NCAA Men's Basketball Rules Changes for 2010-11

Court and Equipment. 1-12.5. Neon, electric, LED or artificially lit signage shall not be permitted on the backboards or backboard supports. When the signage is improperly positioned or located, the referee shall instruct home contest management to deactivate such signage.

Court and Equipment. 1-15.2. The ball's color shall be Pantone Matching System (PMS) Orange 151, Red-Orange 173, or Brown 1535.

Officials and Their Duties. 2-13.2.d. Determine if a contact flagrant foul occurred. When it is determined that a contact flagrant foul did not occur but an intentional personal or a contact dead ball technical foul did occur, those fouls shall be penalized accordingly. However, no other infractions may be penalized.

1. When there is a foul called for contact, the officials, with a plausible reason, may review the severity of that foul during the dead ball period following the call. When the ball becomes live, there shall be no further review of the made call.

2. When the officials fail to observe the foul, the time frame in 2-13.6 shall be used to penalize the infraction.

Officials and Their Duties. 2-13.6. When officials err and fail to observe a contact flagrant foul or a fight, they are permitted to correct and penalize these infraction(s), with the use of a monitor review, within the following time frame:

A. When the game clock was stopped: 1. During the first dead ball after the clock was properly started.

B. When the game clock was running:

1. During the first dead ball after the clock was properly stopped; or

2. Before the second live ball when the ball became dead after a successful goal but the clock continued to run.

When it is determined that a contact flagrant foul or a fight did not occur or did not occur within the prescribed time frame, play shall be resumed where the stoppage of play occurred to review the act. When it is determined that a contact flagrant foul or a fight did occur within the prescribed time frame, the infraction(s) should be properly penalized and play shall be resumed by awarding the ball to the offended team where the stoppage of play occurred to review the flagrant act. When a flagrant technical foul or a contact dead ball technical foul is assessed, play shall be resumed by awarding the ball to the offended team at the division line on either side of the playing court. Any previous activity before the monitor review shall not be cancelled or nullified.

Players, Substitutes, and Equipment. 3-3.2. After the 10-minute mark is reached on the game clock that is counting down the time before the start of the game and until the end of the game, a team shall be charged a maximum of one administrative technical foul for changes made to the scorebook. The only changes permitted are those necessitated by obvious injury, illness, blood on the uniform, the replacement of a designated starter to shoot a technical-foul free throw, or the correction of a scoring or bookkeeping mistake.

Players, Substitutes, and Equipment. 3-5; 3-6 and 3-8. The rule on uniforms was rewritten to allow more freedom of design while protecting the integrity of the number. In summary, an area designated as the Neutral Zone will house only the player or institutional name/mascot, and player number. There will be no color or design restrictions outside the Neutral Zone. The game shorts must be a color similar to that of the Neutral Zone. Also, the committee will allow a headband or hair control device to be beige in color.

Players, Substitutes, and Equipment. 3-9.6. Mouthguard protectors were added to the list of appropriate basketball equipment.

Contact Dead Ball Technical Foul. Rule 4-23.3.f. A contact dead ball technical foul occurs when the ball is dead and involves contact that is unnecessary, unacceptable and excessive.

Secondary Defender Under Basket. 4-35.7. A secondary defender may not establish initial legal guarding position under the basket when playing a player who is in control of the ball (i.e., dribbling or shooting) or who has released the ball for a pass or try for goal. A secondary defender is a teammate who has helped a primary defender who has been beaten by an opponent because he failed to establish or maintain a guarding position. "Under the basket" is defined as from the front and side of the ring to the front of the backboard. A player is considered under the basket when any part of either foot is in this area. (Note: An approved ruling will indicate that a player straddling this area is considered to be under the basket.) In establishing position in any outnumbering fast break situation, a player may not establish initial legal guarding position under the basket since there is no primary defender. When illegal contact occurs, such contact shall be called a blocking foul, unless the contact is intentional or flagrant.

Definitions. 4-58. A standard collegiate scorebook/scoresheet is recommended.

Live Ball and Dead Ball. 6-2.3. After an initial jump ball or a jump ball for the start of an extra period(s) when possession is not gained by either team which would establish the alternating possession procedure, a jump ball shall take place between any two players.

Injured Free Throw Shooter. 8-2.3 When a player is injured and is unable to attempt his free throw attempt(s), the coach from the opposing team shall select one of the four remaining players on the playing court to attempt the free throw(s). When the foul is intentional or flagrant and the injured player is unable to attempt the free throw(s), the injured player's coach shall select any player or team member to attempt the free throw attempt(s).

January 26, 2008, will be remembered as an historic day in Saluki history. SIU became the first and only Missouri Valley Conference program to receive an on-campus visit from the ESPN Gameday show. The day started with a live, morning broadcast from SIU Arena and culminated later that evening with a thrilling win over arch-rival Creighton.

Digger Phelps, Rece Davis, Hubert Davis, Jay Bilas, Dan Shulman and Erin Andrews, plus a crew of 60, brought SIU Arena and Saluki Basketball to life on national TV in a way never seen before.

Several members of the Southern Illinois University athletic staff suggested a new nickname in 1951. The teams had been known as the Maroons since intercollegiate athletics began in 1913. The name became official on March 19, 1951, when the student body overwhelmingly approved “Salukis” as the new symbol of SIU athletics, easily besting “Rebels,” “Knights,” “Flyers,” “Marauders,” and “Maroons.”

The oldest purebred dogs in the world with records dating back to 3600 B.C., the Saluki is an ancient Egyptian hunting dog known for its speed and hunting prowess.

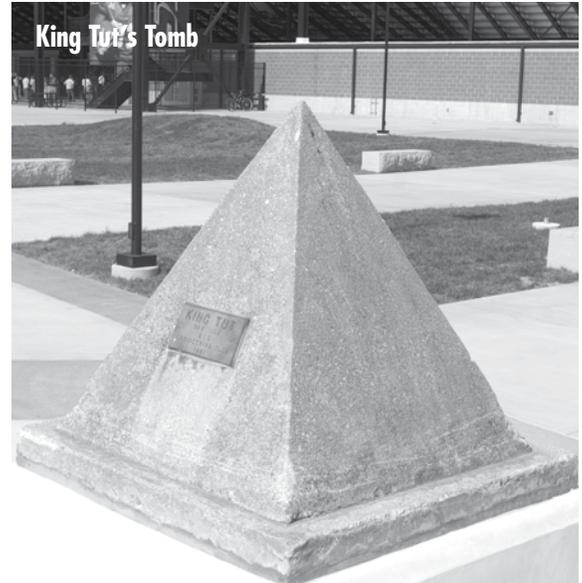

So why is the name Salukis relevant to Southern Illinois? Natives of southern Illinois know that the region is frequently referred to as “Egypt.” Historian Baker Brownell, in his book “The Other Illinois,” explained how the region came to be known as Egypt.

He wrote, “There was a drought in the northern counties (of Illinois) in the early 1800s...the wheat fields dried up, the streams died in their beds. But in southern Illinois, rain fell and there were good crops, and from the north came people seeking corn and wheat as to Egypt of old. Thus, the name, Egypt.”

The 19th century drought in Illinois parallels the Biblical account of the country of Egypt.

“There was famine in all lands; but in all the land of Egypt there was bread. All the earth came to Egypt to Joseph to buy grain, because the famine was so severe. And (Jacob) said, ‘Behold, I have heard that there is grain in Egypt; go down and buy grain for us there, that we may live, and not die.’ So 10 of Joseph’s brothers went down to buy grain in Egypt.” (Genesis 41:54b, 57, 42:2-3).

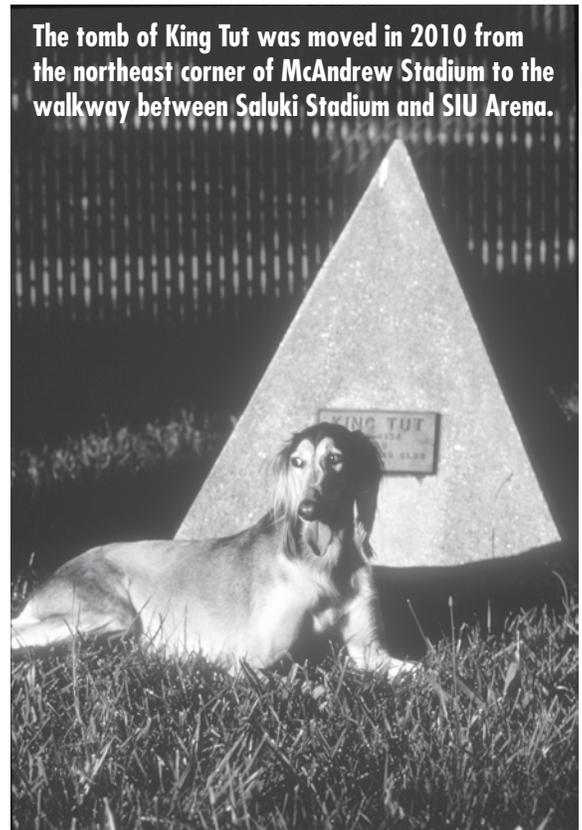

In Egypt at that time, Salukis were accepted as the finest animal a family could possess. Adopting such a well-respected dog as its mascot fit perfectly for a school in a region known as “Little Egypt.”

Southern Illinois was among the most successful Division I programs in the nation during the previous decade.

SIU advanced to six-straight NCAA Tournaments from 2002-07, including two Sweet 16s (2002, 2007).

2002-07 — Seven-Straight Postseason Bids

Southern Illinois advanced to six-straight NCAA Tournaments from 2002-07, including two Sweet 16s (2002, 2007). They added an NIT appearance in 2008.

The 2002 Sweet 16 was a major breakthrough for the program. The team finished the season ranked No. 22 in the nation and won a school-record 28 games. Its biggest wins were against No. 22 Indiana, Texas Tech and No. 23 Georgia.

The Salukis were no underdog during their 2007 Sweet 16 run. Seeded No. 4 in the West Region, SIU beat Holy Cross and Virginia Tech before falling to top-seeded Kansas in a 61-58 heartbreaker. The team won 29 games, defeated five NCAA Tournament qualifiers and finished with its highest national ranking in school history — No. 11.

Walt Frazier — The Rest of the Story

Most people know that Southern's most famous basketball alum is Walt Frazier (1964-67). What they don't know is the story of how the Atlanta native ended up in Carbondale.

Basketball was Frazier's second-best sport in high school. He was offered a scholarship to play quarterback at Georgia Tech, but he didn't want to play football.

Frazier went on a recruiting visit to Southern Illinois in 1963 and met with AD Donald Boydston, who was very progressive about recruiting minorities during a time when southern schools rarely recruited them. According to Boydston, Frazier didn't say one word the whole trip, but called shortly after he took the train back to Atlanta to say he was enrolling at SIU.

Frazier was dismissed from the team for academic issues after his freshman year. He went back to Atlanta and got a job doing manual labor. Frazier called in August of 1965 and asked if he could come back. He was not eligible for a scholarship, so he paid his own way and sat out his sophomore year, making the Dean's List. He played on the practice team, and sometimes they would beat the varsity.

The 1966-67 campaign was a storybook season for the Salukis as Frazier led the team to the NIT National Championship, beating Marquette in the finals. He turned pro after the season.

NIT Championship in 1967

The Salukis won the NIT in 1967 behind future NBA stars Frazier and Dick Garrett. In addition to beating Marquette for the title, some of the prestigious victories of that season included an upset of No. 2 Louisville, as well as Duke at Madison Square Garden. At that time, the NIT was almost on par with the NCAA Tournament. The NCAA field that season featured 23 teams, while the NIT invited 14 teams.

The Bruce Weber Family Tree

Bruce Weber is the father of the modern Saluki Basketball dynasty, guiding the team to NCAA Tournament appearances in 2002 and 2003. His "offspring" include former assistants Matt Painter — who led Southern to the tournament in 2004 before leaving for Purdue, and Chris Lowery, who has three NCAA Tournaments to his credit. Another former assistant, Rodney Watson, was 24-3 last season in his first year as head coach of Division II powerhouse Southern Indiana.

Chris Lowery's Famous Teammates

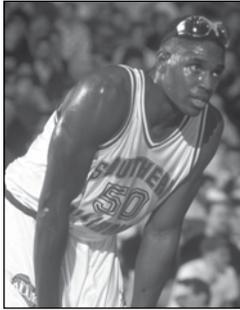

Many of Lowery's teammates at Harrison High School in Evansville, Ind. have gone on to achieve national acclaim. His former teammates include Calbert Cheaney (played at Indiana, NCAA Player-of-the Year in 1993, Played 13 years in NBA), Walter McCarty (played at Kentucky, won National Championship, played 11 years in NBA), Kevin Hardy (played linebacker at Illinois, Won the Butkus Award, Played 10 years in NFL) and Brad Brownell (head coach at Clemson).

Coaching Quick Facts

Lowery, age 38, was the youngest head coach in the NCAA Tournament in 2005, 2006 and 2007...He is the only person in Missouri Valley Conference history to win the conference tournament as both a player (1994, 1995) and coach (2006)...Saluki coaches have won the MVC Coach-of-the-Year award four times in the last eight seasons: Bruce Weber (2003), Matt Painter (2004) and Chris Lowery (2005 and 2007).

More Quick Facts

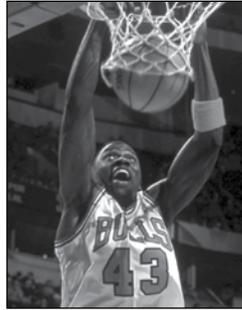

Carbondale is located in the southern tip of the state — about a five-hour drive south of Chicago and two hours southeast of St. Louis...Many of SIU's alums are concentrated in those two cities... Since moving to Division I in 1968, SIU has been to the NCAA Tournament 10 times, including Sweet 16 appearances in 1977, 2002 and 2007...At-large bids to the NCAA Tournament are hardly uncommon for Southern Illinois, which received five such bids last decade, including four in a row from 2002-05.

Saluki Basketball Head Coach Chris Lowery wants to return the program to its roots in 2010-11. That means you can expect to see plenty of hard-nosed defense, players scrapping for loose balls, and bodies diving on the floor. If Lowery has his way, all of the elements that made SIU the envy of the Missouri Valley Conference during a string of six-straight NCAA Tournament berths will be on display this season.

“We have to go back to defending — defending first, defending second and defending third,” Lowery said. “Our program is not about scoring. Our program is about guys diving on the floor. It’s about Floorburn U and getting back to that.”

From 2002 to 2007, the Salukis made a living off of gritty, blue collar basketball. There were plenty of good, solid players, but no NBA prospects on the roster. When overmatched, they out-worked and out-hustled opponents and found ways to win close games.

“Our six-straight NCAA Tournaments were not a mythical time period,” Lowery said. “It was not something that just happened. Those guys worked at it and made it happen.”

No MVC team made more NCAA Tournament appearances (6) or won as many NCAA Tournament games (5) last decade as SIU. Lowery said this year’s team is already showing some of the hallmarks of the program’s glory

“Nobody is talking about individual goals. They talk about team victories and a conference championship. We are starting to restore our culture back to where that’s the only thing we talk about. That’s toughness, togetherness and teamwork.” — Lowery days.

“Nobody is talking about individual goals,” he said. “They talk about team victories and a conference championship. We are starting to restore our culture back to where that’s the only thing we talk about. That’s toughness, togetherness and teamwork.”

The Salukis have been absent from postseason play for the last two years, and the roster has subsequently undergone a significant makeover.

“Those two years, we did not have the same defensive intensity,” he said. “It was about the system and playing how we play. We tried to outscore people. Those days are gone. The guys who are here now are willing to do what it takes to win. It’s not my way or the highway. You win conference championships if you do what we ask you to do. We needed guys to buy into the system.”

Lowery has fine-tuned his approach to coaching during his six seasons as head coach at Southern. His experience as an assistant with USA Basketball, which claimed the Under-19 Gold medal in New Zealand in 2009, was especially applicable.

“I learned how to be an assistant again,” Lowery said. “You get used to only thinking one way as a head coach, and I thought that it was eye-opening to be an assistant again.”

Players tend to confide in assistants more readily than the head coach, Lowery found. The assistants often have a better pulse on what’s happening internally with the team.

“As an assistant, you get to listen to the gripes and deal with the gripes of kids wanting to play more and asking, ‘why am I being taken out?’” Lowery said. “I think it will help me understand my players better — thinking in terms of what they need from an assistant standpoint.”

The origins of the juggernaut that has become Saluki Basketball can be traced all the way back to the 1992-93 season. That team, which was led by a 20-year-old point guard named Chris Lowery, broke a 16-year NCAA Tournament drought in ‘93. In doing so, it set into motion a chain of events that has evolved into one of the nation’s best college basketball programs.

Lowery was the catalyst for the 1993 and 1994 teams that reached the NCAA Tournament. A scrappy, hustling player, he still ranks among the school’s career leaders in scoring, assists and steals.

Lowery returned to his alma mater as an assistant coach under Bruce Weber in 2002. That team advanced to the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament, knocking off opponents such as Indiana, Texas Tech and Georgia.

Saluki Basketball has been on a sweet ride ever since.

After Lowery spent three seasons serving under Weber, he was named head coach at Southern Illinois in 2004.

In his first year at the helm of SIU, all Lowery did was win 27 games and become the youngest coach, at age 32, to ever win Missouri Valley Conference Coach of the Year honors. The Salukis won the MVC regular-season crown and beat Saint Mary’s in the first round of the NCAA Tournament.

The program continued its steady ascent.

Lowery guided a team with no seniors to the 2006 NCAA Tournament and a Missouri Valley Conference tournament championship.

In 2006-07, the Salukis had the greatest season in school history. They won a school-record 29 games, advanced to the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament and finished the year with a No. 11 ranking — the highest ever at SIU.

More than any season in school history, the 2006-07 season established an identity for Saluki Basketball. Commentators from across the country marveled at the tenacity with which the Salukis played defense.

“They play as good a defense, if not better defense, than just about anybody in the country,” said analyst Jerry Tarkanian. “(Lowery’s) defense was so similar to what we were playing at UNLV, that I really fell in love with it. His team just plays so hard and sound. I like his philosophies — he believes in good, solid defense, starting with fundamentals and with intensity and playing hard.”

Southern Illinois ranked third in the nation in points allowed per game with 56.2 in the Sweet 16 season.

“I’ve said for years that no school plays better fundamental, man-to-man defense than Southern Illinois,” according to CBS analyst Seth Davis. “Lowery is very charismatic, very intense, and he’s a great motivator. He is a product of a winning culture, and it’s one of the best examples at the mid-major level of a school having a culture that allows you to win consistently.”

Lowery said the key to Southern’s defense is how it dictates what an opponent can and cannot do.

“I think our ability to take things away from people sets us apart,” explained Lowery. “We play hard on defense. That’s probably the only thing that is going to stick out, is our ability to guard and how tough our kids are. We defend, we’re tough, and we are in great shape.”

Lowery, Saluki Basketball and winning have been intertwined since he first set foot on the campus as a player in 1990.

In his 11 seasons as a Saluki player, assistant coach and now head coach, all but one of his teams have advanced to postseason play. His four-year record as head coach is a remarkable 109-59.

It all started 18 years ago when Lowery, as the team’s starting point guard, began a stellar playing career that featured two NCAA Tournament berths and two NITs from 1990-94.

A product of Evansville, Ind., Lowery scored 1,225 career points and dished out 391 assists at SIU. The Salukis recorded an 86-37 record during his four years.

“We tried to outscore people. Those days are gone. The guys who are here now are willing to do what it takes to win. It’s not my way or the highway. You win conference championships if you do what we ask you to do. We needed guys to buy into the system.”

— Lowery

On April 9, 2004, he fulfilled a dream. Lowery returned to his alma mater and was introduced as the 12th men’s basketball head coach at Southern Illinois University in the 91-year history of the program.

Prior to landing the head coaching job, Lowery spent three seasons on Bruce Weber’s staff at both Southern Illinois and Illinois. Lowery said working for Weber helped prepare him for the opportunity to be a head coach at a young age.

“I saw how Coach Weber implemented an entire program at Illinois, and I watched more than I spoke,” he said. “I know we have to work hard to continue at this pace of success.”

Lowery was born on July 7, 1972 in Evansville, Ind. and attended Harrison High School. He graduated from Southern Illinois University in 1995 with a bachelor’s degree in physical education.

Lowery and his wife, Erika, have four children: Lexis (16), C.J. (10), Kahari (9) and Jazmyn (6). They reside in Carbondale.

IRVIN

Associate Head Coach
Experience: 18th year
At SIU: 3rd year
Alma Mater: Idaho, 1992

Lance Irvin is a rising star in the ranks of college coaches. In the summer of 2009, he was selected to participate in the Achieving Coaching Excellence program — a prestigious four-day clinic sponsored by the Black Coaches Association and the NCAA — which preps the next generation of head coaches.

Irvin has worked with many big names and high-profile programs in college basketball — Joey Meyer (DePaul, 1992-97), Larry Farmer (Loyola-Chicago, 1998-01), Larry Eustachy (Iowa State, 2001-02), Tom Richardson (Illinois State, 2002-03), Melvin Watkins (Texas A&M, 2003-04), Quin Snyder (Missouri, 2005-06) and Matt Doherty (SMU, 2006-08).

“He’s recruited nationally in a lot of different circles, and he has a good grasp of the Chicago scene, which is obviously very important for us,” Lowery said.

Irvin doesn’t want to be known as just a recruiter, though.

“I’ve worked hard not to be labeled as a guy who just recruits,” he said. “I can coach, too. I bring a little bit of everything to the table. I think I relate well to players.”

Irvin started his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Idaho in 1991-92. Along the way, he has helped several players reach the NBA, including Jackson Vroman (Iowa State), Paul McPherson (DePaul), and Antoine Wright and Acie Law (Texas A&M).

As a player, Irvin was an all-city, all-area and all-state selection and an honorable mention All-American as a senior at Chicago’s Julian High School in 1987. Irvin played basketball at Colorado State before transferring to Idaho, where he played for Eustachy. Irvin received his bachelor’s degree in criminal justice from Idaho in 1992.

He comes from a basketball family. His brother, Byron, played college basketball at Missouri, after which he was selected in the 1989 NBA Draft with the 23rd pick by the Portland Trail Blazers. His father runs one of the premier AAU teams in Illinois — the Mac Irvin Fire.

Marcus
BELCHER

Assistant Coach
Experience: 7th year
At SIU: 2nd year
Alma Mater: So. Illinois, 2002

Marcus Belcher is the newest addition to the Saluki coaching staff, joining the program in June of 2009, after former associate head coach Rodney Watson accepted the head coaching spot at Southern Indiana.

Although Belcher has been at his current post at SIU for little more than a year, he has deep roots with Saluki Basketball. Belcher was the starting point guard on the 2002 Sweet 16 team that beat Texas Tech and Georgia in the NCAA Tournament and led the squad with 118 assists. He scored 350 points in 66 games in two seasons at SIU.

“He is a family member, and one of the guys who helped build our program,” Lowery said. “He’s a proven recruiter, and as a former point guard, he understands the nuances of the game.”

Belcher began his coaching career in 2004 as an assistant to Marty Simmons at Southern Illinois University-Edwardsville. The Cougars made NCAA Tournament appearances in both 2005 and 2006. Belcher moved up to the Division I level as an assistant coach at Eastern Illinois in 2007, before re-joining Simmons at the University of Evansville a year ago.

SIU’s program now has three former players on its five-man coaching staff. Belcher joins Lowery (1990-94) and Brad Korn (1999-04) as former Salukis turned coaches at Southern.

“Marcus is family,” Lowery said. “He really cares about this place. It means a lot to him to be back here as an assistant, and he’s done a tremendous job for us so far.”

Belcher graduated from Southern Illinois with a degree in marketing, and received his master’s degree in sport management from Southern Illinois University-Edwardsville in 2006.

KORN

Assistant Coach
Experience: 7th year
At SIU: 7th year
Alma Mater: So. Illinois, 2004

Whether as a player or assistant coach, Brad Korn has contributed as much to the bottom line of Saluki Basketball as anyone.

During his career as a player, the Salukis made three-straight NCAA Tournament appearances and won three MVC championships. Now as an assistant coach, he has three more tourney appearances and championship rings to his credit.

As the team's big-man specialist, he has been instrumental in the development of dominant front-court players such as Randal Falker, Matt Shaw and Gene Teague.

In addition to recruiting, breaking down film and preparing scouting reports, Korn handles a variety of administrative matters and oversees the off-season conditioning program.

"Brad is the teacher on our staff, and our kids relate well to him," Lowery said. "He understands how to get people better at their respective positions. He's grown by leaps and bounds within our program, first as a player, and now as a coach. He does a great job in all facets of coaching."

Success is a good word to define Korn's four-year career at SIU from 1999-2004. At the time he graduated, Korn had the distinction of having been involved in more wins in his career at Southern than any other player in school history (92).

The 6-foot-9, Plano (Ill.) native was often like having a coach on the floor. He was a prolific 3-point shooter, finishing his career with 78 3-pointers.

In 2004, he started for the first time and was named to the MVC's Most Improved team. He improved his scoring average from 3.8 ppg to 9.7 ppg and ranked among the team leaders in free throw shooting. Korn posted a career-high 17 points versus Bradley, Jacksonville State and Wright State in 2003-04.

"Brad has a huge respect level with our players," Lowery said. "They know that he can still get out there and play. They understand he cares about them, but at the same time, he's stern enough to get them to play hard."

The 2010-11 Saluki Basketball roster doesn't have a lot of glitz or glamour, but that suits head coach Chris Lowery just fine. Three years removed from the highest-rated recruiting class in school history and with no NCAA Tournaments to show for it, Lowery has re-drawn the roster with a more blue-collar tint.

"We've decided to go in a different direction with how we've recruited," he said. "We recruited guys that we know can play here and want to play this way."

The "way" Lowery wants his team to play is with a tough-as-nails defensive mindset. He wants them to be unselfish on offense and opportunistic on defense and in transition. Those are just some of the elements that made Saluki Basketball a mid-major dynasty during the previous decade.

"It's in attention to detail and preparation," he explained. "You have to believe in the system, especially on defense. You can't just hope you can stop somebody, and there were too many times last year where we hoped we could guard."

Lowery believes this year's team will develop the cohesiveness that has been lacking the past two years.

"We used to beat people with our system — it didn't matter who was on the floor," he said. "We're returning to that mentality."

Frontcourt

If the last four games of 2010 are any indication, Carlton Fay is set for a big year. During a spectacular four-game span to end last season, he averaged 20.3 points, shot .651 from the field and .905 from the line. The 6-foot-8 senior is a face-up forward who can consistently knock down the perimeter jumper.

One of the best, young big men in the MVC is sophomore Gene Teague. No player had a bigger impact on last year's team than the 6-foot-9, 290-pound widebody. After a slow start to the season, he averaged 9.9 points and 6.7 rebounds in the final 15 games and drew constant double teams.

Look for transfer Mamadou Seck to play a key role in both the front court and the wing. He averaged 15.5 points and nearly 10 rebounds at Southeastern Illinois College last year. Lowery likes his athleticism and versatility.

Jordan Myers is a redshirt freshman with a shooting touch that extends beyond the 3-point line. He can play as a face-up five as a counter-balance to Teague's strength in the paint.

True freshman Davonte Drinkard can contribute as a defensive stopper while he polishes his offensive game.

Backcourt

The Salukis return one of the league's top slashers in senior wing man Justin Bocot. His game blossomed during conference play last season, when he averaged 10.2 points and shot nearly 40 percent from 3-point range.

The point guard position is up for grabs between sophomore Kendal Brown-Surles and JUCO transfer Mykel Cleveland.

Brown-Surles had an excellent assist-to-turnover ratio of nearly 2-to-1 last season as the team's back-up point guard. Lowery likes his leadership ability and ultra-competitive nature.

Cleveland is a cerebral point man, who averaged nearly four assists for Southwestern Illinois College last season. A proven winner, Cleveland's teams at SWIC won 57 games during his two years at the helm.

The Salukis have plenty of options to fill the remaining spot in Lowery's three-guard offense.

A pair of returning senior wings will figure prominently in the rotation — John Freeman and Jack Crowder.

The 6-foot-5 Freeman came on strong at the end of 2010. In the last six games, he shot .583 from the field with nine assists, one turnover and six steals. He does a little bit of everything, including shoot free throws, which he did at an 88 percent clip last year.

Crowder battled through injury the early part of last season, but he is an explosive athlete with proven scoring ability. What excites Lowery the most is his emergence as a defensive player. Checking in at a sturdy 6-foot-4 and 210 pounds, Crowder could become the lock-down defender the team has been searching for.

Also figuring into the mix is transfer Troy Long, a pure shooter from a winning program. At Southeastern Illinois College, he led his team to a 49-14 record the last two seasons.

Highly rated guard Diamond Taylor will be eligible to play in the second semester after originally committing to Wisconsin. He has a dynamic skill set on offense.

"I think you'll see Justin play this year like an experienced veteran. I think he really understands his niche within the team. We are going to utilize his athletic ability more in transition. That's his greatest strength — getting out in transition and finishing and putting the defense in a bind with his athletic ability. His leadership is very important to our program. He has an opportunity to teach some the newcomers how we are in our program." — Lowery

I think he's overcome the fact that I'm the coach now. Last year, I think it was hard for him to separate between being a relative and being a coach." — Lowery

"Mykel really brings a high IQ level to our team. He understands the point guard position. He's a great athlete with a terrific body. He's a guy who can really finish at the rim for a point guard — through people and over people. Our point guards aren't going to be our leading scorers. They are going to be leader-oriented. Leadership is going to be the number one thing that those two guys are going to bring to us." — Lowery

COLLEGE DIVISION

The Associated Press began its College Division basketball poll on January 5, 1961. The rankings consisted of colleges and universities that were members of NCAA College Division and/or NAIA. A panel of sportswriters and sports broadcasters voted for the Top 10. (Note: Special thanks to Roy Pickerell for researching this poll.)

It was March of 1967. Lyndon Baines Johnson was President of the United States. The Vietnam War was taking place overseas. A few months earlier, the Green Bay Packers rolled over Kansas City in the first Super Bowl. The Beatles' renowned "Sgt. Pepper's" album was still two months away from its release date. Meanwhile, people in the small town of Carbondale, Ill., were overcome with Saluki fever.

The Southern Illinois University men's basketball team defeated Marquette, 71-56, in the National Invitation Tournament championship game on March 18 of that year. It was not considered an upset, as most college basketball pundits picked the Salukis to take the title after they rejected a bid from the College Division NCAA Tournament.

Walt "Clyde" Frazier and Dick Garrett led SIU into New York City's Madison Square Garden with a record of 20-2. The NCAA Tournament consisted of only 16 teams at the time, so the NIT was much more prestigious than it is today.

SIU was a College Division team, coached by Jack Hartman, and turned down a bid to the NCAA Small College Tournament. Southern had already defeated #2-ranked Louisville and defending NCAA champion Texas Western, and wanted no part of the small school postseason.

Garrett scored 28 points to lead SIU over St. Peter's, 103-58, in its opening NIT game. Frazier added 24 points and 14 rebounds for the Salukis (21-2).

The Salukis faced off against Duke in the quarterfinals of the NIT. The Blue Devils had dropped the championship game of the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament just two days earlier. Southern knocked off Duke, 72-63, and Garrett led the club with 18 points. Frazier and Ralph Johnson added 17 points apiece for SIU, which outrebounded the Blue Devils, 47-41.

Duke head coach Vic Bubas called the Salukis "a great team" and praised the play of Frazier and Garrett.

"The thing that impresses you about Southern Illinois is its fine team discipline," Bubas said in The Chicago Daily News.

The victory was Hartman's 100th as coach of SIU, and moved the team to 22-2.

The Saluki coach played for the legendary Hank Iba, and talked about his team's discipline after the game.

"You demand it," Hartman said. "If you don't get it, you fire somebody."

In the NIT semifinals, SIU defeated Rutgers, 79-70. Frazier led the Salukis with 26 points and 18 rebounds. Garrett tallied 22 points and Clarence Smith added 15. Jim Valvano led the Scarlet Knights with 24 points.

Rutgers coach Bill Foster told The Home News he was nervous about the SIU offense before the game even began.

"There's no place to cheat on that ball club," Foster said. "They can really shoot. I got sick just watching them warm up."

SIU would meet up with Marquette – coached by Al McGuire – in the NIT championship game. The Salukis were 23-2 while Marquette held a record of 21-8.

Frazier scored 21 points and grabbed 11 rebounds – on his way to the NIT MVP – as Southern defeated Marquette, 71-56, to win it all. Garrett added 16, Smith had 13 and Roger Bechtold scored 10 for SIU. The Warriors led 42-34 with 13 minutes left in the game, but it was not to be for Marquette.

"We hadn't been taking the battle to them," Hartman said. "We were letting them control the game. I told them at half-time they had to be more aggressive."

The Salukis trailed by 11 points at halftime, and they played inspired basketball in the second half.

"It was a matter of a good club going up against a great club," McGuire said to the Associated Press. "They (SIU) are No. 3 in the nation in my book – behind UCLA and North Carolina."

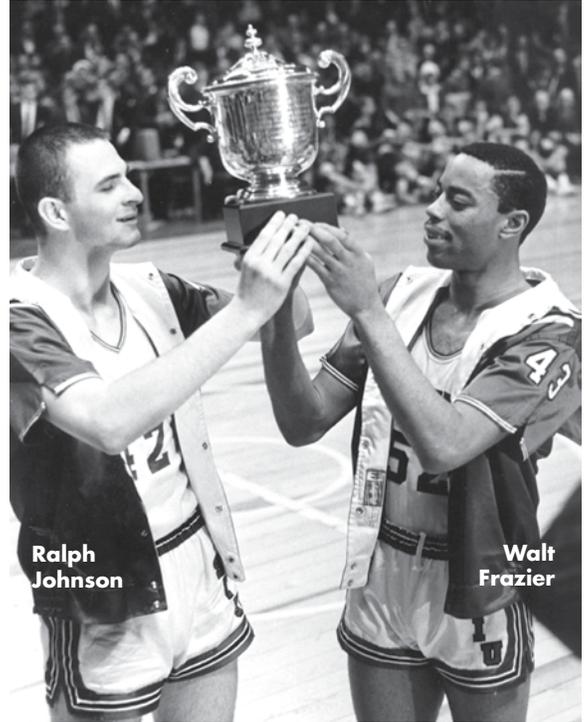

The Saluki faithful rushed the court as time expired, and they carried many players on their shoulders.

SIU had dropped the title game of the NCAA College Division playoffs the previous two years, but this was one to remember.

"We weren't going to be denied this time," said SIU center Ralph Johnson.

Hartman added, "We didn't want to go to the small college tournament again. We were hoping like the devil to get in the NIT."

The rest of the magical Saluki team included: Chuck Benson, Ed Zastrow, Willie Griffin, Creston Whitaker, Jay Westcott, Craig Taylor, Rick Millis, Rich Brueckner, Andy Kukic and Bobby Jackson.

Frazier signed a contract with the New York Knicks instead of returning to Southern for his senior year.

As impressive as the Salukis' NIT run was, the regular season had its great moments as well.

The Salukis lost in double overtime at Louisville 70-66 in their third game. The Cardinals were led by Butch Beard and Wes Unseld – both went on to the NBA. SIU held Beard to only nine points, but Unseld erupted for 21 points and 28 rebounds.

The Salukis defeated No. 4 Texas Western 59-54 at the Sun Bowl Tournament in their sixth game. Texas Western – which is now UTEP – were the defending NCAA champions. Johnson led SIU with 22 points in the contest.

The Salukis got revenge on unbeaten Louisville 53-50 at SIU Arena in their 10th game. The Cardinals were still the No. 2 team in the major college polls at the time. This win remains arguably the greatest in SIU Arena history.

Kentucky Wesleyan – the defending small college champions -- were SIU's victims in its 12th game, 52-51. Wesleyan had yet to lose a game until the Salukis came calling.

The basketball Salukis finished 24-2 and had truly hit the big time in New York City.

Walt Frazier vs. Marquette
Madison Square Garden
March 18, 1967

After years of competing in the NCAA's College Division tournament and a few trips to the National Invitation Tournament in New York City, the Salukis finally earned their first crack at the "Big Dance" in 1977. They did it with a veteran-laden squad led by one of the premier players to ever wear a SIU uniform, Mike Glenn.

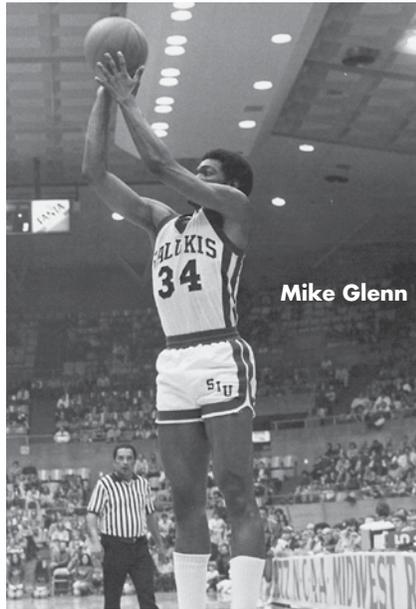

The Salukis actually wasted little time in serving notice on what might be in the immediate future. They defeated Missouri (68-55) on the road although as a neutral site, in the old St. Louis Arena. Four more victories followed over teams SIU was expected to defeat.

The Salukis then went on to a win-one, lose-one streak for the next eight games and suddenly their record was a solid, but not sensational 9-4 and 1-2 in the Missouri Valley Conference.

From that point on, however, SIU lost only two more regular-season contests, both in overtime and on the road to league opponents Wichita State and Tulsa.

The Salukis earned a bye in the Valley's post-season tournament and claimed the title—and an automatic berth in the 32-team NCAA field—by defeating West Texas State.

As much as Walt Frazier meant to the Salukis in their 1967 march to the NIT championship, Glenn was equally as important in 1977. The veteran Rome, Ga., senior, in fact, was absolutely superb as he led the way by scoring 609 points, almost 27 percent of the Salukis' total.

Mike Glenn

Playing 35 minutes per contest, Glenn averaged 21.0 points per game while shooting .582 percent from the floor on 278-of-478. He was 53-of-57 from the free throw line and had a single-game high of 40 in SIU's one-point loss in OT at Wichita.

If possible, he was even more spectacular in SIU's two NCAA games, the first an 81-77 win over Arizona and the second a 86-81 loss to Wake Forest. Glenn did not leave the court. He played 80 minutes in the two games and MADE 30 or 45 field goal attempts and all five of his charity tosses. He collected 65 points, 35 in the first and the remainder in SIU's loss. He was in double figures in every game.

Yet, it hardly was a one-player team. Others contributed, particularly Gary Wilson, Richard Ford and the Abrams brother, Corky and Wayne.

Rich Herrin, a native of nearby Benton, Ill., transformed the Salukis into a high-energy program that produced seven-straight trips to the postseason, including NCAA Tournaments from 1993-95.

Rich Herrin

In all, Herrin coached 13 seasons with the Salukis, registering a 225-174 record and 111 league victories. He became the first head coach in league history to win three-consecutive conference tournaments and upon his induction into the Missouri Valley Conference Hall of Fame in 2010, he stood as the fourth winningest coach all-time.

Although the Salukis did not win an NCAA Tournament game during his tenure, he was hailed for grooming numerous future NBA players, including Ashraf Amaya, Chris Carr and Troy Hudson.

From 2002 through 2007, Southern Illinois made six-consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances. Five of those trips to the Big Dance came via at-large bids, which was unprecedented for a Missouri Valley Conference school. The run of tournament appearances began with a Sweet 16 trip in 2002 and, appropriately, closed with a Sweet 16 berth in 2007.

Players and coaches are available after practice on designated days. The schedule will be sent via e-mail each week. Please let the media services staff know if you plan on attending practice and conducting interviews. Saluki players will also return phone calls to out of town media.
