Emma HAYES

U.S. WOMEN'S NATIONAL TEAM HEAD COACH

BIRTHDATE: Oct. 18, 1976,
in Camden, England

HOMETOWN: London, England

Emma Hayes was named as the 10th full-time head coach in U.S. Women's National Team history on November 14, 2023. She officially joined U.S. Soccer in May of 2024.

Before coming to the U.S. Soccer, Hayes, 47, was the long-time head coach for Chelsea FC, one of the most successful women's teams in Europe, but she started her coaching career in the United States at the dawn of the millennium and more than two decades later takes the helm of the USWNT.

Hayes comes to the USA after winning her fifth consecutive Women's Super League title, clinching the championship on a dramatic last day with a 6-0 win over Manchester United. It was her seventh WSL title, the most in league history. No other club in the league has more than four titles total. Hayes leaves Chelsea with 15 trophies won, which included one Community Shield.

Hayes led Chelsea to five Women's Super League and Cup doubles, winning the league and the FA Cup four times in the same season and the league and the League Cup once. Chelsea won the treble in 2020-2021, taking the WSL, FA Cup and League Cup trophies.

Hayes' first Women's FA Cup title with Chelsea came during the 2014-2015 season, and the club followed it with the Women's Super League title to complete a historic and memorable double. She was the only female manager in the league at that time. Hayes led Chelsea to a second domestic double of FA Cup and WSL titles in the 2017-2018 season and reached the semifinal of the UEFA Women's Champions League for a second time.

In 2019-2020, the Blues won the WSL title and the League Cup and then successfully defended both trophies the next season while also reaching their first Champions League Final. Those successes resulted in Hayes being named WSL Manager of the Season in consecutive campaigns, and she was also honored with The Best FIFA Women's Coach Award in 2021. The triumphs of the 2021-2022 WSL season made Hayes the first coach to guide a team to three consecutive WSL titles. The 2022-2023 season marked yet another double as Chelsea won the League and FA Cups.

Hayes, who grew up in London and went to university in Liverpool, came to the USA in 2001. She coached at the youth levels – working with players as young as Under-8s – with numerous clubs in the Long Island area, coached in the New York Olympic Development Program and was a member of the Region I staff. Her first head coaching job was with the Long Island Lady Riders in the USL W-League from 2001-2003. She was the youngest female head coach in the league and was named W-League Coach of the year in 2002. From 2003 onward, she has been a consistent presenter at the annual convention for the National Soccer Coaches Association of America, now United Soccer Coaches.

After the Lady Riders, Hayes coached Division I college soccer at Iona College in New Rochelle, New York for four years where she led the Gaels to two conference championships and earned another coach of the year honor before returning to the UK where she became an assistant coach for Arsenal FC, the trailblazing club for women's pro soccer in the UK, and the Academy Director for Arsenal Ladies.

During her time in North London, the Gunners achieved unprecedented success, winning 11 major trophies during a three-season spell, including three titles in the Women's Premier League (the precursor to the WSL), three FA Women's Cups and the UEFA Women's Cup crown (the precursor to the UEFA Women's Champions League). Her role in the Arsenal backroom staff was combined with her position as Academy Director where she oversaw the development of young players at the club, many of whom currently play in the Women's Super League.

Hayes returned to the United States in 2008 and coached the Chicago Red Stars during the start of Women's Professional Soccer, the second iteration of a pro league in the United States. Before her first WPS season, with the second overall pick in the league's inaugural draft, she chose a young attacking player from the University of Portland named Megan Rapinoe. She also had stints working as a coaching consultant for the Washington Freedom and as the technical director at the Western New York Flash, which won the WPS title in 2011 with a team she helped assemble. She returned to England in 2011 and was eventually named head coach at Chelsea, where she has coached numerous national team players from more than 25 different countries.

Hayes was rewarded with an OBE – Order of the British Empire – in 2022 on the New Year's honors list for services to soccer in the UK. Hayes was named an MBE – Member of the Order of the British Empire – on the Queen's 90th birthday honors list in June of 2016 and was presented with it the following December. She was inducted into the Women's Super League Hall of Fame in 2021.

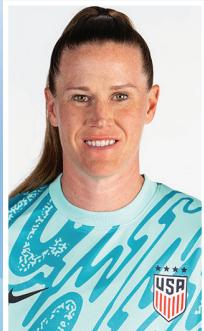

On Jan. 22, 2024, Hayes became the first woman to be presented with the Football Writers' Tribute award by the Football Writers Association (FWA) as she was honored for her outstanding contribution to the game in England.

Hayes is the second England-born coach to head the U.S. Women's National Team, after Jill Ellis, who spent the entirety of her coaching career in the United States. Hayes is also the fourth full-time female head coach in USWNT history. She holds a UEFA Pro License.

In 2023, Hayes co-wrote a book, Kill The Unicorn, a leadership manual that draws on her experience in high-performance management to argue that the perception of a single great leader is a myth.

In college, Hayes studied European Studies, Spanish and Sociology. She is conversational in Spanish. She recently completed her work towards a master's degree in Business Administration and has a master's in Intelligence and International Affairs. Hayes has a five-year-old son named Harry.

Alyssa NAEHER

GOALKEEPER

DATE OF BIRTH: April 20, 1988
HEIGHT: 5-9
HOMETOWN: Stratford, Conn.
COLLEGE: Penn State
CLUB: Chicago Red Stars

PREVIOUS OLYMPIC EXPERIENCE

- A three-time Olympian, Naeher was backup to Hope Solo at the 2016 Summer Olympics in Rio and made five starts at the delayed 2020 Olympics in Tokyo in the USA's run to the bronze medal before suffering an injury in the semifinal against Canada.
- Had a match for the ages against the Netherlands in the quarterfinal at Tokyo 2021, saving one penalty kick at the end of regulation and two in the shootout while making several crucial saves during regulation and overtime.

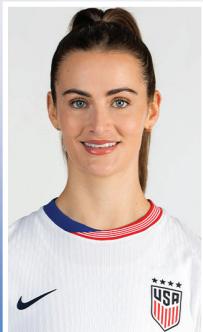

NATIONAL TEAM HIGHLIGHTS

- A two-time Women's World Cup champion, Naeher backed up Solo during the USA's run to the title in 2015 before playing every minute of all seven matches at the 2019 World Cup in France – the only U.S. player to do so – giving up only three goals while earning four shutouts and becoming the fifth goalkeeper in history to earn a shutout in a Women's World Cup Final.
- Played every minute during the 2023 FIFA Women's World Cup, registering three shutouts and allowing just one goal in the USA's four matches
- Naeher became the first choice starting goalkeeper for the USA in 2017 and ranks third all-time in caps, wins and shutouts for a goalkeeper in U.S. history.
- Helped the USA qualify for the 2024 Olympics by making two starts – both of them shutouts – at the 2022 Concacaf W Championship, including a clean sheet in the final against Canada.
- Earned her 100th cap on March 3, 2024, against Colombia, becoming the third goalkeeper in USWNT history to reach the 100-cap milestone.

CLUB: Arsenal FC (ENG)

NATIONAL TEAM HIGHLIGHTS

- Made her first World Cup Team in 2023 and had an excellent tournament, starting all four matches and playing all but eight minutes, as the USA allowed just two shots on goal and one goal.
- Has been a mainstay on the U.S. backline since the conclusion of the 2021 Olympics, showcasing her speed and top-class one-on-one abilities while defending and attacking.
- One of eight players to appear in every match for the USWNT at the 2024 Concacaf W Gold Cup and made four starts, playing every minute of the knockout stages and assisting Lindsey Horan's game-winning goal in the final against Brazil.
- Appeared in 17 of the USA's 18 matches in 2023 and finished second on the team in total minutes played.
- Appeared in three matches – making three starts – for the USA at the 2022 Concacaf W Championship, helping the USWNT qualify for both the 2023 FIFA Women's World Cup and 2024 Summer Olympics.
- Earned her first senior National Team call-up in November of 2018 for a pair of friendlies in Europe and got her first cap – and made her first start – on Nov. 8 against Portugal.
- Scored her first international goal on April 8, 2023, in Austin, Texas against the Republic of Ireland
- Represented the USA at the 2016 FIFA U-20 Women's World Cup in Papua New Guinea and the 2018 FIFA U-20 Women's World Cup in France.

NATIONAL TEAM HIGHLIGHTS

- The 2024 Olympics mark her first world championship roster at the senior level for U.S. Soccer.
- Competed at the 2022 FIFA Under-10 Women's World Cup in Costa Rica, appearing – and starting – in two of the USA's three group stage matches.
- Also spent time with the Under-15 and Under-17 Women's Youth National Teams.
- Earned her first call-up to the USWNT at the end of 2023 and made her international debut on Dec. 5, 2023, coming on as a late second-half substitute against China PR. She helped set up the USA's game-winning goal by drawing a foul near the top of the penalty area shortly after entering the match.
- Made her first career start in the opening match of the 2024 Concacaf W Gold Cup against Dominican Republic.
- One of eight players to appear in every match for the USWNT at the Gold Cup and made five starts, including all three knockout round games and going the distance in the semifinal against Canada and the final against Brazil.
- Came off the bench in both matches of the 2024 SheBelieves Cup and also saw action in both June friendlies against Korea Republic, starting the June 4 match in St. Paul.
- Had two more seasons of collegiate eligibility left at Notre Dame when she signed with Paris Saint-Germain in January 2023 and helped PSG win the 2023-24 Coupe de France.

NATIONAL TEAM HIGHLIGHTS

- Voted the 2023 U.S. Soccer Female Player of the Year, becoming the first pure defender to win the award in its 39-year history. She also became just the sixth player to win both U.S. Soccer Young Female Player of the Year (which she won in 2020) and U.S. Soccer Female Player of the Year, joining Sophia Smith, Lindsey Horan, Julie Ertz, Tobin Heath and Lauren Cheney Holiday.
- Made her first World Cup Team in 2023 and had a stellar tournament, playing every minute at center back as the USA allowed only two shots on goal and one goal.
- Started all 16 games she played in 2023, helping lead the U.S. defense to its lowest ever goals against average (0.17 goals allowed per game) in a calendar year (minimum 10 games played).
- Made four appearances – including two starts – at the 2022 Concacaf W Championship, helping the USA qualify for both the 2023 FIFA Women's World Cup and the 2024 Summer Olympics.
- Recorded the first assist of her international career in the USA's win over Jamaica at the 2022 Concacaf W Championship.
- Earned her first call-up to the senior National Team in October of 2020 but made her breakthrough in 2022, when she was called up again for January Camp and made her international debut on April 12, 2022, playing the full 90 minutes in a shutout victory over Uzbekistan.
- Represented the USA at two FIFA Youth World Cups, every minute of all three games at the 2016 FIFA U-17 Women's World Cup in Jordan and every minute of all three games at the 2018 FIFA U-20 Women's World Cup in France.

PREVIOUS OLYMPIC EXPERIENCE

- A two-time Olympian, Krueger was originally named as an alternate to the 2021 Olympic Team, but was promoted to the active roster when the IOC confirmed the roster expansion to 22 players and helped the USA win the bronze medal.
- She made her Olympic debut on July 24 vs. New Zealand, coming on in the 84th minute for Crystal Dunn for her only Olympic action.

NATIONAL TEAM HIGHLIGHTS

- One of two mothers on this Olympic roster, she returned to the field for the USWNT for the matches in April of 2023 for the first time since a post-Olympic match on Oct. 21, 2021, vs. South Korea, and the first time since giving birth to her son, Caleb, in July of 2022. She played 45 minutes against Ireland on April 11 become the 17th woman to play for the USWNT as a mother.
- A versatile and experienced defender who can play outside back or centrally, Krueger has been called into every camp for the USWNT since the conclusion of the 2023 FIFA Women's World Cup.
- Playing under her maiden name of Short, she made her USWNT debut on October 19, 2016, in Sandy, Utah, starting and playing the full 90 minutes in the USA's 4-0 win over Switzerland.
- Saw her most extensive action for the USWNT in 2017, appearing in 15 matches and making 13 starts.
- During 2018, was in the mix for the World Cup Team, playing in eight matches, including two appearances at the Concacaf Women's Championship, but did not make the final World Cup roster.

Crystal DUNN

FORWARD

DATE OF BIRTH: July 3, 1992
HEIGHT: 5-1
HOMETOWN:

PREVIOUS OLYMPIC EXPERIENCE

- A three-time Olympian, Dunn made her first Olympic Team roster in 2016 and appeared in all four matches during the Rio Games, making two starts and scoring against Colombia in the group stage finale while playing primarily as a forward.
- Made her second Olympic Team for the delayed 2020 Tokyo Games and was the only player to start all six games. Playing as an outside back, Dunn led the team in minutes played, earning 554 of the 570 total minutes in Tokyo.

NATIONAL TEAM HIGHLIGHTS

- A 2019 World Cup champion, Dunn had a stellar tournament and played every minute of all six of her starts in France at outside back and had one assist in the tournament, that coming in the opening game victory vs. Thailand.
- Had another strong showing at the 2023 World Cup, starting all four matches at outside back and helping anchor a U.S. defense that allowed only two shots on goal and one goal.
- Emerged as a key player for the WNT at the end of 2015 after a stellar NWSL season and played as a winger/striker until the final game of the 2018 SheBelieves Cup against England when she played left back, a position she then held during for most of 2018-2023 except when she was out during her pregnancy.
- Listed as a forward for the 2024 Olympics and played on the forward line for both the USA's June matches against Korea Republic, starting on June 4 in Minnesota and scoring her first goal for the USWNT since 2018.

PREVIOUS OLYMPIC EXPERIENCE

- A two-time Olympian, Williams was originally selected as an alternate for the 2024 Olympic Team but was added to the 18-player final roster to replace Catarina Macario, who was unable to prepare physically for the Olympic tournament due to consistent irritation in her right knee.
- Williams was originally named as an alternate to the 2021 Olympic Team but was added to the active roster when the IOC expanded the rosters to 22 players. She made her Olympic debut on July 27 against Australia, playing the final 16 minutes and got the start against the Netherlands in the quarterfinals where she scored a goal and had a great assist on Samantha Mewis' diving header.

NATIONAL TEAM HIGHLIGHTS

- Was named to her first World Cup roster at any level for Australia/New Zealand 2023 and appeared in two matches, making one start in the group stage finale against Portugal.
- She got her first call-up to the National Team during a remarkable two-week stretch in October of 2016 when she won the NWSL scoring title, the NWSL MVP, an NWSL championship and made her debut for the USA.
- Williams scored just 49 seconds after coming into the game in her first cap against Switzerland on October 29, 2016.
- Returned to action for the USWNT in January of 2023 for her first international action since tearing her hamstring the prior March in NWSL preseason and punctuated her return with a goal just seven minutes after entering the USA's match against New Zealand in Wellington.

PREVIOUS OLYMPIC EXPERIENCE

- A two-time Olympian, Swanson was the youngest player on the U.S. roster for the 2016 Olympics in Rio at the age of 18. Playing under her maiden name of Pugh, Swanson played in three matches – making two starts – and scored against Colombia to become the youngest U.S. player ever to score in the Olympics.

NATIONAL TEAM HIGHLIGHTS

- Returned to the field for the USWNT on April 6 during the 2024 SheBelieves Cup in her first action for the USA in nearly a year after suffering a season-ending injury on April 8, 2023, in the USA's match against the Republic of Ireland, which kept her out of the 2023 World Cup.
- Had an afternoon to remember in her home state of Colorado, scoring twice and adding an assist in the USA's 4-0 victory over Korea Republic on June 1, which marked her first goals for the USWNT since returning from injury.
- Before her injury in April of 2023, Swanson was on a roll, scoring in six consecutive games from the end of 2022 through early 2023 and leading the USA in scoring with seven goals on the year, despite only playing in six matches.
- A 2019 Women's World Cup champion, Swanson appeared in three matches during the USA's run to the 2019 title in France, making one start against Chile in the group stage and tallying a goal and assist in the opener vs. Thailand.
- Scored in her senior team debut on Jan. 23, 2016, vs. Ireland at 17 years, 8 months and 25 days old.

- Played in all six of the USWNT's matches at the delayed Tokyo Olympics, making five starts. She scored in the group stage win over New Zealand and tallied an assist in the bronze medal match against Australia.

NATIONAL TEAM HIGHLIGHTS

- Made her World Cup debut at the 2019 FIFA Women's World Cup in France, where she had an excellent tournament, making six appearances, scoring in the group stage wins over Thailand and Sweden and tallying assists against Thailand and in the semifinal against England.
- Captained the USA at the 2023 World Cup and started all four matches, scoring against Vietnam and the Netherlands.
- Horan had six goals and five assists in 2021 and was named the U.S. Soccer Female Player of the Year, which made her just the fourth player to win both the U.S. Soccer Female and Young Female Player of the Year awards, the latter of which she won in 2013.
- A consistent presence in the midfield and regular captain for the USWNT, Horan made her USWNT debut in 2013 and has tallied at least one goal for the USA every year since 2015, the longest such streak by any player currently on the team.
- One of two players to start every game for the USA at the 2022 Concacaf W Championship, helping the USA qualify for both the 2023 FIFA Women's World Cup and the 2024 Summer Olympics.

NATIONAL TEAM HIGHLIGHTS

- Earned her first senior National Team call-up in 2017 at the age of 16 but did not make her debut until November of 2020, when she became the first players born in the 2000s – and the first player born after the historic 1999 FIFA Women's World Cup – to earn a cap for the USWNT.
- Named to her first world championship roster at the senior level for the 2023 Women's World Cup and started all four of the USA's matches Down Under, tallying a brace against Vietnam in the opener.
- Smith was named the 2022 U.S. Soccer Female Player of the Year, capping off a remarkable calendar year in which she led the USWNT in scoring with 11 goals, was voted NWSL MVP, won the NWSL Championship and was voted the Championship Game MVP.
- Smith is just the fifth player to win both U.S. Soccer's Young and Senior Player of the Year awards after being named Young Female Player of the Year in 2017.
- Started all five matches for the USA at the 2022 Concacaf W Championship -- and scored twice in the USA's 5-0 group stage win over Jamaica -- helping the USA qualify for both the 2023 FIFA Women's World Cup and the 2024 Summer Olympics.
- Scored a hat-trick against Uzbekistan on April 9, 2022, at 21 years and 242 days of age, becoming the fifth youngest to score a hat trick in USWNT history.

PREVIOUS OLYMPIC EXPERIENCE

- A two-time Olympian, Davidson played in five of the USA's six matches at the delayed Tokyo 2020 Olympics, making four starts and playing every minute of the semifinal and bronze medal match.

NATIONAL TEAM HIGHLIGHTS

- The youngest member of the 2019 World Cup champions, Davidson made one appearance – and one start – in 2019 in France, that coming against Chile in the group stage when she also tallied two assists.
- Made a career-high 19 appearances and 14 starts for the USA in 2021.
- Suffered a torn ACL in March of 2022 and was not part of the USA's 2023 World Cup roster but returned to action for the USWNT in September of 2023 and has been a consistent fixture since.
- Played every minute of her four starts at the 2024 Concacaf W Gold Cup, including all three games in the knockout rounds, helping the USA to clean sheets against Colombia and Brazil.
- Had a match to remember on June 1, 2024, scoring two goals – both headers off corner kicks – for her first career brace after scoring only once previously for the USWNT, that goal coming back in 2018.
- Started and played the entire 90 minutes to earn her first cap in January of 2018 at the age of 18, in a game where she picked up the game-winning assist on Julie Ertz' goal.

NATIONAL TEAM HIGHLIGHTS

- The 2024 Olympics mark her first world championship roster at any level for U.S. Soccer.
- The least capped player on the final 18-player Olympic roster, Nighswonger earned her first call-up in late November of 2023 after an impressive debut season in the NWSL in which she earned Rookie of the Year honors and helped NJ/NY Gotham FC win the 2023 NWSL Championship.
- Made her international debut on Dec. 2, 2023, in Ft. Lauderdale, coming on midway through the second half against China PR and earned her first start three days later in Frisco, Texas.
- Scored her first international goal on Feb. 20, 2024, converting a penalty kick against the Dominican Republic in the USA's opening game of the Concacaf W Gold Cup in Carson, Calif.
- At 23 years and 86 days old, Nighswonger became the youngest player to convert a penalty for the USWNT since 2003 and just the second ever player to score her first USWNT goal from the penalty spot, joining Kate Markgraf, who scored just once in her career.
- Also scored in the W Gold Cup quarterfinal against Colombia and tallied her first international assist on June 4 against the Korea Republic.
- Played for the USA's Women's Youth National Teams at the U-16, U-17, U-18, U-20 and U-23 levels and helped the USA win the 2020 Concacaf Women's U-20 Championship, starting all six games. However, she never got to play in a youth World Cup as the 2020 U-20 World Cup was cancelled due to the global pandemic.

PREVIOUS OLYMPIC EXPERIENCE

- A two-time Olympian, Sonnett appeared in two matches at the delayed Tokyo Olympics, starting and playing the full 90 minutes against New Zealand in the group stage and coming on as a late second-half substitute in the bronze medal match against Australia.
- Was an alternate for the 2016 Olympics in Rio, traveling and training with the team in Brazil.

NATIONAL TEAM HIGHLIGHTS

- A 2019 World Cup Champion, she played in one match in France, coming on at the end of the USA's second Group F match vs. Chile.
- Started the USA's Round of 16 match against Sweden at the 2023 World Cup and helped the USA dominate the game, putting in a fantastic performance in the midfield before being substituted with a minute left in overtime. It was her first extensive action in a World Cup match.
- After debuting in 2015, she has consistently shown her value to the USWNT while playing several of positions on the back line and in the midfield.
- Appeared in four matches – three of them starts – at the 2022 Concacaf W Championship, helping the USA qualify for both the 2023 FIFA Women's World Cup and 2024 Olympics.
- Scored her first career goal in the 34th minute of the USA's semifinal win over Costa Rica at the 2022 Concacaf W Championship, that coming in her 69th career cap. Only Kate Markgraf (193 caps before her first goal) waited longer before scoring her first goal for the USWNT.

- She is the fifth-youngest player and fifth teenager ever named to a U.S. Olympic Women's Soccer Team. Cindy Parlow, Mallory Swanson, Tiffany Roberts and Heather O'Reilly are the only younger Olympians in USWNT history.
- Shaw earned her first call-up to the USWNT in September of 2023 and made her international debut the following month, coming on in the 87th minute of the USA's draw in Sandy.
- Three days later, she scored her first international goal, tallying in the 83rd minute of the USA's 3-0 win over Colombia at San Diego's Snapdragon Stadium, becoming the 32nd teenager all-time to score for the USWNT.
- Had a breakout performance at the 2024 Concacaf W Gold Cup where she won the Golden Ball as the Best Player of the Tournament. She appeared in all six matches, making three starts, and led the USA in scoring with four goals.
- With goals in the Concacaf W Gold Cup quarterfinal and semifinal, Shaw became the fifth player in USWNT history to score in each of her first two competitive knockout round matches and the first since Shannon MacMillan in the semifinal and gold medal match of the 1996 Olympics.
- Made history as she became the first player in USWNT history to score in each of her first five career starts, surpassing the previous record of goals in four consecutive starts held by Shannon Boxx.
- Played for the USA at the 2022 FIFA U-20 Women's World Cup and was the second player from that team to get a full National Team call-up.

USWNT AT THE OLYMPICS

The first official men's Olympic soccer tournament dates back to the 1908 London Games, when Great Britain defeated Denmark to claim the first soccer gold medal. Since that time soccer has been part of every Olympic Games Program, with the exception of the 1932 Los Angeles Games. The 1940 and 1944 Olympic Games were canceled completely due to the political tensions surrounding World War II.

The United States has competed in the men's Olympic finals 13 times, including five straight tournaments from 1984 to 2000. In addition, the U.S. qualified for – but did not compete in – the 1980 Moscow Games following a boycott by the U.S. Olympic Committee. The U.S. missed out on qualifying for the 2004 Athens Olympics, but returned in 2008 after finishing second at the Concacaf qualifying event, which was held in the U.S. The U.S. men qualified for the 2024 Olympics with a dominant 3-0 win over host Honduras in the 2022 Concacaf U-20 Championship semifinal.

In 2012, the U.S. Women's National Team earned its third straight gold medal and fourth overall when it topped 2011 FIFA Women's World Cup champion Japan on Aug. 9 in front of more than 80,000 spectators at Wembley Stadium in London. The U.S. Men were eliminated in Concacaf qualifying in March, dropping to third place in their group following a late El Salvador goal in the closing seconds of a 3-3 draw on March 26.

Up until and including the 1988 Seoul Games, the Olympic soccer tournament was an unrestricted event, and thus the U.S. Olympic Soccer Team was essentially the U.S. National Team. However the tournament structure has changed since that time, and the restrictions on age and experience of players involved in Olympic competition has been under review by FIFA, which makes all tournament recommendations to the International Olympic Committee (IOC).

The 1992 Barcelona Games proved to be the turning point in the Olympic soccer tournament, when the tournament was competed as an under-23 event for the first time. Host Spain captured the title at Barcelona's famed Nou Camp Stadium in front of 95,000 jubilant fans. Spain's progress in the tournament aided struggling attendances in 1992, which were far lower than expected. There is little doubt that the poor attendance in Spain played a role in the changes made for the 1996 Atlanta Games.

Not only did Atlanta '96 signify the first time women's soccer was included in the Olympic Program, but the men's tournament was adapted from its under-23 format in 1992 to include three "overage" players. "Overage" players are those who were either over 23 years of age or who previously played in an Olympic Games soccer tournament. Claudio Reyna (who was age eligible in 1996, but had competed for the U.S. in 1992), Kasey Keller and Alexi Lalas were the USA's overage players in 1996.

In 2000, veteran defenders Jeff Agoos and Frankie Hejduk, as well as goalkeeper Brad Friedel, were selected as the USA's overage players, helping the team on an unprecedented tournament run, which saw the U.S. advance to the medal round before falling in the semifinals to a strong Spanish team.

For the 2008 Olympics in China, Brian McBride agreed to come out of international retirement and captained a team that included Under-23 stars Sacha Kljestan and Freddy Adu, who had paced the U.S. through qualifying. After a 1-0 victory against Japan in the first game, the U.S. was minutes away from upsetting reigning European champions Netherlands, but had to settle for a 2-2 tie after giving up a late free kick goal. In the third group game, eventual runner-up Nigeria took advantage of a third-minute red card by Michael Orozco and held on for a 2-1 win to send the U.S. home despite earning four points.

The U.S. Women's National Team claimed the inaugural gold medal in women's competition at the Atlanta Games with a 2-1 victory over China before 76,481 fans on Aug. 1, 1996, in Athens, Ga. The attendance mark, which at the time was the largest crowd to ever watch a women's athletic event, set the stage for the incredibly successful Women's World Cup staged in the U.S. in 1999. The gold medal victory culminated an impressive five-game undefeated run through the tournament in which the U.S. Women played in front of packed crowds.

As they did in 1996, the U.S. Women had a strong run to the medal stand in 2000, winning the "Group of Death" that included China, Nigeria and Norway. In the Gold Medal match, a spirited Norway team refused to yield and eventually took home the gold with a thrilling 3-2 overtime triumph.

The 2004 Athens Games were a fitting end for a number of U.S. veterans, including Mia Hamm, Julie Foudy and Joy Fawcett, who went out of the sport as they came into it: as champions. The never-say-die team won both its semifinal and final matches in overtime, courtesy of a Heather O'Reilly strike against Germany and an Abby Wambach goal against Brazil to claim the gold.

Four years later, the U.S. came into the Olympics without Wambach, the team's top scorer who broke her leg in a preparation match. With Pia Sundhage leading the team into her first world championship as head coach, a new class of players including Hope Solo, Carli Lloyd and surprise leading scorer Angela Hucles led the team to gold with a 1-0 victory over Brazil.

In 2012, the U.S. Women went undefeated at 6-0-0 for the first time at an Olympic tournament. The USA's run included a thrilling come-from-behind victory in the semifinal against Canada, with Alex Morgan scoring the game-winner in the 123rd minute for the latest goal ever scored in a FIFA competition. In the gold medal match, Lloyd scored both U.S. goals against Japan and the USA became the first country – in either men's or women's soccer – to earn a fourth gold.

In 2016, the U.S. Women defeated New Zealand 2-0 to open their Olympic tournament in Belo Horizonte, and went on to defeat France 1-0 before drawing Colombia 2-2 in Manaus to win the group. In the quarterfinal round, the USA fell to Sweden in penalty kicks following a 1-1 draw through regulation and extra time despite outshooting Sweden 27 to 6 and dominating much of the match. It was the first time in USWNT's history that the team did not medal at an Olympic tournament.

The U.S. Women returned to the podium in 2021, as the Tokyo 2020 Olympic and Paralympic Games were postponed one year due to the COVID-19 pandemic. The USA fell to Sweden in the opening match of group play but responded with a 6-1 win over New Zealand and a 0-0 draw against Australia to finish second in the group and advance to the knockout round. In the quarterfinal round, the USA defeated the Netherlands, 4-2 on penalty kicks, following a riveting 2-2 draw through regulation and extra time. After falling to Canada on a late penalty kick in the semifinal, the USWNT bounced back to win the bronze medal with a 4-3 win over Australia. It was the USWNT's sixth Olympic medal overall, the most of any country.

The U.S. Women became just the second nation to earn a berth into the Olympic Women's Soccer Tournament at Paris '24, joining hosts France after beating Canada, 1-0, to win the 2022 Concacaf W Championship.

A map of France with a light blue background representing the sea and green landmasses. The coastline is marked with white lines. Seven major cities are marked with red dots and labeled in black capital letters: PARIS, NANTES, BORDEAUX, LYON, SAINT-ÉTIENNE, NICE, and MARSEILLE. The word "France" is written in a large, white, cursive script font across the center of the map.
