BACK AT IT: The Pensacola Blue Wahoos look to avoid a sweep in the series finale of their opening homestand on Sunday afternoon against the Biloxi Shuckers.

ABOUT LAST NIGHT: The Blue Wahoos let a late lead slip away on Saturday night, falling to 0-2 on the young season...a go-ahead two-run homer from Biloxi's Tristen Lutz gave the Shuckers a 6-5 lead...Pensacola put a runner at third base with no outs in the eighth and ninth innings, but were unable to bring a run home...Zach McCambley started the game, allowing 4 runs, 2 earned, over 5.0 innings...Cobie Fletcher-Vance hit a two-run homer, and Santiago Chávez hit a solo homer in the sixth followed by a go-ahead bases-loaded walk in the seventh...the Blue Wahoos committed three errors, leading two two unearned runs, after playing error-free baseball on Friday night.

LOOKING AHEAD: The Blue Wahoos make their first and only road trip to Madison, Alabama on Monday to take on the Angels affiliate Rocket City Trash Pandas...the series, like the vast majority this season, will run Tuesday through Sunday...the Blue Wahoos return home for a six-game set against the Rays affiliate Montgomery Biscuits on Tuesday, April 19.

OPENING CEREMONIES: Friday night's season opener was a wild one, with the Shuckers prevailing 13-11 in 11 innings...Felix Valerio's two-run homer in the top of the 11th proved to be the game-winner, as Victor Victor Mesa's bid for a walk-off grand slam fell just short to end the game...the night began with the Double-A debut of Eury Pérez, who struck out 5 over 4.1 innings while allowing three runs...Griffin Conine and Paul McIntosh hit back-to-back homers in the second inning...McIntosh finished 3-for-4 and a triple shy of the cycle in his Blue Wahoos debut...Hayden Cantrelle, recently traded from Biloxi, hit a game-tying three-run homer in the eighth and a game-tying RBI double in the 10th against his former club...the Blue Wahoos rallied to tie the game in the eighth, ninth and 10th but fell to 0-1 on the season.

LIVE BALL ERA: Though it came in a defeat, the Blue Wahoos' 11 runs on Friday matched their 2021 season high...they scored 11 runs twice last season, July 13 against Chattanooga in an 11-3 win and on August 1 in an 11-3 win over Mississippi...on the other hand, their 13 runs allowed were the most in a game since June 9 of last year when they fell 16-3 to the Lookouts.

ALUMNI REPORT: Twins RHP Jhoan Duran became the 104th Blue Wahoos alumnus to reach the major leagues when he entered in relief of Friday's game against Seattle...Duran turned in 2.0 scoreless innings in a 2-1 loss, hitting 100 mph with his fastball and garnering online attention for his "splinker" pitch.

A LOOK BACK: In their first year as a Marlins affiliate, the Blue Wahoos played to a 57-54 record in 2021...their 3.51 team ERA was the best in the Double-A South, but their .212 batting average was the lowest in the league...four players were named Postseason All-Stars: Max Meyer (RHP), Jake Eder (LHP), Colton Hock (RP) and Peyton Burdick (OF)...Burdick's 23 home runs marked a franchise single-season record.

FEELING BRAND NEW: Blue Wahoos stadium received several upgrades prior to the 2022 season, most notably the replacement of natural grass with FieldTurf and the addition of LED lights to ensure the facility continues to meet MLB standards...the FieldTurf, installed and completed in March, is of a similar composition to the fields at LoanDepot Park in Miami and ABC Supply Stadium in High-A Beloit...it is the only artificial playing surface in the Southern League...also new in 2022: The Pepsi Pirate Ship Deck in right-center field.

TEENAGE DREAM: Eury Pérez made his Double-A debut Friday as the starting pitcher for the Blue Wahoos...at 18 years old, he is the first teenager to play for the Blue Wahoos in franchise history and the first to play for a Marlins Double-A club since Giancarlo Stanton and Matt Dominguez played for the Jacksonville Suns as 19-year-olds in 2009...the only other 18-year-old to play for a Marlins Double-A team was shortstop Edgar Rentería with the Portland Sea Dogs in 1995...the only other Marlins teenagers to play at the Double-A level are Miguel Cabrera (19, Carolina, 2003), Adrián González (19, Portland, 2002) and Alex González (19, Portland, 1996), all of whom were position players.

SMOKE ON THE WATER: Kevin "Smoke" Randel leads the Blue Wahoos in his second year as manager...it is his seventh season managing in the Marlins system, and his third at the Double-A level after leading Jacksonville in 2019...Scott Seabolt returns as hitting coach, with new coaching additions in Dave Eiland (pitching coach) and Frank Moore (defensive coach).

SHUCKING AROUND: Today marks the third of 30 matchups between the Blue Wahoos and Shuckers...there will be 15 games at Blue Wahoos Stadium, and 15 games at MGM Park in Biloxi...the Blue Wahoos are 76-70 all-time against Biloxi, including an 18-12 mark last season, and 0-2 so far in 2022.

WHEELING AND DEALING: Since breaking minor league camp last weekend, the Marlins made a pair of trades that impacted their Double-A roster...LHP Antonio Velez was sent to Baltimore in exchange for relievers Tanner Scott and Cole Sulser on Sunday night...on Wednesday, the Marlins traded catcher Alex Jackson to the Brewers in exchange for infielder Hayden Cantrelle and pitcher Alexis Ramírez.

A TRADITION UNLIKE ANY OTHER: Blue Wahoos minority owner Bubba Watson has season tickets behind home plate, but they will be used by someone else this weekend...Watson, a two-time Masters champion in 2012 and 2014, is back in Augusta this weekend for the Masters Tournament...an opening round of +1 on Thursday was followed by a +1 Friday, and +6 Saturday, putting him at +8 overall entering Sunday's action.
