NEW ENGLAND PATRIOTS (5-0) vs. NEW YORK JETS (5-0)

Sunday, October 24, 2004 ★ Gillette Stadium (68,756) ★ 4:05 p.m. EDT

The AFC East lead will be up for grabs this week when two of the NFL's three undefeated teams meet at Gillette Stadium for one of the most highly anticipated matchups in the league this season. The Patriots come into the game with a chance to not only take sole possession of first place in the division for the first time this season, but also with a chance to establish the NFL's all-time record for consecutive regular-season victories. New England has won 20 consecutive games overall, but the Patriots have a chance this week to move ahead of the 1933-34 Chicago Bears with their 18th consecutive regular-season victory.

In order to do what no team has done in NFL history, the Patriots will have to do something that no team has done yet this season – beat the Jets. New York has rolled to the best start in its franchise's history with a 5-0 record, just as New England has matched its own best start with an identical mark. With the AFC East lead, winning streaks and undefeated marks on the line, this week's clash between divisional rivals promises to be another memorable chapter in the Patriots-Jets series.

STARTING STRONG

The Patriots have started the season with a 5-0 record, matching the best start to a season in franchise history. New England is 5-0 for the second time in franchise history and for the first time in 30 years. The only other time the Patriots started a season with five consecutive wins was in 1974. In addition to this season, the Patriots jumped out to a 4-0 start in 1999, 1997, 1974 and 1964. New England has never started a season 6-0.

HIGH OCTANE MATCHUP

This week's matchup between 5-0 teams marks just the fourth time in the 85-year history of the NFL that two undefeated teams with five or more wins have faced each other. The last time a pair of unbeaten teams with at least five wins squared off was 31 years ago, when the Minnesota Vikings and Los Angeles Rams were both 6-0 going into a game on Oct. 28, 1973.

THIS WEEK: PATRIOTS VS. JETS

SERIES HISTORY

The Patriots and Jets will meet for the 89th time since the series between the AFC East rivals began in 1960. The Patriots have won four of the last five games between the teams, including a sweep of the two games last season. The Jets hold an overall edge in the series, but the Patriots lead the series 11-9 since Robert Kraft purchased the Patriots in 1994. New England defeated the Jets 23-16 at Gillette Stadium last season, breaking a five-game home losing streak to the Jets. The teams split the season series in 2001 and 2002, with all games being won by the visiting team in those years.

With their 89th meeting this week, the Jets tie the Buffalo Bills as the most frequent opponent in Patriots history. New England's 40 victories over the Jets (including one playoff win) are the third most over any single opponent, trailing only Buffalo (48 all-time wins) and Indianapolis (42).

New England has won an NFL-best 14 consecutive regular-season and postseason contests at home, with its last defeat coming in a 30-17 regular-season loss to the New York Jets on Dec. 22, 2002. The Patriots' .857 home winning percentage is the highest of any NFL team at its current home stadium.

THIS WEEK IN PATRIOTS HISTORY

OCTOBER 18 – OCTOBER 24

Oct. 19, 1986— The Patriots shut out the Pittsburgh Steelers, 34-0, at Three Rivers Stadium. New England's defense recorded five sacks and held Bubby Brister to 9-of-27 passing for just 100 yards and two interceptions. The win was the first of seven victories in a row, propelling the Patriots to an 11-5 record and a playoff berth. It was the seventh road shutout in team history and is the last time the Patriots blanked a team on the road.

Oct. 19, 1980— The Patriots matched their best start to a season, improving to 6-1 with a 37-21 win over the Colts in Baltimore. Horace Ivory returned a kickoff 98 yards for a touchdown in the game and Steve Grogan was 15-of-24 for 264 yards and a touchdown with no interceptions.

Oct. 20, 1996— The Patriots beat Indianapolis, 27-9, at the RCA Dome. It started a string of eight wins in their final 10 games as the Patriots advanced to Super Bowl XXXI.

Oct. 21, 2001— David Patten scored three touchdowns — one rushing, one passing and one receiving — to lead the Patriots to a 38-17 win at Indianapolis. He became the first player since Walter Payton in 1979 to accomplish the touchdown trifecta. Patten's 91-yard touchdown reception from Tom Brady is the longest pass play in franchise history.

Oct. 22, 1961— Larry Garron tore off the longest run from scrimmage in team history, scampering 85 yards for a touchdown as the Boston Patriots won at Buffalo, 52-21. The Patriots' 52 points that day stand as the third highest total in team history.

LAST GAME: PATRIOTS 30, SEAHAWKS 20

PATRIOTS 30, SEAHAWKS 20

October 17, 2004 ★ Gillette Stadium (Att: 68,756)

	1	2	3	4	Final
Seattle Seahawks	0	6	3	11	— 20
New England Patriots	10	10	0	10	— 30

The New England Patriots notched their fifth straight victory to open the 2004 season with a 30-20 win over the Seattle Seahawks at Gillette Stadium on Oct. 17. With the win, the Patriots improved to 5-0 on the season and recorded their 20th consecutive victory, extending the professional football record they set against the Miami Dolphins on Oct. 10. The Patriots also tied the NFL record for consecutive regular-season victories (17).

The Patriots defense had another huge game, keeping the Seattle offense out of the end zone until the fourth quarter. Mike Vrabel, Jarvis Green and Ty Warren combined to sack Seattle quarterback Matt Hasselbeck three times, while Ty Law and Willie McGinest each registered an interception. Law's takeaway was the 36th pick of his career, tying him with Raymond Clayborn for the all-time Patriots career interception mark.

On the offensive side, Corey Dillon ran for 105 yards on 23 carries, surpassing the century mark for the 30th time in his career. David Patten led the Patriots' aerial attack, catching five passes for 58 yards and one touchdown. Adam Vinatieri was perfect on three field goal attempts of 40, 39 and 30 yards.

The Patriots got off to a quick start when McGinest intercepted Hasselbeck on the opening drive of the game and returned it 27 yards to the Seattle 26-yard line. Five plays later, Dillon plunged into the end zone from one yard out to give the Patriots an early 7-0 lead. On the very next possession, Law intercepted Hasselbeck to give the Patriots the ball at the Seattle 43-yard line. Once again, the Patriots capitalized on the turnover, ending the drive with a 40-yard Vinatieri field goal to go up 10-0 in the first quarter.

The Patriots forced a Seattle three-and-out on the next drive, and on the ensuing possession Tom Brady orchestrated five straight first downs before tossing a 6-yard touchdown pass to Patten to put the Patriots up 17-0. The next three possessions saw the two teams trade field goals, with Seattle's Josh Brown connecting on a 33-yard attempt to put the Seahawks on the board. Vinatieri and the Patriots answered back with a 39-yarder before Seattle ended the first-half scoring with a 40-yard field goal, to give the Patriots a 20-6 lead heading into halftime.

The third quarter was a battle of the defenses, and the only points scored were on a 28-yard Seattle field goal to bring the score to 20-9. Two Patriots turnovers in the fourth quarter gave the Seahawks new life, as they scored a touchdown and a 2-point conversion following a Brady interception to bring the Seahawks within three points of the Patriots. The teams again traded field goals, with Vinatieri connecting on a 30-yard attempt and Brown converting a 31-yard try. On the next possession, Brady led a 5-play, 63-yard drive including an acrobatic 48-yard catch by Bethel Johnson that ended in Dillon's second touchdown of the day, a 9-yard scamper to put the Patriots up 30-20. Seattle drove the length of the field, but the New England defense came up with a goal line stand with time expiring to preserve the 30-20 win and the Patriots' 20th consecutive victory.

QUICK HITS

- Ty Warren dropped Seattle signal caller Matt Hasselbeck for a 5-yard sack on the first play of the game, recording his first sack of the season and the second sack of his career.
- Mike Vrabel dropped Hasselbeck for a 3-yard loss in the third quarter, recording his third sack of the season and his third in four games.
- Dan Klecko lined up at fullback in the second quarter and grabbed his first career reception, an 11-yard grab from Tom Brady. Last season, Klecko recorded two rushes for five yards and lined up at fullback on five of the team's nine touchdown runs.

TURNING OVER POINTS

The Patriots scored 10 points off of turnovers, giving them 48 points off of 11 turnovers this season. In 16 regular-season games last year, the Patriots scored a total of 110 points off of 41 turnovers. In 2004, Patriots opponents have scored 20 points off of nine turnovers. So far this year, the Patriots are averaging 4.36 points per turnover, whereas last year they averaged 2.68 points per turnover.

DILLON DOES IT

Corey Dillon surpassed the 100-yard mark for the second time this season and the 30th time in his NFL career. He totaled 23 rushes for 105 yards and two touchdowns. He also surpassed the century mark with his 158-yard performance at Arizona on Sept. 19. The last time the Patriots had a rusher with more than one 100-yard game in a single season was in 2001, when Antowain Smith registered four 100-yard games. So far this season, Dillon has rushed 107 times for 522 yards and three touchdowns and is on pace to rush for a franchise-record 1,670 yards. His two rushing touchdowns were the most for the Patriots since Michael Cloud crossed the goal line twice at Indianapolis on Nov. 30, 2003 and the pair of scores were the most for Dillon since his two-touchdown performance as a Cincinnati Bengal against Pittsburgh on Nov. 24, 2002.

KEY CATCH

Bethel Johnson hauled in a career-long 48-yard pass from Tom Brady on third-and-seven with 2:09 left in the game and the Patriots clinging to a 23-20 lead. The pass was the longest play from scrimmage for the Patriots this season and their longest play in the regular season since Brady connected with David Givens for a 57-yard gain against Dallas on Nov. 16, 2003.

SOLD OUT IN FOXBOROUGH

Last week's game was the 109th consecutive home sellout for the Patriots. The streak includes every preseason, regular-season and postseason game played in Foxborough since the beginning of the 1994 regular season, Robert Kraft's first season as Patriots owner. Including last week's win, the Patriots have compiled a 75-34 record at home during their sellout streak.

OUT IN FRONT

The Patriots scored first for the 10th straight regular-season game and for the 13th straight game including the playoffs. The last time New England did not get on the board first was on Nov. 23, 2003 at Houston, when the Texans jumped out to a 3-0 lead at Reliant Stadium in a game the Patriots eventually won, 23-20, in overtime.

McGINEST INTERCEPTION

Willie McGinest intercepted Matt Hasselbeck at the Patriots' 47-yard line to snuff out Seattle's opening drive. Richard Seymour tipped the ball high in the air at the line of scrimmage and McGinest grabbed the ball and rumbled for 27 yards. It was McGinest's first pick of the season and the fourth of his career. His 27-yard return was the second longest return of his career and the longest interception return by a Patriot so far this year. McGinest's career long return was a 46-yard touchdown against Buffalo at Foxboro Stadium on Oct. 27, 1996. Two of McGinest's four career picks have been returned for touchdowns, including his only interception of the 2003 season, when he picked off the Jets' Chad Pennington and ran the ball 15 yards for a score (12/20/03).

Bill Belichick is celebrating his 30th season as an NFL coach and has spent more seasons in the league than any other current head coach. He has been a part of four Super Bowl championship teams, including two world titles in his four seasons as Patriots head coach. In addition to the team's current success, Belichick has built a firm foundation for the Patriots to remain competitive into the future. Since 2001, the Patriots have blossomed, rattling off 45 wins in their last 59 games and making Belichick the winningest NFL head coach since the 2001 season. His overall record of 50-25 (including a 6-0 playoff mark) gives him the best winning percentage of any head coach in Patriots history.

BELICHICK'S PATRIOTS RENAISSANCE

Any successful project requires a sound plan, and once head coach Bill Belichick had the time to implement his design on the Patriots, his approach has given him the best record of any NFL head coach since 2001. Belichick hit the ground running as soon as he arrived in New England in 2000, shaping and molding the Patriots into a contender. After the team endured a 5-11 rebuilding year in his first season, the fruits of Belichick's labor were put on display to the entire NFL, as his team posted an 11-5 record in 2001 and claimed the first Super Bowl title in franchise history. Since 2001, his plan has been in place in New England, and Belichick and the Patriots have compiled the best record in the NFL, winning two of the last three Super Bowls. The remarkable run includes postseason play, where Belichick and the Patriots own a perfect 6-0 record.

THE KRAFT ERA

Since ROBERT KRAFT purchased the team in 1994, the Patriots have experienced a remarkable reversal of fortunes. In the five seasons immediately preceding his purchase (1989-93), the Patriots were a moribund franchise that had won just 19 of 80 games (.311 pct.). In the early 1990s, the franchise appeared destined for relocation until Kraft bought the team and rejuvenated local interest. By the start of the 1994 season, every game was a complete sellout. Ten seasons later, the consecutive sellout streak is now at 108 and counting. Since Kraft took ownership, the Patriots have won more conference championships than any other team in the NFL, claiming three AFC titles in the past eight seasons.

SUCCESS STORY

By 1996, Robert Kraft's third season of ownership, the Patriots reached the Super Bowl for the second time in team history and had established themselves as one of the NFL's elite teams. Since 1996, the Patriots have won two Super Bowls, three conference titles and have qualified for the playoffs six times, positioning themselves over time as one of the NFL's top clubs.

BROKEN RECORD

The Patriots have recorded a one-game winning streak 20 consecutive times, setting an all-time record for the 85 years pro football has been in existence. Using their game-by-game, week-by-week approach to remain focused, the Patriots have not lost a meaningful game in more than a year. The last time the Patriots lost was on Sept. 28, 2003, when they dropped a 20-17 decision on the road to Washington.

The Patriots have won their last eight overtime games (including the playoffs). New England's eight-game overtime winning streak is the longest in NFL history. The Patriots won two overtime games in 2003, defeating the Dolphins 19-13 in Miami and defeating the Texans 23-20 in Houston. New England has not lost in overtime since Buffalo won 16-13 at Foxboro Stadium on Nov. 5, 2000. Since that time, the Patriots have won eight straight, including five games in which they scored on their first possession of overtime.

PICK A STREAK

The Patriots have notched at least one interception 18 of their last 19 regular-season games and have done so in 11 consecutive regular-season home games. The last time the Patriots did not pick off the opposing quarterback at Gillette Stadium was on Dec. 29, 2002. Including last season's two postseason games in Foxborough, the Patriots have at least one pick in each of their last 13 home games. Last season, New England led the NFL with 29 interceptions, the most by a Patriots team since 1964.

OFFENSE FROM DEFENSE

RICHARD SEYMOUR's 68-yard fumble return for a touchdown against Buffalo on Oct. 3 was the Patriots' first defensive touchdown of the season and also the longest fumble return in franchise history. It was New England's first touchdown on a fumble recovery since Matt Chatham recorded a 38-yard scoop-and-score in a 17-6 win over the New York Giants at Gillette Stadium on Oct. 12, 2003. Last season, the Patriots led the NFL with six defensive touchdowns and were 6-0 in games in which they scored on defense. Including their win over the Bills, the Patriots are now 13-2 in their last 15 games in which they scored a defensive touchdown, dating back to 1999.

FANTASTIC FINISHES

One of the oldest mantras in sports is that it doesn't matter where you start a season, but it does matter where you finish it. The Patriots have done a remarkable job of finishing strong over the past two-plus seasons, as they have compiled a 28-4 (.875) record after November 1 since the 2001 season. In 2003, the Patriots hit their groove, winning all 11 games after Nov. 1, en route to the Super Bowl XXXVIII title.

Harrison is also tied for the team lead with 3.0 sacks, putting him halfway to his career high of 6.0 sacks, set with the San Diego Chargers in 2000. In 2003, his first season in New England, Harrison led the team with a career-high 140 tackles (105 solo) and is on pace to edge that mark with 141 tackles this season.

SACK ATTACK

The Patriots have recorded 19.0 sacks through five games this season, putting them on pace to post a franchise-record 61 sacks. New England set the team mark with 55.0 sacks in 1984, as Andre Tippett led the team with 18.5 sacks, setting an individual team record. New England's 19.0 sacks this season have been recorded by 10 different defenders, with three players tied for the team lead with three sacks (Rodney Harrison, Mike Vrabel and Willie McGinest). "BIG SEY" SEES THE ZONE

Two-time Pro Bowl defensive lineman RICHARD SEYMOUR scored his first career touchdown on Oct. 3 at Buffalo, scooping up a Drew Bledsoe fumble caused by Tedy Bruschi and rumbling 68 yards for the score and a decisive 31-17 advantage for the Patriots. Seymour became the first Patriots defensive lineman to score a touchdown since Willie McGinest recovered a fumble in the end zone in a 30-28 win over the New York Jets in the 1999 season opener.

MEAN GENE

EUGENE WILSON leads the Patriots with two interceptions this season. Both of his picks came against Arizona on Sept. 19, marking the first multiple-pick game of his career. Both of Wilson's interceptions kick-started Patriots scoring drives, with his first-quarter theft leading to the Patriots' second touchdown of the game and his fourth-quarter steal starting a New England field goal drive. Last year, Wilson tied for the NFL rookie lead with four picks and the Patriots led the NFL with 29 interceptions.

A SPECIAL PLAYER

LARRY IZZO is tied for the team lead with eight special teams tackles and has led his team in special teams stops in each of his last five NFL seasons. Since pacing the Miami Dolphins with 33 special teams tackles in 1999, the two-time Pro Bowler has set the mark on his team in every season since then, including every year since he joined the Patriots in 2001. He has recorded 80 special teams tackles in a Patriots uniform over the last three-plus seasons and is in his fourth consecutive year as New England's special teams captain.
