Season-by-Season

After fielding its first men's basketball team in 1909, Michigan did not sponsor the sport again until the winter of 1917. Though basketball was the most popular intramural sport at U-M, the poor conditions of Waterman Gym combined with lagging gate receipts caused Michigan officials to drop the sport for nearly eight years. During this time period, U-M was not a member of the Big Ten, having withdrawn due to a dispute over football rule changes. Big Ten teams were not allowed to play the Wolverines which created a lack of local competition for Michigan to schedule. Michigan rejoined the Big Ten in November of 1917 and in December found itself again sponsoring basketball to mark the start of the continuous run.

Michigan Season Record Notes:

- Michigan begins its 107th season in 2022-23.
- Rankings are from the Associated Press, which began in 1948-49.
- The Big Ten Tournament began in 1998.
- The NCAA Tournament began in 1939 and seeding began in 1979.
- (+/-) indicates a Big Ten game

All-Americans

Harry Kipke | 1924

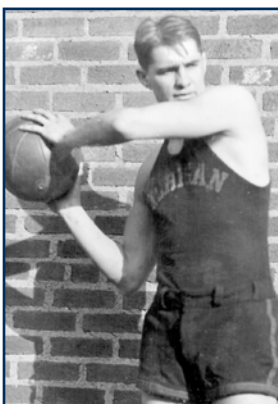

Richard Doyle | 1926

Harry Kipke | 1924

Harry Kipke earned All-America honors from the Helms Foundation during the 1923-24 season under head coach E.J. Mather and helped the Wolverines post a 10-7 overall record. While a native of Lansing, Mich., Kipke helped the Wolverines secure winning records in all three seasons donning the Maize & Blue.

Richard Doyle | 1926

Richard Doyle earned an All-America distinction for his play in the 1925-26 basketball season, captaining E.J. Mather's 1925-26 team which posted a 12-5 overall record (8-4 in conference play). Along with future All-American, Bennie Oosterbaan, Doyle led the Wolverines to a share of the Western Conference title that year, the second conference basketball championship in school history.

Bennie Oosterbaan | 1927 & 1928

Ernest McCoy | 1929

Bennie Oosterbaan | 1927 & 1928

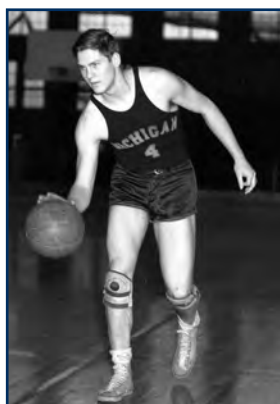

One of the greatest athletes to ever attend Michigan, Bennie Oosterbaan earned All-America recognition five times; twice in basketball (1927 and 1928) and three times in football (1925, 1926 and 1927). On the basketball court, Oosterbaan helped solidify Michigan's first great teams, playing a key role on E.J. Mather's consecutive Western Conference basketball championship teams in 1925-26 and 1926-27. In 1928, Oosterbaan led the Western Conference in scoring on his way to earning an All-American recognition for the second straight year. A true student-athlete, Oosterbaan was awarded the Western Conference Medal of Honor for proficiency in scholarship and athletics. He earned a total of nine varsity letters during his time at Michigan, before later going on to coach the Michigan basketball and football teams.

Ernie McCoy | 1929

As captain of Michigan's 1928-29 basketball team, Ernie McCoy led the Wolverines to their fourth Western Conference championship while also earning All-American honors. In that season, George Veenker's Wolverines went 13-3 (10-2 in conference play) and shared the conference title with Wisconsin. McCoy also played on E.J. Mather's 1926-27 squad that won the Western Conference title after posting a 14-3 record (10-2 in the conference). McCoy graduated from the University of Michigan in the class of 1929 and was awarded the Western Conference Medal of Honor for scholarship and athletics. He later became athletic director at Penn State University.

Joseph Truskowski | 1929

John Townsend | 1937 & 1938

Joe Truskowski | 1929

Joe Truskowski earned All-America recognition during the 1928-29 season while helping U-M earn its fourth Western Conference championship. Truskowski and the Wolverines went 13-3 (10-2 in conference play) while sharing the conference crown with Wisconsin. Truskowski, a native of Detroit, was a basketball letter winner at Michigan in 1927, '29 and '30.

Pete Elliott | 1948

John Townsend | 1938

John Townsend became an All-American following the 1937-38 basketball season after captaining coach Frank Cappon's Wolverine squad to a 12-8 overall record and a 6-6 mark in Western Conference play. Known as one of the best playmakers of his era, Townsend lettered and earned all-conference honors in each of his three seasons as a Michigan varsity basketball player (1935-38). In addition to representing Michigan on the hardwood, Townsend served the university as a member of its Board in Control of Intercollegiate Athletics during the 1937-38 school year.

Pete Elliott | 1948

Pete Elliott earned All-American honors after helping Michigan earn its first NCAA Tournament appearance and winning the Big Ten championship in 1947-48. Elliott and the Wolverines posted a 16-6 overall record (10-2 in conference play) in the third season of his four-year career at Michigan. A native of Bloomington, Ind., Elliott helped guide the Wolverines to a perfect 9-0 home record during the 1947-48 season.

Ron Kramer | 1957

Ron Kramer earned All-American honors from the National Association of Basketball Coaches during the 1956-57 season while averaging 14.5 points per game for the Maize and Blue. Kramer was a three-time All-Big Ten selection and was also named Michigan's Most Valuable Player three times during his U-M career. A native of Detroit, Kramer helped lead the Wolverines to a 13-9 record during the 1956-57 season.

Bill Buntin | 1964 & 1965

An All-American in 1964 and '65, Bill Buntin, a talented 6-foot-7 center from Detroit, led Michigan to the Big Ten championship and a second-place finish in the NCAA Tournament during the 1965 season. A three-time All-Big Ten selection, Buntin was known as a ferocious rebounder, leading the conference in boards as a sophomore with 15.7 per game. During his career as a Wolverine, Buntin scored 1,725 points, ninth best in Michigan history; averaged 21.8 points per game, fourth best in Wolverine history; hauled in 1,037 rebounds, second most on Michigan's all-time list; and averaged 13.1 rebounds per game, second in Michigan history. In honor of Bill Buntin's contributions to the resurgence of the Wolverine basketball program, each year the Michigan team honors its best player(s) with the Bill Buntin Most Valuable Player Award.

Cazzie Russell | 1964, 1965 & 1966

A three time All-American, Cazzie Russell is a legend whose name is synonymous with Michigan basketball. To any true fan, Michigan basketball is defined as BC (Before Cazzie) and AC (After Cazzie). Before his time at Michigan, which included three straight Big Ten championships, 65 victories, and seven victories in 10 NCAA Tournament games, fans had become accustomed to empty seats in Yost Fieldhouse and last-place finishes in the Big Ten. Cazzie turned Michigan Basketball around during his three year career, capturing virtually every offensive statistical record at Michigan, including a 27 point per game average. Through his outside shooting, miraculous driving layups, and fierce rebounding, Cazzie dominated the court on both ends. His tough, physical, and elite style of play led to All-American recognitions each of his three years as a Wolverine, and allowed him to be selected first overall in the 1966 NBA draft. Russell's career is still forever marked by the time he spent in Ann Arbor, with fans and media packing Yost Fieldhouse to watch his greatness, as he cemented himself as the defining figure of Michigan Basketball in the 1960s, '70s, '80s, and into the '90s.

Rudy Tomjanovich | 1970

Rudy Tomjanovich used an outstanding jump shot and a knack for grabbing rebounds to average 30 points and 15 boards per game, earning All-America honors in 1970. Tomjanovich's accomplishments in Crisler Arena's first three seasons (1967-70) made him one of Michigan's basketball immortals. Over the course of three seasons, the 6-foot-7 forward corralled 1,039 rebounds, the highest career total in Michigan history, and led the Big Ten in rebounding twice (1968-69 and 1969-70). Additionally, he led the team in scoring in each of his three seasons, scoring 1,808 points in his career, seventh best on Michigan's career list. Tomjanovich still holds Crisler Arena records for single-game scoring and field goals (48 points and 21 field goals vs. Indiana on 1-7-69) and single-game rebounding (27 in Michigan's first game in Crisler Arena vs. Kentucky on 12-2-67). On Feb. 8, 2003, Tomjanovich's No. 45 jersey became just the second to hang from the Crisler Arena rafters, joining U-M legend Cazzie Russell.

Henry Wilmore | 1971 & 1972

Henry Wilmore employed tremendous work ethic and dedication to earn All-America honors at forward in 1971 and 1972. In his first season with the Wolverines, Wilmore scored 650 points, averaging a team high 25.0 per game. He also averaged 9.8 rebounds per contest, second best on the team that season. In addition to All-America recognition in 1970-71, he was selected to play for the United States in the Pan-American Games. In 1971-72, Wilmore continued to excel on the court, leading the team in scoring with 24.0 points and grabbing 8.6 rebounds per game, once again earning All-Big Ten and All-America kudos. He ranks third at Michigan in career free throws made (460), second in single season free throws made (182), third in career scoring average (23.6 ppg), and 10th all-time in scoring (1,652 points).

Campy Russell | 1974

Campy Russell came to Michigan touted as the best prep basketball player in the nation, and lived up to that reputation in his two seasons on the Michigan varsity squad (1972-74). A consensus All-America forward and Michigan co-captain in 1974, Russell was a complete basketball player, as evidenced by his ability to fill the lane, trigger a fast break, advance the ball up court, and play tight defense. In his first season at Michigan, Russell led the team in rebounding (9.6 rpg) and was second in scoring (18.4 ppg). In the 1973-74 season, his second and final as a Wolverine, Russell scored 640 points (23.7 ppg) to lead Michigan and the Big Ten in scoring. He was also second in the conference in rebounding, averaging 11.1 per game.

C.J. Kupec | 1975

C.J. Kupec continued Michigan's trend of workhorse big men as he finished his Michigan career with 967 points and 609 rebounds in 76 games. He was a two-time All-Big Ten second team selection in 1974 and 1975, as well as Michigan's MVP in 1975. He earned All-America honors in 1975 and later was a fourth-round selection of the Los Angeles Lakers.

Phil Hubbard | 1977

Phil Hubbard scored 1,455 points and grabbed 979 rebounds in his Michigan career and it could have been more if not for a knee injury that sidelined him for the entire 1978 season. In 1977, he earned All-America honors, All-Big Ten first team accolades and U-M's MVP and Most Improved Player awards. Finishing his career in 1979, Hubbard went on to play 10 years in the NBA for the Detroit Pistons and the Cleveland Cavaliers.

Rickey Green | 1977

Rickey Green came to Michigan in 1975 after two junior college All-America seasons. One of the most exciting players to play for Michigan, Green terrorized opponents defensively, often making a big steal and leading the fast break. He led Michigan to the 1976 NCAA Final Four as a junior and the 1977 Big Ten championship as a senior. In his two years at Michigan, Green scored 1,184 points, the most by a Michigan player in a two-year career at that time. Twice selected to the NCAA All-Tournament team, Green was a consensus All-Big Ten selection each of his two years at Michigan. He was honorable mention All-America in 1976 and a consensus first team selection in 1977. He was the runner-up for the nation's collegiate player of the year that season.

Mike McGee | 1981

A scoring machine, Mike McGee quickly made his mark the first time he stepped on the court. One of only five Wolverines to surpass 2,000 career points, McGee finished his career with 2,439 points and still holds the U-M mark for career field goals with 1,010. He scored in double figures in 108 of 114 career games. He was an All-Big Ten first team member in 1978 and second team member in 1980. McGee was named an Associated Press All-America honorable mention in 1981.

Eric Turner | 1981

Eric Turner made the most of his three years in Maize and Blue as he helped Michigan establish itself as one of the dominant teams of the 1980s. The three-time All-Big Ten second team selection started 82 of 85 career games and scored 1,251 career points for a 14.7 per game average. He also dished out 421 career assists, which is fifth in school history. In 1981, Turner was named an All-America honorable mention by The Sporting News.

Roy Tarpley | 1985 & 1986

Considered a gamble by most colleges, Roy Tarpley became one of the elite centers in all of college basketball during his four years at Michigan. In 1985, Tarpley was named the Big Ten Player of the Year and earned All-America second team honors. He was an All-Big Ten first team member in 1985 and 1986 and was named Michigan's MVP three straight years. Tarpley finished his career with 1,601 points and 953 rebounds. He is U-M's all-time leader in blocks with 251 and holds the record for most blocks in a season with 97.

Gary Grant | 1987 & 1988

Gary Grant came to Michigan in 1984 and made an immediate impact on Wolverine Basketball. Excelling defensively, he was named Big Ten Freshman of the Year in 1985, ushering Michigan to the Big Ten Conference championship and a 26-4 record. He later developed the offensive skills that made him the best two-way guard in college basketball, as he was the first Big Ten player to score 1,000 points, record 600 assists and collect 200 steals in a career. He earned numerous accolades during his time as a Wolverine, including consensus All-America honors in 1988, AP and UPI Big Ten Player of the Year in 1988 and All-Big Ten honors in 1987 and 1988. Grant is Michigan's all-time leading assist man with 731 for his career, 234 of which came in the 1987-88 season. He also ranks fourth at Michigan in career scoring (2,222 points) and third career field goals (896). Grant also holds school career records for steals (300) and steal average (2.33 spg). In the season record book, he holds records for assists (234 in 1987-88), assist average (6.88 apg in 1987-88), steals (86 in 1986-87) and steal average (2.69 spg in 1986-87).

Glen Rice | 1988 & 1989

The most prolific scorer in Michigan history, All-American Glen Rice left Michigan after leading the Wolverines to the 1989 NCAA championship. He set an NCAA Tournament record with 184 points in six games while leading the Wolverines to the title and being named the tournament's Most Outstanding Player. Rice won Big Ten Conference scoring titles and all-conference accolades in 1988 and 1989. Rice ranks second all-time in the Big Ten for field goals made in a season (363, 1988-89). He is also third all-time in the conference for career scoring (2,442), career field goals made (1,002) and career three-point field goal percentage (.480, 135-281). Rice currently holds Michigan records for career scoring (2,442 points), single-season scoring (949 points), single-season field goals made (363 in 1988-89) and attempted (629 in 1988-89), single-season three-point field goal percentage (.5156, 1988-89) and scoring in an NCAA Tournament game (39 vs. Florida in 1988). Rice also holds the single-game record for both Michigan and the Big Ten in three-point field goal percentage, going a perfect 7-for-7 against Wisconsin on Feb. 25, 1989.

Rumeal Robinson | 1990

An All-America guard for the 1989-90 season, Rumeal Robinson is remembered by most as the man who secured Michigan's 1989 NCAA basketball championship. Robinson sank two free throws with three seconds remaining in overtime to seal Michigan's victory over Seton Hall in the championship game. The 6-foot-2 guard's outstanding play throughout the 1989 NCAA Tournament earned him a spot on the all-tournament team. A three-year starter in the Michigan backcourt, Robinson was a consensus 1990 All-Big Ten selection, a finalist for the 1990 Pete Maravich and John Wooden awards, and an All-American. Robinson finished his career ranked 12th on Michigan's all-time scoring list (1,446 points), second in career assists (575), seventh in career free throws made (331), and fourth in career three-point field goals (85).

Loy Vaught | 1990

Averaging 15.5 points per game, Loy Vaught earned All-America honors during the 1989-90 season. The senior from Grand Rapids, Mich., helped the Maize and Blue to a 23-8 overall record (12-6 in conference play), just one season after helping the Wolverines with the 1989 National Championship. Vaught was an All-Big Ten Second Team selection in 1990, after earning All-Big Ten Third Team honors in 1989. Vaught ranks third all-time in rebounds in Michigan history and the annual U-M rebounding award is named in his honor.

Terry Mills | 1990

Terry Mills averaged 18.1 points per game and earned All-America recognition during the 1989-90 season. A native of Romulus, Mich., Mills finished his three-year career at U-M as a Second Team All-Big Ten honoree and was also named Michigan's Co-Most Valuable Player, along with Rumeal Robinson. A key member of Michigan's run to the National Championship in 1989, Mills went on to play 11 seasons in the NBA.

Chris Webber | 1992 & 1993

In just two years with the Wolverines, Chris Webber won countless accolades and was a nominee for virtually every award given to college basketball players. As the consensus number one high school prospect coming into college, Webber entered Michigan amid much fanfare. His freshman season did not disappoint, as he became the only freshman in history to lead the Big Ten in rebounding, topped the conference in steals, and was tabbed as the Big Ten Freshman of the Year. He started every game in his Michigan career and ranks second in career blocks at the school with 175. Webber also found his way to the top of several other statistical categories at Michigan, including field goal percentage (third), rebounding average (sixth), steals (10th), scoring average (10th), and rebounds (12th). Webber remains the only player to earn a spot on the NCAA All-Tournament team in both his freshman and sophomore seasons. An honorable mention All-American in his inaugural season, Webber led the Wolverines to the NCAA Tournament's final game, where they fell to defending national champion Duke 71-51. As a sophomore, the 6-foot-9 forward and consensus All-

Webber's time in Ann Arbor was so impressive that he was selected with the top overall pick in the 1993 NBA draft, joining Cazzie Russell as the only two Wolverines to be chosen with the No. 1 overall selection in an NBA draft.

Jalen Rose | 1992 & 1994

Relentlessly pursued by major college programs out of Detroit's Southwestern High School, Jalen Rose put his signature on the Michigan basketball program in a number of ways. Named an All-American by numerous publications in both his freshman and junior seasons, Rose garnered All-Big Ten honors in each of his three years as a Wolverine. Starting all but one of his 102 career games, Rose had ample opportunity to mount an assault on the Michigan record books, as the 6-foot-8 guard became just the second player in school history, along with Gary Grant, to record over 1,500 points, 400 rebounds, 300 assists and 100 steals in his career. Rose ranks near the top in many career categories at Michigan, including three-point field goals attempted (second), three-point field goals made (third), free throws made (fourth), field goals made (sixth), scoring (sixth), assists (sixth) and steals (eighth). In Rose's 102 games as a Wolverine, he scored in double figures an astounding 98 times and is one of only six Michigan players to record three 500-point seasons. An integral part of the "Fab Five," Rose put on some of his best performances under the national spotlight of the NCAA Tournament, being named Most Outstanding Player of the 1992 NCAA Southeast Regional, as well as to the All-Tournament team the same year. In addition, he was selected to the 1993 NCAA West Regional All-Tournament squad.

Juwan Howard | 1994

Juwan Howard was the first member of the famed "Fab Five" recruiting class to commit to Michigan. Named an All-Big Ten honoree in each of his three seasons as a Wolverine, Howard was also recognized as an All-American twice in the same season. As co-captain his junior year, Howard is one of only six Wolverines in history to score 1,500 points and grab 700 rebounds in his career. Howard's name appears among the leaders on numerous Michigan career lists, including rebounding (11th), field goals (12th), field goal attempts (12th), scoring (14th), games started (15th) and NCAA Tournament scoring (second). In fact, the 6-foot-9 forward saved his best play for the NCAA Tournament, being named to the All-Tournament teams at the 1993 NCAA West Regional and the 1994 NCAA Midwest Regional. His 280 points in NCAA Tournament action rank him ninth in the history of the championship. Howard was chosen fifth overall in the 1994 NBA Draft by the Washington Bullets (Wizards) and later went on to coach the Michigan Basketball program after his time in the league.

Louis Bullock | 1998

Louis Bullock averaged 17.1 points per game during the 1997-98 season while helping the Wolverines to a 25-9 overall record (11-5 in conference play) and the inaugural Big Ten Tournament championship. In four seasons as a Wolverine, the Temple Hills, Md., native made 339 3-point field goals, a program record. Bullock was a four-time All-Big Ten honoree, earning honorable mention recognition as a freshman before garnering second team honors in each of his next three seasons as a Wolverine.

Robert Traylor | 1998

Robert Traylor earned All-America honors during the 1997-98 season while helping to guide the Wolverines to the inaugural Big Ten Tournament championship. Traylor averaged 16.2 points and 10.1 rebounds per game as the Wolverines posted a 25-9 record (11-5 in conference play). Traylor was a First Team All-Big Ten selection and also earned Most Valuable Player honors at the Big Ten Tournament. A native of Detroit, Traylor recorded 29 double-doubles during his U-M career, ninth-most in school history.

Trey Burke | 2012 & 2013

Trey Burke earned All-America recognition as an honorable mention following his freshman season at Michigan after helping guide the Wolverines to their first Big Ten regular season title in 26 seasons. Burke averaged 14.8 points per contest and dished out 156 assists, breaking a 27-year old record for assists by a Michigan freshman. Burke was named Co-Big Ten Freshman of the Year and was a Second Team All-Big Ten selection during the 2011-12 season. As a sophomore in 2012-13, Burke won the John R. Wooden, Naismith, Oscar Robertson, Associated Press, NABC and Sports Illustrated National Player of the Year awards, becoming only the second Wolverine in program history to earn National Player of the Year honors, joining Cazzie Russell (1966). Burke earned Consensus All-America honors, having been recognized by the John R. Wood All-America Team, the Associated Press, the NABC, the USBWA, Sporting News, Sports Illustrated, Basketball Times, CBSSports.com and the Luke Olson All-America team. Burke also became Michigan's first winner of the Bob Cousy Award as the nation's Top Collegiate Point Guard and was named Big Ten Player of the Year by both the conference coaches and media. Burke helped U-M reach its first Final Four in 20 seasons, earning All-Tournament honors, as the Maize and Blue tied a school record for wins with a 31-8 record. Burke scored 727 points (18.6 ppg), the fifth-best single-season total in U-M history, dished out a school single-season record 260 assists (6.67 apg), 12th-most in the nation, and registered a 3.02 assist-to-turnover ratio, the fifth-best mark in the country. Burke scored 1,231 points and recorded 416 assists during his remarkable two-year career in Ann Arbor.

Isaiah Livers | 2021

Franz Wagner | 2021

Hunter Dickinson | 2021

Nik Stauskas | 2014

The Big Ten Player of the Year in 2014, Nik Stauskas was named to seven All-America teams following his sophomore season in Ann Arbor. The Mississauga, Ontario, native earned first team honors from the National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC), second team recognition from the Associated Press and Sporting News and third team accolades from USA Today and Basketball Times, as well as spots on the John R. Wooden and Lute Olson All-America Teams. Stauskas averaged 17.5 points, 3.3 assists and 2.9 rebounds per game during the 2013-14 season, leading U-M to a 28-9 overall record, an outright Big Ten championship and to the Elite Eight in the NCAA Tournament. Stauskas was the seventh player in school history to earn Big Ten Player of the Year honors, and the second consecutive, following Trey Burke in 2013; he was the only unanimous selection to the All-Big Ten First Team by both the coaches and media. Stauskas was also named the United States Basketball Writers Association's (USBWA) District V Player of the Year. One of the best pure shooters in the nation, Stauskas shot 44.1 percent from three-point range (92-of-208), the 10th-best single-season in program history and 13th nationally in 2013-14. His 92 triples and 208 attempts are both fourth-most in school history. His 630 points made Stauskas just the 21st Wolverine to score 600-plus points in a season and he was just the eighth sophomore in school history to reach 1,000 career points (1,060).

Ignas Brazdeikis | 2019

Ignas Brazdeikis earned Associated Press Honorable Mention All-American recognition following his freshman season at U-M. Named the Big Ten's Freshman of the Year, All-Big Ten second team and to the Big Ten's All-Freshman team, Brazdeikis led U-M in scoring with 14.8 points per game -- the first freshman since 2012 to do so. He added 5.4 rebounds per game. Brazdeikis was a four-time Big Ten Freshman of the Week and helped the Wolverines reach the championship game of the conference tournament for the third straight year. He was instrumental in U-M reaching the NCAA Sweet 16 for the third straight year before losing to national runner-up Texas Tech. With his play, he helped U-M to its second straight 30 win season posting a 30-7 season record.

Isaiah Livers | 2021

Captaining the squad during a pandemic senior year, Isaiah Livers experienced lots of success during his four years in the Maize and Blue. While a Wolverine, Livers helped U-M advance to three straight NCAA Sweet 16s (2018, '19, '21), two NCAA Elite Eight (2018, '21) and one Final Four (2018) appearance. Livers game behind the line was unrivaled. During his senior year he shot a U-M best 43.1 percent from long range and led the squad with 50 3-pointers, this third straight season with 30+ triples. His performance on the court and leadership skills helped U-M win the 2021 Big Ten regular season title, the first under Coach Juwan Howard. Livers added a number of recognitions to his resume including being named to the All-Big Ten second team, the Associated Press' All-Big Ten second team and a finalist for the Basketball

Hall of Fame, Julius Erving Award for Top Small Forward (2021).

Franz Wagner | 2021

After only two seasons at Michigan, one of which was cut short due to the coronavirus pandemic, Franz Wagner started 55 consecutive games and helped the Wolverines clinch their first Big Ten regular season title under Coach Juwan Howard. During his sophomore season, Wagner started all 28 games, led the Wolverines in steals (35), shot 83.5 percent from the free throw line, recorded 29 blocks, and helped U-M advance to its fourth straight NCAA Sweet 16 and another NCAA Elite Eight appearance. Off the court, Wagner excelled in the classroom; he was named Academic All-Big Ten (2021), Big Ten Distinguished Scholar (2021) and CoSIDA Academic All-America (2021). As a freshman, Wagner was awarded the U-M Athletic Academic Achievement award (2020) and was named U-M Academic Success Program Rookie of the Year (2020; male athlete). Wagner was drafted No. 8 to the Orlando Magic in the 2021 NBA draft, where he was reunited with older brother and Michigan Alumni, Moe Wagner.

Hunter Dickinson | 2021

Following a breakout freshman season, Hunter Dickinson was named Big Ten Freshman of the Year, the Associated Press's Big Ten Newcomer of the Year and Associated Press All-America, second team. In addition to being named Big Ten Freshman of the Week seven times, tying Trey Burke for most honors in a single season, Dickinson was named to the All-Big Ten, first team and Big Ten All-Freshman Team. During his first year in the Maize and Blue, Dickinson played in all 28 games off the 2020-21 season and led the Wolverines in points (14.1 ppg), the first freshman to lead in scoring since Ignas Brazdeikis. Dickinson dominated the glass; averaging 7.4 rpg, he led the team with 61 offensive rebounds, nearly double the next Wolverine. Commanding both ends of the floor, the freshman played a major role in helping Michigan claim the Big Ten regular season title, advance to the NCAA Sweet 16, its fourth straight since 2017, and add another NCAA Elite Eight appearance.

Big Ten Champions

1920-21 Western Conference Champions

(18-4 overall; 8-4 Western)

In only his second season as head coach, E.J. Mather guided the Wolverines to their first Western Conference basketball title. The 1920-21 squad, captained by Arthur Karpos, started and ended the season on eight-game winning streaks, allowing them to tie the Purdue Boilermakers and the Wisconsin Badgers for a share of the conference crown.

1925-26 Western Conference Champions

(12-5 overall; 8-4 Western)

Led by Captain Richard Doyle, the Wolverines captured the school's second conference championship and its second under head coach E.J. Mather. Michigan won its final five games of the season to earn a piece of the Western Conference title. Michigan shared the crown with Purdue, Indiana, and Iowa.

1926-27 Western Conference Champions

(14-3 overall; 10-2 Western)

The 1926-27 season was Michigan's first outright Western Conference title and the second of its back-to-back championships. E.J. Mather coached his team to nine consecutive wins to start the season as team captain Edward Chambers, All-American Bennie Oosterbaan, and the rest of the Wolverines rolled to a 14-3 record.

1928-29 Western Conference Champions

(13-3 overall; 10-2 Western)

First-year coach George Veenker led the Wolverines to their third Big Nine championship in four seasons, becoming the only coach in Michigan history to win the conference championship in his first season. All-America selection Ernie McCoy captained the Michigan squad that tied the Wisconsin Badgers for the title.

1947-48 Western Conference Champions

(16-6 overall; 10-2 Western)

The 1947-48 Western Conference championship squad was the first in Michigan history to make the NCAA Tournament. Under second-year coach Ozzie Cowles, the Wolverines ended the longest Western Conference basketball championship dry spell in school history (19 years). Michigan's first two All-Big Nine selections, Pete Elliott and team captain Bob Harrison, along with leading scorer Mack Suprunowicz (11.1 ppg), headed the Wolverine squad that led the conference in scoring defense.

1963-64 Big Ten Champions

(23-5 overall, 11-3 Big Ten)

The Wolverines ushered in the "Cazzie Russell Era" by winning the first of their three consecutive Big Ten titles. Sophomore Cazzie Russell led in scoring (24.8 ppg) as Michigan tied Ohio State for the conference title. All-Big Ten junior Bill Buntin led the Big Ten in rebounding and was second in scoring (23.2 ppg). Michigan was first in the Big Ten in scoring defense and qualified for the NCAA Tournament for the second time in school history. The Wolverines made the most of the opportunity, finishing third in the nation. Following the season, Russell was named All-Big Ten and All-America for the first time.

1964-65 Big Ten Champions

(24-4 overall, 13-1 Big Ten)

All-Big Ten performers, Cazzie Russell (25.7 ppg) and Bill Buntin (20.1 ppg), supplied the one-two punch as the Big Ten champions led the conference in scoring and set the Wolverine season rebounding record. Coach Dave Strack was voted UPI National Coach of the Year, as he led his squad to a 13-1 Big Ten record and the championship game of the NCAA Tournament. Michigan finished second in the country after falling to John Wooden's UCLA Bruins in the NCAA title game. Russell was named the Big Ten's Most Valuable Player and became the Wolverines' second two-time All-American following the season.

1965-66 Big Ten Champions

(18-8 overall, 11-3 Big Ten)

Cazzie Russell led the Big Ten (30.8 ppg), propelling Michigan to its third straight Big Ten title and NCAA Tournament appearance. Russell won his second Big Ten Most Valuable Player honor, was named All-Big Ten and All-America for an unprecedented third time, and was voted the NCAA Player of the Year. With the help of MVP Russell and Captain Oliver Darden, the Wolverines posted their 17th consecutive home win, surpassing the 1947 record of 16 straight victories in Ann Arbor. Leading the Big Ten in field goal percentage and scoring margin, Michigan had skyrocketed to the top of the conference, claiming the championship. The Wolverines reached the Elite 8 in the NCAA Tournament after a bye and their defeat of Western Kentucky before they were knocked out of play by the Kentucky Wildcats.

1973-74 Big Ten Champions

(22-5 overall, 12-2 Big Ten)

Campy Russell led the Wolverines to a tie for the conference championship with the Indiana Hoosiers. He captured the Big Ten scoring title (23.7 ppg) and was named the Big Ten's Most Valuable Player and a consensus All-American. The team was excellent at sharing their success, as they set a school record for single-game assists (32) against Purdue, which stood until 1987. Coach Johnny Orr was named the Big Ten Coach of the Year as he directed his squad into the NCAA Tournament for the first of four consecutive seasons, where the Wolverines lost a heart-breaker, 72-70, to eventual NCAA runner-up Marquette.

1976-77 Big Ten Champions

(26-4 overall, 16-2 Big Ten)

Phil Hubbard and Rickey Green each earned All-Big Ten First Team and All-America honors as they led Michigan to the outright Big Ten title with a 16-2 record. Green was runner-up for national player of the year honors and Johnny Orr was named Big Ten Coach of the Year for the second time in his career as Michigan spent over a month as the top-ranked team in the country. Steve Grote earned Academic All-America First Team honors for the third-straight season as the Wolverines reached the Elite Eight before falling to UNC Charlotte.

1984-85 Big Ten Champions

(26-4 overall, 16-2 Big Ten)

In a near carbon copy of the 1976-77 season, the Wolverines racked up a 26-4 record and won the conference title with a 16-2 record. As his predecessor had done in 1976-77, Bill Frieder won Big Ten and National Coach of the Year honors, guiding his team to the first of six straight NCAA Tournament bids. The Wolverines had firm control over the conference during the season, leading the Big Ten in scoring margin (+8.8 points). Although unranked to start the season, the Wolverines ended the season at No. 2. Michigan finished the season on a roll, winning 18 of its last 20 games, including a team-record 17 in a row. Roy Tarpley, who led the conference in rebounding, was named the Big Ten's Most Valuable Player and received All-American recognition. The team earned the No. 1 seed in the 1985 NCAA Tournament.

1985-86 Big Ten Champions

(28-5 overall, 14-4 Big Ten)

An experienced and well-balanced Wolverine team won its second consecutive Big Ten championship behind the play of All-Big Ten first teamer Roy Tarpley. He led the team in scoring (15.9 ppg) and led the conference in blocked shots. Starting the season ranked third in the AP Poll, the Wolverines remained ranked top-five nationally all 17 weeks. The team set a record for field goal percentage during the season (51.6%), and maintained its production when traveling, setting a still-standing school record for consecutive road wins (10). After being named Big Ten Champions, the Wolverines were awarded the number two seed in the NCAA Tournament.

2011-12 Big Ten Champions

(24-10, 13-5 Big Ten)

The Wolverines won a piece of the Big Ten Title for the first time in 26 years, winning six of their final seven regular-season games to claim a share of the title with Michigan State and Ohio State. The team got off to a hot start, tallying 11 consecutive wins to open the season, which matched a 1989 school record. Under the coaching of John Beilein, the Wolverines also achieved the No. 1 spot in the AP Poll for the first time since the Fab Five. Trey Burke earned Co-Big Ten Freshman of the Year honors and was an Honorable Mention AP All-America. Burke was named to the All-Big Ten second team breaking U-M's record for assists by a freshman. Tim Hardaway Jr. earned All-Big Ten third-team recognition and Zack Novak was an Honorable Mention All-Big Ten honoree.

2013-14 Big Ten Champions

(28-9; 15-3 Big Ten)

Led by Big Ten Player of the Year Nik Stauskas, the Wolverines won their first outright Big Ten Title in 28 years. U-M dominated the conference, capturing the title with a three-game margin from the runner-ups, becoming just the 14th team to win the Big Ten by three-plus games since 1950. Despite losing seven players from the previous year's Big Ten Championship squad, the Wolverines won their first eight games, including three consecutive wins over top-ten opponents. After leading the Wolverines to the Elite Eight, John Beilein was named Big Ten Coach of the Year by the league's media and was a finalist for the Naismith and Jim Phelan National Coach of the Year awards. Along with Nik Stauskas, Caris LeVert was named to the All-Big Ten Second Team, Glenn Robinson III earned All-Big Ten honorable mention recognition, and Derrick Walton, Jr., was named to the Big Ten All-Freshman team.

2020-21 Big Ten Champions

(23-5; 14-3 Big Ten)

Led by Big Ten Coach of the Year Juwan Howard, and Big Ten Freshman of the Year Hunter Dickinson, the Wolverines navigated the coronavirus pandemic to win its 15th Big Ten title with a 14-3 conference record. U-M reached its first title since 2014 thanks to the play of All-Big Ten honorees Dickinson, Isaiah Livers, and Franz Wagner. The Wolverines opened up the season winning 18 of their first 19 matchups, grabbing control over the conference early. The team was invigorated with the help of two veteran transfers, Chaundee Brown, Jr. and Mike Smith, who helped push the Wolverine to the top of their conference. Michigan went on to earn its second No. 1 seed at the Big Ten Tournament and reached the semi-final. The next week, the Wolverines were named one of four No. 1 seeds in the NCAA Tournament and were just two points shy of reaching the Final Four as they made it to their fourth Elite Eight since 2013.

Bill Buntin Most Valuable Player

Established in 1941, the Michigan MVP award became the "Bill Buntin MVP Award" following his three impressive seasons as a center for the Wolverines (1963-65). In addition to being named a consensus All-American for the 1964 and 1965 seasons, Buntin was named All-Big Ten center for three straight seasons, averaging 21.8 points and 13.1 rebounds.

Rudy Tomjanovich Most Improved Player

Established in 1974, this honor is given each year to the Wolverine who shows the greatest marked improvement on and off the basketball court. Rudy Tomjanovich got the most out of his ability on the way to rewriting the record books before he graduated in 1970. He steadily increased his offensive and defensive outputs as he ranks as one of the top players in the program's history. He still holds U-M's all-time record with 1,039 rebounds.

Wayman Britt Outstanding Defensive Player

Established in 1976, this award is given to the Wolverine who exhibits the greatest effort on the defensive end of the court. Britt was the first recipient in 1976 when he served as team captain of a U-M team that was the national runner-up. Britt became notorious for his ability to shut down the opposing team's big scorers, even though at 6-2, he was one of the shortest men to ever play forward for the Wolverines in the modern era.

Thad Garner Leadership Award

Established in 1982, this award is given to the Wolverine who provides outstanding leadership to his teammates. Garner, a 6-7 forward on U-M teams from 1978-1982, was a two-time Michigan captain and an all-out player on the court. Throughout his four-year career at U-M, Garner inspired fans, players, and coaches with his outstanding hustle and effort each time he took the court.

Jerseys

Did You Know?

Michigan has five honored jerseys hanging in the rafters at Crisler Center. However, only one is retired -- Cazzie Russell's #33. The remaining four Wolverines -- Bill Buntin (#22), Phil Hubbard (#35), Glen Rice (#41) and Rudy Tomjanovich (#45) -- have their jerseys displayed to honor their U-M careers.

The Retired Jersey of Cazzie Russell (#33)

By Steve Grialou

When you look through college basketball history, certain names become synonymous with different colleges. When you think about Cincinnati, you think of Oscar Robinson. Hearing Indiana State and the University of San Francisco, Larry Bird and Bill Russell come to mind.

The same can be said for the University of Michigan.

As you walk into Crisler Arena and look to the rafters, there it is - No. 33. The number belongs to the great Cazzie Russell, arguably the greatest Michigan player ever to step foot on the Michigan campus.

From 1964 to 66, the 6-5, 220-pound Russell dazzled the Wolverine fans, attracting turnouts so large the university-built Crisler Arena to hold the crowds Yost Fieldhouse could no longer contain.

Russell led Michigan to three consecutive Big Ten titles, to the NCAA finals his junior year, and the semifinals his sophomore year. In his senior year, he averaged 30.8 points and was the National Player of the Year. After his great career at Michigan, he became the New York Knicks' No. 1 pick in the 1966 NBA draft, decided by the flip of a coin.

With the freshmen eligibility rules, Russell did not step onto the court at Yost Fieldhouse until his sophomore season in 1963. That year, the sensational guard from Chicago Carver High School led the Wolverines to their most successful basketball season in its history, going 23-5 and taking third place in the NCAA Championship in Kansas City. The Wolverines turned in an 11-3 performance to share the Big Ten crown with Ohio State, the first time since 1948 that the Wolverines reached that mark. In defeating Loyola and Ohio University, it was the first time Michigan had won its regional.

Russell carried the load for the Wolverines, setting a new Michigan single-season scoring mark of 670 points and averaging 24.8 points a contest. Russell was named to the Coaches All-American team by season's end. He was also chosen for the Olympic tryout the following summer but an ankle injury handicapped in his bid.

Russell took the Wolverines further into the national spotlight in his junior season. Completing their Big Ten season at 13-1, the Wolverines defended their Big Ten title. They finished 24-4, including a tough loss to UCLA in the NCAA championship finals in Portland, OR. The All-American Russell eclipsed his own Michigan single-season scoring mark with 692 points, averaging 25.6 points a game, and was named the Big Ten's Most Valuable Player.

Russell's senior year was filled with accomplishments and accolades. The Wolverines took the Big Ten title for the third straight year, going 11-3 in the conference. Overall, the team went 18-8, making it to the NCAA Elite Eight. As he ended his collegiate career against Kentucky in the NCAA regional at Iowa City, he scored his 800th point of the season to run his three-year career record to 2,164 points in 80 games for a career average of 27.05 points per game.

Russell set and reset the Michigan single-season scoring mark in three straight seasons, capped off by his 30.8 average his senior year. A three-time All-American, he was a two-time recipient of the Big Ten's Most Valuable Player. In winning the Silver Basketball Award given annually by the Chicago Tribune, Russell became the first Michigan player to win the award since it was established in 1946.

Russell also averaged 13 field goals per game in Big Ten competition to lead the league with a 33.2 average. His 13 goals per game were a new record, surpassing the 12.4 mark set by Gary Bradds of Ohio State in 1964. Russell set a new Michigan single-game scoring mark as he poured in 48 points against Northwestern, breaking the all-time individual scoring mark set at Yost Fieldhouse by John Tidwell (43) in 1961. Against San Francisco early in the season, he set a Chicago Stadium mark of 45 points. He also became the sixth player in history to score more than 1,000 points in Big Ten games as he passed this mark against Iowa in Yost Fieldhouse on February 19, 1966.

During his three years at Michigan, the Wolverines won 65 games and lost 17 overall, and with Russell and Oliver Darden playing, they won 31 games and lost just two at Yost Fieldhouse.

In his 12-year career in the NBA, Russell played for the New York Knicks, Golden State Warriors, and Los Angeles Lakers, and ended his career in his hometown with the Chicago Bulls in 1978. Russell was named to the NBA All-Star team once but said his most memorable moment came during the 1969-70 season while he was a key contributor in the New York Knicks' NBA Championship run.

Following his playing career, Russell began coaching in the Continental Basketball Association (CBA) in 1981, leading the Lancaster (Pa.) Lightning to the league championship. Staying in the CBA for eight years, Russell guided the Wyoming Wildcatters to the 1988 CBA finals and was hired as an assistant coach by the Atlanta Hawks. Russell returned to the CBA in 1990 when he was named the head coach of the Grand Rapids Hoops. Following his days in Grand Rapids, Russell coached at the Savannah College of Art and Design, a Division III school, before the program was cut in 2008.

One of the most memorable moments in Russell's basketball career came on December 11, 1993, at a sold-out Crisler Arena. Standing at center court, Russell became the first Wolverine basketball player to have his uniform retired. A banner bearing his No. 33, his name, and the years he played at Michigan - 1964, 1965, and 1966 - was raised to hang from the rafters of Crisler Arena, which has long been known as "The House That Cazzie Built."

Russell single-handedly lifted the University of Michigan's program to national recognition.

He will always be considered one of the best to put on a Michigan jersey.

The Honored Jersey of Bill Buntin (#22)

By Zach Truty

"We had no idea how good he was," said former Michigan freshman basketball coach Tom Jorgensen.

Perhaps even decades later, we will never be able to comprehend Bill Buntin's greatness on a basketball court. Less than three years after reaching the height of his college career, Buntin collapsed and died of a heart ailment during a pick-up game at Detroit Cathedral High in 1968. He was only 26.

Buntin did not live long enough to relish a long list of awards and accolades, yet his mark and the records he set at Michigan speak strongly for his character and what he had accomplished on and off the court.

The 6-7 center was considered undersized and too weak to excel in the rigorous Big Ten Conference, known nationally for tough play under the basket. But that was just the way Buntin liked it. Always looking to prove his critics wrong, Buntin countered a lack of height with an astonishing 50-inch-plus vertical leap and a toughness that allowed him to play 79 out of 80 career games. He also had an elusive scoring style that helped him to score over 1,700 career points.

Before heading to Ann Arbor, Buntin starred at Detroit Northern High School and was recruited by several schools. But after suffering a broken leg early in his senior year, several schools lost interest in recruiting Buntin. He instead enrolled at the Brewster Center in Detroit, a former talent bed of freestyle inner-city players.

Playing at Brewster brought out Buntin's real capabilities as a player. He developed a rough-and-tumble rebounding style to go along with a soft hook shot on offense.

"You take your lumps at Brewster," said Buntin as a sophomore. "It's kill or be killed under the basket there."

As college coaches began hearing of Buntin's game, they flocked from all over to make a sales pitch to the rising star. Buntin took notice when he was introduced to Michigan coach Dave Strack and Northern High's principal Don Murray, whose son, Charley Murray, was a former Michigan Basketball captain. The meeting turned out to be beneficial for all parties as Strack and

Murray played crucial roles in influencing Buntin to attend Michigan and continue his basketball career on the collegiate level.

Buntin burst onto the college basketball scene in 1962, averaging 22.2 points and 15.7 rebounds a game while playing with a heavily wrapped leg, still suffering from his high school injury. "Big Bill" led the Big Ten with 216 total rebounds in 14 games, while his 534 points that season set a new Michigan individual season scoring record, surpassing John Tidwell's 1959-60 record of 520 points. Buntin was recognized for his efforts when he was named to the All-Big Ten first team and Michigan's Most Valuable Player.

Buntin followed a terrific sophomore season with an even more outstanding junior year. Raising his field goal percentage from .429 to .495, Buntin averaged 23.2 points and 12.5 rebounds en route to being named an All-Big Ten first-team selection and an NCAA All-American. He carried the Wolverines to their first conference championship in 16 seasons and to the NCAA Final Four.

During that 1963-64 season, Buntin paired with sophomore All-American forward Cazzie Russell, who averaged 24.8 points per game, to form one of the best basketball duos in Michigan history.

The duo of Buntin and Russell helped lead the Wolverines to the Final Four in Michigan's second-ever trip to the NCAA Tournament. The Wolverines ran up against national powerhouse Duke in the semifinal game. The experience of the Blue Devils, who had been in the Final Four the season before, proved too much for Michigan as Duke prevailed, 91-80. The Wolverines struck back with a vengeance in the consolation game, defeating Kansas State 100-90 to capture third place in the NCAA Tournament.

After Michigan's first Final Four appearance, Buntin entered his senior year with hopes of repeated success. Buntin did not disappoint, guiding the 1964-65 Wolverines to their second straight Big Ten title and first trip to the NCAA Championship game.

Buntin, who averaged 20.1 points and 11.5 rebounds, led the team in field goal percentage (.487) and earned All-Big Ten first-team honors for the third straight season. After making their second straight run to the Final Four, the Wolverines came up short in their quest for a national championship, falling 91-80 to John Wooden's UCLA Bruins.

Despite it all, an "undersized" Buntin used his experiences from the Detroit hardwood to dominate the college boards throughout his career. He is one of just two players in Michigan history to collect over 1,000 career rebounds as he finished with 1,037 in just three seasons, which ranks second all-time in Michigan history. He also finished with 1,724 career points -- ninth all-time on the Michigan career list.

With a career average of 21.8 points and 13.1 rebounds a game, Buntin proved he was a giant in college basketball. His 58 double-doubles in 79 career games are the most of any player in Wolverine history.

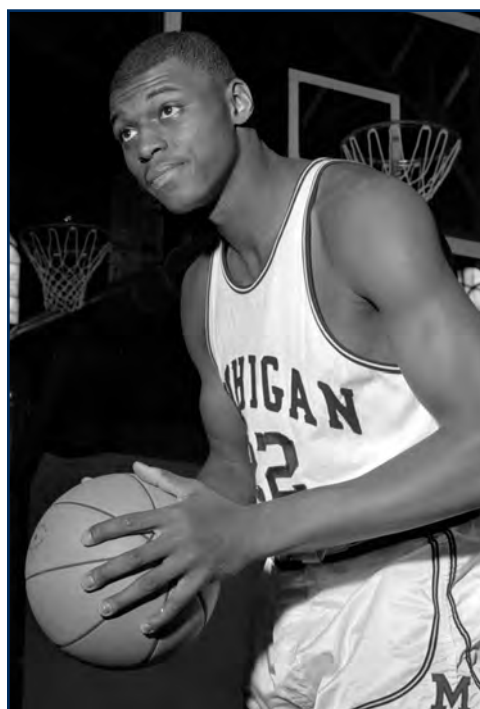

After his three outstanding seasons with the Wolverines, Buntin was drafted with the No. 2 pick by the Detroit Pistons in the 1965 NBA territorial draft. He played one season in the NBA, averaging 7.7 points and 6.0 rebounds in 42 games during the 1965-66 season.

In addition to his brief stint in the NBA, Buntin played with the American Basketball Association's Indiana Pacers before switching sports and leagues, signing a deal to play with the National Football League's Detroit Lions. He never saw any game action with the Lions, as he ended his professional career in 1967 to return to school.

At the young age of 26, Buntin decided to return to Michigan to complete his final semester and earn a degree in education. He had always loved working with children and was a student teacher at Slauson Junior High School in Ann Arbor before his untimely death in May of 1968.

Buntin and Russell helped bring Michigan back to the top of the national scene. We may never know how much Buntin could have accomplished, however, he continues to be honored at the end of each season as the Michigan Most Valuable Player Award was established in his honor following his passing.

Buntin always proved hard work would pay off. There were no limits to what a person could do. He proved that in just three seasons on the college hardwood.

The Honored Jersey of Phil Hubbard (#35)

By Paul Dickerson

Over 400 players have earned letters playing for the Maize and Blue, yet only five have reached 1,400 points and 900 rebounds in their careers. Rudy Tomjanovich leads this elite group with 1,808 points and 1,039 rebounds, followed by Bill Buntin (1,725 points and 1,037 rebounds), Loy Vaught (1,451 points and 993 rebounds) and Roy Tarpley (1,601 points and 953 rebounds). The list is rounded out by Phil Hubbard, a dominant post player for three years, scoring 1,455 points and grabbing 979 rebounds.

Hubbard came to Michigan in 1975 as a 6-8 prep All-American out of Canton, Ohio, where he was named the Ohio Player of the Year. Once in Ann Arbor, he immediately made an impact, cracking the starting lineup as a freshman.

He helped U-M to a school-record 25 wins and a 14-4 Big Ten mark, good enough for second place. In the NCAA Tournament, the Wolverines defeated Wichita State, Notre Dame, and Missouri on their way to the NCAA Final Four. After Michigan defeated Rutgers, the Wolverines fell to Indiana in the championship contest. It marked only the second time the Wolverines had reached the championship game.

That season, Hubbard set the Michigan freshman record with 352 rebounds. He also finished second on the team in scoring with 15.1 points per game to average a double-double for the season. For his efforts, Hubbard was awarded All-Big Ten honorable mention recognition.

After Hubbard's successful start to his career, he was chosen to represent the United States at the 1976 Montreal Olympics. Averaging 4.7 points and 3.8 rebounds, the U.S. won the gold medal.

In Hubbard's sophomore season, the Wolverines posted a 26-4 record and earned a second straight berth to the NCAA Tournament. Michigan defeated Holy Cross and Detroit early in the tournament before falling to NC-Charlotte in the Elite Eight, finishing the season just one game shy of its second consecutive trip to the NCAA Final Four.

The Maize and Blue captured the Big Ten Championship outright title in 1977 with a 16-2 record. It was the first time since 1965-66 that the Wolverines were the sole owners of the conference crown.

A large part of the Wolverines' success in 1976-77 was due to Hubbard, who led the Wolverines in both points and rebounds. He averaged 19.5 points and set a school record with 389 rebounds, posting a double-double average for the second straight season. Hubbard's performance earned him All-America honors, and once again, he was chosen to represent the United States. This time, Hubbard traveled to Sofia, Bulgaria, for the World University Games.

Although Hubbard helped the U.S. team win the gold medal, he injured his knee in a contest against the Soviet Union. The injury forced Hubbard to miss his junior year, but he nonetheless captained the Wolverines to a 16-11 mark and a fourth-place finish in the Big Ten.

Hubbard returned for the 1978-79 season as a senior captain. That year, U-M finished 15-12 overall and 8-10 in the conference for sixth place. Hubbard had another solid season in the post, leading the team for the third time with 238 rebounds. He also finished second on the team in points with a 14.8 points per-game average. In his final season with the Wolverines, Hubbard earned All-Big Ten Conference honorable mention distinction.

In his three years on the court for the Wolverines, Hubbard averaged 16.5 points per game and 11.1 rebounds per game. He totaled 1,455 points and 979 rebounds, which currently rank 14th and fourth, all-time at Michigan, respectively. Forgoing his final year of eligibility, Hubbard entered the 1979 NBA draft where he was selected 15th overall by the Detroit Pistons.

Hubbard spent his first two full seasons in Detroit before being traded, along with Paul Mokeski and draft picks, to Cleveland for Bill Laimbeer and Kenny Carr in 1982. In his two years with the Pistons, Hubbard averaged 12.1 points per game and 6.3 rebounds in just over 24 minutes of action per game.

Hubbard spent the remainder of his 10-year NBA career with the Cavs, helping Cleveland reach the playoffs twice. His best season statistically was 1984-85, when he averaged 15.8 points and 6.3 rebounds in 76 games. On Dec. 4 of that season, Hubbard set a Cleveland Cavaliers record with 15 consecutive field goals on his way to a career-high 37 points against the Lakers. He retired after the 1988-89 season, having averaged 10.9 points per game and 5.3 rebounds throughout his NBA career.

In 1993, Hubbard returned to the NBA, working in the New York Knicks' front office for five years. Before the 1997-98 season, Hubbard began his coaching career as an assistant with the Atlanta Hawks under Lenny Wilkins. After three seasons, Hubbard moved to California to serve as an assistant with the Golden State Warriors for three seasons.

Remembered as one of Michigan's best overall players, Hubbard's No. 35 jersey is a constant reminder of the tradition and dignity of Wolverine basketball.

The Honored Jersey of Glen Rice (#41)

By Paul Dickerson

April 3, 1989.

That date will go down in history as the greatest day in Michigan basketball history. That day, the Wolverines completed their improbable run through the NCAA Tournament and brought home Michigan's only basketball national championship with an 80-79 victory over Seton Hall. Senior captain Glen Rice led the way to the crown, scoring 31 points in the championship game, setting an NCAA Tournament record with 184 points in the tournament's six games, and taking home Most Outstanding Player honors.

Rice's phenomenal tournament performance capped one of the best individual seasons. Rice scored 949 points during the 1989 season to shatter the old record of 800 in 1966 by the great Cazzie Russell. Rice also shot 51.6 percent from beyond the three-point arc that year to become the only Wolverine to shoot 50 percent from the three-point line. Rice earned All-America honors and was named the Big Ten Player of the Year and the Big Ten-Jesse Owens Men's Athlete of the Year.

Rice came to Michigan in 1985 as a 6-7 freshman out of Flint Northwestern High School. Rice played in 32 games of the 1985-86 season, as the Wolverines finished 28-5 overall and won the conference championship with a 14-4 mark in the Big Ten. In the NCAA Tournament, Rice helped lead U-M to a first-round 70-64 victory over Akron, with a team-high 14 points.

As a freshman, Rice twice led the team in single-game scoring, averaging 7.0 points per game for the season. He grabbed 97 rebounds and was second on the team in field goal percentage at 55.0 percent.

When Rice's sophomore year rolled around, he was a regular starter. During the 1986-87 season, Rice started 31 of the Wolverine's 32 games, helping Michigan to a 20-12 record. U-M finished fifth in the conference that year with a 10-8 Big Ten record, but the Wolverines did manage to make it to the second round of the NCAA Tournament, defeating Navy 97-

82 in the opening game.

Rice flourished his sophomore season scoring 16.9 points per game, good for second on the team. Rice also excelled on the glass, leading the team with 9.2 rebounds per game, including 13 games with at least 10 rebounds. Rice was named to the All-Big Ten second team by the UPI.

Rice took control of the team in 1988 when he led Michigan in scoring and rebounding. The Wolverines finished the year with a 26-8 overall record and a 13-5 mark in conference play, good for second place. In the postseason, Rice helped U-M advance to the Sweet Sixteen with a Michigan NCAA Tournament record 39 points against Florida in the second round.

As a junior, Rice averaged 22.1 points per game and 7.2 rebounds. He scored over 25 points in 11 games and 30 in five. Rice poured in a career-high 40 points vs. Minnesota on Jan. 9, 1988, the third-highest total ever at Crisler Arena. He added four 30-plus point games with 39 points vs. Florida (NCAA Tournament), 35 against Iowa, 33 against Michigan State, and 30 against Wisconsin. Rice's 728 total points earned him the Big Ten scoring title, becoming only the fourth Wolverine to do so. Rice was a first-team All-Big Ten selection by both the AP and the UPI and was an All-American honorable mention as voted by the UPI.

After Rice's Michigan career, he was the fourth overall pick in the 1989 NBA Draft by the Miami Heat. In addition to setting the single-season points (949), field goal attempts (629), field goals made (363) and three-point percentage (51.56%) records, Rice set several career records at Michigan. Rice set and still holds the career marks for games played (134) and points scored (2,442). He set the record for three-point field goals made (135) and attempted (281) which have since been broken.

Despite all the records, Rice's greatest achievement at Michigan was helping the Wolverines win the 1989 national championship. During Rice's tenure at U-M, the Wolverines posted a 104-32 overall record and a 49-23 record in the Big Ten. The Wolverines won the 1986 Big Ten Championship, the last time Michigan claimed the conference crown.

Rice played with the Miami Heat for six years, averaging 20 points per game in his first six seasons in the NBA. Rice was named to the NBA All-Rookie Second Team after averaging 13.6 points in his first season with the Heat. In his final year with the Heat, Rice scored a career-high 56 points vs. the Orlando Magic on April 15, 1995.

Before the 1995-96 season, Rice was traded to the Charlotte Hornets and had his most successful professional years. In 1997, Rice averaged 26.8 points, 4.0 rebounds and 2.0 assists. Rice was named to the NBA All-Star team in his three seasons with the Hornets, earning the All-Star MVP award in 1997. During that game, Rice scored 26 total points and set All-Star game records with 20 points in the third quarter and 24 points in the second half.

Midway through the 1998-99 season, Rice was traded again, this time to the Los Angeles Lakers. Rice stayed with the Lakers through the 1999-2000 season in which he won an NBA Championship. He played the next season with the New York Knicks before moving on to the Houston Rockets where he still plays. Over his 14-year NBA career, Rice has averaged 18.6 points and 4.4 rebounds. He ranks 10th among active players and 48th all-time with 18,270 career points and is still the Miami Heat's all-time leading scorer with 9,248 points and the Charlotte Hornet's all-time leader in scoring average with 23.5 points per game. Rice also ranks third with 1,554 three-pointers made, fifth with 3,868 three-pointers attempted, and is tied for 14th with a three-point percentage of .402.

Rice was instrumental in bringing Michigan its only NCAA Championship in basketball and along the way he set the Wolverine's career scoring record with 2,242 points. He will always be considered one of the best to ever wear the Maize and Blue.

The Honored Jersey of Rudy Tomjanovich (#45)

By Adam Koester

Some young players become stars overnight with their pure athletic ability. Others have less natural talent, but hard work and dedication, become over-achievers.

After thousands of hours of practice a player can take the skills he or she was given and develop into someone special – someone who has not settled for being average, but instead put everything they had into a game, not knowing what the outcome would be.

In this case, the game was basketball, and the results of those efforts have put this player among the elite at Michigan and in the international basketball landscape.

From 1968-70, Rudy Tomjanovich used the newly built Crisler Arena as his playground to rewrite the record books and make himself one of Michigan's basketball immortals.

The forward was a true inside-outside player, as he combined a smooth outside jump shot with a rebounding ability that has been unmatched by any other player in U-M history. During his senior campaign, Tomjanovich was the NCAA's seventh-leading scorer and 13th-leading rebounder, averaging 30.1 points and 15.7 rebounds per game.

After his career at Michigan, the San Diego Rockets drafted Tomjanovich with the No. 2 overall pick in the 1971 NBA Draft. He spent his entire 11-season playing career with the Rockets. With his playing days behind him, Tomjanovich remained with the team and has become the most accomplished coach in the franchise's history.

Sitting out his freshman season due to NCAA rules, Tomjanovich led the U-M as a sophomore with 19.5 points and 13.5 rebounds per game. The talented forward registered four games of 30 points or more and set the current Crisler Arena rebounding record in the first game of the season and his career by pulling down 27 boards against Kentucky. He was later named to the All-Big Ten second team.

Tomjanovich started his junior year off with a bang, scoring 20 or more points in 11 straight games. Once again, he led with 25.7 points and 14.2 rebounds during a record-breaking year. Tomjanovich would score 40-plus points twice during the season, including tying the current single-game scoring record by lighting up the scoreboard for 48 points against Indiana.

Tomjanovich set U-M's single-game rebounding record, breaking his previous record of 27 by collecting 30 rebounds against Loyola.

With his 617 points, Tomjanovich became only the third player in school history to score over 600 points in a single season and put his two-year point total over the 1,000-point mark at 1,086. A unanimous All-Big Ten selection, he added All-American honors from the Sporting News, Basketball Weekly, Basketball News, and Helms Foundation All-American.

In his final season, Tomjanovich was again a dominating force for the Wolverines. He scored 42 points against Utah and 30-plus points 13 times on his way to averaging 30.1 points per contest. Tomjanovich was an All-Big Ten selection, a first-team All-American by the National Basketball Association coaches, and a UPI second-team All-American.

Tomjanovich pulled down a program-record 1,039 rebounds. He was the team's leading rebounder all three years and led the Wolverines in rebounding for 30 straight games, a streak that lasted through his junior and senior seasons. In addition to rebounding, Tomjanovich led the Maize and Blue in scoring each of his three seasons, and his 1,808 career points rank sixth on Michigan's career list.

Every player ahead of him on the career list has played more games than he has, with the top four playing a minimum of 114 games compared to his 72.

Tomjanovich still holds Crisler Arena single-game records for points (48), field goals made (21), and rebounds (27). He also holds U-M single-game records with 21 field goals made and 30 rebounds. The three-time All-Big Ten selection and two-time All-American steadily increased his offensive and defensive numbers throughout his career. Because of that, the U-M Most Improved Player award has been named in his honor since 1974.

After his Wolverine career, he was selected as the No. 2 overall pick in the NBA draft by the San Diego Rockets. In his first year in the NBA, 1970-71, Tomjanovich played with the San Diego Rockets. The franchise then moved to Houston, where he played his final 10 seasons.

Tomjanovich was a fan favorite because of his loyalty to his team, and he did not disappoint them with his performances on the court. Picking up where he left off in college, Tomjanovich was the Rockets' top scorer and rebounder. He played in 768 career games and made 631 starts while seeing nearly 26,000 minutes of action during those games.

In four seasons, Tomjanovich averaged 20 points or more and finished his career by totaling 13,383 points, which ranks third on the Rockets' all-time list. He was the team's leading scorer on the 1976-77 division championship team (21.6 ppg).

Tomjanovich was a relentless rebounder, using his hustle and desire to pull down 6,198 career rebounds. That total is the fourth-best in franchise history. He was rewarded for his hard work by being named an NBA All-Star five times. When his playing days ended when he retired on October 2, 1981, Tomjanovich jersey No. 45 was retired on January 28, 1982, becoming only the fourth Rocket to receive this outstanding honor.

But this man of Houston was only scratching the surface of his professional career, as he would stay involved with the Rockets organization for over three decades and eventually become one of the premiere NBA coaches. He was named interim head coach in February of 1992, leading the Rockets to the best start of any coach in Rocket history, 11-4, Tomjanovich was given the permanent head coaching position.

He became the only NBA coach to take his team from being in the draft lottery to winning the division title during his first full season. He guided the Rockets to back-to-back NBA titles in 1994 and 1995, putting him in the upper echelon of coaches. He gained international success as the 1998 head coach of the USA Basketball senior national team and the head coach of the undefeated gold-medal-winning United States team at the 2000 Summer Olympic Games.

Tomjanovich has defined the word "winner" in every fathomable way.

A true role model, Rudy T's jersey is a permanent reminder to every one of his constant drive to be the best, as it will perpetually hang from the rafters of Crisler Center.

Run to the 1998 Inaugural Title (NCAA Vacated)

1998 Big Ten Tournament (vacated)

In the inaugural Big Ten Tournament, Michigan earned the No. 4 seed and a first-round bye. In its opening half in Chicago, the Wolverines shot 63.0 percent and built a 10-point lead against No. 5 Iowa. With all five starters closing in double figures, including Robert Traylor's 10-point, 16-rebound effort, U-M was able to move on with a 76-66 victory. U-M's red-hot shooting continued in its semifinal win over No. 8 Minnesota. Shooting nearly 54 percent, draining 13 three-pointers and using a second straight game with all five starters in double figures, the Wolverines cruised to the title game with an 85-69 win. After trailing at the half, 33-31, Most Outstanding Player Traylor finished 12-for-16 for 24 points and added 13 rebounds as he guided the Wolverines to a second-half comeback and a 76-67 to capture the first-ever championship. The 1998 result was eventually vacated due to U-M's NCAA Sanctions.

Run to the Inspirational 2017 Title

2017 Big Ten Tournament

In what could have been a near tragedy turned into triumph for Michigan in the 2017 Big Ten Tournament. After U-M's plane crashed off the runway during takeoff heading to Washington, D.C., the Wolverines held a team meeting and elected to travel the next morning to play in the tournament. In what turned out to be a fairy tale story, U-M became the lowest seed (No. 8) and first team to win four games in four days to capture the first of two straight Big Ten titles. After a mad-dash to the arena and wearing practice jerseys, U-M used its early energy as a spark and dominated Illinois with a 20-point victory, 75-55. A driving Zak Irvin layup in overtime helped the Wolverines gain the lead they would never relinquish again as they knocked off a No. 1 seed for a second straight year topping Purdue, 74-70, in the quarterfinal. Building a 10-point lead and shooting over 63 percent in the first half, U-M stymied Minnesota's second-half rally to reach the title game against Wisconsin with an 84-77 victory. After 29 points against the Gophers, Most Outstanding Player Derrick Walton Jr. added 22, with seven assists in the championship, helping the Wolverines bounce back from near disaster to hoisting a title with a 71-56 win over the Badgers.

Run to Repeat as Champions in 2018

2018 Big Ten Tournament

Heading to New York and Madison Square Garden to defend its title, Michigan survived an opening overtime thriller with Iowa to win a second straight Big Ten Tournament title. Winning four games in four days for a second straight year, the Wolverines became the third Big Ten squad to repeat as champions of the conference tournament. Following a first-round bye, Iowa's Jordan Bohannon hit a three-pointer as time expired in regulation, sending the game to overtime. As U-M used the free throw line to outscore the Hawkeyes, who were 1-for-9, the Wolverines escaped with a 77-71 win. Avenging a regular-season loss, Muhammad-Ali Abdur-Rahkman went 5-for-5 from deep and U-M had 11 triples as it handled Nebraska, 77-58. In the semifinal, the Maize and Blue knocked off the No. 1 seed for a third straight year as U-M took down rival Michigan State, 75-64 -- Abdur-Rahkman, Moritz Wagner and Xavier Simpson all closed with 15 points. Shooting 50 percent and with 17 points from Wagner -- the Most Outstanding Player -- the Wolverines took home the title for a second straight year with a 75-66 victory over Purdue.

Indianapolis Run to the 2025 Title

2025 Big Ten Tournament

Heading to Indianapolis, losing its last three regular-season games, the Maize and Blue earned the No. 3 seed and a double bye. With a No. 6-seed Purdue quarterfinal match-up, the Wolverines held a four-point lead at halftime. Outscoring Purdue, 46-32, shooting 65.4 percent and holding the Boilermakers to 33.3 percent in the second half, U-M advanced with an 86-68 win. A coast-to-coast, buzzer-beating layup by Tre Donaldson lifted U-M to a dramatic 81-80 semifinal victory over No. 2-seed Maryland. With 5.3 seconds remaining and without a timeout, Donaldson inbounded the ball after a pair of Maryland free throws. Getting it back, he sprinted the ball the length of the floor and made a running left-handed layup off the glass with 0.4 seconds remaining to give U-M a one-point lead. Maryland's inbound pass was knocked away, securing U-M's thrilling win. In the title game, U-M overcame an 11-point second-half deficit to win the Big Ten Tournament, 59-53, over No. 5-seed Wisconsin. Tied at 53 and with 46 seconds remaining, Vladislav Goldin hit two free throws to give Michigan a 55-53 lead. Stopping the Badgers on their next two possessions, the Wolverines secured the title with free throws. Goldin was named the tournament's Most Outstanding Player, while Danny Wolf joined him on the All-Tournament team.

Run to the 1984 NIT Crown

1984 NIT Championship

After a 19-9 regular-season record, a late-season loss to Northwestern kept Michigan from a coveted 20th win and quite possibly a berth in the NCAA Tournament. The Maize and Blue eventually accepted a bid to the NIT and a home game against Wichita State. A dominating win over the Shockers, 94-70, sparked the Wolverines as they rattled off wins over Marquette (83-70) and then a thrilling 63-62 win over Xavier to advance the Maize and Blue to New York. In the semifinal, U-M edged Virginia Tech, 78-75, to find itself in the championship game against Notre Dame. In the famed Madison Square Garden, U-M resoundingly defeated the Irish, 83-63, to win the NIT -- the program's first national title. Tim McCormick's 28 points and 14 rebounds closed his U-M career earning MVP honors -- as he averaged 15.8 points, 8.6 rebounds and shot 60.9 percent from the field for the event.

Run to the 1997 NIT Crown (NCAA Vacated)

1997 NIT Championship (NCAA Sanctioned)

After five straight losses to close the regular season, Michigan saw its NCAA chances fall. However, the Wolverines met as a team and elected to stay in the postseason heading to the NIT. Following a double-digit wins over Miami, Fla. (76-63) and Oklahoma State (75-65) at Crisler Arena, the Maize and Blue headed to Notre Dame for a chance to return to New York. After a sluggish first half, U-M held a four-point lead heading into the break. With both squads shooting over 60 percent in the second half, the Irish (69.6% 2nd half) rallied and took a one-point lead, 66-65, with under 10 second left. With the Irish focusing on Robert Traylor (26 points, 14 rebounds), Brandon Hughes drained a free throw line jumper to give U-M the victory, 67-66. With 19 points and 15 rebounds, Maurice Taylor led the Wolverines to the title game with a 77-62 defeat over Arkansas. In the championship game, Traylor's 26 points and Maceo Baston's 20 helped the Wolverines close the season with five straight wins and the NIT title, 82-73, over Florida State. The 1997 result was eventually vacated due to U-M's NCAA Sanctions.

Run to the 2004 NIT Crown

2004 NIT Championship

Entering the postseason earning an NIT opening-round bye, Michigan used 20 points from Daniel Horton and a second-half rally to hold off Missouri, 65-64, to move on. With that thrilling game's momentum, U-M advanced to New York following wins over Oklahoma (63-52) and Hawaii (88-73) in Ann Arbor. Shooting nearly 60 percent in the first half and knocking down eight three-pointers, the Wolverines moved on to the championship game after their 78-52 over Oregon. Facing Rutgers in the championship, a raucous and pro-Scarlet Knight Madison Square Garden set the stage for a dramatic final game. In a defensive battle, the Wolverines were able to build a seven-point lead at the break. In a balanced second half, U-M saw its lead slip before pulling away late with free throws to capture the title, 62-55.

1989 NCAA Champions: "Shock the World!"

The Wolverines Run to the NCAA Crown

In one of the most storied tournament runs in NCAA history, the 1989 Michigan Wolverines overcame overwhelming odds to not only reach the Final Four but completed their mission to "Shock the World" and capture the program's first national championship.

Following the late season release of head coach Bill Frieder, who had agreed to take over at Arizona State at the conclusion of the season, assistant coach Steve Fisher was promoted by athletic director Bo Schembechler to interim head coach just two days before the Maize and Blue played its first tournament game at the Southeast Regional in Atlanta.

Despite the sudden change, No. 3-seed U-M used tremendous focus, strong shooting and a second half rally to open with a 92-87 defeat over No. 14-seed Xavier. Glen Rice and Rumeal Robinson led U-M's first round charge with 23 points apiece, while Terry Mills had 18 and Mark Hughes added eight points and 10 rebounds.

Two days later, Michigan needed a second straight second half rally to advance to the Sweet 16 as they defeated No. 6-seed South Alabama, 91-82. Rice helped the Wolverines dominate the second half and pull away late as he closed 19-for-26 from the field for a game-high 35 points. Mills added 24 points of his own and Robinson chipped in 12 in the victory.

Moving on to Lexington, Ky., U-M was set to face No. 2-seed North Carolina for a third straight year in the Big Dance. Since the Tar Heels had knocked the Wolverines out of the tournament in the previous two seasons, emotions ran high.

The third time proved to be the charm for the Wolverines, however, as they scored a thrilling 92-87 victory. Despite 25 points from UNC's J.R. Reid, Rice drained eight three-pointers, which paced his 34-point effort. In addition to Rice's second straight 30-point effort, Robinson added 17 points and 13 assists.

In the Elite Eight, Rice's third straight 30+ point game (32) and seven three-pointers and 31 points off the bench from Sean Higgins, U-M dominated No. 5-seed Virginia, 102-65, to advance to U-M's first Final Four in 13 years (1976).

Traveling to Seattle, the Final Four would prove to not be for the faint-hearted. First up was a third match-up against Big Ten runner-up Illinois, who had defeated the Wolverines twice during the regular season, including the regular season finale.

Just like snapping streak against North Carolina, the third time proved to be the charm as Sean Higgins was able to send the Wolverines to the national title game in dramatic fashion. With the score tied 81-81 with 10 second left, Robinson kicked the ball out to a wide open Mills. After his shot caromed off the rim, Higgins snagged the ball and his put back gave the Maize and Blue an 83-81 lead with a second left.

After an Illini time out, their last second shot attempt fell short as the Wolverines headed to the championship game against No. 2-seed Seton Hall. Higgins finished with 14 points, while Rice had 28 and Robinson posted a second double-double with 14 points and 12 assists.

In the title game, college basketball fans witnessed one of the greatest NCAA games ever. Rice (31 points) and Seton Hall's John Morton (35 points) squared off in an individual scoring duel that left nearly everyone that witnessed the game in awe.

Michigan shot 50 percent from the field and headed top into the half with a 37-32 lead. As the Pirates have done throughout their NCAA run, Seton Hall's defense tightened in the second half. Despite five three-pointers, U-M was held to 34 second half points, while Morton rallied the Pirates sending the game into overtime for just the fifth time in NCAA Tournament history and first since 1963.

Tied 71-71, the two squads went back and forth throughout the extra frame. As U-M trailed 79-78, Robinson was fouled with just three second remaining. Shooting 64 percent on free throws during the regular season, Robinson drained both free throws giving the Wolverines the 80-79 lead.

Following a time out, the Pirates' Darryll Walker caught the cross court pass, but the last second shot missed securing the first ever national title for the Wolverines.

After posting six straight games of 20+ points as well as four of 30+, Rice was named the tournament's Most Outstanding Player. In fact, his 184 total points (30.7 ppg) remains the NCAA record for most points in a single tournament. He also holds the NCAA record with 75 total field goals.

Robinson, who averaged 16.7 points, compiled 56 assists (9.3 apg) during U-M's run – the second most in a tournament all-time.

Shock the World | Game 1 (First Round)
#3 Michigan 92, #14 Xavier 87

ATLANTA Georgia -- Michigan began its historic NCAA Tournament run amid a sudden change of the head coach and road journey to Atlanta for first and second round action. Seeded third in the Southeast Regional, the Maize and Blue opened against 14th-seed Xavier. In what was to be considered an easy contest turned out to be a fight to the finish. Even interim head coach Steve Fisher, who was elevated just two days prior, admitted to butterflies walking onto the court in his first game as the leader of the Wolverines. Feeling that anxiety, Xavier took advantage by powering the ball inside and frustrating U-M with its quick guards. As the nerves began to settle, the Wolverines, who shot 58.6 percent and were led by 13 points apiece from Glen Rice and Rumeal Robinson, still found themselves trailing 45-42. Returning for the second half, neither the Wolverines nor the Musketeers could pull away as the final 20 minutes featured nine lead changes and five ties. Michigan then switched to a zone to cut down on defensive fouls and hindered the guard penetration by Xavier. The move was instrumental in contributing to Fisher's successful debut. Despite Xavier reclaiming the lead 82-81 with 3:41 remaining, Rice drained his fifth three-pointer of the night to give U-M the lead 84-82.

It was a lead Michigan would not relinquish again. Follow-up baskets by Demetrius Calip and Mark Hughes helped the Wolverines maintain a three-point edge. In the waning minute, Calip and Robinson sealed the game as the Wolverines survived, 92-87, as the Wolverines duo combined to go 4-for-4 from the free throw line. Rice and Robinson each finished with 23 points, while Terry Mills went 8-for-12 for 18 points and five assists. Calip had a career-best nine points and Hughes just missed a double-double (eight points, 10 rebounds). Xavier guards Jamal Walker, Michael Davenport, and Stan Kimbrough combined for 44 points, while Tyrone Hill had 21.

Shock the World | Game 2 (Second Round)
#3 Michigan 91, #6 South Alabama 82

ATLANTA, Georgia -- Michigan went into the NCAA second round with renewed purpose after the first game scare from Xavier. Next up was South Alabama, who won the Sun Belt regular season and the conference tournament to earn the sixth seed in the Big Dance. Over the first seven minutes, the Wolverines scored often going 5-for-7 from the field to jump out to a 20-9 advantage. However, over the game's next four minutes, South Alabama's Junie Smith rallied the Jaguars with a 19-6 run to turn the tables on the Wolverines and take the lead 28-26 midway through the half. Despite shooting 60 percent and 17 first half points from Glen Rice, it was the Wolverines' 17 first half fouls that slowed their pace. South Alabama continued to hang around in a back-and-forth final 10 minutes. As South Alabama finished the half 15-for-21 from the free throw line and while Smith added 16 points and was instrumental to the Jaguars ending the final minute on a 7-0 run sending them into the half leading, 47-44. Despite Rice's second half 19 points, the Wolverines had trouble controlling the Jaguars as they continued to maintain a lead for the first eight minutes. A three-pointer by Rice and a baseline jumper by Terry Mills finally helped the Wolverines tie the score at 67-67 with 12 minutes left. U-M, who recorded just five second half fouls, went back-and-forth with South Alabama with eight lead changes over the next eight minutes. With the game tied at 80-80, Mills' turnaround jumper gave U-M a two-point lead with 2:17 left. That's where it ended for the Jaguars as U-M closed on a 9-2 to survive and advance to the Sweet 16 for a second straight year with a 91-82 victory. Rice used his 16 field goals (three three-pointers) to highlight the win with 36 points,, while Mills closed with 25 points (9-for-13). Smith paced the Jaguars with 25 points, while fellow guard Jeff Hodges had 16.

Shock the World | Game 4 (Elite Eight) #3 Michigan 102, #5 Virginia 65

LEXINGTON, Kentucky -- It almost seemed too easy for Michigan in its Elite Eight matchup with fifth-seed Virginia.

The Wolverines handily beat the Cavaliers, 102-65, to win the Southeast Region and advance to the Final Four for the first time since 1976.

Glen Rice dug the Cavaliers a big hole by scoring 21 of 32 points in the first half, while Sean Higgins buried them with 18 of his career-high after the half.

Michigan had a 34-17 lead when Higgins began waving a blue towel on the bench and creating a one-man wave with his hands. The school band was playing "The Victors" with extra enthusiasm, and it seemed like a ticker tape parade was about to start any minute at Rupp Arena. This all came with four minutes left in the first half.

Rice hit a shot at the first-half buzzer that kissed the glass, swirling the rim twice, and dropped. While trotting to the locker room, he winked at the fans and pointed to them.

Coach Steve Fisher warned his team to not start the party too early. He reminded them how Iowa had overcome a 20-point deficit, forcing the Wolverines to double-overtime before finally winning.

Virginia didn't have a similar chance, though. The Cavs shot 38 percent from the field and 41 percent from the line. Rice and Higgins scored a combined 63 points, just two less than the whole Virginia team.

Virginia's leading scorer, Richard Morgan (15 points on 5-for-18 shooting), missed his first seven shots, while Rice made his first six. Michigan's lead was never under 10 points in the game's final 26 minutes.

Loy Vaught (eight points and nine rebounds) flashed four fingers to the fans when he hit an open jumper to make it 54-31.

That signal represented what the team had accomplished under their rookie coach, a Final Four appearance and unity between the players that would carry them to heights never before attained.

Shock the World | Game 5 (Final Four) #3 Michigan 83, #1 Illinois 81

SEATTLE, Washington -- Before the celebration of the Virginia win even stopped, Michigan was thinking of its next opponent -- Illinois, a team which had already defeated the Wolverines twice in the regular season.

Heading to the Kingdome for the Big Ten battle, the smaller, quicker Illini jumped out to a 16-8 lead. As Michigan fans began to wonder if this game would end just like the two previous meetings, the Wolverines put together an 11-2 run and came back to take a one-point lead, 19-18.

Much of the rest of the half would keep fans on the edge of their seats, as the two teams traded leads that never amounted to more than a point or two. As the horn sounded, the Maize and Blue went into the locker room with a 39-38 halftime lead behind 12 points from Glen Rice and 10 from Rumeal Robinson.

The second half was no different than the first, as each team had to work hard for every point they could get. Down the stretch, Illinois' Kenny Battle and Rice traded remarkable basket after remarkable basket.

As time began to wind down, Michigan took a 78-74 lead on a fast break dunk by Rice. Illinois responded after calling timeout with five consecutive points including a three-pointer by Battle to take back the lead, 79-78, with under two minutes.

Mark Hughes converted a three-point play with 1:09 left to give the Wolverines an 81-79 lead. However, Illinois' Battle evened the game (81-81) with his 12-footer with 50 seconds left.

The Wolverines slowly worked the ball around the court waiting for the right moment to attempt the game-winning shot, but the tough Illinois defense was not willing to give an inch to the Wolverine's offense.

Terry Mills took a desperation 18-foot jumper as the shot clock was winding down, only to watch it bounce from off the backside of the rim. With two seconds left on the clock, Sean Higgins snared the weak-side rebound and threw up a soft floater that found nothing but net.

Illinois was able to call a timeout with one second remaining. The Illini's long court pass was intercepted by Rice, preserving Michigan's 83-81 win and its first over Illinois in three tries that season. More importantly the victory sent the Wolverines to their first Final Four in 13 years.

1964 NCAA Tournament | Final Four

Michigan set a new standard for the program when they became the first U-M team to reach the Final Four. The Maize and Blue went 20-4 in the regular season was ranked in the top-10 throughout the season, climbing as high as number two in the polls.

Michigan won the Big Ten championship and earned a spot in the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 1948, opening with a Mideast Regional Semifinal date against Loyola-Chicago at Williams Arena in Minneapolis, Minn.

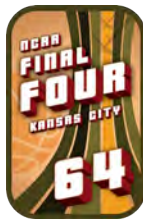

Led by Bill Buntin's 26 points and 13 rebounds, along with Cazzie Russell's 21 points, the Maize and Blue opened the tournament with an 84-80 victory over the Ramblers. Larry Tregoning posted a double-double with 14 points and 14 rebounds while Bob Cantrell added 12 points.

The contest was close throughout with the two teams trading baskets for most of the game. With less than a minute to play, Loyola had the ball down by a pair, 82-80, but a turnover by the Ramblers helped the Wolverines advance to face Ohio in the regional final.

Michigan punched a ticket to its first Final Four with a 69-57 victory over the Bobcats of Ohio in the Mideast Regional Final in Minneapolis. Russell poured in 25 points, including a perfect 7-of-7 from the free-throw line, and Buntin recorded his second consecutive double-double in the tournament with 15 points and a team-high 10 rebounds in the victory.

The Wolverines led by a half-dozen at the half, 33-27, and went on to the victory, aided by a 17-of-19 performance (89.4 percent) at the free-throw line as a team. Buntin and Russell were both named to the All-Midwest Regional Team.

Awaiting the Maize and Blue in the Final Four was Duke as the Wolverines and Blue Devils met at Municipal Auditorium in Kansas City, Mo., for the right to play for a national championship. Despite a game-high 31 points from Russell and Buntin just missing his third-straight double-double with 19 points and nine rebounds, U-M fell to Duke, 91-80.

Cantrell also scored in double figures with 12 points while the Blue Devils had six players score in double figures, led by 25 points from Jay Buckley and 21 points from Jeff Mullins.

U-M rebounded with a 100-90 victory over Kansas State in the third-place game. Buntin led the way with 33 points and 14 rebounds, going 15-of-17 from the free-throw line, while Cantrell chipped in 20 points and Oliver Darden also recorded a double-double with 17 points and 14 rebounds.

Tregoning scored 16 points while Doug Herner recorded 10 assists as the Wolverines closed the season with a victory. Buntin was named to the Final Four All-Tournament Team.

1965 NCAA Tournament | Final Four

One year after advancing to the first Final Four in program history, Michigan returned to the Final Four in 1965 as the Wolverines went 21-3 in the regular season, including 13-1 in the Big Ten, winning the conference crown, while spending 10 weeks ranked No. 1 in the Associated Press poll.

U-M began its tournament run in the Midwest Regional Semifinals against Dayton at Kentucky's Memorial Coliseum in Lexington. All five starters scored in double figures for the Wolverines, led by 26 points and 11 rebounds from Bill Buntin, as U-M topped the Flyers, 98-71.

Oliver Darden just missed a double-double with 17 points and nine rebounds, Cazzie Russell added 14 points, Larry Tregoning scored 12 and George Pomey chipped in 11 points for the Wolverines, who led by 17 at the half and never looked back.

A much closer contest awaited Michigan in the regional final against Vanderbilt. The Commodores jumped out to a quick start, leading by seven midway through the opening half before taking a narrow one-point lead, 39-38, into halftime. U-M was in front by one, 81-80, with 90 seconds to play but Vanderbilt had the ball with a chance to go back in front.

The Commodores turned the ball over however and Buntin made a basket to give the Wolverines a three-point lead as they went on to win, 87-85. Buntin had his second-straight tournament double-double with 26 points and 14 rebounds, Russell also scored 26 points while Darden recorded a double-double with 14 points and 12 rebounds. Tregoning added 11 points to help sent Michigan to its second consecutive Final Four.

Buntin and Russell were both named to the All-Midwest Regional Team for the second consecutive season.

Bill Bradley and the Princeton Tigers would be the opponent for the Maize and Blue at the Final Four in Memorial Coliseum in Portland, Ore. U-M led by four at halftime, 40-36, and pulled away in the second half to top the Tigers, 93-76, and advance to the first national championship game in program history.

The Wolverines got a balanced offensive effort as four players scored in double figures, led by Russell's 28 points and 10 rebounds. Buntin recorded another double-double with 22 points and 14 rebounds while Tregoning also had a double-double with 13 points and 10 boards.

Darden added 13 points and nearly recorded a double-double as he pulled down nine rebounds; Bradley finished with a game-high 29 points for Princeton.

Michigan's first national championship game would come against the program that would define college basketball during that era as the Maize and Blue squared off against the defending national champion UCLA Bruins, led by John Wooden.

Led by 42 points from Gail Goodrich, UCLA would prove to be too much for the Wolverines in the championship game. Russell scored 28 points to lead U-M, Darden added 17 and Buntin would finish without a double-double for the first time in the 1965 tournament, recording 14 points and six rebounds.

Russell would be named to the All-Tournament Team at the Final Four as Michigan finished the season with a 24-4 overall record.

1976 NCAA Tournament | Final Four

First Round	W, 74-73	Wichita State	March 13 in Denton, Texas
Sweet 16	W, 80-76	Notre Dame	March 18 in Louisville, Ky.
Elite Eight	W, 95-88	Missouri	March 20 in Louisville, Ky.
Final Four	W, 86-70	Rutgers	March 27 in Philadelphia, Pa.
Championship	L, 86-68	Indiana	March 29 in Philadelphia, Pa.

Michigan made a third consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance in 1976 as the Wolverines entered the tournament with a 21-6 overall record, having won seven of their last eight games to close the regular season.

U-M would open the tournament in the Midwest Regional against Wichita State in Denton, Texas, in a contest that would prove to be a thriller. The Shockers led by a half-dozen at halftime, 41-35, and were in front, 73-72, in the final moments when Rickey Green made a baseline jumper with six seconds left to give the Wolverines a 74-73 victory.

Steve Grote led U-M with 17 points, Phil Hubbard had 15 points and nine rebounds before fouling out while Green and John Robinson each scored 10 points as the Huskies survived in the opening round.

In the Sweet 16, Michigan met Notre Dame at Freedom Hall in Louisville, Ky., in another close game that would see the Wolverines outlast the Fighting Irish, 80-76. All five Michigan starters scored in double figures, led by Green's 20 points.

Robinson scored 15, Grote added 14, Wayman Britt had 12 points and Hubbard chipped in 11 as the balance of the Maize and Blue was able to overcome Adrian Dantley's game-high 31 points for the Fighting Irish.

Missouri was the remaining obstacle between U-M and the Final Four as the Wolverines and Tigers met in the Midwest Regional Final. Just as they had against Notre Dame, Michigan used its offensive balance to overcome an outstanding individual effort as the Maize and Blue topped Missouri, 95-88, despite Willie Smith's 43 points for the Tigers.

Hubbard and Robinson both recorded double-doubles for U-M, Hubbard scoring 20 points with 18 rebounds and Robinson posting 21 points and 16 boards. Green scored a team-high 23 points and Dave Baxter had 18 points off the bench to help Michigan reach the Final Four for the first time in 11 seasons.

Green and Hubbard were both named to the All-Midwest Regional Team.

The Philadelphia Spectrum was the site as Michigan met Rutgers in the Final Four. In the first half, the Maize and Blue held the Scarlet Knights to just 27.5 percent (11-of-40) shooting from the field as they built a 19-point halftime lead on their way to an 86-70 victory.

Robinson and Hubbard once again each had double-doubles with Robinson tallying 20 points and 16 boards while Hubbard scored 16 points with 13 rebounds. Green scored 16 points, Grote had 14 and Britt scored 11 as the Wolverines played their way into the final and a third meeting of the season against top-ranked Indiana.

A third meeting would not prove to be the charm for U-M as Indiana completed a perfect season with an 86-68 victory over the Wolverines in the national championship game.

Scott May scored 26 points and Kent Benson added 25 for the Hoosiers who led by six at halftime, 35-29, and shot 60 percent (18-of-30) from the field in the second half.

Green, who was named to the Final Four All-Tournament Team, led U-M with 18 points, Hubbard recorded another double-double with 10 points and 11 rebounds while Grote added 12 points and Britt finished with 11.

1989 NCAA Tournament | Final Four

Michigan's 1989 NCAA Tournament featured a run that will never be forgotten, in circumstances that might never be repeated, as Steve Fisher was installed as head coach of the Wolverines just before their magical six-game run to the first national championship in program history.

The Wolverines were ranked as high as No. 2 in the country during the regular season and entered the tournament with a 24-7 record, earning the No. 3 seed in the Southeast Region.

Prior to the beginning of the tournament, head coach Bill Frieder agreed to become the next head coach at Arizona State and athletic director Bo Schembechler responded by installing Fisher as the head coach of the Maize and Blue.

In the opening round of the tournament, U-M met No. 14 seed Xavier at the Omni in Atlanta. The upstarts from Cincinnati took a three-point lead into halftime, 45-42, before Michigan came back to earn a narrow, 92-87, victory.

Glen Rice and Rumeal Robinson each netted 23 points, with Rice going 5-of-9 from three, while Terry Mills scored 18 on 8-of-12 shooting from the floor to help the Wolverines avoid a first round upset.

Michigan trailed again at the half in the second round as sixth-seeded South Alabama took a 47-44 lead into the locker room, but the Jaguars were unable to keep pace with the Wolverines in the second half as U-M pulled away for a 91-82 victory.

Michigan shot 59.7 percent (37-of-62) from the field in the contest, with Rice pouring in 36 points on 16-of-25 shooting, along with a team-high eight rebounds. Mills scored 24 points and Robinson added a dozen as the Maize and Blue advanced to the Sweet 16 for the second consecutive season.

Awaiting Michigan in the Sweet 16 was second-seeded North Carolina at Rupp Arena in Lexington, Ky. The Tar Heels had eliminated U-M from the tournament in each of the two previous seasons but, behind Glen Rice's 34 points, including 8-of-12 from three, Michigan would advance to the Elite Eight with a 92-87 victory.

Robinson scored 17 points and dished out 13 assists, Mills added 16 while Sean Higgins chipped in 14 from the bench. After North Carolina shot over 60 percent from the field in the first half, Michigan slowed down the Tar Heels just enough in the second period, holding UNC to 45.5 percent shooting (15-of-33), including 0-of-6 from three-point range.

Fifth-seeded Virginia was no match for Michigan in the Southeast Regional Final as the Wolverines dominated the Cavaliers, 102-65. Rice scored 32 points, on 13-of-16 shooting from the floor, and Higgins had 31 points off the bench, including seven triples, as U-M ended a 13-year Final Four drought.

In the first half, the Michigan defense held Virginia to just 35.7 percent (10-of-28) shooting as it built a 44-25 lead at the intermission. Offensively, U-M shot 58.6 percent (41-of-70) in the contest to help setup a matchup with a familiar foe in the national semifinals.

Rice was named the Most Outstanding Player of the Southeast Regional while Higgins and Robinson were also named to the All-Tournament Team.

Michigan lost twice to Illinois during the 1988-89 regular season, both times by double digits, including in the regular season finale in Ann Arbor, but the story would prove to be very different at the Kingdome in Seattle at the Final Four.

Tied at 81 in the final seconds, Mills missed three-pointer, but Higgins grabbed the rebound on the back side and converted the short putback just before time expired to give the Wolverines an 83-81 victory.

Rice led the way once again with 28 points, Robinson scored 14 points with 12 assists, Higgins had 14 points and Loy Vaught posted a double-double with 10 points and 16 rebounds to help U-M take down the Fighting Illini.

If the semifinal against Illinois had been a classic, the national championship game with Seton Hall would prove to be just as dramatic as Michigan would win its first men's basketball national championship with an 80-79, overtime victory over the Pirates.

Trailing by one in the closing seconds of overtime, Robinson drove to the basket and was fouled, earning himself a pair of free throw attempts. Just a 65.6 percent free throw shooter during the season, Robinson calmly knocked down both attempts to lift the Wolverines to the victory and seal the national championship.

Rice was named the tournament's Most Outstanding Player, having set a new NCAA Tournament scoring record with 184 points (30.7 per contest), and, following his heroics to clinch the title, Robinson was also named to the All-Tournament Team.

1992 NCAA Tournament | Final Four (sanctioned)

Michigan entered the 1992 NCAA Tournament as the No. 6 seed in the Southeast Region after going 20-8 in the regular season, but the Wolverines, led by their famed "Fab Five" freshmen, also entered with momentum, having won the final three games of the regular season, including a victory over second-ranked Indiana.

Temple, the No. 11 seed, was the opening round opponent for the Maize and Blue who began the tournament at the Omni in Atlanta, Ga., just as Steve Fisher's team had during the magical tournament run of 1989.

The Wolverines used a strong first half in which they shot 60.7 percent (17-of-28) from the field to take a nine-point halftime lead on their way to a 73-66 victory. Jalen Rose scored a game-high 19 points to go along with eight assists, while Chris Webber posted a double-double with 11 points and 12 rebounds. Juwan Howard and Jimmy King both had 15 points in the first round win.

U-M met No. 14 seed East Tennessee State in the second round and the Wolverines overwhelmed the underdogs in the opening 20 minutes, building a 54-34 halftime lead. Chris Webber scored 30 points and Jalen Rose had a double-double with 19 points and 10 rebounds as the Maize and Blue downed ETSU, 102-90.

Juwan Howard added 23 points and Jimmy King chipped in 13 as Michigan moved on to the Sweet 16 for the first time since 1989.

Michigan met No. 2 seed Oklahoma State in the Sweet 16 at Rupp Arena in Lexington, Ky., in a game that would go down to the wire. A Jalen Rose free throw with 7.3 seconds left put the Wolverines in front by a pair, 74-72, but Oklahoma State would have the final possession with a chance to win or tie.

The Cowboys turned the ball over however with a second left to play and Juwan Howard iced the game at the free-throw line. Rose finished with a game-high 25 points and 11 rebounds, King added 15 points, as did Eric Riley from off the U-M bench, while Howard chipped in 13 points.

The Southeast Regional Final would match the Wolverines against top-seeded rival Ohio State, who got the better of the Maize and Blue twice during the regular season. The result would be a classic as Webber scored a game-high 23 points to pace U-M to a 75-71 victory over the Buckeyes.

In the final minute of regulation, Michigan was down by a pair, 63-61, when a Webber putback drew the Wolverines even and force overtime. U-M built an eight-point lead in the final minute of overtime as the Maize and Blue punched its ticket to the Final Four.

Rose scored 20 points in the regional final victory, King added 15 and Howard scored 10. Rose was named the Most Outstanding Player of the Southeast Regional and Webber was also named to the All-Tournament Team.

U-M met No. 4 seed Cincinnati at the Metrodome in Minneapolis, Minn., in the national semifinals and scored a 76-72 victory over the Bearcats to move on to the national championship game.

Cincinnati led by three at the half, 41-38, but the Maize and Blue held the Bearcats to just 30 percent (9-of-30) shooting from the field in the second half on their way to the victory. King netted a team-high 17 points while Webber posted a double-double with 16 points and 11 rebounds.

Rose finished just shy of a double-double with 13 points and nine boards while Howard added 12 points and eight rebounds.

The defending national champions from Duke were the final hurdle between Michigan and its second national championship, but the Blue Devils would prove to be one hurdle too many as they topped the Wolverines, 71-51 in the title game.

Christian Laettner scored a game-high 19 points and Grant Hill added 18 points and 10 rebounds to lead Duke; Webber had 14 points and 11 rebounds for the Maize and Blue while Rose added 11 points, both were named to the Final Four All-Tournament Team.

1993 NCAA Tournament | Final Four (sanctioned)

Michigan's "Fab Five" entered their second NCAA Tournament as the No. 1 seed in the West Region after going 26-4 in the regular season. The Wolverines were never ranked lower than seventh during the year and went into the NCAA Tournament on a seven-game win streak.

No. 16 seed Coastal Carolina was no match for U-M in the first round at the McKale Center in Tucson, Ariz., as the Maize and Blue raced to an 84-53 victory.

Ray Jackson scored a game-high 19 points, Juwan Howard had a double-double with 16 points and 10 rebounds and Chris Webber chipped in 11 points in an easy opening round win that saw Michigan hold Coastal Carolina to just 27.7 percent (18-of-65) shooting for the contest.

A much stiffer test met U-M in the Round of 32 as the Wolverines needed overtime to dispatch of No. 9 seed UCLA, 86-84. Michigan led by a pair, 77-75, in the final seconds of regulation but Tyus Edney made two free throws with 6.3 seconds left to force overtime. Tied at 84 in the overtime, Jimmy King made a putback with 1.5 seconds left to give Michigan its first all-time win over UCLA.

All five starters scored in double figures for the Wolverines, led by 27 points and 14 rebounds from Webber. Jackson had 19 points, Howard scored 14, Jalen Rose netted 12 and King finished with 11 points.

The Wolverines traveled to the site of their 1989 national championship triumph for the Sweet 16 as they met No. 12 seed George Washington. Just as they had in the second round, all five Michigan starters scored in double figures as the Maize and Blue downed the Colonials, 76-64.

Howard led the way with 17 points and 10 rebounds, Rose added 16 points, Webber scored 14 with nine boards while King and Jackson each scored 11. U-M held George Washington to just 33.8 percent (24-of-71) shooting as it advanced to the Elite Eight.

Temple, the team Michigan beat to begin its run to the 1992 Final Four, was all that stood in the way of U-M returning to the Final Four as the Wolverines met the Owls in the West Regional Final.

The No. 7 seed from the Atlantic 10 built an eight-point half-time lead, 35-27, before the Wolverine defense held Temple to just 37 percent (10-of-27) shooting in the second half to come from behind for the 77-72 victory. For the third consecutive game, all five of Michigan's starters scored in double figures, led by 17 points from Rose. Webber had a double-double with 13 points and 12 rebounds as he was named the West Regional Most Outstanding Player.

King scored 14, Howard had 11 points and nine rebounds while Jackson added 10 points. Howard and Rose joined Webber on the All-Regional Team.

In the national semifinals in the Superdome in New Orleans, Michigan would once again need overtime to advance in the NCAA Tournament as the Wolverines toppled Kentucky, 81-78, in a matchup of two No. 1 seeds.

A pair of Wildcat free throws with 10 seconds left in regulation forced overtime and Kentucky was in front by one, 78-77, in the final minute of overtime before a layup by Webber.

After an empty possession for Kentucky, Rose closed out the game at the free-throw line as U-M advanced to its second consecutive national championship game. Webber finished with 27 points and 13 rebounds, Rose added 18 points, Howard had 17 and Jackson scored 11 points in the victory.

Michigan's dreams of a national championship fell one win short for the second consecutive year as the Maize and Blue fell to North Carolina, 77-71, in the final.

Webber was named to the Final Four All-Tournament Team as he recorded another double-double with 23 points and 11 rebounds, King scored 15 points and Rose had 12.

North Carolina led by six at the half and shot 61.9 percent (13-of-21) from the field in the second 20 minutes, while holding U-M to just 1-of-7 from three after halftime. Donald Williams scored a game-high 25 points to lead the Tar Heels.

2013 NCAA Tournament | Final Four

Michigan spent the entire 2012-13 season ranked in the top-10, which included a spot at No. 1 in the polls in late January but entered the NCAA Tournament having won just three of its final six games to close the regular season.

U-M received a No. 4 seed in the South Region of the NCAA Tournament and would spend the first weekend of the Big Dance in friendly surroundings at the Palace of Auburn Hills.

First up for the Wolverines was a matchup against No. 13 South Dakota State. After leading by just four at the half, 30-26, the Maize and Blue pulled away in the second, thanks to 54.8 percent shooting (17-of-31) from the field after the intermission, to win, 71-56. Glenn Robinson III and Tim Hardaway Jr. each scored 21 points and Mitch McGary had 13 points and nine rebounds in the victory.

Fifth-seeded VCU was all that stood between U-M and its first Sweet 16 appearance since 1994. Just two seasons removed from a run to the Final Four, the Rams proved no match for the Maize and Blue as U-M raced to a 38-23 lead at halftime.

McGary dominated the contest with 21 points and 14 rebounds while Trey Burke shrugged off a tough tournament opener to post 18 points and seven rebounds in a 78-53 win. Hardaway and Robinson each added 14 points as the Wolverines shot 51.7 percent (31-of-60) to advance to the tournament's second weekend.

Cowboys Stadium in Arlington, Texas, was the setting for a classic in the Sweet 16 as U-M met top-seeded Kansas. Michigan trailed by three with 12.6 seconds left, but a missed free throw by Kansas gave the Wolverines a chance. U-M raced up the floor and Burke used a double screen to get open 30-feet from the basket in front of the Wolverines bench and the national player of the year drained the deep three to force overtime.

The lead would change hands five times in the overtime period before a basket by McGary, who led the way with 25 points and 14 rebounds for U-M, in the final minute put Michigan in front for good. Burke finished with 23 points and 10 assists, Robinson added 13 points, Nik Stauskas scored 11 and Hardaway netted 10 points in the victory.

Following the dramatics of the Sweet 16 matchup with Kansas, third-seeded Florida would prove no match for Michigan in the Elite Eight. The Wolverines raced out to an early lead as Stauskas set the tone from three-point range, going 6-of-6 in the contest, to help the Maize and Blue to a 79-59 victory.

Stauskas finished with a game-high 22 points as the Wolverines went 7-of-11 (63.6 percent) from three in the first half to build a 17-point lead at the intermission. Burke finished the game with 15 points and McGary added 11 as Michigan advanced to its first Final Four since 1993. Burke was named the South Regional Most Outstanding Player while McGary and Stauskas earned all-tournament team recognition.

In the National Semifinal against fourth-seeded Syracuse at the Georgia Dome in Atlanta, Michigan built an 11-point half-time lead before holding off the Orange to win, 61-56.

With under a minute to play, Syracuse had the ball down just two before Jordan Morgan took a charge give the ball back to the Wolverines and end any hopes of a comeback for the Orange. Hardaway scored a team-high 13 points, McGary posted a double-double with 10 points and 12 rebounds while Robinson also scored 10 points.

U-M fell just short of winning the national championship as the Wolverines fell to top-seeded Louisville, 82-76, in the final.

First half foul trouble for Burke gave Spike Albrecht the opportunity to come off the bench and provide a spark for the ages as he poured in 17 points to help the Maize and Blue lead by one at the half, 38-37. Even with Burke providing a lift for Michigan in the second half, finishing with a game-high 24 points, U-M could not hold off the Cardinals who completed the second half comeback behind their own outstanding performance from the bench, with Luke Hancock scoring a team-high 22 points.

Hardaway and Robinson each added a dozen for the Maize and Blue, who finished the season with a 31-8 record. Albrecht, Burke and McGary will all named to the Final Four All-Tournament Team.

2018 NCAA Tournament | Final Four

Michigan entered the 2018 NCAA Tournament riding a wave of momentum courtesy of a nine-game win streak and its second consecutive Big Ten Tournament title. With a 28-7 overall record entering the tournament, U-M earned a No. 3 seed in the West Region and would open tournament play against No. 14 seed Montana in Wichita, Kan.

A slow start against the Grizzlies saw the Maize and Blue lead by just three, 31-28, at halftime as foul trouble plagued the Wolverines' catalyst point guard Xavier Simpson.

U-M turned up the defensive pressure on Montana in the second half, holding the Grizzlies to just 19 points and 25 percent shooting from the field (7-of-28) as Michigan eased to a 61-47 victory. Charles Matthews led the way for the Wolverines with 20 points and 11 rebounds while Muhammad-Ali Abdur-Rahkman added 11 points and Duncan Robinson chipped in seven off the bench as U-M moved on to face sixth-seeded Houston in the second round.

The matchup with the Cougars would produce one of the most memorable finished in Michigan basketball history as Jordan Poole's heroics helped U-M advance to the Sweet 16 with a 64-63 victory.

After Houston missed a pair of free throws, Michigan inbounded the ball under its own basket with 3.6 seconds to play and trailing by a pair. Isaiah Livers inbounded to Abdur-Rahkman just behind the midcourt line, Abdur-Rahkman dribbled over midcourt and kicked to Poole on the wing. With a hand in his face, Poole kicked out both legs and drained a deep triple as time expired to give the Wolverines the improbable victory.

Moritz Wagner and Abdur-Rahkman each scored 12 points to pace the Maize and Blue, Matthews and Robinson both added 11 while the hero of the night, Poole, finished with eight points as the Wolverines advanced to their fourth Sweet 16 in five seasons.

Michigan met No. 7 seed Texas A&M in the Sweet 16 at STAPLES Center in Los Angeles and after a pair of uneven offensive performances and the dramatics of the opening weekend, U-M would race past the Aggies into the Elite Eight with a decisive 99-72 victory. Michigan was red-hot from the field in the opening half, going 10-of-16 (62.5 percent) from three-point range as it built a 52-28 advantage at the intermission.

The Wolverines followed with just four triples in the second half but shot 67.9 percent from the field overall (19-of-28) in the second 20 minutes as they cruised to victory. Abdur-Rahkman scored a team-high 24 points, Wagner added 21 on 8-of-11 shooting and Matthews chipped in 18, going 8-of-11 from the field. Simpson (11) and Robinson (10) also scored in double figures as the Wolverines advanced to a date with Florida State with a trip to the Final Four on the line.

The Regional Final matchup against the Seminoles saw defense return to the forefront as the Wolverines held the No. 9 seed from the Atlantic Coast Conference to just 31.4 percent (16-of-51) shooting in a 58-54 victory.

The Maize and Blue led by one at the break, 27-26, but put on a masterful defensive performance in the second half, holding Florida State to just 23.3 percent shooting (7-of-30), including just 1-of-8 from three. Matthews netted a game-high 17 points with a team-best eight rebounds and was named the Most Outstanding Player of the West Regional. Wagner chipped in 12 points and Abdur-Rahkman added nine as the duo also received All-Regional Team recognition.

Cinderella was awaiting the Wolverines at the Alamodome in San Antonio, Texas, as Michigan would meet No. 11 seed Loyola-Chicago in the National Semifinals. Through 20 minutes, the upstart Ramblers were in control as they led, 29-22, at the intermission, holding the Maize and Blue to just 29 percent (9-of-31) shooting in the first half.

After falling behind by as much as 10 early in the second half, the clock struck midnight on Loyola as the U-M offensive caught fire, ignited by a game-high 24 points and 15 rebounds from Wagner, as the Wolverines shot 57.1 percent (16-of-28) from the field in the second half on their way to a 69-57 victory. Matthews continued his strong tournament run with 17 points while Robinson added nine to help Michigan advance to the National Championship game for the second time in six seasons.

The first Monday night in April saw the Wolverines pitted against top-seeded Villanova and Donte DiVenzenzo would come off the bench to be the story for the Wildcats, scoring 31 points, including five triples, to topple the Maize and Blue, 79-62.

Abdur-Rahkman scored a team-high 23 points, Wagner added 16 and Simpson netted 10, but U-M went just 3-of-23 from three-point range in the defeat.

Wagner was named to the Final Four All-Tournament Team as the Wolverines finished the season with a 33-8 overall record and just short of the program's first national title since 1989.

Draft Day Trades (9)

- June 19, 1984: Tim McCormick was drafted by Cleveland in the first round (12th pick) of the 1984 NBA Draft. He was traded to Washington along with Cliff Robinson for Melvin Turpin. McCormick was then traded again, this time to Seattle, along with Ricky Sobers, for Gus Williams.
- June 28, 1988: Gary Grant was drafted by Seattle in the first round (15th pick) of the 1988 NBA Draft. He was then traded, with a 1989 first-round draft pick (Kenny Payne), to the Los Angeles Clippers for Michael Cage.
- June 30, 1993: Chris Webber was drafted by Orlando in the first round (first pick) of the 1993 NBA Draft. He was then traded to Golden State for Anfernee Hardaway, a 1996 first-round draft pick (Todd Fuller), a 1998 first-round draft pick (Vince Carter), and a 2000 first-round draft pick (Mike Miller).
- June 30, 1993: Eric Riley was drafted by Dallas in the second round (33rd pick) of the 1993 NBA Draft. He was then traded to the Houston Rockets for Popeye Jones.
- June 24, 1998: Robert Traylor was drafted by Dallas in the first round (sixth pick) of the 1998 NBA Draft. He was then traded to Milwaukee for Pat Garrity and Dirk Nowitzki.
- June 28, 2000: Jamal Crawford was drafted by Cleveland in the first round (eighth pick) of the 2000 NBA Draft. He was then traded, with cash, to Chicago for Chris Mihm.
- June 27, 2013: Trey Burke was drafted by Minnesota in the first round (ninth pick) of the 2013 NBA Draft. He was then traded to Utah for two first-round selections (Shabazz Muhammad, 14th; Gorgui Dieng, 21st).
- June 23, 2016: Caris LeVert was drafted by Indiana in the first round (20th pick) of the 2016 NBA Draft. He was then traded to Brooklyn for Thaddeus Young and a future second-round selection.
- June 20, 2019: Ignas Brazdeikis was drafted by Sacramento in the second round (47th pick) of the 2019 NBA Draft. He was traded to New York for the 55th overall pick and cash considerations.
