How Aodhan Quinn is the USL Championship's Mr. Consistent | News & Notes

New all-time regular season minutes leader joined by three others in 20,000 minute club on Saturday night

"Eighty percent of success is showing up" – Woody Allen

What Allen meant wasn't that if you show up, good things will automatically happen, but if you don't show up at all, there's no chance of it occurring.

For 10 seasons in the USL Championship, Aodhan Quinn has shown up, and then some.

In this week's edition of the USL Championship News & Notes we take a look at the new all-time leader in regular season minutes in league history, the end of a one of the longest home undefeated streaks in USL Championship history, and the notable group of young players that two of the league's top 17-year-olds joined this weekend.

Plus we've got our regular guide to upcoming individual landmarks across the Championship, and the weekly Discipline Report.

Let's dig in.

NEWS AND NOTES

AODHAN QUINN MOVES INTO ALL-TIME MINUTES LEAD IN USL CHAMPIONSHIP

Indy Eleven's Aodhan Quinn became the USL Championship's all-time leader in regular season minutes on Saturday night as he played the full 90 minutes against the Tampa Bay Rowdies to move to 20,096 minutes in his career. Quinn and his predecessor in holding the record, Taylor Mueller, were joined by three other players in surpassing 20,000 minutes on Saturday night, with New Mexico United's Josh Suggs, Monterey Bay F.C.'s Hugh Roberts and Pittsburgh Riverhounds SC's Kenardo Forbes also achieving the landmark.

Quinn set the record in his 242nd regular season appearance in the USL Championship, which places him tied for seventh in the league's history. He has played 92.3 percent of available minutes in those appearances, an average of 83 minutes per appearance over his 10-season career.

The 31-year-old has recorded at least 2,200 minutes in a season on five occasions, and twice played every minute of a regular season, both for Orange County SC in 2018 and 2020. Additionally, he is one of seven players to have recorded a combined 100 goals and assists in the Championship for his career, currently sitting with 51 goals and 49 assists.

Pittsburgh Riverhounds SC is now the lone remaining side yet to be defeated at home this season (7-0-3), with the club's 11-game home undefeated streak – which began on October 15, 2022 against Oakland Roots SC after a defeat at home to San Antonio FC in its prior contest at Highmark Stadium – currently the longest active streak in the league.
