FC TULSA'S JOHAN PEÑARANDA AND THE GOLDEN GLOVE

FC Tulsa goalkeeper Johan Peñaranda recorded his fifth shutout in eight appearances this season in his side's scoreless draw against Orange County SC on Friday night. The mid-season acquisition is now at a goals-against average of 0.38 in 720 minutes of action, which would put the 24-year-old on pace to claim the Championship's Golden Glove, awarded to the goalkeeper with the lowest qualifying goals-against average over the regular season.

To qualify for the Golden Glove, Penaranda would need to reach 1,530 regular season minutes, a mark that equates to 50 percent of the club's regular season minutes. That would require Peñaranda to play the full 90 minutes in at least nine of Tulsa's remaining 14 regular season games, starting on Wednesday night on the road against current Western Conference leader New Mexico United.

Quick Hits

- Monterey Bay F.C. forward Alex Dixon became the eighth player to record 20,000 regular season minutes in the USL Championship this past Saturday night during the club's contest against Birmingham Legion FC. Dixon also currently sits third in all-time regular season appearances with 271 in his career.

- Following its comeback victory against Indy Eleven on Sunday evening, New Mexico United leads the USL Championship this season with 15 points gained from losing positions. That mark also equals New Mexico's club single season high, also achieved in the 2022 season.

- Indy Eleven's Sebastián Guenzatti moved into a tie for fifth all-time in the USL Championship's goalscoring regular season chart with the 74th goal of his career against Rhode Island FC last Wednesday night, joining Corey Hertzog.

- In conceding four goals against Louisville City FC this past Saturday, Sacramento Republic FC goalkeeper Danny Vitiello's goals against total on the road this season doubled from four goals to eight.

- Miami FC's defeat on Saturday night against El Paso Locomotive FC marked its seventh consecutive loss, the second seven-game losing streak the side has suffered this season. It is currently on course to record the fewest points in a USL Championship season since 2014, a mark that currently sits at 15 points.
