PORTLAND THORNS FC VS NORTH CAROLINA SATURDAY, JUNE 8, 2024

MATCH PREVIEW

Portland Thorns FC (4th, 6-4-1, 19pts) are back in action on Saturday evening and in front of their own to take on North Carolina Courage (7th, 5-6-0, 15pts). Portland will look to bounce-back and reignite their winning streak following a two week international break.

The second and final regular season meeting of the season between Portland and North Carolina will be going down at Providence Park this Saturday, and the Thorns will be looking for a little pay back following a 2-0 loss at NCC in mid-April. Since that matchup, the two clubs have had opposite trajectories leading up to this weekend. The Thorns began a winning streak that would last six-straight matchdays and the Courage sunk into a funk that saw them lose five of seven games. Following the international break, both teams are refocused on getting back to winning ways.

Forward Tyler Lussi and midfielder Ashley Sanchez continue to be the Courage's offense, both having four goal involvement apiece. Centerback Kaleigh Kurtz has kept their backline competitive, leading the club in clearances and blocks per game with 5.8 and 1.1, respectively. Goalkeeper Casey Murphy has four clean sheets to her name and has saved 67.4% of her shots thus far, and have all played a role in making the Courage the fifth-best defense in the league in goals conceded per match at 1.3.

CONNECTIONS WITH NCC

The only player who has played for both Portland Thorns and North Carolina Courage is midfielder Tyler Lussi. Lussi was drafted by the Thorns in 2017 in the third round, and spent her first five years in the Rose City before being traded to Angel City in 2022. Lussi joined North Carolina via trade in March of 2023 and has been with the Courage ever since.

North Carolina defender Sydney Collins grew up in Oregon and was part of the Thorns FC Academy from 2017-18.

Thorns midfielder Jessie Fleming and Courage forward Ashley Sanchez attended UCLA together from 2017-19 where they helped the Bruins win the 2017 National Championship.

UPCOMING MILESTONES

Against Seattle, Sophia Smith scored her 40th career regular-season goal, putting her into the top 13th for all-time goals in the National Women's Soccer League. She became the youngest player in league history to score 40 goals, surpassing Sam Kerr by several months. Her three assists also made her the sixth player in league history to record three assists in a single match. Smith now has 14 goals combined contributions (eight goals, six assists) through 10 matches, leading the league in goals, assists, shots and shots on target.

The Thorns are currently five goals away from achieving 400 goals in the history of the club, they will become the first team to do so once achieved.

LAST MATCH v. NCC

Portland Thorns FC (0-2-1, 1 point) suffered a 2-0 loss, on the road, to the North Carolina Courage.

North Carolina scored the opening goal in the fifth minute, with Tyler Lussi placing her shot inside the far post off a corner kick, taking the early 1-0 lead. Portland nearly had the equalizer in the 18th minute when Morgan Weaver threaded a through ball to the feet of an unmarked Sophia Smith, but her shot skipped inches wide of goal.

Portland looked to level the match, this time in the 33rd minute, with Weaver intercepting a pass inside the penalty box, but the Courage's defense was able to collapse on the ball, blocking her shot. Just as the Thorns were pressing for the equalizer and gaining offensive momentum, North Carolina doubled its lead with a header from Haley Hopkins.

The Thorns would be unable to find a goal in the first half, heading into the halftime break with a 2-0 deficit.

Coming out of the halftime break, the Thorns had a series of chances, including three-consecutive corner kicks, but the Courage were able to thwart Portland's advances, keeping them out of the back of the net.

The team continued to look for a way back into the match but would be unable to overcome the two-goal deficit, ultimately falling 2-0 to the Courage.
