STEELER HISTORY

The first AFC Championship game trip since 1979 and a second straight AFC Central division title made 1984 a productive and memorable season for the youthful Pittsburgh Steelers.

With 60 percent of the roster having three or less years pro experience, Chuck Noll's team which was 4-4 at midseason, played its best football late in the year, clinching the division title and a playoff berth in 'must win' situations against Cleveland and on the road in the final week against the Los Angeles Raiders. In the playoffs, a key fourth quarter interception by safety Eric Williams and Frank Pollard's determined two-yard scoring run propelled the underdog Steelers past Denver, 24-17, and into the AFC Championship game vs. Miami before being eliminated by Dan Marino and the Dolphin aerial game, 45-28.

As the Steelers went to camp in 1984, a trio of future Hall of Famers closed out stellar careers. Terry Bradshaw, a 14-year veteran and two-time Super Bowl MVP, announced his retirement in July while running back Franco Harris, a 12-year veteran, was released on Aug. 13 and cornerback Mel Blount retired.

Bradshaw, a No. 1 pick in 1970, left the game as one of its top rated all-time passers and the holder of virtually every Steeler passing record. Harris, selected first in 1972, dominates the Steeler rushing record book and ranks third among all-time runners. Blount, who played 14 seasons, is the team's pass interception leader (57) and shares seventh on the all-time NFL list.

The Steelers were founded by Art Rooney in 1933 and carried the nickname Pirates until 1940. For more than five decades now, Mr. Rooney has watched the growth of the NFL's fifth oldest franchise. The early years — 1930's and 1940's — were lean times while the 1950's and 1960's brought some success, though never a playoff entry. But during the 1970's, the Steelers were pro football's most successful team. They won four Super Bowls, two more than any other team in NFL history while making the postseason playoffs a record-tying eight straight years.

Born in Coulterville, Pa., on January 26, 1901, Mr. Rooney moved to Pittsburgh with his family when he was a year and a half old. He grew up on the site now occupied by Three Rivers Stadium and still lives just a short walk from the Steelers' home field.

He was an outstanding athlete who excelled in football, baseball and boxing. Knute Rockne wanted him to play at Notre Dame, but he attended Indiana State (Pa.), Georgetown and Duquesne. In baseball, he was signed by the Boston Red Sox and Chicago Cubs, but an arm injury ended his major league ambitions. He was also selected to represent the United States on the 1920 Olympic boxing team.

With competition coming from major league baseball and the more established collegiate football game, the early years proved to be difficult ones for the Steelers and other pro football teams. Mr. Rooney's team played their games at Forbes Field, but frequently took the games to the fans, playing in such places as Johnstown, Latrobe, Youngstown, New Orleans and Louisville.

In 1939, the Steelers stunned the sports world by signing Colorado All America Whizzer White to a $15,800 contract, an unheard of sum at that time. The NFL's first big-money player is now United States Supreme Court Justice Byron White.

Sparked by rookie halfback Bill Dudley, now a member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame, the Steelers had their first winning season in 1942 (7-4). The nucleus of that promising club was soon in the military. During World War II, the Steelers combined forces with the Philadelphia Eagles (1943) and Chicago Cardinals (1944).

After the war, the Steelers rekindled their efforts to bring a winner to Pittsburgh. Jock Sutherland, a legend at the University of Pittsburgh, joined the team in 1946. Utilizing the single wing, the Steelers tied for the divisional title in 1947 before losing in the playoffs to Philadelphia.

When Sutherland died unexpectedly on a scouting trip in 1948, the Steelers were dealt another setback. John Michelosen replaced him.

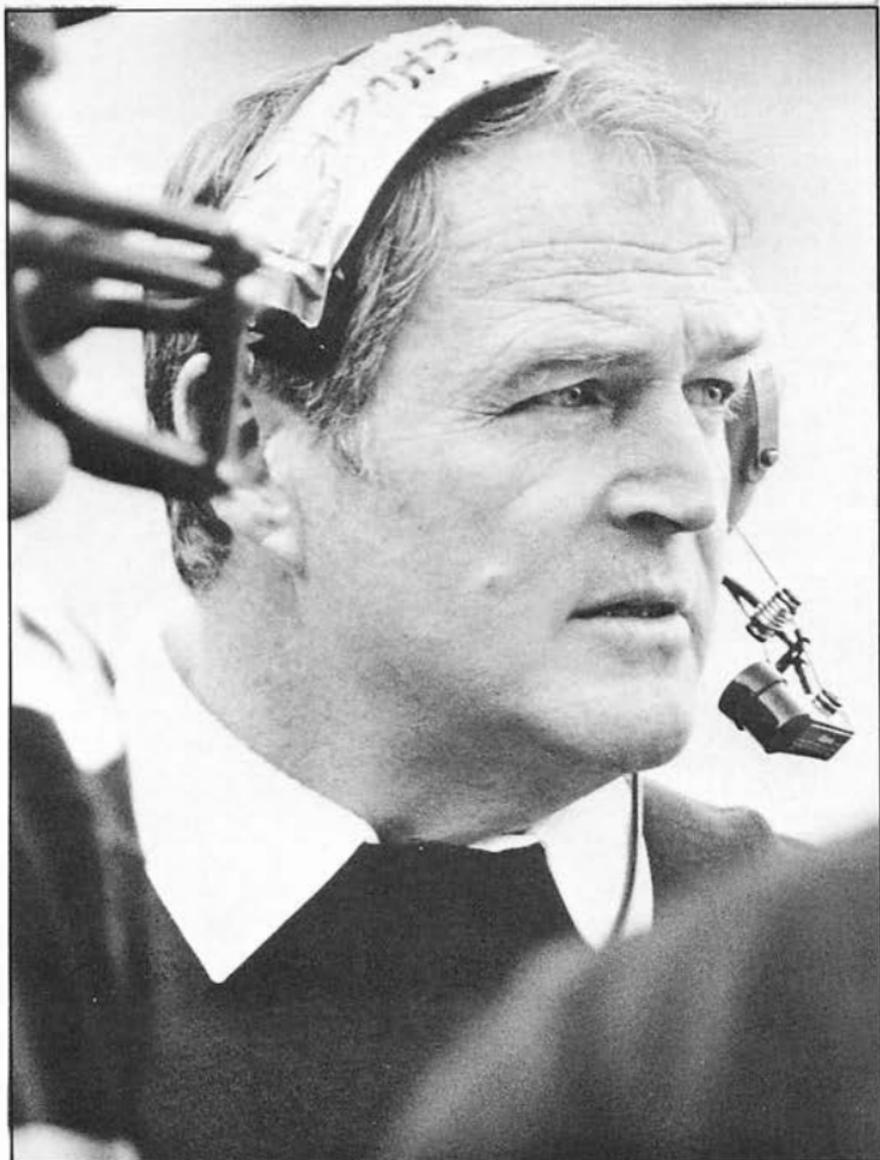

In 1952, Joe Bach began his second term as the team's coach as the Steelers became the last pro club to abandon the single wing. Under Bach, the Steelers were playing exciting football and improved their performance to .500 in 1953 when he resigned for health reasons.

For the third time, Rooney called on his friend Walt Kiesling. He coached the team through 1956 before Buddy Parker arrived from Detroit (1957). Parker and the flamboyant Bobby Layne reeled off a string of four winning seasons in six years beginning with a 7-4-1 mark in 1958. In 1963, the Steelers fell one game short of delivering a title when they lost their final game to the New York Giants.

In 1964, Art Rooney, Sr. was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame. At about the same time, a transition was beginning to take shape in the front office. Dan and Art, Jr., the oldest of Mr. Rooney's five sons, became active in the organization on a full-time basis.

As youngsters, both had performed menial duties in training camp and their life spans actually paralleled that of the Steelers. Dan's first formal assignment was selling advertising and editing the program. Art, Jr. worked in the ticket office, specializing in group sales.

STEELER COACHES

CHUCK NOLL

Head Coach

Steeler head coach Chuck Noll, now in his 17th season, is the seventh winningest coach in NFL history with a 157-95-1 (.623) overall record. The 52-year-old Cleveland, Ohio native who has put together 13 consecutive non-losing seasons and made the playoffs 11 times in that span, is third among active coaches behind Dallas' Tom Landry (243) and Miami's Don Shula (242).

Noll's 1984 Steelers won their ninth AFC Central title, tying Minnesota for the most division championships since the pro football merger in 1970. In a season which was called one of Noll's finest as a coach, the youthful Steelers needed a road victory against the defending Super Bowl champion Los Angeles Raiders in the final week of regular season to finish 9-7, win a second straight division crown and earn a third consecutive playoff appearance.

The Steelers entered the AFC Playoff game at Denver with one of the NFL's youngest teams. Two-thirds of the roster had three or less years of NFL experience including 15 rookie and first-year players and as many as four rookies starting on offense. Against the Broncos, Eric Williams' fourth quarter interception and Frank Pollard's two-yard scoring run put the Steelers in the AFC Championship game. A week later, the Steelers bowed to air-minded Miami, 45-28.

Noll has the longest tenure of any of the 14 Steeler head coaches and has been with the same club longer than any other AFC head coach. He is 15-7 in postseason (.682), a mark which is the second highest winning percentage among active coaches whose teams have appeared in at least 10 games. Among the 17 pro coaches with 100 or more victories, his postseason record is topped only by Vince Lombardi (9-1) and Weeb Ewbank (4-1). Noll is the only coach to win four Super Bowls and needs one more to tie Lombardi and the late George Halas, who each won five NFL championships. Noll, Lombardi and Tom Flores are the only NFL coaches who have not lost in the Super Bowl among those there more than once.

The 1985 season marks Noll's 33rd year in pro football as a player, assistant and head coach. His teams have recorded 26 winning seasons and made the playoffs 21 times. He is one of only five NFL all-time head coaches to lead a team for 17 consecutive seasons — Curly Lambeau (31), Landry (23), Steve Owen (23) and Bud Grant (17).

A former San Diego Charger assistant under Sid Gillman in the AFL, Noll came to Pittsburgh in 1969 from Shula's Baltimore Colts' staff. He immediately committed the team to a program of building through the draft. The Steelers have had extra selections in 15 of the last 16 drafts.

In Noll's inaugural year, Joe Greene was the Steelers' No. 1 pick. The team finished 1-13, winning the opener before losing 13 in a row. A year later, the Steelers selected quarterback Terry Bradshaw with their first selection. The losing streak carried over into 1970 as the Steelers began a new decade in a brand new Three Rivers Stadium with three consecutive setbacks and finished 5-9. In 1971, the club was 6-8, but the foundation was being built.

The breakthrough came in 1972 when the Steelers posted an 11-3 record and won their first AFC Central title. The team upended Oakland, 13-7, in the first round of the playoffs on a miraculous last-second touchdown by Franco Harris on a deflected pass. Eight days later, the Steelers lost to Miami, 21-17, in the AFC Championship game. The Dolphins finished with a perfect 17-0 record and their first Super Bowl. Noll was named UPI's AFC Coach of the Year.

The next year (1973), the team reeled off 10 wins but lost in the first round of the playoffs to Oakland. The club's productive drafting was beginning to pay big dividends.

In 1974, the Steelers rolled to the best regular season record in the NFL — 12-2 — and climbed to their ultimate goal. Pittsburgh whipped Buffalo (31-14) and Oakland (24-13) to win the AFC title and advanced to Super Bowl IX. Against Minnesota, the Steelers held the Vikings to just 17 yards rushing and won their first-ever world championship, 16-6. The victory climaxed a string of stellar defensive performances. To reach the Super Bowl, the Steeler defense produced one of the greatest efforts in playoff history, limiting the Raiders to 29 yards rushing.

In 1975, Noll became the third coach to win back-to-back Super Bowls when the Steelers won 10 of 14 regular season games, defeated Baltimore and Oakland in the AFC playoffs and capped the season by beating Dallas, 21-17, in Super Bowl X in Miami.

The following season (1976), the Steelers fielded what many say was Noll's best club, but it lost four of the first five games before rallying to win the last nine regular season games in a row and the opening playoff game. Noll was named NFL Coach of the Year by the Sporting News, but the Steelers' bid to become the first team in league history to win the Super Bowl three times ended with a 24-7 AFC Championship game loss to Oakland.

Pittsburgh made the playoffs for the sixth straight season in 1977, losing in the first round to Denver. In 1978 and 1979, the team rebounded, posting the best regular season won-loss records in the NFL and then going on to win Super Bowl XIII (35-31) and XIV (31-19) against Dallas and Los Angeles to finish the 1970's as the "Team of the Decade." In six short seasons, the Steelers had become the first NFL team to win four Super Bowls and the first to win two consecutively twice.

As the 1980's began, the Steelers missed the playoffs in 1980 and 1981, breaking an eight year streak. In the last three seasons — 1982, 1983, 1984 — while the roster has undergone wholesale changes, Noll's clubs have put together three consecutive playoff appearances. Four players — LB Jack Lambert, S Donnie Shell, WR John Stallworth and C Mike Webster — remain who played in all four Super Bowls and just seven have played in at least one.

Noll's pro football career began as a 21st round draft choice of the Cleveland Browns in 1953 following a college career at Dayton, where he was team captain. He played seven seasons (77 career games) with the Browns as an offensive guard and linebacker. During that span, Cleveland won five Eastern Conference championships and played for three NFL titles (1953-54-55), winning two.

Noll's playing career ended prematurely at 27 when he retired to enter the coaching profession. However, an opportunity at Dayton did not materialize. He was planning a teaching career when Sid Gillman offered him the last spot on the staff of the Los Angeles Chargers of the new American Football League. Noll served as defensive assistant for six years with the Chargers winning four divisional titles and two AFL championships.

In 1966, he returned to the NFL as defensive backfield coach on the staff of Don Shula in Baltimore. In his three years, the Colts lost just three regular season games and won an NFL title in 1968 before losing to the New York Jets in Super Bowl III.

In 1984, Noll was appointed to the NFL Competition Committee by Commissioner Pete Rozelle. The Competition Committee is responsible for examining all competitive aspects of football including rules of the playing field, game conduct and many related areas such as player personnel procedures, eligibility and player and fan safety.

PERSONAL: Full name: Charles Henry Noll. Date of birth: January 5, 1932 in Cleveland, Ohio. Married, wife Marianne, and son Chris, (12/22/57), who teaches at Proctor Academy in Andover, New Hampshire. Noll attended Benedictine High School in Cleveland and received a Bachelor of Science degree in Education from Dayton (1953). The Nolls live in Upper St. Clair.

RON BLACKLEDGE

Offensive Line Coach —
Tackles/Tight Ends

Ron Blackledge, now in his fourth Steeler season, teams with Hal Hunter in handling the club's offensive line. Blackledge, a North Canton, Ohio native, coaches the offensive tackles and tight ends. He came to Pittsburgh in 1982 as an offensive assistant and then stepped into the offensive line job when Rollie Dotsch joined the USFL.

Blackledge spent 1984 shuffling personnel and battling a seige of injuries which struck hard at tackle and tight end. Five different starting combinations worked at tackle and three different tight ends started.

Veterans Larry Brown and Bennie Cunningham missed more than half the season and their replacements — Steve August, Ray Snell, Emil Boures and Chris Kolodziejki — also missed extended time. Tunch Ilkin was one of only two linemen and the only tackle to make every start.

A veteran of 25 years in the coaching profession, Blackledge came to the Steelers from Kent State where he was head coach (1979-81), compiling an 8-25 mark. He served as offensive coordinator (1977-78) at Kent State under Dennis Fitzgerald, now a Steeler assistant. Blackledge's coaching career began in the high school ranks for nine years at Canton South (1960-62), Canton Timken (1963-65) as head coach and at Canton Glenwood (1967-68). He coached the offensive line at Ashland College (1968-69) and then moved to Cincinnati (1970-72). For three seasons (1973-75), he coached the offensive line at Kentucky and then at Princeton (1976).

Blackledge played tight end and defensive end at Bowling Green where he is a member of the school's Hall of Fame. He has a Physical Education degree (1960) and holds a master's in Guidance and Physical Education from Ohio University (1967).

PERSONAL: Full name: Ronald Dale Blackledge. Date of Birth: April 15, 1938 in North Canton, Ohio. Married, wife Linda, with daughters Michelle (6/13/64) and Traci (8/17/71) and son Todd (2/25/61), a quarterback with the Kansas City Chiefs. The Blackledge family lives in the North Hills.

TONY DUNGY

Defensive Coordinator

Defensive coordinator Tony Dungy, 29, is the NFL's youngest coordinator — defensive or offensive. A member of Chuck Noll's Steeler staff for five seasons, he is beginning his second year as coordinator of a defense which ranked fifth in the NFL — third in the AFC — in 1984.

Dungy's initial season as coordinator began with the task of replacing the retired Mel Blount, a position change for Robin Cole, starting status for Bryan Hinkle and the loss of Jack Lambert in the regular season opener with a toe injury. At year's end, Sam Washington, Blount's replacement, ranked among league and team leaders in interceptions, Hinkle distinguished himself at right outside linebacker and David Little stepped in for Lambert to fill big on-field and leadership void. The Steeler defense intercepted 31 opponent passes, the second best total in the NFL. Against the run, the unit led the NFL in fewest yards allowed, fewest first downs and lowest average per rushing attempt while shutting down all six 1,000-yard rushers it faced.

Dungy's Steeler career began as a free agent safety in 1977. He won a roster spot over veterans Ray Oldham and former All Pro Glen Edwards. He played two years, mostly as a fifth defensive back and on special teams. Dungy led the 1978 Steeler defense in interceptions (6) although making just two starts. He was traded to San Francisco in August of 1979 for a draft choice and the following year was again traded to the New York Giants and later waived.

After one season as defensive backfield coach at Minnesota (1980), Dungy rejoined the Steelers as a defensive assistant (1981) and took over the secondary in 1982.

Dungy played quarterback as a collegian at Minnesota. A two-time MVP and senior captain, he held Gopher records for total plays (999), passing attempts (586), completions (274), passing yards (3,577) and touchdowns (25) until 1982. He played in the Japan and Hula Bowls and East-West game.

He has a Business Administration degree (1977).

PERSONAL: Full name: Anthony Kevin Dungy. Date of birth: October 6, 1955 in Jackson, Michigan. Married, wife Lauren, and daughter Tiara (12/28/84). The Dungy family lives in Allison Park.

DENNIS FITZGERALD

Inside Linebacker Coach

Dennis Fitzgerald, a veteran of 25 years in the coaching profession, is in his fourth season on the Steeler staff and second season as inside linebacker coach.

Fitzgerald and the Steelers had some anxious moments at the start of last season when perennial All Pro Jack Lambert, the 'heart and soul' of the defense, suffered a debilitating dislocated big toe in the first series of the first game. He was replaced by David Little, a four-year veteran with only two games of starting experience, alongside Robin Cole, who was moving inside for the first time. At season's end, the result was the NFL's fifth best defense and first in fewest rushing yards allowed (101.1 per game), a Pro Bowl year for Robin Cole and top flight play from Little.

Fitzgerald, a native of Ann Arbor, Michigan, joined the Steelers from Tulane (1981) where he was defensive coordinator. He began his career at Michigan as assistant freshman coach (1961-62) and head freshman coach (1963-65) before moving to defensive line coach under Bump Elliott. In 1969-70, he served as defensive coordinator at Kentucky before going to Kent State (1971-74), where he coached Lambert and eventually succeeded Don James as head coach. In three seasons (1975-77), Fitzgerald compiled an 18-16 mark including 8-4 in 1976. From 1978-80, he coordinated the Syracuse defense.

A five-time letterman in football and wrestling at Michigan, he was named football MVP in 1960 as a halfback. Fitzgerald still holds the school record for longest kickoff return — 99 yards vs. Michigan State (1960). He also won two Big Ten championships (1960-61) in wrestling and served as captain. He was an NCAA semifinalist twice (1960-61), a national AAU finalist (1961) and participated in the 1963 Pan American and World Championships.

Fitzgerald has an undergraduate and master's degree in Physical Education from Michigan.

PERSONAL: Full name: Joseph Dennis Fitzgerald. Date of birth: March 13, 1936 in Ann Arbor, Michigan. Married, wife Elizabeth, son Timothy (11/3/64) and daughters Maureen (2/23/66), Eileen (8/10/67), Molly (8/8/68), Katherine (2/9/72) and Margaret (12/14/77). The Fitzgeralds live in the North Hills.

DICK HOAK

Offensive Backfield Coach

Offensive backfield coach Dick Hoak, a former Steeler running back, is in his 24th season with the Pittsburgh organization. This season will be Hoak's 14th as a coach after playing for the Steelers for 10 years (1961-70).

For the first time in more than a decade, Hoak engineered the development of a group of young Steeler runners which did not include the Hall of Fame talents of Franco Harris. It was a year of transition and great production. He helped underrated Frank Pollard develop into one of the NFL's top ranked rushers and found running room for former No. 1 pick Walter Abercrombie and Rich Erenberg.

The Steeler rushing attack piled up 2,179 yards in 1984, second in the AFC, and propelled the team's late season playoff surge. Pollard gained a career high 810 yards, sixth in the AFC, including the first two 100-yard games of his career. His ranking was the highest by a Steeler runner since Harris (1979). Abercrombie also gained a career high 610 yards and the first 100-yard game (2) of his career while Erneberg, an untested No. 9 draft choice, started nine games and finished third in rushing and receiving.

Hoak finished his Steeler playing career as the No. 3 all-time rusher behind Harris and John Henry Johnson. He gained 3,965 yards and scored 25 touchdowns on 1,132 rushing attempts. He also caught 145 career passes for 1,152 yards and eight scores. A three-time rushing leader, he had a Pro Bowl season in 1968, gaining 858 yards to finish fourth in the NFL. Hall of Famer Bobby Layne, a former teammate, once called him "the most perfect player in my time."

Hoak played both quarterback and running back at Penn State (1958-60) where he was offensive captain and team MVP. He has a Social Studies degree (1961). Hoak is a former recipient of the Dapper Dan Club's award as Pittsburgh's outstanding sports figure.

PERSONAL: Full name: Richard John Hoak. Date of birth: December 12, 1939 in Jeannette, Pa. Married, wife Lynn, daughters Kelly (5/18/65) and Katie (7/23/68) and son Richard (7/5/72). The Hoak family lives in Greensburg.

JED HUGHES

Outside Linebacker Coach

Jed Hughes, a former defensive coordinator at UCLA and Minnesota Vikings' assistant, is now in his second season as outside linebacker coach, a position which produced Pro Bowler Mike Merriweather, a major Steeler story last season. Hughes, 37, teams with inside linebacker coach Dennis Fitzgerald.

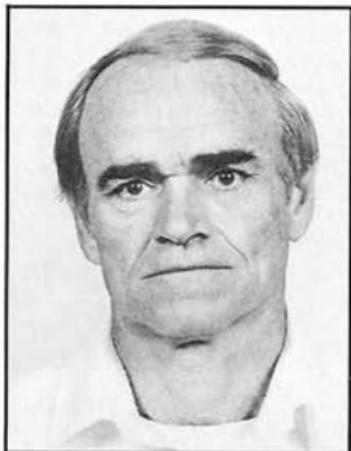

With Robin Cole's move inside, Hughes' outside linebacking corps included Merriweather, a second-year starter, and Bryan Hinkle, a starter for the first time as well as inexperienced young backups. Merriweather, a former No. 3 pick, exploded for a team record 15 sacks, led the team in tackles and was selected to his first Pro Bowl. It was the 15th consecutive season the Steelers had placed a linebacker in the prestigious game. Hinkle, the team's interception leader among linebackers, played standout football as a member of the league's No. 5 rated defense. Hughes also found time to get Craig Bingham and Todd Seabaugh some playing experience.

Hughes coached the Vikings defensive secondary (1982-83) before coming to the Steelers. His background also includes 11 years in the collegiate ranks at Stanford, Michigan and UCLA. His coaching career began at Biglerville (Pa.) High (1970). In 1971 and 1972, he coached first the offensive and then defensive lines at Stanford before going to Michigan as offensive line coach for a season and linebacker coach for three years (1973-75). At UCLA (1976-71), Hughes coached the inside linebackers and defensive line before being named defensive coordinator.

The New York City native holds a bachelor's degree in Biology and Physical Education (1970) from Gettysburg College. He has a master's in Education from Stanford (1972) and a Ph.D. in Education Administration (1975) from Michigan. Hughes was a two-year starter in both football and baseball in Gettysburg. He served in the U.S. Navy following high school, receiving an honorable discharge in 1970. He won 10 high school letters and was a three-time all-state baseball player.

PERSONAL: Full name: John Edward Hughes. Date of birth: November 14, 1947 in New York, N.Y. Married, wife Carol. The Hughes live in the North Hills.

HAL HUNTER

Offensive Line Coach — Guards/Centers

Hal Hunter, a former collegiate head coach with professional experience in both the NFL and CFL, begins his first season as Steeler offensive line coach. He will handle the guards and centers and team with Ron Blackledge. Hunter joined the Steeler staff on Feb. 11, 1985, replacing Bill Meyers, who returned to the college ranks.

Hunter inherits a seven-time Pro Bowl center in Mike Webster and a group of youthful guards including veteran Craig Wolfley and Terry Long. The guard position is the deepest Steeler offensive line situation although additional experience and peak health are important 1985 goals. The team also will be looking to develop depth at both positions.

A Canonsburg, Pa., native with more than 26 years of coaching experience, Hunter came to Pittsburgh from the Indianapolis Colts where he served as offensive line coach (1982-84) under Frank Kush. In 1981, he was offensive coordinator and line coach of the Hamilton Tiger-Cats of the CFL with Kush. Hunter was a finalist for the Colts' head coaching position last January.

Hunter's collegiate experience began at Richmond (1958-61) as defensive line coach. He coached the offensive line at West Virginia (1962-63), Maryland (1964-65) and Duke (1966-70). He served as offensive coordinator at Kentucky (1974-76) and later as offensive line coach at Indiana (1973-76) before going to California State of Pennsylvania as head coach, (1977-80), compiling a 9-30-1 record in four seasons.

As a player, Hunter was a three-year starter at linebacker and offensive guard at Pitt (1955-57) and was a senior co-captain. He has a bachelor's in Secondary Education from Pitt (1957) and a master's in Science from West Virginia (1962).

PERSONAL: Full name: Harold T. Hunter. Date of birth: June 3, 1934 in Canonsburg, Pa. Married, wife Eileen, daughters Heidi and Heather and son Hal. The Hunters live in Gibsonia.

JON KOLB

Defensive Line Coach

In his fourth season as a Steeler coach after 13 seasons as an offensive tackle and a member of the 'Team of the Decade,' Jon Kolb handles the defensive line. He joined Chuck Noll's staff on Feb. 17, 1982 after retiring as a player.

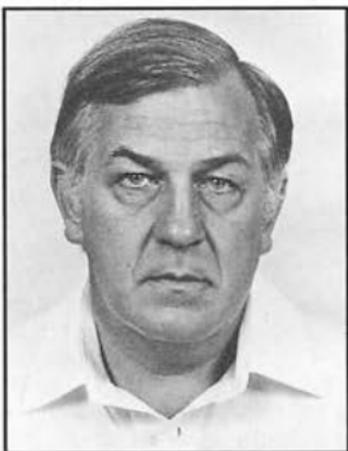

Kolb and the defensive line face an interesting challenge in 1985. Nose tackle Gary Dunn, the 'senior citizen' up front, has played Pro Bowl caliber football the last three seasons to anchor the defense while younger players such as Edmund Nelson and John Goodman have developed into first rate players. In 1983, the Steelers pass rush featured speed and quickness on the outside in Keith Gary and Keith Willis, who set a team record with 14 sacks. Last season, both Gary and Willis labored with nagging injuries which cut into their production. At the same time, Kolb was nurturing converted offensive lineman Mark Catano, a situational player who made some key plays late in the season.

With half of last year's 47 sacks coming from the linebackers, an effective pass rush from the line and Willis and Gary's return to peak health are key concerns as reflected in the No. 1 draft status of Darryl Sims.

One of nine Steelers to play 13 seasons, Kolb was a No. 3 draft choice in Noll's first draft class in 1969. His career included 138 starts — 112 in a row (1971-79) — at tackle after playing center at Oklahoma State. In his first 10 seasons, Kolb played 156 of 157 possible games and ranks fourth in all-time career games behind all-time leader Mel Blount (200). He was a senior All-America before coming to the Steelers.

PERSONAL: Full name: Jon Paul Kolb. Date of birth: August 30, 1947 in Ponca City, Oklahoma. Married, wife Debbie and sons Eric (8/28/71) and Tanner (10/26/80). The Kolbs live in the North Hills.

TOM MOORE

Offensive Coordinator

Tom Moore, a member of Chuck Noll's staff for nine seasons, is in his third year as the Steelers' offensive coordinator.

The club's retooled offense, featuring a pair of new quarterbacks, the NFL Comeback Player of the Year and Rookie of the Year at wide receiver balanced by a solid running game, was a critical part of the Steelers' second straight AFC Central division title and playoff berth. The turnaround, featuring a cluster of rookies, was dramatic. For the second straight season, the Steelers began the season with a new quarterback (David Woodley) and then injuries spelled opportunity for Mark Malone. At the same time, the wide receiver position, a problem area in 1983, became a team strength with John Stallworth's record setting season and the introduction of No. 1 pick Louis Lipps. Both players were named to the Pro Bowl.

Two years ago, the Steeler passing attack ranked 27th in the league, a telling statistic in the pass-oriented NFL. Last year, the club improved to 15th and finished second in the AFC in rushing. The pass offense led the league in yards per completion and Malone, seeing his first extended action, led all pro passers with a 14.66 per completion average while compiling a 7-4 record as a starter. Moore sees continued improvement in 1985, citing competition for the No. 1 quarterback position coupled with more consistent performances from all of the offensive weapons.

Moore began his Steeler coaching career in 1977 working with the wide receivers. He came to Pittsburgh from Minnesota where he was offensive coordinator and coached Tony Dungy, now the team's defensive coordinator. His coaching career began at Dayton (1965) as backfield coach. Moore became offensive coordinator at Wake Forest (1969) after a military obligation and then coached the offensive backs at Georgia Tech (1970-71). He accepted the first of two opportunities as offensive coordinator at Minnesota (1972-73) before joining the New York Stars of the World Football League (1974). He returned to Minnesota when the WFL folded.

Moore was a quarterback under Forest Evasheveski at Iowa (1957-60) playing on a Big Ten championship team (1958) which beat California in the Rose Bowl and established a total offensive record (580 yards).

Moore has a History degree (1961) and a master's in Guidance (1966) from Minnesota.

PERSONAL: Full name: Thomas Young Moore. Date of birth: November 7, 1938 in Owatonna, Minnesota. Married, wife Emily, daughter Terry (8/31/64) and son Daniel (1/17/68). The Moores live in Upper St. Clair.

WALT EVANS
Conditioning and Training Coach

Pittsburgh native Walt Evans is in his third season with the Steelers as conditioning and training coach. He joined the Steelers in 1983 as assistant before assuming expanded responsibilities in the 1985 off-season.

Evans is charged with developing and maintaining a comprehensive conditioning and strength program as well as spending considerable time in the related areas of flexibility, rehabilitation and nutrition. The Steelers' program begins with a cardiovascular stress test for all players to identify the conditioning needs of each. A workout routine is then developed to meet a player's specific needs.

Evans, 34, served as a corporate consultant for General Nutrition Corporation (1980-82) before joining the Steelers. In that capacity, he helped formulate health and fitness programs for major areas corporations such as Westinghouse and H.J. Heinz. He coached football and track at South High School (1975-79).

A 1974 graduate of Marietta College in Ohio with a B.A. in Physical Education, Evans received a master's degree in Sports Physiology from Pitt and is pursuing a doctorate. He is a member of the American College of Sports Medicine and has written several articles on health and fitness for major magazines in the field. He is also working on a book on conditioning.

Evans played football and basketball at Oliver High. He played in the city championship game, the last game played at Forbes Field.

PERSONAL: Full name: Walter Evans. Date of birth: May 15, 1951 in Pittsburgh. Evans is single and lives in Bellevue.

RALPH BERLIN
Trainer

Ralph Berlin is in his 18th season as trainer for the Steelers. He joined the team in 1968 after working on the collegiate level at DePauw and the University of Kentucky.

The Pasadena, California native supervises the day-to-day health of the squad including rehabilitation of all injuries. He also has previous experience in the professional ranks with the St. Louis Cardinals (1963-64).

Berlin, an Iowa State graduate with a Physical Education degree, grew up in Philadelphia and served in the Marines for three years before beginning his training career at DePauw (Indiana). He later earned a master's degree in Health and Safety from Indiana (1965).

Berlin and his wife Dee have a daughter Beth and a son, Steven, who plays defensive tackle at Clemson.

GARY STRAGAR
Trainer

Gary Stragar is in his fifth season as a Steeler trainer. The McKeesport native joined the team as a training camp assistant in 1981 and was hired full time the following year.

Prior to coming to Pittsburgh, he served as assistant trainer at Syracuse for two years (1980-81) and as a graduate assistant (1978-79). Stragar has a B.S. in Physical Education from Kent State (1977) and a master's in Physical Education from Syracuse (1979).

Stragar and his wife Pattye live in Port Vue.

FRITO-LAY 'CHALLENGE FOR CHILDREN'

For the third consecutive Steeler season, the Frito-Lay Corporation through its 'Challenge for Children' program will donate $100 for every point the team scores during regular and postseason play. In 1984, the Steelers scored 439 points with Frito-Lay's contribution totaling $43,900. In 1983, the total was $36,500.

Proceeds from the 'Challenge for Children' program are contributed to the Steeler Fund which donates to a variety of youth related charities.

PERSONNEL DEPARTMENT

DICK HALEY

Director of Player Personnel

Player Personnel Director Dick Haley, a former defensive back for Washington, Minnesota and the Steelers, is in his 15th season. He is a critical factor in the Steelers' success in building and maintaining a top flight club through the draft.

Haley started as a BLESTO area scout following his playing career before joining the Steelers. He spends the bulk of his time on the road analyzing prospects.

His NFL career spanned seven seasons (1959-65) after a standout career at the University of Pittsburgh.

Haley and his wife Carolyn, have a daughter (Callie Rene) and son (Richard Todd), a member of the University of Florida golf team.

BILL NUNN, JR.

Assistant Director of Player Personnel

Bill Nunn is now in his 18th season as the team's Assistant Director of Player Personnel. The Pittsburgh native joined the Steelers in 1968 as a part-time scout after serving as sports editor to the Pittsburgh Courier. He was promoted to his current role in 1970.

Nunn, a graduate of West Virginia State, spends the bulk of his time on the road accessing future pro talent. He also doubles as training camp director.

Nunn and his wife Frances have a daughter, Lynell Stanton, who lives in Philadelphia, and a son William, III, now living in Atlanta.

TOM MODRAK

Pro Talent Scout

Tom Modrak, a former BLESTO scout, enters his seventh year as pro talent scout for the Steelers. In this capacity, he handles the critical chore of scouting the team's next opponent as well as serving as the liaison with other NFL teams in personnel matters.

Modrak, a Pittsburgh native, joined the team on a part-time basis in 1973 and then scouted with BLESTO before rejoining the Steelers (1979).

Modrak and wife Sandy have two daughters, Stephanie and Erin.

BOB SCHMITZ

Talent Scout—West Coast

Former Steeler linebacker Bob Schmitz, who began his personnel career as a full-time BLESTO scout, is in his 10th season as a member of the club's personnel department. He concentrates on the western colleges.

When Schmitz joined the Steelers in 1976, he brought nine years of BLESTO experience (1967-75). Prior to that, he played linebacker beginning in 1961 after joining the Steelers as a 14th round draft choice.

Schmitz and wife Kathryn live in Phoenix, Arizona, with daughters Meghan and Amy and sons Bobby and Michael.

MIKE BUTLER

Talent Scout—Midwest

Pittsburgh native Mike Butler is in his second year as a member of the Steeler personnel department. He joined the club as a personnel intern in 1983 and scouted part-time before moving to full-time work a year ago.

Butler played fullback and defensive end at Bishop Boyle High School and later at Massanutten Academy and West Virginia, where he was converted to center (1979-81). He received a bachelor's degree in Fine Arts from Indiana University (Pa.) in 1983 where he coached the inside linebackers during Spring practice.

Born Oct. 29, 1958, Butler is single and lives in Munhall.

JOE KRUPA
College Talent Scout

Joe Krupa is in his seventh season as the Steelers' college talent scout. He is a former Pro Bowler who played nine seasons with the team as a defensive tackle.

Krupa played college football at Purdue before coming to Pittsburgh as a No. 2 draft choice in 1956. He earned Pro Bowl honors in 1964.

Krupa has a daughter, Annette and sons Joseph and Gary Ernest.

TONY PARISI
Equipment Manager

Tony Parisi has been a part of the Steeler organization for 21 years. As equipment manager, Parisi is responsible for the purchase, care and reconditioning of all of the club's football equipment.

A native of Canada, Parisi played pro hockey as a goaltender (1949-1965) including stints in England and Italy. He later served as trainer for the Pittsburgh Hornets hockey club for four seasons before joining the Steelers in 1965.

Parisi and his wife Joan have two daughters, Paul (5/12/65) and Beth (4/4/69). The Parisis live in Mt. Lebanon.

RODGERS FREYVOGEL
Field Manager

Steeler field manager Rodgers Freyvogel is now in his sixth season with the club. The Pittsburgh native is responsible for practice preparation and field equipment as well as assisting equipment manager Tony Parisi.

Freyvogel, who joined the Steelers in 1980, is single and lives on the Northside.

STEELERS SINCE REALIGNMENT

Since National Football League realignment (1970), the Steelers rank fourth among league leaders in winning percentage.

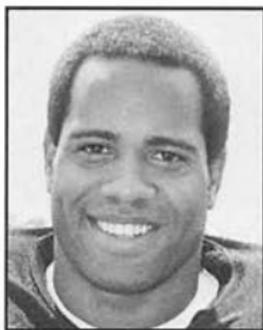

The Steelers have won nine AFC Central division titles and are tied with Minnesota for the most division titles in that span. The Steelers have made the playoffs 11 times (in the last 13 seasons).

CAREER TOTALS: 35-20

PRO: Great natural talent and key reason for the increased production and late season improvement of the Steeler running game in 1984 . . . Regained starting status late in season and averaged 80 yards per game in final five weeks . . . Finished season with career high 610 yards, second behind Frank Pollard, while catching 16 passes for 135 yards . . . Contributed 143 yards in two playoff games and four receptions . . . Late last season, began to run with ability and savvy which came with No. 1 draft status (1982) . . . Returned to starting lineup at New Orleans (11/19) . . . Had first two 100 yard games of his young career in making last five starts . . . Piled up 109 yards on 19 carries (5.7) vs. San Diego (11/25) and then led rushing attack in critical victory over Los Angeles Raiders (12/16) to make playoffs with 111 yards on 26 carries, both career highs . . . Produced the most important offensive play of 1984 when he broke a screen pass 59 yards to Raiders' one-yard-line on final play of third quarter to set up winning touchdown . . . Accounted for 396 of 610 yards and 10 of 16 receptions in last five starts . . . Began regular season as starter alongside Pollard but knee injury vs. New York Jets (9/6) cost him two games vs. Rams (9/16) and Cleveland (9/23) and relegated him to backup status behind Rich Erenberg until 12th week . . . A potent weapon in Steeler offense both as runner and receiver . . . Has handled football last 198 times without fumbling . . . Instinctive runner with speed and moves to break big plays everytime he handles the football . . . Responded productively to increased workload in second half of last season, a tendency which will continue in 1985 given good health . . . Coaches say he was particularly effective on early downs giving offense great flexibility . . . Started first 13 games of 1983 before nagging hurts slowed his development . . . Gained 446 yards, fourth on team, caught career high 26 passes and three touchdowns . . . Began season in a rush, scoring seven touchdowns — four in first five games . . . In game at Houston (9/18), caught 30-yard touchdown pass and broke 50-yard TD run . . . The next week, caught 26-yard touchdown pass for go-ahead points vs. New England . . . In return match with Houston (10/2), converted broken play into 51-yard touchdown for winning points . . . Also had 51-yard grab vs. San Diego . . . Helped spark rally for win over Tampa Bay (11/30) with career high seven catches for 71 yards . . . Biggest contributions came as receiver, catching at least one pass in 15 of 16 games . . . Suffered stretched knee ligaments in second preseason game of rookie (1982) season . . . His recovery and development was further complicated by seven-game strike . . . Played primary as backup to Frank Pollard for balance of season . . . Totaled 73 yards rushing in last regular season game vs. Cleveland, a career high prior to 1984 . . . Also handled kickoff returns . . . Experience in three pro seasons includes time as single back, split back, I-back, receiver and slotback . . . Appears to have overcome lingering knee problems and is a more confident runner, a trait he attributes to 'concentration on rehabilitation program and more opportunities' . . . Fourth running back and 12th player selected in 1982 draft . . . One of three running backs drafted in first round by Chuck Noll including Franco Harris and Greg Hawthorne . . . Has added 10 pounds through weight program since coming to Steelers . . . Joins Pollard in 'All-Baylor' backfield tandem.

COLLEGE: Four-year starter . . . Accounted for 3,665 career yards, fifth in Southwest Conference behind Eric Dickerson (4,450), Earl Campbell (3,736), Craig James (3,742), and Curtis Dickey (3,703) . . . SWC Offensive Player of Year (1980) when he gained 1,187 yards in leading team to conference title . . . Averaged 94 yards per game as Baylor's top rusher in every season . . . School's all-time leading runner, a record he established after 19 games . . . Had 20 career 100-yard games, five as senior . . . In first college game, produced 207 yards vs. Texas A & M . . . Two-time All-SWC . . . Scored two TDs in 1982 Japan Bowl and was Hula Bowl Offensive MVP . . . Majored in Education.

PERSONAL: Single . . . Waco, Texas native . . . Spent offseason working on ranch . . . All-state performer at Waco High where he gained 2,112 yards in final two seasons . . . ... Had what he said was 'unusual' year in 1984 ... Started slowly with a block and four other misses in first 11 tries but then closed regular season making 16 of 18 and twice establishing new personal and team records for longest field goal ... Drilled 53-yarder at Indianapolis (10/21) to break Lou Michaels' record of 50 yards (1963) ... A month later, hit from 55 yards vs. San Diego (11/25) to rewrite his own mark ... His 55-yard effort was second longest in NFL last year behind Cleveland's Steve Cox (60) ... Struggled in playoff victory at Denver (12/30) missing three of four, only the second time in his career he had three misses in one game ... Missed 53-yarder at Miami (1/6) in AFC Championship game to finish one for five in postseason ... Produced Pro Bowl season in 1983 and became first Steeler kicker to be named MVP in 15-year history of the award ... His 119 points led AFC and was fifth in the NFL ... Made 27 of 31 field goals to set new club field goal percentage record (87%) ... Was only the third Steeler kicker named to the Pro Bowl and only the second (Roy Gerela) to win AFC scoring crown ... Booted 43-yard field goal for only AFC points in 45-3 Pro Bowl loss ... At one stage, hit 13 consecutive field goals ... Made 25 of last 27 attempts including 14 in a row at Three Rivers Stadium, a streak ended with a 48-yard miss in the 1984 opener ... Still has made 23 of last 26 at home ... Kicked four field goals in two 1982 games — at Houston (9/18) and vs. San Diego (11/6) ... A major Steeler story in 1982 after being claimed on waivers from Buffalo five days before season opening Monday night game at Dallas (9/13) ... Clinched 36-28 win over Cowboys with three-for-four performance including 40-yarder with 1:02 to play ... One week later, connected on 42-yarder with 35 seconds remaining to send game vs. Cincinnati (9/19) into overtime ... Led Steelers in scoring (52 points), making 10 of 12 field goals, and was selected to NFL All Rookie team ... Very strong and accurate leg ... Capable of placing kickoffs, a great aid to coverage units ... Coaches consider him a threat from 60 yards and in ... Career totals include 17 of 26 field goals on the road and 11 of 18 on grass fields ... Steelers were on brink of drafting him in seventh round (1982) before Buffalo used earlier pick in same round.

COLLEGE: Began career handling kickoffs behind Dave Jacobs and wound up setting NCAA field goal percentage mark (87.4%), making 18 of 19 as senior (1981) ... Never missed a career extra point, hitting 72 in a row in three seasons ... Top scorer as junior and senior ... Also played rugby and led soccer team in scoring as a freshman ... Has Management-Accounting degree and is pursuing graduate degree in Finance.

PERSONAL: Engaged to Carol Eckert ... Native of South Africa where he attended Brettonwood High in Durban before family moved to Downingtown, Pa. following high school ... lives in Pittsburgh ... Father is a former pro soccer player in England and now a Baptist minister ... Had never seen a football or football game before coming to America ... Attended Eagles' free agent tryout camp and was offered contract before staff discovered he had college eligibility remaining and recommended him to Syracuse ... Works as investment broker for Hefron-Tillotson in offseason ... Full name: Gary Allan Anderson.

BIRTHPLACE—Hershey, Pa.
HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (7th in '84)
NFL EXP.—2
GAMES PLAYED-STARTED—'84 (5-0)

PRO: Talented young quarterbacking prospect who made productive impression in five rookie appearances . . . Cannot be counted out of picture as 1985 training camp opens based on physical ability, last year's performances and Chuck Noll's plan to use him extensively in preseason, an opportunity he did not receive in 1984 while David Woodley and Mark Malone duelled for No. 1 job . . . Intelligent and exciting player with major league tools, particularly arm strength, accuracy and scrambling skills . . . Coaches feel he could blossom quickly with more playing time and point to important intangible of awareness and gift to adapt and get completion . . . Learned Steeler system quickly . . . In two key chances to contribute, produced touchdown drives . . . Came off bench to replace Mark Malone at New Orleans (11/19) with team trailing 27-17 . . . Sparked comeback by taking club on eight-play, 74-yard scoring drive in 1:43 climaxed by 25-yard touchdown pass to Louis Lipps, bringing Steelers within three points . . . Completed six of nine for 83 yards in pressurized situation . . . Two weeks later, stepped in again for Malone vs. Cleveland (12/9) and drove club 69 yards in seven plays for second quarter touchdown . . . Hit two of four passes . . . Remaining appearances were in mop-up roles vs. Atlanta (10/28), Houston (11/4) and San Diego (11/25) . . . His height (6-0), a pre-draft media subject, of "absolutely no concern," according to Noll.

COLLEGE: Three-year starter and senior MVP . . . Big Ten's second all-time leading passer with 7,636 career yards behind Mark Hermann . . . Career statistics include 609 of 1,060 (57.5%), 45 touchdowns (second to Hermann) and 41 interceptions . . . Ranks second to Hermann in virtually every Purdue passing category . . . Threw for 2,031 yards (183 of 305) and 12 touchdowns as senior (60.0%) . . . Best game that year came vs. Big Ten titlist Illinois — 30 of 40 and three TDs . . . Set single season school mark for passing attempts (399) in 1982 including 55 vs. Ohio State, connecting on 218 . . . Threw for 2,686 yards and 18 TDs as a sophomore, the second best mark in school history . . . In first game as sophomore starter, completed 14 of 17 for 177 yards in win over John Elway and Stanford . . . Had best career game in 1981 vs Ohio State, completing 31 of 52 passes for 516 yards and three TDs . . . Produced six-career 300-yard games . . . Worked towards degree in Restaurant, Hotel and Institutional Management in offseason.

CAREER TOTALS—27-4

PRO: Considered a bright young prospect even though 1984 playing time and production dropped off from his rookie season . . . Injuries at training camp and quick development of rookies Louis Lipps and Weegie Thompson relegated him to part-time status . . . Figures to receive more playing time in 1985 making this training camp a critical period for a talent with John Stallworth type size and great speed (4.47) . . . Joins Lipps as two of the fastest Steelers . . . Ended last season on encouraging note with 29-yard touchdown reception late in AFC Championship loss at Miami . . . His seven receptions in second season were clustered into four games highlighted by three vs. Miami (10/7) and two against Cincinnati (10/1) . . . Did not catch a pass in final six regular season games in infrequent appearances . . . Started four games as rookie on right side (1983) . . . Made first pro start vs. Cincinnati (10/10) and had two catches . . . Best game came vs. Tampa Bay (10/30) when he caught five passes for 74 yards and sparked fourth quarter rally with 11-yard touchdown reception . . . Was injured on that play and spent balance of season as reserve . . . Hauled in leaping 44-yarder over Raiders' Lester Hayes in AFC Playoff loss . . . Neck sprain hindered his initial training camp . . . Needs to play more aggressively . . . Coaches point to great athletic gifts — size, speed, soft hands and knack for leaping catch . . . His development this year could make one of the NFL's most potent tandems that much more explosive . . . Second round draft choice (1983) and sixth receiver chosen.

COLLEGE: Four-year letterman, two-year starter and . . . Led team in receiving in final two seasons after converting from running back to replace Bengals' David Verser . . . Caught 36 passes for 629 yards (17.5) and four touchdowns

STEELERS 5-1-1 IN OVERTIME GAMES

Since overtime was introduced into NFL regular season games in 1974, the Steelers have been involved in seven such contests and until Houston's 23-20 overtime win last season, were the NFL's only undefeated in overtime. The Oiler victory ended a five game winning streak.

Overtime results include:

Sept. 22, 1974: Steelers 35, Denver 35 at Denver.

Sept. 24, 1978: Steelers 15, Cleveland 9 at Three Rivers Stadium when Terry Bradshaw passed 37 yards to Bennie Cunningham (3:43).

Sept. 3, 1979: Steelers 16, New England 13 at Foxboro, Mass. Matt Bahr kicked a 41-yard field goal in the opening Monday night game of the season (5:10).

Nov. 25, 1979: Steelers 33, Cleveland 30 at Three Rivers Stadium. Matt Bahr kicked a 37-yard field goal (14:51).

Sept. 28, 1981: Steelers 27, New England 21 at Three Rivers Stadium. Terry Bradshaw passed 24 yards to Lynn Swann (3:19).

Sept. 19, 1982: Steelers 26, Cincinnati 20 at Three Rivers Stadium. Terry Bradshaw passed two yards to John Stallworth (1:08) after Dwayne Woodruff intercepted a Ken Anderson pass and returned it 30 yards to set up the touchdown.

Dec. 2, 1984: Houston 23, Steelers 20 at the Astrodome. Joe Cooper kicked a 30 yard field goal with 5:53 remaining to cap a 13 play, 63-yard Oiler drive. The Steelers did not have a possession in the overtime.

CAREER TOTALS: 32-12

PRO: With peak health, could be critical cog in Steeler defense in 1985 . . . Started 11 games at right defensive end a year ago but nagging knee problems limited his playing time and effectiveness . . . Late in season, lost front-line job to Edmund Nelson, who also began season as starter while Gary was healing . . . Considered club's best pass rusher among down linemen although his production fell to four sacks from seven and one-half (1983) . . . With half of the Steelers' 47 sacks coming from linebackers last year, one key area of training camp emphasis will be rush from defensive front . . . Addition of No. 1 draft pick Darryl Sims should make position battle at end very intense . . . Had 25 tackles (22 solos) and a fumble recovery in 1984 . . . Began 10-game starting string vs. Los Angeles Rams (9/16) thru game at New Orleans (11/19) . . . Missed San Diego start, returned at Houston (12/2) and then played primarily in pass rush situations for balance of the regular season and playoffs . . . Great raw physical ability . . . Defensive coaches point to agility and speed (4.75) of linebacker coupled with lineman's size in talking about All Pro potential . . . 100 percent health and further development which can only come from experience are career keys . . . Spent offseason rehabilitating from arthroscopic knee surgery . . . In first Steeler season (1983), made one start vs. Cincinnati (12/4) . . . Seemed to struggle in initial NFL camp, but hit stride early in regular season . . . Finished with seven and one-half sacks, second behind Keith Willis . . . No. 1 draft choice (1981) . . . Elected to play two seasons with Montreal of CFL . . . Signed with Steelers on April 16, 1983 . . . Missed most of second CFL season (1982) with injuries . . . One of four defensive linemen drafted in first round under Chuck Noll (Joe Greene, Gabe Rivera, Sims) and the first drafted by Steelers in first round since Greene (1969).

COLLEGE: Two-year starter after transferring from Ferrum (Va.) Junior College where he played linebacker on national championship team . . . Second team All Big Eight as senior and Big Eight Newcomer in 1979 . . . Played opposite John Goodman, now a Steeler teammate, at Oklahoma . . . As sophomore, lost finger tip in door accident which was successfully reattached . . . Excelled in Senior Bowl . . . Majored in Recreation.

PERSONAL: Single . . . Lives in Pittsburgh . . . Native of Bethesda, Maryland . . . Played one year of high school football at Chantilly High in Fairfax, Va. . . Stepfather was Army colonel stationed in Frankfurt, Germany during high school years . . . Wound up attending eight different schools from fifth grade to high school . . . PRO: Has put together two consecutive outstanding seasons and is firmly entrenched at left end . . . Major factor in club's defense against the run while seeing increased time in passing situations because of improvement as pass rusher . . . Began slowly in 1984, missing first two games because of groin injury . . . Played consistently well in remaining 14 regular season starts and in playoffs vs. Denver and Miami . . . Finished with 30 tackles (22 unassisted), two and one-half sacks, third among defensive linemen . . . Had best season and produced under heavy workload because of injuries to Keith Willis and Keith Gary . . . With addition of No. 1 draft pick Darryl Sims, defensive end position battle will be that much more competitive in 1985 . . . Steeler coaches point to his continued improvement as defensive plus as he enters the prime of his career . . . A starter at left end since 1982 when Chuck Noll called him "our most improved defensive player" . . . Started 13 games in 1983 although bothered by recurring knee problems resulting in offseason arthroscopic surgery . . . Made first career start in 1981 vs. Cleveland (10/11/81) at right end . . . Also started a game for Joe Greene at defensive tackle vs. Houston (10/26) that year . . . As rookie No. 2 draft choice (1980), had impressive preseason wiped out by knee injury at Dallas bringing injured reserve for the season . . . Career totals include eight sacks.

COLLEGE: Four-year letterman and two-year starter . . . Returned fumble for touchdown (58 yards) and recorded 15 of 20 career sacks as senior while earning All-Big East honors (1979) . . . CAREER TOTALS: 40-16

PRO: In first season as starter at right outside linebacker, his intelligent style of play and athletic skills brought important dimension to Steeler defense . . . Had what Chuck Noll termed "a great season" in new front-line created by Robin Cole's move inside . . . His 4.6 speed and raw ability put him in class with teammate Mike Merriweather in terms of big-play potential, a trademark of Steeler linebackers . . . Developed quickly, first in training camp and then as regular season unfolded . . . In preseason opener, ran 23 yards with fumble recovery for touchdown vs. Browns . . . In regular season, produced TD on 21 yard fumble return vs. Houston (11/4) and set up winning points in key victories at San Francisco (10/14) and vs. Cleveland (12/9) with 43 and 21-yard interception returns . . . Led linebackers in interceptions (3) . . . For nearly a month during middle of season, led team in tackles before finishing fifth with 85 (66 solos) . . . Missed part of San Diego win and next week at Houston (12/2) with ankle sprain . . . In Monday night game vs. Cincinnati (10/1), had 12 tackles and two sacks . . . The next week vs. Miami (10/7), had interception of Dan Marino . . . Also led team in fumble recoveries (2) and was third in sacks (5½) . . . With good health and continued development, has All Pro potential as he gains experience . . . A 'semi-regular' in 1983, but did not start . . . Played both outside linebacker positions as well as extra linebacker in certain schemes . . . Throughout early career, has made a big plays in crucial situations such as 14-yard interception return for TD at Houston (9/18/83) . . . Only other pro start before last season came at Seattle (11/28/82) in first visit to home area . . . Played all nine games that season but quad muscle pull cost him playoff experience vs. San Diego . . . Spent rookie season as No. 6 pick on injured reserve after concussion and hamstring pull in final preseason game . . . Has dedicated last few offseasons to strength program and built frame to 220 without sacrificing speed and quickness.

COLLEGE: Four-year letterman who began career as quarterback and later played strong safety before settling at linebacker . . . Converted to safety as freshman but wound up starting five games at linebacker later in same season . . . Started all 11 games as senior after knee injuries curtailed sophomore and junior seasons . . . Credited with 94 tackles (59 unassisted) as senior . . . Has Business degree.

PERSONAL: Married (Sue) . . . Long Beach, California native who grew up in Silverdale, Washington and played at Central Kitsap High . . . Makes home in Pittsburgh . . . Full name: Bryan Eric Hinkle.

PRO: Explosive talent . . . Consensus NFL Rookie of the Year who made major impact as receiver and punt returner as the best Steeler offensive rookie since Franco Harris (1972) . . . First Steeler rookie to be named to AFC Pro Bowl team since Harris . . . Only NFL player to score touchdown three different ways in 1984 — receiving, rushing and by punt return . . . His 45 receptions was first among AFC rookies, a Steeler rookie record and second in the league while his 860 yards led all rookie receivers . . . Totaled 1,587 All-Purpose yards to lead all NFL rookies . . . His 656 punt return yards established new NFL rookie record and fell 10 yards short of league mark, but was still the second highest total of all-time . . . Scored 11 touchdowns, tops among NFL rookies, tying Franco Harris' Steeler rookie record . . . His 12.4 punt return average was second in AFC . . . Rookie of Year honors included Pro Football Writers, UPI, Sporting News and Pro Football Weekly . . . First-team All-NFL accolades as punt returner included AP, Pro Football Writers, NEA and Pro Football Weekly while his All-Pro recognition as returner included Pro Football Writers . . . Named first-team All-AFC as punt returner by Pro Football Weekly . . . Additional rookie honors include NFL Offensive Rookie of Year by AP and Pro Football Weekly and NFL All-Rookie by UPI, Pro Football Writers, Pro Football Weekly and Football Digest . . . Burst onto scene in first regular season game, catching six passes for 183 yards and two touchdowns including an 80-yard scoring bomb from David Woodley vs. Kansas City (9/2) as reserve . . . Caught 14 passes in next four games as a starter before ankle injury vs. Cincinnati (10/1) caused him to miss key games with Miami and San Francisco . . . Played as backup in the next five weeks . . . At Indianapolis (10/21), his one catch was 62-yard TD strike . . . Returned to starting lineup vs. San Diego (11/25) and hauled in seven Mark Malone passes for 118 yards and a touchdown . . . Caught four touchdown passes in final five regular season games and returned punt 76 yards for another TD at New Orleans (11/19), the first punt return for a score by a Steeler since Lynn Swann (1974) . . . His punt return TD was longest in the AFC in 1984 . . . Caught 61-yard TD pass from Malone in 'must win' game vs. Cleveland (12/9) . . . In postseason, caught eight passes in two games to lead club including five vs. Denver (12/30) for 85 yards and crucial third quarter TD to tie score at 17-17 . . . Made determined run on TD, breaking three tackles . . . Four of nine TDs in first season came on receptions of 61 or more yards . . . Genuine threat as runner . . . Gained 71 yards on three reverse plays including 36-yard fourth quarter score at Cincinnati (11/11) to give Steelers the lead . . . 'Electricity' as punt returner, capable of breaking it each time he touches the football . . . Best game came at New Orleans with 128 yards and a TD on four returns (32.0) . . . Had 12 returns of 20 or more yards . . . His nine catches led team in preseason and provided glimpse of natural talents . . . The fastest Steeler along with Wayne Capers . . . Surprisingly strong player with all the athletic gifts of the great pro receivers including durability, concentration, acceleration and jumping ability . . . Will continue in risky role as punt returner because of dimension it brings and his like for the job . . . Handled three kickoff returns (24.3) subbing for Erenberg in playoffs vs. Denver . . . Third wide receiver drafted and 23rd player overall . . . Steelers rated him as top receiving prospect and one of the top five players available . . . On draft day, Chuck Noll said of Lipps: 'Has speed, size and strength and is the kind of receiver who can help us very soon!'

COLLEGE: Two-year starter and four-year letterman . . . Caught 91 career passes for 1,477 yards and eight touchdowns, second in school record book . . . Also returned 78 punts for 827 yards (10.6) . . . Led team in receiving as senior captain with 40 catches, 800 yards, five TDs (19.0) and four 100-yard games . . . CAREER TOTALS: 57-15

PRO: A significant defensive story last season . . . After three years as backup, stepped into void left by toe injury to perennial Pro Bowler Jack Lambert . . . Made 13 starts in regular season and both in postseason and distinguished himself on the field and as a leader . . . Improved markedly as season unfolded . . . With 86 tackles (63 solos), finished fourth in tackles . . . Also had sack . . . In postseason, was third in tackles (12) and led club with a pair of sacks . . . In first-ever start at Three Rivers Stadium vs. Rams (9/16), had 10 tackles as defense limited Eric Dickerson to 49 yards . . . The next week at Cleveland, played strong game, racking up 14 tackles . . . Hobbled at midseason with bad ankle suffered vs. Miami (10/7) . . . Did not start at San Francisco, but played extensively when Lambert had more problems . . . Started at Indianapolis (10/21) but missed next start vs. Atlanta with tender ankle before making final nine starts including postseason . . . Aggressive and emotional player . . . Always a key figure against the run . . . Has developed as pass defender . . . Even with Lambert's healthy return, will see his share of playing time on the inside . . . Very effective in short yardage situations . . . Prior to last season, his only two starts came at Seattle (10/13/83) and in 1982 Monday night opener at Dallas (9/13), both for Lambert . . . In game vs. Cowboys, had eight tackles and set up winning drive with fumble recovery . . . Coaches point to extensive experience in past two seasons and determination as reasons for improvement . . . Standout special teams performer throughout career . . . Developed quickly as No. 7 draft choice (1981), playing all 16 games, although his progress was limited by broken finger.

COLLEGE: Averaged 14.4 tackles per game in 33 games in career which began as nose guard . . . Consensus All-America as senior . . . Rewrote school records for total tackles (475) and unassisted tackles (287) . . . In game vs. Auburn, was credited with 21 tackles, two fumble recoveries and one interception . . . All-Southeastern Conference . . . Played in East-West game and Japan Bowl . . . Earned Sociology degree.

PERSONAL: Married (Denise) . . . Miami, Florida native who spent offseason in Pittsburgh . . . Played at Miami Jackson High School . . . Brother is former Miami Dolphins' guard Larry Little . . . Full name: David Lamar Little.

HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (4th in '84)

NFL EXP.—2

GAMES PLAYED-STARTED—'84 (12-7)

PRO: Coming off productive rookie season as key contributor . . . Battled injuries, transition to pro game and competition from Blake Wingle to earn seven regular season starts and two in postseason . . . Comes to training camp as No. 1 right guard after strong late season performances in starting role . . . Dominating run blocker, especially as pulling guard, who improved steadily as pass blocker . . . Missed most of training camp with bruised heart, a freak injury which limited his playing time to reserve role in final preseason game . . . Thrust into starting job at left guard in regular season opener one week later vs. Kansas City (9/2) after injury to Craig Wolfley in warmups . . . First start at right guard came vs. Cincinnati (10/1) . . . Made three starts in a row before sprained left knee at San Francisco (10/14) cost him three games . . . Played both right and left guard at Cincinnati (11/11) and returned to starting lineup at New Orleans (11/19), but missed San Diego game (11/25) with thigh problem . . . His fourth round draft status was considered something of a gamble because of height (5-11), but his athletic tools and techniques fit nicely into Steeler guard schemes . . . Intense and extremely strong player . . . Agile for size with surprising speed and quickness . . . Coaches expect major strides in second pro season with the potential of becoming a fixture upfront . . . Dedicated, year-round conditioner and avid weight lifter . . . One of seven players — four starters — obtained with extra draft picks . . . Also one of nine rookies to start at least one pro game in initial season . . . Only RB Rich Erenberg (9), TE Darrell Nelson (9) and WR-KR Louis Lipps (8) had more starts.

COLLEGE: Three-year starter and senior All-America by AP, Walter Camp and Football Coaches . . . Began career (1980) as nose tackle before being moved to guard in preseason . . . Named team's most improved offensive player . . . Called college football's strongest player, a title he won at North Carolina Powerlifting Championships when he compiled a 2,203 pound three-lift total to win super heavyweight division . . . Squats 837, benches 501 and deadlifts 865 . . . Physical Education major.

PERSONAL: Married (Pythia) . . . Columbia, South Carolina native who now lives in Pittsburgh . . . Played one season as 160-pound nose guard at Eau Claire (S.C.) High School . . . Joined 82nd Airborne Division of Army's Special Forces after high school and made more than 60 parachute jumps . . . Played two seasons of service football and was named best lineman at Fort Bragg (N.C.) . . . Began weight training in military . . . Decided not to participate in 1984 Olympic Trials to play senior football season . . . Now plays at 272 and has 54-inch chest, 40-inch waist, 30-inch thighs, 21-inch arms and 20-inch neck . . . Full name: Terry Luther Long.

HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (1st in '80)

NFL EXP.—6

GAMES PLAYED-STARTED—'80 (1-0), '81 (8-3), '82 (0-0), '83 (2-0), '84 (13-9)

CAREER TOTALS: 24-12

PRO: For first time in six seasons, comes to training camp as No. 1 quarterback, a role he earned with his 13 game starting performance, including postseason, in 1984 . . . Still faces competition to retain job from David Woodley, who won starting job a year ago, and second-year prospect Scott Campbell . . . Started last 10 consecutive games last year including playoffs . . . Finished ninth in AFC as passer with 73.4 rating . . . Led all pro quarterbacks with 14.66 per completion average . . . One key statistic was his 7-4 won-loss record as a starter . . . Sparked Steelers' 20-17 win at San Francisco (10/14), the only loss for the Super Bowl champions, in first start since 1981 . . . Completed 11 of 18 passes for 156 yards . . . Led offense on crucial 15-play, 83-yard fourth quarter drive which brought team from behind to tie (17-17) on six-yard touchdown toss to John Stallworth . . . Relieved an injured Woodley the next week at Indianapolis (10/21) and started remaining games . . . Broke Terry Bradshaw's team completion percentage record with an 18 of 22 performance (81.8%), four touchdowns vs. San Diego (11/25) and a career high 253 yards . . . Also added a TD rushing . . . Threw 15 of 16 touchdown passes as a starter including three in wins over Atlanta (10/28) and Houston (11/4) . . . With Malone at helm, Steeler offense averaged 163 yards rushing per game and balanced that with effective passing . . . Completed 56.7% of passes in his starts . . . In postseason, shook off sluggish start at Denver (12/30) in AFC Playoffs, throwing for 224 yards (17 of 28) in 24-17 win . . . The next week at Miami (1/6) in AFC Championship loss, completed 20 of 36 for 312 yards and three touchdowns, two to John Stallworth, including a 65-yard second quarter bomb . . . Intelligent player who earned confidence of his teammates with performances and preparation . . . Coaches feel determination and countless extra hours of film study are important factors in his development . . . Has strong arm and size . . . Must improve his accuracy, ability to avoid the rush and make quicker decisions which will come with more experience . . . His 14 games in 1984 were more than he played in his four previous seasons combined . . . His 12 games of starting experience count nine in regular season last year, three in 1981 and one at wide receiver (1981) . . . Began last year in tight camp battle with Woodley . . . Split preseason starts and playing time . . . Failed to throw TD pass in preseason but allowed four interceptions . . . Subbed for injured Woodley in opener vs. Kansas City and threw for 223 yards (11 of 24) . . . Stepped into similar situation in first quarter vs. Miami (10/7) and attempted career high 42 passes, completing 19 for 228 yards . . . As reserve at Indianapolis, hit on two of three including 59-yard 'alley-oop' to Weegie Thompson in closing seconds of 17-16 loss . . . Did not run as much in 1984 as in past seasons, a career tendency after major knee surgery in 1981 offseason caused him to miss all of 1982 . . . Spent most of season on Physically Unable to Perform list after having right knee reconstructed (February, 1982) . . . Played in two games in 1983 and last two series of 38-10 playoff loss to Los Angeles Raiders behind Cliff Stoudt . . . Prior to last year, had best playing opportunity in 1981 . . . Played last eight games, one as receiver, and seven at quarterback . . . Started final two regular season games for injured Bradshaw . . . Forced into Monday night game at Oakland (12/7) with team needing win to maintain playoff hopes . . . Completed 17 of 27 passes for 244 yards, two touchdowns and ran for a third as Steelers came-from-behind twice before losing, 30-27 . . . First pro start came as receiver at Seattle (11/8/81) and caught 90-yard touchdown pass from Bradshaw, the longest pass play in club history . . . Original knee problems traced to 1981 preseason . . . As No. 1 draft pick (1980), first game action came in finale at San Diego as receiver . . . Second quarterback drafted in 1980 after Raiders' Marc Wilson and the first quarterback selected in the first round by the Steelers since Bradshaw (1970) . . . 28th player chosen that year.

COLLEGE: Two-year starter who completed 250 of 320 passes for 3,388 yards and 26 touchdowns in option oriented offense . . . Rushed 302 times for 1,344 yards (4.5) and 21 touchdowns . . . Fifth in all-time school records . . . Rushed for 12 TDs and threw for 10 as senior MVP (1979) . . . Ran 98 yards for a score in senior game vs. Utah State . . . Senior Bowl MVP . . . Played in Hula Bowl . . . Industrial Education major.

GAMES PLAYED-STARTED—'82 (9-0), '83 (16-16), '84 (16-16)
CAREER TOTALS: 41-32

PRO: Great young linebacking talent who burst onto NFL scene last year with Pro Bowl season in only his second season as a starter . . . Set Steeler record with 15 sacks — third in AFC, fifth in NFL — breaking Keith Willis' mark (14) . . . Led team in tackles with 98 including 69 unassisted, two interceptions and a fumble recovery . . . Devastating on blitz with speed (4.55), size and range to make plays all over the field . . . Defensive coordinator Tony Dungy rates him 'the best athlete on the team' and a linebacker with the 'playing skills in the mold of a Lawrence Taylor' . . . His development from first to second season as a starter was 'dramatic' in eyes of Steeler coaches, particularly in consistency of play . . . Accounted for three sacks in a game three times in 1984 vs. Cincinnati (10/1), at Indianapolis (10/21) and at New Orleans (11/19) . . . Added another sack in key situation at Denver (12/30) in AFC Playoff win . . . Had interceptions vs. San Diego (11/25) and vs. Cleveland (12/9) . . . Intense and very determined player . . . Has not missed a game in first three pro seasons, a trait he attributes to year-round conditioning program . . . Filled critical void left by perennial All Pro Jack Ham in first year as full-time starter (1983) . . . Finished second in tackles behind Jack Lambert . . . Led linebackers in interceptions (3), two in key win vs. Cleveland, including 31-yard interception return for touchdown . . . Began 1983 training camp as starter following switch from right outside linebacker spot despite no previous starting experience . . . As No. 3 draft choice (1982), saw more playing time

MERRIWEATHER 'SACKS' TEAM MARK

Linebacker Mike Merriweather, a third-round draft choice from Pacific in 1982, racked up 15 sacks in 1984 to set a Steeler single season record held by Keith Willis (14 in 1983).

In his second season as a starter in 1984, Merriweather led the team in tackles (98) and was voted to his first Pro Bowl. His 15 sacks ranked third in the AFC behind leader Mark Gastineau (22) of the New York Jets and New England's Andre Tippett (18.5) and fifth in the NFL.

than any rookie linebacker since Lambert (1974) as reserve and as replacement for Ham in passing situations . . . While playing all 16 games, provided glimpse of his abilities as special teams standout.

COLLEGE: Four-year starter . . . Two-time All Pacific Coast player who accounted for 312 career tackles (150 solos), 19 sacks and five interceptions . . . As senior, was runnerup in PCAA Defensive Player of Year voting . . . Second team NEA All-America . . . Chose Outstanding Defensive Player, Most Loyal and Most Inspirational by teammates (1981) . . . Played in East-West game and Olympia Gold Bowl . . . Has History degree.

PERSONAL: Single . . . Steeler 1985 nominee for Frito-Lay 'Crunchman of Year' . . . MVP and senior captain at Vallejo (Ca.) as tight end and linebacker . . . Interested in pursuing master's in Sociology and counseling disadvantaged youth . . . Conditioning program involves offseason work with University of Pacific football team . . . Albans, New York native . . . Full name: Michael Lamar Merriweather.

PRO: One of the NFL's most underrated running backs who is coming off his best season . . . Led Steelers in rushing with 851 yards on 213 attempts and six touchdowns, all career highs for the former No. 11 draft choice . . . Ranked sixth in the AFC and 15th in the league . . . Stepped into huge void left by future Hall of Famer Franco Harris and finished 1984 as club's highest ranking runner since Harris was fourth in 1979 . . . In five seasons, has climbed to eighth on club's all-time rushing list with 2,283 yards . . . Could move as high as fifth in 1985 . . . Needs 430 yards to pass Tom Tracy (2,712), 660 to pass Frenchy Fuqua (2,942) and 989 to pass Fran Rogel (3,271) for fifth . . . Produced first two career 100-yard games — at San Francisco (10/14) as prime Steeler catalyst in 49ers' only loss and vs. Atlanta (10/28) . . . Piled up 105 yards on career high 24 rushing attempts vs. 49ers and then rewrote career yardage mark with 111 yards vs. Atlanta on 14 carries (7.9) including 52-yard run, the longest by a Steeler running back since 1979 . . . Also caught 21 passes for 186 yards, both career bests . . . In AFC Playoff victory at Denver (12/30), led punishing running attack with postseason career high 99 yards (6.2) and two touchdowns . . . Scored winning touchdown on final carry of day in critical third-and-goal situation from two-yard line with careening plunge after being hit at line of scrimmage . . . With full-time status and experience at both halfback and fullback, is focal point of Steeler rushing attack as runner as well as blocker . . . Struggled early in 1984 . . . Had only 75 yards in first three games and missed the fourth at Cleveland (9/23) with ankle problems . . . In final 12 weeks, racked up 776 yards, averaging 15-plus carries per game (4.3) and grabbed 15 of 21 passes including career high five against Browns (12/9) . . . Teams with a healthy Walter Abercrombie to give club potent inside-outside punch . . . Played strong game vs. Los Angeles Raiders (12/16) as Steelers clinched playoff berth . . . Had 53 yards on 10 carries at halftime . . . His second half blocks led way for Abercrombie's career high 111 yards . . . Punishing runner who first earned starting job in 1981, replacing Sidney Thornton at Miami (9/10) . . . Finished second in rushing to Harris in 1982 as a nine-game starter at halfback . . . In 1983, despite backup status, rushed for career high 608 yards, the most by any NFL non-starter . . . Produced in key situations including 90 yard effort at Green Bay (9/11) . . . Accounted for 80 yards in important win at Baltimore (11/13) . . . Later in season, earned starting job opposite Harris, a role he held thru playoffs and loss to Raiders . . . A long-shot rookie (1980), played all 16 games, primarily on special teams, and as kickoff returner for injured Larry Anderson . . . Handled football from scrimmage only four times in initial NFL season . . . His diligent work to improve receiving skills has paid off as reflected in statistics last two seasons . . . Still looking for first career touchdown receiving . . . Began career as #44 before switching to #30 (1983), his collegiate number . . . Steeler scouts followed his development during Baylor visits to see former No. 1 choice Greg Hawthorne.

COLLEGE: Three-year letterman and two-year starter . . . Accounted for 998 career yards on 221 carries (4.8), but missed most of senior season because of broken jaw . . . Rushed 31 times for 148 yards as junior vs. Houston . . . Majored in Health and Physical Education.

GAMES PLAYED-STARTED—'83 (0-0), '84 (8-2)

CAREER TOTALS—8-2

PRO: A remarkable Steeler story in 1984 and a most pleasant surprise on a roster dominated by young players . . . With injuries ravaging offensive tackle position late in the season, this untested converted defensive end stepped into huge void and played strong games vs. Cleveland (12/9), the Los Angeles Raiders (12/16) and in the playoff vs. Denver (12/30) and Miami (1/6) . . . Originally signed as free agent defensive end in 1983, but was switched to tackle as rookie . . . Before any measurements could be made, suffered knee sprain and spent season on reserve . . . After diligent offseason program, injury to same knee brought injured reserve again last year (8/14) . . . Activated (10/24) after clearing waivers and played sparingly as reserve in next five games . . . Was pressed into service at Houston (12/2) after Ray Snell's injury and then started remaining games . . . His performance in 'must win' game vs. Raiders and in playoffs makes him important figure in offensive line future . . . Very determined young player . . . Has excellent size potential and solid physical tools, particularly speed, quickness and strength . . . Had offseason arthroscopic surgery and worked even harder preparing for coming season . . . Still must avoid injury problems and gain considerable additional experience at position he never played under game conditions until late last season.

COLLEGE: Three-year starter . . . Played both defensive end and tackle . . . Totaled 110 career tackles . . . In one senior game vs. Rhode Island (1982), had 15 tackles and scored eight points after returning a blocked punt and recording a safety . . . PRO: Bounced back from back problems which meant injured reserve status as a rookie No. 3 draft choice to play all 16 games in 1984, primarily on special teams and in short yardage situations . . . Physically talented young linebacker in need of more front-line experience at one of the club's strongest defensive positions . . . Addition of three draft choices at linebacker will make training camp battle for backup jobs a closely monitored competition . . . Spent last season playing behind Bryan Hinkle at right outside linebacker . . . Accounted for 16 tackles, 12 unassisted . . . With continued development, could answer need for backup help at linebacker . . . His special teams' performance will be key factor in fight for roster spot . . . Has good size, speed and range for linebacker position . . . Caught eye of team coaches and scouts at BLESTO trials with 4.7 speed and dexterity in pass coverage situations.

COLLEGE: Two-year starter at linebacker . . . Transferred from Ventura Junior College where he began as quarterback . . . Had 53 tackles (31 solos) as senior and 66 as junior . . . In one season as JC linebacker earned all-conference honors . . . Worked toward Business degree in offseason.

CAREER TOTALS: 157-117

PRO: Coming off one of the best seasons of a standout career . . . Played All Pro calibre football, particularly late in the year, but did not make Pro Bowl . . . For fourth time in last five years, led team in interceptions with seven, tying a career high, including two each in 'must win' games at end of 1984 vs. Cleveland (12/9) and at Los Angeles Raiders (12/16) . . . With 43 career interceptions, the five-time Pro Bowler (1979-83), leads all active NFL players and is third in Steeler records behind Mel Blount (57) and Jack Butler (52) . . . Ranks fifth among all-time strong safeties and needs seven to take the lead — Ken Houston (49), Richie Petitbon (48), Jack Christiansen (46) and Goose Gonsoulin (46) . . . Finished second in tackles (96) in 1984, two behind team leader Mike Merriweather . . . His tackle totals counted 71 unassisted, the most by any Steeler defensive player . . . Actually produced two interceptions in three games starting with Cincinnati (10/1) . . . In that game, returned a Turk Schonert fourth quarter pass 52 yards for his first career touchdown . . . One of his two interceptions vs. Browns in second meeting was end zone grab to stop scoring threat . . . Steelers converted turnover into 80-yard touchdown drive to take early lead . . . Against the Raiders in final week, his leaping interception of Mark Wilson in end zone stopped second quarter threat with club holding 3-0 lead . . . Second interception came in final three minutes of game off Jim Plunkett to stop last ditch drive and clinch 13-7 victory and playoff spot . . . Continued stellar performances in playoffs with AFC Championship game interception of Dan Marino in second quarter . . . At 33, the oldest Steeler, 'dean' of the secondary and a defensive captain, who dispelled any concern with on-field production which bolstered his rank among NFL's elite strong safeties . . . Made every start last year for sixth time in eight years since gaining starting status (1977) . . . Has missed only four career games in 11 pro seasons . . . As a starter, his durability is best depicted by playing in 115 of 119 regular season and all 11 postseason games . . . Shared 1983 team interception lead (5) with Rick Woods and was third in tackles . . . In 1982, again shared interception lead (5) with MVP Dwayne Woodruff and was second behind Jack Lambert in tackles . . . Had two interceptions in consecutive games vs. Cincinnati (9/19) in overtime win and at Houston (11/21) following strike . . . In 1981 win at Cleveland, intercepted three Brian Sipe passes, a career high . . . He is only Steeler to intercept three passes in a game since 1973 . . . Missed two starts that season with hamstring injury to break 60 game streak . . . Named MVP by teammates and earned more All NFL votes than any other strong safety in 1980 . . . Had seven interceptions and saved three wins . . . Stopped late Baltimore drive with interception at five yard line . . . Three weeks later, repeated that feat with

SHELL LEADS ACTIVE INTERCEPTORS

Donnie Shell, now in his 12th NFL season, leads all active NFL players with 43 career interceptions including seven last year when he led the Steelers for the fourth time in the last five years. Shell is fifth among all-time strong safeties and needs seven to take the lead.

Other active interception leaders include Denver's Steve Foley (39) and former Steeler Dave Brown, now with Seattle (39), the Raiders' Mike Haynes (35), John Harris of Seattle (34), Miami's Lyle Blackwood (33), Lester Hayes of the Raiders (33), Cleveland's Rod Perry (30) and Philadelphia's Herman Edwards (30).

interception of Minnesota's Tommy Kramer at seven-yard line with 24 seconds remaining . . . At Tampa Bay later in season, intercepted fourth quarter pass inside the 10 to preserve lead . . . Started the 1980 season with interception and 67 yard return vs. Houston, the longest of his career . . . All NFL-honors included AP, Pro Football Writers, Pro Football Weekly and Football News . . . CAREER TOTALS: 59-41

PRO: Came to Steelers in exchange for Steve Courson (7/30/84) . . . A former No. 1 draft choice by Tampa Bay (1980), must prove himself in second Steeler training camp . . . Capable athlete who wrestled with nagging injuries throughout camp and most of last season . . . Missed opener with groin problems . . . Played as reserve at left and right tackle for much of early season . . . Also practiced as backup guard . . . Made first Steeler start vs. Atlanta (10/28) at tackle and received game ball from teammates . . . Started next five games before sprained knee at Houston (12/2) ended his season . . . Relegated to injured reserve (1/4/85) when Jack Lambert was activated . . . In Tampa Bay, had played 45 career games with 34 starts at guard — 27 at left guard, seven at right guard — and one at left tackle . . . Steeler coaches consider him a tackle prospect although he will receive camp work at guard . . . Has size and athletic skills to be dependable lineman . . . Off-season strength work and training camp performance will be keys to his role this season . . . Started 11 games in rookie year and won first team All-Rookie honors (UPI) and by Pro Football Writers . . . Was messenger guard for most of 1981 and played briefly at tackle . . . Won starting job in 1982, but sprained knee in opener brought injured reserve . . . Regained starting status at right guard following strike . . . Started six of 10 games played in 1983 when wrist and knee problems hampered his play . . . In 1984 prior to trade, was part of position battle at right guard opposite top pick Sean Farrell . . . 22nd player draft in first round of 1980 . . . One of three veterans — two offensive tackles — obtained in trade by Chuck Noll last season.

COLLEGE: Four-year letterman, three-year starter and first team All-America as senior (1979) . . . Near unanimous All-Big Ten pick that season and Wisconsin's co-Offensive Player of the Year . . . Played both tackle spots, guard and tight end during career . . . Played every game as a junior and senior . . . Was spot starter as sophomore . . . Won Alan Ameche Award for mental and physical toughness (1979) . . . Played in Senior and Hula Bowls . . . Physical Education major.

PERSONAL: Lives in Tampa, Florida with sons Ray, Jr. (4/12/81) and Shannon (4/27/82) . . . Baltimore, Maryland native who was all-conference, all-state and All-America tackle and three-time letterman in shot put and discus at Northwestern High . . . Has developed into low handicap golfer . . . Studied clarinet for 10 years and once played in Baltimore Colts Marching Band . . . Full name: Ray Michael Snell.

CAREER TOTALS: 126-107

PRO: NFL Comeback Player of the Year . . . Turned a season which began as a question mark into the best year of his productive 11-year career, earned a Pro Bowl trip for the third time and rewrote the Steeler receiving record book . . . Caught 80 passes for 1,395 yards, both team records and career highs, and scored 11 touchdowns . . . His catches were second in the AFC, fourth in the NFL . . . Led AFC in receiving yards and was second in the league behind St. Louis' Roy Greene (1,555) . . . His 1,395 yards was the third highest total since the pro football merger (1970) . . . A career high seven 100-yard as a starter in every game established seven new team standards for single season catches, yards, career catches (387), yards (6,799), most touchdowns (55), most 1,000-yard seasons (3) and most 100-yard games (27), 22 in regular season . . . Carried spectacular season into playoffs catching seven passes for 149 yards (21.3) including four for 111 and two TDs in AFC Championship at Miami (1/6) . . . Holds all-time NFL record for most postseason touchdown receptions (12) and most 100-yard games (5) . . . Has another NFL mark with a touchdown catch in eight straight postseason games, a string interrupted at Denver, but started again vs. Miami . . . Has caught a TD pass in 15 of 17 postseason games (last 15 in row) . . . Honored by Pro Football Weekly as NFL Comeback Player of the Year . . . Teamed with No. 1 pick Louis Lipps to give Steelers one of the league's most potent receiving tandems . . . In regular season opener vs. Kansas City (9/2), set tone for 1984 with eight catches for career high 167 yards and a touchdown . . . As season unfolded, caught three or more passes in 15 of 16 games including six catches in a game five times . . . Passed Lynn Swann's club mark for receiving yards in first game and eclipsed his receptions record (336) vs. Miami (10/7) . . . Produced 100-yard games vs. Rams (100), Cincinnati (119), at Indianapolis (101), Houston (109), San Diego (116) and at Houston (113) . . . Caught three touchdown passes vs. Houston (11/4), a career high, and then repeated feat vs. San Diego, passing Swann's record (51) in that game . . . Played key role in development of inexperienced starters Mark Malone and Lipps . . . His health and prolific numbers were dramatic turnaround from 1983 when he played four games, never more than one in a row . . . Caught eight passes for 100 yards and for the first time in his career failed to catch a touchdown pass . . . Battled nagging injuries, spending four weeks on reserve with hamstring pull and missing six games at end of regular season with ankle problems . . . Returned for playoff loss to Los Angeles Raiders (1/1), catching 58-yard TD pass . . . Voted to second Pro Bowl in 1982 after catching 27 passes in nine games

... Had seven TDs, second in AFC and third in NFL ... Hauled in 74-yard scoring vs. Kansas City (12/5), the longest pass play of his career ... In playoff loss to San Diego, caught eight for 116 yards and a TD ... Saw his team record of a pass reception in 67 consecutive games, a streak dating back to Houston (10/9/77), broken at Buffalo (12/12) ... Enjoyed one of the most productive and rewarding seasons of his career in 1981 with 63 catches for 1,098 yards and five touchdowns ... It was a comeback year following 1980 when leg injuries cost him all but three games ... Set career highs with eight catches against New York Jets in 1981 and in yards (158) at New Orleans ... Prior to 1984, his best NFL season was 1979 when he caught a team record 70 passes for 1,183 yards and eight TDs ... It was the second most receiving yards in Steeler history ... Named to first Pro Bowl after catching at least five passes in 11 of 16 games and producing three 100-yard games ... Made three key receptions to provide winning edge in Super Bowl XIV vs. Los Angeles Rams ... Gave Steelers the lead with 73-yard TD reception and then made sensational over-the-shoulder play between three defenders to set up clinching score ... In three postseason appearances, caught 12 passes for 259 yards (21.9) and three touchdowns ... Excelled in 1978 postseason, catching 14 for 228 and four touchdowns ... Rewrote AFC record book with 10 catches for 156 yards vs. Denver and then caught three passes for 115 yards including a 75-yard TD in first half of Super Bowl XIII vs. Dallas before being sidelined by injuries ... Became full-time starter in 1977 after splitting time with Frank Lewis ... In 1975, as part-time player, averaged 21.2 per reception to share NFL lead with Isaac Curtis ... Career totals include six catches 16 times and seven catches five times ... Still holds Super Bowl records for career average per catch (24.4) and single game average (40.3) vs. Rams ... He also shares Super Bowl mark for most career TDs (3) with Lynn Swann and Cliff Branch and single game mark (2) with five different players ... One of only three Steeler receivers to reach 1,000-yard plateau — Roy Jefferson and Buddy Dial ... Has caught two TD passes in a game 10 times, eight in regular season ... Since becoming full-time starter, games in 1984 also led all NFL receivers ... Record-breaking performances has averaged 43 catches, 750 yards and six touchdowns per season despite playing a total of only seven games in 1980 and 1983 ... Against AFC Central opponents, has been particularly effective with 141 career receptions, 2,525 yards (17.9) and 21 TDs ... Has 50 catches against both Houston and Cincinnati and 41 vs. Cleveland with 21 touchdowns — nine vs. Oilers, eight vs. Browns and four vs. Bengals ... Has great size, acceleration and knack for making tough catches ... Accomplished leaper known for acrobatic grabs ... Effective runner after the catch with ability to break tackles and turn high percentage catch into long gainer ... A member of the talent rich 1974 draft class and one of three Steelers remaining from the four Super Bowl championship teams ... Obtained with extra draft choice from New England for DB Ralph Anderson ... One of the most productive No. 4 draft picks in modern history.

COLLEGE: Caught 103 passes during career including 48 for 925 yards and seven touchdowns as a senior ... Career highs included 10 catches vs. small college champion Tennessee State and 261 yards vs. Fisk ... Had Alabama A & M jersey retired ... Two-time All-Southern Intercollegiate Conference ... Played in Senior Bowl ... Has Business degree and master's in Business Administration with concentration in Finance.

PERSONAL: Married (Flo), daughter Natasha (4/3/79) and son John, Jr. (10/13/75) ... Tuscaloosa, Alabama native who now lives in Brownsboro, Al., near Huntsville where he has real estate development company ... (15-0), '81 (14-0), '82 (7-1), '83 (16-16), '84 (9-1)

CAREER TOTALS: 61-18

PRO: The Steelers' top receiver two years ago, but a part-time player last season with the return of a healthy John Stallworth and the emergence of rookies Louis Lipps and Weegie Thompson . . . Will be part of training camp dogfight for roster spot at one of club's deepest and most talented positions . . . Started opener vs. Kansas City (9/2) and had only two receptions in regular season . . . Pulled hamstring vs. Chiefs meant injured reserve (9/4) . . . Activated (10/19) after missing six games and played primarily on special teams . . . Later in the season, split third wide receiver role with Thompson . . . Caught three passes for 42 yards in AFC Championship game, his best performance of 1984 . . . Had solid preseason as returning starter, catching six passes including 84-yard touchdown pass vs. Philadelphia . . . Stepped into big void left by Lynn Swann's retirement and Stallworth's injury problems in 1983 to catch team leading 39 passes as 16-game starter . . . Was top touchdown producer (5) among receivers . . . Started fast with 11 receptions in first four games . . . Struggled with hip pointer but was only receiver to make every start . . . His 104 yards on six catches at Baltimore (11/13) were career highs . . . Also caught two touchdown passes in a game vs. New York Jets (12/10) . . . His 42 yard catch vs. Colts was longest of career . . . Also had 40-yard scoring catch vs. Cleveland (10/16) . . . Prior to 1983, only career start came vs. Cincinnati (9/19/82) . . . Responded with four catches for 33 yards in overtime victory . . . Capable receiver with good speed . . . Had 20.3 per catch average in first two seasons, but was used sparingly . . . Former No. 4 draft pick (1979) . . . Spent rookie season on injured reserve with unhealed foot fracture . . . Waived on final cut (1980), but re-signed (9/9) prior to second game . . . Five days later at Baltimore, caught key 22-yard third down pass to set up winning score . . . In next game at Cincinnati, helped rally Steelers with three receptions for 71 yards including last minute catch to set up 51-yard field goal attempt in 30-28 loss . . . Blocked Tampa Bay punt (11/9/80) for touchdown and received game ball . . . Caught Terry Bradshaw's last touchdown pass vs. Jets (12/10/83), a 10-yarder in victory which clinched playoff berth.

COLLEGE: Two-year starter and team leader as senior with 32 catches, 664 yards and two touchdowns . . . Career numbers include 65 receptions and eight touchdowns (18.6) . . . PRO: Won starting job at right cornerback last year filling void left by retirement of 14-year veteran Mel Blount . . . Comes to training camp in 1985 locked in battle for starting job again, this time with former No. 6 pick Chris Brown . . . Overcame questions about size and free agent status with solid camp and sensational early season in 1984 . . . Intercepted six passes in first five games and returned two for touchdowns . . . String included interceptions in four straight games and two each in back-to-back games at New York Jets (9/6) and vs. Los Angeles Rams (9/16) . . . Picked off Vince Ferragamo pass in end zone to stop one Ram threat and then returned second interception 12 yards for touchdown . . . The next week at Cleveland (9/23), returned Paul McDonald pass 69-yards for TD, the longest Steeler return of the season . . . Named AFC Defensive Player of the Week two consecutive weeks (Jets, Rams) . . . Held NFL interception lead thru most of early season, but did not grab opponent pass in last 11 games after Cincinnati game (10/1) . . . His four game streak fell short of Blount's six-game team mark . . . Sprained ankle at Cincinnati (11/11) cost him games at New Orleans (11/19) and vs. San Diego (11/25) when Brown started . . . Had 64 tackles (56 solos) in first season as starter, seventh on team and third in secondary . . . Opportunistic player with knack for reacting to the football . . . Began 1984 camp by switching from left cornerback to the right side and a position fight he won against Harvey Clayton . . . Made all four preseason starts . . . Before last season, had only one game of starting experience — at Houston (9/18/83) . . . Played mainly on special teams that season . . . As rookie free agent (1982), spent bulk of season on injured reserve with sprained right knee . . . Activated for final three regular season games and playoffs.

PRO: Coming off one of the best seasons of a stellar 11-year career . . . Made the Pro Bowl for the seventh consecutive season and joined New England's John Hannah as the only two NFL offensive linemen to make the game in that span . . . One of the league's elite centers and a Steeler leader who played a very critical role in 1984 on one of Chuck Noll's youngest teams and in an offensive front riddled with injuries . . . One of only two linemen (Tunch Ilkin) to start every game last year and the only lineman to play in every game the last two seasons . . . Has never missed a pro game . . . Carries a 180 consecutive game string including postseason into 1985 . . . His streak counts 161 straight regular season games, sixth longest among active NFL players and third longest in Steeler history . . . Since gaining full-time status in 1977, has started 137 straight games . . . Has not missed an offensive play in his last five regular seasons . . . At 33, now plays lighter (250) than he did earlier in his career . . . Says lighter weight and continued work on strength makes him quicker and more efficient . . . Played key role in development of running attack, particularly late in the season . . . Invaluable contributor to the careers of people around him such as Craig Wolfley, Tunch Ilkin, Emil Boures, Terry Long and Blake Wingle . . . Flawless pass blocker in patched together offensive line which permitted only 35 sacks, third lowest in AFC . . . Excels against nose tackles in 3-4 scheme . . . A starter in first five Pro Bowls and the last two has played behind Miami's Dwight Stephenson . . . Began career as 225 pound No. 5 draft choice, playing behind Ray Mansfield and on special teams . . . Named All Rookie after playing all 14 games . . . In second season (1975), split time with Mansfield, playing second and fourth quarters . . . Also worked at guard early in career . . . Started six times there in 1976 and twice at center . . . His strong play earned him starting job in AFC Playoffs vs. Baltimore and Oakland . . . In second season as full-time starter (1978), was voted to first Pro Bowl as the second Steeler lineman to start in the game and only the third to play . . . In 1982, helped write another milestone when he and Larry Brown both won Pro Bowl honors, the first time since 1961 that two Steelers made the prestigious game . . . Now in sixth season as offensive captain . . . First named to honor with Jack Lambert in 1980 . . . Dedicated year-round conditioner . . . Considered the team's strongest player by teammates along with Terry Long . . . Has used Steeler strength program to build himself throughout career . . . Won NFL Strongman competition (1980) . . . Handled snaps on both punts and placements exclusively until Randy Rasmussen took over the punting role in 1984 . . . One of only three remaining Steelers to play in all four Super Bowls and one of two remaining from talented 1974 draft class — John Stallworth.

COLLEGE: Three-year starter . . . MVP, All-Big Ten and tri-captain in senior season . . . Played in East-West, Hula and Senior Bowls . . . Also played in Coaches All-America game . . . Physical Education major.

PERSONAL: Married (Pamela) . . . Daughter Brooke (12/11/76) and sons Colin (3/3/79) and Garrett (3/15/84) . . . Lives in McMurray, Pa. . . PRO: A cinderella defensive story last season who turned week-to-week improvement into a bright future in the Steeler secondary . . . Comes to training camp firmly entrenched at free safety, the exact opposite situation from a year ago . . . Began 1984 as little known backup to Rick Woods and was slowed by sprained right knee in first week of camp . . . Bounced back to start final preseason game, but when regular season opened, was reserve and special teams player . . . Made first pro start in Monday night win over Cincinnati (10/1) and went on to make every remaining regular season start as well as playoffs . . . Talented young prospect who seemed to blossom with playing time . . . Had interceptions at Indianapolis (10/21), San Diego (11/25) and at Houston (12/2) . . . Made one of the biggest defensive plays of the season at Denver (12/30) with 28 yard interception return to Broncos' two-yard-line to set up winning points in AFC Playoff game . . . Had 41 tackles (29 solos), 10th on the team and fourth among defensive backs . . . Also had two quarterback sacks . . . Consistent and intelligent player who coaches feel could develop into interception leader because of great hands and range . . . Had strong preseason as rookie No. 6 draft pick . . . Played on coverage teams in first three games of 1983 . . . Suffered severely sprained foot at Houston (9/18), an injury which took nearly a year to rehabilitate.

COLLEGE: Four-year letterman, three-year starter at free safety . . . All-Atlantic Coast Conference as senior . . . Led ACC in interceptions (7) as a junior . . . Totaled 16 career interceptions, two short of school record . . . Missed entire 1980 season with broken ankle which required surgery . . . Played in East-West game . . . PRO: After establishing new team single season sack mark (14) in 1983, battled toe and knee problems through much of last season . . . His two starts came in opening weeks of regular season while sack production fell to five, fourth on team and second among linemen behind Edmund Nelson (7) . . . Could be key figure in improvement of Steeler pass rush which relied on linebackers for half of 47 sacks . . . Begins 1985 behind John Goodman at left end . . . His nagging injuries and Keith Gary's knee problems dealt double blow to defensive front . . . Began 1984 preseason in peak form with three sacks in first two games and shared preseason sack lead with Goodman (3) . . . Primarily a situational player although his performance early in 1984 warranted a starting assignment . . . A major defensive surprise in 1983 when his 14 sacks in 'non-starting' role broke Ernie Holmes' 10-year-old record (11½) . . . Racked up sacks in five straight games including three and one-half at Seattle (10/23) . . . Ranked among NFL leaders until injuries cost him games vs. Cincinnati (12/4) and New York Jets (12/10) . . . Strong, agile player who excels at outside pass rush . . . Has worked diligently to develop strength and skills in first three pro seasons . . . This past offseason, concentrated on rehabilitation program . . . Training camp longshot as rookie (1982), but wound up with roster spot after L.C. Greenwood and John Banaszak were waived . . . Has 20 career sacks, fourth among active players behind Gary Dunn (30), Jack Lambert (23½) and Robin Cole (21½) . . . Playing weight has moved to 260 on Steeler conditioning program.

1984 STEELER REVIEW

KANSAS CITY 37, STEELERS 27

Sept. 2 at Pittsburgh, 56,709

The Steelers lost their third home opener in four years on four costly turnovers — two bad snaps and two interceptions — which the Chiefs converted into 20 points. The mistakes spoiled a Steeler record 419 net yards passing and great individual efforts by receivers John Stallworth and Louis Lipps, playing his first regular season game. Stallworth had a career-high 167 yards and became the team's all-time leader in this department with 5,571 yards. Lipps caught six passes for 183 yards, the sixth highest total ever by a Steeler, and scored two TDs, one on an 80-yard pass from David Woodley. Woodley suffered a concussion in his first game as a Steeler and had to leave early in the third quarter. The Steelers struggled with their running game and even though they outgained the Chiefs by 201 yards, made the big errors which Kansas City did not behind QB Todd Blackledge, making his first NFL start.

STEELERS 23, NEW YORK JETS 17

Sept. 6 at New York, 70,564

The Steelers beat the Jets for the eighth straight time and took a one game lead in the AFC Central. In spite of a big edge in time of possession and statistics, the Steelers special teams play was poor and, as a result, the game was not decided until Rick Woods' interception in the end zone on the last play of the game. Gary Anderson missed three field goals, two of 27 and 30 yards in the fourth quarter. The Steeler defense came up with four turnovers, two of which were fourth-quarter interceptions by Sam Washington, and four QB sacks even though it played without regulars Jack Lambert and John Goodman. Throwing scoring passes to his rookie receivers Louis Lipps and Weegie Thompson, David Woodley came back from an opening game concussion to have his second straight sharp outing. Rookie Rich Erenberg took over for an injured Walter Abercrombie and rushed for 58 yards in the second half.

STEELERS 24, LOS ANGELES RAMS 14

Sept. 16 at Pittsburgh, 58,104

The Steelers opened a two game lead over the rest of the AFC Central division as they ended a three game home-field losing streak. The defense keyed the victory by shutting down Eric Dickerson and applying a great pass rush, resulting in five sacks and three interceptions. Sam Washington with two interceptions for the second game in a row, Rick Woods with one for the second straight week and Edmund Nelson with four QB sacks were the individual defensive standouts. On offense, Rich Erenberg, making his first NFL start, led the team in rushing for the second straight week while David Woodley completed 67% of his passes without an interception. Louis Lipps caught a TD pass for the third consecutive game and added 69 yards on punt returns. John Stallworth had his 17th 100-yard game receiving.

CLEVELAND 20, STEELERS 10

Sept. 23 at Cleveland, 77,312

After an impressive 53-yard march on its first possession ended when Rich Erenberg fumbled on the Browns' 20-yard line, the Steeler offense sputtered and failed to score a touchdown in a game for the only time all season. The defense played a strong first half but cracked and gave up 290 yards in the final two quarters. The Browns scored on their first series of the second half to cut the Pittsburgh margin to 7-3. Steeler turnovers, a Louis Lipps' fumble and a tipped interception, gave Cleveland two of its next three scores. Between these 10 points, the Steeler defense missed an assignment which the Browns converted to an easy TD and their first lead. Sam Washington intercepted a pass for the third straight game and returned it 69 yards for a TD for the second game in a row, tying an NFL record.

STEELERS 38, CINCINNATI 17

Oct. 1 at Pittsburgh, 57,098

Donnie Shell and Dwayne Woodruff each intercepted two passes and returned one for their first NFL touchdowns and interceptions set up two other TDs as the Steelers registered their highest point total of the season. Sam Washington picked off his fifth interception — the fourth straight game in which he had one. The defense had six QB sacks, including three by Mike Merriweather and two by Bryan Hinkle. Playing with four rookies in the starting lineup, the offense controlled the football with the combination of a good running attack and David Woodley's pinpoint passing in spite of three interceptions. Rich Erenberg scored his first NFL TD on a 31-yard run, the longest scoring rush by a Steeler all season. The win was costly as the Steelers lost two offensive regulars indefinitely in Craig Wolfley and Louis Lipps. The victory increased Pittsburgh's division lead to two games.

MIAMI 31, STEELERS 7

Oct. 7 at Pittsburgh, 59,103

Dan Marino's passing and a tough Miami defense combined to hand the Steelers their worst defeat ever at Three Rivers Stadium. The Dolphins broke a scoreless tie with 21 points in a 6:25 span of the second quarter. Quarterback David Woodley left the game with a concussion after the Steelers' second possession. With the score 7-0 and Mark Malone at quarterback, the Steelers' only serious attempt to get back into the game was thwarted by three major penalties. A drive that reached the Miami 32-yard line ended with a punt from the Steeler 22. The Dolphins scored two minutes later and on Pittsburgh's next series Malone fumbled after a sack which gave the Dolphins an easy TD. John Stallworth broke Lynn Swann's career receiving record in the third quarter and raised his total to 339.

STEELERS 20, SAN FRANCISCO 17

Oct. 14 at San Francisco, 59,110

Bryan Hinkle returned an interception 43 yards to set up the winning field goal as the Steelers came from behind in the fourth quarter for the first time this season. The win increased their division lead to three games and the defeat was only one of 1984 for the 49ers. After Gary Anderson's field goal, the 49ers marched 54 yards without any time outs but Ray Wersching was wide left on a 37-yard field goal attempt on the next to last play of the game. The Steelers controlled the ball with a season-high 175 yards rushing as Frank Pollard had the first 100 yard game of his career. Mark Malone, playing for the injured David Woodley, recorded his first victory in a starting role and directed scoring drives of 78 and 83 yards which, combined, consumed almost 14 minutes. The Steelers had 11 penalties but neutralized that with just one turnover.

INDIANAPOLIS 17, STEELERS 16

Oct. 21 at Indianapolis, 60,026

Sam Washington missed an interception and tipped a pass to Ray Butler who ran 30 yards to complete a 54-yard play for the winning TD with 34 seconds to play. The score capped a 17-point fourth quarter rally as the Colts gained 147 of their 301 yards in the final 15 minutes. Mike Pagel replaced Mark Hermann at quarterback in the third quarter and the change sparked the Colt offense. A leg injury to Steeler QB David Woodley stalled the Pittsburgh attack and time ran out with the Steelers on the Colt 15-yard line after a 59-yard pass from Mark Malone to Weegie Thompson. Two penalties hurt the Steelers. An interference call set up the first Colt TD and a personal foul may have cost the Steelers a TD on their final score instead of a field goal. Gary Anderson's 53-yard field goal was a team record.

STEELERS 35, ATLANTA 10

Oct. 28 at Pittsburgh, 55,971

Mark Malone and the Steeler offense overcame a very shaky start to record their largest winning margin of the season. In spite of being outgained 87 yards to eight in the first quarter, the Steelers led 7-0 on Dwyane Woodruff's fumble return on the Falcons' first offensive play. It was Malone's second straight win as a starter. He had his first three-TD game of his career while Frank Pollard had his second 100-yard game of the season, featured by a career-high 52-yard run. Louis Lipps added 85 yards on five punt returns. The Pittsburgh defense took charge in the second half and held Atlanta without a first down on four of its first five second half possessions. The Falcons' TD came on the final play of the game.

STEELERS 35, HOUSTON 7

Nov. 4 at Pittsburgh, 48,892

The Steelers stretched their division lead to three games as Mark Malone accounted for all four offensive scores, throwing three TD passes for the second game in a row in his third start of the season. The Steelers rushed for a season-high 191 yards, running the ball 46 times while throwing just 15 passes. They capitalized on two of Houston's four turnovers for their first and fourth TDs. The first score came after the Oilers fumbled on their second offensive play. The defense had five QB sacks and scored its sixth TD of the season. John Stallworth had the first three-TD reception game of his career and his fifth 100-yard game of the season. Louis Lipps added 52 yards on punt returns. The 28-point margin was the Steelers' largest of the season.

CINCINNATI 22, STEELERS 20

Nov. 11 at Cincinnati, 52,497

For the second time in four weeks, the Steelers were defeated with less than a minute to play and lost an opportunity to virtually clinch the division title. The Bengals overcame a first and 30 situation on their winning TD drive. Larry Kinnebrew bulled 11 yards on third and four at the Steeler 14-yard line the play before his winning run. After running 50 plays to the Bengals' 16 and totaling 13 first downs to three in the first half, the Steelers recorded just two first downs and the Bengals had a 13-play edge in the final 30 minutes. For the fourth straight time, QB Ken Anderson was forced to leave a Steeler game with an injury. Turk Schonert brought the Bengals from behind twice. John Stallworth became the first player in Steeler history to register three 1,000-yard seasons.

NEW ORLEANS 27, STEELERS 24

Nov. 19, 1984 at New Orleans, 66,005

The Saints converted Pittsburgh turnovers into all three of their touchdowns as the Steelers lost a fourth quarter lead for the third time in five games. The Steelers held a 14-6 margin on Louis Lipps' TD punt return, the first by a Steeler in 10 years, and another score set up by the first of Dwayne Woodruff's two interceptions. With less than two minutes to play in the first half, Frank Pollard fumbled on the Steeler 25. He lost the ball again on the Steeler 36 midway through the fourth quarter with the Steelers holding a 17-13 lead. Former Steeler Dennis Winston clinched the win with an interception return. Rookie Scott Campbell rallied the Steelers, throwing his first TD pass as a pro, but an on-side kick failed. John Stallworth became the Steelers' all-time leader with his 52nd TD reception.

STEELERS 52, SAN DIEGO 24

Nov. 25 at Pittsburgh, 55,856

The Steelers exploded for their highest point total in 33 seasons and the highest in the NFL in 1984. Mark Malone threw four TD passes for the first time in his career and John Stallworth caught three for the second time in 1984. Malone set a Steeler record by completing 81.8% of his passes. The Steelers had a season-high 202 yards rushing and Walter Abercrombie had his first 100-yard game. They converted three of their four interceptions into touchdowns and held the Chargers to 31 yards rushing. After San Diego cut the Steelers' margin to 24-17, Pittsburgh scored three TDs in the last 10 minutes of the third quarter. In this period, Malone completed 11 straight passes. Gary Anderson kicked a team-record 55 yard field goal, the second longest in the NFL in 1984. The Steelers did not have a turnover for the only time this season.

*HOUSTON 23, STEELERS 20

Dec. 2 at Houston, 39,786

*Overtime

The Oilers marched 63 yards with the overtime kickoff to kick the winning field goal to seriously jeopardize the Steelers' playoff chances. The Pittsburgh offense had its second poorest yardage output of the season while the defense had its worst game. Craig Colquitt's decision to run in a punting situation late in the first half enabled the Oilers to stretch a three-point lead to 10 at halftime. After cutting the margin to three on their first second half series, the Steelers made interceptions on back-to-back Houston possessions but could get just one field goal to tie the game. Warren Moon's 31-yard run on a third and nine play set up the Oilers' last TD and the Steelers answered with Louis Lipps' reverse for the same distance on the tying drive. It was the Steelers first loss ever in overtime. John Stallworth established new single season records for receptions (74) and yards received (1,319).

STEELERS 23, CLEVELAND 20

Dec. 9 at Pittsburgh, 55,825

Gary Anderson's 34-yard field goal with five seconds remaining provided the winning points as the Steelers maintained a one game division lead while registering their 13th consecutive non-losing season. They converted their second great fourth quarter opportunity, driving 40 yards in nine plays as time ran out. On their previous possession, a pass interception in the end zone on a second down play from the 21-yard line ended a chance for an easy field goal. The Steelers intercepted four passes, matching their season high, with Donnie Shell getting two to stop deep Cleveland penetrations. One was in the end zone and the other on the two-yard line. Bryan Hinkle's steal was returned to the two-yard line to set up the Steelers' second field goal. The Browns did a good job of controlling the ball, driving 69, 75 and 79 yards for three of their four scores. Mike Merriweather raised his sack total to 14½, a new Steeler record. It was the Steelers' 15th straight win against the Browns at Three Rivers.

STEELERS 13, LOS ANGELES RAIDERS 7

Dec. 16 at Los Angeles, 83,056

Facing a "must win" game to make the playoffs, the Steelers clinched their 11th postseason berth in 13 seasons with one of their most important regular season victories ever. It was their ninth division title since the 1970 merger. Donnie Shell's two interceptions highlighted a great defensive effort in which the Steelers dominated the LA offense, particularly in the first half when the Raiders netted only 54 yards. In the third quarter with the Steelers holding a 3-0 lead, they stopped Marcus Allen on a fourth and one play at the Steeler 21-yard line. Shell's first interception in the end zone ended LA's only serious first half threat and his second with 2:24 to play locked up the win. A Mark Malone to Walter Abercrombie 59-yard pass on the last play of the third quarter set up the Steeler TD. The Steelers had a season-high 50 rushes enabling them to build a 15 minute edge in possession time and a 21-play margin. Abercrombie had a career-high 111 yards rushing.

PNB 'GREAT PERFORMANCE' AWARD

Wide receiver-punt returner Louis Lipps, who capped a standout rookie season by being named NFL Rookie of the Year, was also honored at the end of the regular season with the first 'Joe Greene Great Performance Award,' given to the Steelers' 'Rookie of the Year.'

Lipps led all NFL rookies in all-purpose yards (1,587), yards receiving (860) and was second in receptions (45). His 656 punt return yards also led the league and established a new rookie record while his catches set a Steeler rookie mark.

Lipps was selected by the Pittsburgh Chapter of the Pro Football Writers Association.

The 'Great Performance Award,' sponsored by Pittsburgh National Bank, will be given annually. The recipient, chosen by the Pittsburgh Chapter of the Pro Football Writers, will receive the award at the Steelers' first home preseason game the following season.

STEELERS 24, DENVER 17

Dec. 30 at Denver, 74,981

The Steelers overcame a near-disastrous start, a blocked punt and three missed field goals to earn their first postseason win since Super Bowl XIV. Eric Williams' interception and 28-yard return to the two-yard line with three and a half minutes to play set up the winning touchdown, scored on a gutty two-yard plunge by Frank Pollard. Twice the Steelers came back from seven point deficits and their three scoring drives prior to the final TD averaged almost 70 yards while the Broncos never travelled more than 46 yards for their 17 points. The game opened with Mark Malone losing the ball on fumbles the first two times the Steelers had the ball. Even though Denver scored after the second one, the Pittsburgh defense displayed a preview of how tough it was going to be. Malone rebounded from his early miscues to complete six of eight passes on the Steelers' two scoring drives which gave them a halftime lead. A blocked punt on Pittsburgh's first second half possession gave Denver the ball on the four-yard line but for the second time inside their own ten, the Steeler defense stiffened and the Broncos had to settle for a field goal. The next time the Broncos had the ball they broke the 10-10 tie with their most impressive offensive series of the game with the TD coming on a John Elway bullet to Steve Watson, the Denver offensive hero with 11 receptions. After Louis Lipps returned the kickoff 34 yards, he and Malone combined for 47 yards on three passes to forge another deadlock as Lipps broke several tackles on the seven-yard scoring play. The Broncos managed only two first downs the rest of the game with the last one coming with just 22 seconds left as the blitzing Steeler defense, sparked by Williams' steal and David Little's two sacks, battered Elway on almost every play. The running of Pollard and Walter Abercrombie carried the Steelers to the nine-yard line but the 54-yard march was wasted when Gary Anderson was wide left on a 26-yard attempt. Two plays later, Williams turned the game around again with his big play. Pollard with 99 yards and Abercrombie with 75 had postseason career highs rushing while Gary Dunn had his first career interception in the second quarter to end a Denver threat on the four-yard line.

AFC CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

MIAMI 45, STEELERS 28

Jan. 6 at Miami, 76,029

The Miami passing game overwhelmed the Steeler defense as Dan Marino set AFC Championship game records with 421 yards passing and four TDs. Eleven of Marino's 21 completions were for 20 yards or more and three were at least 40 yards as the Steeler secondary could not contain the ultra-quick Dolphin receivers. Three of their TD drives took less than two minutes to complete. The Steelers controlled the ball on the ground most of the first half but after they had taken a 14-10 lead on John Stallworth's NFL record 11th TD reception in postseason, the Dolphins scored two TDs in the last 2:52 of the half and added another one on their first possession of the second half. Following this scoring barrage, the Steelers were forced to open their offense and stray from their ball-control game which was very effective in the first 30 minutes and had accounted for 123 yards rushing and a four-minute edge in possession time. If there was a turning point, it came with a minute and a half left in the first half and Miami holding a 17-14 lead when Mark Malone suffered his third interception which the Dolphins quickly converted into a TD and a 10-point margin. From the end of the first half to their first series of the fourth quarter, the Dolphins scored on five straight possessions. They converted each of Malone's interceptions into TDs and the Dolphins' turnover edge of 4-1 was far too much for the Steelers to overcome. The total yards of 1,024 by both teams was an AFC title game record as was the 50 first downs. The victory gave Miami a record-tying fifth Super Bowl berth which was denied the Steelers who had advanced to the championship game for the first time since 1979. Stallworth added to his TD reception mark with a tumbling third quarter score that brought the Steelers to within 10 points. But, Marino answered with 80 and 66-yard drives to put the game out of reach. Malone had career-highs with 20 completions and 312 yards passing.

At 52, Dan is one of the most able and respected executives in sports. He currently serves on the three-member Executive Committee of NFL Properties and the same body of the Management Council and is on the Board of NFL Films. He also has served as Chairman of the NFL's Expansion Committee. On a club level, he has been the architect of one of the most successful franchises in professional sports and guides it with a steady hand.

Art's most significant contribution was and still is in personnel. A former football player at St. Vincent College, he is the man behind the great Steeler drafts. He oversees a department that has been creative and productive and still spends many hours himself scouring the country for talent.

After Parker left prior to the 1965 season, Mike Nixon and Bill Austin attempted to produce a winner. They failed.

In 1969, the Rooneys named 37-year-old Chuck Noll as the 14th coach in the club's history. Relying solely on the draft to build, he patiently nursed his young team to maturity.

The team's ability to maximize their draft selections has been the key to their unprecedented success. When Joe Greene was picked in the first round in 1969, he became the nucleus of what was to become a great defense. The following year Terry Bradshaw was the first choice and it was the makings of an explosive offense.

After three building years under Noll in which the team went from 1-13 in 1969 to 5-9 and 6-8 the next two seasons, the big breakthrough came in 1972 as the Steelers won their first division title ever. They lost to Miami, the eventual NFL champion, in the AFC Championship game but it was to be their first of six trips in eight years to that plateau.

In 1974, the Steelers won their first league crown. The next season they became the third team to win back-to-back Super Bowls. In 1978, they were the first team to win three Super Bowls and in 1979, became the first to win four and win two consecutively twice. Their total of four league championships is third to Green Bay (11) and Chicago (8).

As the 1980's began, the Steelers saw an eight-year playoff streak end by missing postseason action in 1980 and 1981. Then, with the roster being rejuvenated by an influx of young talent, the team has started another string with three straight playoff berths in 1982-83-84.

The Steelers 50th Anniversary season was a very special one. An all-time team was selected by the fans and honored at a gala banquet in October of 1982. The banquet was part of a weekend of activities which attracted thousands of people to an exhibit featuring memorabilia and other informational materials from the five decades of Steeler football.

STEELER MILESTONES

Things That Could Happen in 1985:

CHUCK NOLL

• Currently seventh on the all-time list of NFL coaches with 157-95-1 record. Minnesota's Bud Grant, who returns to active coaching this season, is sixth (161-99-5) and Paul Brown (170-108-6) is fifth behind the late George Halas, the all-time leader (326-150-30). Noll is third among active head coaches with 157 victories behind Tom Landry (243) and Don Shula (242). His winning percentage (.623) is sixth among active coaches behind Joe Gibbs (47-18-0, .723), Shula (242-94-6, .716), Tom Flores (66-33-0, .667), Landry (243-141-6, .631) and Chuck Knox (119-71-1, .626).

GARY ANDERSON

• Led AFC in scoring the last two consecutive seasons with 119 points in 1983 and 117 in 1984. No Steeler placekicker has ever won three AFC scoring titles. Roy Gerela also won two.

BENNIE CUNNINGHAM

• With 196 receptions, currently eighth on all-time Steelers' list. Could climb as high as fifth. Needs four catches to pass Roy Jefferson (199) for seventh; 34 to pass Buddy Dial (229) and 35 to pass Ray Mathews (230) for fifth.

FRANK POLLARD

• With 2,283 career yards rushing, currently eighth on club's all-time list. Could climb as high as fifth. Needs 430 yards to pass Tom Tracy (2,712); 660 to pass French Fuqua (2,942) and 989 to pass Fran Rogel (3,271) for fifth.

DONNIE SHELL

• With 43 career interceptions, the NFL leader among active players. Needs 10 to pass Jack Butler (52) for second place on the Steeler all-time list behind leader Mel Blount (57).

JOHN STALLWORTH

• With three 1,000-yard seasons as a receiver, needs one more to tie for third place on the NFL's all-time list with Del Shofner (Los Angeles), Lionel Taylor (Denver) and San Diego's Charlie Joiner behind Lance Alworth, the record-holder (7). Stallworth broke seven Steeler records in 1984. He is the all-time leader in career catches (387), yards (6,799), touchdown receptions (55), single season catches (80), single season yards (1,395), 1,000-yard seasons (3) and most 100-yard games (22).

• As 1985 season begins, needs 13 catches to reach 400 mark. Forty-four (44) all-time NFL receivers have caught 400 or more passes. There are four active players ahead of Stallworth — Kellen Winslow (399), James Lofton (397), Wes Chandler (393) and Charlie Young (390).

• Stallworth is the all-time NFL record holder in postseason for most touchdowns (12) and most 100-yard games (5). His string of eight straight post-season games with a touchdown reception, another NFL mark, was broken at Denver last year but started again with two touchdown catches vs. Miami.

MIKE WEBSTER

• Has played 180 consecutive games including postseason. Webster's string includes 161 in regular season, sixth among active players behind Dave Dalby (189), Joe DeLamielleure (175), Ray Guy (175), Gregg Bingham (173), Charlie Joiner (165) and Webster. He is moving towards Ray Mansfield's team mark (182). Webster has never missed a career game, has not missed a start since gaining full-time status in 1977 and has not missed an offensive play in the last five regular seasons. His 180 game string includes 19 in postseason.

ACTIVE STEELERS IN PRO BOWL

Seven active Steelers have played in the Pro Bowl including three first time participants balanced by center Mike Webster, who has earned a spot in the game for the seventh straight year.

The three first time players are inside linebacker Robin Cole and outside linebacker Mike Merriweather, who were named starters. Rookie Louis Lipps was the AFC punt returner as the first Steeler rookie since Franco Harris (1972) to be named to the Pro Bowl.

Wide receiver John Stallworth, the Steeler MVP, was named to the Pro Bowl team for the third time.

Other Steelers who played in the Pro Bowl include Donnie Shell (6) and placekicker Gary Anderson (1).

With nine Pro Bowl appearances, Jack Lambert, who retired after 11 seasons on July 11, is second in the club's all-time record book behind Ernie Stautner and Joe Greene (10).
