THE CITY OF MILWAUKEE

POPULATION & SIZE

With a population of more than 600,000, Milwaukee is the 23rd largest city in the U.S. The four-county metropolitan area (Milwaukee, Ozaukee, Washington and Waukesha counties) has a population of 1.7 million. The City of Milwaukee covers approximately 96 square miles.

LOCATION

Milwaukee is positioned in the center of the Midwest, in the southeast corner of Wisconsin, on Lake Michigan's western shore. Milwaukee's prime location offers benefits for business and for daily living. Global shipping lanes are readily accessible via the Great Lakes and the Mississippi River.

CLIMATE

Milwaukee has four very distinct seasons. Lake Michigan cools the city in the warm months and moderates cold temperatures in the winter. Average temperatures are 77.7 degrees (Fahrenheit) in the summer, 58.6 degrees in the autumn, 29.4 degrees in the winter, and 52.5 degrees in the spring. Milwaukee receives about 33 inches of precipitation annually.

WHAT DOES MILWAUKEE MEAN?

Long before the first settlers came to this area, the Algonkian Indians had a special name for the land: Millioki, which means "gathering place by the waters." The Indians may have picked the name because they used the area for tribal gatherings or because they observed how three rivers (the Menomonee, the Kinnickinnic and the Milwaukee) met before flowing into the waters of Lake Mie-sit-gan (Michigan).

CITY OF FESTIVALS ...

Milwaukee celebrates its melting pot heritage throughout the year with a delightful procession of ethnic and cultural festivals. Rainbow Summer, Polish Fest, RiverSplash!, Lakefront Festival of Arts, Bavarian VolksFest, Bastille Days, Festa Italiana, German Fest, PrideFest, Irish Fest, Mexican Fiesta, Labor Fest, Oktoberfest, Indian Summer Festival, Arab World Fest and the Holiday Folk Fair are just some of the colorful tributes to a cherished past. Summerfest is the world's largest music festival according to the Guinness Book of World Records. The eleven-day festival features a variety of music from national headline acts to up-and-comers on 12 different stages.

BRADLEY CENTER

1001 North Fourth Street
Milwaukee, WI 53203
(414) 227-0500

Home sweet home... that's how the 2011-12 Milwaukee Bucks refer to the Bradley Center for the 24th straight season! The 20,000-seat sports and entertainment facility opened on October 1, 1988. The $91 million structure was a gift to the Milwaukee community and State of Wisconsin from the late Jane Bradley Pettit and her husband, Lloyd, in honor of her father, Harry Lynde Bradley. Mr. Bradley was one of the founders of the Allen-Bradley Co., a national manufacturer of electrical controls headquartered in Milwaukee (now a subsidiary of Rockwell International).

Located in downtown Milwaukee, the Bradley Center covers more than one square city block and rises to a height of 13 stories. The exterior is clad in polished and flame-treated granite, with the same material used in the pedestals for the columns in the twin glass-enclosed, 60-foot-high signature atriums.

The Bradley Center is extraordinarily fan-friendly, with wide, open concourses, multiple concession and merchandise locations, and 28 large restrooms. The arena provides three levels of fan seating accommodations, including the private suite concourse, which is located just 30 feet above floor level while still allowing for over 7,200 fans to remain below.

Club Cambria, at Bradley Center Suites, is Milwaukee's most unique sports experience. This club, located on the north end of the suite level, provides the ultimate setting for interacting with guests and enjoying Bucks basketball while indulging in the style and comfort of this private environment.

The Palermo's Pizza Courtside Club offers the ultimate in quality service in a relaxing atmosphere, amidst the thrills of NBA action! The Palermo's Pizza Courtside Club includes a bar, lounge area with flat screen TVs, restrooms, private coat check and more. Courtside Club members also benefit from in-seat food and beverage service as they enjoy the game.

Behind the scenes, the latest in computerized and electronic equipment controls the security, communications systems and interior environment of the facility. State-of-the-art electronics and interior circuitry assist the media in covering events at the Bradley Center. As many as four television stations are able to telecast simultaneously from any of three locations in the arena. In addition, members of the media may transmit, as well as receive, information within the building through multiple sources.

In addition to the Milwaukee Bucks, the Bradley Center is also home to the Marquette University Men's Basketball team, the Milwaukee Admirals AHL hockey team and the Milwaukee Mustangs arena football team. The Center regularly hosts a variety of other extraordinary entertainment events including concerts, figure skating and family shows.

The Bradley Center was designed by Hellmuth, Obata & Kassabaum of Kansas City, Missouri, and Venture Architects - a joint venture between the Milwaukee architectural firms of Kahler Slater, Torphy Architects and the Zimmerman Design Group.

TRAINING CENTER

3501 South Lake Drive, Suite 100
Milwaukee, WI 53235

In September of 1997, the Milwaukee Bucks went state-of-the-art when they moved their basketball operations into a 35,000 square-foot wing of the Archbishop Cousins Center in St. Francis, WI.

The Milwaukee Bucks Training Center, designed by Schroeder and Holt Architects, provides the team with a first-class, year-round facility dedicated to the athletic enhancement of Bucks players. Construction, improvements and equipment were completed at a cost of nearly $3 million. In 14 years since, continued upgrades have made the facility one of the finest in the NBA.

The gym features a running and spring track, which encircles a regulation 94' x 50' basketball floor, with six additional baskets to accommodate shooting drills. Just off the court are spacious locker room and training room facilities, a recreation lounge, a hydrotherapy room and a 42' x 36' weight and conditioning room. The Bucks also have access to a full-length swimming pool that is adjacent to their headquarters.

The building also houses a video editing system, meeting rooms and office space for the player personnel and public relations departments, as well as the entire Bucks coaching staff.

In the summer of 2006, the facility experienced a major makeover that coincided with the team's new logo and colors. The makeover was highlighted with the completion of a new practice court that mirrors the design the team uses for games at the Bradley Center.

COMMUNITY MISSION

On the court, the Milwaukee Bucks mission is to play hard and pursue victory. Off the court, the Bucks mission is to contribute to a better quality of life in Milwaukee and Wisconsin, and positively affect the lives of all people in this community.

Young people continue to admire professional athletes. And because youth are so impressionable, a considerable portion of the team's efforts are dedicated to tomorrow's leaders.

It is with dedication and determination that the organization participates in numerous charitable and philanthropic endeavors. As highly visible members of the community, the Bucks players, coaches and front office staff acknowledge and accept their unique role in society and are pledged to improve the community's welfare through their expertise, energy, effort and dollars.

Each Milwaukee Bucks player is committed to being a part of the community, away from the bright lights of the basketball court. Bucks coaches and employees share the player's commitment and devotion to the programs listed below.

COMMUNITY PROGRAMS

THE MACC FUND TRADITION

The Bucks host the Annual MACC Fund game each October, a preseason game at the Bradley Center. This event is the cornerstone of the Bucks 35-year, year-round commitment to the MACC (Midwest Athletes Against Childhood Cancer, Inc.) Fund. The Bucks have contributed more than $1.3 million for cancer and blood disorder research since the inaugural MACC Fund game in 1977, the first major sponsored event to benefit the fund. The MACC Fund supports pediatric cancer and blood disorder research at The Midwest Children's Cancer Center at Milwaukee Children's Hospital.

The Milwaukee Bucks played a major role in the creation of the MACC Fund in 1976. The Bucks radio announcer at that time, Eddie Doucette, had a son Brett who was diagnosed with cancer in 1974. Jon McClocklin, "the Original Buck," was retiring from the Bucks. Jon and Eddie decided to create a fund to support research to help children like Brett who had cancer. The MACC Fund, Milwaukee Athletes Against Childhood Cancer (later changed to Midwest Athletes), was founded during a halftime ceremony of a Bucks game at the Milwaukee Arena on December 10, 1976. Brett Doucette, the MACC Fund's "first success story," is married and living in Arizona. The Bucks have sponsored an annual preseason game to benefit the MACC Fund since 1977 in addition to sponsoring numerous other fund-raising opportunities for the MACC Fund. The Bucks MACC Fund Games alone have raised over $1.25 million. Senator Kohl and the Bucks also contributed an additional $100,000 on the occasion of the MACC Fund's 10th Anniversary in 1986.

The MACC Fund supports pediatric cancer and related blood disorder research such as sickle cell disease and aplastic anemia in Wisconsin. This research impacts children throughout the United States as well as globally. The Milwaukee Bucks have been a pillar of support for the MACC Fund since its inception. The MACC Fund has contributed $34 million to research. Long term commitments take that number to $40 million. The MACC Fund supports pediatric research at the Medical College of Wisconsin in the MACC Fund Research Center, at the University of Wisconsin's Paul P. Carbone Cancer Center in the MACC Fund Pediatric Cancer Research Wing and in the MACC Fund Center for Cancer and Blood Disorders at Children's Hospital of Wisconsin.

The six-story, 141,000 square foot MACC Fund Research Center houses The Midwest Children's Cancer Center. This research has led to the largest number of successful non-related bone marrow transplants in the country which are done at Children's Hospital of Wisconsin. MACC Fund support has led to exciting advances in sickle cell disease and aplastic anemia as well becoming one of the nation's leaders. The MACC Fund Pediatric Cancer Research Wing will open in November, 2009 at the University of Wisconsin's Paul Carbone Cancer Center. The 14,000 square foot wing provides the latest in research at one of the nation's premier comprehensive cancer centers. The MACC Fund has played an important role at both Centers while helping raise the overall cure rate for childhood cancer from 20% to 80% over the past 30 years. The Bucks have played a pivotal role in this "Gift of Hope" during each of those years.

BUCKS CHARITABLE TICKET PROGRAM

Milwaukee Bucks President Herb Kohl, General Manager John Hammond, Head Coach Scott Skiles and Bucks players purchase and donate thousands of tickets each year to local, non-profit organizations for each Bucks home game during the season. The mission of the program is to offer life experiences and opportunities to youth and social services organizations. Tickets are used by these groups as incentives or rewards for excellence in academics, positive behavior, extra curricular activities and community service.

BUCKS BUDDIES - CORPORATE PARTNERS TICKET PROGRAM

The "Bucks Buddies" Corporate Season Ticket Program instituted in 2000 encourages local businesses to buy season tickets for business or charitable use. Employees at all levels have shown a true appreciation and interest in enjoying Bucks basketball. Companies are encouraged to make tickets available to employees either without charge or on a discounted basis. In many cases the Bucks will arrange for part or all of the season tickets purchased to be contributed to a youth organization or schools that participate in the Bucks Buddies Program. Bucks Buddies matches charitable organizations desiring Bucks tickets for their programming with businesses willing to donate tickets.

Several Wisconsin corporations also donated blocks of tickets to local non-profit organizations for every Bucks home game throughout the season. The Milwaukee Bucks Corporate Partners Program donated tickets to local, non-profit organizations' community service endeavors. The program was supported during the 2010-2011 season by Badger Mutual Insurance Company, Briggs & Stratton, Columbia St. Mary's, First Edge Solutions, GE Healthcare, Gordon Flesch Company, Office Copying Equipment, Potawatomi Bingo Casino, Quarles & Brady, & Sky High Marketing.

BUCKS BOWL FOR THE CURE PRESENTED BY COLUMBIA ST. MARY'S HOSPITAL

The Milwaukee Bucks have joined forces with the Susan G. Komen Foundation Milwaukee Chapter to give area bowlers an opportunity to play the game for a great cause. The annual Bucks Bowl for the Cure® Day will take place on Friday, February 17, 2012, at the AMF Bowlero Lanes in Milwaukee, WI. The event will help raise funds to promote breast cancer research, awareness, education and treatment.

The event is a friendly two-game tournament that is expected to draw up to 700 bowlers. Last year's "Bowl for the Cure® Day" raised over $32,000, which contributed to a nationwide total of $1 million for the Komen Foundation for the year and an eight-year total of more than $6 million.

ASSIST INITIATIVE

For the fourth season The Milwaukee Bucks will team up with the Eastcastle/Newcastle Places for the ASSIST program- Active Seniors Supporting, Influencing Transitioning Students. Messmer High School Juniors and Senior National Honor Society Students, residents of Eastcastle and Newcastle Places senior living communities and Milwaukee Bucks players and front office staff participate in 5-7 get-togethers to share their experience and life stories. Topics include: Dealing With Adversity, Being A Good Leader, Today's Technology Made Easy, Networking For The Future, Paying It Forward, Having A Plan B and Perseverance.

BUCKS PLAYERS SCHOOL SUPPLY DISTRIBUTION

Each October, Milwaukee Bucks players visit three Milwaukee area schools. They speak to classrooms at each school about the importance of education and hand out school supplies, while leaving enough supplies for the entire school. To date, 18,000 sets of school supplies have been distributed to MPS students.

HOME COURT HEROES

Each month during the season, the Bucks and Kapco Metal Stamping honor individuals who, through their unique commitment and humanitarian spirit made exceptional and lasting contributions to the community. Home Court Heroes are solicited and selected by Kapco Metal Stamping and the Milwaukee Bucks.

Selected Home Court Heroes have their efforts saluted by Kapco Metal Stamping, the Milwaukee Bucks and fans during special on-court and in-game presentations with various Milwaukee Bucks players. Home Court Heroes receive a special Kapco Metal Stamping/Milwaukee Bucks plaque. Last season Home Court Heroes included: The Coubal family, The LeRoy Butler Foundation and The Fond du Lac Police Department.

SIDNEY MONCRIEF MILWAUKEE BUCKS SCHOLARSHIP

The Sidney Moncrief Milwaukee Bucks Scholarship has been in existence since 1990 and was established to commemorate the retirement of Moncrief's jersey (#4) and his contributions to the Bucks franchise. The annual $1,000 scholarship, granted to a deserving inner city Milwaukee Boy Scout, is awarded based on academics, financial need, positive values, citizenship, leadership qualities and an involvement with the Milwaukee Council of Boy Scouts.

THE MILWAUKEE WHEELCHAIR BUCKS

The Milwaukee Wheelchair Bucks are competing in their ninth season in the National Wheelchair Basketball Association (NWBA). Since joining the NWBA eight years ago, the Wheelchair Bucks have qualified and advanced to the National Championship tournament every year and won the Division I National Championship title in 2002. The Bucks provide financial and equipment support to the team.

THE MILWAUKEE BUCKS READING CHALLENGE

The Milwaukee Bucks, The Northwestern Mutual Foundation and the Milwaukee County Federated Library System have partnered to execute the "Milwaukee Bucks Library Reading Challenge". The reading challenge is open to all Wisconsin young-adults in the 3rd - 10th grades. The purpose of the reading program is to promote literacy and library usage by youth in Milwaukee and statewide communities. "... The more you read, the more you win!" With each page read, the students score points. When a predetermined number of points are achieved, students become eligible to receive a variety of prizes, including Bucks game tickets and a chance to win a Bucks autographed basketball. For more information on the Milwaukee Bucks Reading Challenge, contact a participating local library or call (414) 286-3520.

SECOND HARVEST OF WISCONSIN PBJ CHALLENGE

The top schools were recognized on court during a Milwaukee Bucks home game and all the schools collected 20 tons of peanut butter and jelly. The 2011 Peanut Butter & Jelly Challenge will run from October 3-28. The Bucks have helped collect 316,000 pounds, over 158 tons, of peanut butter and jelly for Second Harvest.

BUCKS ONE-ON-ONE CORNER PRESENTED BY COLUMBIA ST. MARY'S

Each season, the Bucks and Columbia St. Mary's present a special opportunity for fans to meet players and coaches prior to select home games. Fans can personally meet a Bucks player, coach or Bango for autographs, photos or handshakes. Sessions are held on selected home game nights.

Excellence Scholarships awarded to date: $2,200,000 to 2,200 students

Excellence Scholarships in the amount of $1,000 are awarded each year to 100 graduating high school students. Selection of scholarship recipients begins at the local level, with the number of nominations from each high school based on enrollment. The names of local nominees are sent to regional selection panels composed of teachers, administrators, civic leaders and community representatives. Final selection is made by a statewide committee composed of civic leaders, representatives from the Wisconsin Council of Religious and Independent Schools, Wisconsin Newspaper Association, Cooperative Educational Service Agencies, Wisconsin Parents Association and several other education-related associations. Scholarship recipients are chosen for their demonstrated academic potential, outstanding leadership, citizenship, community service, integrity and other special talents.

Fellowships awarded to date: $4,400,000 to 2,200 teachers and their schools

Fellowships in the amount of $1,000 are awarded each year to 100 Wisconsin teachers. Each fellow's school also receives a $1,000 grant. Anyone may nominate a teacher for the Kohl Fellowship. The educator nomination screening process begins within each public school district or non-public school organization. Further screening takes place at the regional level, and the statewide selection committee chooses the award recipients. Educators are chosen for their superior ability to inspire a love of learning in their students and to motivate others, as well as their leadership and service within and outside the classroom.

Initiative Scholarships awarded to date: $1,199,000 to 1,199 students

The Herb Kohl Initiative Scholarship was established in October of 1997. Initiative Scholarships in the amount of $1,000 are awarded each year to 85 graduating high school students. ## HERB KOHL PRESIDENT

Public servant, philanthropist, businessman and professional sports team owner. All four accurately describe Herb Kohl, who begins his 27th season as president and owner of the Milwaukee Bucks organization. Kohl purchased the team on March 1, 1985 from Jim Fitzgerald, ensuring it would remain in Milwaukee.

"From the very beginning, my association with the Bucks has been a wonderful experience," Kohl remarked. "Wherever I go, people come up to me and talk about the team. The opportunity I was given to purchase and to keep the team here in Milwaukee is one of the most unique and fortunate experiences I've ever enjoyed."

In 1988, Kohl was elected to a six-year term as Wisconsin's 25th United States Senator and he is currently serving his fourth term. On May 13, 2011 Senator Kohl announced that he will not seek re-election in 2012.

A Milwaukee native who grew up in the Sherman Park neighborhood, Kohl has maintained a lifetime commitment to his home city and state. He attended Sherman Elementary School and Milwaukee Washington High School. Kohl graduated from the University of Wisconsin-Madison in 1956, and went on to earn a Master's degree from the Harvard University Graduate School of Business Administration in 1958. Kohl served in the Army Reserve from 1958-64.

From 1959-69, Kohl served in many capacities with the then family-owned Kohl Corporation, operators of grocery and department stores. His parents had built their first Kohl's Food Market in the late '20s, and from that inauspicious beginning, grew the business into one of the Midwest's leading grocery and department store chains. Kohl was president from 1970 through the sale of the corporation by the family in 1979, and the Kohl's Department Stores have now expanded throughout the United States.

After years of involvement in public affairs in Wisconsin, having served as general chairman of Milwaukee's United Way campaign and state chairman of the Wisconsin Democratic Party, Kohl decided to run for the United States Senate seat vacated by William Proxmire. He was first elected to a six-year term in 1988, re-elected in November of 1994, in November of 2000, and again in November of 2006. His fourth and final term, will expire at the end of the 112th Congress on January 3, 2013. Kohl serves on four committees in the Senate: the Committee on Banking, Housing, Urban Affairs; the Appropriations Committee - chairman of the Agriculture Appropriations Subcommittee; the Judiciary Committee - chairman of the Antitrust, Competition Policy and Consumer Rights Subcommittee; and the Special Committee on Aging, chairman.

Involved in a vast array of community-minded projects, Kohl has consistently championed the cause of education. He established the Herb Kohl Educational Foundation Excellence Scholarship and Fellowship Award Program in 1990. As of September, 2010, the Herb Kohl Educational Foundation has awarded a total of $7.5 million to Wisconsin educators, students and schools. Annually, the grants total $385,000 and are presented to 185 graduating high school students, 100 teachers and 100 schools throughout Wisconsin.

With a life-long interest in sports, Kohl was one of 10 original investors in the Milwaukee Brewers, and he also initiated negotiations with then NBA commissioner Walter Kennedy, which ultimately led to the granting of a franchise in January of 1968 to a group of Milwaukee investors.

Kohl's interest in sports does not stop at the professional level. In April of 1995, Kohl donated $25 million to his alma mater to help provide a state-of-the-art new home for the Badgers. January of 2012 will mark the 14th Anniversary of the opening of the Kohl Center, a sports arena that is home of the University of Wisconsin-Madison men's and women's basketball teams, as well as the men's hockey team.

"I was very happy to be in a position to help build a first-rate, state-of-the-art sports arena," said Kohl. "I think it enhances the university's reputation as one of the premier athletic programs in the Big Ten and the country."

Recognized for his many efforts, Kohl has received numerous awards from throughout the state of Wisconsin, including: induction into the Wisconsin Athletic Hall of Fame in 2007; an Honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degree from Ripon College in 1999; Best Corporate Citizen of 1997 by Madison Magazine; the "Kiwaniis Milwaukee Award" in 1987; an Honorary Doctor of Laws degree from Cardinal Stritch College of Milwaukee in 1986; the Greater Milwaukee Convention and Visitors Bureau "Lampighter Award" in 1986; named "Humanitarian of the Year" in 1986 by the Wisconsin Parkinson Association; "Wisconsin Sports Personality of the Year" in 1985 by the Milwaukee Pen and Mike Club; and the "Joe Killeen Memorial Sportsman of the Year" in 1985 by the Wisconsin Broadcasters Association.

From there he joined Larry Brown's staff with the Los Angeles Clippers, where they advanced to the postseason in 1992 and 1993. Hammond had another stint with the Clippers when he joined Alvin Gentry's staff as the lead assistant for the 2000-01 season. The team saw a 16-game improvement and Hammond was noted as a key in developing first-year players Darius Miles, Keyon Dooling and Quentin Richardson. Hammond advanced to the postseason five times in his time as an assistant coach.

Prior to his NBA career, Hammond spent six seasons at Southwest Missouri State where he helped lead the school to three consecutive NCAA Tournament berths (1986, 1987 and 1988) and an NIT invite in 1985. ## SEASON NOTES

- The Bucks finished the 2010-11 season with a 35-47 record (22-19 at home and 13-28 on the road). Milwaukee was just two games out of the final playoffs spot in the Eastern Conference. The Bucks posted a winning record at home for the third consecutive season and for the 12th time in the last 14 seasons.
- The Bucks GM/Head Coach combination of John Hammond and Scott Skiles took over the team prior to the 2008-09 season after two years where the club ranked near the bottom of the league in defensive numbers. This year, the Bucks set franchise records by holding 62 opponents under 100 points (second in the NBA) and 30 under 90 points (fourth in the NBA). From March 16 through April 6 they held a season-best 12 consecutive teams under 100 points (including five under 90). That string is tied for the fourth-longest in team history and is the longest since they went 13 games from January 27 through February 22 in 2006 (franchise record is 16 games in early 1999).
- Andrew Bogut led the league in blocks with a career-high 2.6 per game which helped him move up the franchise's leaderboard in blocks. Thanks to 168 blocks this season (seventh for a single season in franchise history), Bogut moved from sixth to third place in franchise history with 618 career blocks. Over the course of the year, he passed Randy Breuer (474 blocks, 5th), Kareem Abdul-Jabbar (495, 4th) and Ervin Johnson (586, 3rd). With those 618 career blocks, the Aussie big man joins Alton Lister (804) and Harvey Catchings (710) as the only three players in Bucks history with 600 or more blocks.
- Bucks opponents scored just 92.7 points per game, which was the second fewest in team history (90.0 in the shortened 98-99 season) and the fewest for a full 82-game season. Their 44.7 defensive field goal percentage is 10th in franchise history and their best since foes shot 44.1 percent in the 2001-02 season. Bucks foes shot 33.4 from 3-point range, which ranks 13th in team history, but is first in a season where their opponents attempted at least 1,000 3-pointers (34.3 is second, last year).
- The Bucks blocked 399 shots this season, their most since the 1993-94 season when they swatted 407 shots. Andrew Bogut (168) and Larry Sanders (72) accounted for 240 of those blocks or 60.2 percent. Larry Sanders' 72 blocks were fifth in team history for a rookie (just behind Anthony Avent's 73 in 1992-93) and his eight blocks on December 1 were tied for the second-most in the NBA this season. The last Bucks player to block eight shots was Ervin Johnson on April 7, 1998. Sanders' 4.0 blocks per 48 minutes ranked him fourth in the NBA among players who appeared in at least 60 games.
- The Bucks were hit harder than any other NBA club by injuries as they lost a total of 275 games to injury this season. Milwaukee saw 14 different players miss time due to injury and no player appeared in all of the team's 82 games. This is the first time since 2007-08 that the team didn't have at least one player reach 82 games. Michael Redd led the club with 71 games missed due to an ACL/MCL tear in his left knee suffered in January of 2010. Drew Gooden missed 41 games with left foot plantar fasciitis, Carlos Delfino missed 33 games total, 32 with a neck strain/concussion-like symptoms, while Ersan Ilyasova (22 games), Brandon Jennings (19) and Andrew Bogut (17) all missed extended time.

TEAM HISTORY

As the Milwaukee Bucks professional basketball team enters its 44th season, owner Herb Kohl celebrates his 27th season as President of the eighth winningest franchise in the NBA. Kohl purchased the team on March 1, 1985, from Jim Fitzgerald, ensuring it would remain in Milwaukee.

The National Basketball Association originally awarded the franchise to a Milwaukee group of investors - headed by Wesley D. Pavalon and Marvin L. Fishman - called Milwaukee Professional Sports and Services, Inc. on January 22, 1968. Pavalon and Fishman were named President and Executive Vice President, respectively, as the franchise was incorporated on February 5, 1968.

An application from Milwaukee Pro was registered with the Wisconsin Department of Securities for the sale of 300,000 shares of common stock to Wisconsin residents at $5 per share. Because the issue caught public fancy, an additional 125,000 shares were offered when the stock opened on the over-the-counter market on April 24, 1968.

On the basketball side of the operation, the team went through both the college and expansion draft under the watchful eye of the team's first head coach, Larry Costello.

A Janesville, Wisconsin, businessman, Jim Fitzgerald served as a member of the Board of Directors of Milwaukee Professional Sports and Service beginning in 1973. He assumed his position as Chairman of the Board and President of the Bucks in November of 1976 and held that position until the sale of the franchise to Kohl in the spring of 1985.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

May 22, 1968 was the day when Milwaukee's second professional basketball team finally got a name - the Milwaukee Bucks. More than 14,000 fans participated in a contest to name the team. Records show that R.D. Trebilcox of Whitefish Bay, Wisconsin, was one of 45 persons who suggested the name 'Bucks'. He saw bucks as being spirited, good jumpers, fast and agile. For his efforts in helping Milwaukee's entry into the professional sports world gain an enduring nickname, Mr. Trebilcox won a new car.

LOGO/COLOR HISTORY

On June 28, 2006, prior to the 2006-07 season, the Bucks unveiled an updated logo and a new color scheme. "The historical Bucks forest green and the silver introduced in 1993 remain in the identity, but purple has been replaced by a deep red - more sophisticated than the classic red used in the Bucks' color palette from 1968 through the mid-80's," Vice President of NBA Apparel Christopher Arena said. "The deep red is in line with the team's history and representative of their renewed commitment to intensity and energy."

The basic structure of Milwaukee's primary logo that was introduced in 1993 remains in the identity, but several areas have been enhanced. The wordmark "BUCKS" now includes a more rigid, etched font with a retaining shape that mirrors the structure of the letters. The box that outlines the word "BUCKS" has been altered, as well. A "MILWAUKEE" wordmark, although not used in the primary logo, was created and will be used on various team materials and licensed products.

The logo was first introduced in May of 1993 when, following the 25th Anniversary season, the club announced that their franchise would be represented by a new logo with corresponding new uniforms. It depicts an aggressive, frontal view of the head and shoulders of an eight-point white tail buck (male deer) on a triangular background atop stylized Milwaukee Bucks lettering. The color scheme featured hunter green, purple and silver. In making the announcement of the new logo, then-NBA Creative Director Tom O'Grady said, "The Bucks logo is an image of strength and focused determination. The solid logo design, incorporating the powerful Buck, portrays a confident, cohesive team. It is one unit, an attribute of any good team. The Buck itself gazes steadily ahead, as if to accept any challenge that may lie in its path. The theme of solidarity is repeated upon through the physique of the muscular buck and the heavy block lettering."

The 2006-07 changes also were applied to the team's secondary logo, which was first introduced during the 2001 Playoffs. The secondary logo is a derivative of the primary logo. It retains the existing red triangular base and eight-point silver buck antlers, while adding a silver-outlined green basketball that appears centered at the top of the triangular base.

A search for the team's initial logo/color identity in 1968 was the responsibility of then-General Manager John Erickson, who commissioned Milwaukee commercial artist Matt Kastelic to develop the team's first logo. The original logo featured a caricature of a buck wearing a sweater emblazoned with the letter 'B' and spinning a basketball on one hoof while sitting atop the words 'Milwaukee Bucks'.

The original official team colors of forest green, red and white were in use since their inception in 1968 through the 1976-77 season. From the 1976 through 1985 seasons, the club adopted various hues of green, including forest, kelly and lime, with a white accent. The changes in color did not affect the logo.

FAMOUS FIRSTS IN BUCKS HISTORY

First Draft Choice

In the 1968 Draft, the Bucks selected Charlie Paulk of Northeastern University in the first round (seventh overall).

First Game

On October 16, 1968, the Bucks hosted the Chicago Bulls, dropping an 89-84 decision in front of a Milwaukee Arena crowd of 8,467. Starting for the Bucks were Guy Rodgers, Jon McGlocklin, Fred Hetzel, Len Chappell and Wayne Embry. McGlocklin scored the first points in team history, draining a jump shot just 13 seconds in to the contest. Rodgers led the Bucks with 16 points.

First Win

After dropping their first five games of the inaugural season, the Bucks claimed victory on October 31, 1968, a 134-118 decision over the Detroit Pistons at the Arena. Wayne Embry led the Bucks in scoring with 30 points, and became the first player in Bucks history to score 30-plus in a single game.

First NBA Championship

No expansion team in pro sports history earned a championship quicker than the Bucks, who captured the 1971 NBA title in just their third season of existence. The 1970-71 Bucks posted a 66-16 regular-season mark under Coach Larry Costello. In the postseason, they beat San Francisco (4-1) and the Los Angeles Lakers (4-1) before sweeping Baltimore in four straight for the title.

First Bradley Center Game

In front of a sellout crowd of 18,649 on November 5, 1988, the Bucks dropped a 107-94 decision to the Atlanta Hawks. Terry Cummings led the Bucks with 19 points.

First Bradley Center Win

In their second home game in their new home, on November 9, 1988, the Bucks topped Philadelphia 114-103 behind 31 points from Terry Cummings.

#1 - OSCAR ROBERTSON

On April 21, 1970, the Bucks traded for Oscar Robertson, an All-Star in each of his 10 seasons in Cincinnati. Robertson joined Kareem Abdul-Jabbar to form one of the most formidable inside-outside duos in NBA history. The Bucks won 66 games, advanced to the Finals against Baltimore and The Big O had the championship that eluded him in Cincinnati. Robertson averaged 18.3 ppg in Milwaukee's 12-2 postseason.

Robertson played three more seasons with the Bucks, and the team never won fewer than 59 games. In the last of his 14 NBA seasons, Oscar again led the Bucks to the Finals. Robertson retired after having led Milwaukee to a 248-80 record in four seasons. Robertson, the only Buck to wear the #1, had his jersey retired on October 18, 1974.

#2 - JUNIOR BRIDGEMAN

Bridgeman, acquired from Los Angeles, made his mark as the Bucks "Super Sub." He started only 105 of the 711 games he played in a Bucks uniform, but Bridgeman scored in double figures for eight straight seasons, consistently among the league's highest scoring non-starters.

He was the league's top scoring sixth man in 1978-79, averaging 15.5 ppg. J.B. averaged 17.6 ppg in the 1979-80 season and 16.8 ppg the following year as the Bucks reached the 60-win plateau for the fourth time. In nine seasons, he hit double figures eight times. Bridgeman has played more games than any player in Bucks history (711) and is among the Bucks all-time leaders in scoring (7th, 9,892), minutes (8th, 18,044), steals (T-9th, 607), field goals made (5th, 4,142) and attempted (5th, 8,658). His #2 was retired on January 17, 1988.

#4 - SIDNEY MONCRIEF

During the '80s, the most prolific decade in Bucks history, Sidney Moncrief was front man for a team that won 50 games for seven consecutive seasons and appeared in the playoffs in each of his 10 seasons (1979-89).

A five-time All-Star, Moncrief compiled 16.7 points per game in 10 seasons in Milwaukee. He also averaged 5.0 rebounds, 3.9 assists, 1.26 steals and finished with a career shooting percentage of better than 50 percent. But as proficient as Moncrief was at the offensive end, surely he was better known for his relentless defense. Moncrief earned four straight berths on the NBA's All-Defensive First Team (1982-86) and was the first recipient of the NBA's Defensive Player of the Year honor in 1983. His #4 was raised to the rafters on January 6, 1990, at the Bradley Center. To this day, only Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and Glenn Robinson have scored more points in a Milwaukee uniform than Sir Sid (11,594).

#14 - JON MCGLOCKLIN

If it has happened in the 42-year history of the Bucks, Jonny Mac was there to see it. An original member of the team, he remains a fixture in the organization, having spent the last 34 seasons as a team broadcaster.

McGlocklin enjoyed an 11-year NBA odyssey that included eight seasons – not to mention an All-Star Appearance and an NBA Championship – in Milwaukee. He was the leading scorer on the inaugural Bucks team (19.6 ppg) and became the first player to represent the Bucks in an All-Star Game. McGlocklin's name still graces the Bucks All-Time Leaders list in points (12th, 7,505), minutes (10th, 17,008) and free throw percentage (6th, .860). On December 10, 1976, Jonny Mac's #14 was raised to rafters.

#16 - BOB LANIER

Bob Lanier was an NBA legend before he put on a Bucks uniform, but five seasons with the Bucks – and five division championships – cemented his place as one of the best players in NBA history. Arriving from Detroit, Lanier provided veteran leadership to a team that would average 53 wins during his four-plus seasons. Lanier was a leader off the court as well, serving as the President of the NBA Players Association during the end of his playing tenure.

The Bucks amassed divisional titles in each of Lanier's seasons. Despite his brief tenure, Lanier is ninth on the Bucks postseason scoring list (680 points), tied for sixth in rebounding (342) and tied for third in blocked shots (45). His playoff scoring average of 15.1 is 12th. Counting his five seasons in Milwaukee, Lanier amassed 19,248 points in 14 years, finishing his career with averages of 20.1 points and 10.1 rebounds per game. He was inducted into the Naismith Hall of Fame in 1991. Seven years earlier – December 4, 1984 – his #16 was hung at the MECCA.

#32 - BRIAN WINTERS

Winters, an All-America selection in high school and at the University of South Carolina, carved his niche in Bucks history, playing eight seasons and averaging 16.7 points per game. His numbers would undoubtedly have been even better, but the three-point FG came into existence after he had already played five seasons. For his career, he was 114-of-314 (.363) from downtown.

A two-time Bucks All-Star, in eight seasons he helped the team achieve six postseason berths. Upon retiring in 1983, Winters was the leading playmaker in Bucks history (now 3rd, 2,479 assists). He is among the Bucks all-time leaders in scoring (8th, 9,743), games played (5th, 582) and steals (5th, 718). Winters was the third Bucks player to have his number retired, raising his #32 on October 28, 1983.

#33 - KAREEM ABDUL-JABBAR

Abdul-Jabbar (and his patented "sky-hook") brought instant success to the Bucks. He earned Rookie of the Year honors in 1969-70, and the Bucks won 56 games. For an encore, Abdul-Jabbar led the Bucks to 66 wins and won the first of three MVP awards with the Bucks in 1970-71, averaging 31.7 ppg and 16.0 rpg. In the playoffs, he helped lead the Bucks to a 12-2 record and a World Championship.

After six seasons in Milwaukee, Abdul-Jabbar was (and still is) the leading scorer (14,211) and rebounder (7,161) in team history, and also tops the all-time list in scoring average (30.4 ppg), field goals made (5,902), attempted (10,787) and field goal percentage (.547). His 495 blocks rank fourth on the all-time list, even though the statistic was only kept during his final two seasons with the Bucks.

Abdul-Jabbar, a New York native, eventually longed for a return to big city life and was granted a trade to the Los Angeles Lakers, where he played 14 more seasons before retiring as the leading scorer in NBA history (38,387). He was elected to the Hall of Fame in 1995, and had his number 33 – which was never worn by another Bucks player – retired in a ceremony at the Bradley Center on April 24, 1993.

**During the Bucks 40th anniversary season, the team re-dedicated the seven retired numbers at ceremonies throughout the 2007-08 season at the Bradley Center.**

- After the season, on June 16, 1975, Abdul-Jabbar and Walt Wesley are dealt to the Los Angeles Lakers in exchange for Elmore Smith, Brian Winters, David Meyers, Junior Bridgeman and future considerations.

HIGHLIGHTS:

- Prior to the season, the Bucks host the inaugural McDonald's Basketball Open, which also featured the Soviet National Basketball team and the reigning European champions, Tracer Milan of Italy.
- Milwaukee records its ninth straight winning season and 15th in the storied 20-year history.
- The Bucks finish the season with an awesome 992-648 (.605%) all-time record, bettered only by the Boston Celtics.

- Junior Bridgeman was honored on January 17, 1988, by having his uniform (#2) retired.
- In the final season at the Arena, the Bucks draw 452,057 fans to the Milwaukee Arena, including 38 of 41 sellouts.

HIGHLIGHTS:

- Milwaukee captured its first Central Division crown since 1986, finishing with a 52-30 record, including 31-10 at the Bradley Center – the best home record in the Eastern Conference.
- Through November 26, only two other teams had worse records than the Bucks (3-9). From November 27 on, only San Antonio (49-20) was better than Milwaukee's 49-21 finish.
- The Bucks 116-111 win over Denver on 1/31 was the 600th of George Karl's coaching career. He is only the 17th coach in NBA history to reach the milestone, and the sixth fastest coach to reach the 600 victory mark (1,005 games).
- On February 13, Glenn Robinson became the fifth player in Bucks history to score 10,000 points. He became the first member of his draft class or the preceding draft class to top the 10,000 point barrier.
- Ray Allen (202), Lindsey Hunter (152) and Tim Thomas (107) were the only trio of teammates in the NBA to make at least 100 three-pointers during the season. Allen's 202 were second most in the NBA, and broke his own franchise record for treys in one season (172). Allen and Thomas share the franchise record for three-balls in a single game (8). Thomas hit 8-of-10 threes at Portland (1/5) setting an NBA record with eight three-pointers in a half.
- Ray Allen broke the team record (329 – Lee Mayberry) for consecutive games played at Vancouver (1/7). Allen has never missed a game in his career (378) and holds the NBA's consecutive games started streak at 366.
- Glenn Robinson (12/11-17) and Ray Allen (4/9-15) were each honored as NBA Players of the Week.
- The Bucks won a play-off series (Orlando) for the first time since 1989. The team made it to the Eastern Conference Finals for the first time since 1986.

HIGHLIGHTS:

- The Bucks finished one game shy of a berth in the NBA playoffs, with a 41-41 record. Despite the downturn, the Bucks did finish at .500 or better for the fourth consecutive season.
- A Bucks team that stayed relatively injury free for the last two seasons had no such luck this season. Among the team's top five scorers (Allen, Robinson, Cassell, Thomas, Redd), a total of 56 games were missed this season. That quintet appeared together in only 36 games this season (Bucks were 21-15)...when one of the five missed the game, Milwaukee was a respectable 18-18, but when two or more were absent, the Bucks were 2-8. As a result of injuries and matchups, the Bucks fielded 17 different starting lineups this season.
- The Bucks set a franchise record with 16 treys in a 115-76 win over Houston on 2/20. Milwaukee's 593 treys broke the all-time franchise record of 562, set last season.
- Despite missing 13 games to injury, halting his consecutive games played streak at 400 (12/21 at HOU), Ray Allen finished first in the league in three-pointers made (229) and second in attempts (528). He broke his own franchise record for 3-pointers made in a season (202), and is now 11th in NBA history in all-time three-point accuracy, with 40.8 percent success rate (928-2,276). Allen hit a franchise record 10 treys (on 14 attempts) vs. Charlotte on 4/14.
- The Bucks 115-76 win over the Houston Rockets on 2/20 seemed like just another game...until the fourth quarter when Michael Redd scored 26 of his career-high 29 points. Redd hit eight treys in the fourth quarter to establish an NBA record for threes in a single period (and tied the NBA record for threes in a half).
- On the final day of the 2001-02 season, Glenn Robinson passed the 12,000 point mark for his career. On 3/6 vs. LA Clippers, Robinson passed Sidney Moncrief (11,594) on Bucks all-time scoring list to trail only Kareem Abdul-Jabbar (14,211) on the Bucks all-time list.
- More people saw the Bucks play at home than ever before. The Bucks total home attendance (745,305) was the highest in team history. The average crowd of 18,178 exceeds the best previous average of 17,097, set in 1988-89. The 25 sellouts were the most during the Bradley Center era, breaking the previous record of 20 in 1988-89.

HIGHLIGHTS:

- The Bucks advanced to the postseason for the fourth time in five seasons under head coach George Karl, and for the 23rd time in their 35-year history.
- Once again, the Bucks were one of the league's most prolific three-point shooting teams, finishing fourth in makes (7.13) and fifth in attempts (18.61), while leading the league in three-point percentage (.383). The Bucks tied a franchise record (since broken) with 16 treys in a 140-133 win at Cleveland on December 9. Milwaukee's 585 treys fell just short of the all-time franchise record of 593 (set during the 2001-02 season).
- Bucks sixth man Michael Redd emerged this season among the top three-point shooters in NBA history. On March 30, he hit his 250th career three pointer to qualify as the fourth most accurate three-point shooter in NBA history. Redd was second in the NBA in three-point percentage (.438), third in three-pointers made, and led the Bucks in accuracy for the second consecutive season. There were only seven games in the 2002-03 campaign in which Redd failed to deliver at least one three-point FG.
- Sam Cassell notched his first career triple-double in his 603rd regular season NBA game at Cleveland on December 9. Cassell tallied a season-high 39 points, 10 rebounds and 10 assists for the Bucks first triple-double since Ray Allen's 20 points, 10 rebounds and 11 assists at Boston on 2/7/01. Cassell doubled his career triple-double total on January 22 with a 14-point, 11 rebound and season-high 16-assist performance at Boston. Cassell was one of six players in the league to tally multiple triple-doubles during the regular season.
- The Bucks were one of nine teams to increase their points-per-game production this season. Milwaukee raised its points-per-game average from 97.5 points in 2001-02 to 99.5.
- Milwaukee committed a franchise low 1,044 turnovers, bettering their previous low of 1,123 established in the 1999-00 season. The 12.7 turnovers per game were second in the NBA. In the Bucks 120-93 win over Atlanta, Milwaukee committed a franchise-low four turnovers, one shy of tying the NBA record for fewest turnovers in a game.

HIGHLIGHTS:

- The Bucks finished with a .500 or better record for the sixth consecutive season. It's their 24th .500 or better season in their 36-year history and the team advances to the postseason for the fifth time in the last six seasons.
- In his first season as an NBA Head Coach, Terry Porter leads the Bucks to a 41-41 mark. He finished tied for third in Coach of the Year voting and was also a nominee for the J. Walter Kennedy Citizenship Award.
- Milwaukee led the Eastern Conference in scoring, averaging 98.0 points per game, good for 4th in the NBA. The Bucks committed the fewest turnovers per game (13.54) in the Eastern Conference and were third in the NBA in that category.
- The Bucks go 33-21 against Eastern Conference opponents.
- Michael Redd, the runner-up for Sixth Man of the Year in 2002-03, started in every game for the Bucks, averaging a team-high 21.7 points (10th in the NBA). Redd was voted by the coaches of the Eastern Conference to appear in his first All-Star Game where he scored 13 points on 5-12 shooting with three rebounds and three steals in 15 minutes.
- In January, Redd earned the Player of the Month award for the Eastern Conference after twice scoring a career-high 40 points.
- At the end of the season, several Bucks were nominated for awards. Redd was named to the NBA All-Third Team and finished fifth in voting for Most Improved Player. T.J. Ford was named to the All-Rookie Second Team. Desmond Mason finished sixth in Sixth Man of the Year voting.
- T.J. Ford suffered a spinal cord bruise in a February 24 game against Minnesota and missed the remainder of the season.
- Milwaukee shot 0-6 from three-point range at Phoenix in their 123-111 loss on March 20. It was the first time that the Bucks failed to make a three-point basket since February 21, 2002, ironically versus Phoenix in a 92-81 loss at the Bradley Center. It broke a streak of 191 straight games with a three-pointer made for the Bucks.

- Redd scored his 5,000th career point on March 4 and connected on his 500th career three-pointer on April 13.
- 15 separate players missed games due to injury, illness or suspension. T.J. Ford missed the entire season while recovering from neck surgery and Redd saw a string of 212 consecutive games played snapped due to a sprained left index finger ... In all, 247 games were missed.
- The Bucks and Golden State Warriors tied an NBA-low for combined turnovers in a game with 11 (Milwaukee had 6 and Golden State had 5) on March 30.
- The Bucks held Seattle to 73 points on 29.4 percent shooting on February 27. The 73 points were tied for 10th for an opponent-low in Bucks history (only 13 times in their history has a team been held to 73 points or less).
- The Bucks scored 78 first-half points on February 8 against Boston, including 42 second-quarter points, on their way to a 121-97 win ... The 78 points were the most by the Bucks in a single half since the team scored the same amount on March 24, 1987 against New York.

HIGHLIGHTS:

- The Bucks finished the season 40-42 and advanced to the NBA playoffs for the 25th time in their 38-year history and for the 6th time in the last 8 seasons.
- Milwaukee improved 10 games from their 30-52 record in 2004-05.
- In advancing to the playoffs, the Bucks became the first team in NBA history to make the playoffs with four new starters from the previous season.
- Michael Redd led the Bucks in scoring 63 times this season. He finished the season with 2,028 points, becoming just the second player in franchise history to break the 2,000-point mark in a single season.
- Redd also maintained a 25.4 scoring average (9th in the NBA), not just a career-high, but also the highest for a Buck since Marques Johnson averaged 25.6 points during the 1978-79 season.
- The Bucks set an NBA record this season by winning their first 13 games decided by 6 points or less (they were also 9-0 in games decided by 3 points or less). They became the first team in the shot clock era (since 1954-55) to win their first 12 games decided by 6 points or less (12-0) when they beat Minnesota 95-92 on January 10, topping the previous record of 11 set by both the 1967-68 St. Louis Hawks and the 1959-60 Boston Celtics.
- Milwaukee finished the season 4th in the league in 3FG% (.380), the second-best season mark in team history (behind only the 2002-03 squad's 38.3 percent). Charlie Bell finished the year 11th in the NBA in 3FG% (.423) and teammate Bobby Simmons finished T-12th (.420).
- Andrew Bogut had a fine rookie season, earning a spot on the All-Rookie First Team after averaging 9.4 points, 7.0 rebounds and 2.3 assists in 28.6 minutes per game. He was named the Eastern Conference's Rookie of the Month for January and appeared in the T-Mobile Rookie Challenge Game at All-Star Weekend (along with teammate T.J. Ford).
- Milwaukee set a new NBA record for fewest turnovers in a game on April 1 against Indiana. Their 2 miscues beat out the old mark of 3 (set by 7 teams). Milwaukee's previous franchise record for fewest turnovers in a game was 4.
- The Bucks hit a franchise-record 18 three-pointers in their 132-110 rout of the Phoenix Suns at the Bradley Center on March 28. The 18 treys topped the previous franchise mark of 16. They also set a new NBA record after hitting 11 of those 18 triples in the 3rd quarter.

PLAYOFF RECORD:

- Lost to Detroit, First Round, 1-4

HONORS:

- Andrew Bogut - NBA All-Rookie First Team; T-Mobile Rookie/Sophomore Challenge at All-Star Weekend
- T.J. Ford - T-Mobile Rookie/Sophomore Challenge at All-Star Weekend

HIGHLIGHTS:

- The Bucks finished the 2006-07 campaign with a sub .500 winning percentage. Their final record of 28-54 included an 18-23 record at the Bradley Center and a 10-31 record on the road. The 2006-07 season marks the first time the Bucks lost 23 games at home since the 1995-96 season (14-27). Their 54 losses were the most by a Bucks team since the 1995-96 team went 25-57.
- The 2006-07 season was plagued by injuries. In total, Bucks players missed 234 games (3rd most in the NBA behind Boston & Portland) due to injury or illness. All five players in Milwaukee's projected opening day starting line-up missed at least 13 games or more due to injury. Milwaukee's injury/illness total was up from the 109 games missed in 2005-06.
- Michael Redd's 1,416 points over 53 games averaged to 26.7 points per game (5th in the NBA) and was also the highest for a Buck since Kareem Abdul-Jabbar averaged 30.0 points (1974-75). Redd also set a career high and broke a franchise record with 57 points against Utah (11/11), the previous record was 55 by Kareem Abdul-Jabbar (12/10/71). Redd also scored 52 on 3/4/07 against the Bulls. After the 06-07 season, Redd moved into 10th place on the Bucks all-time scoring list with 8,964 points.
- Mo Williams averaged career-highs in points (17.3), rebounds (4.8) and assists (6.1, 14th in NBA). He also became the first Buck to average at least 17.0 points and 6.0 assists in 50 games or more since Sam Cassell did it during the 2002-03 season.
- December was Milwaukee's best month of the season. They finished 11-6, (7-0 at home) and averaged 107.6 points per game to their opponents' 98.9, shot 48.9% from the field to their opponents' 46.4% and grabbed 40.1 rebounds to their opponents' 36.7. Milwaukee's 7-0 mark at home was their longest home winning streak since the 2003-04 season (10 games). Michael Redd and Mo Williams both received Eastern Conference Player of the Week honors in December. Redd won it twice (for the week of 11/23 to 12/3 and again for the week of 12/25 to 1/1) while Williams accepted his honor for the week of 12/18 to 12/24.
- Charlie Bell was the only Buck to play in every game. He appeared in all 82 contests and started 64 of them.

HIGHLIGHTS:

- The Bucks finished with a 26-56 record. Milwaukee was just below .500 at home at 19-22 and finished the year 7-34 outside of Milwaukee. With their 28 wins in the 2006-07 season, the Bucks won 29 or fewer games in consecutive seasons for the first time since 1992-93 (28) and 1993-94 (20). Their 56 losses were their most since the 1995-96 team went 25-57.
- Milwaukee put together a five-game winning-streak, their longest of the season, from November 14-24. After defeating Dallas 97-95 on November 24, the club was a season-best three games over .500 at 7-4. In those five games they defeated Memphis, Atlanta, (at) Cleveland, Los Angeles Lakers and Dallas.
- Rookie guard Ramon Sessions broke a nearly 40-year-old record; his 24 assists against Chicago on April 14 surpassed Guy Rodgers' record of 21 set October 31, 1968. Sessions also became the first player in franchise history to record 20 or more points and 20 or more assists in the same contest as he finished with 20 points and 24 assists.
- Andrew Bogut's numbers continued to increase in his third season. He averaged career-highs in points (14.3), rebounds (9.8) and blocks (1.7). Bogut also had 38 double-doubles in 2007-08 compared to 31 in his first two NBA campaigns combined. Since his rookie season, Bogut's points per game have gone up 4.9, rebounds 2.8, blocks 0.9 and minutes 6.3.
- The Bucks had three players who finished the season in the top-25 league leaders: Bogut was 9th in blocks (1.7), tied for 12th in rebounds (9.8) and 21st in field goal percentage (.511). Redd was 8th in points per game (22.7) and 24th in minutes (37.5). Williams finished in 14th in assists (6.3) and 18th in free throw percentage (.856).
- Milwaukee's rookies took home awards for their 2007-08 performances. Yi Jianlian was the Eastern Conference Rookie of the Month for December after averaging 12.1 points, 6.6 rebounds, 1.2 assists and 1.1 blocks. Ramon Sessions was the Eastern Conference's Rookie of the Month for April with 11.5 points, 11.3 assists and 5.6 rebounds in 17 games (11 starts).
- Michael Redd had several milestones as he completed his eighth season in the NBA, all in a Bucks uniform. Redd appeared in his 500th career game this season and now ranks in the top-10 in Bucks franchise history in the following categories: 10,596 points (6th), 20.5 scoring average (5th), 3,721 field goals (9th), 2,243 free throws (3rd), 911 three-pointers (2nd), 84.5 free throw percentage (7th), 38.7 three-point field goal percentage (7th), 517 games (9th) and 17,505 minutes (9th).
- Charlie Bell and Mo Williams left their mark in the Bucks record book. Mo Williams was second on the team with 89 three-pointers and Charlie Bell was third with 74. Williams now has 273 makes in a Bucks uniform (5th) while Bell has 272 (6th).
- Michael Redd led the club in scoring for the fifth consecutive season. The only other player to lead the club in scoring for as many as five seasons is Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, who did it six times.

HIGHLIGHTS:

- The Bucks finished 2008-09 with a 34-48 record, an eight-game improvement from their 2007-08 record of 26-56. That eight-game improvement was tied for the fifth-largest in the NBA in 2008-09. Milwaukee boosted their home win total from the previous season to 22 from 19 and nearly doubled their road win total with 12 from the seven they had in the previous season.
- Milwaukee saw their defensive numbers improve in 2008-09 with noted numbers in points allowed 100.4, 16th in the NBA (103.9, 23rd in 2007-08), field goal percentage 45.8, 16th (48.0, 29th), three point percentage 37.8, 23rd (38.4, 21st), steals 7.4, 12th (6.6, 21st), opponent turnovers 16.5, 1st (13.7, 15th) and opponents assist:turnover ratio 1.28:1 (1.70:1).
- Milwaukee faced many back-to-backs, tying for the league lead with 22. They also had eight sets before the calendar shifted to December, a league-high with the next closest teams at six. The Bucks also had a stretch beginning on November 7 where they played their next 10 games as part of back-to-backs (five sets). The last time that happened was 2004-05 when Detroit played seven sets. It hadn't happened to the Bucks since January/February of 1996.
- The Bucks fell one game shy of an odd NBA occurrence that hasn't happened in more than 10 seasons. Starting with a loss to Detroit on December 27 and ending on January 17 at the L.A. Clippers, the club alternated wins and losses for 13 consecutive games, the longest such streak in the team's history. Milwaukee's longest streak of alternating wins and losses was eight games between January and February of 1973. The New York Knicks were the last team to top Milwaukee's mark of 13 games alternating wins and losses, going back-and-forth 14 times in December and January in the 1997-98 season. *Note, although the Bucks won on December 23, that game was included as part of a three-game winning string and doesn't count toward the streak.
- Milwaukee was hit by injuries in 2008-09 with eight players missing a total of 138 games due to injury/illness. The team's leading scorer for the last five seasons, Michael Redd, missed 49 games. Redd was out 14 games in November with a right ankle sprain and suffered an ACL/MCL tear against Sacramento on January 24, missing the remainder of the season (35 games). Andrew Bogut, the team's leading rebounder the previous two seasons, missed a total of 46 games: three in November with a bone bruise in his left knee and then 43 from early January through the remainder of the season due to a lower back injury.
- The team's main four starters entering the year - Andrew Bogut, Richard Jefferson, Michael Redd and Luke Ridnour played a total of 20 games together and were 11-9. In 36 games with Bogut, they allowed 97.6 points and opponents shot 44.7 percent. Without him those numbers became 104.0 points and 46.9 percent. With Redd in the fold for 33 tilts, Milwaukee averaged 99.4 points while shooting 45.8 percent from the floor. When Redd was out, those numbers became 99.2 points and 43.7 percent.

HIGHLIGHTS:

- The Bucks finished the 2009-10 season with a 46-36 record (28-13 at home; 18-23 on the road), reaching the playoffs for the 26th time in team history. Milwaukee's 46-36 record was a 12-game improvement from its 2008-09 record and a 20-game improvement from the 2007-08 season.
- Bucks rookie Brandon Jennings poured in 55 points on 21-34 from the field, including 7-8 from three and 6-8 from the free throw line, in the Bucks 129-125 win over Golden State on November 14. The 55-point tally was the most by any NBA player in 2009-10 and Jennings became the fastest (seventh game, edging out Wild Chamberlain: eight games) and the youngest (20 years and 52 days) player to top 50 points in a game (LeBron James previously held the record at 20 years and 80 days). His scoring outburst was also the most points by a Bucks rookie (Kareem Abdul-Jabbar had 51 on February 21, 1970) and two shy of Michael Redd's franchise record of 57 (November 11, 2006).
- Bucks center Andrew Bogut swatted away a career-best 175 shots in 69 games (2.5 per game, second in the NBA) after blocking 275 in the first 262 games of his career. He blocked a shot in a franchise record 39-consecutive games, which was the longest streak in the NBA for 2009-10 and the longest since Marcus Camby's 51-game streak in 2007-08. Bogut entered the season outside of the franchise's top-10 block list and is currently in sixth place with 450 career blocks.
- The Bucks set a franchise record with 645 three pointers made, surpassing the previous best of 593 set in the 2001-02 season. Milwaukee finished the season with a 35.6 three point percentage (eighth in NBA) and their 7.9 makes per game ranked them sixth in the league. Brandon Jennings (145 makes, a franchise rookie record) and Carlos Delfino (134, career-high) combined for 279 threes, the most by any Bucks duo since Michael Redd (182) and Ray Allen (123) combined for 305 in 2002-03.
- The Bucks went through one of the hottest streaks in the NBA in 2009-10 and in franchise history as they went 23-7 over a 30-game stretch where they didn't lose consecutive games (beginning with the first win following the consecutive losses and ending with the last win). Included in that stretch were two six-game winning streaks and the Bucks were 12-1 during one stretch and extended that to 15-2.
- John Salmons came to Milwaukee at the trade deadline and the Bucks went 22-8 in his 30 regular season games with the team. He averaged 19.9 points on 46.7 percent shooting and 38.5 percent from three while with the Bucks.

NBA PLAYOFF FORMAT & TIE-BREAKING PROCEDURES

2012 NBA PLAYOFF STRUCTURE

How teams are seeded:

Each conference sends eight teams to the NBA playoffs. The first four seeds in each conference are awarded to the three division winners and the team with the next-best regular season record. These four teams are seeded in order of regular season records. The four remaining spots are awarded according to record to the remaining four best non-division-winning teams.

Home court advantage for each series is awarded to the team with the best regular-season record. All rounds are best-of-seven series. Each series will follow a 2-2-1-1-1 home/road format except for the NBA Finals, which will follow a 2-3-2 home/road format.

TIE-BREAKING PROCEDURES

The NBA will look at the following factors (in order) if two teams tie for a playoff spot ...

1. Head-to-head results
2. If #1 is a tie: Winning percentage within the division (but only if tied teams are from the same division)
3. If #2 is a tie or does not apply: Winning percentage within the conference
4. If #3 is a tie: Winning percentage against playoff teams in own conference
5. If #4 is a tie: Winning percentage against playoff teams in opposite conference
6. If #5 is a tie: Point differential between offense and defense

The NBA will look at the following factors (in order) if multiple teams tie for a playoff spot ...

1. Winning percentage among all teams tied
2. If #1 is a tie: Winning percentage within the division (but only if tied teams are from the same division)
3. If #2 is a tie or does not apply: Winning percentage within the conference
4. If #3 is a tie: Winning percentage against playoff teams in own conference
5. If #4 is a tie: Point differential between offense and defense

Also ...

1. Any ties involving the championship of a division are resolved first.
2. If a multiple-team tie is reduced to a two-team tie at any point using the above criteria, the two-team tie will be resolved in accordance with the existing two-team tie procedure.
3. In 1991, the NBA Board of Governors instituted a change involving ties between teams in different conferences, such as what occurred in 1990 between Detroit and Portland. The first tiebreaker will still be head-to-head results, but the second tie-breaker will be the record of the Eastern Conference club against all West teams versus the record of the Western Conference club against all East teams.

Magic Number

The magic number is used to determine how close a front-running team is to securing a playoff spot. It is the total of additional wins by the front-running team, plus additional losses by the rival team, after which it is mathematically impossible for the rival team to secure a playoff spot.

For example, if Team A is leading Team B by two games with seven games remaining in the season, the magic number would be six. This is true because:

1. Six wins by Team A, regardless of how Team B performs, will secure a playoff spot for Team A.
2. Six losses by Team B, regardless of how Team A performs, will secure a playoff spot for Team A.
3. Any combination wins by Team A and losses by Team B that totals six will result in a playoff spot for Team A.

To calculate the magic number, use the following formula:

$$\text{Magic Number} = G + 1 - W_a - L_b$$

G = total games in the season
 W<sub>a</sub> = total wins by front-running team
 L<sub>b</sub> = total losses by rival team

BUCKS BROADCASTERS

TED DAVIS

RADIO PLAY-BY-PLAY ANNOUNCER

Ted Davis enters his 39th year in broadcasting, with the 2011-12 campaign marking his 15th season as the radio "Voice of the Bucks". He came to Milwaukee following nine seasons calling the action for the Dallas Mavericks. During the 2004-05 campaign, Davis received the Milwaukee Achievement In Radio (AIR) award as the best play-by-play broadcaster for the second time in his career. He won the award in 1998-99 as well. He also earned the KATIE Award - the most prestigious award in Texas for excellence in writing or broadcast journalism - for his work as play-by-play broadcaster on KLIF-AM for the Dallas Mavericks during the 1996-97 season.

A native of Lubbock, Texas, Davis began his radio career at the age of 17 when he was hired by KDNT in Denton, Texas. He spent 10 years (1978-88) on the sports staff at KVIL in Dallas-Fort Worth, and called Texas Christian University and Texas A&M games for the Southwest Conference radio network from 1982-86. He has also covered the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament for CBS Radio from 1986-88 and the NCAA Women's Final Four in 1986 and 1987. Davis has also held announcing positions with KLIF-AM and WBAP-AM in Dallas-Fort Worth, the Mutual Broadcasting System and North Texas State University (men's basketball and football).

Ted and his wife, Debbie, also a native Texan, reside in Menomonee Falls.

JIM PASCHKE

TV PLAY-BY-PLAY ANNOUNCER & TV DEVELOPMENT COORDINATOR

Jim Paschke enters his 39th year in the broadcasting industry with the 2011-12 season. Paschke is currently in his 26th season as the television "Voice of the Bucks" and 16th as the team's Television Development Coordinator. He has paired with current broadcast partner Jon McGlocklin, the "Original Buck", for the past 25 seasons. Paschke works year-round on the telecasts, television projects and other team broadcast ventures, and regularly contributes both video and written content on the Bucks website with his "Paschketball" features. Jim is also a featured speaker in the community, addressing various civic groups and school assemblies throughout the year.

A native of Bloomington, Minnesota, he attended the University of Minnesota and Brown Institute in Minneapolis. He began his broadcasting career in radio in Knoxville, Iowa, and moved to television in Sioux City, Iowa. Paschke served as sports director at WMTV-TV15 in Madison, WI, for three years and doubled as an analyst for University of Wisconsin football and basketball games.

He originally came to Milwaukee in 1980 and later served as sports director at WITI-TV6. From 1987-91 and 1995-96, baseball fans enjoyed hearing Jim as the television voice of the Milwaukee Brewers. He has also handled play-by-play duties for Marquette University basketball, Milwaukee Admirals (IHL) hockey and auto races at Wisconsin State Fair Park. Paschke returned to WITI-TV in 1992 to serve as moderator of the station's popular "Talking Sports" program, which earned an Emmy Award in 1993. In 2007 and 2009, Jim handled play-by-play duties for the NCAA Division III Baseball Championships, and in 2011 he called the action for FOX Sports Wisconsin's coverage WIAA State Football Championships. He also broadcast Wisconsin Timber Rattlers games in 2007 for Time Warner Cable.

On October 6, 2007, Jim became a member of the Wisconsin Basketball Coaches Hall of Fame as "a Friend of Basketball". He also serves as an honorary MACC Fund board member.

In 2008 Jim and partner Jon McGlocklin won Emmy Awards for their work on the FOX Sports Wisconsin broadcast of a Bucks-Lakers game in 2007. In 2009, Jim and Jon won Emmy Awards as contributors to FOX Sports Wisconsin's Bucks Live pre and post-game shows. In 2010, the duo and their FS Wisconsin colleagues added another Emmy award for the "Outstanding Achievement for Sports Programs - Life Sports/Game/Series - Unedited" category.
