just 52 seconds into the game. The Buccaneers answered with a field goal. Late in the first quarter, on third-and-2, Jurevicius caught a short crossing pass from Brad Johnson and flew 71 yards down the left sideline to the Eagles' 5. Mike Alstott scored two plays later to give Tampa Bay its first lead. David Akers' 30-yard field goal tied the game midway through the second quarter, but the Buccaneers again responded by putting points on the board, with the 12-play, 80-yard drive capped by Keyshawn Johnson's 9-yard scoring grab. With the Eagles in field-goal range just before halftime, Simeon Rice sacked Donovan McNabb, forced him to fumble, and recovered the ball to quell the threat. Late in the third quarter, a 15-yard penalty by the Eagles for interfering with the opportunity to make a fair catch on a punt gave Tampa Bay the ball near midfield and set up Martin Gramatica's second field goal for a 20-10 lead. The Eagles drove to the Buccaneers' 10 in the fourth quarter, but on first-and-goal, Barber stepped in front of McNabb's short pass and raced untouched 92 yards with 3:12 remaining for the game-clinching touchdown. The Eagles' defense limited Tampa Bay to just 49 rushing yards on 32 carries, but Johnson completed 20 of 33 passes for 259 yards and 1 touchdown, with 1 interception, and was not sacked. McNabb was 26 of 49 for 243 yards, with 1 interception.

ST. LOUIS 29, PHILADELPHIA 24—Marshall Faulk rushed for 159 yards and 2 touchdowns as the Rams held off the Eagles to advance to their second Super Bowl in three seasons. Leonard Little forced Donovan McNabb to fumble two plays into the game, and Brian Young recovered. Kurt Warner's 5-yard touchdown pass to Isaac Bruce five plays later staked the Rams to an early 7-0 lead. After an exchange of field goals, the Rams looked to extend their seven-point lead early in the second quarter, but Jeff Wilkins' 53-yard field-goal attempt hit the right upright. The Eagles took advantage, keyed by Correll Buckhalter's 31-yard run, to tie the game on Duce Staley's 1-yard touchdown run with 6:56 left in the first half. Faulk's 31-yard run moments later set up Wilkins' 39-yard field goal, but McNabb completed 2 third-down passes on the ensuing drive to set up his 12-yard touchdown pass to Todd Pinkston with 46 seconds left in the half to take a 17-13 lead into the locker room. The Eagles had a chance to extend their lead as Yo Murphy fumbled the kickoff to open the second half, but Nick Sorensen recovered for the Rams. Warner's 21-yard third-down pass to Torry Holt keyed the ensuing 12-play drive, capped by Wilkins' third field goal, to cut the deficit to 17-16. After a three-and-out, the Rams used a 10-play, 71-yard drive to take a 22-17 lead on Faulk's 1-yard run with 1:18 left in the third quarter. After two more three-and-outs by the Eagles, Faulk's 25-yard run on third-and-1 led to his second touchdown and gave the Rams a 29-17 lead with 6:55 remaining. Brian Mitchell returned the ensuing kickoff 41 yards to give the Eagles a spark, culminating with McNabb's 3-yard touchdown run, to cut the deficit to 29-24 with 2:56 to play. The Eagles' defense forced a three-and-out, but Aeneas Williams intercepted McNabb's fourth-down pass with 1:47 remaining to stop the rally. Philadelphia had the ball for one last play with three seconds left, but failed to cross midfield during a lateral-pass play. Warner was 22 of 33 for 212 yards and 1 touchdown. McNabb was 18 of 30 for 171 yards and 1 touchdown, with 1 interception.

NEW YORK GIANTS 41, MINNESOTA 0—Kerry Collins passed for 381 yards and 5 touchdowns to lead the Giants to their first Super Bowl berth in 10 years. The Giants' defense forced 5 turnovers and limited the Vikings to 114 yards. Collins needed just 4 plays, and less than two minutes, to score on Ike Hilliard's 46-yard reception. Moe Williams fumbled the ensuing kickoff, and Lyle West recovered at the Vikings' 18. On the next play, Collins lofted a scoring pass to Greg Comella to give the Giants a 14-0 lead 2:13 into the game—before the Vikings had taken a snap. Robert Tate's interception gave Minnesota a scoring opportunity midway through the first quarter, but three plays later Emmanuel McDaniels intercepted Daunte Culpepper's pass in the end zone. The Giants proceeded to score on all four of their second-quarter possessions, including drives of 71, 62, and 77 yards. Collins capped the outburst with a 7-yard scoring pass to Hilliard that gave the Giants a 34-0 halftime lead. Cornelius Griffin recovered Culpepper's fumble at the Vikings' 29 early in the second half, and Collins' 7-yard touchdown pass to Amani Toomer gave the Giants a 41-0 lead with 12:06 left in the third quarter. The Vikings never drove beyond the Giants' 32 the rest of the game, and the Giants used a 19-play drive to run out the final 12:53. Collins completed 28 of 39 passes for 381 yards and 5 touchdowns, with 2 interceptions. Hilliard had 10 receptions for 155 yards. Culpepper was 13 of 28 for 78 yards, with 3 interceptions.

ST. LOUIS 11, TAMPA BAY 6—Kurt Warner's 30-yard touchdown pass to Ricky Proehl with 4:44 remaining lifted the Rams to their first Super Bowl in 20 seasons.

On the game's first play, Steve White intercepted Warner's pass at the Rams' 20, but the Buccaneers had to settle for Martin Gramatica's field goal. The Rams immediately responded with a field goal by Jeff Wilkins and took a 5-3 lead when Tony Mayberry's Shotgun snap from the Buccaneers' 20 on the first play of the second quarter sailed over Shaun King's head. King batted the ball out of the end zone for a safety, but Wilkins, who was battling patellar tendonitis in his non-kicking knee, missed a 44-yard attempt on the Rams' next possession. Todd Lyght's interception at the Rams' 33 just before the half allowed the Rams to maintain their 5-3 lead. King's 32-yard pass to Jacquez Green led to Gramatica's 23-yard field goal early in the third quarter, giving the Buccaneers a 6-5 lead. Warner was intercepted on the Rams' next two possessions, including once by Hardy Nickerson at the Buccaneers' 2, to maintain Tampa Bay's one-point lead. On third-and-11 from midfield with just over eight minutes remaining, Dre' Bly intercepted King's pass and returned it 9 yards to the Buccaneers' 44. Six plays later, on third-and-4 from the Buccaneers' 30, Warner read the blitz and lofted the ball down the left sideline to Proehl, who made a one-handed catch in the end zone despite Brian Kelly's step-for-step defense. The Buccaneers mounted one last attack, but King was sacked twice in the final two minutes, and his fourth-and-11 Hail Mary pass from the Rams' 35 was knocked down in the end zone. Warner was 26 of 43 for 258 yards and 1 touchdown, with 3 interceptions. Proehl, who had not caught a touchdown pass all season, finished with 6 receptions for 100 yards. King was 13 of 29 for 163 yards, with 2 interceptions.

ATLANTA 30, MINNESOTA 27 (OT)—Chris Chandler passed for 3 touchdowns, and Morten Andersen made a 38-yard field goal 11:52 into overtime to catapult the Falcons into their first Super Bowl. The Falcons drove 12 plays to score on their opening possession, but Minnesota retaliated by scoring on their first four possessions. First, Randall Cunningham capped a 5-play drive with a 31-yard touchdown pass to Randy Moss. Fumbles by Harold Green and O.J. Santiago led to Gary Anderson's 29-yard field goal and Cunningham's 1-yard sneak. Following a punt, Anderson, who did not miss a field-goal or extra-point attempt all season, made a 35-yard field goal to give the Vikings a 20-7 lead with 2:45 left in the half. The Vikings' defense forced another punt and started at their 18 with 1:17 left in the half. After 2 incompletions, Chuck Smith stripped Cunningham of the ball, and Travis Hall recovered. Chandler fired a 14-yard scoring strike to Terance Mathis on the next play to cut the deficit to 20-14 at halftime. Andersen's field goal cut the Vikings' lead to three points midway through the third quarter, but the Vikings used a 15-play, 82-yard drive, culminated by Cunningham's 5-yard touchdown pass to Matthew Hatchette, to take a 27-17 lead with 13:41 left. Chandler's 70-yard pass to Tony Martin set up Andersen's second field goal with 11:02 left, and Cunningham's fumble, recovered by Shane Dronett at the Vikings' 30, kept the Falcons' hopes alive. However, trailing 27-20 and faced with fourth-and-4 from the Vikings' 24 with 6:13 left, Chandler threw an incomplete pass. The Vikings held onto the ball for the next four minutes, but Anderson's 38-yard field-goal attempt failed, his first miss in 122 attempts. Chandler promptly drove the Falcons downfield, with the big play being a 29-yard pass to Ronnie Harris, and on second-and-10 from the Vikings' 16 with 57 seconds left, Chandler found Mathis just beyond the goal line for the game-tying touchdown. After a scramble and incomplete pass, Cunningham took a knee and the game went to overtime. Minnesota won the toss, but could not move beyond midfield with either of its two possessions. Following the second overtime punt, the Falcons began at the their 9, and Chandler found Santiago for 15- and 26-yard gains to move into Vikings' territory. A scramble by Chandler and a 9-yard run by Jamal Anderson set up Andersen's winning kick. Chandler was 27 of 43 for 340 yards and 3 touchdowns. Martin had 5 catches for 129 yards. Cunningham was 29 of 48 for 266 yards and 2 touchdowns. This was the first championship game to go to overtime since the 1986 AFC Championship Game.

GREEN BAY 23, SAN FRANCISCO 10—A stifling defensive effort by the Packers limited the 49ers to 33 rushing yards, forced 2 turnovers, and recorded 4 sacks as Green Bay earned their fourth Super Bowl appearance. The Packers forced a punt on the game's initial possession and drove to the 1-yard line, but Gary Plummer batted down Brett Favre's third-and-goal pass, forcing Green Bay to settle for Ryan Longwell's field goal. After an exchange of punts, the 49ers drove to the Packers' 28. However, Eugene Robinson intercepted Steve Young's third-down pass and raced 58 yards. Favre fired a 27-yard touchdown pass to Antonio Freeman two plays later to give the Packers a 10-0 lead. The Packers forced another punt and had a chance to extend their lead, but Longwell's 47-yard field-goal attempt failed. The 49ers responded with a 10-play drive, capped by Gary Anderson's field goal with 58 seconds left in the half. On their own 35-yard line with time running out in the half, Favre lofted a 40-yard bomb to Freeman with three seconds left in the half. Longwell trotted onto the field and made a 43-yard field goal to give the Packers a 13-3 halftime lead. Each team punted their first three possessions of the second half, but Tommy Thompson's third punt allowed the Packers to begin at the 49ers' 35. Even with great field position, the 49ers' defense held the Packers to Longwell's third field goal with 5:03 left. The 49ers were forced to go for it on fourth-and-10 from their own 20, only to watch Keith McKenzie sack Young for a 9-yard loss. Levens scored two plays later to give Green Bay a 23-3 lead with 3:10 left. Chuck Levy promptly returned the ensuing kickoff 95 yards for a touchdown, but Jeff Thomason recovered the ensuing onside kick and the Packers clinched their second consecutive NFC title. Favre was 16 of 27 for 222 yards and 1 touchdown. Levens rushed 27 times for 114 yards. Freeman had 4 receptions for 107 yards. Young was 23 of 38 for 250 yards, with 1 interception. Terrell Owens had 6 catches for 100 yards.

GREEN BAY 30, CAROLINA 13—Dorsey Levens combined for 205 total yards of offense, and Brett Favre threw 2 touchdown passes, as the Packers earned their first Super Bowl berth in twenty-nine years. With the wind chill fluctuating between 17- and 25-degrees below zero, the Panthers scored first. Sam Mills intercepted Favre and returned the ball to the 2-yard line, setting up Howard Griffith's touchdown catch. Levens broke off a 35-yard run on third-and-1 late in the first quarter, and then made a specular diving catch in the end zone to open the second quarter and tie the game. Lamar Lathon recovered a Favre fumble, setting up John Kasay's go-ahead field goal. Green Bay then scored twice in the final 48 seconds of the first half to turn the game's momentum. Antonio Freeman caught a 6-yard touchdown pass on third-and-3 after Andre Rison's 22-yard catch put the Packers in position. Tyrone Williams then made a diving interception on the Packers' 38-yard line with 35 seconds left in the half. Favre fired a 23-yard pass to Rison and 25-yard bullet to Freeman to set up Chris Jacke's field goal and give Green Bay a 17-10 halftime lead. After an exchange of field goals, Levens turned a screen pass into a 66-yard play, setting up Edgar Bennett's touchdown run. LeRoy Butler recovered Anthony Johnson's fumble on Carolina's next possession, and set up Jacke's last field goal. Green Bay had 201 rushing yards, outgained Carolina 479-251 in total yards, and dominated time of possession (38:03-21:57). The victory gave Green Bay a 9-0 postseason record at Lambeau Field.

DALLAS 38, GREEN BAY 27—Emmitt Smith rushed for 150 yards and 3 touchdowns to help the Cowboys reach the Super Bowl for the third time in four years and a record eighth time overall. Dallas, playing in the NFC Championship Game for the fourth consecutive year, jumped to a 14-3 lead in the first quarter on a pair of touchdown passes from Troy Aikman to Michael Irvin. But the Packers rallied behind 2 touchdown passes from Brett Favre, and the score was tied 17-17 late in the first half when Smith took control. With 4:05 left in the second quarter and the Cowboys pinned at their own 1-yard line by a punt that rolled out of bounds, Smith got his team out of the shadow of its goal line with a 25-yard run. Six plays later, Aikman's 28-yard completion to Irvin moved Dallas into scoring position, and Smith capped the 11-play, 99-yard drive with a 1-yard touchdown run 24 seconds before halftime. Green Bay rallied again, taking a 27-24 lead on Chris Jacke's 37-yard field goal and Brett Favre's 1-yard touchdown pass to Robert Brooks, only to see Smith rush for 2 more touchdowns to win the game in the fourth quarter. The first was a 5-yard run that capped a 14-play, 90-yard drive, and the latter was a 16-yard run with 9:28 remaining. It was set up by cornerback Larry Brown's interception and 28-yard return. The Cowboys wore down the Packers by controlling the ball for nearly 39 of the game's 60 minutes. Dallas ran more plays (77-55) for more first downs (27-17) and more total yards (419-328), and did not commit a turnover. Aikman completed 21 of 33 passes for 255 yards. Irvin caught 7 passes for 100 yards. Favre, who misfired on his first six attempts and then had his first two completions go for touchdowns, finished with 21 completions in 39 attempts for 307 yards and 3 touchdowns, but was intercepted twice. Brooks caught 6 passes for 105 yards and 2 touchdowns.

CHAMPIONSHIP GAMES

SAN FRANCISCO 38, DALLAS 28—The 49ers eliminated the two-time defending Super Bowl champions by racing to a 21-0 lead in the game's opening minutes and holding on for the victory. San Francisco, which lost to Dallas in each of the previous two NFC title games, thus qualified for its fifth Super Bowl and dashed the Cowboys' hopes of becoming the first team to win three consecutive Super Bowls. The 49ers took advantage of Dallas turnovers to build its early lead. Cornerback Eric Davis intercepted Troy Aikman's pass on the third play of the game and returned it 44 yards for a touchdown and 7-0 lead with just 1:02 elapsed. Three plays later, Davis forced a fumble that teammate Tim McDonald recovered, and it took San Francisco five plays to convert that into Steve Young's 29-yard touchdown pass to running back Ricky Watters. Kevin Williams fumbled the ensuing kickoff and 49ers kicker Doug Brien recovered at the Cowboys' 35. Fullback William Floyd capped a seven-play drive with a 1-yard run for San Francisco's third touchdown in a span of 6:25. Dallas tried to rally, and pulled within 24-14 late in the first half on a 4-yard run by Emmitt Smith and a 44-yard pass from Aikman to Michael Irvin sandwiched around Brien's 34-yard field goal. But three incompletions that stopped the clock and John Jett's 23-yard punt positioned the 49ers for a back-breaking 28-yard touchdown pass from Young to Jerry Rice just eight seconds before halftime. The Cowboys closed within 10 points twice more in the second half, but were stopped on fourth down twice in the fourth quarter and could get no closer. Dallas finished with a sizeable advantage in total yards (451-294), but was undone by 5 turnovers. Aikman completed 30 of 53 passes for 380 yards and 2 touchdowns, but was intercepted twice. Smith rushed for 74 yards despite nursing an injured hamstring. Irvin caught 12 passes for 192 yards and 2 touchdowns. Young caught 2 touchdowns and ran for another for San Francisco.

DALLAS 38, SAN FRANCISCO 21—Troy Aikman threw 2 touchdown passes and Emmitt Smith scored twice as the Cowboys scored on four of their first five possessions and easily handled the 49ers to win the NFC title. Dallas struck quickly, taking the opening kickoff and marching 75 yards in 11 plays to Smith's 5-yard touchdown run 6:19 into the game. San Francisco tied it when running back Tom Rathman caught a 7-yard touchdown pass from Steve Young on the first play of the second quarter, but the Cowboys broke open the game by scoring touchdowns the next three times they had the ball. They countered Rathman's score with an 11-play, 80-yard drive capped by Daryl Johnston's 4-yard touchdown run 5:12 into the second quarter. Three plays later, safety Thomas Everett intercepted a pass that was tipped by San Francisco's John Taylor, and returned it 14 yards to the 49ers' 24-yard line. It took Dallas only four plays to convert that into Aikman's 11-yard touchdown pass to Smith 6:04 before intermission. Aikman teamed with tight end Jay Novacek on a 19-yard touchdown pass in the final minute of the first half to give the Cowboys a 28-7 lead. San Francisco pulled within 14 points on a 4-yard touchdown run by Ricky Watters, but Dallas put the game out of reach when Bernie Kosar teamed with Alvin Harper on a 42-yard touchdown pass with 2:24 remaining in the third quarter. Kosar, in the game because Aikman suffered a concussion early in the second half, kept the drive alive with a 12-yard completion to Michael Irvin on third-and-9 from the Cowboys' 19, and also had a 20-yard completion to Novacek on the 7-play, 82-yard drive. Aikman, who did not return, completed 14 of 18 passes for 177 yards. Kosar was 5 of 9 for 83 yards. Smith rushed for 88 yards on 23 carries and caught 7 passes for 85 yards. 49ers quarterback Steve Young completed 27 of 45 passes for 287 yards and led his team with 38 rushing yards. But he also suffered 4 sacks and was supported by only 46 yards from San Francisco's running backs. Dallas, which beat the 49ers 30-20 in the 1992 NFC Championship Game, qualified for its seventh Super Bowl, extending its NFL record. San Francisco lost in the NFC title game for the third time in four years.

DALLAS 30, SAN FRANCISCO 20—The Cowboys' offense dominated the second half as Dallas advanced to its record sixth Super Bowl. The day started ominously for the 49ers when, on their opening possession, Steve Young's 63-yard scoring pass to Jerry Rice was nullified by a penalty. The teams battled to a 10-10 halftime tie, with all of the Cowboys' points coming off turnovers. Dallas took the second-half kickoff and marched 78 yards, the last 3 coming on Daryl Johnston's touchdown run, to take a 17-10 lead. After San Francisco answered with a field goal, the Cowboys drove 79 yards, taking a 24-13 fourth-quarter lead on Troy Aikman's 16-yard scoring pass to Emmitt Smith. Later in the quarter, the 49ers drove 93 yards on the arm of Young, who capped the drive with a 5-yard scoring pass to Rice that made it 24-20 with 4:22 left. But on the first play after the ensuing kickoff, Aikman fired a 14-yard pass to Alvin Harper, who broke loose for a 70-yard gain to the 49ers' 9. Three plays later, Aikman found Kelvin Martin for a 6-yard touchdown pass that made it 30-20 with 3:43 to play. The teams were even statistically, but the 49ers had 4 turnovers to none for the Cowboys. Aikman was 24 of 34 for 322 yards, while Young was 25 of 35 for 313. Smith had 173 total yards (114 rushing, 59 receiving). Rice led all receivers with 8 catches for 123 yards.

WASHINGTON 41, DETROIT 10—The Redskins jumped on the Lions from the start and did not let up to earn their fifth Super Bowl berth. Washington recovered a fumble on the first play from scrimmage and turned it into Gerald Riggs' 2-yard touchdown run 1:06 into the game. Kurt Gouveia's 38-yard interception return three minutes later set up a field goal that made it 10-0. Riggs added another touchdown run as Washington led 17-10 at halftime. In the second half, Mark Rypien fired touchdown passes of 45 yards (to Gary Clark) and 21 yards (to Art Monk) as the Redskins pulled away. Darrell Green capped the victory with a 32-yard interception return for a touchdown. Rypien completed 12 of 17 passes for 228 yards. Monk caught 5 for 94. Detroit's Erik Kramer completed 21 of 33 passes for 249 yards.

NEW YORK GIANTS 15, SAN FRANCISCO 13—Matt Bahr kicked a 42-yard field goal as time expired to lift the Giants over the 49ers. New York's offense controlled the ball for 39 minutes, keeping the 49ers' high-powered offense on the sideline. The teams traded field goals in a first half that ended 6-6. San Francisco scored the game's only touchdown in the third quarter, when John Taylor turned a sideline pass into a 61-yard scoring reception and a 13-6 lead. Bahr answered with 2 more field goals to cut the deficit to 13-12 midway through the fourth quarter. Still, the 49ers appeared in control as they drove into Giants' territory with four minutes to play. But New York's Erik Howard forced a fumble that teammate Lawrence Taylor recovered at the Giants' 42 with 3:43 remaining, and quarterback Jeff Hostetler drove the Giants 33 yards in 6 plays to set up Bahr's winning kick, his fifth field goal of the day. New York rushed for 152 yards while limiting San Francisco to 39. Hostetler completed 15 of 27 passes for 176 yards. The 49ers' Joe Montana completed 18 of 26 passes for 190 yards before leaving in the fourth quarter with an injury.

SAN FRANCISCO 30, LOS ANGELES RAMS 3—The 49ers were nearly perfect in defeating the Rams and earning their second consecutive Super Bowl berth. Los Angeles had the advantage early, taking a 3-0 lead and threatening for more when Jim Everett fired a deep pass to a wide-open Willie Anderson. But 49ers safety Ronnie Lott recovered to make a touchdown-saving deflection, and San Francisco took over from there. Montana fired 2 touchdown passes, and Roger Craig scored on a 1-yard run to give the 49ers a 21-3 halftime lead. Mike Cofer added 3 field goals in the second half to complete the scoring. Montana completed 26 of 30 passes for 262 yards. San Francisco dominated every statistical category, from first downs (29 to 9) to total yards (442 to 156) to time of possession (39:48 to 20:12).

SAN FRANCISCO 28, CHICAGO 3—Despite Bear weather (17 degrees with a wind-chill factor of minus-26 degrees), the 49ers dominated Chicago from beginning to end. In the first quarter, Joe Montana hit Jerry Rice for a 61-yard touchdown pass. The same pair hooked up again in the second period for a 27-yard scoring pass to give the 49ers a 14-3 halftime lead. Montana's third scoring strike, a 5-yard pass to tight end John Frank, made it 21-3 in the third quarter, and Tom Rathman completed the scoring with a 4-yard touchdown run in the final period. Montana was 17 of 27 for 288 yards with no interceptions. Rice had 5 catches for 133 yards. The Bears crossed the 49ers' 40 only twice in the game, and their longest gain was just 18 yards.

WASHINGTON 17, MINNESOTA 10—The Redskins used 8 sacks and a late defensive stand to hold off the Vikings. Washington struck first on a 42-yard touchdown pass from Doug Williams to Kelvin Bryant, but Minnesota answered with a 23-yard scoring pass from Wade Wilson to Leo Lewis to make it 7-7 at halftime. The teams traded field goals in the second half, then Williams hit Gary Clark for a 43-yard pass to the Vikings' 11, and three plays later found Clark for a 7-yard score that made it 17-10 with five minutes to play. Minnesota responded by driving 61 yards to the Redskins' 6, but the Vikings were stopped there on fourth-and-goal when Washington's Darrell Green knocked the ball away from Wilson's intended receiver, running back Darrin Nelson, at the 1-yard line with 52 seconds left.

NEW YORK GIANTS 17, WASHINGTON 0—The coin toss was the turning point as the Giants shut down the Redskins. Faced with 30-mile per hour winds, New York won the toss and opted to have the wind at its back rather than to receive the opening kickoff. Then the Giants defense stuffed the Redskins, forcing a short punt, and the offense drove 17 yards to a field goal. After the ensuing kickoff, the act was repeated, except this time the Giants drove 38 yards to a touchdown on Phil Simms' 11-yard pass to Lionel Manuel. In the second quarter, New York drove 49 yards, this time into the wind, to take a 17-0 lead on Joe Morris' 1-yard run. No matter which way the wind was blowing, the Giants' defense dominated all day, denying Washington a first down on all 14 of its third-down conversion attempts. It was the third straight shutout in an NFC title game.

CHICAGO 24, LOS ANGELES RAMS 0—The Bears earned their first Super Bowl berth thanks to a defense that overwhelmed the Rams. Chicago drove 66 yards for a touchdown on its first possession, the last 16 coming on quarterback Jim McMahon's scramble around left end. The Bears made it 10-0 with a field goal on their next possession. Just before halftime, the Rams blew their only scoring opportunity of the day, driving to the Bears' 3 only to mismanage the clock and fail to get off a play before the first half expired. McMahon fired a 22-yard scoring strike to Willie Gault in the third quarter, and Wilber Marshall clinched the win with a 52-yard fumble return for a touchdown in the final period. Chicago limited Los Angeles to 130 total yards.

SAN FRANCISCO 23, CHICAGO 0—The 49ers shut down the Bears' passing attack, and their offense came on after a slow start in San Francisco's victory. While the 49ers' defense was stopping the Bears, the 49ers' offense was stopping itself with 2 interceptions inside Chicago's 10. San Francisco only led 6-0 when the offense finally got on track in the third quarter. Wendell Tyler ran 9 yards for a touchdown to make it 13-0. The Bears then drove to the 49ers' 21, but San Francisco recorded 2 sacks to end the threat. In the fourth quarter, Joe Montana capped an 88-yard drive with a 10-yard scoring pass to Freddie Solomon, and Ray Wersching added a field goal. The 49ers posted 9 sacks while limiting the Bears to 37 passing yards.

WASHINGTON 24, SAN FRANCISCO 21—The Redskins, after blowing a 21-0 fourth-quarter lead, escaped with a victory when Mark Moseley kicked a 40-yard field goal with 40 seconds to play. Washington built a 21-0 lead on 2 scoring runs by John Riggins and a 70-yard scoring pass from Joe Theismann to Charlie Brown. The lead could have been greater were it not for 4 field-goal misses by Moseley and a punt return touchdown that was nullified. Those mistakes came back to haunt the Redskins in the fourth quarter, when Joe Montana fired 3 touchdown passes in a seven-minute span to tie the game at 21-21. But Washington responded with a 78-yard drive to Moseley's winning kick, consuming 6:12 in the process. Montana completed 27 of 48 passes for 347 yards. Riggins gained 123 yards on 36 carries.

WASHINGTON 31, DALLAS 17—Behind the Hogs, their mammoth offensive line, the Redskins defeated the Cowboys in a hard-hitting contest. Trailing 3-0 in the first period, Washington drove 84 yards for 1 touchdown, then recovered a fumble and drove 11 yards for a second score that made it 14-3 at halftime. Quarterback Gary Hogeboom, playing in place of injured starter Danny White, led Dallas to a touchdown on its opening possession of the second half to make it 14-10. However, Mike Nelms returned the ensuing kickoff 76 yards to the Cowboys' 20, setting up John Riggins' 4-yard scoring run that gave Washington a 21-10 lead. Hogeboom drove the Cowboys 84 yards to another score to cut the deficit to 21-17. But in the final period, Hogeboom threw 2 interceptions—the first leading to a Redskins' field goal, the second leading to a touchdown when defensive tackle Darryl Grant returned it 10 yards for the clinching score. Riggins gained 140 yards on 36 carries.

SAN FRANCISCO 28, DALLAS 27—“The Catch” gave the 49ers the victory and their first trip to the Super Bowl. Trailing 27-21 with 4:54 to play, Joe Montana led San Francisco on a methodical 89-yard drive. On third down from the Cowboys' 6, Montana rolled right, where several Cowboys converged on him. He tried to throw the ball away—high and towards the back of the end zone. Instead, Dwight Clark turned the throwaway into a touchdown with a spectacular leaping catch that gave the 49ers the lead with 51 seconds left. But the win was not secured until San Francisco recovered a Cowboys' fumble near midfield with 30 seconds left. Clark's catch was the sixth lead change of the day. The 49ers overcame 6 turnovers to win, thanks to Montana (22 of 35 for 286 yards) and Clark (8 catches for 120 yards).

PHILADELPHIA 20, DALLAS 7—Wilbert Montgomery ran for 194 yards to lead the Eagles to victory on a cold, blustery day in Philadelphia. Montgomery burst through the Cowboys' defense for a 42-yard scoring run just 2:11 into the game. Dallas tied the game at 7-7 in the second quarter, but did not cross the Eagles' 39 the rest of the day. The Eagles converted 2 fumble recoveries into 10 third-quarter points, then used Montgomery's running and a fired-up defense to stymie the Cowboys. The Eagles finished with 263 rushing yards.

LOS ANGELES 9, TAMPA BAY 0—The Rams advanced to their first Super Bowl thanks to a superb defensive effort. Los Angeles' offense ate up chunks of yardage, but fell short of the end zone and had to settle for 3 field goals by Frank Corral. That was more than enough for the Rams' defense, which limited Tampa Bay to 177 total yards, 5 completions in 27 pass attempts, and only 7 first downs. Los Angeles finished with 369 total yards, including 216 on the ground. The victory ended the Rams' string of four championship game losses.

DALLAS 37, LOS ANGELES 7—The Cowboys became the first wild-card team to advance to the Super Bowl with an easy victory over the Rams. Linebacker D.D. Harris intercepted the Rams' first pass of the game, and one play later running back Preston Pearson turned a short pass from Roger Staubach into an 18-yard touchdown. Just before halftime, Pearson's 15-yard scoring catch made it 21-0. Early in the third quarter, Pearson added a 19-yard touchdown reception to make it 28-0. Staubach passed for 220 yards and 4 scores, including 3 to Pearson, who had 7 catches for 123 yards.

MINNESOTA 14, LOS ANGELES 10—The Vikings stopped the Rams when it counted to win their second consecutive NFC title. Los Angeles outgained Minnesota 340-269, but managed only 1 touchdown. Trailing 7-3 in the third quarter, the Rams drove 98 yards to the Vikings' 1, only to be turned away by an end zone interception. Minnesota then drove 80 yards in 15 plays, taking a 14-3 lead on Dave Osborn's 4-yard scoring run. The Rams countered with a 44-yard touchdown pass from James Harris to Harold Jackson, but never saw the ball again as Minnesota ran out the final 5:37.

MINNESOTA 27, DALLAS 10—Dallas defensive tackle

Bob Lilly was forced out by a back injury, and Minnesota ran right at his replacement, producing 203 rushing yards and the victory. A field goal and an 86-yard touchdown drive gave Minnesota a 10-0 halftime lead. The Cowboys mustered only 153 total yards, but they pulled within 3 points on Golden Richards' 63-yard punt return for a touchdown in the third quarter. Minnesota answered with a 54-yard touchdown pass from Fran Tarkenton to John Gilliam, then used 2 fourth-quarter interceptions to seal the victory.

WASHINGTON 26, DALLAS 3—Wide receiver Charley Taylor shredded the Cowboys' defense to lead the Redskins to victory. Taylor caught a 51-yard pass in the second quarter, then followed with a 15-yard reception for the game's first touchdown and a 10-0 Washington lead. In the fourth quarter, Taylor broke open a close game with a 45-yard scoring catch that made it 17-3. He finished with 7 catches for 146 yards. The Redskins' defense limited Dallas to 169 total yards and did not allow the Cowboys to cross midfield in the second half.

DALLAS 14, SAN FRANCISCO 3—The Cowboys won a defensive struggle to advance to their second consecutive Super Bowl. In the second quarter, Cowboys defensive tackle George Andrie intercepted a screen pass and returned it 8 yards to the 49ers' 2. Two plays later, Calvin Hill scored on a 1-yard run to give Dallas a 7-0 lead. Leading 7-3 in the fourth quarter, the Cowboys drove 80 yards in 14 plays to the clinching score on Duane Thomas' 2-yard run.

DALLAS 17, SAN FRANCISCO 10—After three championship game losses, the Cowboys finally won the big one, thanks to Duane Thomas, who ran for 143 yards on 27 carries. One play after an interception by Lee Roy Jordan, Thomas ran 13 yards for a touchdown to give Dallas a 10-3 third-quarter lead. On the 49ers' next possession, Dallas cornerback Mel Renfro intercepted a pass at the Cowboys' 18. With Thomas leading the way, Dallas drove 82 yards to a touchdown and a 17-3 lead. The 49ers cut the deficit to 17-10 at the end of the third period, but were stymied by the Cowboys' defense throughout the final quarter.

GREEN BAY 21, DALLAS 17—Bart Starr snuck over from 1 yard out with 13 seconds remaining to give the Packers the victory in "The Ice Bowl." The temperature was 13-below at game time, and the icy winds made it feel considerably colder. The Packers, seeking their third consecutive NFL title, jumped to a 14-0 lead on 2 touchdown passes from Bart Starr to Boyd Dowler. But Dallas' defense rebounded, forcing 2 fumbles that led to a touchdown and a field goal to make it 14-10 at halftime. It stayed that way until the fourth quarter when running back Dan Reeves threw a 50-yard touchdown pass to Lance Rentzel to give Dallas a 17-14 lead. With 4:50 to play, Green Bay mounted a 12-play, 68-yard drive. On third down from the Cowboys' 1, with no timeouts left, the Packers eschewed the tying field goal and went for the winning touchdown, which Starr delivered by following the block of guard Jerry Kramer.

GREEN BAY 34, DALLAS 27—Bart Starr's passing and a last-minute goal-line stand were the difference as the Packers earned the right to play in the first Super Bowl. Starr completed 19 of 28 passes for 304 yards and 4 touchdowns, including scoring strikes to Boyd Dowler (16 yards) and Max McGee (28 yards) that broke a 20-20 tie and gave Green Bay a 34-20 lead with 5:20 to play. But a missed extra point on McGee's touchdown opened the door for Dallas, which pulled within 7 points on Don Meredith's 68-yard scoring pass to Frank Clarke. After a Packers' punt, Dallas drove to the Green Bay 2. But the Cowboys were stopped there, as Meredith, under pressure, had his fourth-down pass intercepted in the end zone by Packers safety Tom Brown with 28 seconds left.

The Packers built a 13-12 lead in a seesaw first half. In the second half, Green Bay's runners took over. Taylor carried on 12 of 24 plays as the Packers drove to a touchdown (Hornung's 13-yard run) and a field goal (29 yards by Don Chandler) and consumed 14 minutes. Hornung finished with 105 yards on 18 carries, while Taylor had 96 yards on 27 carries. Brown, who rushed for an NFL-high 1,544 yards during the regular season, managed only 50 yards.

CLEVELAND 27, BALTIMORE 0—Frank Ryan and Gary Collins combined for 3 second-half touchdown passes to break open a close game and give the Browns the victory. What was expected to be a high-scoring game turned into a scoreless first half as both teams played conservatively. In the second half, Cleveland turned a shanked punt by Baltimore into a field goal, then used a 46-yard run by Jim Brown to set up Ryan's 18-yard scoring pass to Collins. Ryan hit Collins again at the end of the third quarter for a 42-yard score and a 17-0 lead. Ryan capped the scoring with a 51-yard pass to Collins in the fourth quarter. Collins had 5 receptions for 130 yards, while Brown ran for 114 yards on 27 carries.

CHICAGO 14, NEW YORK GIANTS 10—The Bears' defense did it all, shutting down the Giants' offense and setting up both Chicago touchdowns. New York scored first, capping an 83-yard drive with a 14-yard touchdown pass from Y.A. Tittle to Frank Gifford. Chicago tied the game on Bill Wade's 2-yard run, which was set up by a 61-yard interception return by Larry Morris. The Giants kicked a field goal to make it 10-7 at halftime, but they were shut out the rest of the way. In the third quarter, Ed O'Bradovich's interception put the Bears on the Giants' 14, and five plays later, Wade's 1-yard touchdown run provided what turned out to be the winning points.

Green Bay, leading 3-0 on Jerry Kramer's 26-yard field goal, recovered a fumble at the Giants' 28 in the second quarter. Halfback Paul Hornung then threw a 21-yard pass to Boyd Dowler, and on the next play, Jim Taylor ran 7 yards for a touchdown and a 10-0 lead. New York turned a blocked punt into a touchdown to cut the Packers' lead to 10-7 in the third period, but Green Bay answered with 2 more field goals by Kramer to clinch the victory. Taylor gained 85 yards on 31 carries.

PHILADELPHIA 17, GREEN BAY 13—The Eagles edged the Packers to hand Vince Lombardi his only championship game loss. Philadelphia built a 10-6 halftime advantage on a 35-yard touchdown pass from Norm Van Brocklin to Tommy McDonald and a short field goal. Green Bay reclaimed the lead in the fourth quarter on a 7-yard scoring pass from Bart Starr to Max McGee. Philadelphia answered with a 58-yard return on the ensuing kickoff to set up Ted Dean's 5-yard scoring run with 5:21 remaining, which gave the Eagles a 17-13 lead. The Packers then drove to the Eagles' 22, where Starr passed to Jim Taylor. But Taylor was stopped at the 8-yard line by Chuck Bednarik (who played all 60 minutes at linebacker and center) as time expired.

BALTIMORE 31, NEW YORK GIANTS 16—The Colts blew open a close game with 24 fourth-quarter points en route to their second consecutive NFL title. Baltimore built an early 7-0 lead on Johnny Unitas' 60-yard scoring strike to Lenny Moore, but the Giants chipped away, taking a 9-7 third-quarter lead on Pat Summerall's 3 field goals. Near the end of the third quarter, New York was stopped on fourth and inches at the Colts' 28, and Unitas took over, driving the Colts to the go-ahead touchdown on his 4-yard run. An interception on the Giants' next possession set up Unitas' 12-yard touchdown pass to Jerry Richardson that made it 21-9. Johnny Sample secured the victory with 2 interceptions, 1 for a 42-yard touchdown and another to set up a field goal.

BALTIMORE 23, NEW YORK GIANTS 17 (OT)—Alan Ameche's 1-yard run 8:15 into overtime gave Baltimore the victory in "the greatest game ever played." The Colts built a 14-3 halftime lead, and were threatening to take a 21-3 lead when they drove to the Giants' 1 in the third quarter. But the Giants mounted a furious goal-line stand, then marched 95 yards for a touchdown to make it 14-10. New York took a 17-14 fourth-quarter lead on a 15-yard touchdown pass from Charlie Conerly to Frank Gifford. That lead appeared secure thanks to a Giants' punt that put Baltimore at its 14-yard line with two minutes to play. But Johnny Unitas drove the Colts 73 yards to the Giants' 13, where Steve Myhra kicked the tying field goal with seven seconds left to force the first overtime period in NFL history. Unitas then led the Colts 80 yards to Ameche's winning score. Unitas completed 26 of 40 passes for 361 yards.

DETROIT 59, CLEVELAND 14—The Lions had a new coach and a new quarterback, but they still won their third title in six seasons. Coach Raymond (Buddy) Parker had quit before the season, but the Lions did not miss a beat under George Wilson. One of Wilson's first moves was to acquire quarterback Tobin Rote, who replaced an injured Bobby Layne late in the season. In this game, Rote passed for 280 yards and 4 touchdowns to lead the rout. After the Browns cut the Lions' lead to 17-7, Rote, on a fake field goal, fired a 26-yard scoring pass to Steve Junker. The Browns later closed to 31-14, but Rote answered again, this time with a 78-yard scoring strike to Jim Doran. Junker had 5 catches for 109 yards.

CLEVELAND 38, LOS ANGELES 14—Otto Graham ended his 10-year career by leading the Browns to their third NFL title in six seasons. Graham completed 14 of 25 passes for 209 yards and 2 touchdowns, and also ran for 2 scores. Cleveland led 10-7 when Graham went to work, hitting Dante Lavelli for a 50-yard score, then running for touchdowns of 15 yards and 1 yard, and finishing the Browns' scoring with a 35-yard strike to Ray Renfro early in the fourth quarter. The Browns' defense intercepted 7 passes by Rams quarterbacks. Cleveland was making its tenth title game appearance in 10 seasons, including four years (1946-49) in the AAFC.

LOS ANGELES 24, CLEVELAND 17—Norm Van Brocklin's 73-yard scoring pass to Tom Fears lifted the Rams to their second NFL title. The Rams took a 14-10 lead in the third quarter on Dan Towler's 1-yard run, which was set up by Andy Robustelli's fumble return to the Browns' 2. A field goal made it 17-10, but the Browns tied the game midway through the fourth quarter on Ken Carpenter's 5-yard touchdown run. After the ensuing kickoff, Van Brocklin, facing a third and 3 from his 27, found Fears near midfield. Fears caught the pass between two Browns defenders, who collided, which left Fears with an easy gallop to the end zone.

Cleveland, which had appeared in the AAFC championship game all four years of that league's existence, joined the NFL in 1950. The Browns trailed 28-20 in the fourth quarter when Otto Graham led them on a 65-yard drive, capped by his 14-yard scoring pass to Rex Bumgardner with 4:35 left. After a Rams' punt, the Browns took over at their 32 with two minutes left. Graham led a 57-yard drive to set up Groza's winning kick. Graham passed for 298 yards and 4 touchdowns, including 11 completions for 128 yards and 2 scores to Dante Lavelli. Bob Waterfield of the Rams passed for 312 yards. 1949

PHILADELPHIA 14, LOS ANGELES 0—A downpour before the game turned the Coliseum field to mud, but it did not stop Steve Van Buren as the Eagles won their second straight title. Van Buren ran for a record 196 yards on 31 carries as Philadelphia outgained Los Angeles 274-21 on the ground. Quarterback Tommy Thompson's 31-yard pass to Pete Pihos gave the Eagles a 7-0 second-quarter lead, and Len Skladany added another score when he returned a blocked punt 2 yards for a touchdown. The Eagles then used Van Buren to control the ball while Los Angeles never advanced farther than the Eagles' 26.

PHILADELPHIA 7, CHICAGO CARDINALS 0—The Eagles converted a fumble recovery into a touchdown to defeat the Cardinals. Both teams struggled offensively on a field blanketed with snow. It snowed so much that Eagles fullback Steve Van Buren barely made it to the game on time. Fortunately for Philadelphia, he did arrive, gaining 98 yards, including a 5-yard run for the game's only touchdown early in the fourth quarter. Van Buren's score was set up by a fumble recovery at the Cardinals' 17. Chicago managed just 131 total yards.

CHICAGO CARDINALS 28, PHILADELPHIA 21—The Cardinals used big plays from Charley Trippi and Elmer Angsman to top the Eagles. Trippi gave Chicago a 7-0 lead when he raced 44 yards up the middle for a touchdown. Angsman, on a similar play, ran 70 yards for a touchdown. In the third quarter, Trippi took a punt at the Cardinals' 25, fell down on the frozen field at the Eagles' 30, got up and ran to the 22, fell down again, then got up and raced the rest of the way for a touchdown to make it 21-7. After the Eagles closed to 21-14, Angsman went up the middle again for a 70-yard touchdown and the clinching score. Angsman finished with 159 yards on 10 carries. The Cardinals limited NFL rushing leader Steve Van Buren to 26 yards on 18 carries. Tommy Thompson led Philadelphia by passing for 297 yards.

CHICAGO BEARS 24, NEW YORK 14—A trick play and turnovers keyed the Bears' victory. The teams were relatively even in yardage, but the Giants had 8 turnovers to the Bears' 3. Still, the score was 14-14 in the fourth quarter when Bears quarterback Sid Luckman turned to his bag of tricks. At the Giants' 19, Luckman faked a handoff, then drifted to the right while the Giants' defense followed the Bears' offensive line to the left. Luckman ran down the open right side, broke a tackle at the 10, and scored the decisive touchdown.

CLEVELAND 15, WASHINGTON 14—One ball that made it over the crossbar and another that did not were the difference in the Rams' victory. Cleveland took a 2-0 lead when Washington's Sammy Baugh, from his end zone, had his pass hit the crossbar and bounce back for a safety (under the rules at the time). The Redskins scored to take a 7-2 lead, but then Rams quarterback Bob Waterfield fired a 37-yard touchdown pass to Jim Benton. Waterfield's ensuing extra-point was partially blocked, and the ball teetered on the crossbar before falling over to give Cleveland a 9-7 lead. That conversion was the difference because each team scored 1 more touchdown, but Waterfield missed his second extra-point attempt. Waterfield is the last rookie quarterback to lead his team to an NFL title.

GREEN BAY 14, NEW YORK 7—Ted Fritsch scored twice to lead the Packers to victory. New York sported the NFL's best record (8-1-1), which included a 24-0 victory over Green Bay four weeks earlier. But the Packers took a 7-0 second-quarter lead on Fritsch's 1-yard run on fourth-and-goal. Later in the quarter, Green Bay used all-pro end Don Hutson as a decoy, and quarterback Iv Comp threw a 28-yard scoring strike to a wide-open Fritsch. The Giants failed to advance beyond their 35-yard line before finally scoring a touchdown in the fourth quarter.

CHICAGO BEARS 41, WASHINGTON 21—Sid Luckman passed for 286 yards and 5 touchdowns to lead the Bears. Chicago showed no ill effects from a 29-day layoff, outgaining the Redskins 455-249. Chicago turned a 14-7 halftime lead into a 27-7 lead with 2 scoring passes from Luckman to Dante Magnani. After Washington scored to make it 27-14, Luckman clinched the victory with fourth-quarter scoring passes to Jim Benton and Harry Clark. Luckman, who completed 15 of 26 passes, also was the game's leading rusher with 64 yards.

WASHINGTON 14, CHICAGO BEARS 6—The Redskins were 22-point underdogs, but they won thanks to the play of Sammy Baugh on offense and defense. The Bears entered the game with an 11-0 record, but they managed only a defensive touchdown against Washington. Meanwhile, Baugh passed for a 38-yard score to Wilbur Moore, led the Redskins on a 56-yard drive for another touchdown in the third quarter, and had a key interception to stop a Bears' drive at the Washington 12.

CHICAGO BEARS 37, NEW YORK 9—The Bears exploded in the second half to win their second consecutive NFL title. A sluggish first half saw Chicago run 53 plays to New York's 10, yet only lead 9-6. After the Giants tied the game early in the third quarter, the Bears marched 71, 66, and 54 yards for touchdowns and a 30-9 lead. Chicago's last touchdown came on a 42-yard fumble return by Ken Kavanaugh. Scooter McLean added a dropkick for the conversion on Kavanaugh's touchdown, the last successful dropkick in NFL history.

CHICAGO BEARS 73, WASHINGTON 0—After the Redskins had defeated Chicago in the regular season,

Washington owner George Preston Marshall described the Bears as "crybabies." But it was Marshall's Redskins who were crying after the Bears pinned the biggest rout in NFL history on Washington. Ten different Bears scored touchdowns as Chicago amassed 519 total yards while limiting Washington to 231, including just 5 rushing yards. The Bears also intercepted 8 passes. Down to just one ball after kicking them all into the stands on extra-point attempts, the Bears had to pass for their last 2 conversion attempts.

GREEN BAY 27, NEW YORK 0—The Giants were overwhelmed by the Packers' defense and 35-mile per hour winds in Green Bay's victory. The Packers took an early 7-0 lead on a 7-yard scoring pass from Arnie Herber to Milt Gantenbein. The score remained that way until the third period because the Giants missed 3 field-goal attempts. After intermission, a field goal gave Green Bay a 10-0 lead, and then Cecil Isbell found Joe Laws for a 31-yard touchdown pass. Laws set up his touchdown with a 30-yard punt return. The Giants managed just 164 total yards and suffered 6 interceptions.

NEW YORK 23, GREEN BAY 17—Despite being outgained 378-212, the Giants won because of 2 big plays by their special teams. New York took a 9-0 first-quarter lead on a touchdown and a field goal, both of which were set up by blocked punts deep in the Packers' territory. Trailing 17-16 in the third quarter, New York drove 61 yards to the decisive score on a 23-yard touchdown pass in which Hank Soar outjumped two defenders.

WASHINGTON 28, CHICAGO BEARS 21—Rookie Sammy Baugh passed for 354 yards and 3 scores on an icy field to lead the Redskins' victory. With the Redskins trailing 14-7, Baugh exploded for scoring passes of 55, 78, and 35 yards in the third quarter to give Washington a 28-21 lead entering the fourth period. The Redskins' defense took over from there, stopping two Bears' drives inside Washington's 25. Baugh completed 7 of 10 passes for 202 yards in the third quarter, and finished with 18 completions in 33 attempts overall. Wayne Millner had a game-high 9 catches for 179 yards and 2 touchdowns.

GREEN BAY 21, BOSTON 6—Arnie Herber passed for 2 touchdowns and the Packers limited the Redskins to 130 total yards in Green Bay's victory. Herber fired a 48-yard touchdown pass to Don Hutson, and in the third quarter, hit Milt Gantenbein on an 8-yard scoring pass. Gantenbein's score was set up by a 52-yard pass from Herber to Johnny Blood (McNally). A blocked punt set up Bob Monnett's clinching 2-yard touchdown run. The game was played in New York's Polo Grounds because Redskins owner George Preston Marshall felt Boston fans were not behind his team. The Redskins moved to Washington for the 1937 season.

DETROIT 26, NEW YORK 7—The pass-oriented Giants were grounded by inclement weather, while the Lions pounded out 235 yards on the ground. The Lions took the opening kickoff and, aided by their only 2 completions of the day, drove 61 yards for a touchdown. After the Giants missed a field goal, Earl (Dutch) Clark ran 40 yards for a touchdown to make it 13-0. The Giants scored just before halftime to make it 13-7, and it stayed that way until the fourth quarter. Ernie Caddel's 4-yard run with four minutes to play gave Detroit a 20-7 lead, and Raymond (Buddy) Parker closed out the victory by returning an interception 22 yards to the Giants' 10, then scoring on a 4-yard run three plays later.

NEW YORK 30, CHICAGO BEARS 13—The Giants exploded for 27 points in the fourth quarter to overtake the Bears in the "Sneakers Game." Both teams slid around the frozen field in a first half that ended with Chicago leading 10-3. New York switched to rubber-soled shoes in the second half, but still trailed 13-3 in the fourth quarter. Midway through the fourth period, rookie Ed Danowski lofted a 28-yard touchdown pass to Ike Frankian to make it 13-10. After a Bears' punt, Ken Strong raced 42 yards up the middle for a touchdown to give the Bears a 17-13 lead. Strong added an 11-yard scoring run and Danowski ran 9 yards for another score to cap the Giants' fourth-quarter outburst.

CHICAGO BEARS 23, NEW YORK 21—The Bears used a trick play for the winning touchdown in the first official NFL Championship Game. Jack Manders, who had kicked only 5 field goals all season, kicked 3 in the first three quarters to stake Chicago to a 9-7 lead. After New York scored to make it 14-9, Chicago's Bronko Nagurski threw an 8-yard scoring pass to Bill Karr to put the Bears ahead 16-14. New York retook the lead on an unusual play. Ken Strong tried to sweep right, but was trapped, so he pitched the ball back to quarterback Harry Newman, who scrambled around and then found Strong for an 8-yard touchdown pass that made it 21-16. The teams traded possessions, with Chicago taking over at the Giants' 46 with time running out. From the Giants' 33, Nagurski ran right on a sweep, then pulled up and threw a pass to Bill Hewitt at the Giants' 19. Hewitt lateraled to Karr, who went the rest of the way for the deciding score.

PLAYER SHARES

$78,000 to each member of the winning team; $40,000 to each member of the losing team (more than $6 million total for the personnel of the two competing clubs). See page 78 for historical player share information.

PLAYER UNIFORMS

The NFC champion will be the home team, will use the West bench, and will have the choice of wearing its colored or white jersey. The AFC champion will be the visiting team and will use the East bench.

SUDDEN DEATH

If the game is tied at the end of the regulation 60 minutes, it will continue in sudden-death overtime. The team scoring first (by safety, field goal, or touchdown) will win.

At the end of regulation, the referee immediately will toss a coin at the center of the field, in accordance with rules pertaining to the usual pregame toss. The captain of the visiting team will call the toss. Following a three (3) minute intermission, play will continue by fifteen (15) minute periods with a two (2) minute intermission between each overtime period. There will be no halftime intermission. Teams will change goals between each period. The rules for game timing and team timeouts shall be the same as in the regular game, including the last two (2) minutes of the second and fourth quarters.

OFFICIAL TIME

The scoreboard clock will be official.

OFFICIALS

Seven officials and five alternates, all appointed by the Commissioner's office.

TROPHY

The winning team receives permanent possession of the Vince Lombardi Trophy, a sterling silver trophy created by Tiffany & Company and presented annually to the winner of the Super Bowl. The trophy was named for the late Vince Lombardi before Super Bowl V. The trophy is a regulation-size silver football mounted in a kicking position on a pyramid-like stand of three concave sides. The trophy stands 20.75 inches tall, weighs 107.3 ounces, and is valued in excess of $25,000. The words Vince Lombardi and Super Bowl XLIII are engraved on the base along with the NFL shield.

ATTENDANCE HISTORY

To date, 3,276,834 have attended Super Bowl games. The largest crowd was 103,985 at Super Bowl XIV, which was played at the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, California.

Rating is based on the number of households with televisions tuned in to some or all of the telecast. Share is the percentage of households using televisions during the telecast that tuned in to the game. For example, of the households that had their televisions on during Super Bowl XXIV, 63 percent were tuned in to the game. Of the top 10 televised sports events, based on ratings, nine are Super Bowls. Source: A.C. Nielsen

NEW YORK GIANTS 17, NEW ENGLAND 14—Eli Manning completed a 13-yard touchdown pass to Plaxico Burress with 35 seconds remaining as the Giants outlasted the previously undefeated Patriots. The Giants won their first Super Bowl in 17 years, and their third overall, while the Patriots joined the 1934 and 1942 Chicago Bears as the only teams to go undefeated in the regular season but lose their championship game. The Giants opened the game with a 16-play, 63-yard drive that resulted in Lawrence Tynes' 32-yard field goal with 5:01 left in the first quarter. It was the longest game-opening drive in Super Bowl history. The Patriots responded as Laurence Maroney's 43-yard kickoff return sparked a 56-yard drive, capped by Maroney's 1-yard touchdown run to begin the second quarter. The Giants drove to the Patriots' 14 on their next possession, but Ellis Hobbs intercepted Manning's deflected pass to stymie the drive. The Giants had the last scoring opportunity of the half, but Ahmad Bradshaw was flagged 10 yards for illegally batting forward a fumble, which took the Giants out of field-goal range. The Patriots drove to the Giants' 25 to begin the third quarter, but on third down Michael Strahan sacked Tom Brady for a 6-yard loss. On fourth-and-13 from the Giants' 31, Brady attempted a deep pass that sailed out of the end zone. With 14:52 to play beginning from their own 20-yard line, Manning connected on a 45-yard pass over the middle to Kevin Boss. Moments later Steve Smith caught a 17-yard pass on third-and-4, and two plays later Manning found David Tyree open over the middle for a 5-yard touchdown for a 10-7 lead with 11:05 to play. After an exchange of punts, the Patriots took possession on their own 20-yard-line with 7:54 to play. Brady completed 8 of 11 passes on the 80-yard drive, none for more than 13 yards, capped by Randy Moss' 6-yard touchdown catch on third-and-goal with 2:42 to play. The Giants and Manning took possession on their own 17-yard line with 2:39 left. Manning completed an 11-yard pass to Amani Toomer, and four plays later Brandon Jacobs gained 2 yards on fourth-and-1. Three plays later, faced with third-and-5 from their own 44 with 1:15 remaining, Manning dropped back to pass. He escaped the simultaneous grasps of Jarvis Green and Richard Seymour, spun away and then launched a pass deep down field. Tyree and Rodney Harrison both leapt for the ball, and Tyree caught the ball in midair and cradled it against his helmet while falling to the ground with Harrison draped all over him. The 32-yard reception to the Patriots' 24 gave the Giants a chance, and Smith's 12-yard catch on third-and-11 moments later put the ball at the Patriots' 13. On the next play, Burress caught a fade pass from Manning with 35 seconds left. The Patriots started from their own 26 with 29 seconds remaining, and on second down Jay Alford sacked Brady for a 10-yard loss. Brady's final two long pass attempts to Moss fell incomplete. Manning was 19 of 34 for 255 yards and 2 touchdowns, with 1 interception, and was named the game's most valuable player, one year after his brother, Peyton, won the award for the Colts. Brady was 29 of 48 for 266 yards and 1 touchdown. Wes Welker had 11 catches, which tied a Super Bowl record, for 103 yards.

INDIANAPOLIS 29, CHICAGO 17—Peyton Manning passed for 247 yards and 1 touchdown as the Colts won their first Super Bowl in 36 years. The Colts out-gained the Bears 430-265 in total yards and maintained a 38:04-21:56 edge in time of possession. Devin Hester opened the game with a 92-yard kickoff return for a touchdown, the first time the Super Bowl began with a touchdown. Two possessions later, on third-and-10, Manning found Reggie Wayne wide open deep down the middle for a 53-yard touchdown. A steady rain forced the teams to commit 4 first-quarter turnovers, and Hunter Smith mishandled the snap on the extra point, allowing the Bears to maintain a 7-6 lead. Later in the quarter, Thomas Jones' 52-yard run set up Rex Grossman's short touchdown pass to Muhsin Muhammad for a 14-6 lead. The Colts scored on back-to-back drives to begin the second quarter, capped by Dominic Rhodes' 1-yard run, for a 16-14 lead. To begin the second half, the Colts ran 7:34 off the clock with a 13-play, 56-yard drive that culminated with Adam Vinatieri's 24-yard field goal for a 19-14 lead. The teams then exchanged field goals, and the Bears forced a punt. On first-and-10 from the Bears' 38 with 11:59 to play, Grossman's pass intended for Muhammad was thrown high. Kelvin Hayden intercepted the pass, maneuvered up the sideline while staying inbounds, and raced 56 yards for a touchdown. It was Hayden's first-ever professional interception. Four plays later, Bob Sanders intercepted Grossman's deep pass. The Bears got the ball back twice, but never ran a play across midfield. Manning, who won the Pete Rozelle MVP award, was 25 of 38 for 247 yards and 1 touchdown, with 1 interception. Rhodes carried 21 times for 113 yards. Joseph Addai had 10 receptions for 66 yards. Grossman was 20 of 28 for 165 yards and 1 touchdown, with 2 interceptions. Jones rushed 15 times for 112 yards.

PITTSBURGH 21, SEATTLE 10—The Steelers made three big plays on offense and played a bend-but-don't-break defense to win their record-tying fifth Super Bowl title. The Seahawks lost despite winning the turnover battle (2-1), having more total yards (396-339), and consuming more of the clock (33:02-26:58). The Seahawks crossed midfield on 9 of their 12 possessions, but scored just twice. Late in the first quarter, Darrell Jackson's 16-yard touchdown catch was nullified by pass interference. The Seahawks settled for Josh Brown's 47-yard field goal. With 3:58 left in the second quarter, faced with third-and-28 from the Seahawks' 40, Ben Roethlisberger eluded the rush, rolled left and threw a deep pass across field. Hines Ward outleaped Michael Boulware at the 3-yard line for a 37-yard pass play. Two plays later, on a broken play, Roethlisberger dove over left tackle and reached the goal line for a touchdown. The Seahawks reached the Steelers' 40 with 54 seconds left, but Matt Hasselbeck's third-and-6 pass fell incomplete and Brown's 54-yard field-goal attempt sailed wide right. On the second play of the second half, Willie Parker set a Super Bowl record with his 75-yard touchdown run over right tackle. Brown's 50-yard field-goal attempt sailed wide left on the next possession, and the Steelers drove to the Seahawks' 7. On third-and-6, Roethlisberger's pass to the right flat was intercepted by Kelly Herndon, who returned the ball a Super Bowl-record 76 yards to the Steelers' 20. Three plays later,

SUPER BOWL

Jerramy Stevens caught Hasselbeck's 16-yard touchdown pass to cut the deficit to 14-10 with 6:45 left in the third quarter. Early in the fourth quarter, the Seahawks drove to the Steelers' 19. On first down, Stevens caught an 18-yard pass, but a holding penalty nullified the catch and Ike Taylor intercepted Hasselbeck's pass a few plays later. Three plays later, Parker took a handoff and gave the ball to Antwaan Randle El on a reverse. Rolling to his right, Randle El fired a perfect 43-yard touchdown pass to Ward for a 21-10 lead with 8:56 to play. The Seahawks punted and then did not get the ball back until there was 1:51 remaining. Seattle reached the Steelers' 26 with 35 seconds left. From the Steelers' 23, Hasselbeck's fourth-and-7 pass to Stevens fell incomplete at the 2-yard line with three seconds remaining. Roethlisberger, who became the youngest quarterback to win the Super Bowl, was 9 of 21 for 123 yards, with 2 interceptions. Ward had 5 catches for 123 yards to earn the Pete Rozelle Trophy as the game's most valuable player. Hasselbeck was 26 of 49 for 273 yards and 1 touchdown, with 1 interception.

NEW ENGLAND 24, PHILADELPHIA 21—Deion Branch had 11 receptions for 133 yards and the Patriots' defense forced 4 turnovers en route to becoming the eighth team to post consecutive Super Bowl titles. The Patriots matched the Dallas Cowboys (XXVII, XXVIII, and XXX) as the only team with three Super Bowl victories in the span of four seasons. The Eagles threatened first, driving to the Patriots' 8 late in the first quarter. On first down, Mike Vrabel sacked Donovan McNabb for a 16-yard loss and, after a penalty overturned an interception, Rodney Harrison stepped in front of a pass for an interception at the Eagles' 4. Early in the second quarter the Eagles drove 81 yards, keyed by Todd Pinkston's 40-yard catch, and capped by McNabb's 6-yard touchdown pass to L.J. Smith on third-and-goal for a 7-0 lead. The Patriots responded by driving to the Eagles' 4, but Tom Brady fumbled on a fake handoff attempt and Darwin Walker recovered. Later in the quarter, a 29-yard punt by Dirk Johnson allowed the Patriots to drive just 37 yards, keyed by Branch's 7-yard catch on third-and-3, and capped by Brady's pass to David Givens on the right side of the end zone to tie the game with 1:10 left in the half. New England began the second half with a 9-play, 69-yard drive, including 4 receptions, 2 on third down, by Branch, and capped by Vrabel's 2-yard catch. The Eagles put together a 10-play, 74-yard drive later in the third quarter, keyed by Brian Westbrook's 4-yard catch on third-and-3, and followed on the next play by his 10-yard touchdown catch to tie the game. On the ensuing drive, Kevin Faulk caught screen passes of 13 and 14 yards, and had a 12-yard run, and Corey Dillon capped the possession with a 2-yard run with 13:44 remaining for a 21-14 lead. The Patriots' defense forced a three-and-out, and Branch's 19-yard catch set up Adam Vinatieri's 22-yard field goal with 8:40 to play. Tedy Bruschi intercepted McNabb's pass at the Patriots' 24 with 7:20 remaining. The Eagles forced a punt and, beginning at their own 21 with 5:40 to play, needed 13 plays to drive 79 yards, capped by McNabb's 30-yard touchdown pass on a post-pattern to Greg Lewis with 1:48 to play. Christian Fauria recovered the onside kick, but the Eagles' defense forced a punt. Dexter Reid downed Josh Miller's 32-yard punt at the Eagles' 4 with 46 seconds left, and Harrison intercepted McNabb's pass three plays later to clinch the title. Brady was 23 of 33 for 236 yards and 2 touchdowns. Branch earned MVP honors with his Super Bowl-record-tying 11 catches. McNabb was 30 of 51 for 357 yards and 3 touchdowns, with 3 interceptions. Terrell Owens had 9 receptions for 122 yards.

NEW ENGLAND 32, CAROLINA 29—Adam Vinatieri kicked a 41-yard field goal with four seconds remaining as the Patriots won their second Super Bowl in three seasons. While it took a Super Bowl-record 26 minutes and 55 seconds for the first points to be scored, the teams combined for 868 yards (481 by New England) and the game also featured the highest scoring quarter (combined 37 points in the fourth). Vinatieri missed a 31-yard field goal on the Patriots' first possession, and had a 36-yard attempt blocked by Shane Burton with 6:00 left in the second quarter. But three plays later, Mike Vrabel sacked Jake Delhomme and forced him to fumble. Richard Seymour recovered at the Panthers' 20, and a 12-yard scramble by Tom Brady on third-and-7 set up his 5-yard touchdown pass to Deion Branch with 3:05 left in the first half. The Panthers responded with an 8-play, 95-yard drive capped by Delhomme's 39-yard perfectly placed touchdown pass to Steve Smith with 1:07 left in the half. Delhomme beat the blitz by lofting the pass deep down the left sideline. Brady's 52-yard pass to Branch with 37 seconds left in the half set up David Givens' 5-yard touchdown catch with 18 seconds left. New England squibbed the ensuing kickoff and Kris Mangum returned it 12 yards to the Panthers' 47. A 21-yard run by Stephen Davis set up John Kasay's 50-yard field goal as the half expired for a 14-10 New England lead. Neither team scored in the third quarter, but Antowain Smith's 2-yard touchdown run two plays into the final quarter capped a 71-yard drive and gave the Patriots a 21-10 lead. Undaunted, Carolina scored on its next two possessions. First, Delhomme completed passes of 18 and 22 yards to Smith to set up DeShaun Foster's 33-yard touchdown run to cut the deficit to 21-16 with 12:39 to play. Carolina went for the 2-point conversion, but Delhomme's pass was incomplete. New England marched to the Panthers' 9 with the ensuing kickoff, but Reggie Howard intercepted Brady's third-and-goal pass in the end zone. Two plays later, Delhomme rolled left and fired a Super Bowl-record 85-yard touchdown pass to Muhammad for a 22-21 lead with 6:53 left. Once again, the Panthers went for 2 points and Delhomme's pass was incomplete. New England drove 68 yards on its next possession, with Givens catching a 25-yard pass and 18-yard pass on third-and-9, to set up Brady's 1-yard touchdown pass to Vrabel, who was lined up as a tight end. A direct snap to Kevin Faulk resulted in a 2-point conversion for a 29-22 lead with 2:51 left. Delhomme completed passes of 19 yards to Muhammad and 31 yards to Ricky Proehl before finding Proehl from 12 yards with the tying touchdown with 1:08 remaining. Kasay's ensuing kickoff went out of bounds, giving New England the ball at their own 40. Five plays later, faced with third-and-3 from the Panthers' 40 with 14 seconds left, Brady fired a 17-yard pass to Branch to set up Vinatieri's Super Bowl-winning 41-yard field goal. Brady, who was named the Super Bowl most valuable player for the second time in his career, was 32 of 48 for 354 yards and 3 touchdowns, with 1 interception. Branch had 10 receptions for 143 yards. Delhomme was 16 of 33 for 323 yards and 3 touchdowns, and Muhammad had 4 catches for 140 yards.

TAMPA BAY 48, OAKLAND 21—The Buccaneers' defense intercepted 5 passes, 3 of which were returned for touchdowns, and recorded 5 sacks as Tampa Bay scored 34 unanswered points en route to its first Super Bowl victory. Charles Woodson intercepted Brad Johnson three plays into the game to give Oakland the ball at the Buccaneers' 36. But Simeon Rice sacked Rich Gannon on third down to force the Raiders to settle for Sebastian Janikowski's 40-yard field goal. On their next nine possessions, the Raiders registered just 2 first downs and did not run a play inside the Buccaneers' 40 as Tampa Bay scored the next 34 points. The Buccaneers answered Janikowski's field goal with Martin Gramatica's 31-yard boot to tie the game. An interception by Dexter Jackson set up Gramatica's go-ahead field goal early in the second quarter. Midway through the second quarter, a 25-yard punt return by Karl Williams and a 19-yard run by Michael Pittman led to Mike Alstott's 2-yard touchdown run. Late in the half, the Buccaneers drove 77 yards, aided by 3 defensive penalties and pass receptions of 16 and 12 yards by Alstott, to set up Brad Johnson's 5-yard touchdown pass to Keenan McCardell with 30 seconds left in the half, which gave Tampa Bay a 20-3 lead. With their first possession of the second half, the Buccaneers put together a 14-play, 89-yard drive that consumed 7:52 and was culminated by Johnson's 8-yard scoring toss to McCardell. Two plays later, Dwight Smith intercepted Gannon's pass and returned it 44 yards for a touchdown and a 34-3 lead with 4:47 left in the third quarter. Tampa Bay scored 4 touchdowns in a span of 16:37. Jerry Porter's 39-yard touchdown catch in the back of the end zone made it 34-9. Less than three minutes later, Tim Johnson blocked Tom Tupa's punt. Eric Johnson caught the ball and dove into the end zone for a touchdown to cut the deficit to 34-15 with 14:16 remaining. The Buccaneers drove deep downfield again, but Tupa mishandled the snap for a field-goal attempt, allowing the Raiders to regain possession. Gannon hit Jerry Rice with a 48-yard touchdown pass with 6:06 left to trim the lead to 34-21. A 9-yard pass by Johnson to Alstott on third-and-7 allowed Tampa Bay to take another two minutes off the clock before Tupa punted with 2:44 remaining. On third-and-18 from the Raiders' 29, Derrick Brooks intercepted Gannon's pass and raced 44 yards down the left sideline for a touchdown with 1:18 remaining to give Tampa Bay a commanding 41-21 lead. Smith intercepted a tipped pass and returned it 50 yards for a touchdown with two seconds left to finish the scoring. Johnson was 18 of 34 for 215 yards and 2 touchdowns, with 1 interception. Pittman had 29 carries for 124 yards. Gannon was 24 of 44 for 272 yards and 2 touchdowns, with a Super Bowl record 5 interceptions. Jackson, who had the first 2 interceptions, 1 of which led to the go-ahead field goal, was named the game's MVP.

NEW ENGLAND 20, ST. LOUIS 17—Adam Vinatieri's 48-yard field goal as time expired gave the New England Patriots their first Super Bowl title. The Rams out-gained the Patriots 427-267 in total yards, but the Patriots forced 3 turnovers, which resulted in 17 points, while committing no turnovers. Jeff Wilkins' 50-yard field goal capped a 10-play, 48-yard drive midway through the first quarter to give the Rams a 3-0 lead. The first turnover came with 8:49 left in the second quarter, when Ty Law stepped in front of an out-pattern pass intended for Isaac Bruce and raced 47 yards untouched down the left sideline into the end zone. Late in the first half, Kurt Warner completed a 15-yard pass to Ricky Proehl to the Patriots' 40, but Antwan Harris forced Proehl to fumble and Terrell Buckley recovered. Five plays later, Tom Brady's 8-yard touchdown pass to David Patten with 21 seconds left in the quarter gave New England a 14-3 halftime lead. Late in the third quarter, Torry Holt slipped coming off the line of scrimmage, and Otis Smith intercepted Warner's pass and returned it 30 yards to the Rams' 33 to set up Vinatieri's 37-yard field goal and a 17-3 lead. The Rams responded by driving to the Patriots' 3. On fourth-and-goal, Warner scrambled, was tackled by Roman Phifer, and fumbled. Tebucky Jones picked up the ball and raced the length of the field for an apparent touchdown, but the play was negated by Willie McGinest's holding penalty. Warner scored two plays later to trim the deficit to 17-10 with 9:31 left. The Patriots went three and out on their next two possessions, giving the Rams the ball on their 45-yard-line with 1:51 left. Warner completed an 18-yard pass to Az-Zahir Hakim and an 11-yard pass to Yo Murphy before connecting on a 26-yard touchdown pass to Proehl with 1:30 left to tie the game. Operating without any time outs, Brady completed 3 short passes to J.R. Redmond to reach the Patriots' 41 with 33 seconds left. After an incompleting, Brady completed 23- and 16-yard passes to Troy Brown and Jermaine Wiggins, respectively, to reach the Rams' 30, and then spiked the ball with 7 seconds remaining. Vinatieri drilled the 48-yard field-goal attempt, marking the first time in Super Bowl history the game had been won on the final play. Brady, who earned most valuable player honors, was 16 of 27 for 145 yards and 1 touchdown. Warner was 28 of 44 for 365 yards and 1 touchdown, with 2 interceptions.

BALTIMORE 34, NEW YORK GIANTS 7—The Ravens' defense completed a dominating season by permitting just 152 yards, forcing 5 turnovers, recording 4 sacks, and not allowing an offensive touchdown en route to the franchise's first Super Bowl victory. Jermaine Lewis' punt return into Giants' territory midway through the first quarter was followed two plays later by Trent Dilfer's 38-yard touchdown pass to Brandon Stokley, which gave the Ravens a 7-0 lead. Early in the second quarter, Jessie Armstead intercepted a short pass by Dilfer and returned it 43 yards for a touchdown, but the play was nullified by a penalty. Dilfer's 36-yard pass to Qadry Ismail in the second quarter set up Matt Stover's 47-yard field goal with 1:48 left in the half. Tiki Barber's 27-yard run gave the Giants their deepest penetration of the game, to the Ravens' 29, but Chris McAlister intercepted Kerry Collins' pass on the next play to preserve a 10-0 lead. In the third quarter, Duane Starks stepped in front of Amani Toomer and intercepted Collins' pass. Starks returned it 49 yards untouched for a 17-0 lead. The Giants immediately cut the lead to 10 points when Ron Dixon returned the ensuing kickoff 97 yards for a touchdown. However, Jermaine

Lewis then matched Dixon's kickoff return as he cut across the field and raced 84 yards for a 24-7 lead with 3:13 left in the third quarter. The 3 touchdowns in 36 seconds were a Super Bowl record. The Giants gained just 1 first down on their final four possessions. Jamal Lewis' 3-yard touchdown run midway through the fourth quarter gave Baltimore a 31-7 lead, and Robert Bailey recovered Dixon's fumble on the ensuing kickoff return to set up Stover's 34-yard field goal with 5:27 remaining to finish the scoring. Dilfer completed 12 of 25 passes for 153 yards and 1 touchdown. Jamal Lewis had 27 carries for 102 yards. Collins was 15 of 39 for 112 yards, with 4 interceptions. Ray Lewis was named Super Bowl most valuable player.

ST. LOUIS 23, TENNESSEE 16—Mike Jones tackled Kevin Dyson at the 1-yard line as time expired, preserving the Rams' first-ever Super Bowl title. The Rams drove inside the Titans' 20 with each of their first six possessions, but compiled just 3 field goals and 1 touchdown to take a 16-0 lead. Holder Rick Tuten's bobbled snap averted a 35-yard field-goal attempt to conclude the Rams' first drive. The Titans responded with a 42-yard drive, their longest of the half, but Al Del Greco missed a 47-yard attempt. Jeff Wilkins added 3 field goals and missed a 34-yard attempt while the Titans did not threaten the rest of the half, giving the Rams a 9-0 lead at intermission despite outgaining the Titans in total yards (294-89). Tennessee drove 43 yards with the second half's opening kickoff, but Todd Lyght blocked Del Greco's 47-yard attempt to keep the Titans off the board. Kurt Warner's 31-yard pass to Isaac Bruce keyed the ensuing drive that was capped by Warner's 9-yard touchdown pass to Torry Holt with 7:20 left in the third quarter to give the Rams a 16-0 lead. The Titans responded with touchdown drives in excess of seven minutes on each of their next two possessions. Steve McNair's 23-yard scramble set up Eddie George's 1-yard run in the final minute of the third quarter. McNair's 2-point conversion pass to Frank Wycheck was incomplete, but the Titans' defense forced a punt and the offense drove 79 yards in 13 plays, highlighted by 21-yard passes from McNair to Isaac Byrd and Jackie Harris, and capped by George's 2-yard run to cut the deficit to 16-13 with 7:21 remaining. The Rams once again failed to get a first down, and following a punt, the Titans needed just 28 yards to set up Del Greco's game-tying 43-yard kick with 2:12 left. On the next play from scrimmage, Warner fired a deep pass down the right sideline to Bruce, who caught the ball at the Titans' 38, cut toward the inside, and outran the defense to the end zone to give the Rams a 23-16 lead with 1:54 left. The Titans drove downfield, and McNair avoided a sack and completed a 16-yard pass to Kevin Dyson to place Tennessee at the Rams' 10 with six seconds remaining. With no timeouts, McNair attempted a quick pass to a slanting Dyson, who caught the ball in stride at the Rams' 3. However, Jones reacted quickly and stepped up to tackle Dyson at the 1-yard line as time expired. Warner, who was named the game's most valuable player, was 24 of 45 for a Super Bowl-record 414 yards and 2 touchdowns. Bruce had 6 catches for 162 yards, and Holt had 7 for 109 yards. McNair was 22 of 36 for 214 yards. The Titans were the first team in Super Bowl history to comeback from a 16-point deficit.

DENVER 34, ATLANTA 19—John Elway, in his last game, passed for 336 yards and ran for a touchdown to earn most valuable player honors as the Broncos became the first AFC team to win consecutive Super Bowls since the Steelers won XIII and XIV. A 25-yard pass interference penalty on Ray Crockett assisted the Falcons' nine-play, 48-yard game-opening drive that was capped by Morten Andersen's 32-yard field goal. Elway's 41-yard pass to Rod Smith kept alive Denver's ensuing drive and led to Howard Griffith's 1-yard touchdown run. Ronnie Bradford's interception and return to the Broncos' 35 late in the first quarter gave Atlanta excellent field position. However, Jamal Anderson was stopped for no gain on third-and-1 and thrown for a 2-yard loss on fourth down. Denver capitalized on its defensive effort with Jason Elam's 26-yard field goal. The Falcons responded by driving to the Broncos' 8, but Andersen's 26-yard field-goal attempt sailed wide right and on the next play, Elway fired an 80-yard touchdown pass to Smith to turn a possible 10-6 game into a 17-3 Broncos lead. Andersen's 28-yard field goal and 2 misses by Elam on the Broncos' first two second-half possessions gave Atlanta an opportunity to climb back into the game. However, Darrien Gordon dashed the Falcons' hopes with interceptions on consecutive possessions inside the Broncos' 20 to stop drives and set up Broncos touchdowns. Gordon returned the first interception, on a tipped pass, 58 yards to the Falcons' 24 to set up Griffith's second touchdown five plays later, and picked the second pass off at the Broncos' 2 and returned it 50 yards. Terrell Davis turned a short pass into a 39-yard gain, and Elway scored two plays later to give Denver a 31-6 lead. Tim Dwight returned the ensuing kickoff for a touchdown, and, after a field goal by Elam, the Falcons' offense scored with 2:04 remaining on Chandler's 3-yard pass to Terance Mathis. Byron Chamberlain recovered the ensuing inside kick, but Tyrone Braxton recovered Anderson's fumble at the Falcons' 33 with 1:30 remaining to ice the game. The Falcons drove inside the Broncos' 30 seven times, but tallied just 1 touchdown and 2 field goals, throwing 2 interceptions, missing 1 field goal, and turning the ball over 1 time on downs during the other possessions. Elway was 18 of 29 for 336 yards and 1 touchdown, with 1 interception. Davis had 25 carries for 102 yards. Smith had 5 receptions for 152 yards and a touchdown in the second quarter.

SUPER BOWL XXXII

Qualcomm Stadium, San Diego
January 25, 1998—Attendance: 68,912

DENVER 31, GREEN BAY 24—Terrell Davis rushed for 157 yards and a Super Bowl-record 3 touchdowns to lead the Broncos to their first NFL championship and break the NFC's streak of Super Bowl victories at thirteen. The defending Super Bowl champion Packers took the opening kickoff and marched 76 yards in just over four minutes, scoring the first points on Brett Favre's 22-yard touchdown pass to Antonio Freeman. The Broncos responded with a 10-play, 58-yard drive capped by Davis' 1-yard run to tie the game. Tyrone Braxton intercepted Favre two plays later, and John Elway scored on a third-and-goal play to begin the second quarter. Steve Atwater forced Favre to fumble three plays later, and Neil Smith recovered at the Packers' 33. Jason Elam converted a 51-yard field goal, the second longest in Super Bowl history, to give the Broncos a 17-7 lead with 12:21 left in the half. After an exchange of punts, the Packers produced a 17-play, 95-yard drive that consumed 7:26 and finished with Favre's 6-yard touchdown pass to Mark Chmura on third-and-5 with 12 seconds left in the half. Tyrone Williams forced and recovered Davis' fumble at the Broncos' 26 on the first play from scrimmage in the second half. However, the Broncos' defense kept the Packers out of the end zone as Ryan Longwell's 27-yard field goal tied the game with 11:59 left in the third quarter. After another exchange of punts, Elway's 36-yard pass to Ed McCaffrey keyed a 13-play, 92-yard drive capped by Davis' 1-yard touchdown run with 34 seconds left in the third quarter. Tim McKyer recovered Freeman's fumble at the Packers' 22 on the ensuing kickoff return, giving the Broncos a golden opportunity, but Eugene Robinson intercepted Elway's pass in the end zone on the next play. Sparked by Robinson's play, the Packers took just four plays, three on passes to Freeman, to score the tying touchdown with 13:32 remaining. Each defense stiffened, forcing two punts, but the Broncos got great field position following Craig Hentrich's 39-yard punt to the Packers' 49 with 3:27 left and the score tied 24-24. Davis rushed for 2 yards on the first play, but Darrius Holland's 15-yard face mask penalty moved the ball to the Packers' 32. Elway threw a 23-yard pass to Howard Griffith two plays later, and Davis rushed 7 yards to the Packers' 1 with 1:47 left. After a timeout, Davis waltzed into the end zone to give Denver a 31-24 lead with 1:45 remaining. Freeman returned the kickoff 22 yards to the Broncos' 30, and Favre dumped 22- and 13-yard passes to Dorsey Levens to reach the Broncos' 35 with 1:04 left. But after a 4-yard pass to Levens and incompletions to Freeman and Brooks, John Mobley batted down Favre's pass to Chmura with 32 seconds left to give the Broncos the Vince Lombardi trophy. Elway was 12 of 22 for 123 yards, with 1 interception. Favre was 25 of 42 for 256 yards and 1 touchdown, with 1 interception. Freeman had 9 receptions for 126 yards. Davis was named the game's most valuable player.

SUPER BOWL XXXI

Louisiana Superdome, New Orleans

January 26, 1997—Attendance: 72,301

GREEN BAY 35, NEW ENGLAND 21—Desmond Howard returned a kickoff 99 yards for a touchdown, and Brett Favre threw 2 touchdown passes and ran for a score as the Packers won their first Super Bowl in twenty-nine years. Howard, en route to garnering the MVP trophy, established a Super Bowl record with 244 total return yards. It was Favre's arm that struck first, as he hit Andre Rison for a 54-yard touchdown pass on the Packers' second play from scrimmage to take a 7-0 lead. Two plays later Doug Evans made a diving interception of Drew Bledsoe's pass at the 28-yard line, setting up Chris Jacke's field goal and giving the Packers a 10-0 lead just 6:18 into the Super Bowl. The Patriots answered with touchdowns on their next two possessions. Craig Newsome's pass interference penalty set up the first touchdown and a 44-yard completion from Bledsoe to Terry Glenn preceding Ben Coates' touchdown gave New England its first and only lead. The 24 combined first-quarter points were the most in Super Bowl history. Green Bay struck again 56 seconds into the second quarter as Favre hit Antonio Freeman with a Super Bowl-record 81-yard touchdown bomb. Jacke booted his second field goal on Green Bay's next possession. After a Mike Prior interception, Favre orchestrated a 74-yard, nearly 6-minute drive, which concluded with a diving Favre touching the ball against the pylon to give Green Bay a 27-14 halftime lead. Curtis Martin brought the Patriots to within a score by running in from 18 yards out with 3:27 left in the third quarter. But Howard broke the Patriots' spirit by returning the ensuing kickoff a Super Bowl-record 99 yards. Favre found Mark Chmura for the 2-point conversion to finish the scoring. Bledsoe was intercepted twice in the fourth quarter as the Patriots never crossed midfield in 4 fourth-quarter possessions. Reggie White set a Super Bowl record with 3 sacks. Favre completed 14 of 27 passes for 246 yards, 2 touchdowns, and had 1 rushing touchdown. Bledsoe completed 11 more passes than Favre, but for just 7 more yards, and threw 4 interceptions.

DALLAS 27, PITTSBURGH 17—Cornerback Larry Brown's 2 interceptions led to 14 second-half points and helped lift the Cowboys to their third Super Bowl victory in the last four seasons and their record-tying fifth title overall. Brown's interceptions foiled the comeback efforts of the Steelers and earned him the Pete Rozelle Trophy as the game's most valuable player. Dallas scored on each of its first three possessions, taking a 13-0 lead on Troy Aikman's 3-yard touchdown pass to Jay Novacek and a pair of field goals by Chris Boniol. Neil O'Donnell's 6-yard touchdown pass to Yancey Thigpen 13 seconds before halftime pulled Pittsburgh within 6 points, and the Steelers had the ball near midfield midway through the third quarter. But O'Donnell's third-down pass was intercepted by Brown at the Cowboys' 38-yard line, and his 44-yard return was carried to Pittsburgh's 18. After Aikman's 17-yard completion to Michael Irvin, Emmitt Smith ran 1 yard for the touchdown that put Dallas ahead again by 13 points. The Steelers rallied, though, behind Norm Johnson's 46-yard field goal, a successful surprise inside kick, and Byron (Barn) Morris' 1-yard touchdown run with 6:36 to play in the game. And when they forced a punt and took possession at their own 32-yard line trailing only 20-17 with 4:15 remaining, it appeared they might have a chance to break the NFC's recent domination in the Super Bowl. But on second down, Brown struck again, intercepting O'Donnell's pass at the 39 and returning it 33 yards to the 6. Two plays later, Smith barreled over from 4 yards out for the clinching touchdown with 3:43 to go. Pittsburgh limited the Cowboys' powerful running game to only 56 yards and enjoyed a whopping 201-61 advantage in total yards in the second half, but could not overcome the 3 interceptions (another came on the game's final play) thrown by O'Donnell, the NFL's career leader for fewest interceptions per pass attempt. In all, O'Donnell completed 28 of 49 passes for 239 yards. Morris rushed for a game-high 73 yards on 19 carries. For Dallas, Aikman completed 15 of 23 pass attempts for 209 yards. The Cowboys' victory was the twelfth in a row for NFC teams over AFC teams in the Super Bowl.

SUPER BOWL XXIX

SAN FRANCISCO 49, SAN DIEGO 26—Steve Young

threw a record 6 touchdown passes, and the 49ers became the first team to win five Super Bowls when they routed the Chargers. Young, the game's most valuable player, directed an explosive offense that generated 7 touchdowns, 28 first downs, and 455 total yards. He completed 24 of 36 passes for 325 yards, and broke former 49ers quarterback Joe Montana's previous record of 5 touchdown passes in Super Bowl XXIV. San Francisco wasted little time scoring, taking the lead for good on Young's 44-yard touchdown pass to Jerry Rice only three plays and 1:24 into the game. The next time they had the ball, the 49ers marched 79 yards in four plays, taking a 14-0 lead when Young teamed with running back Ricky Watters on a 51-yard touchdown pass with 10:05 still to play in the opening period. San Diego then put together its most impressive possession of the game, a 13-play, 78-yard drive that consumed more than 7 minutes and was capped by Natrone Means' 1-yard touchdown run, to cut its deficit to 14-7 late in the quarter. But San Francisco countered with a 70-yard drive of its own, and Young's 5-yard touchdown pass to fullback William Floyd made it 21-7. Young's fourth touchdown pass of the half, 8 yards to Watters 4:44 before halftime, increased the advantage to 28-7, and the Chargers could get no closer than 18 points after that. Watters, who ran 9 yards for a touchdown in the third quarter, equaled the Super Bowl record with 3 touchdowns. Rice also scored 3 touchdowns (the second time in his career he'd done that in a Super Bowl) while catching 10 passes for 149 yards. He established career records for receptions, yards, and touchdowns in a Super Bowl. Young, who scrambled 21 yards and 15 yards to set up touchdowns in the first half, was the game's leading rusher with 49 yards on 5 carries. San Diego's Means, who rushed for 1,350 yards during the regular season, was limited to 33 yards on 13 attempts. Chargers quarterback Stan Humphries completed 24 of 49 passes for 275 yards. Rookie Andre Coleman became only the third player in Super Bowl history to return a kickoff for a touchdown, going 98 yards in the third quarter. The 75 points scored by the two teams established another record, breaking the previous mark of 69 set in Dallas' 52-17 victory over Buffalo in XXVII. The 49ers' victory was the eleventh straight for NFC teams over AFC teams in the Super Bowl.

SUPER BOWL XXVIII

January 30, 1994—Attendance: 72,817

DALLAS 30, BUFFALO 13—Emmitt Smith rushed for 132 yards and 2 second-half touchdowns to power the Cowboys to their second consecutive NFL title. By winning, Dallas joined San Francisco and Pittsburgh as the only franchises with four Super Bowl victories. The Bills, meanwhile, extended a dubious string by losing in the Super Bowl for the fourth consecutive year. To win, the Cowboys had to rally from a 13-6 halftime deficit. Buffalo had forged its lead on Thurman Thomas' 4-yard touchdown run and a pair of field goals by Steve Christie, including a 54-yard kick, the longest in Super Bowl history. But just 55 seconds into the second half, Thomas was stripped of the ball by Dallas defensive tackle Leon Lett. Safety James Washington recovered and weaved his way 46 yards for a touchdown to tie the game at 13-13. After forcing the Bills to punt, the Cowboys began their next possession on their 36-yard line, and Smith, the game's most valuable player, took over. He carried 7 times for 61 yards on the ensuing 8-play, 64-yard drive, capping the march with a 15-yard touchdown run to give Dallas the lead for good with 8:42 remaining in the third quarter. Early in the fourth quarter, Washington intercepted Jim Kelly's pass and returned it 12 yards to Buffalo's 34. A penalty moved the ball back to the 39, but Smith carried twice for 10 yards and caught a screen pass for 9, and quarterback Troy Aikman completed a 16-yard pass to Alvin Harper to give the Cowboys a first-and-goal at the 6. Smith took it from there, cracking the end zone on fourth-and-goal from the 1 to put Dallas ahead 27-13 with 9:50 remaining. Eddie Murray's third field goal, from 20 yards with 2:50 left, ended any doubt about the game's outcome. Smith had 30 carries in all, with 19 of his attempts and 92 yards coming after intermission. Washington, normally a reserve who played most of the game because the Cowboys used five defensive backs to combat the Bills' No-Huddle offense, had 11 tackles and forced another fumble by Thomas in the first quarter. Aikman completed 19 of 27 passes for 207 yards. Buffalo's Kelly completed a Super Bowl-record 31 passes in 50 attempts for 260 yards. Dallas, the first team in NFL history to begin the regular season 0-2 and go on to win the Super Bowl, also became the fifth to win back-to-back titles, following Green Bay, Miami, Pittsburgh (the Steelers did it twice), and San Francisco. Buffalo became the third team, along with Minnesota and Denver, to lose four Super Bowls. The Cowboys' victory was the tenth in succession for the NFC over the AFC.

SUPER BOWL XXVII

Rose Bowl, Pasadena

DALLAS 52, BUFFALO 17—Troy Aikman threw 4 touchdown passes, Emmitt Smith rushed for 108 yards, and the Cowboys converted 9 turnovers into 35 points while coasting to the victory. Dallas' win was its third in its record sixth Super Bowl appearance; the Bills became the first to team to drop three in succession. Buffalo led 7-0 until the first 2 of its record number of turnovers helped the Cowboys take the lead for good late in the opening quarter. First, Dallas safety James Washington intercepted a Jim Kelly pass and returned it 13 yards to the Bills' 47, setting up Aikman's 23-yard touchdown pass to tight end Jay Novacek with 1:36 remaining in the period. On the next play from scrimmage, Kelly was sacked by Charles Haley and fumbled at the Bills' 2-yard line where the Cowboys' Jimmie Jones picked up the loose ball and ran 2 yards for a touchdown. Dallas, which recovered 5 fumbles and intercepted 4 passes, struck just as quickly late in the first half, when Aikman tossed 19- and 18-yard touchdown passes to Michael Irvin 15 seconds apart to give the Cowboys a 28-10 lead at intermission. The second score was set up when Bills running back Thurman Thomas lost a fumble at his 19-yard line. Buffalo scored for the last time when backup quarterback Frank Reich, playing because Kelly was injured while attempting to pass midway through the second quarter, threw a 40-yard touchdown pass to Don Beebe on the final play of the third period to trim the deficit to 31-17. But Dallas put the game out of reach by scoring three times in a span of 2:33 of the fourth quarter. Aikman, the game's most valuable player, completed 22 of 30 passes for 273 yards and was not intercepted. Novacek caught 7 passes and Smith and Irvin had 6 each. The Bills' Andre Reed had 8 receptions for 152 yards. The victory was the ninth in succession for the NFC over AFC teams in the Super Bowl.

WASHINGTON 37, BUFFALO 24—Mark Rypien passed for 292 yards and 2 touchdowns as the Redskins overwhelmed the Bills to win their third Super Bowl in the past 10 years. Rypien, the game's most valuable player, completed 18 of 33 passes, including a 10-yard scoring strike to Earnest Byner and a 30-yard touchdown to Gary Clark. The latter came late in the third quarter after Buffalo had trimmed a 24-0 deficit to 24-10, and effectively put the game out of reach. Washington went on to lead by as much as 37-10 before the Bills made it close with a pair of touchdowns in the final six minutes. Though the Redskins struggled early, converting their first three drives inside the Bills' 20-yard line into only 3 points, they built a 17-0 halftime lead. And they made it 24-0 just 16 seconds into the second half, after Kurt Gouveia intercepted Buffalo quarterback Jim Kelly's pass on the first play of the third quarter and returned it 23 yards to the Bills' 2. One play later, Gerald Riggs scored his second touchdown of the game. Kelly, forced to bring Buffalo from behind, completed 28 of a Super Bowl-record 58 passes for 275 yards and 2 touchdowns, but was intercepted 4 times. Bills running back Thurman Thomas, who had an AFC-high 1,407 yards rushing and an NFL-best 2,038 total yards from scrimmage during the regular season, ran for only 13 yards on 10 carries and was limited to 27 yards on 4 receptions. Clark had 7 catches for 114 yards and Art Monk added 7 for 113 for the Redskins, who amassed 417 yards of total offense while limiting the explosive Bills to 283. Washington's Joe Gibbs became only the third head coach to win as many as three Super Bowls.

SUPER BOWL XXV

Tampa Stadium, Tampa Bay
January 27, 1991—Attendance: 73,813
NEW YORK GIANTS 20, BUFFALO 19—The NFC champion New York Giants won their second Super Bowl in five years with a 20-19 victory over AFC titlist Buffalo. New York, employing its ball-control offense, had possession for 40 minutes, 33 seconds, a Super Bowl record. The Bills, who scored 95 points in their previous two playoff games leading to Super Bowl XXV, had the ball for less than eight minutes in the second half and just 19:27 for the game. Fourteen of New York's 73 plays came on its initial drive of the third quarter, which covered 75 yards and consumed a Super Bowl-record 9:29 before running back Otis Anderson ran 1 yard for a touchdown. Giants quarterback Jeff Hostetler kept the long drive alive by converting three third-down plays—an 11-yard pass to running back David Meggett on third-and-8, a 14-yard toss to wide receiver Mark Ingram on third-and-13, and a 9-yard pass to Howard Cross on third-and-4—to give New York a 17-12 lead in the third quarter. Buffalo jumped to a 12-3 lead midway through the second quarter before Hostetler completed a 14-yard scoring strike to wide receiver Stephen Baker to close the score to 12-10 at halftime. Buffalo's Thurman Thomas ran 31 yards for a touchdown on the opening play of the fourth quarter to help Buffalo recapture the lead at 19-17. Giants kicker Matt Bahr's 21-yard field goal gave the Giants a 20-19 lead, but Buffalo's Scott Norwood had a chance to win the game with four seconds remaining, but his 47-yard field-goal attempt sailed wide right. Hostetler completed 20 of 32 passes for 222 yards and 1 touchdown. Wide receiver Mark Ingram caught 5 passes for 74 yards; tight end Mark Bavaro 5 for 50. Anderson rushed 21 times for 102 yards and 1 touchdown to capture the most-valuable-player honors. Thomas totaled 190 scrimmage yards, rushing 15 times for 135 yards and catching 5 passes for 55 yards.

SAN FRANCISCO 55, DENVER 10—NFC titlist San Francisco won its fourth Super Bowl championship with a 55-10 victory over AFC champion Denver. The 49ers, who also won Super Bowls XVI, XIX, and XXIII, tied the Pittsburgh Steelers for most Super Bowl victories. The Steelers captured Super Bowls IX, X, XIII, and XIV. San Francisco's 55 points broke the previous Super Bowl scoring mark of 46 points by Chicago in Super Bowl XX. San Francisco scored touchdowns on four of its six first-half possessions to hold a 27-3 lead at halftime. The 49ers' first-half scoring drives were lengthy and time-consuming (10 plays for 66 yards, 10 for 54, 14 for 69, and 5 for 59). Interceptions by Michael Walter and Chet Brooks ended the Broncos' first two possessions of the second half. San Francisco quarterback Joe Montana was named the Super Bowl MVP for a record third time. Montana completed 22 of 29 passes for 297 yards and a Super Bowl-record 5 touchdowns. Jerry Rice, the Super Bowl XXIII most valuable player, caught 7 passes for 148 yards and 3 touchdowns. The 49ers' domination included first downs (28 to 12), net yards (461 to 167), and time of possession (39:31 to 20:29).

SAN FRANCISCO 20, CINCINNATI 16—NFC champion San Francisco captured its third Super Bowl of the 1980s by defeating AFC champion Cincinnati 20-16. The 49ers, who also won Super Bowls XVI and XIX, became the first NFC team to win three Super Bowls. Pittsburgh with four Super Bowl titles (IX, X, XIII, and XIV) and the Oakland/Los Angeles Raiders with three (XI, XV, and XVIII) lead AFC franchises. Even though San Francisco held an advantage in total net yards (453 to 229), the 49ers found themselves trailing the Bengals late in the game. With the score tied 13-13, Cincinnati took a 16-13 lead on Jim Breech's 40-yard field goal with 3:20 remaining. It was Breech's third field goal of the day, following earlier successes from 34 and 43 yards. The 49ers started their winning drive at their own 8-yard line. Over the next 11 plays, San Francisco covered 92 yards, with the decisive score coming on a 10-yard pass from quarterback Joe Montana to wide receiver John Taylor with 34 seconds remaining. At halftime, the score was 3-3, the first time in Super Bowl history the game was tied at intermission. After the teams traded three-period field goals, the Bengals jumped ahead 13-6 on Stanford Jennings' 93-yard kickoff return for a touchdown with 34 seconds remaining in the quarter. The 49ers didn't waste any time coming back as they covered 85 yards in four plays, concluding with Montana's 14-yard scoring pass to Rice 57 seconds into the final stanza. Rice was named the game's most valuable player after compiling 11 catches for a Super Bowl-record 215 yards. Montana completed 23 of 36 passes for a Super Bowl-record 357 yards and 2 touchdowns.

SUPER BOWL XXII

WASHINGTON 42, DENVER 10—NFC champion Washington won Super Bowl XXII and its second NFL championship of the 1980s with a 42-10 decision over AFC champion Denver. The Redskins, who also won Super Bowl XVII, enjoyed a record-setting second quarter en route to the victory. The Broncos broke in front 10-0 when quarterback John Elway threw a 56-yard touchdown pass to wide receiver Ricky Nattiel on the Broncos' first play from scrimmage. Following a Washington punt, Denver's Rich Karlis kicked a 24-yard field goal to cap a seven-play, 61-yard scoring drive. The Redskins then erupted for 35 points on five consecutive possessions in the second period and coasted thereafter. The 35 points established an NFL postseason mark for most points scored in a period, bettering the previous total of 21 by San Francisco in Super Bowl XIX and Chicago in Super Bowl XX. Redskins quarterback Doug Williams led the second-period explosion by throwing a Super Bowl record-tying 4 touchdown passes, including 80- and 50-yarders to wide receiver Ricky Sanders, a 27-yarder to wide receiver Gary Clark, and an 8-yarder to tight end Clint Didier. Washington scored 5 touchdowns in 18 plays with total time of possession of only 5:47. Overall, Williams completed 18 of 29 passes for 340 yards and was named the game's most valuable player. His passing yardage total eclipsed the previous Super Bowl record of 331 yards by Joe Montana of San Francisco in Super Bowl XIX. Sanders ended with 193 yards on 8 catches, breaking the previous Super Bowl yardage record of 161 yards by Lynn Swann of Pittsburgh in Game X. Rookie running back Timmy Smith was the game's leading rusher with 22 carries for a Super Bowl-record 204 yards, breaking the previous mark of 191 yards by Marcus Allen of the Raiders in Game XVIII. Smith also scored twice on runs of 58 and four yards. Washington's 6 touchdowns and 602 total yards gained also set Super Bowl records. Redskins cornerback Barry Wilburn had 2 of the team's 3 interceptions, and strong safety Alvin Walton had 2 of Washington's 5 sacks.

NEW YORK GIANTS 39, DENVER 20—The NFC champion New York Giants captured their first NFL title since 1956 as they downed the AFC champion Denver Broncos 39-20 in Super Bowl XXI. The victory marked the NFC's fifth NFL title in the past six seasons. The Broncos, behind the passing of quarterback John Elway, who was 13 of 20 for 187 yards in the first half, held a 10-9 lead at halftime, the narrowest halftime margin in Super Bowl history. Denver's Rich Karlis opened the scoring with a Super Bowl record-tying 48-yard field goal. New York drove 78 yards in 9 plays on the next series to take a 7-3 lead on quarterback Phil Simms' 6-yard touchdown pass to tight end Zeke Mowatt. The Broncos came right back with a 58-yard scoring drive in 6 plays capped by Elway's 4-yard touchdown run. The only scoring in the second period was a sack of Elway in the end zone by Giants defensive end George Martin for a safety. The Giants produced a key defensive stand early in the second quarter when the Broncos had a first down at the New York 1-yard line, but failed to score on three running plays and Karlis' 23-yard missed field-goal attempt. The Giants took command of the game in the third period en route to a 30-point second half, the most ever scored in one half of Super Bowl play. New York took the lead for good on tight end Mark Bavaro's 13-yard touchdown catch 4:52 into the third period. The 9-play, 63-yard scoring drive included the successful conversion of a fourth-and-1 play on the New York 46-yard line. Denver was limited to only 2 net yards on 10 offensive plays in the third period. Simms set Super Bowl records for most consecutive completions (10) and highest completion percentage (88 percent on 22 completions in 25 attempts). He also passed for 268 yards and 3 touchdowns and was named the game's most valuable player. New York running back Joe Morris was the game's leading rusher with 20 carries for 67 yards. Denver wide receiver Vance Johnson led all receivers with 5 catches for 121 yards. The Giants defeated their three playoff opponents by a cumulative total of 82 points (New York 105, opponents 23), the largest such margin by a Super Bowl winner.

CHICAGO 46, NEW ENGLAND 10—The NFC champion Chicago Bears, seeking their first NFL title since 1963, scored a Super Bowl-record 46 points in downing AFC champion New England 46-10 in Super Bowl XX. The previous record for most points in a Super Bowl was 38, shared by San Francisco in XIX and the Los Angeles Raiders in XVIII. The Bears' league-leading defense tied the Super Bowl record for sacks (7) and limited the Patriots to a record-low 7 rushing yards. New England took the quickest lead in Super Bowl history when Tony Franklin kicked a 36-yard field goal with 1:19 elapsed in the first period. The score came about because of Larry McGrew's fumble recovery at the Chicago 19-yard line. However, the Bears rebounded for a 23-3 first-half lead, while building a yardage advantage of 236 total yards to New England's minus 19. Running back Matt Suhey rushed 8 times for 37 yards, including an 11-yard touchdown run, and caught 1 pass for 24 yards in the first half. After the Patriots' first drive of the second half ended with a punt to the Bears' 4-yard line, Chicago marched 96 yards in 9 plays with quarterback Jim McMahon's 1-yard scoring run capping the drive. McMahon became the first quarterback in Super Bowl history to rush for a pair of touchdowns. The Bears completed their scoring via a 28-yard interception return by reserve cornerback Reggie Phillips, a 1-yard run by defensive tackle/fullback William Perry, and a safety when defensive end Henry Waechter tackled Patriots quarterback Steve Grogan in the end zone. Bears defensive end Richard Dent became the fourth defender to be named the game's most valuable player after contributing 1½ sacks. The Bears' victory margin of 36 points was the largest in Super Bowl history, bettering the previous mark of 29 by the Los Angeles Raiders when they topped Washington 38-9 in Game XVIII. McMahon completed 12 of 20 passes for 256 yards before leaving the game in the fourth period with a wrist injury. The NFL's all-time leading rusher, Bears running back Walter Payton, carried 22 times for 61 yards. Wide receiver Willie Gault caught 4 passes for 129 yards. Chicago coach Mike Ditka became the second man (Tom Flores of the Raiders was the other) to play for a Super Bowl winner and coach a team to a victory in the game.

SAN FRANCISCO 38, MIAMI 16—The San Francisco 49ers captured their second Super Bowl title with a dominating offense and a defense that tamed Miami's explosive passing attack. The Dolphins held a 10-7 lead at the end of the first period, which represented the most points scored by two teams in an opening quarter of a Super Bowl. However, the 49ers used excellent field position in the second period to build a 28-16 halftime lead. Running back Roger Craig set a Super Bowl record by scoring 3 touchdowns on pass receptions of 8 and 16 yards and a run of 2 yards. San Francisco's Joe Montana was voted the game's most valuable player. He joined Green Bay's Bart Starr and Pittsburgh's Terry Bradshaw as the only two-time Super Bowl most valuable players. Montana completed 24 of 35 passes for a Super Bowl-record 331 yards and 3 touchdowns, and rushed 5 times for 59 yards, including a 6-yard touchdown. Craig had 58 yards on 15 carries and caught 7 passes for 77 yards. Wendell Tyler rushed 13 times for 65 yards and had 4 catches for 70 yards. Dwight Clark had 6 receptions for 77 yards, while Russ Francis had 5 for 60. San Francisco's 537 total net yards bettered the previous Super Bowl record of 429 yards by Oakland in Super Bowl XI. The 49ers also held a time of possession advantage over the Dolphins of 37:11 to 22:49.

LOS ANGELES RAIDERS 38, WASHINGTON 9—The

Los Angeles Raiders dominated the Washington Redskins from the beginning in Super Bowl XVIII and achieved the most lopsided victory in Super Bowl history, surpassing Green Bay's 35-10 win over Kansas City in Super Bowl I. The Raiders took a 7-0 lead 4:52 into the game when Derrick Jensen blocked a Jeff Hayes punt and recovered it in the end zone for a touchdown. With 9:14 remaining in the first half, Raiders quarterback Jim Plunkett threw a 12-yard touchdown pass to wide receiver Cliff Branch to complete a 3-play, 65-yard drive. Washington cut the Raiders' lead to 14-3 on a 24-yard field goal by Mark Moseley. With seven seconds left in the first half, Raiders linebacker Jack Squirek intercepted a Joe Theismann pass at the Redskins' 5-yard line and ran it in for a touchdown to give Los Angeles a 21-3 halftime lead. In the third period, running back Marcus Allen, who rushed for a Super Bowl-record 191 yards on 20 carries, increased the Raiders' lead to 35-9 on touchdown runs of 5 and 74 yards, the latter erasing the previous Super Bowl record of 58 yards set by Baltimore's Tom Matte in Game III. Allen was named the game's most valuable player. The victory over Washington raised Raiders coach Tom Flores' playoff record to 8-1, including a 27-10 win against Philadelphia in Super Bowl XV. The 38 points scored by the Raiders were the highest total by a Super Bowl team. The previous high was 35 points by Green Bay in Game I.

WASHINGTON 27, MIAMI 17—Fullback John Riggins' Super Bowl-record 166 yards rushing on 38 carries sparked Washington to a 27-17 victory over AFC champion Miami. It was Riggins' fourth straight 100-yard rushing game during the playoffs, also a record. The win marked Washington's first NFL title since 1942, and was only the second time in Super Bowl history NFL/NFC teams scored consecutive victories (Green Bay did it in Super Bowls I and II and San Francisco won Super Bowl XVI). The Redskins, under second-year head coach Joe Gibbs, used a balanced offense that accounted for 400 total yards (a Super Bowl-record 276 yards rushing and 124 passing), second in Super Bowl history to 429 yards by Oakland in Super Bowl XI. The Dolphins built a 17-10 halftime lead on a 76-yard touchdown pass from quarterback David Woodley to wide receiver Jimmy Cefalo 6:49 into the first period, a 20-yard field goal by Uwe von Schamann with 6:00 left in the half, and a Super Bowl-record 98-yard kickoff return by Fulton Walker with 1:38 remaining. Washington had tied the score at 10-10 with 1:51 left on a 4-yard touchdown pass from Joe Theismann to wide receiver Alvin Garrett. Mark Moseley started the Redskins' scoring with a 31-yard field goal late in the first period, and added a 20-yarder midway through the third period to cut the Dolphins' lead to 17-13. Riggins, who was voted the game's most valuable player, gave Washington its first lead with 10:01 left when he ran 43 yards off left tackle for a touchdown on a fourth-and-1 situation. Wide receiver Charlie Brown caught a 6-yard scoring pass from Theismann with 1:55 left to complete the scoring. The Dolphins managed only 176 yards (142 in first half). Theismann completed 15 of 23 passes for 143 yards, with 2 touchdowns and 2 interceptions. For Miami, Woodley was 4 of 14 for 97 yards, with 1 touchdown, and 1 interception. Don Strock was 0 for 3 in relief.

SAN FRANCISCO 26, CINCINNATI 21—Ray Werschling's Super Bowl record-tying 4 field goals and Joe Montana's controlled passing helped lift the San Francisco 49ers to their first NFL championship with a 26-21 victory over Cincinnati. The 49ers built a game-record 20-0 halftime lead via Montana's 1-yard touchdown run; fullback Earl Cooper's 11-yard scoring pass from Montana, which climaxed a Super Bowl record 92-yard drive on 12 plays; and Werschling's 22- and 26-yard field goals. The Bengals rebounded in the second half, closing the gap to 20-14 on quarterback Ken Anderson's 5-yard run and Dan Ross' 4-yard reception from Anderson, who established Super Bowl passing records for completions (25) and completion percentage (73.5 percent on 25 of 34). Werschling added early fourth-period field goals of 40 and 23 yards to increase the 49ers' lead to 26-14. The Bengals managed to score on an Anderson-to-Ross 3-yard pass with only 16 seconds remaining. Ross set a Super Bowl record with 11 receptions for 104 yards. Montana, the game's most valuable player, completed 14 of 22 passes for 157 yards. Cincinnati compiled 356 yards to San Francisco's 275, which marked the first time in Super Bowl history that the team that gained the most yards from scrimmage lost the game.

OAKLAND 27, PHILADELPHIA 10—Jim Plunkett threw 3 touchdown passes, including an 80-yarder to Kenny King, as the Raiders became the first wild-card team to win the Super Bowl. Plunkett's touchdown bomb to King—the longest play in Super Bowl history—gave Oakland a decisive 14-0 lead with nine seconds left in the first period. Linebacker Rod Martin had set up Oakland's first touchdown, a 2-yard reception by Cliff Branch, with a 17-yard interception return to the Eagles' 30-yard line. The Eagles never recovered from that early deficit, managing only a Tony Franklin field goal (30 yards) and an 8-yard touchdown pass from Ron Jaworski to Keith Krepfle the rest of the game. Plunkett, who became a starter in the sixth game of the season, completed 13 of 21 passes for 261 yards and was named the game's most valuable player. Oakland won 9 of 11 games with Plunkett starting, but that was good enough only for second place in the AFC West, although they tied division winner San Diego with an 11-5 record. The Raiders, who had previously won Super Bowl XI over Minnesota, had to win three playoff games to get to the championship game. Oakland defeated Houston 27-7 at home followed by road victories over Cleveland (14-12) and San Diego (34-27). Oakland's Mark van Eeghen was the game's leading rusher with 75 yards on 18 carries. Philadelphia's Wilbert Montgomery led all receivers with 6 receptions for 91 yards. Branch had 5 for 67 and Harold Carmichael of Philadelphia 5 for 83. Martin finished the game with 3 interceptions, a Super Bowl record.

PITTSBURGH 31, LOS ANGELES 19—Terry Bradshaw completed 14 of 21 passes for 309 yards and set two passing records as the Steelers became the first team to win four Super Bowls. Despite 3 interceptions by the Rams, Bradshaw kept his poise and brought the Steelers from behind twice in the second half. Trailing 13-10 at halftime, Pittsburgh went ahead 17-13 when Bradshaw hit Lynn Swann with a 47-yard touchdown pass after 2:48 of the third quarter. On the Rams' next possession, Vince Ferragamo, who completed 15 of 25 passes for 212 yards, responded with a 50-yard pass to Billy Waddy that moved Los Angeles from its own 26 to the Steelers' 24. On the following play, Lawrence McCutcheon connected with Ron Smith on a halfback option pass that gave the Rams a 19-17 lead. On Pittsburgh's initial possession of the final period, Bradshaw lofted a 73-yard scoring pass to John Stallworth to put the Steelers in front to stay, 24-19. Franco Harris scored on a 1-yard run later in the quarter to seal the verdict. A 45-yard pass from Bradshaw to Stallworth was the key play in the drive to Harris' score. Bradshaw, the game's most valuable player for the second straight year, set career Super Bowl records for most touchdown passes (9) and most passing yards (932). Larry Anderson gave the Steelers excellent field position throughout the game with 5 kickoff returns for a record 162 yards.

PITTSBURGH 35, DALLAS 31—Terry Bradshaw threw a Super Bowl-record 4 touchdown passes to lead the Steelers to victory. Pittsburgh became the first team to win three Super Bowls, mostly because of Bradshaw's accurate arm. Bradshaw, voted the game's most valuable player, completed 17 of 30 passes for 318 yards, a personal high. Four of those passes went for touchdowns—2 to John Stallworth and the third, with 26 seconds remaining in the second period, to Rocky Bleier for a 21-14 halftime lead. The Cowboys scored twice before intermission on Roger Staubach's 39-yard pass to Tony Hill and a 37-yard fumble return by linebacker Mike Hegman. The Steelers broke open the contest with 2 touchdowns in a span of 19 seconds midway through the final period. Franco Harris rambled 22 yards up the middle to give the Steelers a 28-17 lead with 7:10 left. Pittsburgh got the ball right back when Randy White fumbled the kickoff and Dennis Winston recovered for the Steelers. On first down, Bradshaw fired his fourth touchdown pass, an 18-yarder to Lynn Swann to boost the Steelers' lead to 35-17 with 6:51 to play. The Cowboys refused to let the Steelers run away with the contest. Staubach connected with Billy Joe DuPree on a 7-yard scoring pass with 2:23 left. Then the Cowboys recovered an onside kick, and Staubach took them in for another score, passing 4 yards to Butch Johnson with 22 seconds remaining. Bleier recovered

DALLAS 27, DENVER 10—The Cowboys evened their Super Bowl record at 2-2 by defeating Denver before a sellout crowd of 75,583, plus 102,010,000 television viewers, the largest audience ever to watch a sporting event. Dallas converted 2 interceptions into 10 points and Efren Herrera added a 35-yard field goal for a 13-0 halftime advantage. In the third period, Craig Morton engineered a drive to the Cowboys' 30 and Jim Turner's 47-yard field goal made the score 13-3. After an exchange of punts, Butch Johnson made a spectacular diving catch in the end zone to complete a 45-yard pass from Roger Staubach and put the Cowboys ahead 20-3. Following Rick Upchurch's 67-yard kickoff return, Norris Weese guided the Broncos to a touchdown to cut the Dallas lead to 20-10. Dallas clinched the victory when running back Robert Newhouse threw a 29-yard touchdown pass to Golden Richards with 7:04 remaining in the game. It was the first pass thrown by Newhouse since 1975. Harvey Martin and Randy White, who were named co-most valuable players, led the Cowboys' defense, which recovered 4 fumbles and intercepted 4 passes.

OAKLAND 32, MINNESOTA 14—The Raiders won their first NFL championship before a record Super Bowl crowd plus 81 million television viewers, the largest audience ever to watch a sporting event. The Raiders gained a record-breaking 429 yards, including running back Clarence Davis' 137 rushing yards. Wide receiver Fred Biletnikoff made 4 key receptions, which earned him the game's most valuable player trophy. Oakland scored on three successive possessions in the second quarter to build a 16-0 halftime lead. Errol Mann's 24-yard field goal opened the scoring, then the AFC champions put together drives of 64 and 35 yards, scoring on a 1-yard pass from Ken Stabler to Dave Casper and a 1-yard run by Pete Banaszak. The Raiders increased their lead to 19-0 on a 40-yard field goal by Mann in the third quarter, but Minnesota responded with a 12-play, 58-yard drive late in the period, with Fran Tarkenton passing 8 yards to wide receiver Sammy White to cut the deficit to 19-7. Two fourth-quarter interceptions clinched the title for the Raiders. One set up Banaszak's second touchdown run, the other resulted in cornerback Willie Brown's Super Bowl-record 75-yard interception return.

PITTSBURGH 21, DALLAS 17—The Steelers won the Super Bowl for the second year in a row on Terry Bradshaw's 64-yard touchdown pass to Lynn Swann and an aggressive defense that snuffed out a late rally by the Cowboys with an end-zone interception on the final play of the game. In the fourth quarter, Pittsburgh ran on fourth down and gave up the ball on the Cowboys' 39 with 1:22 to play. Roger Staubach ran and passed for 2 first downs, but his last desperation pass was picked off by Glen Edwards. Dallas' scoring was the result of 2 touchdown passes by Staubach, 1 to Drew Pearson for 29 yards and the other to Percy Howard for 34 yards. Toni Fritsch had a 36-yard field goal. The Steelers scored on 2 touchdown passes by Bradshaw, 1 to Randy Grossman for 7 yards and the long bomb to Swann. Roy Gerela had 36- and 18-yard field goals. Reggie Harrison blocked a punt through the end zone for a safety. Swann set a Super Bowl-record by gaining 161 yards on his 4 receptions.

SUPER BOWL IX

Tulane Stadium, New Orleans
 January 12, 1975—Attendance: 80,997

PITTSBURGH 16, MINNESOTA 6—AFC champion Pittsburgh, in its initial Super Bowl appearance, and NFC champion Minnesota, making a third bid for its first Super Bowl title, struggled through a first half in which the only score was produced by the Steelers' defense when Dwight White downed Vikings' quarterback Fran Tarkenton in the end zone for a safety 7:49 into the second period. The Steelers took advantage of another break on the second-half kickoff when Minnesota's Bill Brown fumbled and Marv Kellum recovered for Pittsburgh on the Vikings' 30. After Rocky Bleier failed to gain on first down, Franco Harris carried three consecutive times for 24 yards, a loss of 3, and a 9-yard touchdown and a 9-0 lead. Though its offense was completely stymied by Pittsburgh's defense, Minnesota managed to move into a threatening position after 4:27 of the final period when Matt Blair blocked Bobby Walden's punt and Terry Brown recovered the ball in the end zone for a touchdown. Fred Cox's extra point failed, and the Steelers led 9-6. Pittsburgh wasted no time putting the victory away. The Steelers took the ensuing kickoff and marched 66 yards in 11 plays, climaxed by Terry Bradshaw's 4-yard scoring pass to Larry Brown with 3:31 left. Pittsburgh's defense permitted Minnesota only 119 yards total offense, including a Super Bowl low of 17 rushing yards. The Steelers, meanwhile, gained 333 yards, including Harris' record 158 yards on 34 carries.

MIAMI 24, MINNESOTA 7—The defending NFL champion Dolphins, representing the AFC for the third straight year, scored the first two times they had possession on marches of 62 and 56 yards while the Miami defense limited the Vikings to only 7 plays in the first period. Larry Csonka climaxed the initial 10-play drive with a 5-yard touchdown bolt through right guard after 5:27 had elapsed. Four plays later, Miami began another 10-play scoring drive, which ended with Jim Kiick bursting 1 yard through the middle for another touchdown after 13:38 of the period. Garo Yepremian added a 28-yard field goal midway through the second period for a 17-0 Miami lead. Minnesota then drove from its 20 to a second-and-2 situation on the Miami 7-yard line with 1:18 left in the half. But on 2 plays, Miami limited Oscar Reed to 1 yard. On fourth-and-1 from the 6, Reed went over right tackle, but Dolphins middle linebacker Nick Buoniconti jarred the ball loose and Jake Scott recovered for Miami to halt the Minnesota threat. The Vikings were unable to muster enough offense in the second half to threaten the Dolphins. Csonka rushed 33 times for a Super Bowl-record 145 yards. Bob Griese of Miami completed 6 of 7 passes for 73 yards.

MIAMI 14, WASHINGTON 7—Miami completed the only perfect season in NFL history—17 games without a defeat—by beating Washington. The Dolphins played virtually perfect football in the first half as their defense permitted the Redskins to cross midfield only once and their offense turned good field position into 2 touchdowns. On its third possession, Miami opened its first scoring drive from the Dolphins' 37-yard line. An 18-yard pass from Bob Griese to Paul Warfield preceded by 3 plays Griese's 28-yard touchdown pass to Howard Twilley. After Washington moved from its 17 to the Miami 48 with two minutes remaining in the first half, Dolphins linebacker Nick Buoniconti intercepted a Billy Kilmer pass at the Miami 41 and returned it to the Washington 27. Jim Kiick ran for 3 yards, Larry Csonka for 3, Griese passed to Jim Mandich for 19, and Kiick gained 1 to the 1-yard line. With 18 seconds left until intermission, Kiick scored from the 1. Washington's only touchdown came with 2:07 left in the game and resulted from a misplayed field-goal attempt and fumble by Garo Yepremian, with the Redskins' Mike Bass picking the ball out of the air and running 49 yards for the score. Dolphins safety Jake Scott, who had 2 interceptions, including 1 in the end zone to kill a Redskins' drive, was voted the game's most valuable player.

DALLAS 24, MIAMI 3—The Cowboys rushed for a record 252 yards and their defense limited the Dolphins to a low of 185 yards while not permitting a touchdown for the first time in Super Bowl history. Dallas converted Chuck Howley's recovery of Larry Csonka's first fumble of the season into a 3-0 advantage and led at halftime 10-3. After Dallas received the second-half kickoff, Duane Thomas led a 71-yard march in 8 plays for a 17-3 margin. Howley intercepted Bob Griese's pass at the 50 and returned it to the Miami 9 early in the fourth period, and 3 plays later Roger Staubach passed 7 yards to Mike Ditka for the final touchdown. Thomas rushed for 95 yards and Walt Garrison gained 74. Staubach, voted the game's most valuable player, completed 12 of 19 passes for 119 yards and 2 touchdowns.

BALTIMORE 16, DALLAS 13—A 32-yard field goal by first-year kicker Jim O'Brien brought the Baltimore Colts a victory over the Dallas Cowboys in the final five seconds of Super Bowl V. The game between the champions of the AFC and NFC was played on artificial turf for the first time. Dallas led 13-6 at the half, but interceptions by Rick Volk and Mike Curtis set up a Baltimore touchdown and O'Brien's decisive kick in the fourth period. Earl Morrall relieved an injured Johnny Unitas late in the first half, although Unitas completed the Colts' only scoring pass. It caromed off receiver Eddie Hinton's fingertips, off Dallas defensive back Mel Renfro, and finally settled into the grasp of John Mackey, who went 45 yards to score on a 75-yard play.

KANSAS CITY 23, MINNESOTA 7—The AFL squared the Super Bowl at two games apiece with the NFL, building a 16-0 halftime lead behind Len Dawson's superb quarterbacking and a powerful defense. Dawson, the fourth consecutive quarterback to be chosen the Super Bowl's most valuable player, called an almost flawless game, completing 12 of 17 passes and hitting Otis Taylor on a 46-yard play for the final Chiefs touchdown. The Kansas City defense limited Minnesota's strong rushing game to 67 yards and had 3 interceptions and 2 fumble recoveries. The crowd of 80,562 set a Super Bowl record.

NEW YORK JETS 16, BALTIMORE 7—Jets quarterback Joe Namath "guaranteed" victory on the Thursday before the game, then went out and led the AFL to its first Super Bowl victory over a Baltimore team that had lost only once in 16 games all season. Namath, chosen the outstanding player, completed 17 of 28 passes for 206 yards and directed a steady attack that dominated the NFL champions after the Jets' defense had intercepted Colts quarterback Earl Morrall 3 times in the first half. The Jets had 337 total yards, including 121 yards rushing by Matt Snell. Johnny Unitas, who had missed most of the season with a sore elbow, came off the bench and led Baltimore to its only touchdown late in the fourth quarter after New York led 16-0.

GREEN BAY 33, OAKLAND 14—Green Bay, after winning its third consecutive NFL championship, won the Super Bowl title for the second straight year 33-14 over the AFL champion Raiders in a game that drew the first $3-million gate in football history. Bart Starr again was chosen the game's most valuable player as he completed 13 of 24 passes for 202 yards and 1 touchdown and directed a Packers attack that was in control all the way after building a 16-7 halftime lead. Don Chandler kicked 4 field goals and all-pro cornerback Herb Adderley capped the Green Bay scoring with a 60-yard run with an interception. The game marked the last for Vince Lombardi as Packers coach, ending nine years at Green Bay in which he won six Western Conference championships, five NFL championships, and two Super Bowls.

GREEN BAY 35, KANSAS CITY 10—The Green Bay Packers opened the Super Bowl series by defeating Kansas City's American Football League champions 35-10 behind the passing of Bart Starr, the receiving of Max McGee, and a key interception by all-pro safety Willie Wood. Green Bay broke open the game with 3 second-half touchdowns, the first of which was set up by Wood's 50-yard return of an interception to the Chiefs' 5-yard line. McGee, filling in for ailing Boyd Dowler after having caught only 4 passes all season, caught 7 from Starr for 138 yards and 2 touchdowns. Elijah Pitts ran for 2 other scores. The Chiefs' 10 points came in the second quarter, the only touchdown on a 7-yard pass from Len Dawson to Curtis McClinton. Starr completed 16 of 23 passes for 250 yards and 2 touchdowns and was chosen the most valuable player. The Packers collected $15,000 per man and the Chiefs $7,500—the largest single-game shares in the history of team sports.

SUPER BOWL

SUPER BOWL MVP THUMBNAI LS

Following is a review of the memorable performances of each Pete Rozelle Trophy Most Valuable Player Award from Super Bowl I to Super Bowl XXXIX:

SUPER BOWL I: QB BART STARR, Green Bay Packers - In what was originally called the "AFL-NFL World Championship," Starr propelled the Packers to a 35-10 victory over the Chiefs. Completing 16 of 23 attempts, Starr amassed 250 yards through the air to go along with three passing touchdowns. Starr hooked up with reserve wide receiver Max McGee, whose one-armed first-quarter touchdown reception is one of the most memorable plays in Super Bowl history, seven times for 138 yards.

SUPER BOWL II: QB BART STARR, Green Bay Packers - Guiding Green Bay to its second Super Bowl win in a row (and third consecutive NFL championship), Starr's star shone the brightest in the second half. The high-powered Green Bay offense rattled off 17 unanswered points in the third and fourth quarters to pull away from the Raiders for a 33-14 victory. Starr completed 13 of his 24 passes, including a 62-yard scoring strike to Boyd Dowler.

SUPER BOWL III: QB JOE NAMATH, New York Jets - In a game that will be forever remembered because of Namath's "guarantee" of victory, the Jets toppled the seemingly unbeatable Baltimore Colts by a score of 16-7. Even future Hall of Famer Johnny Unitas could not spark a second half comeback by Baltimore. Because of Namath's leadership (and five Baltimore turnovers), the Jets secured the first victory for the AFL in the young history of the Super Bowl. "Broadway Joe" finished 17-of-28 for 206 yards passing.

SUPER BOWL IV: QB LEN DAWSON, Kansas City Chiefs - In the last game before the AFL-NFL merger, Dawson's workmanlike performance helped Kansas City beat the Vikings, 23-7. Dawson (12 of 17, 122 yards passing) orchestrated four scoring drives in the first half alone, three of which resulted in Jan Stenerud field goals. Utilizing a running back-by-committee approach, Dawson's Chiefs outgained the Vikings on the ground (151-67). After building a 16-0 lead at the half, Dawson punctuated the victory with a 46-yard touchdown pass to Otis Taylor.

SUPER BOWL V: LB CHUCK HOWLEY, Dallas Cowboys - Howley made history twice in one day with his MVP-worthy performance in this championship. Not only was did this gritty linebacker become the first defensive MVP in Super Bowl history, Howley is still the only player in NFL history to win the award for a losing team. Baltimore's Jim O'Brien nailed a 32-yard field goal with only five seconds left in the game to close out a 16-13 come-from-behind win for the Colts. Howley intercepted two passes and recovered a fumble in the losing effort.

SUPER BOWL VI: QB ROGER STAUBACH, Dallas Cowboys - Bouncing back from a devastating defeat a year earlier, Dallas brought home its first of five Super Bowl titles with a 24-3 win over the Dolphins. Outdueling his Miami counterpart Bob Griese, Staubach found wide receiver Lance Alworth and tight end Mike Ditka in the end zone for passing touchdowns. In addition to his 119 yards through the air, Staubach directed the potent Cowboys' rushing game up and down the field in this victory.

SUPER BOWL VII: S JAKE SCOTT, Miami Dolphins - An important cog in Miami's "No Name Defense," Scott picked off two of Redskins quarterback Billy Kilmer's passes in this 14-7 Miami victory. Scott's second interception came in the Dolphins' end zone, quashing Washington's best offensive drive. Mike Bass scored the lone Redskins' touchdown, corraling Miami kicker Garo Yepremian's ill-fated forward pass that slipped out of his hand after a botched field goal attempt. The 1972 Dolphins remain the only unbeaten, untied team in NFL history.

SUPER BOWL VIII: RB LARRY CSO NKA, Miami Dolphins - Racking up over 100 yards rushing for two Super Bowls in a row, Csonka's 33 carries wore down the Vikings. The bruising back finished with 145 yards and two touchdowns in Miami's second consecutive Super Bowl victory (24-7). Miami quarterback Bob Griese attempted only seven passes. Minnesota quarterback Fran Tarkenton scampared in for a score in the fourth quarter, but the Dolphins lead was insurmountable because of its steady rushing attack.

SUPER BOWL IX: RB FRANCO HARRIS, Pittsburgh Steelers - Harris and running back Rocky Bleier combined for more than 200 yards in Pittsburgh's first of four Super Bowl wins (16-6) in the 1970s. With the Steelers nursing a 2-0 lead in the second half, Harris helped his squad pull away with a nine-yard touchdown run. Remembered best for reeling in the "Immaculate Reception" earlier in his career, Harris' 158 rushing yards eclipsed the Super Bowl record established by Csonka only one year earlier. Pittsburgh outrushed the Vikings by over 200 yards.

SUPER BOWL X: WR LYNN SWANN, Pittsburgh Steelers - Famous for his acrobatic catches, Swann did not disappoint in the Steelers' 21-17 win over the Cowboys. Racking up a Super Bowl record 161 yards receiving on only four catches, Swann's 64-yard touchdown reception from Terry Bradshaw made the difference in the close contest. Swann's score capped a 14-0 run for the Steelers in the fourth quarter.

SUPER BOWL XI: WR FRED BILETNIKOFF, Oakland Raiders - Biletnikoff's numbers weren't overwhelming (four catches, 79 yards), but three of those receptions set up short touchdowns for the Raiders in a 32-14 victory over Minnesota. After jumping out to a 16-0 first half lead, Oakland never looked back.

SUPER BOWL XII: DE RANDY WHITE and DT HARVEY MARTIN, Dallas Cowboys - For the first and only time in Super Bowl history, two players shared the MVP award. White and Martin were instrumental in Dallas limiting the Broncos to only 156 yards of total offense (2.7 yards per play) in a 27-10 win. Dallas' "Doomsday Defense" forced eight turnovers - four interceptions and four fumble recoveries. White's and Martin's relentless pass rushing also helped force Denver's quarterbacks to finish eight for 24 throwing the football combined.

SUPER BOWL XIII: QB TERRY BRADSHAW, Pittsburgh Steelers - Establishing a career high with 318 passing yards, Bradshaw won the first of his two consecutive Super Bowl MVP awards based on the strength of his four touchdown passes in this 35-31 victory. Wide receiver John Stallworth hauled in scoring catches covering 28 and 75 yards in the first half. Bradshaw, who carved out his place among the NFL's greatest with his sterling Super Bowl performances, got the best of Cowboys QB Roger Staubach, who put forth a tremendous performance in his own right with three passing scores.

SUPER BOWL XIV: QB TERRY BRADSHAW, Pittsburgh Steelers - Becoming the first back-to-back Super Bowl MVP award winner since Bart Starr, Bradshaw helped the Steelers recover from two deficits to win their fourth NFL championship in six years, 31-19 over the Rams. Long touchdown passes to Lynn Swann and John Stallworth helped Bradshaw amass 309 yards passing as he completed 14 of 21 attempts. Bradshaw owned nearly every significant Super Bowl passing record following the win, including career yardage (932), touchdowns (nine) and passer rating (112.8). Sparked by the leadership of Bradshaw and a suffocating "Steel Curtain" defense, Pittsburgh was the first team in NFL history to hoist four Vince Lombardi Trophies.

SUPER BOWL XV: QB JIM PLUNKETT, Oakland Raiders - The strong-armed Plunkett was the model of efficiency in the Raiders' 27-10 win over the Philadelphia Eagles. Plunkett, who did not take over as a starter until Week 6 of the season for coach John Madden finished 13 for 21 passing for 261 yards, three touchdowns and no interceptions. Though his Eagles counterpart Ron Jaworski racked up more passing yards (291) in the game, he also threw for three interceptions.

SUPER BOWL XVI: QB JOE MONTANA, San Francisco 49ers - If the 1970s belonged to the Steelers, the 1980s was certainly the decade of the 49ers. This 26-21 win over the Bengals was the start of a San Francisco dynasty, with Montana (14 of 22, 142 yards) leading the way. In addition to an 11-yard scoring strike to Earl Cooper, Montana also ran for one score in the first quarter en route to a 20-0 halftime lead. Despite a serious comeback attempt by Ken Anderson and Cincinnati, Montana and the 49ers held on for the franchise's first Super Bowl title.

SUPER BOWL XVII: RB JOHN RIGGINS, Washington Redskins - In front a 100,000-plus crowd at the Rose Bowl in the Redskins' 27-17 win, Riggins turned in one of the most memorable rushing performances in NFL championship history. Highlighted by a bruising 43-yard touchdown run on a fourth and one situation, Riggins carried the ball a Super Bowl record 38 times for 166 yards, which was also a record at the time. In the process of wearing down a tough Miami defense, Riggins put an exclamation point on one of the most prolific postseason performances ever; the bruising back rushed for over 100 yards in each of Washington's four playoff victories.

SUPER BOWL XVIII: RB MARCUS ALLEN, Oakland Raiders - Shattering John Riggins' record for rushing yards established the previous year, Allen spun and juked his way to 191 yards rushing in Oakland's 38-9 victory over the Redskins. The agile Allen, who averaged nearly 10.0 yards per rush in this game, scored both of his touchdowns in the third quarter, sealing the victory. He also had two receptions for 18 yards, giving him more than 200 yards from scrimmage.

SUPER BOWL XIX: QB JOE MONTANA, San Francisco 49ers - Montana became the third player to win multiple Super Bowl MVPs with his dominant 38-16 over the Dan Marino-led Dolphins. Not only did Montana pass for 331 yards and three touchdowns, but he also scrambled for 59 yards on five carries, including a six-yard score midway through the third quarter. Running back Roger Craig was Montana's favorite target, hauling in seven receptions for 77 yards and two touchdowns. In all, Montana accounted for 390 of the 49ers' Super Bowl-record 537 offensive yards.

SUPER BOWL XX: DE RICHARD DENT, Chicago Bears - A team as famous for its "Super Bowl Shuffle" music video as it was for its 15-1 regular-season record, the '85 Chicago Bears rattled off 44 unanswered points in their championship win over the Patriots (46-10). Dent accounted for 1.5 of the Bears' record-breaking 7.0 sacks and caused two fumbles on the day. With Dent leading the charge, Chicago limited New England to seven yards rushing. Playing alongside defensive greats such as linebacker Mike Singletary and defensive lineman William Perry, Dent and the Bears made the "46 Defense" famous.

SUPER BOWL XXI: QB PHIL SIMMS, New York Giants - Simms' near-perfect 22-for-25 passing performance helped New York pull away from the Denver Broncos for a 39-20 victory. With the Giants trailing 10-9 at the half, Simms was a perfect 10-for-10 in the second half, orchestrating five scoring drives in the process. Tight end Mark Bavaro and wide receiver Phil McConkey were both on the receiving ends of textbook touchdown tosses from the accurate Simms. No other Super Bowl quarterback comes close to matching Simms' 88.0 completion percentage, with Montana's 75.9 percent completion rate against Denver in Super Bowl XXIV ranking second all time.

SUPER BOWL XXII: QB DOUG WILLIAMS, Washington Redskins - Throwing four touchdown passes in an electric second quarter, Williams led Washington to its second Super Bowl victory. Williams accrued 340 yards via the pass - a Super Bowl record at the time. Trailing 10-0 after one quarter of play, the Redskins' offense erupted for 35 straight points en route to a 42-10 victory. Williams sparked the offensive onslaught with an 80-yard passing score to wideout Ricky Sanders less than a minute into the second quarter. Williams' performance was so impressive, it surpassed the dynamic rushing effort by Washington running back Timmy Smith, who ran for 204 yards and two touchdowns.

SUPER BOWL XXIII: WR JERRY RICE, San Francisco 49ers - San Francisco became the first NFC team to win three Super Bowls in this epic come-from-behind win (20-16) over the Bengals. Rice was unstoppable, reeling in 11 catches for a Super Bowl-best 215 yards. Though Joe Montana racked up more than 300 yards passing and directed the most memorable touchdown drive in Super Bowl history (92 yards in 11 plays), Rice's dominant performance was the difference in this game. In addition to being the owner of every significant receiving record in NFL regular season history, Rice still holds five Super Bowl records, including most career receiving yardage and touchdowns.

SUPER BOWL XXIV: QB JOE MONTANA, San Francisco 49ers - Montana augmented an already impressive Super Bowl résumé by winning his third MVP award in the game. In the most lopsided Super Bowl win ever, San Francisco beat the Broncos, 55-10. Montana's five touchdown passes set a single-game Super Bowl standard at the time and put him ahead of Terry Bradshaw for the most career touchdown passes of any Super Bowl performer. Montana (22 of 29, 297 yards) still sits atop the Super Bowl record book in the passing categories of rating (127.8), career completions (83), career yards (1,142) and touchdowns (11).

SUPER BOWL XXV: RB OTTIS ANDERSON, New York Giants - Head coach Bill Parcells secured his second Super Bowl championship in this 20-19 victory, which will be forever remembered because of Buffalo kicker Scott Norwood's potential game-winning field goal that sailed wide right. Just as they had done all season, the Giants employed a ball-control strategy that was spearheaded by Anderson's gutsy performance. Running primarily between the tackles, Anderson carried the ball 21 times for 102 yards. The Giants held on to the ball for a record 40:33 of the game, keeping the potent Buffalo offense from finding its rhythm. Anderson scored his lone touchdown of the day to cap a 14-play drive that spanned nearly 10 minutes of the third quarter.

SUPER BOWL XXVI: QB MARK RYPIEN, Washington Redskins - Rypien and his Redskins handed the Bills their second Super Bowl loss (37-24), leading by as much as 37-10. Passing for 292 yards and two touchdowns, Rypien tallied more yards in his 33 attempts than did the Bills' Jim Kelly, who threw 58 times in the game. Rypien's 35-yard touchdown pass to Gary Clark in the second half provided some much-needed breathing room for Washington.

SUPER BOWL XXVII: QB TROY AIKMAN, Dallas Cowboys - This 52-17 win over Buffalo marked the resurgence of Dallas' Super Bowl dominance, and turned out to be the first of three Cowboys Super Bowl wins to come in the next four years. Aikman hooked up with wide receiver Michael Irvin twice for scores, with wideout Alvin Harper and tight end Jay Novacek also finding paydirt via the pass. Aikman's performance was spectacular. He completed 22 of 30 passes for 273 yards to go along with his four touchdowns.

SUPER BOWL XXVIII: RB EMMITT SMITH, Dallas Cowboys - With Dallas trailing at halftime, it was Smith's two second-half scoring runs that propelled the Cowboys to victory (30-13) for the second consecutive year over the rival Bills. Smith's first score gave Dallas the lead for good, as he carried the ball seven times on an eight-play scoring drive punctuated by a 15-yard touchdown scamper. Carrying the ball 30 times for 132 yards, Smith's workmanlike effort helped stifle the Bills.

SUPER BOWL XXIX: QB STEVE YOUNG, San Francisco 49ers - Stepping out of the shadow of the man he replaced (Joe Montana), Young torched San Diego's defense for 325 yards passing to go along with his Super Bowl record six touchdown tosses. Jerry Rice caught three of the six scoring strikes from the left-handed Young, who also led the 49ers in rushing with 49 yards. Young and the 49ers jumped out to an early 14-0 lead following passing touchdowns to Rice and running back Ricky Waters. Fittingly, Young surpassed Montana's single-game Super Bowl record for touchdown passes in the 49-26 victory.

SUPER BOWL XXX: CB LARRY BROWN, Dallas Cowboys - Brown intercepted two passes thrown by Steelers quarterback Neil O'Donnell in the Cowboys' record-tying fifth Super Bowl triumph. Both interceptions stymied viable Pittsburgh drives, setting up short rushing touchdowns by Emmitt Smith. Brown's opportunistic interceptions helped Dallas overcome a deficit of 13-7 as well as preserve a 20-17 advantage in this eventual 27-17 Cowboys victory.

SUPER BOWL XXXI: KR-PR DESMOND HOWARD, Green Bay Packers - Howard picked the grandest of stages to carve out his niche in NFL history, putting up more than 250 combined yards on his kickoff and punt returns in a 35-21 win over New England. The key play to his selection as MVP was perhaps a 99-yard kickoff return that dashed hopes of a comeback by the Patriots. Signed as a free agent in the offseason, the former Heisman Trophy winner from Michigan helped the Packers to their first Super Bowl title since the Lombardi era.

SUPER BOWL XXXII: RB TERRELL DAVIS, Denver Broncos - After leading the AFC in rushing in only his second year, Davis' 30 carries and 157 yards proved to be the difference in this 31-24 victory over quarterback Brett Favre and the Packers. The fleet-footed Davis utilized his unique combination of speed and power to become the first player in Super Bowl history to rush for three touchdowns in one game.

SUPER BOWL XXXIII: QB JOHN ELWAY, Denver Broncos - After waiting so long for his first Super Bowl ring, Elway wasted no time in adding a second one to his collection. Elway, the only other quarterback besides Dan Marino to throw for more than 50,000 career yards, amassed 336 yards in Denver's 34-19 win over a Falcons squad led by powerful halfback Jamal Anderson. A member of the famed Class of '83 quarterbacks, Elway walked away from football after winning his second Super Bowl, ending on the highest of notes.

SUPER BOWL XXXIV: QB KURT WARNER, St. Louis Rams - Becoming a starter via a journey through the Arena Football League to NFL Europe to the Rams, Warner's Cinderella climb from backup to superstar captured the imagination of America. Leading the Rams to their first-ever championship, Warner's 414 passing yards are still a single-game Super Bowl best. He spread the ball around to everyone on the Rams' offense, as nine different players registered at least one catch. The speedy receiving tandem of Isaac Bruce and Torry Holt each topped 100 yards receiving and caught one touchdown apiece. In one of the most exciting finishes in Super Bowl history, the Rams held on to their 23-16 lead by just one yard, as Titans wideout Kevin Dyson was dragged down short of the goal line by Mike Jones in the waning moments of the fourth quarter.

SUPER BOWL XXXV: LB RAY LEWIS, Baltimore Ravens - Becoming only the seventh defensive player to win a Super Bowl MVP award, Lewis inspired Baltimore to a 34-7 win over the Giants. Though his five tackles and four passes defended did not jump off the stats page as remarkable, it was Lewis' tenacity and leadership that propelled the Ravens to the win.

SUPER BOWL XXXVI: QB TOM BRADY, New England Patriots - After stepping in for an injured Drew Bledsoe during the regular season, Brady eventually led the Patriots to the first Super Bowl victory in franchise history over a Rams team featuring a vaunted offense. After St. Louis overcame a 14-point deficit to tie the game with just 1:30 left in the fourth quarter, Brady put together a drive of five completions in six attempts that set up Adam Vinatieri's game-winning kick (20-17) to save the game from going into overtime. Brady completed 16 of 27 passes for 145 yards and one touchdown.

SUPER BOWL XXXVII: S DEXTER JACKSON, Tampa Bay Buccaneers - A bevy of Bucs defenders were worthy of the MVP award, but Jackson's two first-half interceptions, one of which led to a go-ahead field goal, was the deciding factor in his selection. Cornerback Dwight Smith returned two INTs for scores in the fourth quarter, but Jackson's big plays keyed the outcome of the game.

SUPER BOWL XXXVIII: QB TOM BRADY, New England Patriots - Brady's Patriots treated the fans to another exciting finish that ended with a game-winning Adam Vinatieri field goal with four seconds left on the game clock to edge Carolina 32-29. The Michigan product completed 32 of 48 passes for 354 yards and three touchdowns to become the first quarterback in Super Bowl history to start and win two title games before his 27th birthday.

SUPER BOWL XXXIX: WR DEION BRANCH, New England Patriots - The University of Louisville graduate hauled in 11 receptions for 133 yards and the Patriots' defense forced four turnovers en route to becoming the eighth team to post consecutive Super Bowl titles. The Patriots also matched the Dallas Cowboys (Games XXVII, XXVIII, and XXX) as the only teams with three Super Bowl victories in a span of four seasons. Branch's 11 catches tied the Super Bowl single-game record for receptions (Dan Ross, Cincinnati, XVI; Jerry Rice, San Francisco, XXIII).

SUPER BOWL XL: WR HINES WARD,

Pittsburgh Steelers - In a game in which the Steelers were outgained in total offense (396-339) by the Seattle Seahawks, Ward came up with two big plays to help Pittsburgh win its first Super Bowl championship since Super Bowl XIV. Ward made a leaping 37-yard reception late in the second quarter to set up the Steelers' first touchdown (a 3-yard run by quarterback Ben Roethlisberger). Ward also came up with the play that decided the game when wide receiver Antwaan Randle El took a handoff on a reverse and threw a perfect 43-yard touchdown pass to Ward. Overall, Ward had 5 receptions for 123 yards and one touchdown.

SUPER BOWL XLI: QB PEYTON MANNING,

Indianapolis Colts - Manning passed for 247 yards and 1 touchdown as the Indianapolis Colts defeated the Chicago Bears in Super Bowl XLI. The victory was the Colts' first Super Bowl championship in 36 years. Manning completed 25 of 38 passes, including a 53-yard scoring pass to wide receiver Reggie Wayne in the first quarter. Led by Manning and the Colts' ball-control offense, Indianapolis outgained Chicago 430-265 in total yards and maintained a 38:04-21:56 edge in time of possession.

SUPER BOWL XLII: QB ELI MANNING, New York Giants - Manning followed his brother Peyton of the Indianapolis Colts as consecutive Super Bowl most valuable player winners. Manning's 13-yard touchdown pass to wide receiver Plaxico Burress with 35 seconds remaining gave the Giants a 17-14 come-from-behind victory over the New England Patriots. During the game-winning drive, Manning made the play of the game by escaping the simultaneous grasps of two Patriots' defensive linemen, spinning away and launching a deep pass downfield that wide receiver David Tyree caught in midair and cradled against his helmet as he fell to the ground for a 32-yard gain. Manning completed 19 of 34 passes for 255 yards and 2 touchdowns (Tyree also caught a 5-yard scoring pass early in the fourth quarter to give the Giants a 10-7 lead).

SUPER BOWL XLII

Notes, Quotes & Anecdotes

Perfection Tough to Attain

“What a great football game Super Bowl XLII was. What I learned today was how tough it is to go undefeated. That’s why I’m even more proud of our ’72 team than I’ve ever been.”

—Don Shula, head coach of the 1972 undefeated Miami Dolphins

A Proud Older Brother

“The Patriots had an unbelievable year. I can’t tell you how good of a football team they are. For the Giants to have beaten them in this game tonight and in these surroundings, it is going down as one of the greatest games of all time. Eli’s pass to Tyree, I think, was one of the greatest plays of all time.”

—Indianapolis Colts quarterback Peyton Manning

A DREAM COMES TRUE

“As a kid you always think about winning a Super Bowl, winning a championship. When you have that ring you are in a unique class. It is something that we will remember for the rest of our lives and something no one will be able to take away from us.”

—New York Giants tackle David Diehl

How Did He Do That?

“Some things just don’t make sense, and that was one of them. What’s really what it comes down to is just making the play. Eli did an unbelievable job. I honestly don’t know how he got it out. And when the ball is in the air, you have to go get it.”

—New York Giants wide receiver David Tyree explaining his unbelievable fourth-quarter catch

SUPER BOWL XLII TV NOTES

- The record 97.5 million average viewers for Super Bowl XLII exceeded the combined total (95.8) of the 2007 Academy Awards (40.1 million viewers), 2007 American Idol finale (30.8 million) and the November 2007 Dancing with the Stars finale (24.9 million).
- An average of 108 million viewers were watching when Giants wide receiver David Tyree made his dramatic 32-yard, third-down reception late in the fourth quarter.
- An average of 111 million people were watching when Giants wide receiver Plaxico Burress made the game-winning touchdown catch in fourth quarter.
- The Super Bowl averaged 102.6 million viewers in the second half.

Sentimental Favorite

“It’s rare that a team from New York becomes the sentimental favorite in anything, but this was a unique Super Bowl.”

—Arizona Republic

Giants Best-Ever Performance

“I’ll tell you what. It’s the greatest victory in the history of this franchise, without question.”

—New York Giants President John Mara

I Can’t Believe I’m Here

—Giants fan and Chatham, New Jersey resident Robert Ripp, who paid $3,500 for his Super Bowl XLII ticket

Unreal Experience

“I’m having an out-of-body experience.”

—Giants fan and Bronx resident John Dowling

No Bigger Experience

“The Super Bowl is the single biggest shared common experience in American society.”

—Mark Dyreson, associate professor of kinesiology and history at Penn State University

A Sure Thing

“The Super Bowl is a sure thing.”

—Jim Burnette, former FOX Sports ad sales executive

Super PR Opportunity

“The Super Bowl is not a one-day or a 30-second event for an advertiser. It is a significant PR opportunity for two weeks prior to the game and two weeks afterwards.”

—Larry Novenstern, executive vice president and director of electronic media, Optimedia

Super Marketing Strategy

“Super Bowl is a sales driver for Wal-Mart, particularly for consumables and electronics. For Wal-Mart to piggyback off that event is a smart marketing strategy.”

—Michael Niemira, chief retail analyst, International Council of Shopping Centers

Super Bowl Tops With Women

More women watched Super Bowl XLII (69.7 million) than total viewers watched the 80th Annual Academy Awards in 2008 (64.2 million).

—NFL & Nielsen Media Research

SB Still Tops With Advertisers

“Today’s world will not shrink the Super Bowl, but it has shrunk the stature of conceivable competitors – and the will of advertisers to match event-TV with event-ads as they do in the first week of February.”

—Business Week

—New York Giants defensive end Michael Strahan, describing his Super Bowl ring as being visible from “10 tables away”

The Work Never Stops

“You have creative directors for ad agencies starting on a new commercial the day after the Super Bowl. They’ll work all year.”

—Louis Moses, Phoenix-based advertising agency Moses Artshell

Super Bowl Helps Sell HDTVs

“The Super Bowl has retained the title of top driver for HDTV purchases for three years running, generating some $2.2 billion in HDTV sales this year alone.”

—“Sports and Technology” survey conducted by the Consumer Electronics Association and Sports Video Group

Halftime Show Not a Heartbreaker

“Last year, the Super Bowl honchos could have given Prince a lifetime contract to play the halftime show. His purple majesty’s performance toppled everything that came before him... But last night, Tom Petty and his Heartbreakers became Prince’s solo peer with surprisingly unpretentious and genuine set of straight-ahead rock ‘n’ roll. Like Prince, Petty managed to make it feel like you were watching his show. He didn’t rush through verses or cut out the guitar solos – which are good things.”

—Boston Herald

Fans Vote for Super Bowl XLII MVP

Thousands of fans logged on to SuperBowl.com to make their selections in the Cadillac Super Bowl XLII MVP voting. Fan votes counted 20 percent (four votes) with another 16 on-site representatives of the media accounting for the other 80 percent. Fans voted for the Cadillac Super Bowl XLII MVP via SuperBowl.com and wireless devices, including Sprint’s wireless service, during the fourth quarter.

The four fan votes were distributed as follows:

Giants	QB ELI MANNING	2.5 MVP votes
Giants	DE MICHAEL STRAHAN	1.0 MVP vote
Patriots	WR WES WELKER	0.5 MVP vote

The final Super Bowl XLII MVP tally had Manning on top with 16.5 votes, followed by Welker (1.5 votes), Strahan (1.0 vote) and Giants defensive end Jason Tuck (1.0 vote).

Super Jump in Sales

Last year’s [Super Bowl XLI] halftime star, Prince, saw album sales double and downloads of songs rise nearly twofold. In 2006, the Rolling Stones promoted their “A Bigger Bag” album at halftime and sales rose more than 30 percent.

—Arizona Republic

Super Comeback

The Giants were only the second team in Super Bowl history to win after trailing in the final minute of the fourth quarter (Plaxico Burress’ game-winning touchdown came with 35 seconds to play). In Super Bowl XXIII, San Francisco’s John Taylor caught the game-winning touchdown pass with 34 seconds to play vs. Cincinnati.

AMERICA'S UNDECLARED NATIONAL HOLIDAY

—Orin Starn, associate professor of cultural anthropology at Duke University

“What really drives the ratings is the fact that it (Super Bowl) is a true national holiday.”

—Sean McManus, president of CBS News

“After 40 years, we’ve arrived at the Roman numerals that describe precisely what the Super Bowl is all about—XL. As in Extra Large. Everything about this game is XL, from the men who play it to the millions who watch it to the companies that pay to advertise in it. It’s so big that it’s an American holiday—Super Bowl Sunday.”

Take the Day Off

Frozen in amber somewhere is the image of Americans doing things like stopping in their tracks at 11 a.m. on Armistice Day as bells rang to honor war dead.

Now there’s really only one true communal ritual left. To merely say that the Super Bowl is far and away America’s biggest television event isn’t enough. To call it a ‘manufactured holiday’ doesn’t quite do it, either. You can argue now that it has become our preeminent secular holiday.

—New England Patriots
linebacker Larry Izzo

“It’s become the biggest day in sports, almost as if it’s a national holiday, so maybe we shouldn’t be surprised that the Super Bowl has come to be a microcosm of America here at the start of this new millennium. People are tuning in because it’s an event, America’s party holiday, and by definition that means it has to appeal to the biggest demographic possible. The Super Bowl has become the event in which the country seems to take a time-out to watch, regardless of which teams are in it. The one game everyone watches, even those who wouldn’t know a blitz from a fly pattern. It’s about commerce as much as it’s about football, a game that’s at the intersection of sport and corporate culture. We love parades. We love fireworks. We love spectacles. We love to hear about how much money companies pay for their commercials. We love big. And the Super Bowl has become the biggest sports spectacle we have.”

THE COUNTRY'S MOST IMPORTANT SPORTING EVENT

Common Interest

"The Super Bowl, because it garners broad-based interest in the American public that transcends social class, race, gender—all kinds of boundaries—provides a context for the nation to share interest in a common event. The Oscars, the Emmys, even a presidential election...none of them compare. In terms of political conventions, they draw their own party and not across group boundaries. The Super Bowl is a singular sociocultural event that is powerful economically, as well as socially and culturally."

—Jomills Braddock II, director of the University of Miami's Center for Research on Sport in Society

Competing Interest

"This is the premier sporting event in the country, and it symbolizes competition."

What's the Other Half Doing?

"When you think that virtually half the country's watching the Super Bowl...this makes a hell of a statement."

—Jon Mandel, Grey Advertising

Executive Privilege

Former President Gerald Ford watched Super Bowl XIII while on a trip to Israel. President Ronald Reagan tossed the coin at the White House prior to Super Bowl XIX and his performance was shown via television on the scoreboard at Stanford Stadium. President George H.W. Bush made a taped message for U.S. military forces engaged in Desert Storm, and it was shown on television at halftime of Super Bowl XXV.

THE COUNTRY'S MOST IMPORTANT SPORTING EVENT

quite sure how the Super Bowl became the Super Bowl. It was just supposed to be a football game. But...it's bigger than that. It's bigger than anything, really."

Foresight

[Former NFL Commissioner Pete]

Rozelle, whose game was public relations before ascending to running a game, decided that the meeting between the champions of the established NFL and the upstart AFL would come not the Sunday after the league championship games, but two weeks later.

"It was as calculated a decision as was ever made by the league," said former Cowboys president Tex Schramm. "The idea was to give the game time to build. That allowed us to get the teams in early, to make them available, to make sure that the media got everything it needed to tell the world about our game."

—Dallas Morning News

Ski Lift

Officials at Wachusett [Massachusetts] Mountain Ski Area erected a huge television screen, estimated by one employee at 10 feet by 10 feet, at the base of the chair lift. "That way, fans can watch the game while they're waiting in line, take a run during commercials, and ski back in time to watch some more plays," said Tom Meyers, marketing director at the ski area. Patrons could get lift tickets at half price if they could name 11 Patriots in 60 seconds.

Super Bowl XXXI

"Paul Tagliabue looked in all directions Friday, and what he saw was good. Professional football was THE undisputed heavyweight sports champion of America. And perhaps someday, the world."

—Washington Post, at Super Bowl XXVII

THE GAME, THE TEAMS, THE PLAYERS

"It's a special moment because it doesn't happen every day. It's been almost 30 years between mine. To me, it's really more symbolic of the guys starting in March and saying 'This is our goal' and then accomplishing it. Not everyone does that."

—Colts head coach Tony Dungy, who also won a ring as a player with Pittsburgh in Super Bowl XIII

"Everybody envies the guys who win Super Bowls. If you win one, you envy the guy who has won two. If you win two, you envy the guy who has won three. And the guy who wins four envies the guys who had the perfect season for Miami. And the guys on that team envy the guys who are still playing football!"

—Steve Tasker, CBS analyst and former Buffalo Bill

"I TOLD MYSELF
I WOULDN'T CRY, BUT WE JUST WON A SUPER BOWL AND THE WORLD CAN SEE ME CRY NOW."

—Super Bowl XL MVP Hines Ward

"You wait 13 years to be in a situation to go to the Super Bowl, and it's in your hometown. It's a dream come true."

—Pittsburgh Steelers running back Jerome Bettis, Super Bowl XL

"The greater team goal is winning the Super Bowl. That supersedes what any player goal might be. You have to make decisions and sacrifices. I know what's important to me and where my priorities lie."

—New England Patriots quarterback Tom Brady

"It's a tremendous blessing to be here and play in the world's greatest football game."

—New England Patriots safety Rodney Harrison at Super Bowl XXXIX

"This is what players go through training camp for. This is why people train so hard. This is why guys bleed. This is the game players try to reach. This is the pinnacle and it doesn't get any better than this."

—Philadelphia Eagles wide receiver Terrell Owens at Super Bowl XXXIX

"I have been in the NFL for 18 years and this is my first Super Bowl [XXXIX]. It's something I know I will remember for the rest of my life."

—Philadelphia Eagles defensive coordinator Jim Johnson

"The Super Bowl is about opportunity. To go from humble beginnings, to pursuing a dream, to becoming champion of the world. That's what it's all about—opportunity."

—Mike Ditka

"YOU CAN BE THE RICHEST MAN IN THE WORLD AND
NOT BE ABLE TO BUY MOMENTS LIKE THIS."

—New England Patriots offensive coordinator Charlie Weis after Super Bowl XXXIX victory

"This Super Bowl [XXXVIII] might be the Super Bowl all others are measured against, at least as long as grit and a heart-stopping finish are among the measuring sticks."

—Houston Chronicle

"This [XXXVIII] was one of the best Super Bowls, full of comebacks and strategy, athletic feats and suspense. Sunday night was for the championship of this vast and powerful league, and it was worthy of such attention."

—New York Times

"What more could you want? Super Bowl XXXVIII had it all, making it the best ever. It was the greatest Super Bowl of all time. Now this was a wonderful championship battle, full of everything that makes the game dramatic, draining, energizing, maddening, fantastic, exciting."

“So now Bill Belichick’s Patriots have given us the two best endings in Super Bowl history. And no one could have known it at the time, but the Patriots and the Panthers were on their way to making Super Bowl XXXVIII the craziest and best and most entertaining Super Bowl of them all. Twenty-four points in the last three minutes of the first quarter. Thirty-seven points in the fourth quarter!”

—New York Daily News

“With everything that happened this week, with all the security, the fact that we’re at war, and then to have a great game like this, I don’t see how anyone can say this [XXXVI] wasn’t the greatest Super Bowl of all time.”

—Ty Law, New England Patriots cornerback

“Commissioner Tagliabue should be proud. Super Bowl XXXVI will not only be remembered for the Patriots’ stunning 20-17 upset of the highly-favored Rams, but also for the extensive security measure put in place in the aftermath of September 11. The end result was a monumental event that went off with little inconvenience to the average ticket holder.”

—New York Post

“[In Super Bowl XXXVI] the NFL demonstrated its ability to put on a display of unbridled patriotism better than any organization in sports.”

—Washington Post

“People all over the world are attracted to events that endorse a sense of ‘we-ness.’ We love big events like the Super Bowl. We are constantly looking for a connection with each other based on the notion of nationhood. It is an opportunity for us to gather as one.”

—Dr. Jay Coakley, professor of sociology at the University of Colorado at Colorado Springs

“This was a game you didn’t want to end. This may have been the greatest Super Bowl of them all, for more reasons than you can count. Super Bowl XXXVI will be remembered for a lot of things, but first and foremost it should be remembered as a classic championship event.”

—Contra Costa Times

“This [XXXVI] was not only the biggest upset in the 36 years of Super Bowl history, with the best finish in Super Bowl history, but all of it happened with the most timely backdrop. From the pregame songs of John Phillip Sousa to the halftime unveiling of the names of those killed in the September 11 tragedy, the theme of this game was the resilience of a unified America.”

—Los Angeles Times

Brady’s Bunch

Tom Brady became the youngest quarterback in NFL history to win two Super Bowl rings (Brady was 26 years and 182 days old). In second place is Troy Aikman (27 years and 70 days old).

Super Secret Service

Super Bowl XXXVI was the first sporting event to be tagged a “National Special Security Event,” a designation by the Federal Government that makes the Secret Service the coordinating agency.

The Greater Good

“When we watch the Super Bowl, we are able to imagine ourselves being part of something greater than ourselves.”

—Cecilia O’Leary, associate professor of history at Cal State-Monterey Bay

“IF YOU BELIEVE IN DESTINY, MAYBE THIS IS THE WAY IT WAS SUPPOSED TO BE, WITH A TEAM CALLED THE PATRIOTS WINNING ON A SUPER SUNDAY THAT WAS SET UP AS A STAR-SPANGLED SHOWCASE TO CELEBRATE THE STRONG SPIRIT OF AMERICA AFTER THE TRAGEDY OF SEPTEMBER II.”

Super Extravaganza

Ed Micone, executive vice-president and executive producer, Radio City Entertainment, states that the “Super Bowl is the biggest entertainment extravaganza in the world.”

Super Bowl I Among Most Memorable Events of 1960s

Super Bowl I was selected second only to man walking on the moon among the most memorable events of the 1960s in a 1999 U.S. Postal Service survey of almost one million Americans.

Fashion Statement

An estimated 100,000 people—it just seems like more, with the bulky headgear those Wisconsin types wear—will descend on San Diego for the Super Bowl [XXXII]. By comparison, the Republican National Convention in 1996 drew 30,000, many of whom also sported unusual hats.

—San Diego Union-Tribune

It Became Super at Age III

The AFL-NFL World Championship Game was a Packers' Party its first two years before the Super Bowl tag became official at game III. Lamar Hunt, owner of the Kansas City Chiefs, was fascinated by the name and liveliness of a Super Ball that was a favorite plaything of his children, and was the original advocate of the name Super Bowl.

Reeves Holds Appearance Record

Dan Reeves participated in more Super Bowls, nine, than any other coach or player. Reeves played running back for the Dallas Cowboys in Super Bowls V and VI, and was a Cowboys assistant coach in X, XII, and XIII. Reeves was head coach in Denver from 1981 to 1992, leading the Broncos to three AFC championships and into Super Bowls XXI, XXII, and XXIV. He also coached the Atlanta Falcons in their Super Bowl XXXIII appearance.

MEN OF ALL DECADES

Only two players, Gene Upshaw and Jerry Rice, have played in Super Bowls in three different decades. Upshaw, who was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1987, played guard for the Oakland Raiders from 1967 to 1981, and he participated with the AFL/AFC champions in Super Bowls II (1968), XI (1977), and XV (1981). Rice, who is the NFL's all-time leader in career receptions (1,549), receiving yards (22,895) and touchdowns (207), played wide receiver for the San Francisco 49ers (1985-2000), Oakland Raiders (2001-04) and Seattle Seahawks (2004). Rice appeared in four Super Bowls, including Super Bowls XXIII (1989), XXIV (1990), XXIX (1995) with the 49ers and XXXVII with the Raiders (2003).

WHY ROMAN NUMERALS?

The use of Roman numerals to designate Super Bowls began with game V, won by the Baltimore Colts over the Dallas Cowboys 16-13 on Jim O'Brien's 32-yard field goal with five seconds remaining.

The Roman numerals were adopted to clarify any confusion that may occur because the NFL Championship Game—the Super Bowl—is played in the year following a chronologically recorded season. Numerals I through IV were added later for the first four Super Bowls.

Super Bowl Officiating Assignments

Through Super Bowl XLI, five officials had worked a record five Super Bowls. They are line judge Bob Beeks, umpire Ron Botchan, line judge Jack Fette, back judge Al Jury, and back judge Tom Kelleher. NFL game officials receive postseason assignments based on their performance during regular-season games.

ECONOMIC AND MARKETING IMPACT

“Nationally, the economic impact of the game is in the billions of dollars—from sales of TV’s and recliners the week before (a five-fold increase) to antacids the day after (a 20% spike).”

—Wall Street Journal

“Taking the Super Bowl to more cities represents a couple of things. Number one, the recognition that the game is a tremendous asset to the community and the impact of the game goes way beyond football and can be a positive for the entire tourism and travel economy of many, many different cities. And secondly, it reflects the fact that so many cities have invested public monies, either in total or in part, to build new stadiums and, in those circumstances, our ownership has felt it’s important to support those investments with the Super Bowl game.”

—Former NFL Commissioner Paul Tagliabue

“Sales have been nothing short of amazing. We’ve broken every record in 31 years (of business), hitting numbers that we only dreamed of.”

Any Rooms Available?

On Super Bowl XL weekend, the Detroit-area hotels sampled by Smith Travel Research of Hendersonville, Tennessee, reported occupancy rates of 82% on Friday, 92% on Saturday, and 88% on Sunday. On the comparable weekend a year ago, those hotels were only 45%, 48%, and 33% full on average.

Super Bowl XXXIV Generated $292 Million Economic Impact

Super Bowl XXXIV generated a total economic impact of $292 million for the state of Georgia, according to a study released by Georgia State University of Atlanta. Highlights of the study, jointly funded by the Atlanta Sports Council and the NFL included:

- 94,000 people visited metropolitan Atlanta and Georgia for the Super Bowl and related activities.
- Atlanta received $215 million of the total $292 million economic impact.
- Of the 72,625 spectators attending Super Bowl XXXIV, 65,250 were out-of-town visitors.
- A total of 29,362 fans visited Georgia but did not attend the game.
- The average visitor spent $350 per day.
- 87 percent of visitors stayed in hotels.
- $48.72 was spent by the average fan for food, beverages, and souvenirs at the game.
- Corporations spent $11.2 million in Atlanta during Super Bowl week.
- Media companies spent $6.5 million covering the Super Bowl.

Closing the Deal

“Nearly a hundred thousand people journey to the [Super Bowl] and millions worldwide tune in each year to watch hours of costly advertisements and fantastic halftime spectacles...Sometime before the big kickoff in Atlanta [Super Bowl XXVIII], several corporations collectively spent somewhere in the neighborhood of $3.7 billion to have their name attached to the Super Bowl, and sponsorships like that can’t go unrecognized.”

SUPER BOWL XLI ECONOMIC IMPACT

Super Bowl XLI generated a total economic impact of $463 million in South Florida according to a study by Sport Management Research Institute (SMRI). The estimate includes money visitors spent on hotels, meals, local transportation and entertainment, but not game tickets. Fort Lauderdale-based SMRI estimated South Florida had 112,403 visitors for the February 4 Super Bowl and related activities.

SMRI’s Super Bowl XLI study noted:

- The average visitor spent $668.60 daily, compared with a $146-$245 daily visitor average during the rest of the year.
- Of visitors surveyed, 87 percent said their overall impression of South Florida was “very good to excellent,” and 54 percent said they had a “more favorable” impression of South Florida as a result of their attendance at the game or auxiliary events.
- The estimated value of print media exposure for South Florida was $18.4 million. That was the amount of advertising South Florida tourism and civic groups would have needed to buy for comparable exposure.
- The exposure received by South Florida during the Super Bowl game broadcast would have a value of approximately $48.53 million.
- The South Florida Super Bowl XLI Emerging Business Program registered 423 businesses and spent $18.8 million, with 218 registered businesses receiving a contract.

tremendous plus [for Houston],” said Harris County Commissioner Steve Radack. “When they see Reliant Stadium and all the behind-the-scenes, it is going to be catalyst for others to take a closer look at Houston.”

Ripple Effect

“The Super Bowl has to be the quintessential opportunity for destination marketing—the plum that every city of any size plots for and schemes toward. I know. I was chairperson for the 1992 Super Bowl, and while the game of the year is won in a matter of hours, winning the Super Bowl for one’s home city can—and in our case, did—take years. And it was worth every iota of effort it took.

“Few people realize the positive effects a Super Bowl can have on a state’s economy, tourism, and overall image. The ‘ripple’ can provide an even more dramatic economic impact than the game itself. While more than $100 million is likely to be spent in a host city in the span of a few winter days, the ripples spreading through the months thereafter are harder to track but no less significant. Savvy planners use the Super Bowl to build their area’s future image and business. They make the most of their time in the spotlight to pinpoint the area as a positive destination for years to come.”

—Marilyn Carlson Nelson,
Chair, Super Bowl XXVI Task Force

Many Happy Returns

“Economic impact is one reason the Super Bowl is so widely sought. For a $3.6 million investment to put on the game, a metropolitan area stands to net tremendous returns over a substantial period of time. Any investment which garners a 5,000 percent return is a pretty sound business move.”

—Charles Scurr, president of the
South Florida Host Committee (XXIX)

Super Profits

“The Super Bowl is 25 to 30 percent of your profit for a year. It means an awful lot to us.”

—Jerry Anderson, General Aviations operations manager

Super Impact on Hosts

“You land that Super Bowl and all of a sudden you’re a Super Bowl city, which only a handful of cities can say. There are two ways to look at it. One from the economic impact, which is obvious and definitely very beneficial for the city. The second one is it gives them an incredible selling tool to go out and help make money for the upcoming years.”

—Chris Smith, chief strategy officer of The Marketing Arm

Does It Get a Trophy, Too?

“The Dallas Cowboys beat the Pittsburgh Steelers on Super Sunday, but the real winner of Super Bowl XXX was the state of Arizona.”

—Former Arizona Governor
Fife Symington

They Play a Game, Too

“Today’s Super Bowl XXXII is the world’s premier corporate musical, the ultimate production in an entertainment marketplace created and hyped by multinational capitalists run amok.”

—San Diego Union-Tribune

Fast Furniture?

“Last year we received orders four hours before kickoff,” said Paul Goldenberg, a large dealer of big-screen TVs in southern California. Goldenberg expected to sell more than 500 big screens—at $1,400 to $4,800—between Friday and Sunday. That’s about five times more than a typical weekend. Couches and recliners also see sales bumps Super Bowl week. “Some people buy home entertainment centers hours before the game,” said Edward Gilligan of Levitz Furniture.

—USA Today

And Tigger, Too

“With the Super Bowl, we’re like Winnie the Pooh in a vat of honey. If we had a chance to host it every year, we would.... This is a sophisticated tourism market, and it’s hard to find events like the Super Bowl that attract almost 200,000 people spending that kind of money.”

—Ft. Lauderdale Convention and Visitor’s
Bureau President Nikki Grossman

Wide-Ranging Effects

“While the Super Bowl has become an entrenched American tradition in sales, social, and advertising circles, its reach now extends into the corporate motivational arena.”

—Washington Post

Long-Term Implications

“If history is any judge, many companies will eventually relocate here as a direct result of corporate executives who came

Economic Impact— Super Bowl XXXVII

Super Bowl XXXVII generated a total economic impact on San Diego County of $367 million, according to a study by Marketing Information Master, Inc.

Highlights of the Super Bowl XXXVII study include:

- 133 non-local corporations were in San Diego spending a total of $61.6 million during Super Bowl week, in addition to spending $3.3 million in site visits prior to January 2003.
- Super Bowl activities generated 168,600 total hotel room nights in San Diego.
- Among spectators who stayed overnight in San Diego, 74 percent stayed three-or-more nights.
- Of the total 67,603 spectators attending the game, 60,720 were out-of-town visitors.
- $12.2 million was spent by out-of-town media covering the game.
- 61 percent of male visitors and 56 percent of female visitors to San Diego during Super Bowl week were in the 25- to 44-year old demographic.
- 87 percent of San Diego households surveyed by phone were pleased that San Diego hosted the Super Bowl.
- $7.3 million in increased tax revenue was generated by the game.
- The NFL held more than 40 charitable events in San Diego in the weeks preceding Super Bowl.
- As part of the first-ever Super Bowl Latino Leadership Initiative, the NFL donated more than $300,000 to the Latino communities of San Diego and Tijuana, Mexico.

DON'T BE LATE

According to Ken Flanders, the director of retail operations at Foxboro Stadium, people began lining up outside the Patriots' Pro Shop at 7:30 a.m. to buy merchandise after Super Bowl XXXVI. By the end of the day, the entire shop was virtually void of any championship paraphernalia.

to see the game and walked away impressed with the area's natural beauty, lifestyle, and business-friendly environment... To be honest, there are a lot of people who still think Arizona looks like Saudi Arabia. The benefits Arizona sees in January 1996, are not the issue. Our belief is that the Super Bowl will create significant long-term benefits."

Owning Part of History

Less than one month after winning the Super Bowl [XXXVII], nearly one million Tampa Bay Buccaneers championship T-shirts and hats were sold, second only to the sales racked up by the Denver Broncos when they won their first Super Bowl in 1998. The buyers were not from Buccaneers territory only. About half the sales came from outside Florida.

Everyone is a Winner

Some 10,000 NFL-licensed items—many printed with "Oakland Raiders Super Bowl [XXXVII] Champions"—went to World Vision, a Christian relief and development organization assisting 70 million people in 92 countries. For many years, the NFL has sent its surplus championship apparel to World Vision for shipment to any of the 29 countries in Africa and Eastern Europe to which the NFL requested its gifts be sent.

New England Patriots Filmography

According to USA Entertainment, 300,000 copies of the New England Patriots Super Bowl XXXVI Champions video produced by NFL Films were ordered by dealers before the release date, a 33-percent increase over the previous biggest seller.

Mmmm Good

One Super Bowl XXXVI advertiser, AT&T mlife.com, emerged from nowhere to become a recognizable online brand overnight. The company's annual Super Bowl traffic ratings and analysis found that AT&T mlife.com registered traffic for the first time on the Saturday before Super Bowl XXXVI with 34,000 unique visitors; traffic then spiked to 681,000 unique visitors on Super Bowl Sunday. The success prompted the brand's parent company AT&T Wireless to become the sponsor of the Super Bowl XXXVII Halftime Show.

XXIX Good For South Florida

The game attracted more visiting fans than any other championship in NFL history and pumped $204.5 million into south Florida.

Cheeseheads Unite

The Super Bowl XXXI Champions video sold 70,000 copies in the city limits of Green Bay, a city of 100,146. The first 65,000 videos were sold within the first five days, making it the fastest selling sports video ever.

Logo Athletic sold more than 650,000 locker-room hats worn by Green Bay players during the Lombardi Trophy ceremony. The previous record was 450,000.

More than 950,000 Super Bowl programs were sold, beating the previous record of 700,000 set in 1986.

Sport's Mecca

The Super Bowl is the Woodstock of corporate America. Corporate jets are expected to land in New Orleans every three-to-four minutes Sunday morning... The game's bottom line: an estimated $250 million local economic impact, a 56 percent increase from New Orleans's 1990 Super Bowl. (Source: MetroVision Research, the economic development arm of the region's Chamber of Commerce.)

On average, Super Bowl [XXXI] visitors are expected to spend $900-1,000 a day over two to three days.

Everyone Wins

The Espiritu Community Development Corporation beat out 14 other non-profit groups to receive $1 million from the NFL to transform its Montessori preschool/charter school into a Youth Education Town in Phoenix [XXX].

Hungry Fans

The Hostess bakery in Salt Lake City, which services the Denver area, has been stocking up on blue-and-orange dyed Sno Balls for weeks. Last year, they sold 150,000 packages of the colorful cakes per week during the NFL postseason, which is more than 10 times what they normally sell.

DIRECT AND INDIRECT

Indirect activity—that bigger bleach buy for cleaning all those hotel sheets, those extra crates of tomatoes that restaurants buy from South Dade farmers, those National Football League souvenirs bought by folks who don't even go to the game—accounts for a big part of the benefits for a Super Bowl host city:

- San Diego (1988)—$136 million total impact, $70.6 million indirect;
- Tampa (1991)—$118 million total impact, $58 million indirect;
- Los Angeles (1993)—$182 million total impact, $100 million indirect;
- Atlanta (1994)—$166 million total impact, $90 million indirect.

"Indirect activity is a huge component," said Kathleen Davis, coordinator of Barry University's Sports Management Program. "I think this event is going to realize some very healthy numbers for Miami—probably beyond projections."

The Los Angeles study, prepared by the John E. Anderson Graduate School of Management at the University of California Los Angeles, estimated the 1995 game would bring as much as a $146 million economic boost to the Miami area, $80.3 million of that from indirect economic activity.

A Super Bull Market

While there's no reason to believe that a professional football game should have any connection to the stock market, few indicators are better known on Wall Street than the Super Bowl Theory. The Super Bowl indicator holds that a victory by an NFC team or an original (pre-1970 merger) NFL team—the Browns, Colts, and Steelers—point to a bullish market the following year. An AFC victory signals a bearish drop in the market. The Super Bowl Theory has been an accurate indicator 34 times.

TELEVISION-RADIO/ADVERTISING

"It's a football fan's absolute dream come true."

—CBS and Westwood One Radio analyst Boomer Esiason on having the opportunity to call the game on the radio

"There's nowhere else [other than Super Bowl advertising] you can get 90 million consumers who aren't using TiVo, who are actually paying attention to the spots and talking about them amongst their friends at the moment it's airing. For companies [that advertise], there's a big prestige factor. If you're a Super Bowl advertiser, you're automatically placed among the big guys."

—Albert Sanchez, president of Market Focus

"No event has held up as well in today's 500-channel universe as the Super Bowl, which continues to amaze in the ratings game."

—Daily Variety

"The Super Bowl is a huge, rocket shot of creativity for a day with a tremendous amount of viewership."

—Bill Cella, CEO of Magna Global

"The Super Bowl remains sports' premier ad event. It has an engagement value that is second to none. People come that day riveted to that TV, and the number-one thing that many of them want to watch is this advertising."

—Ed Erhardt, ad sales president for ESPN/ABC Sports

"Every single second is like gold."

—Pittsburgh Post-Gazette

"There is no more mainstream advertising vehicle in the United States than the Super Bowl."

—Matt Ferguson, Careerbuilder's Chief Executive

"We'll get about 100,000 visitors, more than 100 million U.S. television viewers, and a potential worldwide audience of about 1 billion watching the Super Bowl broadcast."

—Florida Times-Union

"For one moment, for three hours, the world watches America in awe. I could die happy on Monday for me to be involved in a Super Bowl production on Sunday."

—David Hill, FOX Sports president

"The Super Bowl by far provides the largest audience any advertiser can reach at one time."

—Nicole Bradley, spokesperson for Pepsi-Cola

Nationwide Celebration

Once again affirming Super Bowl Sunday as a nationwide celebration, FOX's coverage of Super Bowl XXXIX was seen by far more people than voted in the 2004 Presidential election (122 million) or went out to celebrate New Year's Eve (106 million).

Super Bowl "Turf Cams"

For Super Bowl XXXIX, FOX deployed "turf cams" in various positions on the playing field, all within the hashmarks. It was the first time such images were available during an NFL telecast.

The Troops Tuned In

Exhausted U.S. troops watched Super Bowl XXXVIII at Saddam's former palace when the game kicked off at 2:25 a.m. Iraqi time. The troops had to walk a half-hour from their living quarters in a steady rain to watch the game. The game between the New England Patriots and the Carolina Panthers provided a welcome diversion and a slice of home for many of the more than 100,000 U.S. soldiers stationed in Iraq, where deadly bombings, shootings and mortar attacks are a daily occurrence. "It makes me homesick to watch here, but my soldiers wanted to see the game," said Sgt. Lee Fleming, from Buffalo, N.Y. "It builds up their morale." The game was broadcast live from Houston on the American Forces Radio and Television Service to battalion headquarters across Iraq.

High Energy

Sports marketing and research firm Front Row Marketing Services estimates that Reliant Energy received $16.5 million of its broadcast media value during Super Bowl XXXVIII from its naming rights deal for Reliant Stadium. The estimated three minutes and 41 seconds of exposure was generated from 0:50 of exterior signage, 0:31 of scoreboard signage, 0:13 of on-screen graphics and 11 verbal mentions. The rate was based on the reported $2.25 million cost of a 30-second ad.

Super Brand

"Super Bowl, super sport, super brand. The NFL is the dominant sport in the United States today. The Super Bowl will be watched on television in more than 40 million households, more than three times the audience that watched the World Series and six times the audience that watched last year's National Basketball Association finals. The eyeball gap is almost as big during the regular season....No matter how the game comes out on Sunday, the one guaranteed winner will be the NFL."

The Game Within the Game

The Super Bowl brings to a boil the competitive and creative juices of just about everyone, be they a coach, player, fan, or ad director. The NFL, television, and advertising had been a winning trifecta throughout the post-World War II era. But Super Bowls lifted this success to a much loftier level. Then came Super Bowl XVI.

San Francisco fans recall XVI as the first of the 49ers' five NFL championships.

Television and advertising people recall the socko rating: 49.1—the highest ever for a live television event. A fluke? Hardly. Super Bowl XVII between Miami and Washington hung up a 48.6 rating.

In fact, eight of the 15 top-rated shows in television history are Super Bowls, and the top 10 most-watched shows of all time are all Super Bowls, according to A.C. Nielsen.

Super Bowl—Part of TV's Golden Era

"The Super Bowl matters, and not just to the teams playing for the championship. It is the last vestige of network television's golden era, a time when millions of people gather to watch the same program."

—Houston Chronicle

Super Bowl Advertising

The appeal of advertising in the Super Bowl comes from reaching attentive consumers, who are of increasingly important value, marketers say, as the television landscape undergoes wrenching alterations. "At the affluent end of the market, our customers have so many media choices, like the Internet, DVD's and 500 channels," said Mark LaNeve, general manager of the Cadillac division of General Motors in Detroit. "But they take time out of their lives for 'big event'

Advertising Bonanza

The Super Bowl is typically the biggest day of the year for advertising as well as for football, as marketers spend an estimated $150 million to $200 million to run commercials before, during and after the game. Those spots are supplemented with print ads, promotions, online campaigns and publicity—at a cost of tens of millions more—all intended to stimulate viewership levels that sometimes climb to as high as half the American population.

—New York Times

Lights, Camera, Action

ABC used 40 cameras at Qualcomm Stadium for Super Bowl XXXVII, including one robotic camera fixed on each goal line, one remote camera on each goal post, “Ump Cam” on the umpire’s cap and “Sky Cam,” which was suspended above the playing field. There were 31 control trucks, mobile units and office trailers parked outside the stadium. Twenty miles of camera and microphone cable was used, and more than 300 people worked the game for ABC. Super Bowl XXXVII was broadcast in HDTV as ABC used seven high-definition cameras.

New Wave

The first Internet company to advertise during the Super Bowl was Autobyte.com. The Irvine, California, car dealer had been in business for about two years when it bought an ad in the 1997 Super Bowl for $1.2 million.

It returned to the Super Bowl in 1998, and the commercial led to a 1,700 percent increase in visits to its website after halftime. Purchase-request activity was up 104 percent after halftime, and up 78 percent postgame.

Don’t Change the Channel

The Super Bowl XXXVII halftime show drew a 40.1/61 rating on ABC and held 97 percent of the previous quarter hour’s audience. The halftime show far out-rated the competition, easily beating the 2.5/4 that the special “Saturday Night Live” received on NBC.

Record Boston Market

Super Bowl XXXVI was the most-watched program in Boston television history. The Boston market produced a 56.1 rating and 78 audience share, meaning a Boston-record 1.3 million homes and a projected 3.1 million viewers were watching.

A Word From Our Sponsors

The countdown was on. Board rooms buzzed. Computers hummed. Story boards shuffled. The goal: Win the Super Bowl ad game.

It is generally agreed that Super Bowl XVIII brought to more than 100 million viewers the landmark commercial that launched the annual Ad Bowl. It was the 1984 spot created by Chiat/Day of Los Angeles, which introduced Apple Macintosh computers.

Tuned In

Nielsen reported that 44.1 percent of Miami-Fort Lauderdale homes with television sets watched Super Bowl XXIX on Channel 10, making the game the highest-rated sporting event on south Florida television in the 1990s, according to local TV researchers.

—Miami Herald

Radio Daze

Forty-seven radio stations are originating sports call-in shows from the lobby of the Hyatt Regency in downtown Miami this week. At the 1986 Super Bowl, there were just five stations, and only 18 in 1993.

How Do You Say “Touchdown” In Chinese?

Former Philadelphia Eagles tight end Chad Lewis provided color analysis on the first-ever Chinese Super Bowl TV broadcast alongside a play-by-play partner he had never met and only knew as “Mr. Han.” “I’ve never even broadcast a game in English, not even a junior high game,” Lewis said. “So to broadcast the Super Bowl in Mandarin Chinese is really something. I’m studying as much vocabulary as I can, listening to tapes, trying to get the accent right.”

The World Tunes In

In the United Kingdom, more than one million viewers tuned in to watch the Super Bowl on either Channel 5 or BSKYB. In Canada, Global TV recorded a peak audience of 9.8 million viewers, plus more than 1.7 million RDS (French language) viewers. Televisa, Mexico’s top network, posted a 7.8 rating, up 38 percent from previous year. In addition, more than 36 million watched Super Bowl XXXVII highlights and the halftime show live on Globo Television, Brazil’s number-one network.

WATCHING FROM AROUND THE WORLD

Scores of United States Marines stayed up all night at an American military base in Kuwait to watch the Super Bowl [XXV]. The Marines, all members of the 45,000-strong 1st Marine Expeditionary Force based in Camp Pendleton, California, held up banners, smiled, laughed, sang, applauded and painted their faces. More than 5,000 Super Bowl programs were sent by the NFL overseas to the troops.

SUPER BOWL RING/TROPHY

“I know they normally say that diamonds are a woman’s best friend, but tonight, they’re a man’s best friend, too.”

“I might sleep with [my ring] tonight. I think today is the first day it really hits. Now it hits home and tomorrow is a new day. So it’s time to get another one.”

—Colts DE Dwight Freeney

“It’s something you have forever to symbolize what you and your teammates accomplished. It’s so special to be able to win one as a player, and 20 years later, get one as a coach and become one of the few people who have ever done that.”

—Colts assistant coach Leslie Frazier, who won his first ring with the 1985 Chicago Bears

“You have to see it. It’s amazing. It’s a pretty exciting thing for guys to be able to touch and hold the ring. But if it’s not your own, it’s not nearly as much fun.”

—Colts kicker Adam Vinatieri

“Wherever there’s a Super Bowl, every player who has ever won one wears his ring. And the players who never won one say, ‘Can I try it on?’”

—Gary Fencik, Chicago Bears

“Whenever you can look at something, and you can feel what it felt like for a year of your life, it’s special. Every single ring I have, the experiences we went through, I feel it. I look at this third one, I smell the grass, I hear the crowd. I remember being on the field before the Super Bowl with my sons...everything was encapsulated in this ring when I look at it...and that’s why it means so much to me.”

—Tedy Bruschi, New England Patriots

“The [Super Bowl] ring is the single most important thing in sports. It’s the best of all the world championship rings.”

—Joe Theismann, Washington Redskins

“Money comes and goes, the fame comes and goes, but the ring is the reminder of the group of men that you sacrificed and played with.”

—The Tennessean

“You can never take this away from us. The rings, everything that we’ve accomplished. This is something so many guys have worked so hard for, sacrificed so many things—family, kids, so many things in their life—to be a world champion.”

—Rodney Harrison, New England Patriots

“Forget about being MVP, forget about being in the Pro Bowl. Those things are nice consolation prizes if you don’t get a Super Bowl ring.”

—Lynn Swann, Pittsburgh Steelers

“The ring, frankly, is a way we express ourselves in sports. You ask any golfer in America what it means to put on a green jacket at the Masters, and that’s the same feeling.”

HISTORY OF ROZELLE TROPHY

Super Bowl XXV marked the initial presentation of the Pete

Rozelle Trophy to the most valuable player of the game. It was named in honor of former NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle, who led the league for 30 years, from 1960 until he retired in 1989.

Running back Ottis Anderson of the New York Giants was the recipient of the first Rozelle Trophy.

important, because there’s nothing like the first. The first one was the greatest feeling that I had.”

—Shannon Sharpe, Baltimore Ravens tight end, who won two with Denver and one with Baltimore

“The ring is everything. There are so many guys who play this game that have never gotten the opportunity to play in a Super Bowl, let alone win one. There’s no sense in playing if you can’t ever get the feeling of standing on top of the mountain and saying, ‘I’m the king of the hill.’”

—Marshall Faulk, St. Louis Rams

LOMBARDI TROPHY

The Vince Lombardi Trophy is presented each year to the winner of the Super Bowl for permanent possession. It is a memorial to the late coach of the Green Bay Packers, who won Super Bowls I and II, plus NFL championships in 1961, 1962, 1965, 1966, and 1967. Following four years as the AFL-NFL World Championship Game Trophy, it was renamed for Lombardi in 1970.

The Lombardi Trophy is hand-crafted of sterling silver, stands 21 inches high, and weighs seven pounds. A stylized football of regulation size sits atop a three-sided base with convex faces. Each trophy is valued at $25,000. It is crafted by Tiffany & Co.

“People ask all the time: What’s your favorite ring? It’s like asking: Who’s your favorite kid? I’ve got three Super Bowl rings. I also have three kids. I can’t pick out which one of those is my favorite.”

—Randy Cross, former San Francisco 49er and current CBS Sports analyst

“The Lombardi Trophy represents a world championship for the Baltimore Ravens, for the city of Baltimore, and that was a very special thing. The Super Bowl ring represents a Super Bowl victory for Brian Billick, for Shannon Sharpe, for Ray Lewis—it’s a very personal, individual thing. It’s something that’s a source of pride and satisfaction that I don’t think anybody without one can truly understand.”

—Brian Billick, former Baltimore Ravens head coach

“The [Vince Lombardi] trophy is treated like a celebrity here. If it goes to a different floor of the building, employees try to sneak a peek.”

STATISTICS

Worth the Wait

The Pittsburgh Steelers' Super Bowl XL victory comes 26 years after their last win in SB XIV on January 20, 1980. The 26-year gap is the second longest in Super Bowl history. Green Bay went 29 years between their wins in II and XXXI.

Twice the Fun

Mike Holmgren became the fifth head coach to take two different teams to the Super Bowl.

1. Don Shula—Colts (III) and Dolphins (VI, VII, VIII, XVII, XIX)
2. Dick Vermeil—Eagles (XV) and Rams (XXXIV)
3. Dan Reeves—Broncos (XXI, XXII) and Falcons (XXXIII)
4. Bill Parcells—Giants (XXI) and Patriots (XXXI)
5. Mike Holmgren—Packers (XXXI, XXXII) and Seahawks (XL)

PARTY TIME

21.5 million people will throw Super Bowl parties, 9.9 million will watch the game in bars and restaurants, and consumers who plan to watch the game will spend an average of $49.27 each (or $5.6 billion total) on Super Bowl-related items.

- Per capita sales at XXIII at Joe Robbie Stadium in Miami averaged $36, consisting of $2.9 million at hospitality tents, $1.25 million for novelties, and $1.35 million in concessions. The NCAA Final Four had a $7 per capita average the same year.
- 100 extra commercial flights were added to the schedule for Miami International Airport for XXIX. There were 400 helicopter landings at San Diego Jack Murphy Stadium for XXII.

Number 12, Please

If it's in the numbers, the number is 12. Twenty-four starting quarterbacks in the Super Bowl have worn number 12; 13 have been winners. Conversely, quarterbacks wearing number 7 have won only 4 times in 11 games. The winning 12s: Joe Namath (Jets, III), Roger Staubach (Cowboys, VI, XII), Bob Griese (Dolphins, VII, VIII), Terry Bradshaw (Steelers, IX, X, XIII, XIV), Ken Stabler (Raiders, XI), and Tom Brady (Patriots, XXXVI, XXXVIII, XXXIX). Those who wore number 12 and lost: Staubach (X, XIII), Griese (VI), Jim Kelly (Bills, XXV, XXVI, XXVII, XXVIII), Stan Humphries (Chargers, XXIX), Chris

Chandler (Falcons, XXXIII), Rich Gannon (Raiders, XXXVII) and Brady (Patriots, XLII).

Other winning starters include three who have worn 16 seven times: Len Dawson (Chiefs, IV), Jim Plunkett (Raiders, XV, XVIII), and Joe Montana (49ers, XVI, XIX, XXIII, XXIV). Winning in number 15 were Bart Starr (Packers, I, II) and Jeff Hostetler (Giants, XXV); in number 11, Phil Simms (Giants, XXI) and Mark Rypien (Redskins, XXVI); in number 8, Troy Aikman (Cowboys, XXVII, XXVIII, XXX), Steve Young (49ers, XXIX), and Trent Dilfer (Ravens, XXXV); in number 4, Brett Favre (Packers, XXXI); in number 7, John Elway (Broncos, XXXII, XXXIII), Joe Theismann (Redskins, XVII); and Ben Roethlisberger (Steelers, XL); in number 9, Jim McMahon (Bears, XX); in number 10, Eli Manning (Giants, XLII); in number 13, Kurt Warner (Rams, XXXIV); in number 14, Brad Johnson (Buccaneers, XXXVII); in number 17, Doug Williams (Redskins, XXII); in number 18, Peyton Manning (Colts, XLI); and in number 19, Johnny Unitas (Colts, V). Losing while wearing number 7 have been: Elway (Broncos, XXI, XXII, XXIV), Craig Morton (Cowboys, V and Broncos, XII), Ron Jaworski (Eagles, XV), and Theismann (Redskins, XVIII).

SUPER DEMOGRAPHICS

According to the Associated Press, 80 percent of Super Bowl ticket holders are in executive, management, professional, or sales positions; 35 percent attend the game on corporate expense accounts; 27 percent own their own companies; 25 percent are corporate officers; and 22 percent are on boards of directors.

It's a Fact That...

- Long-distance telephone calls decrease 50 percent during a Super Bowl, but rise at halftime.
- San Francisco police reported arrests for minor crimes dropped from an average of 360 daily to 96 on the day of Super Bowl XVI between the 49ers and Cincinnati Bengals.
- Dallas water department officials reported water pressure dipped by five pounds during television commercials carried on the telecast of Super Bowl VI, in which the Cowboys defeated the Dolphins 24-3.

There's No Place Like 'Home'...Not

The designated "home" team at Super Bowl has not always found the comfort expected in friendly surroundings. The home team has won only 19 times, while "visitors" have won 23 titles.

No Super Bowl has been played at the home field of a participant, but two teams—the 1979 Los Angeles Rams and the 1984 San Francisco 49ers—did make it to the NFL title game in their home area. The Rams lost to the Steelers in XIV at the Rose Bowl in Pasadena. The 49ers defeated the Dolphins in XIX at Stanford Stadium.

Defense Wins

The Buccaneers became the eighth team with the top-ranked defense to play in the Super Bowl [XXXVII] and the seventh to come out victorious.

Super Bowl MVPs by Position

Quarterbacks have won the Super Bowl Most Valuable Player award more times than any other position. Twenty-two quarterbacks have been named the Super Bowl MVP, including New York Giants quarterback Eli Manning in Super Bowl XLII.

What Do You Do For an Encore?

Five head coaches have guided their teams to the Super Bowl in their first season with that club. In Super Bowl XXXVII, both head coaches were in their first season—Tampa Bay's Jon Gruden and Oakland's Bill Callahan.

SELECTION OF SQUADS

Participants were chosen in voting by the fans plus the head coach and players on each club. Coaches and players vote only for players in their conference and cannot vote for players on their team. The players' vote from each team is a consensus of the entire team, giving each club two equal votes—the head coach's and the players. The consensus ballot of players, coaches, and fans each count one-third in determining the Pro Bowl squads. The selected players with the most votes at their positions are the designated starters. The following positions make up the 43-man roster for each conference: 4 wide receivers; 2 tight ends; 3 offensive tackles; 3 guards; 2 centers; 3 quarterbacks; 3 running backs; 1 fullback; 3 defensive ends; 3 interior linemen; 3 outside linebackers; 2 inside linebackers; 3 cornerbacks; 3 safeties; 1 punter; 1 kicker; 1 kick return specialist; 1 special teamer; and 1 need player to be chosen by the head coach.

DIGEST OF PLAYING RULES

The game is played under regulation NFL rules with the following exceptions: (1) On offense, no motion or shifting will be used. The offense must have a tight end in all formations and can't have 3 receivers on a side. However, the tight end can be flexed off the line of scrimmage. Intentional grounding will not be called when a quarterback throws the football forward toward the line of scrimmage in an effort to save a loss of yardage. Also, a quarterback can stop the clock deliberately to save time, if, upon receiving the snap from center, he begins a continuous motion and throws the ball forward in the direction of the line of scrimmage. (2) A standard 4-3 defense with even spacing (no gap) must be used. Line slants are permissible, but there will be no other pass rush tactics. All linebackers must line up in a two-point stance, except in goal-line or short-yardage situations when outside linebackers can be in a three-point stance. (3) Pass coverage: (a) Man-for-man with a free safety will be used with no bump and run (except when the ball is inside the opponent's 5-yard line); (b) A three-deep zone with a strong safety rotation only; (c) In a balanced formation, the rotation of the zone can be to either side; (d) 5 or 6 defensive backs are prohibited in all defenses; (e) Blitzing by both outside linebackers from the outside is permissible only in short-yardage situations (third and 2, fourth and 1, etc.) and in goal-line situations (any down inside the 5-yard line). (4) Kicking game: (a) May rush 6 players on a punt block, 3 on each side; (b) may rush 7 players on field goal or conversion blocks (nose tackle and 3 on each side). (5) No side agreements by the coaches are permitted. (6) Violations will be reviewed and disciplinary action taken at the discretion of the Commissioner.

SUDDEN DEATH

If the score is tied at the end of regulation play, the team scoring first during overtime play shall be the winner. The game is automatically ended upon any score, (safety, field goal, or touchdown).

NFC 42, AFC 30—Adrian Peterson rushed for 129 yards and 2 touchdowns as the NFC rallied to victory. Peterson became only the second rookie to win the Pro Bowl MVP award, joining Marshall Faulk. The NFC out-gained the AFC 458-326 in total yards, but Antonio Cromartie helped keep the AFC in the game with 2 interceptions for 77 yards. The AFC scored on its first five possessions, including three touchdowns. The third touchdown was set up by Cromartie's 56-yard interception return and capped by Ben Roethlisberger's 1-yard touchdown pass to T.J. Houshmandzadeh for a 24-7 lead with 12:08 remaining in the second quarter. On the next drive, Tony Romo's 34-yard pass to Terrell Owens on fourth-and-13 seemed to change the momentum, and the pair hooked up for a 6-yard touchdown three plays later to pull within 24-14. Peterson's 39-yard run set up Matt Hasselbeck's 17-yard touchdown pass to Chris Cooley with 28 seconds left in the half to pull the NFC to within six points at 27-21. On the opening drive of the second half, Hasselbeck completed a 17-yard pass to Torry Holt on fourth-and-2, and Peterson scored on a 17-yard run on the next play for a 28-27 lead. The AFC responded with Rob Bironas' third field goal, but late in the third quarter Owens caught a 27-yard pass from former teammate Jeff Garcia, and the duo connected on a 6-yard touchdown for a 35-30 NFC lead with 12:29 remaining. The AFC drove to the NFC's 27, but Derek Anderson threw four consecutive incomplete passes. Garcia completed a 16-yard pass to Donald Driver on the ensuing 9-play, 73-yard drive, capped by Peterson's 6-yard touchdown run with 2:43 to play for a 42-30 lead. Darren Sharper intercepted Anderson's long pass for a touchback with 20 seconds left to seal the victory. Romo was 9 of 16 for 87 yards and 2 touchdowns, with 1 interception. Hasselbeck was 7 of 9 for 78 yards and 1 touchdown, and Garcia was 8 of 10 for 117 yards and 1 touchdown, with 1 interception.

Owens had 8 receptions for 101 yards. Peyton Manning was 11 of 16 for 147 yards and 1 touchdown. Roethlisberger was 5 of 9 for 42 yards, and Anderson was 10 of 26 for 103 yards, with 1 interception.

AFC 31, NFC 28—The NFC scored two touchdowns within 66 seconds to tie the score with 1:48 remaining, but Nate Kaeding made a 21-yard field goal with no time left as the AFC held off the NFC. With the score 7-7, Adalio Thomas recovered Marc Bulger's fumble and returned it 70 yards for a touchdown to give the AFC a 14-7 lead with 7:42 remaining in the first half. The NFC responded with Frank Gore's 1-yard touchdown run to tie the game. To open the second half, LaDainian Tomlinson ran six times on a nine-play drive, capped by Tomlinson's 3-yard scoring run, to give the AFC a 21-14 lead. Antonio Pierce intercepted a pass at the NFC 6-yard line to stop a drive late in the third quarter, but on the AFC's next possession, Carson Palmer completed a 42-yard touchdown pass to teammate Chad Johnson to give the AFC a 28-14 lead. The NFC drove into the AFC red zone on its next two possessions, but Derrick Burgess' fourth-down sack ended one drive and Tony Romo was stopped for no gain on fourth-and-goal from the 1-yard line on the second possession with 5:00 left. However, Vince Young fumbled three plays later and Sean Taylor recovered at the AFC 11-yard line. Four plays later, on fourth-and-3, Steven Jackson scored on a 4-yard run with 2:54 left. A bad snap on the extra-point attempt, however, forced holder Romo to throw an incomplete pass, leaving the NFC trailing by eight points. The NFC then attempted an onside kick and Ronde Barber recovered. Four plays later, Romo fired a 47-yard touchdown pass to Anquan Boldin, and a 2-point conversion pass to Steve Smith, to tie the game with 1:48 to play. After Palmer converted a fourth-and-1 with a sneak, he attempted a deep pass for Johnson. Defensive pass interference was called when Adrian Wilson, mistakenly thinking the ball had been tipped, hit Johnson before the ball arrived, and the AFC got the ball at the NFC 2-yard line. Kaeding made the 21-yard field goal as time expired. Palmer, who was selected the game's outstanding player, was 8 of 17 for 190 yards and 2 touchdowns to lead the AFC. Reggie Wayne had 6 receptions for 137 yards. Ed Reed had 2 interceptions. Romo was 11 of 19 for 156 yards and 1 touchdown, with 1 interception, and Bulger was 8 of 15 for 133 yards.

NFC 23, AFC 17—Derrick Brooks returned an interception 59 yards for a touchdown, and Neil Rackers added 3 field goals, as the NFC held off the AFC. The series is now tied 18-18. The defenses dominated, as the game featured 7 sacks and 10 turnovers. John Lynch's interception and 40-yard return to the NFC 45-yard line set up Peyton Manning's 16-yard touchdown pass to Chris Chambers. With the ball at midfield and holding a 10-3 lead and 48 seconds left in the half, Manning was intercepted for the third time. Roy Williams picked off the pass at the NFC 12, ran 11 yards, handed off to DeAngelo Hall, who raced 57 yards to the AFC 20-yard line. Three plays later, Michael Vick completed a 14-yard touchdown pass to Alge Crumpler to tie the game with two seconds left in the half. In the middle of the third quarter, Brooks intercepted Trent Green's short pass intended for Antonio Gates and returned it 59 yards for a touchdown. Champ Bailey recovered Santana Moss' fumble to spark a 10-play, 68-yard drive capped by Green's 1-yard run to tie the game 17-17 with 12:47 to play. Matt Hasselbeck engineered a 13-play, 59-yard drive on the ensuing possession to set up Rackers' 22-yard field goal for a 20-17 lead with 6:29 to play. Jeremiah Trotter recovered Steve McNair's fumbled snap at the AFC 18-yard line with 3:42 to play, and Rackers added a 20-yard field goal with 1:10 remaining. The AFC reached the NFC 49-yard line with 29 seconds left, but McNair threw 3 consecutive incompletions and Michael Strahan ended the game with a sack. Brooks was selected the game's outstanding player.

AFC 38, NFC 27—Peyton Manning passed for 130 yards and 3 touchdowns as the AFC won for the fourth time in five years. The NFC outgained the AFC 492-343, but committed 3 turnovers and allowed an onside kick for a touchdown. David Akers missed a 43-yard field goal in the first quarter, and the AFC responded with touchdowns on its next four possessions. Manning completed 3 touchdown passes in the stretch, and Hines Ward registered the first onside kick returned for a touchdown in Pro Bowl history. Manning's final scoring pass, a 12-yard toss to Antonio Gates, was set up by Takeo Spikes' interception near midfield, to take a 28-7 lead with 5:50 left in the half. Michael Vick began the second half for the NFC, and engineered a 73-yard drive, capped by Torry Holt's 27-yard touchdown catch. Lito Sheppard intercepted Tom Brady's pass four plays later, and Vick culminated a 69-yard drive with a 3-yard run to cut the deficit to 28-24 with 3:53 left in the third quarter. An exchange of field goals made the score 31-27 with 9:04 remaining, but Drew Brees connected on a 33-yard pass to Gates on a flea-flicker, and LaDainian Tomlinson scored on third-and-goal from the NFC's 4 with 5:15 to play. Nate Clements' interception of Vick's pass with 2:00 remaining clinched the victory. Manning was 6 of 10 for 130 yards and 3 touchdowns to earn the game's most valuable player award. Brady was 4 of 9 for 48 yards, with 1 interception, and Brees was 2 of 2 for 58 yards. Donovan McNabb was 1 of 8 for 24 yards, with 1 interception. Daunte Culpepper was 9 of 15 for 124 yards, with 1 interception. Vick was 14 of 24 for 205 yards and 1 touchdown, with 1 interception, and became the first player to pass and run for a touchdown in the same Pro Bowl game.

NFC 55, AFC 52—Marc Bulger passed for a Pro Bowl-record 4 touchdowns as the NFC rallied from a 25-point deficit to win the highest scoring game in Pro Bowl history. The AFC set a record with 626 yards, but committed 6 turnovers which led to 35 points. Steve McNair fired a 90-yard touchdown pass to Chad Johnson on the AFC's first play, and Ed Reed blocked Todd Sauerbrun's punt and returned it 23 yards for a touchdown for a 14-0 lead 3:58 into the game. The AFC led 17-13 in the second quarter when Peyton Manning fired a 50-yard touchdown pass to Marvin Harrison, and his 9-yard scoring pass to Tony Gonzalez on the next possession gave the AFC a 31-13 lead. Jamal Lewis' 22-yard touchdown run gave the AFC a 38-13 lead with 11:08 left in the third quarter. The comeback started when Trent Green fumbled and Leonard Little recovered. Bulger completed a 12-yard touchdown pass to Torry Holt two plays later with 8:08 left in the third quarter. Two plays later, Derrick Mason fumbled and Jerry Azumah returned it 36 yards to the AFC's 7 to set up Bulger's 2-yard touchdown toss to Keenan McCardell. But following an exchange of punts, Green completed a 23-yard touchdown pass to Clinton Portis to give the AFC a 45-27 lead with 13:14 left. The NFC scored 28 points in the next 9:42, set up by Azumah's 60-yard kickoff return, Champ Bailey's interception of a pass by Harrison, and interception returns by Dre' Bly, 32 yards for a touchdown, and Corey Chavous, 39 yards to set up Shaun Alexander's 2-yard touchdown run with 3:32 left, for a 55-45 NFC lead. Manning's 10-yard touchdown pass to Hines Ward with 1:54 left pulled the AFC within three points, and Bulger was intercepted by Brock Marion on fourth-and-10 from the AFC's 28-yard line with 1:15 left. The AFC drove to the NFC 21, but Kris Jenkins sacked Manning for a 12-yard loss, forcing Vanderjagt, who was 37-for-37 on the season but missed from 52 yards just before halftime, to attempt a 51-yard field goal as time expired. But the kick sailed wide right and the NFC prevailed. Bulger was 12 of 21 for 152 yards and 4 touchdowns, with 1 interception, and was selected as the player of the game. Holt had 7 receptions for 128 yards. Manning was 22 of 41 for 342 yards and 3 touchdowns, with 2 interceptions. Mason had 6 catches for 113 yards, and Johnson had 5 receptions for 156 yards.

AFC 45, NFC 20—Ricky Williams rushed for a game-

high 56 yards, scored 2 touchdowns, and forced a fumble on special teams to earn player of the game honors. The AFC, which led by as many as 39 points, won for the third consecutive time. Jason Taylor's interception three plays into the game set up Williams' first touchdown run, and Rich Gannon's 11-yard touchdown pass to Tony Gonzalez capped a 71-yard drive on the AFC's next possession to take a 14-3 lead. Rod Woodson's interception early in the second quarter led to Gannon's 13-yard touchdown pass to Travis Henry, and Williams capped another 71-yard drive with a 1-yard run with 47 seconds left in the half to give the AFC a 28-6 lead. Brad Johnson entered the game in the fourth quarter, and Ty Law intercepted a pass and returned it 43 yards for a touchdown on his first possession, and Sam Madison intercepted Johnson during his second drive to set up Peyton Manning's 32-yard touchdown pass to Hines Ward, which gave the AFC a 45-6 lead with 7:31 left. Johnson guided the NFC to touchdowns on its next two possessions, with the help of Julian Peterson's onside kick recovery, for the game's final points. All three AFC quarterbacks passed for at least 100 yards, led by Drew Bledsoe's 9 of 18 for 122-yard performance. Gonzalez had 5 receptions for 98 yards to lead all receivers. The AFC's defense had 6 interceptions, 3 of which were thrown by NFC starter Jeff Garcia.

AFC 38, NFC 30—at Aloha Stadium, attendance 50,301. Rich Gannon passed for 137 yards and 2 touchdowns to become the first player to earn back-to-back Pro Bowl player of the game honors. The game had an inauspicious beginning for Gannon, who fumbled the game's first snap. Hugh Douglas recovered the fumble and returned the ball to the AFC's 2-yard line to set up Ahman Green's touchdown 27 seconds into the game. After a three-and-out series, Kurt Warner's 23-yard pass to David Boston set up David Akers' 29-yard field goal to give the NFC a 10-0 lead. Gannon responded two plays later with a 55-yard touchdown pass to Marvin Harrison. Deltha O'Neal's 24-yard interception return to the NFC's 6-yard line moments later set up Curtis Martin's 4-yard touchdown run and gave the AFC a 14-10 lead. After the NFC went three-and-out, the AFC needed just five plays, keyed by Gannon's 30-yard pass to Troy Brown, and capped by Priest Holmes' 39-yard touchdown run to give the AFC its third touchdown in less than six minutes and a 21-10 lead. A 10-play NFC drive led to Akers' second field goal, but Jermaine Lewis' 54-yard kickoff return set up Gannon's 18-yard touchdown pass to Ken Dilger and gave the AFC a 28-10 lead with 12:03 left in the first half. The NFC overcame Shane Lechler's Pro Bowl-record 73-yard punt with Akers' 49-yard field goal just before halftime to cut the deficit to 28-16. Junior Seau's interception at the AFC's 5-yard line early in the fourth quarter thwarted one NFC rally, but Champ Bailey's interception led to Donovan McNabb's 8-yard touchdown pass to Terrell Owens to cut the deficit to 28-23 with 8:12 left. Runs of 29 and 16 yards by Corey Dillon led to Jason Elam's 38-yard field goal and, two plays later, Ty Law intercepted McNabb at the NFC 44-yard line, returned the ball to the NFC 13 before laterally to Ray Lewis, who dragged three players into the end zone for a 38-23 lead with 2:49 remaining. McNabb's 15-yard touchdown pass to Garrison Hearst with 1:32 left cut the deficit to 38-30, but Rod Woodson recovered the ensuing onside kick to clinch the victory. Gannon was 8 of 10 for 137 yards and 2 touchdowns. McNabb was 12 of 25 for 149 yards and 2 touchdowns, with 2 interceptions, to lead the NFC.

Owens had 8 receptions for 122 yards and 1 touchdown.

AFC 38, NFC 17—Rich Gannon completed 12 of 14 passes for 160 yards during the game's first two possessions to win player of the game honors and lead the AFC to victory. Gannon's touchdown passes capped 87- and 90-yard drives and staked the AFC to a 14-0 lead. Gannon, who was still recovering from a separated non-throwing shoulder suffered in the AFC Championship Game, was replaced by Peyton Manning. The Colts' quarterback engineered a scoring drive, capped by Matt Stover's field goal, to give the AFC a 17-0 lead early in the second quarter. At that point, the AFC had 14 first downs and 231 yards of offense while limiting the NFC to no first downs and 6 yards. Jimmy Smith caught a 2-yard touchdown pass 54 seconds before halftime to give the AFC a 24-3 lead. Third-quarter touchdown passes by Donovan McNabb and Daunte Culpepper trimmed the AFC's lead to 31-17, but Jason Taylor batted down Culpepper's fourth-and-1 pass early in the fourth quarter, and Edgerrin James's 20-yard touchdown run a few plays later iced the game. The NFC attempted a Pro Bowl record 56 pass attempts, and the two teams combined for a Pro Bowl record 98 pass attempts. Tony Gonzalez had 6 receptions for 108 yards, all in the first half, for the AFC. Torry Holt had 7 receptions for 103 yards. Smith's touchdown reception gives him 5 for his career, an AFC-NFC Pro Bowl record.

NFC 51, AFC 31—Randy Moss earned player-of-the-game honors by setting records with 9 receptions for 212 yards as the NFC defeated the AFC in the highest-scoring Pro Bowl ever. Aeneas Williams intercepted Peyton Manning's pass and raced 62 yards down the left sideline to give the NFC an early 7-0 lead. Kurt Warner's 48-yard pass to Moss on the NFC's first possession set up Jason Hanson's first field goal. Mike Alstott and Jimmy Smith each scored twice in the first half, and Michael Bates' 66-yard kickoff return led to Hanson's Pro Bowl-record tying 51-yard field goal as the half expired to give the NFC a 27-21 lead. Alstott's third touchdown increased the NFC's lead to 37-21, and Derrick Brooks's interception of Mark Brunell and 20-yard return staked the NFC to a 44-24 lead with 11:12 left. The AFC responded with Manning's 52-yard touchdown pass to Smith with 6:30 remaining, but Steve Beuerlein found Moss with a 25-yard scoring pass with 1:05 left to finish the scoring. Warner led the three NFC quarterbacks by completing 8 of 11 passes for 123 yards. Alstott led all rushers with 13 carries for 67 yards. The NFC forced 6 turnovers. Manning was 17 of 23 for 270 yards and 2

AFC 23, NFC 10—John Elway, appearing in uniform on a football field for the final time, drove the AFC to its initial touchdown and then watched a strong defensive effort as the AFC won the Pro Bowl for the third consecutive season. Elway capped a game-opening 61-yard drive with a touchdown pass to Sam Gash. The AFC led 10-3 late in the first half when Deion Sanders intercepted a Vinny Testaverde pass at the NFC's 10 and raced downfield, only to be caught by Ed McCaffrey at the AFC 3-yard line as the half expired. The NFC drove into AFC territory early in the second half, but Ty Law thwarted the NFC's spirits with a 67-yard interception return for a touchdown to give the AFC a 17-3 lead with 9:42 left in the third quarter. The NFC reached the end zone three minutes later as Emmitt Smith scored, but the AFC responded with a field goal on its ensuing possession. Jason Elam's third field goal with 1:02 remaining finished the scoring. Elway played just one drive and was 4 of 5 for 55 yards and 1 touchdown. Keyshawn Johnson had 7 catches for 87 yards and shared player-of-the-game honors with Law. Chandler completed 9 of 25 passes for 133 yards en route to leading the NFC to its only touchdown. Randy Moss had 7 catches for 108 yards.

AFC 29, NFC 24—Warren Moon guided the AFC to points on all three of his drives, including the winning touchdown from 1 yard with 1:49 left as the AFC scored the game's final 15 points to beat the NFC. Steve Young threw a 22-yard touchdown pass to Herman Moore to cap the game's opening drive and give the NFC a 7-0 lead. Late in the first quarter, Mark Brunell threw a 17-yard touchdown pass to Andre Rison to tie the game. Both touchdown passes came on third-and-8 plays. The NFC responded with a 7-play, 71-yard drive capped by Young's 36-yard touchdown pass to Rob Moore. Trent Dilfer guided the NFC to its third touchdown, keyed by a 21-yard pass to Irving Fryar and 23-yard pass to Mike Alstott, and capped by Dorsey Levens's 12-yard touchdown run with 1:36 left in the half to give the NFC a 21-7 lead. The NFC had a chance to pad its lead on its first possession of the second half, but Jason Hanson missed a 44-yard field goal. The AFC bounced back with a 10-play, 65-yard drive that culminated with Drew Bledsoe's 14-yard touchdown pass to Jimmy Smith late in the third quarter. After Hanson's 35-yard field goal gave the NFC a 24-14 lead with 13:42 left, Moon entered the game and drove the AFC into field-goal range, where Mike Hollis drilled a 48-yard attempt with 8:51 left. Attempting to grind out the clock, Warrick Dunn fumbled, and Darryl Williams recovered at the AFC's 49 with 3:03 remaining. After a holding penalty moved the AFC back 10 yards, Moon fired a 57-yard pass to Tim Brown to set up Eddie George's 4-yard run with 2:31 left. The AFC went for the lead instead of a tie, but Moon's pass to Rison fell incomplete. However, the AFC got the ball back when Chris Chandler fumbled the snap on the NFC's first play, and Michael Sinclair recovered at the NFC's 16 with 2:19 left. Three runs by George set up Moon's winning sneak with 1:49 remaining. Moon's 2-point conversion pass to Brown was incomplete, keeping the AFC's lead at 29-24. The NFC was unable to move beyond its own 31-yard line in the final moments, and the AFC prevailed. Tim Brown had 5 receptions for 129 yards. Moon, who was 4 of 8 for 89 yards, earned player of the game honors.

AFC 26, NFC 23 (OT)—Cary Blanchard's 37-yard field goal 8:16 into overtime gave the AFC a 26-23 victory. The field goal was an ironic ending to a game that saw Blanchard and NFC kicker John Kasay, who each broke the previous single-season record of 35 field goals, combine to miss 5 of 8 field-goal attempts. The NFC scored on its first two possessions, with Vikings guard Randall McDaniel, who lined up as a fullback, scoring his first professional touchdown to give the NFC a 9-0 lead. However, the follies of the kicking unit began as holder Matt Turk muffed the snap on the extra-point attempt. Blanchard booted a 28-yard field goal with 27 seconds left in the half to cut the NFC's lead to 9-3. In the third quarter, Barry Sanders scored from 6 yards out, but Kerry Collins was sacked on the 2-point attempt. A 41-yard pass from Drew Bledsoe to Tony Martin led to Curtis Martin's 3-yard run, and after Ashley Ambrose ran an interception back 54 yards for a touchdown 11 seconds into the fourth quarter, the AFC found itself with a 16-15 lead. The NFC drove for more than six minutes, only to have Kasay miss a 40-yard field-goal attempt. After an AFC punt, Cris Carter caught a 47-yard touchdown bomb from Gus Frerotte to put the NFC ahead 23-16. After each team punted, the AFC got the ball on its own 20-yard line with 55 seconds left. Mark Brunell hit Tim Brown with an 80-yard bomb down the right sideline to tie the game with 44 seconds left. Wesley Walls caught a 33-yard pass to give the NFC a chance to win in regulation, but Kasay missed a 39-yard attempt and the game went to overtime. The AFC won the overtime toss, but Blanchard missed a 41-yard field-goal attempt. The NFC had to punt after three plays, and Brunell hit Ben Coates with a 43-yard pass on the AFC's first play. After three running plays failed to gain a first down, Blanchard trotted onto the field and made the game-winning kick. The teams combined for a Pro Bowl record 962 total yards. Brunell, who completed 12 of 22 pass attempts for 236 yards, was selected as the player of the game.

NFC 20, AFC 13—Jerry Rice had 6 receptions for 82 yards and 1 touchdown to earn player of the game honors in the NFC's victory. The 49ers' wide receiver, who was named to the Pro Bowl for the tenth consecutive year, caught a 1-yard touchdown pass from Packers quarterback Brett Favre 1:41 into the second quarter to cap an 80-yard drive and give the NFC the lead for good at 10-7. The AFC had taken a 7-0 lead 2:26 into the game when Bengals quarterback Jeff Blake connected with Steelers wide receiver Yancey Thigpen on a Pro Bowl-record 93-yard touchdown pass. The NFC increased its advantage to 20-7 at halftime on Redskins linebacker Ken Harvey's 36-yard interception return for a touchdown and Falcons kicker Morten Andersen's 24-yard field goal. The AFC trimmed its deficit to 20-13 when Colts quarterback Jim Harbaugh teamed with Patriots running back Curtis Martin on a 17-yard touchdown pass in the final minute of the third quarter, but his bid to win or tie was rebuffed twice in the final minutes of the fourth quarter. First, 49ers safety Tim McDonald intercepted Harbaugh's pass in the end zone with 1:50 remaining. Then, after the AFC forced a punt and got the ball back near midfield, Harbaugh drove his team to the NFC's 9-yard line in the closing seconds. But he spiked the ball once to stop the clock and threw 3 consecutive incompletions as time ran out. The AFC outgained the NFC 390 total yards to 287, but its quarterbacks suffered 4 interceptions, including 3 off Harbaugh, the NFL's leading passer during the regular season. The NFC raised its edge to 15-11 in Pro Bowl games since the AFL-NFL merger in 1970.

AFC 41, NFC 13—Colts rookie Marshall Faulk rushed for a Pro Bowl-record 180 yards to key the AFC's rout of the NFC. Faulk, who earned the Dan McGuire Trophy as the player of the game, averaged nearly 14 yards on his 13 carries and shattered the previous rushing mark of 112 yards set by O.J. Simpson in the 1973 game. Faulk's 49-yard touchdown run from punt formation in the fourth quarter was the longest in Pro Bowl history. The Seahawks' Chris Warren added 127 yards on 14 carries as the AFC amassed records for rushing yards (400) and total yards (552). Steelers tight end Eric Green caught 2 touchdown passes for the victors. The NFC managed only 196 total yards, a large chunk coming when 49ers quarterback Steve Young and Vikings wide receiver Cris Carter teamed on a 51-yard touchdown pass in the first quarter. That gave the NFC a 10-0 advantage, but the AFC rallied in the second quarter and took the lead for good when the Browns' Leroy Hoard scored on a 4-yard touchdown run 2:07 before halftime.

NFC 17, AFC 3—The NFC converted a blocked punt and a fumble recovery into touchdowns just 2:20 apart in the second half of its victory over the AFC. With the score tied 3-3 late in the third quarter, Saints linebacker Renaldo Turnbull deflected a punt by the Oilers' Greg Montgomery, and the NFC took possession at the AFC's 48-yard line. A 32-yard pass from Bobby Hebert to Falcons teammate Andre Rison positioned Rams running back Jerome Bettis for a 4-yard touchdown run with 1:27 left in the third quarter. Moments later, Rams defensive tackle Sean Gilbert recovered a fumble by Oilers quarterback Warren Moon at the AFC's 19. Hebert then teamed with the Vikings' Cris Carter on a 15-yard touchdown pass 53 seconds into the fourth period. The NFC kept the AFC out of the end zone by maintaining possession for more than 38 minutes and forcing 6 turnovers. Rison earned the Dan McGuire Trophy as the player of the game by catching 6 passes for 86 yards. The victory was the fourth in the last six years for the NFC, which leads the series 14-10.

AFC 23, NFC 20 (OT)—Nick Lowery's 33-yard field goal 4:09 into overtime gave the American Conference all-stars an unlikely 23-20 victory over the National Conference. Despite being overwhelmed by the NFC in first downs (30-9), total yards (472-114), and time of possession (40:19-23:50), the AFC won because it forced 6 turnovers, blocked a pair of field goals (1 of which was returned for a touchdown), and returned an interception for a score. Special-teams star Steve Tasker of the Bills earned the Dan McGuire Trophy as the player of the game for making 4 tackles, forcing a fumble, and blocking a field goal. The block came with eight minutes left in regulation and the game tied at 13-13. The Raiders' Terry McDaniel picked up the loose ball and ran 28 yards for a touchdown and a 20-13 AFC lead. The NFC rallied behind 49ers quarterback Steve Young, whose fourth-down, 23-yard touchdown pass to Giants running back Rodney Hampton tied the game at 20-20 with 10 seconds left in regulation. Young completed 18 of 32 passes for 196 yards but was intercepted 3 times and lost a fumble when sacked in overtime. Raiders defensive end Howie Long fell on that fumble at the NFC 28-yard line, and five plays later, Lowery converted the winning field goal.

NFC 21, AFC 15—Atlanta's Chris Miller threw an 11-yard touchdown pass to San Francisco's Jerry Rice with 4:04 remaining in the game to lift the NFC over the AFC. It was the NFC's thirteenth win in the 22-game series. The AFC had taken a 15-14 lead when the Raiders' Jeff Jaeger kicked a 27-yard field goal 1:49 into the fourth quarter. But the NFC, aided by a key roughing-the-passer penalty on a third-down incompleteness on the AFC 24-yard line, drove 85 yards to the winning score. The Cowboys' Michael Irvin, playing in his first Pro Bowl, caught 8 passes for 125 yards, including a 13-yard touchdown in the first quarter, and was named the player of the game. Rice had 7 catches for 77 yards. Mark Rypien of Washington, the Super Bowl XXVI most valuable player one week earlier, completed 11 of 18 passes for 165 yards and 2 touchdowns for the NFC, including a 35-yarder to Redskins teammate Gary Clark just 26 seconds before halftime. Miller completed 7 of his 10 attempts for 85 yards.

Phoenix rookie Johnny Johnson scored on runs of 1 and 9 yards to put the NFC ahead 14-3 in the third quarter. Buffalo's Andre Reed, who led all receivers with 4 catches for 80 yards, caught a 20-yard scoring pass from Kelly early in the fourth quarter to move the AFC to within one point. Barry Sanders ran 22 yards for a touchdown to increase the NFC's lead to 21-13. Miami's Jeff Cross blocked a 46-yard field-goal attempt by New Orleans's Morten Andersen with seven seconds remaining to preserve the win. Buffalo's Bruce Smith recorded 3 sacks and also had a blocked field goal. Kelly, who completed 13 of 19 passes for 210 yards and 2 touchdowns, was presented the Dan McGuire Award as player of the game. The AFC's victory narrowed the NFC's Pro Bowl series lead to 12-9.

NFC 27, AFC 21—The NFC captured its second straight Pro Bowl as the defense accounted for a pair of touchdowns and forced 5 turnovers before the eleventh consecutive sellout crowd at Aloha Stadium. The AFC held a 7-6 halftime edge on a 1-yard scoring run by Christian Okoye of the Chiefs. The NFC then rallied for 21 unanswered points in the third quarter. David Meggett of the Giants began the comeback with an 11-yard touchdown reception from Philadelphia's Randall Cunningham. The Rams' Jerry Gray followed with a 51-yard interception return for a score and the Vikings' Keith Millard added an 8-yard fumble return for a touchdown four minutes later to give the NFC a commanding 27-7 lead. Seattle's Dave Krieg rallied the AFC with a 5-yard touchdown pass to Miami's Ferrell Edmunds. Cleveland's Mike Johnson then returned an interception 22 yards for a score to pull the AFC to within 6 points at 27-21. Gray, who was credited with 7 tackles, was awarded the Dan McGuire Award as player of the game. Krieg led all quarterbacks by completing 15 of 23 passes for 148 yards and 1 touchdown. Buffalo's Thurman Thomas topped all receivers with 5 catches for 47 yards, while Indianapolis's Eric Dickerson led all rushers with 46 yards on 15 carries. The win gave the NFC a 12-8 advantage in Pro Bowl games since 1971.

NFC 34, AFC 3—The NFC scored 34 unanswered points to snap a 2-game losing streak to the AFC before the tenth straight sellout crowd in Honolulu's Aloha Stadium. Bills kicker Scott Norwood provided the AFC's only points on a 38-yard field goal 6:23 into the game. Touchdown runs by Dallas's Herschel Walker (4 yards) and Atlanta's John Settle (1) brought the NFC a 14-3 halftime lead. Walker added a 7-yard scoring run, the Saints' Morten Andersen kicked field goals of 27 and 51 yards, and Los Angeles Rams wide receiver Henry Ellard caught an 8-yard scoring pass from Minnesota quarterback Wade Wilson in the second half to complete the scoring. Chicago running back Neal Anderson and Philadelphia quarterback Randall Cunningham, who were both appearing in their first Pro Bowl, also played major roles in the NFC's victory. Anderson rushed 13 times for 85 yards and had 2 receptions for 17 yards. Cunningham, who was voted the game's outstanding player, completed 10 of 14 passes for 63 yards and rushed for 49 yards. The NFC, which had 5 takeaways, outgained the AFC 355 yards to 167 and held a time-of-possession advantage of 35:18 to 24:42. Houston quarterback Warren Moon completed 13 of 20 passes for 134 yards for the AFC. The win gave the NFC an 11-8 advantage in Pro Bowl games.

AFC 15, NFC 6—Led by a tenacious pass rush, the AFC defeated the NFC for the second consecutive year before the ninth straight sellout crowd in Honolulu's Aloha Stadium. Buffalo quarterback Jim Kelly scored the game's lone touchdown on a 1-yard run for a 7-6 halftime lead. Colts kicker Dean Biasucci added field goals from 37 and 30 yards and a fourth-quarter safety completed the AFC's scoring. Saints kicker Morten Andersen had 25- and 36-yard field goals to account for the NFC's points. AFC defenders held the NFC to 213 yards and recorded 8 sacks. Bills defensive end Bruce Smith, who had 5 tackles and 2 sacks, was voted the game's outstanding player. Oilers running back Mike Rozier led all rushers with 49 yards on 9 carries. Jets wide receiver Al Toon had five receptions for 75 yards. The AFC generated 341 yards total offense and held a time-of-possession advantage of 34:14 to 25:46. By winning, the AFC cut the NFC's lead in the Pro Bowl series to 10-8.

AFC 22, NFC 14—Defensive end Art Still of the Kansas City Chiefs recovered a fumble and returned it 83 yards for a touchdown to clinch the AFC's victory over the NFC. Still's touchdown came in the fourth period with the AFC trailing 14-12 and was one of several outstanding defensive plays in a Pro Bowl dominated by two record-breaking defenses. The teams combined for a Pro Bowl-record 17 sacks, including 4 by New York Jets defensive end Mark Gastineau, who was named the game's outstanding player. The AFC's first score came on a safety when Gastineau tackled running back Eric Dickerson of the Los Angeles Rams in the end zone. The AFC's second score, a 6-yard pass from Miami's Dan Marino to Los Angeles Raiders running back Marcus Allen, was set up by a partially blocked punt by Seahawks linebacker Fredd Young. NFC 45, AFC 3—The NFC won its sixth Pro Bowl in seven seasons by routing the AFC. The NFC was led by the passing of most valuable player Joe Theismann of Washington, who completed 21 of 27 passes for 242 yards and 3 touchdowns. Theismann set Pro Bowl records for completions and touchdown passes. The NFC established Pro Bowl marks for most points scored and fewest points allowed. Running back William Andrews of Atlanta had 6 carries for 43 yards and caught 4 passes for 49 yards, including scoring receptions of 16 and 2 yards. Los Angeles Rams rookie Eric Dickerson gained 46 yards on 11 carries, including a 14-yard touchdown run, and had 45 yards on 5 catches. Rams safety Nolan Cromwell had a 44-yard interception return for a touchdown early in the third period to give the NFC a commanding 24-3 lead. Green Bay wide receiver James Lofton caught an 8-yard touchdown pass, while tight end teammate Paul Coffman had a 6-yard scoring catch.

AFC 20, AFC 19—Dallas's Danny White threw an 11-yard touchdown pass to the Packers' John Jefferson with 35 seconds remaining to rally the NFC over the AFC. White, who completed 14 of 26 passes for 162 yards, kept the winning 65-yard drive alive with a 14-yard completion to Jefferson on a fourth-and-seven play at the AFC 25. The AFC was ahead 12-10 at halftime and increased the lead to 19-10 in the third period, when Marcus Allen scored on a 1-yard run. San Diego's Dan Fouts, who attempted 30 passes, set Pro Bowl records for most completions (17) and yards (274). Pittsburgh's John Stallworth was the AFC's leading receiver with 7 catches for 67 yards. William Andrews topped the NFC with 5 receptions for 48 yards. NFC 21, AFC 7—Detroit's Eddie Murray kicked 4 field goals and Atlanta's Steve Bartkowski fired a 55-yard scoring pass to Falcons teammate Alfred Jenkins to lead the NFC to its fourth straight victory over the AFC and a 7-4 edge in the series. Murray was named the game's most valuable player and missed tying Garo Yepremian's Pro Bowl record of 5 field goals when a 37-yard attempt hit the crossbar with 22 seconds remaining. The AFC's only score came on a 9-yard pass from Cleveland's Brian Sipe to New England's Stanley Morgan in the second period. Bartkowski completed 9 of 21 passes for 173 yards, while Sipe connected on 10 of 15 for 142 yards. St. Louis' Otis Anderson led all rushers with 70 yards on 10 carries. Earl Campbell of Houston, the NFL's leading rusher in 1980, was limited to 24 yards on 8 attempts.

NFC 13, AFC 7—Roger Staubach completed 9 of 15 passes for 125 yards, including the winning touchdown on a 19-yard strike to Dallas Cowboys teammate Tony Hill in the third period. The winning drive began at the AFC's 45-yard line after a shanked punt. Staubach hit Minnesota's Ahmad Rashad with passes of 15 and 17 yards to set up Hill's decisive catch. The victory gave the NFC a 5-4 advantage in Pro Bowl games. Rashad, who accounted for 89 yards on 5 receptions, was named the player of the game. The AFC led 7-6 at halftime as Miami's Bob Griese threw an 8-yard scoring pass to Steve Largent of Seattle late in the second quarter. Largent finished the game with 5 receptions for 75 yards. The NFC scored first as Archie Manning marched his team 70 yards in 11 plays, capped by Wilbert Montgomery of Philadelphia's 2-yard touchdown run. The AFC's Earl Campbell was the game's leading rusher with 66 yards on 12 carries.

NFC 14, AFC 13—Chicago's Walter Payton, the NFL's leading rusher in 1977, sparked a second-half comeback to give the NFC the win and tie the series between the two conferences at 4 victories each. Payton, who was the game's most valuable player, gained 77 yards on 13 carries and scored the tying touchdown on a 1-yard burst with 7:37 left in the game. Dallas's Efren Herrera then kicked the game-winning extra point. The AFC dominated the first half, taking a 13-0 lead on field goals of 21 and 39 yards by Baltimore's Toni Linhart and a 10-yard touchdown pass from Oakland's Ken Stabler to Raiders teammate Cliff Branch. On the NFC's first possession of the second half, Los Angeles's Pat Haden put together the first touchdown drive after Eddie Brown of Washington returned the Raiders' Ray Guy's punt to the AFC 46-yard line. Haden connected on all four of his passes on that drive, finally hitting Terry Metcalf of St. Louis with a 4-yard scoring toss. The NFC continued to rally and, with Jim Hart of the Cardinals at quarterback, moved 63 yards in 12 plays for the go-ahead score. During the winning drive, Hart completed 5 of 6 passes for 38 yards and Payton picked up 20 more on the ground.

AFC 24, NFC 14—Buffalo running back O.J. Simpson's 3-yard touchdown burst at 7:03 of the first quarter gave the AFC a lead it would not surrender, the victory breaking a 2-game NFC winning streak and giving the American Conference stars a 4-3 series lead. The AFC took a 17-7 lead midway through the second period on Cincinnati's Ken Anderson's first of 2 touchdown passes, a 12-yarder to San Diego's Charlie Joiner. But the NFC mounted a 73-yard drive capped by Los Angeles's running back Lawrence McCutcheon's 1-yard touchdown plunge to pull within 17-14 at the half. Following a scoreless third quarter, player of the game Mel Blount of Pittsburgh thwarted a possible NFC score when he intercepted St. Louis quarterback Jim Hart's pass in the end zone. Less than three minutes later, Blount again picked off a Hart pass, returning it 16 yards to the NFC 27. That set up Anderson's 27-yard touchdown strike to the Raiders' Cliff Branch for the final score.

POSTSEASON RECORDS

Compiled by Elias Sports Bureau

Throughout this all-time postseason record section, the following abbreviations are used to indicate various levels of postseason games:

SB	Super Bowl (1966 to date)
AFC	AFC Championship Game (1970 to date) or AFL Championship Game (1960-69)
NFC	NFC Championship Game (1970 to date) or NFL Championship Game (1933-69)
AFC-D	AFC Divisional Playoff Game (1970 to date), AFC Second-Round Playoff Game (1982), AFL Inter-Divisional Playoff Game (1969), or special playoff game to break tie for AFL Division Championship (1963, 1968)
NFC-D	NFC Divisional Playoff Game (1970 to date), NFC Second-Round Playoff Game (1982), NFL Conference Championship Game (1967-69), or special playoff game to break tie for NFL Division or Conference Championship (1941, 1943, 1947, 1950, 1952, 1957, 1958, 1965)
AFC-FR	AFC First-Round Playoff Game (1978 to date)
NFC-FR	NFC First-Round Playoff Game (1978 to date)

Year indicates season in which game took place and does not necessarily reflect calendar year.
