BILL COWHER

Head Coach

Bill Cowher, 42, in just seven seasons has already established himself as one of the elite head coaches in the NFL.

Cowher has joined the famed Paul Brown with six straight trips to the playoffs in his first six seasons as the team's head coach. Cowher's regular-season winning percentage (71-41, .667) equals that of Minnesota's Dennis Green and is second to Seattle's Mike Holmgren among the NFL's active coaches with more than one season of experience. Cowher's career overall record career record of 76-47 (.618) ranks third to Holmgren (84-41, .672) and Denver's Mike Shanahan (59-30, .662).

Cowher earned his 50th regular-season win Nov. 3, 1996 in his 73rd game to become the eighth-fastest coach in NFL history to reach 50 wins. He also moved into second in team victories behind Noll with 57 wins during his fifth season. Last season, Cowher surpassed Ray Parker's 105 games for the second-most games (123) as the Steelers' head coach. Only Noll (366 games) guided the Steelers for a longer period.

Under Cowher's guidance, the Steelers have featured a trademark running attack and a solid, aggressive defense. During his seven seasons as head coach, the team has compiled more than 15,000 rushing yards, the most by any NFL team. The Steelers offense also is ranked seventh with an average of 324 yards a game in total offense. In that same period, the offense churned out 55 100-yard rushing games—second only to Detroit's 59. Since 1992, the Steelers are the only team to gain more than 15,000 yards rushing (15,003), ahead of Denver (13,866) and Dallas (13,728).

Cowher has built a defense that mirrors his fiery attitude. In the 112 regular-season games since becoming head coach, the defense has allowed an average of 92 rushing yards a game and 194 yards passing. Their average total defense of 286 yards a game ranks first in the NFL, ahead of Dallas (286.8). During that same period, Pittsburgh has allowed only 14 running backs to surpass the 100-yard mark and ranks third in the NFL with only nine 300-yard passing games allowed.

In 1998, Cowher experienced uncharted territory. For the first time in his relatively brief head-coaching career, the Steelers did not make the playoffs. Nevertheless, despite several key injuries throughout the season, especially along the offensive line, the team remained competitive and had opportunities to clinch a playoff berth until the 15th week of the season.

The elements heading into 1997 didn't favor the Steelers. Ten key players departed from the previous season. A new defensive coordinator was hired. A first-year quarterback took control of the offense. Nevertheless, the Steelers overcame these obstacles to post an 11-5 record, and Cowher led his team to their third home AFC Championship game in four seasons. The Steelers' season ended with a 24-21 loss to the eventual-Super Bowl Champion Denver Broncos.

While the 1996 outcome didn't compare to the Super Bowl appearance of the previous season, it may have been one of the best coaching jobs of Cowher's young career. For the second straight season, Cowher was forced to overcome losses of key starting personnel on a team that already featured a retooled offense. During the course of the season, the Steelers had 14 starters miss 64 starts due to injury. Those adjustments forced Cowher to play 40 different starters throughout the season. Despite this adversity, Cowher led the Steelers to their fifth consecutive playoff berth and their fourth AFC Central title in five seasons.

In 1995, at the age of 38, the Pittsburgh-area native became the youngest head coach to lead his team to a Super Bowl. Along the way, Cowher's team captured their third AFC Central Division title in four years, made their fourth straight playoff appearance, and won the Steelers' first AFC title since 1979.

The Steelers' 11-5 regular-season record was the second best in the AFC which exceeded the expectations of most. In the offseason, the team lost seven veterans through free agency and trades. They had to play four games without starting quarterback Neil O'Donnell and almost the entire season without 1994's starting cornerbacks Deon Figures and Rod Woodson, a perennial All-Pro. In addition, linebacker Chad Brown missed six games after a phenomenal start.

Despite the setbacks, Cowher was able to rally his team from a near-disastrous 3-4 start to an NFL-best eight-game winning streak and a bye in the first round of the playoffs. This was accomplished with a major change in both offensive and defensive strategies as the Steelers made key adjustments to compensate for their personnel losses.

The 1995 Steelers led the AFC in scoring with 407 points and set eight new offensive team records. They led the NFL in time of possession (an average of 32:36). On defense, they established new team marks for fewest yards allowed rushing and fewest yards per game rushing (82.6/game). Their 22 interceptions were second most in the NFL.

Cowher was introduced as the Steelers' head coach on January 21, 1992, 26 days after the retirement of Hall of Fame coach Chuck Noll. At the age of 34, Cowher was two years younger than Noll was upon becoming the Steelers' head coach in 1969.

Cowher returned to his hometown following seven years as an assistant under Marty Schottenheimer in Cleveland and Kansas City. His appointment as the Steelers' head coach immediately followed a three-year stint as defensive coordinator and linebackers coach for the Chiefs.

Cowher has 19 years of NFL experience, including five as a player, seven as an assistant coach and seven as a head coach. In his first 13 years of coaching, Cowher had never been associated with a team that posted a losing record. In fact, in 12 of his 14 seasons as a coach, Cowher's teams have advanced to the playoffs.

In his first year as head coach, Cowher was selected the 1992 National Football League's Coach of the Year by the Associated Press and The Sport ing News. Cowher was also named Pittsburgh's Man of the Year in Sports by the Dapper Dan Club. He directed the Steelers to their first AFC Central Division crown in eight years with an 11-5 record, which was the team's best mark since they last won a Super Bowl in 1979. One of four AFC teams to win 11 games in 1992, the Steelers shared the best record in the conference as Cowher became one of only 12 coaches in NFL history to win 11 games in his first season as head coach.

The 1993 Steelers started slowly at 0-2, but six wins in the next seven games brought the team to a 6-3 mark and first place in the AFC Central division. On the final weekend of the regular season the Steelers claimed the final AFC wild-card berth after winning three of the last five games. Offensively, the team finished with the exact same AFC rankings as the previous year, but it improved from 21st to 13th in NFL passing rankings. The defense jumped from eighth to first in AFC total defense rankings, and from 17th to third in NFL run defense.

Cowher began his coaching career in 1985 with the Cleveland Browns. At age 28, he was the league's second-youngest assistant coach. He served on Schottenheimer's staff as the Browns' special teams coach in 1985-86 and secondary coach in 1987-88. As secondary coach, Cowher's 1987 group produced 23 interceptions to tie for third in the AFC, while in 1988 the Cleveland defense ranked fourth overall in the conference. The following year Cowher joined Schottenheimer on the Kansas City coaching staff.

In 1989, Cowher's first season as a 32-year-old defensive coordinator, the Kansas City defense led the AFC and ranked second in the NFL in total defense. The following year the unit led the league in three categories with 60 sacks, 25 fumbles recovered and 45 takeaways. In 1991, the Chiefs ranked third in the conference and fifth overall in the NFL en route to a 10-6 finish and a wild card playoff berth.

A former linebacker and special teams standout, Cowher enjoyed a five-year NFL playing career with the Browns (1980-82) and the Philadelphia Eagles (1983-84). He signed with Philadelphia in 1979 as an undrafted free-agent rookie but was the last linebacker waived in training camp after playing in three preseason games. The following year he signed with Cleveland and earned a roster spot, playing in all 16 games including two starts at inside linebacker.

Cowher sat out the 1981 campaign after suffering a season-ending knee injury in the third preseason game. Returning in 1982 as special teams captain, he started at outside linebacker in two games while playing in all nine contests.

Cowher was traded to Philadelphia prior to the start of the 1983 season (Aug. 21) for a ninth-round draft pick. He was selected the Eagles' most valuable special teams player that year and played in all 16 games. In 1984, a knee injury kept him out of all but four games and ended his career as a player. Cowher returned to Cleveland the following season and began his coaching career as a member of Schottenheimer's Browns staff.

Cowher grew up in the Crafton area west of Pittsburgh. He is a 1975 graduate of Carlynton High School, where he excelled in football, basketball and track. He was selected honorable mention All-State in football as a senior before moving on to North Carolina State, where he earned four letters and was a three-year starter at linebacker. As a senior in 1978, Cowher was selected team captain and Most Valuable Player after leading the defense in tackles for the second straight year. He also received the 1978 Cary Brewbaker Award as the school's outstanding defensive lineman that was selected by the coaching staff. In 1979 Cowher graduated with a bachelor of science degree in education.

William Laird Cowher was born May 8, 1957 in Pittsburgh. Cowher met his wife, Kaye, while at North Carolina State. Also a graduate of N.C. State, Kaye and her twin sister Faye played professional basketball for the New York Stars of the Women's Professional Basketball League. The Cowhers have three daughters: Meagan Lyn (13), Lauren Marie (12), and Lindsay Morgan (8).

KEVIN GILBRIDE

Offensive Coordinator

Kevin Gilbride, one of the most dynamic and innovative offensive coaches in the NFL, joined the Steelers as their offensive coordinator Jan. 7.

Gilbride, 47, has accumulated more than 10 years of NFL coaching experience. He has forged a reputation as a solid offensive coordinator and quarterback coach, and has been credited with the development of such NFL quarterbacks such as Warren Moon and Mark Brunell.

Gilbride most recently served as the head coach of the San Diego Chargers, where he compiled a 6-16 overall record. He was appointed the Chargers' 10th head coach on Jan. 19, 1997 and was dismissed after six games of the 1998 season.

Prior to his Chargers appointment, Gilbride directed the Jacksonville Jaguars' potent offense for two seasons (1995-96) and helped develop quarterback Mark Brunell into one of the top quarterbacks in the NFL. He began his NFL coaching career in 1989 as a quarterbacks coach with the Houston Oilers. Gilbride was subsequently promoted to offensive coordinator (1990-93) and then served as assistant head coach/offense for a year before accepting his position with the Jaguars. During Gilbride's six years with Houston, the Oilers' offense annually ranked in the top three in the NFL in total offense.

Gilbride began his coaching career in the collegiate ranks at Idaho State, where he served from 1974-75. He also held positions at Tufts University (1976-77) and American International (1978-79).

In 1980, Gilbride accepted his first head coaching position at Southern Connecticut, where he compiled a 35-14-2 record in five seasons. He then served as the passing game coordinator (1987) and offensive coordinator (1988) at East Carolina University.

Born Aug. 27, 1951, Gilbride and his wife, Deborah, have two daughters, Kelly (Sept. 17, 1975), a 1998 Harvard graduate, and Kristen (June 19, 1977), a 1999 graduate of the University of Connecticut; and a son, Kevin (Dec. 14, 1979), a three-sport star in high school, who is a freshman at Brigham Young University on a full football scholarship.

JIM HASLETT

Defensive Coordinator

Jim Haslett joined the Steelers as defensive coordinator Jan. 21, 1997, following one season in the same position for the New Orleans Saints.

He enters his seventh season in the NFL and his 11th year in coaching. At 43, the Pittsburgh native is one of the youngest defensive coordinators in the league.

During the past two seasons, the Steelers have been one of the most dominating units in the NFL. Last year, the Steelers ranked 12th overall in total defense. The unit has allowed just two 100-yard individual rushing performances during the regular season past two years. During his tenure at New Orleans, Haslett guided a young defensive unit that blossomed from a 25th and 22nd ranking in 1994 and 1995, respectively, to 13th in his first full season as defensive coordinator.

Prior to joining New Orleans, Haslett spent 1993-94 as linebackers coach with the Los Angeles Raiders, helping them to a Top 10 ranking in the NFL in total defense during both seasons. From 1991-92, Haslett was the defensive coordinator for the Sacramento Surge of the World League. In 1992, the Surge won the WLAF championship.

Haslett was the second-round draft choice of the Buffalo Bills in 1979. His playing career spanned nine seasons, including the first eight with the Bills. In 1979, Haslett was named All-Rookie and was the Associated Press Defensive Rookie of the Year. He was voted to the Pro Bowl in 1980 and 1981. Haslett concluded his NFL career in 1987 with the New York Jets.

A year later, Haslett assumed his initial coaching post, handling the linebackers at the University of Buffalo. He was promoted to defensive coordinator in 1989 and served in that capacity for two years.

A three-time All-American as a defensive end at Indiana University of Pennsylvania (1975-78), Haslett graduated with a bachelor's degree in elementary education.

Born Dec. 9, 1955 in Pittsburgh, Pa., Haslett and his wife, Beth, have two daughters, Kelsey and Elizabeth, and a son, Chase. The Hasletts live in Pittsburgh.

MIKE ARCHER

Linebackers Coach

Mike Archer joined the Steelers March 6, 1996 to coach the linebackers, following 19 years of coaching at the college level.

Archer, 45, previously served as defensive coordinator and linebackers coach for Kentucky and was their assistant head coach in 1995. He joined UK in 1993 following two years as linebackers coach at Virginia (1991-92).

Prior to his Kentucky appointment, Archer served as the head football coach at Louisiana State University from 1987-90. He led the Tigers to a 27-18-1 record with appearances in the 1987 Gator Bowl and 1989 Hall of Fame Bowl, and one Southeastern Conference Championship in 1988. As the nation's youngest Division I-A head football coach in 1987, Archer, then 34, led the Tigers to a 10-1-1 record and 30-13 Gator Bowl victory against South Carolina. A year later, Archer directed the Tigers to the SEC title with a 6-1 league record and finished 8-4 overall. In 1990, he was named coach for the East-West Shrine Game.

Archer, a native of State College, Pennsylvania, lettered three seasons (1973-75) in football at Miami (Fla.) where he started at free safety for two seasons and also punted. As a senior, Archer was named UM's Football Scholar-Athlete of the Year. He graduated from Miami in 1975 and began his coaching career as a graduate assistant for the Hurricanes in 1976, serving under Lou Saban from 1977-78.

Howard Schnellenberger named Archer defensive backs coach in 1979. During Archer's five seasons, the Hurricanes posted a 41-16 record, which included a 31-30 Orange Bowl victory versus Nebraska and subsequent 1983 national championship.

Archer joined Bill Arnsparger as defensive backfield coach for LSU in 1984 and was named defensive coordinator 1985-86. During that period, LSU had a 26-8-2 record with appearances in three bowl games — 1985 Sugar, 1986 Liberty and 1987 Sugar — and the 1986 Southeastern Conference championship.

Born July 26, 1953, Archer and his wife Barbara have two children, Jeffrey Matthew and Betsy Anne.

BOB BRATKOWSKI

Receivers Coach

Bob Bratkowski, former offensive coordinator and receivers coach of the Seattle Seahawks, was named receivers coach Jan. 20, 1999 by Head Coach Bill Cowher.

Bratkowski, 43, spent the past seven seasons with Seattle and was promoted to offensive coordinator in 1995. He joined the Seahawks in 1992 as the wide receivers coach.

During Bratkowski's tenure, the Seahawks' offenses were one of the top-rated units in the NFL. In 1997, the Seahawks had the top-ranked passing team in the NFL (247.4 yards per game) and were third overall in total offense. Seattle also established club single-season records for most yards passing (4,187), completions (359) and attempts (609). In addition, the team finished second in the NFL in first downs with 331 (Denver, 340). Bratkowski also was credited with the development of Seahawks receivers Brian Blades and Joey Galloway.

Prior to his Seattle appointment, Bratkowski spent 14 years in collegiate football, including his last three years (1989-91) as the offensive coordinator for the University of Miami, where he served under Dennis Erickson. He also held similar positions under Erickson at Washington State (1987-88) and Wyoming (1986).

As a collegian, Bratkowski was a three-year letterman at Washington State. His father, Zeke, played quarterback for 14 seasons in the NFL.

Born Dec. 22, 1955, Bratkowski and his wife, Rebecca, have two children: son Shane and daughter Courtney.

JAY HAYES

Special Teams Coach

Jay Hayes is the most-recent addition to the Steelers coaching staff, named the club's special teams coach Feb. 10, 1999.

Hayes, 39, had served the past four seasons as the outside linebackers and special teams coach for the University of Wisconsin. He is the brother of former Steelers' tight end Jonathan Hayes.

At Wisconsin, Hayes coordinated one of the top special teams units in the Big Ten in 1997 and 1998. During Hayes' tenure, the Badgers recorded two of the longest plays in school history: an NCAA-record 60-yard field goal (without a tee) and a 100-yard kickoff return for a touchdown.

Prior to Wisconsin, Hayes worked three years at California, overseeing the outside linebackers in 1992-93 and adding special teams duties in 1994. He also served from 1989-91 as the outside linebackers coach and special teams coach at Notre Dame, where he worked with Wisconsin head coach Barry Alvarez, who was the Fightin' Irish's defensive coordinator. Hayes began his coaching career in 1988 as a graduate assistant at Notre Dame.

Hayes earned All-Conference honors at defensive end two years at Idaho (1980-81). He also played professionally in both the NFL and USFL from 1982-86.

Hayes and his wife, Suzanne, have two sons (Jesse and Miles) and a daughter (Jazmin).

DICK HOAK

Running Backs Coach

Dick Hoak, the longest tenured coach in Steelers history, is in his 38th year with the team and his 28th consecutive season as a Steelers assistant coach.

He served as offensive backfield coach for 20 seasons under Chuck Noll, before being named running backs coach by Bill Cowher on Jan. 27, 1992, the only coach retained from the previous Steelers' staff.

During Hoak's seven seasons under Cowher, the team has compiled more than 15,000 rushing yards, the most in the NFL. Pittsburgh led the league in rushing yards in two of the past five years (1994 and 1997) and has been ranked in the top five in four of the past seven seasons. Last year, the team was seventh in the NFL in rushing.

Hoak, 59, joined the Steelers' staff in 1972 under Noll after one year of coaching high school football and just two years after retiring from an outstanding playing career for the Steelers.

The Steelers' seventh-round draft choice out of Penn State in 1961, Hoak spent 10 seasons in the Pittsburgh backfield. He led the Steelers in rushing three times (1965, 1968, 1969) and played in one Pro Bowl (1969) after ranking fourth in the NFL in 1968 with 858 rushing yards.

When he retired following the 1970 season, Hoak had gained 3,965 rushing yards and ranked second in team history. Presently, he is fifth behind Hall of Famers Franco Harris and John Henry Johnson, current Steelers running back Jerome Bettis, and Frank Pollard.

In addition, Hoak currently ranks ninth in Steelers history for career touchdowns with 33, is tied for fifth in rushing touchdowns with 25, and second in rushing attempts with 1,132. He also had 146 receptions for 1,452 yards and eight touchdowns in his career.

As a standout running back and quarterback for Penn State from 1958-60, Hoak was named his team's MVP as a senior. He graduated in 1961 with a bachelor's degree in social studies.

Born Dec. 8, 1939 in Jeannette, Pa., Hoak and his wife Lynn have three children, daughters Kelly and Katie, and son Richard. The Hoaks live in Greensburg.

TIM LEWIS

Defensive Backs Coach

Tim Lewis enters his fifth season as the Steelers' defensive backs coach.

Lewis, a standout player at Pitt, was selected 11th overall in the 1983 draft by the Green Bay Packers and was the second defensive back chosen that year. He returned to Pitt to coach defensive backs in 1993 and joined the Steelers on Feb. 7, 1995.

Lewis is no stranger to adversity. He'll be charged with molding new starters at cornerback this season for the third consecutive season. This challenge should be eased considerably with the expected healthy return of second-year cornerback Chad Scott, who missed the entire 1998 campaign because of knee surgery.

Lewis played 52 games for the Packers. He ended his career with 16 thefts and twice led or shared team honors for interceptions. His 99-yard interception return for a touchdown versus the Los Angeles Rams in 1984 still stands as a Packers' team record.

After suffering a career-ending neck injury in the fourth game of the 1986 season, Lewis entered the coaching ranks in 1987 as a graduate assistant at Texas A&M, where he remained for two years under his former college coach Jackie Sherrill. Three of his students found NFL success, including Dallas' 1992 first-round draft selection Kevin Smith.

Lewis coached defensive backs at Southern Methodist from 1989-92. His 1992 Mustang secondary led the Southwest Conference in pass defense, allowing just 182.3 yards passing per game. Starting cornerbacks Marcello Simmons (1993 4th-round, Cincinnati) and Cary Brabham (1993 free agent, Raiders) both headed to the NFL.

Lewis returned to the University of Pittsburgh in 1993 to coach the Panthers' secondary for two seasons before joining the Steelers.

He played for Pittsburgh from 1979 through 1982 and was a starting cornerback for the Panthers in 1981 and 1982. Lewis was named an NEA All-American in 1982. He was also selected to the Senior Bowl and East-West Shrine Bowl that year.

Lewis received his bachelor's degree in economics from Pittsburgh in 1983.

Born Dec. 18, 1961 in Quakertown, Lewis and his wife Shawn reside in the North Hills.

JOHN MITCHELL

Defensive Line Coach

John Mitchell joined the Steelers as defensive line coach on Jan. 31, 1994, and begins his sixth season on the Steelers' coaching staff.

Mitchell is in his 25th season of coaching, including 15 years at the college level and two in the United States Football League. This is his seventh season as an NFL coach.

A former All-America defensive end for Alabama, Mitchell's early years in coaching were spent studying under two of college football's greatest coaches.

Mitchell began his coaching career in 1973 as defensive line coach under Paul "Bear" Bryant at Alabama. After four years at Alabama (1973-76), Mitchell spent six seasons as defensive line coach at Arkansas (1977-82) on Lou Holtz's staff.

In 1983, Mitchell made his first move to the professional level. From 1983-85 he served as defensive line coach for the USFL Birmingham Stallions and returned to the college ranks in 1986 as defensive ends coach at Temple.

Mitchell began a four-year stint in 1987 as linebackers coach at Louisiana State (1987-90) for current Steelers linebacker coach Mike Archer, who was the head coach. In his final season at Louisiana State, Mitchell was named defensive coordinator while continuing to coach the linebackers.

Mitchell, 47, joined the NFL ranks in 1991 with the Cleveland Browns, where he tutored two Pro Bowl defensive tackles. Mitchell accepted his current appointment following three seasons coaching the defensive line for the Browns.

He played defensive end and was a two-time Junior College All-American at Eastern Arizona Junior College in 1969-70. Mitchell then transferred and played defensive end at Alabama from 1971-72, earning All-America honors in 1972. He earned a bachelor's degree in social work in 1977.

Born Oct. 14, 1951 in Mobile, Ala., Mitchell and his wife Joyce live in Pittsburgh.

MIKE MULARKEY

Tight Ends Coach

Mike Mularkey, a former tight end for the Steelers from 1989-91, returned to Pittsburgh and joined Bill Cowher's staff as tight ends coach Feb. 8, 1996.

Prior to his Steelers' appointment, Mularkey, 37, was in charge of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers' tight ends in 1995. He previously served as the team's quality control coach in 1994, where he was responsible for "breaking down" film of opponents and compiling coaching reports on their offensive and defensive tendencies. He also assisted with tight ends and special teams.

Mularkey has been instrumental in the development of some of the league's top tight ends, including the Steelers' Mark Bruener, who has been a Pro Bowl alternate the past two seasons, and Tennessee Oilers Jackie Harris, who in 1995 set a Tampa Bay record for receptions by a tight end (62), which also tied for the NFL lead, and receiving yards (751), which was tops by tight ends in the league.

Prior to joining the Buccaneers, Mularkey spent one year as the offensive line coach for Concordia (Minn.) College. He entered coaching after spending nine seasons in the NFL as a tight end, playing for the Minnesota Vikings from 1983-88 and the Pittsburgh Steelers from 1989-91. Originally a 1983 ninth-round draft choice of the San Francisco 49ers, Mularkey was waived prior to the season and was picked up by the Vikings. He joined the Steelers as a Plan B free agent. His career statistics included 102 receptions for 1,222 yards and nine touchdowns.

Mularkey attended the University of Florida and finished his Gator career with 55 receptions for 628 yards and three touchdowns. He has bachelor of science degrees in both kinesiology and sociology from the University of Minnesota.

Born Nov. 19, 1961 in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., Mularkey and his wife Betsy live in Pittsburgh with sons Patrick (2/15/86) and Shane (1/14/91).

KENT STEPHENSON

Offensive Line Coach

Kent Stephenson enters his 35th season of coaching, his 15th in the NFL and his eighth with the Steelers. He was named offensive line coach on Feb. 7, 1992, following seven years in the same capacity with the Seattle Seahawks.

GAME
1Steelers 20 Baltimore 13
Sept. 6, 1998

BALTIMORE—The Steelers capitalized on several Baltimore special teams miscues and a few defensive stands to ruin the Ravens' stadium christening, 20-13, in the opening week of the NFL regular season.

The Steelers defense kept the team in the game early with three patented stands. Quarterback Kordell Stewart engineered an efficient offense in the second half to give the Steelers their opening-day victory.

Three of Baltimore's first four offensive series began in Steelers territory. Still, the Ravens managed just three points, thanks to two missed field goals of less than 30 yards.

The Steelers opened the second-half scoring by answering another missed field goal by the Ravens with a 34-yard scoring drive that culminated in a 49-yard Norm Johnson field goal for their first lead of the game.

The Steelers used another special teams miscue by the Ravens to score their first TD of the 1998 season when Stewart dived for a one-yard TD to give the Steelers a 13-3 advantage with 2:06 remaining in the third quarter.

Pittsburgh had its most impressive drive of the game on its ensuing offensive possession, marching 73 yards on nine plays for the score. Stewart, who completed 14-of-27 passes for 173 yards and one TD with two interceptions, connected with Charles Johnson on a 20-yard pass play to give the Steelers, a 20-3 lead with 10 minutes remaining.

Then the Ravens made things interesting. After a Ravens field goal trimmed their deficit to 20-6, the Steelers appeared to have put the game out of reach when Richard Huntley broke free on a 48-yard run to the Raven 12-yard line but fumbled out of the end zone for a Raven touchback.

Three plays later Eric Zeier connected with Jermaine Lewis, who had several early drops, on a 64-yard touchdown to close to within seven points with 2:48 remaining.

The Ravens tried a short kick on the ensuing kickoff but it was returned by Will Blackwell, and the Steelers ran out the clock to secure the victory.

Steelers 17 Chicago 12
Sept. 13, 1998

PITTSBURGH—The Steelers opened their 1998 home season with a 17-12 interdivision win against the Chicago Bears in front of 59,084 fans at Three Rivers Stadium.

The Steelers came perilously close to their first loss of the season when Chicago drove to the 16-yard line with less than a minute remaining, but the Steelers' opportunistic defense created its second turnover of the game to seal the victory. Cornerback Carnell Lake intercepted Erik Kramer's pass at the 11-yard line to end what could have been a game-clinching TD drive for the Bears.

After a scoreless first quarter, the Steelers fell behind, when Kramer connected with Bobby Engram on a 54-yard TD pass. The PAT attempt failed, though, giving the Bears a 6-0 lead.

The Steelers battled right back and manufactured an impressive 83-yard, nine-play scoring drive, capped by Jerome Bettis' one-yard burst. Bettis set up the TD with a nifty 42-yard run, his longest of the early season. Norm Johnson's 258th consecutive PAT gave Pittsburgh a 7-6 advantage midway through the second quarter.

vantage midway through the second quarter.

Quarterback Kordell Stewart's first interception of the game enabled the Bears to add a 19-yard field goal as the first half expired for a 9-7 halftime lead.

The Steelers were once again dominant in the third quarter. After two games, Pittsburgh has outscored its opponents, 20-0, in the third period.

Stewart and the strong running of Bettis powered the Steelers to a field goal on their initial series of the second half to give them a 10-9 lead.

The Steelers converted a Bears' fumble, recovered by Jason Gildon at the Bears' 27-yard line, into another score. Stewart connected with Andre Coleman on a 13-yard strike to give the Steelers a 17-9 cushion.

Chicago battled back, adding a 36-yard field goal early in the fourth quarter to stay in contention. But, Lake ruined the Bears' comeback hopes with his 13th career interception.

Miami 21 Steelers 0
Sept. 20, 1998

MIAMI—In the heat and torrential rain storms notorious for South Florida, the Steelers suffered their first loss of the season, 21-0, at Pro Player Stadium.

The offense had one of its worst days in the Bill Cowher tenure, producing just 200 total yards. Additionally, it was just the second time under Cowher the Steelers were shut out.

While the Steelers' offense was sluggish most of the day, the defense played fairly impressively. In 23 of their 61 defensive plays, the Steelers held the Dolphins to one or fewer yards.

One of the Dolphins' scores was set up by a Kordell Stewart interception and another interception was returned by Dolphins linebacker Zach Thomas for a touchdown.

The Dolphins opened the scoring midway through the second quarter on its most-impressive drive of the game, an 11-play, 64-yard drive capped by a three-yard Karim Abdul-Jabbar TD burst.

Stewart committed his first turnover of the game and the Dolphins wasted little time converting it into a TD. Dolphins quarterback Dan Marino connected with Lamar Thomas on an eight-yard strike that went through Steelers cornerback Dewayne Washington's hands for a TD, giving Miami a 14-0 halftime lead.

The Dolphins sealed their victory with another big defensive play when Thomas stepped in front of Courtney Hawkins and returned Stewart's errant pass 17 yards for the final score of the game.

GAME
4Steelers 13 Seattle 10
Sept. 27, 1998

PITTSBURGH—The Steelers rebounded from their soggy performance in Miami with a solid effort against previously unbeaten Seattle, defeating the Seahawks, 13-10, in front of an enthusiastic and vocal Three Rivers Stadium crowd.

The Steelers' ferocious defense once again set the tone for the game and produced another stellar performance. The unit stifled Seattle's offense, which entered the game as one of the top units in the NFL, and forced four turnovers in the contest, including quarterback Warren Moon's first interception of the season.

Norm Johnson gave the Steelers an early lead after the defense forced the Seahawks' first turnover of the game, giving the Steelers possession at the Seattle 20-yard line.

The Seahawks responded with a scoring drive of their own, marching 72 yards on six plays, including a 40-yard pass play from Moon to Joey Galloway. Four plays later, Moon connected with Christian Fauria on a 14-yard pass play to give the Seahawks a 7-3 lead.

Manufacturing their most impressive drive of the game, the Steelers regained the lead with a 13-play, 82-yard scoring drive capped by Chris Fuamatu-Ma'afala's 10-yard TD run, his first career touchdown, giving the Steelers a 10-7 half-time advantage.

The defense once again set up the offense when Chris Oldham scooped a Mack Strong fumble (forced by Levon Kirkland) and ran 22 yards to the Seattle 15-yard line. The offense was unable to fully capitalize and settled for a 25-yard Johnson field goal and a 13-7 lead.

Seattle answered with a 47-yard field goal late in the third quarter to close to 13-10. The Seahawks attempted to mount one last scoring drive, but the defense, sparked by two big plays by Levon Kirkland, held and the Steelers ran out the clock for the 13-10 victory.

Oct. 11, 1998

CINCINNATI—Playing with a revamped offensive line and without the second-half services of Jerome Bettis on offense and starting inside linebacker Earl Holmes on defense, the Steelers lost a heartbreaking 25-20 AFC Central contest to rival Cincinnati at Cinergy Field.

Despite being undermanned, the Steelers appeared to have clinched a victory when Norm Johnson connected on a 40-yard field goal with 1:56 remaining to give the Steelers a 20-18 lead.

The Steelers' kickoff coverage team responded with a terrific effort, nailing the Bengals at the 15-yard line. A holding penalty by Cincinnati gave the Bengals possession at the seven-yard line. With 93 yards to go and no timeouts remaining, the Bengals chance for a comeback appeared bleak.

Former Steelers quarterback Neil O'Donnell, however, engineered a game-winning scoring drive thanks to spectacular receptions by receiver Carl Pickens, a 50-yarder on a fourth-and-12 situation, and the 25-yard game-winner with 20 seconds remaining.

The Steelers were seemingly on the verge of cruising to an easy win and built a 10-0 lead in the second quarter. Pittsburgh was threatening to add to its lead and had marched to the Bengals' 23-yard line. With Bettis forced to the sidelines with a knee injury, backup running back Richard Huntley broke loose on a seven-yard run but fumbled, giving the Bengals possession at their own 13-yard line and thwarting a potential Steelers' score.

O'Donnell then led the Bengals on an 87-yard scoring drive, capped by a 44-yard field goal with 1:04 left in the half, to slice the Steelers' lead to 10-3 at halftime.

With the Steelers' leading 17-12 through three quarters, the Bengals claimed their first lead of the game with 13:38 left in the contest to set up the flurrious final two minutes.

GAME
6Steelers 16 Baltimore 6
Oct. 18, 1998

PITTSBURGH—The Steelers overcame the loss of four starters, who missed the game because of injuries, and a revamped offensive line for the second straight game to capture a key AFC Central victory against rival Baltimore, 16-6, at Three Rivers Stadium.

The win raised the Steelers' home record this year to 3-0 and a 16-2 record versus AFC Central teams' during Bill Cowher's tenure.

Capitalizing on a turnover on Baltimore's initial series, the Steelers built a 3-0 lead on a 41-yard Norm Johnson field goal after just 3:34 expired in the game.

The two teams were locked in a defensive battle throughout most of the first half.

Baltimore managed to tie the game on a 49-yard field goal with just 1:26 remaining in the first quarter, and the Ravens gained a 6-3 halftime advantage late in the second quarter on another long field goal of 40 yards.

The Steelers regrouped at the half and quickly struck for its first TD of the game, a 55-yard bomb from Kordell Stewart to Charles Johnson. It was the Steelers' first TD on a pass play in 13 quarters, dating back to the third quarter of the Chicago contest.

Pittsburgh added two fourth-quarter field goals of 42 and 40 yards, respectively, to help seal the victory. Norm Johnson had a season-high three field goals.

The Steelers defense was spectacular in the second half and yielded only two significant drives by the Ravens in the half. Both of those drives, though, ended in turnovers. Furthermore, of the Ravens' three offensive possessions in the fourth quarter, two were three-and-outs and the other was a four-play drive.

Additionally, Pittsburgh's defense forced turnovers on three of the Ravens' final four possessions, the final one with 25 seconds left that clinched the Steelers win.

GAME
7Steelers 20 Kansas City 13
Oct. 26, 1998

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—The Steelers continued their tradition of strong Monday Night performances, defeating the Kansas City Chiefs 20-13 at Arrowhead Stadium.

The Steelers took control of the game from the early moments of the game thanks to big plays. After a strong first series, special teams standout Lance Brown was able to down a Josh Miller punt at the one. Three plays later, after the Steelers held the Chiefs on three plays, Brown snuck through the Kansas City punt team and blocked a Louis Aguiar punt in the end zone, which was recovered by special teams captain Fred McAfee. It was the Steelers' first punt blocked for a touchdown since 1983, when John Rodgers blocked a punt against the Cleveland Browns and returned it 18 yards.

Pete Stoyanovich added a pair of field goals for the Chiefs to narrow the Steelers lead to 7-6. Norm Johnson answered with a 35-yard field goal to give the Steelers a 10-6 lead at half-time. Johnson's field goal was the first Steelers score of the season that occurred in the final two minutes of a half. David Dunn caught his first pass as a Steeler, a 25-yard pass from Stewart, which was the key play of the drive.

The Steelers opened the second-half scoring when Norm Johnson added his second field goal of the night, a 22-yarder, which gave the Steelers a 13-6 lead. The key play of the drive came on a third down when Kordell Stewart pitched the ball to rookie Hines Ward, who threw the ball back to Stewart to convert the third-down opportunity.

On their second drive of the half, Andre Rison caught a two-yard pass from Elvis Grbac which tied the game at 13-13, only the second touchdown allowed by the Steelers in the red zone.

On the Steelers' following drive, Kordell Stewart led the Steelers on perhaps their most impressive drive of the year. A 14-play 77-yard drive that lasted 7:10 resulted in a five-yard pass from Stewart to Charles Johnson, which sealed the victory.

GAME
8Tennessee 41 Steelers 31
Nov. 1, 1998

PITTSBURGH—Despite its most explosive offensive performance of the season, the Steelers seemingly suffered an emotional letdown from its Monday night victory just six days earlier and lost a key AFC Central game to Tennessee, 41-31, at Three Rivers Stadium.

The Oilers burst to a 10-0 lead on their first two possessions, and despite a fourth-quarter rally by the Steelers, the Oilers never trailed in the game.

Both of the early scoring drives were impressive and consumed more than 10 plays and six minutes each.

The Steelers opened the game somewhat strongly and gained 16 yards on their first two plays of the game. The drive quickly stalled, and Pittsburgh was forced to punt four plays later.

After an impressive 13-play, 65-yard drive that culminated in a 43-yard field goal, Tennessee methodically marched 88 yards on its ensuing offensive series to increase their lead to 10-0.

The Steelers answered with a TD of their own on a Kordell Stewart to Charles Johnson nine-yard pass play to slice their deficit to 10-7.

Pittsburgh's defense could not hold and the Oilers scored another TD for a 17-7 halftime advantage.

A surprise onside kick recovered by Norm Johnson gave the Steelers possession to start the second half, but the Steelers could not capitalize.

The Oilers, meantime, scored 10 unanswered points in the third period to pad their lead to 27-7 at the end of three quarters.

Sparked by backup quarterback Mike Tomczak, the Steelers attempted a valiant comeback and scored 24 fourth-quarter points. The rally fell short and the Oilers held on for the 41-31 victory.

Steelers 27 Green Bay 20
Nov. 9, 1998

PITTSBURGH—The Steelers rebounded from a tough division loss in the previous week with another powerful performance on Monday Night Football, defeating Green Bay, 27-20, at Three Rivers Stadium.

Kordell Stewart led the charge by completing 15-of-22 passes for a season-high 231 yards, one touchdown and a 117.8 quarterback rating. Stewart led the Steelers on touchdown drives of 85, 59 and 73 yards, giving Pittsburgh a commanding 24-0 halftime lead.

Jerome Bettis rushed for 100 yards on 34 carries, increasing his record to seven consecutive 100-yard performances on Monday Night Football.

The Steelers scored a touchdown on their opening drive for the first time this season. Pittsburgh went on to score on each of their first five drives, spanning the entire first half and into the third quarter.

Stewart started the offensive onslaught with a 53-yard pass to Courtney Hawkins which put the Steelers deep in Green Bay territory. Stewart followed with an eight-yard touchdown pass to Charles Johnson to give Pittsburgh a 7-0 lead. On the next drive, Pittsburgh drove down to the Green Bay one-yard line before Stewart snuck into the end zone to increase Pittsburgh's lead to 14-0 with 1:21 left in the first quarter. Rookie running back Chris Fuamatu-Ma'afala's five-yard run gave Pittsburgh a 24-0 halftime lead.

The Steelers added three more points on Norm Johnson's 21-yard field goal in the third quarter to end Pittsburgh's scoring.

Green Bay then scored 20 unanswered points to close the gap to 27-20. However, Mark Bruener recovered an onside kick that allowed the Steelers to secure a victory.

GAME
10*Tennessee 23 Steelers 14
Nov. 15, 1998

NASHVILLE, Tenn.— The Steelers suffered a tough AFC Central loss to division-rival Tennessee, 23-14, at Vanderbilt Stadium in Nashville, giving the Oilers their first season sweep against the Steelers since 1993.

The game was decided by Al Del Greco's 22-yard field goal with three seconds remaining to give the Oilers a 16-14 advantage. The Oilers added their final seven points on the ensuing kickoff by recovering a fumbled Steelers' lateral in the end zone.

The Steelers moved the ball effectively in the first half, compiling 230 yards on offense while converting four-of-six third down opportunities. However, Pittsburgh came up empty on its first two drives, turning the ball over on downs and having rookie placekicker Matt George's first career field goal attempt blocked.

After an Al Del Greco 46-yard field goal gave Tennessee a 3-0 lead late in the first quarter, the Steelers surged back. Kordell Stewart led an eight-play, 74-yard drive that ended in a 10-yard touchdown pass to Mark Bruener that gave Pittsburgh a 7-3 lead.

Tennessee regained the lead, 10-7, after converting a Richard Huntley fumble into a 25-yard touchdown pass from Steve McNair to Willie Davis.

On the next drive, Stewart completed passes of 10 and 20 yards, and scrambled for 17 more to move the ball deep into Oilers' territory. Rookie running back Chris Fuamatu-Ma'afala then took a screen pass 26 yards into the end zone to give the Steelers a 14-10 lead on Pittsburgh's final score of the day. Del Greco added his second field goal to close the score to 14-13 at the half.

The two teams waged a defensive battle in the second half, with neither team scoring until Del Greco's final game-winning field goal. The Oilers managed to hold Jerome Bettis to 29 yards rushing on the day and prevented the Steelers from converting any of their five third down opportunities in the second half.

PITTSBURGH—The Steelers stayed in contention for their fifth consecutive AFC Central crown with a convincing victory against conference-leading Jacksonville, 30-15, at Three Rivers Stadium.

The win elevated the Steelers (7-4) to within one game of the Jaguars (8-3) and placed Pittsburgh in sole possession of second place. The Steelers received an assist by the New York Jets, who defeated Tennessee.

Cornerback Dewayne Washington was the player of the game, tying an NFL record and becoming the first Steeler to return two interceptions for touchdowns in a single game. Washington returned his first interception 52 yards in the first quarter for the first score of the game and closed the scoring with a 72-yard return to clinch the Steelers victory.

With the Steelers leading 7-0 in the second quarter, Pittsburgh drove 59 yards on 11 plays, and Norm Johnson kicked a 38-yard field goal to increase Pittsburgh's lead to 10-0.

After the defense stopped Jacksonville late in the second quarter, Johnson added a 29-yard field goal with :04 left in the half and gave Pittsburgh a 13-0 halftime lead.

Jacksonville did not score until 4:07 remained in the third quarter to cut the lead to 13-7. However, Stewart, who was 25-of-36 for 208 yards and one touchdown on the day, drove Pittsburgh 48 yards to the Jacksonville 24, where Johnson kicked his third field goal of the game, giving Pittsburgh a 16-7 lead.

Early in the fourth quarter, Stewart completed passes of 13, 19 and 11 yards to set up the team's only offensive touchdown. Mark Bruener's spectacular nine-yard touchdown catch on third down gave Pittsburgh a 23-7 lead.

Jacksonville cut the score to 23-15 midway through the fourth quarter, but Washington returned his second interception for a score to secure the Steelers victory.

Detroit 19 Steelers 16 (OT)
Nov. 26, 1998

PONTIAC, Mich.—The Steelers suffered a disappointing overtime loss in one of the most bizarre games of the 1998 season. In the end, the game was decided on a 42-yard field goal that gave the Detroit Lions a 19-16 Thanksgiving Day victory at the Pontiac Silver Dome.

A controversial coin flip to determine possession in the sudden-death overtime gave the Lions the ball first and subsequently an opportunity to kick the game-winning field goal.

The Steelers, though, dominated most of the game and held the Lions' Barry Sanders to an incredible 33 yards on 22 carries, a 1.7-yard average. In fact, 30 of Sanders' yards were accumulated on two runs, a 21-yarder early in the third quarter and a nine-yard gain in the overtime period.

Two of the Steelers' five first-half possessions began in Detroit territory. Moreover, the Steelers marched into Lions territory on each of their five offensive possessions, only to yield six points.

Detroit did manage a late field goal in the second quarter to whittle the Steelers' halftime advantage to 6-3.

Neither team produced much offensively in the second half.

The Steelers could not capitalize on a fumble by the Lions on the opening kickoff of the second half that gave Pittsburgh possession at the Detroit 35-yard line.

In a game of bizarre plays, the Steelers used one of those to score their first TD of the game. Kordell Stewart's pass to Jerome Bettis bounced off Bettis' hands, but Will Blackwell alertly picked off the deflected pass and ran untouched for 15 yards for a Steelers' TD.

Detroit scored 10 points in a five-minute span, including a field goal that followed a muffed reverse on a kickoff that the Lions recovered at the Steelers' nine-yard line.

Norm Johnson connected on a 25-yard field goal with one second remaining to send the game into overtime.

Patriots 23 Steelers 9
Dec. 6, 1998

PITTSBURGH—Hoping to generate some momentum for the stretch run of a seventh consecutive playoff berth and possibly a fifth straight AFC Central title, the Steelers suffered a significant setback when they were defeated, 23-9, by the New England Patriots at Three Rivers Stadium.

The loss marked the first time the Steelers have lost consecutive games since the end of the 1996 season and dropped the team's record to 7-6, tying them with Tennessee and Oakland for the seventh-best record in the AFC.

Pittsburgh got off to a slow start on offense, punting on each of its first three drives. New England responded by scoring 13 points on three of its first four drives. Adam Vinatieri's 21-yard field goal gave New England its first lead of the game and marked only the second time all season that the opposition has scored on their first drive against the Steelers.

Kordell Stewart, who was 21-of-45 for 206 yards and two interceptions, sparked the Steelers offense in the second quarter, leading the team on two scoring drives that covered 57 and 68 yards. However, the Steelers had to settle for field goals of 49 and 26 yards, and trailed 13-6 at halftime.

Safety Chris Oldham provided the Steelers with an excellent scoring opportunity early in the second half, intercepting his first pass of the season and returning it 14 yards to the New England 46. Stewart then completed a 17-yard pass to Mark Bruener, which helped set up Johnson's third field goal from 43 yards out, to close the score to 13-9.

The Steelers could not score again. Two Stewart interceptions, a fumble by Jerome Bettis and six dropped passes hampered Pittsburgh's chances of mounting a comeback.

The Steelers intercepted Patriots quarterback Drew Bledsoe three times. But New England controlled the ball for 38:24 and never allowed Pittsburgh to mount a serious comeback threat.

Dec. 13, 1998

TAMPA, Fla.—The Steelers generated only 168 yards on offense and suffered their third straight loss, 16-3, to the Tampa Bay Buccaneers at Raymond James Stadium.

Pittsburgh's once potent rushing game was limited to 88 yards on the day and Tampa Bay's defense held Jerome Bettis to 63 yards on 17 carries (3.7 avg.).

The Steelers' passing game fared even worse, generating 98 yards, but also turning the ball over five times. Kordell Stewart completed only nine-of-21 passes for 88 yards and three interceptions and was temporarily benched in favor of Mike Tomczak. Tomczak completed just one-of-two passes for 10 yards, and committed two turnovers, a fumble and an interception in his brief appearance.

On their first drive, the Steelers moved the ball 66 yards on 12 plays, led by Jerome Bettis' six carries for 28 yards, setting up Norm Johnson's 27-yard field goal.

But the Steelers would not score again and extended their streak without a touchdown to nine quarters plus an overtime period, dating back to the third quarter of their Thanksgiving Day game at Detroit.

The Buccaneers tied the game at 3-3 on the strength of a 46-yard punt return by Jacques Green which led to a Michael Husted 39-yard field goal to end the first quarter. Husted added a 37-yard field goal in the second quarter to give the Buccaneers a 6-3 halftime lead.

The Steelers turned the ball over on five of their six second-half drives. Stewart threw his first interception of the game on the Steelers' opening drive of the second half. Tomczak played the next series for Pittsburgh, but had the ball stripped from his hand and recovered by Tampa Bay at the Pittsburgh seven yard-line, leading to Mike Alstott's three-yard touchdown run and a 13-3 Tampa Bay lead. Tomczak threw an interception on the Steelers' next drive and was replaced by Stewart. But Stewart threw two more interceptions and the Buccaneers added another field goal to seal the 16-3 victory.

Dec. 20, 1998

PITTSBURGH—The Steelers missed out on the NFL playoffs for the first time in the Bill Cowher era after a disappointing 25-24 loss to the Cincinnati Bengals at Three Rivers Stadium.

The Steelers (7-8) gained only 211 yards, including 86 passing. Quarterback Kordell Stewart continued to struggle, going five of 13 for 30 yards, and was replaced at halftime. The Steelers' offense never appeared to be in sync, despite a solid effort by Jerome Bettis who gained 104 yards on 21 carries.

The Steelers' defense was victimized by the Bengals offense that compiled a season-high 483 yards, including a 367-yard passing effort by Bengals quarterback Jeff Blake.

The Bengals jumped out to an early 13-0 lead, capitalizing on two Doug Pelfrey field goals and a 55-yard fumble return by strong safety Sam Shade when Kordell Stewart was stripped of the football on a sack by outside linebacker Reinard Wilson.

The Steelers defense put the team's first points on the board in the second quarter when Carnell Lake intercepted his fourth pass of the season and returned it 15 yards for a touchdown with 1:42 remaining in the half. But the Bengals took the ensuing kickoff and marched 44 yards to set up Doug Pelfrey's third field goal and a 16-7 halftime lead.

The play of the Steelers special teams was one of the few bright spots on the team. Punter Josh Miller placed seven punts inside the Cincinnati 20, and wide receiver/kick returner David Dunn returned five kickoffs for 168 yards.

Dunn fumbled the opening kick in the second half after a 36-yard return, but Chris Oldham recovered the ball and sprinted 54 yards for a Steelers touchdown to close the score to 16-14.

Mike Tomczak then led the offense on a four-play, 57-yard drive, keyed by his 42-yard pass to Charles Johnson, setting up Jerome Bettis' four-yard scoring run and a 21-16 lead.

But the Bengals scored on their next play from scrimmage for a 22-21 lead after a failed PAT attempt. The two teams traded field goals in the fourth quarter for the 25-24 final.

GAME
16Jacksonville 21 Steelers 3
Dec. 28, 1998

JACKSONVILLE, Fla.—The Steelers concluded their 1998 season with a 21-3 loss to AFC Central-rival Jacksonville Jaguars at ALLTEL Stadium in Jacksonville.

The loss was the Steelers' fifth straight to give the team a 7-9 final record, the Steelers' first losing season during Bill Cowher's tenure.

The Steelers began the game impressively and dominated time of possession in the first quarter, 10:53 to 4:07, but produced no points.

On the initial offensive series of the game, the Steelers marched 43 yards on 10 plays to the Jaguars' 30-yard line, but Kordell Stewart, who gained nine yards on a nifty run, fumbled and Jacksonville recovered at its own 17-yard line to end the Steelers' threat.

Aided by a poor punt that gave them excellent field position at its own 43-yard line, the Steelers again moved deep into Jacksonville territory, but could not capitalize when Norm Johnson misfired on a 47-yard field goal attempt.

The Steelers then produced their best drive of the game. Beginning at their own eight-yard line, the Steelers systematically moved to the Jacksonville six-yard line but fell three yards short of a first down and had to settle for a 24-yard field goal for a 3-0 lead.

Jacksonville, though, scored on its next two possessions and surged to a 14-3 halftime lead. The first score was set up by a 40-yard pass interference penalty against the Steelers, and the second on a 64-yard strike from Jonathan Quinn to Keenan McCardell.

The Jaguars produced the game's final score on their second possession of the second half that was set up again by a long pass play. Quinn connected with Jimmy Smith on a 42-yard reception and then Fred Taylor covered the final 12 yards on the next play for a Jacksonville TD and the 21-3 final.

One bright spot in the game was Jerome Bettis' season-high 139 yards on 26 carries, the first time in the season he had back-to-back 100-yard games.

STEELERS HISTORY

The fifth-oldest franchise in the NFL, the Steelers were founded on July 8, 1933 by Arthur Joseph Rooney. Originally named the Pittsburgh Pirates, they were a member of the Eastern Division of the 10-team NFL. The other four current NFL teams in existence at that time were the Chicago (Arizona) Cardinals, Green Bay Packers, Chicago Bears and New York Giants.

One of the great pioneers of the sports world, Art Rooney passed away on August 25, 1988 following a stroke at the age of 87. "The Chief," as he was affectionately known, is enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame and is remembered as one of Pittsburgh's great people.

Born on January 27, 1901 in Coultersville, Pa., Art Rooney was the oldest of Daniel and Margaret Rooney's nine children. He grew up in Old Allegheny, now known as Pittsburgh's North Side, and until his death he still lived on the North Side just a short distance from Three Rivers Stadium.

Rooney attended St. Peter's Parochial School and Duquesne University Prep School. He studied collegiately at Indiana (Pa.) Normal, which is now Indiana University of Pennsylvania, as well as at Georgetown and Duquesne.

An exceptional all-around athlete, Rooney held middleweight and welterweight titles from the AAU Boxing Championships and was named to the U.S. Olympic Boxing Team in 1920, although he did not participate in the Olympic Games. He played minor league baseball from 1920-25 before a promising career was cut short by an arm injury. Rooney continued playing football for several semi-pro teams in the Pittsburgh area. He was married on June 11, 1931 to Kathleen McNulty, and the couple had five sons — Daniel, Art Jr., Tim, John and Pat. In 1964, Rooney was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame for his contributions to the growth of the NFL and the Pittsburgh Steelers.

1930s: After founding the Pirates in 1933, Rooney watched his club struggle through its first seven seasons with just 22 wins and five different head coaches. While home games were played at Forbes Field, Rooney often took his team to such cities as Johnstown, Latrobe, Youngstown, New Orleans, and Louisville in the 1930s due to competition with baseball and college football.

In 1938 Rooney signed Colorado All-America Byron "Whizzer" White to a $15,800 contract, making White the first "big money" player in the NFL. White led the league in rushing that year and is one of the NFL's most illustrious alumni. He served 31 years as a Justice of the United States Supreme Court before retiring in 1993.

1940s: In 1940 Rooney changed the team name to the Pittsburgh Steelers, representing the heritage of Pittsburgh. The first winning record in the organization's history came in 1942 when head coach Walt Kiesling led the Steelers to a 7-4 finish with the league-leading rushing of rookie Bill Dudley. But the next year Dudley joined the Armed Forces along with many other NFL players as the nation went to war. With rosters depleted, Rooney merged the Steelers with the Philadelphia Eagles in 1943 (Phil-Pitt "Steagles") and with the Chicago Cardinals (Card-Pitt) in 1944.

Rooney hired legendary Pitt coach Jock Sutherland in 1946, and Dudley returned from the war to earn NFL MVP honors, leading the league in rushing, interceptions, and punt returns. Today, Dudley is a member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

Sutherland led the 1947 Steelers to an 8-4 record for a share of the Eastern division title, but they lost their first-ever postseason game, 21-0 to Philadelphia. Sutherland died suddenly the following spring while on a scouting trip.

1950s: Succeeding Sutherland, John Michelosen was head coach for the 1948-51 seasons, compiling a 20-26-2 record. In 1952 Joe Bach returned for his second stint with the Steelers, having coached the team previously in 1935-36. The Steelers became the last team to abandon the single wing for the T-formation in 1952.

Bach resigned for health reasons following the 1954 season and was replaced by assistant coach Walt Kiesling, who had been the Steelers' head coach twice previously. Kiesling's three stints covered the 1939-40, 1941-44, and 1954-56 campaigns.

1960s: Buddy Parker was named head coach in 1957 and over the next eight years he led the Steelers to five non-losing seasons. Hall of Fame quarterback Bobby Layne quarterbacked the team through three of those campaigns, leading the Steelers to a 9-5 mark and a playoff game vs. Detroit in 1962, which the Steelers lost 17-10. Parker completed his tenure with a 51-48-6 record and ranks third among all-time Steelers coaches for career wins.

Brief stints by Mike Nixon in 1965 and Bill Austin from 1966-68 preceded the hiring of the 37-year-old Chuck Noll on January 27, 1969. Noll began to rebuild the Steelers through the draft, starting with the defense when he selected defensive tackle Joe Greene with his first choice in 1969. Today Greene is a member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

1970s: A 1-13 record in 1969 gave the Steelers the first overall choice in the 1970 draft, with which Noll addressed the offense by selecting quarterback Terry Bradshaw, another Hall of Famer, after the Steelers won the first selection by winning a coin toss with the Chicago Bears. Cornerback Mel Blount was added in the third round that year, followed by linebacker Jack Ham in 1971 and running back Franco Harris in 1972. In all, Noll drafted six players who are now enshrined in the Hall of Fame including three in his first 20 picks and four of his first 38.

Two significant changes took place in 1970, when the Steelers moved from the NFL Century Division to the AFC Central with the merger of the American Football League and the NFL. The Steelers also moved into a new home as Three Rivers Stadium opened. Previously, the Steelers had played home games at Forbes Field from 1933-57 and at both Forbes Field and Pitt Stadium from 1958-63. From 1964-69 the Steelers played at Pitt Stadium until Three Rivers opened in 1970.

Gradual improvement in the early 1970s resulted in the team's first division title in 1972 with an 11-3 record. In the first playoff game at Three Rivers the Steelers defeated the Oakland Raiders 13-7 with Franco Harris' "Immaculate Reception" in the final minute. Despite a 21-17 loss the following week to the undefeated Miami Dolphins, the Steelers had reached a new plateau.

It took 40 years for the Steelers to finally win their first division title, but over the next decade they achieved a level of success unprecedented in professional football.

In 1973 the Steelers won a wild card playoff berth with a 10-4 record. Oakland avenged their loss from the previous year, however, with a 33-14 defeat of the Steelers in the playoffs.

The Steelers won their first of six consecutive AFC Central titles in 1974 and marched past Buffalo (32-14) and Oakland (24-13) en route to their first Super Bowl appearance in Super Bowl IX. The fierce Pittsburgh defense led the way to a 16-6 victory vs. the Minnesota Vikings, and Art Rooney was presented the Vince Lombardi Trophy for the first time.

In 1975 the Steelers won 11 straight games to finish 12-2 and claim their second consecutive division crown. After defeating Baltimore (28-10) and Oakland (16-10) in the playoffs the Steelers became the third team in NFL history, joining Green Bay and Miami, to win back-to-back Super Bowls with a 21-17 win versus the Dallas Cowboys in Super Bowl X.

The 1976 Steelers struggled to a 1-4 start before reeling off nine straight victories including five shutouts to win the division with a 10-4 mark. They defeated Baltimore 40-14 in the playoffs, but lost to Oakland, 24-7, after both starting running backs, Harris and Rocky Bleier, were injured. The following year the Steelers dropped a 34-21 decision to Denver in the first round of the playoffs after posting a 9-5 regular-season record.

In 1978 the Steelers made history after a league-best 14-2 regular season and playoff wins versus Denver (33-10) and Houston (34-5). Their 35-31 Super Bowl XIII win versus Dallas made the Steelers the first team to win three Super Bowls.

Yet another standard was set the following year when the 1979 Steelers defeated the Los Angeles Rams, 31-19, in Super Bowl XIV to make them the first team in history to win four Super Bowls and the only team to win back-to-back Super Bowls twice. The Super Bowl victory followed a 12-4 regular season and playoff wins versus Miami (34-14) and Houston (27-13). With six consecutive AFC Central crowns, eight straight years of playoff appearances and four Super Bowl championships, the Steelers were tagged the "Team of the Decade" for the 1970s.

1980s: As the 1980s opened the Steelers stumbled, failing to make the playoffs in 1980 and 1981 with records of 9-7 and 8-8.

In 1982 the Steelers celebrated the team's 50th anniversary by qualifying for the playoffs with a 6-3 finish in a strike-interrupted season. During the season an anniversary banquet was held to commemorate the team's first 50 seasons and to honor the Steelers' all-time team as selected by fan voting. Thousands of fans were attracted to Pittsburgh for a week of activities and exhibits before the anniversary season was ended by San Diego's 31-28 win in the playoffs. This would be the last playoff game at Three Rivers until the 1992 season, a span of 10 years.

The 1983 Steelers won their eighth division title with a 10-6 record, but fell in the postseason, 38-10 to the Los Angeles Raiders. The following year the Steelers won their ninth division crown and the team advanced to the AFC Championship game with a 24-17 playoff win at Denver. A 45-28 loss to Miami in the AFC Championship game prevented the Steelers from a fifth Super Bowl appearance.

The Steelers' streak of 13 consecutive non-losing seasons came to an end in 1985 with a 7-9 finish, followed by 6-10 in 1986. Playoff hopes remained alive in 1987 until the Steelers lost their last two games to finish 8-7 during the strike-shortened season.

In 1988 the team suffered through its worst campaign in 19 years with a 5-11 record. The next season got off to a similar start with losses of 51-0 and 41-10 in the first two games as the offense failed to score in the first month of the season. But the young team fought back to finish 9-7 and earn a wild card playoff berth on the season's final weekend. An exciting 26-23 overtime playoff win in Houston was followed by a heartbreaking 24-23 divisional playoff loss at Denver in which the Steelers led until the final minutes.

1990s: A 9-7 finish in 1990 left the Steelers in a three-way tie for the AFC Central lead, but they were eliminated from playoff contention by a 2-4 division record. The 1991 team finished second in the division despite a 7-9 record, winning the last two games under Noll at home against the Cincinnati Bengals and Cleveland Browns.

On December 26, 1991 Noll announced his retirement from football after 39 consecutive seasons, the last 23 as the Steelers' head coach which made him one of only four men to coach the same team for 23 consecutive years. He left as the fifth-winningest coach in NFL history with an overall record of 209-156-1, and as the only coach to win four Super Bowls. Noll was rewarded in 1993 with his election to the Hall of Fame in his first year of eligibility.

A new era began in 1992 with the retirement of Noll and the arrival of 34-year-old Bill Cowher, the National Football League's youngest head coach at the time he assumed control. In the first season of the new era, the Steelers won the AFC Central division crown for the first time since 1984 with an 11-5 record. While the team enjoyed new-found success, Cowher was recognized by the Associated Press as the NFL's Coach of the Year and six Steelers played in the Pro Bowl, the most in more than a decade.

Under Cowher the Steelers became the first AFC team since the 1970 merger to claim its 10th division title. Their 11-5 record equaled the best in the conference and gave the Steelers the home field throughout the playoffs, but in the first postseason game at Three Rivers in exactly 10 years the Steelers were defeated by eventual AFC champion Buffalo, 24-3.

In 1993, the Steelers earned a wild card playoff berth, marking their first consecutive playoff appearances since the 1983-84 seasons. A 9-7 record was good for second place in the division, but the season ended in a 27-24 overtime loss in Kansas City in the AFC wild-card game.

The 1994 Steelers won seven of their final eight regular-season games for their strongest finish since 1978. They captured their second division title in three years with the AFC's best record of 12-4. After a 29-9 victory over the Cleveland Browns in the first round of the playoffs, Pittsburgh hosted their first AFC Championship game since 1984. The game went down to the wire and the Steelers lost to the San Diego Chargers, 17-13.

At 38, Bill Cowher became the youngest head coach to lead his team to a Super Bowl. Along the way, Cowher's team captured their third AFC Central division title in four years, made their fourth straight playoff appearance, and won the Steelers' first AFC title since 1979. After a first-round bye, they defeated the Buffalo Bills (40-21) and the Indianapolis Colts (20-16), before losing to the Dallas Cowboys 27-17 in Super Bowl XXX in Tempe, Arizona.

In 1996, injuries forced Cowher to use 40 different starters during the course of the season. But the Steelers' "never-say-die" attitude led to a 10-6 finish and their fifth consecutive trip to the playoffs. Cowher earned his 50th regular-season win Nov. 3, 1996 in his 73rd game to become the eighth fastest to reach 50 wins. He ended the season with 57 career victories ranking him as the second winningest coach in team history, behind his predecessor Noll.

The Steelers captured their fourth consecutive AFC Central title in 1997, while posting an 11-5 record. They were one play away from earning their sixth Super Bowl appearance and lost to Denver, 24-21, in the AFC Championship game.

In 1998, the Steelers finished a disappointing 7-9, losing their last five regular-season games and missing the playoffs for the first time under Bill Cowher. It marked the first time that Cowher had been associated with a team with a losing record during his 14-year coaching career.

By the mid-1960s, Steelers founder Art Rooney had begun to turn over much of the operation of the Steelers to his oldest son, Daniel M. Rooney. After having worked in every area of the organization since 1955, Dan Rooney was named president of the Steelers in 1975. Now in his 44th year with the organization, he is one of the most active NFL owners and one of Pittsburgh's most involved executives in civic affairs.

Among his community activities, Dan Rooney is a board member for The United Way of America, The American Ireland Fund, The American Diabetes Association, Presbyterian University Hospital, The Pittsburgh History and Landmarks Foundation and Duquesne University.

Dan Rooney has been a member of several NFL committees over the past 30 years. He has served on the board of directors for the NFL Trust Fund, NFL Films and the Scheduling Committee. He was appointed chairman of the Expansion Committee in 1973, which considered new franchise locations and directed the addition of Seattle and Tampa Bay as expansion teams in 1976.

In 1976 Rooney was also named chairman of the Negotiating Committee, and in 1982 he contributed to the negotiations for the Collective Bargaining Agreement for the NFL and the Players' Association. He again played a key role in the labor agreement reached between NFL owners and players in 1993. Rooney is currently a member of the eight-person Management Council Executive Committee, the Hall of Fame Committee, and the NFL Properties Executive Committee. In February 1999, he was named the recipient of the Philadelphia Maxwell Football Club's Francis J. "Reds" Bagnell Award for outstanding contributions to the game of football.

Daniel M. Rooney was born on Pittsburgh's North Side on July 20, 1932. He is a 1950 graduate of North Catholic High School, where he played quarterback on the varsity football team. He went on to graduate from Duquesne University in 1955 with a bachelor of arts degree in accounting. Rooney and his wife Patricia live on the North Side.

The problem: Suddenly, the going gets tough. The solution: Rock on in the Grand Am SE with SolidForm Design. It's built with enough solid steel reinforcements to make Pittsburgh jealous. After all, you need the right kind of armor. Because the road can be a pretty rough place.
