IN MEMORY

The Milwaukee Bucks organization dedicates the 2008-09 Media Guide to the memory of George Pollard, official team artist for the Bucks since the 1977-78 season.

George Pollard

March 20, 1920 - April 16, 2008

The Milwaukee Bucks organization dedicates the 2008-09 Media Guide to the memory of George Pollard, official team artist for the Bucks since the 1977-78 season, who passed away on April 16, 2008.

Pollard was born on March 20, 1920 in Waldo, Wisconsin and was a gifted artist at a young age. He attended art school following his high school graduation and continued to work on his craft even while enlisted in the U.S. Marine Corps during World War II. During his 39 months in service he completed portraits of Eleanor Roosevelt and General Douglas MacArthur.

Following his time in the Marine Corps, Pollard returned to Milwaukee where he met his future wife and fellow artist, Nan. They were married for 61 years and collaborated on many projects - with George working on portraits and Nan on illustration for children's books. Both had distinguished careers in their fields.

Although he had already painted some of the most famous figures of the 20th century, including Pope John Paul II, Pollard added a new realm to his resume in 1977 when he began a long association with the Milwaukee Bucks. He served as the official team artist for 25 years and was good friends with Bucks owner, Herb Kohl. Pollard also worked on other NBA players and for teams in Major League Baseball and the National Football League.

Among many awards they received over the years, the Pollards have a gallery named after them in Kenosha and they received the Award for Distinction in Visual Arts given in memory of Georgia O'Keeffe.

George and Nan had three sons Jim, Paul and Mark, and one daughter Sherry Binghamon. The Milwaukee Bucks honor the life and works of portrait art produced by George Pollard.

TEAM IDENTITY

On June 28, 2006, the night of the 2006 NBA Draft, the Milwaukee Bucks unveiled new colors and a new logo for the 2006-07 season. Purple was officially traded in for red, making the team's new colors green, red and silver. The change also meant new uniforms and a new court for the franchise. For complete information on the new look, as well as in-depth commentary on the team's logo history, please see page 112.

POPULATION & SIZE

With a population of nearly 600,000, Milwaukee is the 22nd largest city in the U.S. The four-county metropolitan area (Milwaukee, Ozaukee, Washington and Waukesha counties) has a population of 1.5 million. The City of Milwaukee covers approximately 96 square miles.

LOCATION

Milwaukee is positioned in the center of the Midwest, in the southeast corner of Wisconsin, on Lake Michigan's western shore. Milwaukee's prime location offers benefits for business and for daily living. Global shipping lanes are readily accessible via the Great Lakes and the Mississippi River.

CLIMATE

Milwaukee has four very distinct seasons. Lake Michigan cools the city in the warm months and moderates cold temperatures in the winter. Average temperatures are 78 degrees (Fahrenheit) in the summer, 59 degrees in the autumn, 29 degrees in the winter, and 53 degrees in the spring. Milwaukee receives about 32 inches of precipitation annually, including 47 inches of snow.

WHAT DOES MILWAUKEE MEAN?

Long before the first settlers came to this area, the Algonkian Indians had a special name for the land: Millioki, which means "gathering place by the waters." The Indians may have picked the name because they used the area for tribal gatherings or because they observed how three rivers (the Menomonee, the Kinnickinnic and the Milwaukee) met before flowing into the waters of Lake Mie-sit-gan (Michigan).

CITY OF FESTIVALS ...

Milwaukee celebrates its melting pot heritage throughout the year with a delightful procession of ethnic and cultural festivals. Asian Moon Festival, Rainbow Summer, Polish Fest, RiverSplash!, Lakefront Festival of Arts, Bavarian VolksFest, Bastille Days, Festa Italiana, German Fest, African World Festival, PrideFest, Irish Fest, Mexican Fiesta, Labor Fest, Oktoberfest, Indian Summer Festival, Arab World Fest and the Holiday Folk Fair are all colorful tributes to a cherished past. Summerfest is the world's largest music festival according to the Guinness Book of World Records. The eleven-day festival features a variety of music from national headline acts to up-and-comers on 12 different stages.

BRADLEY CENTER

BRADLEY CENTER

1001 North Fourth Street
Milwaukee, WI 53203
(414) 227-0500

Home sweet home... that's how the 2008-09 Milwaukee Bucks refer to the Bradley Center for the 21st straight season! 2008 marks the 20th anniversary of the Bradley Center opening its doors for the first time, and it is still considered one of the finest arenas in the country. The 20,000-seat sports and entertainment facility opened on October 1, 1988. The $91 million structure was a gift to the Milwaukee community and State of Wisconsin from the late Jane Bradley Pettit and her husband, Lloyd, in honor of her father, Harry Lynde Bradley. Mr. Bradley was one of the founders of the Allen-Bradley Co., a national manufacturer of electrical controls headquartered in Milwaukee (now a subsidiary of Rockwell International).

Located in downtown Milwaukee, the Bradley Center covers more than one square city block and rises to a height of 13 stories. The exterior is clad in polished and flame-treated granite, with the same material used in the pedestals for the columns in the twin glass-enclosed, 60-foot-high signature atriums.

The Center is extraordinarily fan-friendly, with wide, open concourses, multiple concessions and merchandise locations, and 28 large restrooms. The arena provides three levels of fan seating accommodations, including the private suite concourse, which is located just 30 feet above floor level while still allowing for over 7,200 fans to remain below.

Club Cambria, at Bradley Center Suites, is Milwaukee's most unique sports experience. This club, located on the north end of the suite level, provides the ultimate setting for interacting with guests and enjoying Bucks basketball while indulging in the style and comfort of this private environment.

Courtside Club offers the ultimate in quality service in a relaxing atmosphere, amidst the thrills of NBA action! Courtside Club Lounge including a bar, lounge area with flat screen TVs and restrooms, private coat check and more. Courtside Club members also benefit from in-seat food and beverage service as they enjoy the game.

Behind the scenes, the latest in computerized and electronic equipment controls the security, communications systems and interior environment for the facility. State-of-the-art electronics and interior circuitry assist the media in covering events at the Bradley Center. As many as four television stations are able to telecast simultaneously from any of three locations in the arena. In addition, members of the media may transmit as well as receive information within the building through multiple sources.

In addition to the Milwaukee Bucks, the Bradley Center is also home to the Marquette University Men's Basketball team and the Milwaukee Admirals professional hockey team. The Center regularly hosts a variety of other extraordinary entertainment events including concerts, figure skating and family shows.

The Bradley Center was designed by Hellmuth, Obata & Kassabaum of Kansas City, Missouri, and Venture Architects, which was a joint venture between the Milwaukee architectural firms of Kahler Slater, Torphy Architects and the Zimmerman Design Group.

FOR DIRECTIONS AND MAPS, SEE PAGE 293.

ACCOMMODATIONS FOR THE DISABLED

Each Bradley Center entrance is equipped with an electronic door opener operated by a touch pad.

Parking for guests with mobility limitations may be found in the Bradley Center parking structure at Sixth Street and Highland Avenue. These spaces are located on the first and third levels. Doors may be operated by electronic touch pads.

Oversized vehicles (more than 6'9" in height) with "disabled" license plates or stickers may park in designated spaces located north of Lobby A (access via Fourth Street). All guests using these spaces to park are required to follow the instructions of Bradley Center Parking Services personnel.

Two of the four Bradley Center Ticket Office windows open for daily sales are equipped with a "pass through" drawer system that is wheelchair accessible. Bradley Center Ticket Office hours are 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday; 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. on Saturday; and two hours prior to game times on Sunday. Non-season hours vary.

Short-term parking is available at the northeast corner of the Bradley Center's property (Fourth Street, north of Highland Avenue) for the purchase of tickets during regular business hours. Only the spaces parallel to Fourth Street with signage indicating this purpose are available for use.

16 platforms, located throughout the Bradley Center, accommodate wheelchairs and folding chairs, which allow patrons with mobility limitations and guests to sit together. Accessible seats, located next to these platforms, are also available on a limited basis.

All concession stands have counter space accessible for wheelchair approach.

Women's and Men's restrooms are located at all four corners of both the 200 and 400 Levels of the building. All 28 restrooms have wheelchair accessible facilities. Couples requiring a "co-ed" lavatory may request use of the First Aid Room restroom, located at the north end of the 200 Level at section 206.

All drinking fountains are wheelchair accessible. Drinking fountains are located on the concourse outside each restroom.

Elevators for guests with mobility limitations are located in both the Inner East and Inner West lobbies. Both elevators travel to all floors of the building and are staffed with operators during events. Controls are wheelchair accessible.

Limited wheelchair transport service to and from entrances to seating can be made available. If you would like this service, please call (414) 227-0797 to make advance arrangements.

FOR THE HEARING AND VISUALLY IMPAIRED:

Bucks fans attending home game in the Bradley Center are able to listen to game broadcasts of Ted Davis, the "Voice of the Milwaukee Bucks", on their personal radios. The Bradley Center, in an effort to aid hearing and visually impaired patrons, installed a radio transmitter in the building at the outset of the 1993-94 season. While the system was designed to aid the hearing and visually impaired, all fans can enjoy the benefit.

Any patron bringing an FM radio and tuning to 105.1 FM will be able to listen to the entire broadcast of the game from their seat. Programming on the frequency begins approximately one hour prior to each home game. The Bradley Center also has a number of portable "belt-pack" AM/FM radios and headsets as well available at the Administration Office located on the north side of the outer east atrium near Gate A. In order for a patron to check out a radio at the Bradley Center Administration Office, a valid driver's license is required for deposit.

BUCKS TRAINING CENTER

TRAINING CENTER

3501 South Lake Drive, Suite 100
Milwaukee, WI 53235

In September of 1997, the Milwaukee Bucks went state-of-the-art when they moved their basketball operations into a 35,000 square-foot wing of the Archbishop Cousins Center in St. Francis, WI.

The Milwaukee Bucks Training Center, designed by Schroeder and Holt Architects, provides the team with a first-class, year-round facility dedicated to the athletic enhancement of Bucks players. Construction, improvements and equipment were completed at a cost of nearly $3 million. In 11 years since, continued upgrades have made the facility one of the finest in the NBA.

The gym features a running and spring track, which encircles a regulation 94' x 50' basketball floor, with six additional baskets to accommodate shooting drills. Just off the court are spacious locker room and training room facilities, a recreation lounge, a hydrotherapy room and a 42' x 36' weight and conditioning room. The Bucks also have access to a full-length swimming pool that is adjacent to their headquarters.

The building also houses a video editing system, meeting rooms and office space for the player personnel and public relations departments, as well as the entire Bucks coaching staff.

In the summer of 2006, the facility experienced a major makeover that coincided with the team's new logo and colors. The makeover was highlighted with the completion of a new practice court that mirrors the design the team uses for games at the Bradley Center.

COMMITMENT TO COMMUNITY

COMMUNITY MISSION

On the court, the Milwaukee Bucks mission is to play hard and pursue victory. Off the court, the Bucks mission is to contribute to a better quality of life in Milwaukee and Wisconsin, and positively affect the lives of all people in this community.

Young people continue to admire professional athletes. And because youth are so impressionable, a considerable portion of the team's efforts are dedicated to tomorrow's leaders.

It is with dedication and determination that the organization participates in numerous charitable and philanthropic endeavors. As highly visible members of the community, the Bucks players, coaches and front office staff acknowledge and accept their unique role in society and are pledged to improve the community's welfare through their expertise, energy, effort and dollars.

Each Milwaukee Bucks player is committed to being a part of the community, away from the bright lights of the basketball court. Bucks coaches and employees share the players commitment and devotion to the programs listed below.

COMMUNITY PROGRAMS

THE MACC FUND TRADITION

The Bucks host the Annual MACC Fund game each October, a preseason game at the Bradley Center. This event is the cornerstone of the Bucks 32-year, year-round commitment to the MACC (Midwest Athletes Against Childhood Cancer) Fund. The Bucks have raised more than $1,250,000 for cancer research since the inaugural MACC Fund game in 1977, the first major event to benefit the fund. The MACC Fund supports pediatric cancer research at The Midwest Children's Cancer Center at Milwaukee Children's Hospital.

The Milwaukee Bucks played a major role in the creation of the MACC Fund in 1976. The Bucks radio announcer at that time, Eddie Doucette, had a son Brett who was diagnosed with cancer in 1974. Jon McGlocklin, "the Original Buck" was retiring from the Bucks. Jon and Eddie decided to create a fund to support research to help children like Brett who had cancer. The MACC Fund, Milwaukee Athletes Against Childhood Cancer (later changed to Midwest Athletes) was founded during a halftime ceremony of a Bucks game at the Milwaukee Arena on December 10, 1976. Brett Doucette, the MACC Fund's "first success story" is married and living in Arizona. The Bucks have sponsored an annual preseason game to benefit the MACC Fund since 1977 in addition to sponsoring numerous other fund-raising opportunities for the MACC Fund. The Bucks MACC Fund Games alone have raised over $1.25 million. Senator Kohl and the Bucks also contributed an additional $100,000 on the occasion of the MACC Fund's 10th Anniversary in 1986.

The MACC Fund supports pediatric cancer and related blood disorder research such as sickle cell disease and aplastic anemia in Wisconsin. This research impacts children throughout the United States as well as globally. The Milwaukee Bucks have been a pillar of support for the MACC Fund since its inception. The MACC Fund has contributed $28 million to research at the Medical College of Wisconsin's Midwest Children's Cancer Center as well as the University of Wisconsin's Paul Carbone Comprehensive Cancer Center. Long term commitments take that number to $32 million.

The six-story, 141,000 square foot MACC Fund Research Center houses The Midwest Children's Cancer Center. This research has led to the largest number of successful non-related bone marrow transplants in the country which are done at Children's Hospital of Wisconsin. This hospital was rated as the nation's ninth best children's hospital by the 2007 Child magazine. In 2005, it also boasted the best rate of success for one year after bone marrow transplant. MACC Fund support has led to some exciting advances in sickle cell disease and aplastic anemia as well becoming one of the nation's leaders. The MACC Fund Pediatric Cancer Research Wing will open in 2008 at the University of Wisconsin's Carbone Cancer Center. This 14,000 square foot wing will provide the latest in research at one of the nation's premier comprehensive cancer centers. The MACC Fund has played an important role at both Centers while helping raise the overall cure rate for childhood cancer from 20% to 80% over the past 30 years. The Bucks have played a pivotal role in this "Gift of Hope" during each of those years.

Excellence Scholarships Awarded to date: $1,900,000 to 1,900 students

Excellence Scholarships in the amount of $1,000 are awarded each year to 100 graduating high school students. Selection of scholarship recipients begins at the local level, with the number of nominations from each high school based on enrollment. The names of local nominees are sent to regional selection panels composed of teachers, administrators, civic leaders and community representatives. Final selection is made by a statewide committee composed of civic leaders, representatives from the Wisconsin Council of Religious and Independent Schools, Wisconsin Newspaper Association, Cooperative Educational Service Agencies, Wisconsin Parents Association and several other education-related associations. Scholarship recipients are chosen for their demonstrated academic potential, outstanding leadership, citizenship, community service, integrity and other special talents.

Fellowship Awards Awarded to date: $3,800,000 to 1,900 teachers and their schools

Fellowships in the amount of $1,000 are awarded each year to 100 Wisconsin teachers. Each fellow's school also receives a $1,000 grant. Anyone may nominate a teacher for the Kohl Fellowship. The educator nomination screening process begins within each public school district or non-public school organization. Further screening takes place at the regional level, and the statewide selection committee chooses the award recipients. Educators are chosen for their superior ability to inspire a love of learning in their students and to motivate others, as well as their leadership and service within and outside the classroom.

Initiative Scholarships Awarded to date: $1,035,000 to 1,035 students

The Herb Kohl Initiative Scholarship was established in October of 1997. Initiative Scholarships in the amount of $1,000 are awarded each year to 85 graduating high school students. HERB KOHL PRESIDENT

Public servant, philanthropist, businessman and professional sports team owner. All four accurately describe Herb Kohl, who begins his 24th season as president and owner of the Milwaukee Bucks organization. Kohl purchased the team on March 1, 1985 from Jim Fitzgerald, ensuring it would remain in Milwaukee.

"From the very beginning, my association with the Bucks has been a wonderful experience," Kohl remarked. "Wherever I go, people come up to me and talk about the team. The opportunity I was given to purchase and to keep the team here in Milwaukee is one of the most unique and fortunate experiences I've ever enjoyed."

A Milwaukee native who grew up in the Sherman Park neighborhood, Kohl has maintained a lifetime commitment to his home city and state. He attended Sherman Elementary School and Milwaukee Washington

High School. A 1956 graduate of the University of Wisconsin-Madison, Kohl was a childhood friend and current Commissioner of Major League Baseball Bud Selig. He went on to earn a Master's degree from the Harvard University Graduate School of Business Administration in 1958. Kohl served in the Army Reserve from 1958-64.

From 1959-69, Kohl served in many capacities with the then family-owned Kohl Corporation, operators of grocery and department stores. His parents had built their first Kohl's Food Market in the late '20s, and from that inauspicious beginning, grew the business into one of the Midwest's leading grocery and department store chains. Kohl was president from 1970 through the sale of the corporation by the family in 1979, and the Kohl's Department Stores have now expanded throughout the United States.

After years of involvement in public affairs in Wisconsin, having served as general chairman of Milwaukee's United Way campaign and state chairman of the Wisconsin Democratic Party, Kohl decided to run for the United States Senate seat vacated by William Proxmire. He was elected to a six-year term as Wisconsin's 25th United States Senator in 1988, re-elected in November of 1994, in November of 2000, and again in November of 2006. Kohl serves on three committees in the Senate: the Appropriations Committee - chairman of the Agriculture Appropriations Subcommittee; the Judiciary Committee - chairman of the Antitrust, Competition Policy and Consumer Rights Subcommittee; and the Special Committee on Aging, chairman.

Involved in a vast array of community-minded projects, Kohl has consistently championed the cause of education. He established the Herb Kohl Educational Foundation Excellence Scholarship and Fellowship Award Program in 1990, as well as the Initiative Scholarship Program in 1997. As of September, 2008, the Herb Kohl Educational Foundation has awarded a total of $6.74 million to Wisconsin educators, students and schools. Annually, the grants total $385,000 and are presented to 185 graduating high school students, 100 teachers and 100 schools throughout Wisconsin.

With a life-long interest in sports, Kohl was one of 10 original investors in the Milwaukee Brewers, and he also initiated negotiations with then NBA commissioner Walter Kennedy, which ultimately led to the granting of a franchise in January of 1968 to a group of Milwaukee investors.

Kohl's interest in sports does not stop at the professional level. In April of 1995, Kohl donated $25 million to his alma mater to help provide a state-of-the-art new home for the Badgers. January of 2009 will mark the 11th Anniversary of the opening of the Kohl Center, a sports arena that is home of the University of Wisconsin-Madison men's and women's basketball teams, as well as the men's hockey team.

"I was very happy to be in a position to help build a first-rate, state-of-the-art sports arena," said Kohl. "I think it cements the university's reputation as one of the premier athletic programs in the Big Ten and the country."

Recognized for his many efforts, Kohl has received numerous awards from throughout the state of Wisconsin, including: induction into the Wisconsin Athletic Hall of Fame in 2007; an Honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degree from Ripon College in 1999; Best Corporate Citizen of 1997 by Madison Magazine; the "Kiwanis Milwaukee Award" in 1987; an Honorary Doctor of Laws degree from Cardinal Stritch College of Milwaukee in 1986; the Greater Milwaukee Convention and Visitors Bureau "Lampighter Award" in 1986; named "Humanitarian of the Year" in 1986 by the Wisconsin Parkinson Association; "Wisconsin Sports Personality of the Year" in 1985 by the Milwaukee Pen and Mike Club; and the "Joe Killeen Memorial Sportsman of the Year" in 1985 by the Wisconsin Broadcasters Association.

JOHN HAMMOND

GENERAL MANAGER

Bucks General Manager John Hammond brings more than 29 years of coaching and administrative experience to his post. The Zion, Illinois native was named to the position on April 11, 2008.

Prior to joining the Bucks, Hammond spent seven seasons as the Vice President of Basketball Operations with the Detroit Pistons where he was responsible for directing day-to-day operations of the basketball operations department, handling player personnel issues and assisting in roster development. In his seven seasons in Detroit, the Pistons were 330-158 (.676 winning percentage) with one championship, another NBA Finals appearance and three other Eastern Conference Finals appearances. In addition to his time as VP of Basketball Operations with the Pistons, Hammond also served in the organization as Director of Player Personnel, Scouting Director and Assistant Coach in two stints with the team.

Hammond began his NBA career in 1989 as an assistant coach and scout with the Minnesota Timberwolves where he worked under current Milwaukee Bucks Director of Scouting, Billy McKinney. From there he joined Larry Brown's staff with the Los Angeles Clippers, where they advanced to the post-season in 1992 and 1993. Hammond had another stint with the Clippers when he joined Alvin Gentry's staff as the lead assistant for the 2000-01 season. The team saw a 16-game improvement and Hammond was noted as a key in developing first-year players Darius Miles, Keyon Dooling and Quentin Richardson. Hammond advanced to the postseason five times in his time as an assistant coach.

Prior to his NBA career, Hammond spent six seasons at Southwest Missouri State where he helped lead the school to three consecutive NCAA Tournament berths (1986, 1987 and 1988) and an NIT invite in 1985. He also spent two seasons at Houston Baptist (1981-83), two at Nebraska (1979-81) and three seasons at the high school level in Nebraska.

A Greenville College (Illinois) graduate, Hammond earned his Bachelor's degree while lettering twice in basketball and serving as a student assistant coach.

GAME NIGHT ENTERTAINMENT

BANGO - BUCKS MASCOT

For 30 years now, Bango has been energizing and entertaining Bucks fans with his high flying dunks, acrobatic moves, and crazy shenanigans. This wild Buck is a crowd favorite for all fans young and old, and is gearing up for this season with a whole new bag of tricks to bring joy and excitement to the Bucks games. Bango is also a fixture in the Milwaukee community doing close to 200 appearances throughout the city. On top of all of the fun he has in Milwaukee with parades, school visits, and other great events, Bango is also a world traveler entertaining in numerous cities across the states, and recently performing for thousands and thousands of basketball fans in China. The Milwaukee Buck loves extreme sports, dodging hunters in orange vests, and Milwaukee Bucks Basketball!

Bango was a phrase coined by Eddie Doucette, the original "Voice of the Bucks." When the club held a contest to name their new mascot, a few thousand entries were received. The most popular of which was Bango. Sherry Kussman of New Berlin, Wisconsin, won a drawing among seven people who submitted the Bango name. For her entry, Sherry won a pair of season tickets.

With the name in place, on October 18, 1977, Bango was born. The date signified the home opener of the 1977-78 season for the Bucks. The game pitted Milwaukee against the Kareem Abdul-Jabbar-led Los Angeles Lakers in the Milwaukee Arena.

For more information on how to book Bango for your event, call the Game Operations Department at 414-227-0500.

SEASON NOTES

- The Bucks finished with the 2007-08 campaign with a 26-56 record. Milwaukee was just below .500 at home at 19-22 and finished the year 7-34 outside of Milwaukee. With their 28 wins in the 2006-07 season, the Bucks won 29 or fewer games in consecutive seasons for the first time since 1992-93 (28) and 1993-94 (20). Their 56 losses were the most by a Bucks team since the 1995-96 team went 25-57.

- Milwaukee put together a five-game winning-streak, their longest of the season, from November 14-24. After defeating Dallas 97-95 on November 24, the club was a season-best three games over .500 at 7-4. In those five games they defeated Memphis, Atlanta, (at) Cleveland, Los Angeles Lakers and Dallas.

- Rookie guard Ramon Sessions broke a nearly 40-year-old record in the second-to-last game of the 2007-08 season. His 24 assists against Chicago on April 14 surpassed Guy Rodgers' record of 21 set October 31, 1968. Sessions also became the first player in franchise history to record 20 or more points and 20 or more assists in the same contest as he finished with 20 points to go along with the 24 assists.

- Andrew Bogut saw his numbers continue to increase in his third season. He averaged career-highs in points (14.3), rebounds (9.8) and blocks (1.7). Bogut also had 38 double-doubles in 2007-08 compared to 31 in his first two NBA campaigns combined. Since his rookie season, Bogut's points per game have gone up 4.9, rebounds 2.8, blocks 0.9 and minutes 6.3.

- The Bucks had three players who finished the season in the top-25 league leaders: Bogut was 9th in blocks (1.7), tied for 12th in rebounds (9.8) and 21st in field goal percentage (.511). Redd was 8th in points per game (22.7) and 24th in minutes (37.5). Williams finished in 14th in assists (6.3) and 18th in free throw percentage (.856).

- Both of Milwaukee's rookies took home awards for their performances in 2007-08. Yi Jianlian was the Eastern Conference Rookie of the Month for December after averaging 12.1 points, 6.6 rebounds, 1.2 assists and 1.1 blocks in 30.6 minutes per game. Ramon Sessions closed out the season as the Eastern Conference's Rookie of the Month for April with monthly averages of 11.5 points, 11.3 assists and 5.6 rebounds in 17 games (11 starts).

- Michael Redd had several milestones as he completed his eighth season in the NBA, all in a Bucks uniform. Redd appeared in his 500th career game this season and now ranks in the top-10 in Bucks franchise history in the following categories: 10,596 points (6th), 20.5 scoring average (5th), 3,721 field goals (9th), 2,243 free throws (3rd), 911 three-pointers (2nd), 84.5 free throw percentage (7th), 38.7 three-point field goal percentage (7th), 517 games (9th) and 17,505 minutes (9th).

- Milwaukee guards Charlie Bell and Mo Williams also left the mark in the Bucks record book. Mo Williams was second on the team with 89 three-pointers and Charlie Bell was third with 74. Williams now has 273 makes in a Bucks uniform (5th) while Bell has 272 (6th).

- The Bucks improved from 38 games of having equal or more rebounds than their opponent in 2006-07 to 52 during the 2007-08 season. Milwaukee was 17th in the NBA with 41.7 rebounds per game, but their 12.9 offensive rebounds per contest were the third best average in the NBA. They had 27 offensive rebounds March 2 at Indiana, which tied them for the highest total in the NBA in 2007-08 - the Bucks accomplished the mark in a regulation game while the other two teams needed overtime to reach 27.

- Michael Redd led the club in scoring for the fifth consecutive season. The only other player to lead the club in scoring for as many as five seasons is Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, who did it six times.

With Bell out of action, Mo Williams collects his 273rd make from three-point land on April 2 in a victory over Washington. It moves the Bucks point guard ahead of Bell in the record books. They stand at 5th and 6th in the record books with just the one make separating them.

HISTORY

TEAM HISTORY

As the Milwaukee Bucks professional basketball team enters its 41st season, owner Herb Kohl celebrates his 24th season as President of the 10th winningest franchise in NBA history (seventh winningest among current franchises). Kohl purchased the team on March 1, 1985, from Jim Fitzgerald, ensuring it would remain in Milwaukee.

The National Basketball Association originally awarded the franchise to a Milwaukee group of investors - headed by Wesley D. Pavalon and Marvin L. Fishman - called Milwaukee Professional Sports and Services, Inc. on January 22, 1968. Pavalon and Fishman were named President and Executive Vice President, respectively, as the franchise was incorporated on February 5, 1968.

An application from Milwaukee Pro was registered with the Wisconsin Department of Securities for the sale of 300,000 shares of common stock to Wisconsin residents at $5 per share. Because the issue caught public fancy, an additional 125,000 shares were offered when the stock opened on the over-the-counter market on April 24, 1968.

On the basketball side of the operation, the team went through both the college and expansion draft under the watchful eye of the team's first head coach, Larry Costello.

A Janesville, Wisconsin, businessman, Jim Fitzgerald served as a member of the Board of Directors of Milwaukee Professional Sports and Service beginning in 1973. He assumed his position as Chairman of the Board and President of the Bucks in November of 1976 and held that position until the sale of the franchise to Kohl in the spring of 1985.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

May 22, 1968 was the day when Milwaukee's second professional basketball team finally got a name - the Milwaukee Bucks. More than 14,000 fans participated in a contest to name the team. Records show that R.D. Trebilcox of Whitefish Bay, Wisconsin, was one of 45 persons who suggested the name 'Bucks'. He saw bucks as being spirited, good jumpers, fast and agile. For his efforts in helping Milwaukee's entry into the professional sports world gain an enduring nickname, Mr. Trebilcox won a new car.

LOGO/COLOR HISTORY

On June 28, 2006, prior to the 2006-07 season, the Bucks unveiled an updated logo and a new color scheme. "The historical Bucks forest green and the silver introduced in 1993 remain in the identity, but purple has been replaced by a deep red - more sophisticated than the classic red used in the Bucks' color palette from 1968 through the mid-80's," Vice President of NBA Apparel Christopher Arena said. "The deep red is in line with the team's history and representative of their renewed commitment to intensity and energy."

The basic structure of Milwaukee's primary logo that was introduced in 1993 remains in the identity, but several areas have been enhanced. The wordmark "BUCKS" now includes a more rigid, etched font with a retaining shape that mirrors the structure of the letters. The box that outlines the word "BUCKS" has been altered, as well. A "MILWAUKEE" wordmark, although not used in the primary logo, was created and will be used on various team materials and licensed products.

The logo was first introduced in May of 1993 when, following the 25th Anniversary season, the club announced that their franchise would be represented by a new logo with corresponding new uniforms. It depicts an aggressive, frontal view of the head and shoulders of an eight-point white tail buck (male deer) on a triangular background atop stylized Milwaukee Bucks lettering. The color scheme featured hunter green, purple and silver. In making the announcement of the new logo, then-NBA Creative Director Tom O'Grady said, "The Bucks logo is an image of strength and focused determination. The solid logo design, incorporating the powerful Buck, portrays a confident, cohesive team. It is one unit, an attribute of any good team. The Buck itself gazes steadily ahead, as if to accept any challenge that may lie in its path. The theme of solidarity is repeated upon through the physique of the muscular buck and the heavy block lettering."

The 2006-07 changes also were applied to the team's secondary logo, which was first introduced during the 2001 Playoffs. The secondary logo is a derivative of the primary logo. It retains the existing red triangular base and eight-point silver buck antlers, while adding a silver-outlined green basketball that appears centered at the top of the triangular base.

A search for the team's initial logo/color identity in 1968 was the responsibility of then-General Manager John Erickson, who commissioned Milwaukee commercial artist Matt Kastelic to develop the team's first logo. The original logo featured a caricature of a buck wearing a sweater emblazoned with the letter 'B' and spinning a basketball on one hoof while sitting atop the words 'Milwaukee Bucks'.

The original official team colors of forest green, red and white were in use since their inception in 1968 through the 1976-77 season. From the 1976 through 1985 seasons, the club adopted various hues of green, including forest, kelly and lime, with a white accent. The changes in color did not affect the logo.

FAMOUS FIRSTS IN BUCKS HISTORY

First Draft Choice

In the 1968 Draft, the Bucks selected Charlie Paulk of Northeastern University in the first round (seventh overall).

First Game

On October 16, 1968, the Bucks hosted the Chicago Bulls, dropping an 89-84 decision in front of a Milwaukee Arena crowd of 8,467. Starting for the Bucks were Guy Rodgers, Jon McGlocklin, Fred Hetzel, Len Chappell and Wayne Embry. McGlocklin scored the first points in team history, draining a jump shot just 13 seconds in to the contest. Rodgers led the Bucks with 16 points.

First Win

After dropping their first five games of the inaugural season, the Bucks claimed victory on October 31, 1968, a 134-118 decision over the Detroit Pistons at the Arena. Wayne Embry led the Bucks in scoring with 30 points, and became the first player in Bucks history to score 30-plus in a single game.

First NBA Championship

No expansion team in pro sports history earned a championship quicker than the Bucks, who captured the 1971 NBA title in just their third season of existence. The 1970-71 Bucks posted a 66-16 regular-season mark under Coach Larry Costello. In the postseason, they beat San Francisco (4-1) and the Los Angeles Lakers (4-1) before sweeping Baltimore in four straight for the title.

First Bradley Center Game

In front of a sellout crowd of 18,649 on November 5, 1988, the Bucks dropped a 107-94 decision to the Atlanta Hawks. Terry Cummings led the Bucks with 19 points.

First Bradley Center Win

RETIRED NUMBERS

#1 - OSCAR ROBERTSON

On April 21, 1970, Flynn Robinson and Charlie Paulk were dealt to the Cincinnati Royals. In exchange, the Bucks received Oscar Robertson, an All-Star in each of his 10 seasons in Cincinnati, who still had plenty of fuel left in his tank at the age of 31.

The player to whom other great "all-around" players are compared, Robertson joined Kareem Abdul-Jabbar to immediately form one of the most formidable inside-outside duos in NBA history. The NBA's first "big" point guard at 6-5, Robertson averaged 19.4 ppg, 5.7 rpg and 8.2 apg in his first season in Milwaukee, exhibiting the versatility that led to nine All-NBA First Teams in Cincinnati.

The Bucks won 66 games and advanced to the NBA Finals against Baltimore. For only the second time in NBA history, the Finals ended in a 4-0 sweep, and The Big O finally had the NBA championship that had eluded him in Cincinnati. Robertson averaged 18.3 ppg in Milwaukee's 12-2 postseason.

Robertson played three more seasons with the Bucks, and the team never won fewer than 59 games. In 1973-74, the last of his 14 NBA seasons, Oscar again led the Bucks to the Finals. In a memorable seven-game series against the Boston Celtics, the Bucks came up one game short of clinching their second NBA Championship.

Robertson retired after having led Milwaukee to a 248-80 record in four seasons. Robertson, the only Buck to wear the #1, had his jersey retired on October 18, 1974.

#2 - JUNIOR BRIDGEMAN

When Junior Bridgeman joined the Bucks, Milwaukee was coming off of a 38-44 season in which they failed to make the playoffs. When he left nine seasons later, the Bucks were Eastern Conference Finalists with four straight divisional championships to their credit.

J.B., acquired from the Lakers with Brian Winters in the trade that sent Kareem Abdul-Jabbar to Los Angeles, easily found his niche as the Bucks "Super Sub." He started only 105 of the 711 games he played in a Bucks uniform, but Bridgeman scored in double figures for eight straight seasons, consistently appearing atop the list of the league's highest scoring non-starters.

He was the league's top scoring sixth man in 1978-79, averaging 15.5 ppg, but he was just warming up. He averaged 17.6 ppg in the 1979-80 season, and 16.8 ppg the following year as the Bucks reached the 60-win plateau for the fourth time in their history. In nine seasons, he hit double figures eight times.

His tenure with the Bucks appeared to be over when he was traded (with Marques Johnson and Harvey Catchings) to the LA Clippers for Terry Cummings, Ricky Pierce and Craig Hodges on Sept. 29, 1984. In 1987, after two seasons with the Clippers, Bridgeman re-signed with the Bucks in January of 1987, assisting the Bucks on their way to a seventh consecutive 50-win season.

When all was said and done, Bridgeman had played more games than any player in Bucks history (711), a record he still holds. In addition, he is among the Bucks all-time leaders in scoring (7th, 9,892) and minutes (7th, 18,044), and also among the Bucks all-time leaders in steals (T-9th, 607), field goals made (5th, 4,142) and attempted (4th, 8,658).

#4 - SIDNEY MONCRIEF

Sidney Moncrief was simply Milwaukee's Mr. Everything for a decade that produced 523 wins, seven division championships and prompted the building of a new arena to accommodate the legions of Bucks fans.

During the '80s, the most prolific decade in Bucks history, Moncrief was front man for a team that won 50 games for seven consecutive seasons and appeared in the playoffs in each of his 10 seasons (1979-89).

Moncrief, the fifth overall selection in the 1979 NBA Draft, quickly showed Milwaukee fans that he could do it all – shooting, posting, slashing, passing, rebounding and defending were all in his arsenal.

A five-time All-Star, Moncrief compiled 16.7 points per game in 10 seasons in Milwaukee. He also averaged 5.0 rebounds, 3.9 assists, 1.26 steals and finished with a career shooting percentage of better than 50 percent. But as proficient as Moncrief was at the offensive end, surely he was better known for his relentless defense. Moncrief earned four straight berths on the NBA's All-Defensive First Team (1982-86) and was the first recipient of the NBA's Defensive Player of the Year honor in 1983.

Moncrief, once called "the most beloved athlete in the history of Arkansas", owns a similar spot in the hearts and minds of Bucks fans. His #4 was raised to the rafters on January 6, 1990, at the Bradley Center. Among the seven Bucks whose numbers hang in the rafters, Moncrief is the only one who played in the facility.

To this day, only Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and Glenn Robinson have scored more points in a Milwaukee uniform than Sir Sid, who scored 11,594 points as a Buck.

#14 - JON MCGLOCKLIN

If it has happened in the 39-year history of the Bucks, Jonny Mac was there to see it. An original member of the team, he remains a fixture in the organization, having spent the last 31 seasons as a team broadcaster.

A 6-5 guard from Indiana University, McGlocklin enjoyed an 11-year NBA odyssey that included eight seasons – not to mention an All-Star Appearance and an NBA Championship – in Milwaukee.

After two seasons in Cincinnati and one in San Diego, McGlocklin was selected by the Bucks in the 1968 expansion draft. He was the leading scorer on the inaugural Bucks team (19.6 ppg) and became the first player to represent the Bucks in an All-Star Game.

In 1970-71, he was the starting shooting guard on the storied Bucks team that won 66 games and stormed through a 12-2 postseason en route to a World Championship. McGlocklin shot 53.6 percent in those 14 games, and averaged 14.9 ppg.

After the championship season, McGlocklin logged five more years in a Bucks uniform. He retired after the 1975-76 season having appeared in 595 games for the Bucks – a total surpassed by only three other players. In eight seasons, he averaged 12.6 ppg for Milwaukee.

McGlocklin's name still graces the Bucks All-Time Leaders list in points (12th, 7,505), minutes (10th, 17,008) and free throw percentage (6th, .860). On December 10, 1976, Jonny Mac's #14 was raised to rafters. He is the only Buck ever to have worn that number, and the only one who ever will.

#16 - BOB LANIER

Bob Lanier was an NBA legend long before he put on a Bucks uniform, but five seasons with the Bucks – and five division championships – cemented his place as one of the best players in NBA history.

In 9+ seasons in Detroit, Lanier became the Pistons' all-time leader in scoring average (22.7 ppg) and ranked second in points (15,488) and rebounds (8,063). But when the Pistons were suffering through the worst season in their history, their leading man was granted a trade, and Milwaukee was the beneficiary, acquiring Lanier for Kent Benson and a first-round pick on Feb. 4, 1980.

Lanier provided veteran leadership to a team that would average 53 wins during his four-plus seasons. He provided scoring (13.5), rebounding (5.9) and leadership on the court, including a willingness to endure the pain of worsening knees. Lanier was a leader off the court as well, serving as the President of the NBA Players Association during the end of his playing tenure.

The Bucks amassed divisional titles in each of Lanier's five seasons. Despite his brief tenure, Lanier is ninth on the Bucks postseason scoring list (680 points), tied for sixth in rebounding (342) and tied for third in blocked shots (45). His playoff scoring average of 15.1 is 12th in team history.

Counting his five seasons in Milwaukee, Lanier amassed 19,248 points in 14 years, finishing his career with averages of 20.1 points and 10.1 rebounds per game. He was inducted into the Naismith Hall of Fame in 1991.

Seven years earlier – December 4, 1984 – his #16 was hung from the ceiling of the MECCA.

#32 - BRIAN WINTERS

The end of the Kareem Abdul-Jabbar era did have a silver lining for Bucks fans. When "the franchise" requested a move, the Bucks received four players from the Lakers on June 16, 1975, including Juino Bridgeman and a young All-Rookie shooting guard named Brian Winters.

Winters, an All-America selection in high school and at the University of South Carolina, quickly carved his niche in Bucks history, playing eight seasons for the Bucks and averaging 16.7 points per game. His prodigious numbers would undoubtedly have been even better, but the three-point FG came into existence after he had already played five NBA seasons. For his career, he was 114-of-314 (.363) from downtown. He was also deadly from the free throw line, where he was a career 84.3 percent shooter.

In his first season in Milwaukee, he made the All-Star team, a feat he would achieve again in 1978. In eight seasons, he helped the Bucks achieve six postseason berths. Upon his retirement, Don Nelson called Winters' game intuition 'outstanding,' and said Winters was the type of player 'any coach would welcome.'

Upon retiring in 1983, Winters was the leading playmaker in Bucks history (now 3rd, 2,479 assists). He is still among the Bucks all-time leaders in scoring (8th, 9,743), games played (5th, 582) and steals (5th, 718). The Bucks wasted no time honoring Winters as the third player to have his number retired, raising his #32 on October 28, 1983, at halftime of a 104-83 opening night win over Indiana.

#33 - KAREEM ABDUL-JABBAR

How important was Kareem Abdul-Jabbar to the Milwaukee Bucks? Without him, the Bucks might never have existed at all. Team founders knew that by bringing an NBA franchise to Milwaukee when they did, the intriguing possibility existed that the legendary UCLA star – then known as Lew Alcindor – could be acquired in the NBA Draft after the team's first season.

Sure enough, the expansion Bucks and Suns finished last in their respective conferences, "earning" the right to participate in a coin flip, with Alcindor's rights going to the winner. Phoenix called 'heads,' the coin came up 'tails,' and the rest – including an NBA championship – is history.

Abdul-Jabbar (and his patented 'sky-hook') brought instant success to the Bucks. The first-year phenom earned Rookie of the Year honors in 1969-70, and the Bucks won 56 games. For an encore, Abdul-Jabbar led the Bucks to 66 wins and won the first of three MVP awards with the Bucks in 1970-71, averaging 31.7 ppg and 16.0 rpg. In the playoffs, he helped lead the Bucks to a 12-2 record and their only World Championship.

After only six seasons in Milwaukee, Abdul-Jabbar was (and still is) the leading scorer (14,211) and rebounder (7,161) in team history, and also tops the all-time list in scoring average (30.4 ppg), field goals made (5,902), attempted (10,787) and field goal percentage (.547). His 495 blocks rank fourth on the all-time list, even though the statistic was only kept during his final two seasons with the Bucks.

Abdul-Jabbar, a New York native, eventually longed for a return to big city life and was granted a trade to the Los Angeles Lakers, where he played 14 more seasons before retiring as the leading scorer in NBA history (38,387). He was elected to the Hall of Fame in 1995, and had his number 33 – which was never worn by another Bucks player – retired in a ceremony at the Bradley Center on April 24, 1993.

MEMORABLE MOMENTS IN BUCKS HISTORY

Bucks Post Biggest Comeback In NBA History

The 1977-78 Bucks are recognized as having posted the biggest single-game comeback in NBA history. On November 25, 1977, the Bucks faced the Hawks at the Omni in Atlanta. With 8:43 remaining in the game, Atlanta led by 29 points, 111-82, setting the stage for a most improbable comeback. Milwaukee outscored the Hawks 35-4 over the final stretch, sealing the win with two Marques Johnson free throws with only one second to play in the Bucks 117-115 win. Junior Bridgeman scored 24 points in 26 minutes, hitting 11-of-15 field goals in a win he simply described afterward as "incredible."

Wayne Embry Becomes First African-American General Manager In NBA History

On March 6, 1972, the Milwaukee Bucks named Wayne Embry as their new General Manager, making him the first African-American GM in the history of the NBA. Embry held the post for 7 seasons (1972-79) and has held identical posts with the Cleveland Cavaliers (1986-1999) and with the Toronto Raptors (2006).

Games Delayed/Postponed Due To Weather

January 12, 1982 – Two inches of snow virtually closed Atlanta down. Hazardous driving conditions prevented several Hawks players from reaching the Omni. The game was played March 8, 1982, and the Hawks won 98-95.

March 4, 1985 – Heavy snow and ice tore a portion of the fabric roof of the Silverdome, resulting in snow near and on the court. The game was replayed at Joe Louis Arena on April 7, 1985, much to the dismay of the Bucks, who lost 113-91.

January 8, 1989 – Returning home from a double-overtime win in Washington the night before, the Bucks were re-routed to Grand Rapids, MI., because of heavy fog in Milwaukee. From there, they embarked on a 4-1/2 hour bus ride, arriving at the Bradley Center at 8:00 p.m., the scheduled start time for that night's game with the Utah Jazz. The start was delayed until 9:15 p.m., and the road-weary Bucks scored a surprising 107-89 victory.

January 13, 2007 – Inclement weather in the Oklahoma City area prevented the Hornets (who were then playing their second and final season as the New Orleans/Oklahoma City Hornets) from flying out for their Saturday night game in Milwaukee. The game was played on Tuesday, April 3. The Hornets defeated the Bucks 119-101.

Bucks Set New NBA Record For Most Assists In A Game

The Bucks had their way with the Detroit Pistons defense on December 26, 1978 as they passed for an NBA-record 53 assists on their way to a lopsided 143-84 win. The Bucks had 19 assists in the 2nd quarter, also an NBA record (shared with the San Antonio Spurs who did it on April 15, 1984 against Denver), on their way to 30 first-half dimes. The 59-point win is also the largest margin of victory the Bucks have ever posted.

Michael Redd Sets New NBA Record For 3-Pointers In A Quarter

On February 20, 2002, Michael Redd put on a show for those in attendance at the Bradley Center. In a game against the Houston Rockets, the Bucks took a very comfortable 23-point lead into the fourth quarter. After logging just eight minutes and three points during the first three quarters, Redd exploded during the fourth.

He played all 12 minutes and scored 26 points in the final quarter, helping lead the Bucks to an extremely lopsided 115-76 win. During that period of time, he sank eight of 12 three pointers, setting a new NBA mark for treys in a quarter. He had three from beyond the arc within the first two minutes of the fourth quarter, and sank his fourth three-pointer with 8:44 to go. One minute later, he had his fifth. Then, with 4:21 to go, Redd sank three more to close out the game, including his eighth and final trey with 44 seconds to play.

Redd's other three points came courtesy of a three-pointer in the second quarter, giving him nine in the game (a franchise record for treys in a game at that time).

NOTE: Redd's eight three-pointers in one half is also an NBA record, one that is shared by two former Bucks. Ray Allen performed the feat in the same season as Redd on April 14, 2002 (against the Charlotte Hornets) en route to scoring 10 three-pointers in the game (a new franchise record). Tim Thomas also threw down eight treys in one half on January 5, 2001, against the Portland Trail Blazers. Thomas is the only one of the three to perform the feat on the road.

Bucks Set New NBA Record For 3-Pointers In A Quarter/Half

Milwaukee hit a franchise-record 18 three-pointers in their 132-110 rout of the Phoenix Suns at the Bradley Center on 3/28. The 18 treys topped the previous franchise mark of 16 (done twice, most recently on 12/9/02 at Cleveland in double-overtime). They also set a new NBA record after hitting 11 of those 18 triples in the 3rd quarter. The previous record for threes in a quarter was 10. The bucks hit 14 threes in the 2nd half, also a new NBA record (previous record was 12).

Bucks Set New NBA Record For Fewest Turnovers In A Game

Milwaukee set a new NBA record for fewest turnovers in a game on 4/1/06 against Indiana. They're two turnovers beat out the old mark of three (set by seven teams, most recently by Toronto on 12/27/05). The team turned the ball over twice in the first half and zero times in the second half. Milwaukee's previous franchise record for fewest turnovers in a game was four, set on 3/2/03 vs. Atlanta.

HIGHLIGHTS:

- No player appears in all 82 games for the Bucks.
- Jim Price was acquired in exchange for Lucius Allen on Nov. 9, 1974. Price earned an All-Star berth in his first season in Milwaukee, but a cartilage tear in his left knee ended his season after only 50 games.
- The Bucks have three players (Abdul-Jabbar, Price and Bob Dandridge) on the All-Star team for the first time in club history.
- In falling just short of a playoff berth, the Bucks lose 18 games by five points or less.
- Abdul-Jabbar finishes third in the NBA in scoring (30 ppg), fifth in rebounds (14.0 rpg) and first in blocks (3.26 bpg). Dandridge finishes 18th in scoring with a 19.9 ppg average.
- After the season, on June 16, 1975, Abdul-Jabbar and Walt Wesley are dealt to the Los Angeles Lakers in exchange for Elmore Smith, Brian Winters, David Meyers, Junior Bridgeman and future considerations.

HIGHLIGHTS:

- Milwaukee captured its first Central Division crown since 1986, finishing with a 52-30 record, including 31-10 at the Bradley Center – the best home record in the Eastern Conference.
- Through November 26, only two other teams had worse records than the Bucks (3-9). From November 27 on, only San Antonio (49-20) was better than Milwaukee's 49-21 finish.
- The Bucks 116-111 win over Denver on 1/31 was the 600th of George Karl's coaching career. He is only the 17th coach in NBA history to reach the milestone, and the sixth fastest coach to reach the 600 victory mark (1,005 games).
- On February 13, Glenn Robinson became the fifth player in Bucks history to score 10,000 points. He became the first member of his draft class or the preceding draft class to top the 10,000 point barrier.
- Ray Allen (202), Lindsey Hunter (152) and Tim Thomas (107) were the only trio of teammates in the NBA to make at least 100 three-pointers during the season. Allen's 202 were second most in the NBA, and broke his own franchise record for treys in one season (172). Allen and Thomas share the franchise record for three-balls in a single game (8). Thomas hit 8-of-10 threes at Portland (1/5) setting an NBA record with eight three-pointers in a half.
- Ray Allen broke the team record (329 – Lee Mayberry) for consecutive games played at Vancouver (1/7). Allen has never missed a game in his career (378) and holds the NBA's consecutive games started streak at 366.
- Glenn Robinson (12/11-17) and Ray Allen (4/9-15) were each honored as NBA Players of the Week.
- The Bucks won a playoff series (Orlando) for the first time since 1989. The team made it to the Eastern Conference Finals for the first time since 1986.

HIGHLIGHTS:

- The Bucks finished one game shy of a berth in the NBA playoffs, with a 41-41 record. Despite the downturn, the Bucks did finish at .500 or better for the fourth consecutive season.
- A Bucks team that stayed relatively injury free for the last two seasons had no such luck this season. Among the team's top five scorers (Allen, Robinson, Cassell, Thomas, Redd), a total of 56 games were missed this season. That quintet appeared together in only 36 games this season (Bucks were 21-15)...when one of the five missed the game, Milwaukee was a respectable 18-18, but when two or more were absent, the Bucks were 2-8. As a result of injuries and matchups, the Bucks fielded 17 different starting lineups this season.
- The Bucks set a franchise record with 16 treys in a 115-76 win over Houston on 2/20. Milwaukee's 593 treys broke the all-time franchise record of 562, set last season.
- Despite missing 13 games to injury, halting his consecutive games played streak at 400 (12/21 at HOU), Ray Allen finished first in the league in three-pointers made (229) and second in attempts (528). He broke his own franchise record for 3-pointers made in a season (202), and is now 11th in NBA history in all-time three-point accuracy, with 40.8 percent success rate (928-2,276). Allen hit a franchise record 10 treys (on 14 attempts) vs. Charlotte on 4/14.
- The Bucks 115-76 win over the Houston Rockets on 2/20 seemed like just another game...until the fourth quarter when Michael Redd scored 26 of his career-high 29 points. Redd hit eight treys in the fourth quarter to establish an NBA record for threes in a single period (and tied the NBA record for threes in a half).
- On the final day of the 2001-02 season, Glenn Robinson passed the 12,000 point mark for his career. On 3/6 vs. LA Clippers, Robinson passed Sidney Moncrief (11,594) on Bucks all-time scoring list to trail only Kareem Abdul-Jabbar (14,211) on the Bucks all-time list.
- More people saw the Bucks play at home than ever before. The Bucks total home attendance (745,305) was the highest in team history. The average crowd of 18,178 exceeds the best previous average of 17,097, set in 1988-89. The 25 sellouts were the most during the Bradley Center era, breaking the previous record of 20 in 1988-89.

HIGHLIGHTS:

- The Bucks advanced to the postseason for the fourth time in five seasons under head coach George Karl, and for the 23rd time in their 35-year history.
- Once again, the Bucks were one of the league's most prolific three-point shooting teams, finishing fourth in makes (7.13) and fifth in attempts (18.61), while leading the league in three-point percentage (.383). The Bucks tied a franchise record with 16 treys in a 140-133 win at Cleveland on December 9. Milwaukee's 585 treys fell just short of the all-time franchise record of 593 (set during the 2001-02 season).
- Bucks sixth man Michael Redd emerged this season among the top three-point shooters in NBA history. On March 30, he hit his 250th career three pointer to qualify as the fourth most accurate three-point shooter in NBA history. Redd was second in the NBA in three-point percentage (.438), third in three-pointers made, and led the Bucks in accuracy for the second consecutive season. There were only seven games in the 2002-03 campaign in which Redd failed to deliver at least one three-point FG.
- Sam Cassell notched his first career triple-double in his 603rd regular season NBA game at Cleveland on December 9. Cassell tallied a season-high 39 points, 10 rebounds and 10 assists for the Bucks first triple-double since Ray Allen's 20 points, 10 rebounds and 11 assists at Boston on 2/7/01. Cassell doubled his career triple-double total on January 22 with a 14-point, 11 rebound and season-high 16-assist performance at Boston. Cassell was one of six players in the league to tally multiple triple-doubles during the regular season.
- The Bucks were one of nine teams to increase their points-per-game production this season. Milwaukee raised its points-per-game average from 97.5 points in 2001-02 to 99.5.
- Milwaukee committed a franchise low 1,044 turnovers, bettering their previous low of 1,123 established in the 1999-00 season. The 12.7 turnovers per game were second in the NBA. In the Bucks 120-93 win over Atlanta, Milwaukee committed a franchise-low four turnovers, one shy of tying the NBA record for fewest turnovers in a game.

HIGHLIGHTS:

- The Bucks finished with a .500 or better record for the sixth consecutive season. It's their 24th .500 or better season in their 36-year history and the team advances to the postseason for the fifth time in the last six seasons.
- In his first season as an NBA Head Coach, Terry Porter leads the Bucks to a 41-41 mark. He finished tied for third in Coach of the Year voting and was also a nominee for the J. Walter Kennedy Citizenship Award.
- Milwaukee led the Eastern Conference in scoring, averaging 98.0 points per game, good for 4th in the NBA. The Bucks committed the fewest turnovers per game (13.54) in the Eastern Conference and were third in the NBA in that category.
- The Bucks go 33-21 against Eastern Conference opponents.
- Michael Redd, the runner-up for sixth man of the year in 2002-03, started in every game for the Bucks, averaging a team-high 21.7 points (10th in the NBA). Redd was voted by the coaches of the Eastern Conference to appear in his first All-Star Game where he scored 13 points on 5-12 shooting with three rebounds and three steals in 15 minutes.
- In January, Redd earned the Player of the Month award for the Eastern Conference after twice scoring a career-high 40 points.
- At the end of the season, several Bucks were nominated for awards. Redd was named to the NBA All-Third Team and finished fifth in voting for Most Improved Player. T.J. Ford was named to the All-Rookie Second Team. Desmond Mason finished sixth in Sixth Man of the Year voting.
- T.J. Ford suffered a spinal cord bruise in a February 24 game against Minnesota and missed the remainder of the season.
- Milwaukee shot 0-6 from three-point range at Phoenix in their 123-111 loss on March 20. It was the first time that the Bucks failed to make a three-point basket since February 21, 2002, ironically versus Phoenix in a 92-81 loss at the Bradley Center. It broke a streak of 191 straight games with a three-pointer made for the Bucks.

HIGHLIGHTS:

- The Bucks finished with a sub .500 winning percentage for the first time since the 1998-99 season (30-52), but they did have their eighth consecutive winning season at home (23-18).
- Michael Redd maintained a career-high scoring average of 23.0 points per game (11th in the NBA).
- Redd also became just the second player in team history to lead the Bucks in scoring 50 or more times in one season (he did it 50 times) ... Kareem Abdul-Jabbar was the other.
- Redd scored his 5,000th career point on March 4 and connected on his 500th career three-pointer on April 13.
- 15 separate players missed games due to injury, illness or suspension. T.J. Ford missed the entire season while recovering from neck surgery and Redd saw a string of 212 consecutive games played snapped due to a sprained left index finger ... In all, 247 games were missed.
- The Bucks and Golden State Warriors tied an NBA-low for combined turnovers in a game with 11 (Milwaukee had 6 and Golden State had 5) on March 30.
- The Bucks held Seattle to 73 points on 29.4 percent shooting on February 27. The 73 points were tied for 10th for an opponent-low in Bucks history (only 13 times in their history has a team been held to 73 points or less).
- The Bucks scored 78 first-half points on February 8 against Boston, including 42 second-quarter points, on their way to a 121-97 win ... The 78 points were the most by the Bucks in a single half since the team scored the same amount on March 24, 1987 against New York.

HIGHLIGHTS:

- The Bucks finished the season 40-42 and advanced to the NBA playoffs for the 25th time in their 38-year history and for the 6th time in the last 8 seasons.
- Milwaukee improved 10 games from their 30-52 record in 2004-05.
- In advancing to the playoffs, the Bucks became the first team in NBA history to make the playoffs with four new starters from the previous season.
- Michael Redd led the Bucks in scoring 63 times this season. He finished the season with 2,028 points, becoming just the second player in franchise history to break the 2,000-point mark in a single season.
- Redd also maintained a 25.4 scoring average (9th in the NBA), not just a career-high, but also the highest for a Buck since Marques Johnson averaged 25.6 points during the 1978-79 season.
- The Bucks set an NBA record this season by winning their first 13 games decided by 6 points or less (they were also 9-0 in games decided by 3 points or less). They became the first team in the shot clock era (since 1954-55) to win their first 12 games decided by 6 points or less (12-0) when they beat Minnesota 95-92 on January 10, topping the previous record of 11 set by both the 1967-68 St. Louis Hawks and the 1959-60 Boston Celtics.
- Milwaukee finished the season 4th in the league in 3FG% (.380), the second-best season mark in team history (behind only the 2002-03 squad's 38.3 percent). Charlie Bell finished the year 11th in the NBA in 3FG% (.423) and teammate Bobby Simmons finished T-12th (.420).
- Andrew Bogut had a fine rookie season, earning a spot on the All-Rookie First Team after averaging 9.4 points, 7.0 rebounds and 2.3 assists in 28.6 minutes per game. He was named the Eastern Conference's Rookie of the Month for January and appeared in the T-Mobile Rookie Challenge Game at All-Star Weekend (along with teammate T.J. Ford).
- Milwaukee set a new NBA record for fewest turnovers in a game on April 1 against Indiana. Their 2 miscues beat out the old mark of 3 (set by 7 teams). Milwaukee's previous franchise record for fewest turnovers in a game was 4.
- The Bucks hit a franchise-record 18 three-pointers in their 132-110 rout of the Phoenix Suns at the Bradley Center on March 28. The 18 treys topped the previous franchise mark of 16. They also set a new NBA record after hitting 11 of those 18 triples in the 3rd quarter.

PLAYOFF RECORD:

- Lost to Detroit, First Round, 1-4

HONORS:

- Andrew Bogut - NBA All-Rookie First Team; T-Mobile Rookie/Sophomore Challenge at All-Star Weekend
- T.J. Ford - T-Mobile Rookie/Sophomore Challenge at All-Star Weekend

HIGHLIGHTS:

- The Bucks finished the 2006-07 campaign with a sub .500 winning percentage. Their final record of 28-54 included an 18-23 record at the Bradley Center and a 10-31 record on the road. The 2006-07 season marks the first time the Bucks lost 23 games at home since the 1995-96 season (14-27). Their 54 losses were the most by a Bucks team since the 1995-96 team went 25-57.
- The 2006-07 season was plagued by injuries. In total, Bucks players missed 234 games (3rd most in the NBA behind Boston & Portland) due to injury or illness. All five players in Milwaukee's projected opening day starting line-up missed at least 13 games or more due to injury. Milwaukee's injury/illness total was up from the 109 games missed in 2005-06.
- Michael Redd's 1,416 points over 53 games averaged to 26.7 points per game (5th in the NBA) and was also the highest for a Buck since Kareem Abdul-Jabbar averaged 30.0 points (1974-75). Redd also set a career high and broke a franchise record with 57 points against Utah (11/11), the previous record was 55 by Kareem Abdul-Jabbar (12/10/71). Redd also scored 52 on 3/4/07 against the Bulls. After the 06-07 season, Redd moved into 10th place on the Bucks all-time scoring list with 8,964 points.
- Mo Williams averaged career-highs in points (17.3), rebounds (4.8) and assists (6.1, 14th in NBA). He also became the first Buck to average at least 17.0 points and 6.0 assists in 50 games or more since Sam Cassell did it during the 2002-03 season.
- December was Milwaukee's best month of the season. They finished 11-6, (7-0 at home) and averaged 107.6 points per game to their opponents' 98.9, shot 48.9% from the field to their opponents' 46.4% and grabbed 40.1 rebounds to their opponents' 36.7. Milwaukee's 7-0 mark at home was their longest home winning streak since the 2003-04 season (10 games). Michael Redd and Mo Williams both received Eastern Conference Player of the Week honors in December. Redd won it twice (for the week of 11/23 to 12/3 and again for the week of 12/25 to 1/1) while Williams accepted his honor for the week of 12/18 to 12/24.
- Charlie Bell was the only Buck to play in every game. He appeared in all 82 contests and started 64 of them.

NBA PLAYOFF FORMAT & TIE-BREAKING PROCEDURES

2008-09 NBA PLAYOFF STRUCTURE

How teams are seeded:

Each conference sends eight teams to the NBA playoffs. The first four seeds in each conference are awarded to the three division winners and the team with the next-best regular season record. These four teams are seeded in order of regular season records. The four remaining spots are awarded according to record to the remaining four best non-division-winning teams.

Home court advantage for each series is awarded to the team with the best regular-season record. All rounds are best-of-seven series. Each series will follow a 2-2-1-1-1 home/road format except for the NBA Finals, which will follow a 2-3-2 home/road format.

TIE-BREAKING PROCEDURES

The NBA will look at the following factors (in order) if two teams tie for a playoff spot ...

1. Head-to-head results
2. If #1 is a tie: Winning percentage within the division (but only if tied teams are from the same division)
3. If #2 is a tie or does not apply: Winning percentage within the conference
4. If #3 is a tie: Winning percentage against playoff teams in own conference
5. If #4 is a tie: Winning percentage against playoff teams in opposite conference
6. If #5 is a tie: Point differential between offense and defense

The NBA will look at the following factors (in order) if multiple teams tie for a playoff spot ...

1. Winning percentage among all teams tied
2. If #1 is a tie: Winning percentage within the division (but only if tied teams are from the same division)
3. If #2 is a tie or does not apply: Winning percentage within the conference
4. If #3 is a tie: Winning percentage against playoff teams in own conference
5. If #4 is a tie: Point differential between offense and defense

Also ...

1. Any ties involving the championship of a division are resolved first.
2. If a multiple-team tie is reduced to a two-team tie at any point using the above criteria, the two-team tie will be resolved in accordance with the existing two-team tie procedure.
3. In 1991, the NBA Board of Governors instituted a change involving ties between teams in different conferences, such as what occurred in 1990 between Detroit and Portland. The first tiebreaker will still be head-to-head results, but the second tie-breaker will be the record of the Eastern Conference club against all West teams versus the record of the Western Conference club against all East teams.

Magic Number

The magic number is used to determine how close a front-running team is to securing a playoff spot. It is the total of additional wins by the front-running team, plus additional losses by the rival team, after which it is mathematically impossible for the rival team to secure a playoff spot.

For example, if Team A is leading Team B by two games with seven games remaining in the season, the magic number would be six. This is true because:

1. Six wins by Team A, regardless of how Team B performs, will secure a playoff spot for Team A.
2. Six losses by Team B, regardless of how Team A performs, will secure a playoff spot for Team A.
3. Any combination wins by Team A and losses by Team B that totals six will result in a playoff spot for Team A.

To calculate the magic number, use the following formula:

$$\text{Magic Number} = G + 1 - W_a - L_b$$

G = total games in the season

W_a = total wins by front-running team

L_b = total losses by rival team

He came to Milwaukee following nine seasons calling the action for the Dallas Mavericks. During the 2004-05 campaign, Davis received the Milwaukee Achievement In Radio (AIR) award as the best play-by-play broadcaster for the second time in his career. He won the award in 1998-99 as well. A native of Lubbock, Texas, Davis began his radio career at the age of 17 when he was hired by KDNT in Denton, Texas. He spent 10 years (1978-88) on the sports staff at KVIL in Dallas-Fort Worth, and called Texas Christian University and Texas A&M games for the Southwest Conference radio network from 1982-86. He has also covered the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament for CBS Radio from 1986-88 and the NCAA Women's Final Four in 1986 and 1987. Davis has also held announcing positions with KLIF-AM and WBAP-AM in Dallas-Fort Worth, the Mutual Broadcasting System, and North Texas State University (men's basketball and football).

Ted and his wife, Debbie, also a native Texan, reside in Menomonee Falls.

DENNIS KRAUSE

RADIO ANALYST

Dennis Krause grew up in Hartford, Wisconsin, listening to Eddie Doucette call Bucks games on the radio. For that reason, he describes being a broadcaster with the Bucks Radio Network as "a dream come true". This is Krause's 13th season as the color analyst for Bucks home games. He first joined the Bucks Radio Network in 1995 as the fill-in play-by-play voice.

Dennis is the host of the daily "SPorts 32 Roundtable" and the weekly interview program "The Dennis Krause Show" on Time Warner Cable "Sports 32", based in Milwaukee and seen in 200 communities in Wisconsin.

In addition to his Bucks radio duties, Krause is the host of the pre-game show, "Packers Game Day" on the Green Bay Packers Radio Network. Dennis lives in Thiensville with his wife, Julie, and their two children, Melissa and Zac.

JON MCGLOCKLIN

TV ANALYST

Jon McGlocklin enters his 33rd season as analyst for Bucks TV games. Known as the "Original Buck", McGlocklin has been associated with the Bucks organization since the inception of the franchise in 1968.

McGlocklin averaged 19.6 ppg in the Bucks inaugural season of 1968-69 and went on to play eight years in a Milwaukee uniform. His name appears in five categories on the Bucks all-time career leaders list. Named to the 1969 Eastern Division All-Star team, "Jonny Mac" was a starting guard on the Bucks 1971 World Championship team. For his many on-court contributions to the franchise, his number 14 jersey was retired in 1976 and currently hangs from the rafters inside the Bradley Center. McGlocklin began his NBA career in 1965 with Cincinnati where he played two seasons before moving on to San Diego. An 11-year NBA veteran, he sports a career scoring average of 11.6 ppg.

A college standout at Indiana University, McGlocklin is a member of the Indiana prep basketball Hall of Fame and was named one of the 50 Greatest Players in Indiana state history. He was inducted into the Wisconsin Athletic Hall of Fame in October of 1983, and in September of 1998 was inducted into the Wisconsin Basketball Coaches Association (WBCA) Hall of Fame as a "Friend of Basketball".

Following his retirement from professional basketball in 1976, he joined the Bucks front office. Soon after, in 1976, McGlocklin, along with former Bucks broadcaster Eddie Doucette, founded the Midwest Athletes Against Childhood Cancer (MAACC) Fund. Serving as president, the fund financed construction of the MAACC Fund research center at the Medical College of Wisconsin and has contributed $33 million to the fight against childhood cancer. In June, 2004, after spending the past 18 years as a trustee, he was named trustee emeritus for the Medical College of Wisconsin. McGlocklin also serves on the State Board of Directors for the Fellowship for Christian Athletes.

A member of the business community as well, McGlocklin helped found Bando McGlocklin Capital Corporation in 1980. He was also president and owner of Healy Awards, Inc., a manufacturer of awards and recognition products, in Menomonee Falls, Wisconsin, from 1997-2006. Jon and his wife, Pam, reside in Hartland. TRI-FECTION! BUCKS 2008 SOFTBALL MEDIA LEAGUE CHAMPIONS

Congratulations to the Milwaukee Bucks Media League softball team who captured their third consecutive media league championship this summer.

With enormous expectations from both inside and outside of the clubhouse along with a bullseye on their back from being league champions two years running, the softball Bucks finished with a 11-1 regular season record.

However, championships are not won during the regular season. The Bucks showed that they weren't going to coast by opening the playoffs with a 17-0 win over WLUM and moved on.

Faced with the daunting task of winning two playoff games in one evening, the first obstacle was the Media Circus. The Bucks overcame the Circus and notched a convincing 16-8 win, their third of the season over the Media Circus, and earned a trip to their fourth consecutive Media League Finals.

For the second consecutive season it came down to the Media Giants and the Bucks and the Bucks came away with another win on the big stage. A 16-7 outcome ensures the Media League Cup will still be on display at Bucks home games for the 2008-09 season. It wrapped up a terrific postseason where the team never trailed.

2008 MEDIA APPRECIATION GAME

On June 21, 2008, the Milwaukee Bucks held the second annual Media Appreciation Basketball Game at the Bradley Center. Over 30 members of the local media participated as their families watched on. After three fiercely competitive games, the Green Team (with different members from the inaugural season's Green Team champs) won with a 2-0 record. The games were complete with jumbotron video, in-arena music, commentary, refs and even box scores. Following the games and team pictures, the athletes reunited with their families for a complimentary lunch and awards ceremony in the BC's Courtside Club. Bucks.com's Truman Reed wrote the following piece for Bucks.com:

LOCAL MEDIA MEMBERS TAKE TO THE BRADLEY CENTER HARDWOOD

by Truman Reed / special to Bucks.com

John Hammond was named general manager of the Milwaukee Bucks just 10 weeks ago, but he has already exhibited that he can successfully delegate authority.

Just one week after assuming his duties with the Bucks, Hammond appointed his former Detroit Pistons colleague, Jeff Weltman, to the position of assistant general manager.

On June 21, Weltman drafted the Green team, which won the second annual Milwaukee Bucks Media Tournament at the Bradley Center.

The Green team, coached by new Bucks assistant and former Marquette University star Jim Boylan with assistance from Mike Sergio, opened the round-robin tourney with a convincing 28-12 victory over the Grey team, picked by Billy McKinney, who was named the Bucks' director of scouting June 10. Jason Staudt and assistant Dwayne Wilson coached the Grey squad.

Andrew Kimball of FSN Wisconsin, who was named the champions' most valuable player, scored a game-high 10 points, hitting five of seven field-goal attempts, and stuffed his line in the box score with four rebounds, four steals and three assists. Jason Hunter of WISN TV (ABC 12) contributed six points, and Chris Francis of WDJT TV (CBS 58), Tom Kurtz of Time Warner Cable Sports and John Jagler of WTMJ Radio 620 each snared four rebounds for the Green.

The Greys got four points and five rebounds from Todd Rosiak of the Milwaukee Journal Sentinel and another four points from Ryan Nolan of WDJT TV (CBS 58).

The Green team clinched the title with a 26-14 victory over the Red team in the second game of the day. Francis poured in eight points, Kimball five and Drew Wagner of OnMilwaukee.com four for the champs, who got five rebounds from Jagler and two steals apiece from Kimball and Kurtz.

The remaining members of the championship Green team were Kyle Dlabay of WTMJ Radio 620, Jeff Sherman of OnMilwaukee.com, John Walsh of FSN Wisconsin and Doug Russell of WSSP Radio 1250.

Brent Valenti of FSN Wisconsin and WISN TV (ABC 12) colleagues Bob Brainerd and Andy Kendeigh scored four points apiece for the Red team. Brainerd's sky hook from the right baseline provided the tourney's Sportscenter moment.

The Reds, whose roster included the two most "grizzled veterans" in the tournament in Mark Hutchinson of Full Court Press and Brainerd, pulled out a 25-22 win over the Grey in the third game of the tripleheader to capture second place.

Kendeigh came up with nine points and five rebounds and was voted the Red team's MVP. Teammate Xiaoj Xu of USA Sino News totaled six points, three rebounds and an assist to win the tourney's hustle award.

Bill Peterson, who is back for his second season as the Bucks' assistant coach-player development, upped his Media Game coaching record to 3-1 with the Red team's victory, having coached the Green team to the title last summer. Player Personnel Director Dave Babcock drafted this year's runner-up unit.

Steve Orlowski of WDJT TV (CBS 58) pumped in eight points and Rosiak six for the Grey squad, and they crashed the boards for four rebounds each. Tim Van Vooren of WITI TV (Fox 6) handed out a tournament-best five assists, and Nolan was chosen the Grey team's MVP.

Hammond let his charges do the work, but he monitored all of the action from courtside. He gave the tournament rave reviews afterward and expressed his eagerness to see the tradition continue next year.
