BLUE RAIDER SPORTS NETWORK

Middle Tennessee's excellent women's basketball radio coverage took a significant stride in 2007-08 and will continue this season, with the flagship station for the Blue Raiders on WGNS 100.5/101.9 FM or 1450-AM in Murfreesboro.

All Blue Raider women's basketball games may also be heard on the Internet at GoBlueRaiders.com. Video streaming has been added for all Middle Tennessee home games at GoBlueRaiders.com.

With the departure of Palmer, MTSU Athletics has announced that Joe Fisher, who has more than four decades of broadcasting experience with Nashville media and college sports, has been named the new voice of the Lady Raider Basketball. He will be joined by analyst Kyle Turnham.

The veteran broadcaster and play-by-play announcer made his return to local radio on Nashville Sports Radio where served as play-by-play announcer for the station's Midstate Checkdown High School Football Game of the Week starting along with analyst Greg Pogue.

In 2021, Fisher acted as the news and communications director at Tennessee Tech, where he oversaw the news function of the university to external and internal audiences through media relations, video and radio work to promote the university and its strategic initiatives.

Prior to his stint in Cookeville, Fisher served as the director of broadcasting for Vanderbilt Athletics, has extensive experience in covering local, regional and national news and events. His distinctive voice and personality led him to become well-known to audience members around the state.

Fisher was named Tennessee Co-Sportscaster of the Year by the National Sportswriters and Sportscasters Association in 2013. The Regional Emmy winner is also a 2018 inductee of the Metro Nashville Public Schools Sports Hall of Fame.

Before joining Vanderbilt Athletics, he served as the weekend sports anchor and reporter for WKRN-TV and WSMV-TV in Nashville. Fisher's public relations background includes experience as an account executive at Dye, Van Mol and Lawrence Public Relations in Nashville.

Matt INSELL

HEAD COACH | EIGHTH SEASON | MIDDLE TENNESSEE '07

One of the rising stars in the women's basketball coaching ranks, Matt Insell enters his eighth season with Middle Tennessee and his fourth as associate head coach after joining Head Coach Rick Insell's staff in May 2018.

The son of Hall of Fame Coach Rick Insell, Matt has spent his life surrounded by basketball excellence. He previously served as the head women's basketball coach at Ole Miss for five seasons before returning to his alma mater, where he earned his bachelor's degree in political science in 2007. His passion for the game, relentless work ethic, and player-first approach have helped solidify Middle Tennessee as one of the nation's premier mid-major programs.

Across a decorated coaching career that spans nearly two decades, Insell has been part of 11 postseason teams and developed dozens of players who have gone on to professional and All-America success. His résumé includes four NCAA Tournament runs at Kentucky—with three reaching the Elite Eight and another the second round—and multiple postseason appearances at both Ole Miss and Middle Tennessee.

Since returning to Murfreesboro, Insell has played a pivotal role in the Blue Raiders' rise to national prominence. Middle Tennessee has advanced to the NCAA Tournament in 2021, 2023, and 2024, while also reaching the WNIT semifinals in 2022. That 2021–22 Blue Raider squad won 27 games—the fourth-most in school history—and played a program-record 35 contests.

The Blue Raiders have continued to flourish under the combined leadership of Rick and Matt Insell. In 2023–24, Middle Tennessee put together one of the best seasons in program history, finishing 30–5 overall, sweeping the CUSA regular season and tournament titles, and advancing to the NCAA Tournament Round of 32 with a thrilling win over Louisville. The Blue Raiders ended the season ranked No. 23 nationally in the final AP Top 25 Poll—their first end-of-season national ranking since 2010—and were widely recognized as one of the country's top programs.

Middle Tennessee's 2024–25 squad entered the season with high expectations, returning multiple All-Conference players and one of the nation's most experienced backcourts. With Insell continuing to lead the team's recruiting efforts and offensive development, the Blue Raiders were once again projected as CUSA title favorites and a preseason Top 25 contender.

Behind the scenes, Insell's fingerprints are all over the Blue Raiders' success. His game preparation and scouting reports are known for their precision, attention to detail, and ability to simplify complex concepts for players. His analytical approach and strategic mindset have helped Middle Tennessee consistently excel on both ends of the floor, with the program ranking among the nation's best in scoring defense and efficiency in recent seasons.

Just as impactful is his ability to connect with players. Insell is deeply invested in the personal and athletic development of every student-athlete he coaches, building relationships based on honesty, accountability, and mutual respect. His approach to leadership emphasizes communication and consistency—key pillars in a program that prides itself on culture and cohesion.

A proven recruiter, Insell has earned a national reputation for his ability to evaluate and attract elite talent. He made an immediate impact upon arriving at Middle Tennessee, signing two McDonald's All-Americans—Rellah Boothe and Anastasia Hayes—in his first season. He also added graduate transfer A'Queen Hayes, who became the 2018–19 CUSA Newcomer of the Year, while Anastasia Hayes went on to earn the same honor in 2019–20 before being named CUSA Player of the Year in 2021.

Insell's ability to develop guards has long been one of his coaching hallmarks. During his first season at Middle Tennessee, both A'Queen Hayes and Taylor Sutton collected league honors as CUSA Newcomer of the Year and Freshman of the Year, respectively. Another of his standout recruits, Aislynn Hayes, burst onto the scene in 2019–20 as the second player in program history to earn Freshman All-American honors, also taking home the CUSA Freshman of the Year award while being named USBWA National Freshman of the Week three times.

Before returning home to Murfreesboro, Insell made his mark as the head coach at Ole Miss from 2013–18. During his five-year tenure, he guided the Rebels to two national postseason tournaments (WNIT) and recorded four wins over top-25 opponents. He led Ole Miss to a 19-win season and WNIT third-round appearance in 2014–15—one of the program's strongest campaigns of the decade.

Insell's time in Oxford was highlighted by signature victories over national powers, including wins against No. 9 Kentucky, No. 13 Kentucky, and No. 18 Georgia. His 2014–15 team also made women's basketball history when Ole Miss hosted Middle Tennessee—marking the first time in NCAA women's basketball history that a father and son coached against each other (Rick and Matt Insell).

Prior to Ole Miss, Insell served five successful seasons as an assistant coach at Kentucky under Matthew Mitchell. During that stretch, the Wildcats enjoyed four NCAA Tournament appearances, three Elite Eight runs, and four 20-win seasons while consistently finishing among the top 25 nationally. He was instrumental in developing All-America guard A'dia Mathies, a two-time SEC Player of the Year, and Bria Goss, who earned SEC Freshman of the Year honors.

Before joining the college coaching ranks, Insell served as Director of Basketball Operations at Louisiana Tech, and earlier gained national recognition as one of the country's premier AAU coaches. As head coach of the Tennessee Flight, a Nike Elite program, he coached dozens of future Division I athletes—including 41 who went on to play college basketball. He also led the Shelbyville Sports Shop 15-under team to the AAU National Championship in 2004.

A native of Shelbyville, Tennessee, Insell began building his coaching foundation early. While attending the University of Tennessee from 2001–05, he worked as a student assistant and video coordinator for both the men's and women's programs, including under former men's head coach Buzz Peterson and legendary women's coach Pat Summitt. He transferred to Middle Tennessee during the 2005–06 season and graduated in 2007.

Insell and his wife, the former Autumn Clark, reside in Murfreesboro with their two children, Clark Richmond and Evie Brooke.

Kim BREWTON

ASSISTANT COACH | 16TH SEASON | LIBERTY '00

A veteran of collegiate women's basketball, Kim Brewton enters her 16th season with the Blue Raiders in 2025–26 after joining Head Coach Rick Insell's staff in July 2010. A steady and respected presence on the Middle Tennessee bench, Brewton brings more than two decades of coaching experience, a sharp eye for guard development, and a proven record of success at every level of the game.

Brewton's experience and basketball acumen have made her an invaluable part of the Blue Raider program. She has been a driving force behind Middle Tennessee's sustained success and has played a major role in developing one of the most dynamic and productive backcourts in the nation year after year. Her responsibilities include recruiting, scouting, player development—particularly with guards—and the day-to-day preparation of the Blue Raider basketball team.

During her tenure, Brewton has helped shape some of the most accomplished guards in program history. She has directly coached eight 1,000-point scorers—Ty Petty, Kortni Jones, Icelyn Elie, Anne Marie Lanning, Olivia Jones, Anastasia Hayes, Jalynn Gregory, and Savannah Wheeler—cementing her reputation as one of the premier guard coaches in the country.

Brewton has guided multiple All-Americans and CUSA award winners, including Anastasia Hayes, who was named CUSA Player of the Year in 2020–21 after finishing second nationally in scoring (26.5 ppg) and earning CUSA Newcomer of the Year honors the prior season. Savannah Wheeler continued that tradition of excellence, capturing CUSA Female Athlete of the Year, First Team Mid-Major All-American, CUSA Player of the Year, CUSA Tournament MVP, and First Team All-CUSA honors during the Blue Raiders' historic 2023–24 campaign that saw Middle Tennessee win 30 games, sweep the CUSA regular season and tournament titles, and reach the NCAA Tournament Round of 32.

Brewton's fingerprints can be found all over the program's success on the perimeter. She was instrumental in the development of Dor Saar, a 2021–22 Second Team All-CUSA selection who led the league in three-point field goals made (90), attempts, and percentage in her lone season as a Blue Raider. Under Brewton's mentorship, Saar became one of the nation's top three-point shooters and a key piece of Middle Tennessee's WNIT semifinal run that season.

Her track record of developing young talent is equally impressive. Brewton has coached three CUSA Freshmen of the Year—Olivia Jones (2014), Taylor Sutton (2018), and Aislynn Hayes (2020)—and two CUSA Newcomers of the Year, A'Queen Hayes (2019) and Anastasia Hayes (2020). Aislynn Hayes also became just the second player in program history to earn Freshman All-America honors, as recognized by Her Hoop Stats, while claiming seven CUSA Freshman of the Week awards—the second most in league history—and three USBWA National Freshman of the Week honors, the most ever by a CUSA player.

Under Brewton's guidance, several Blue Raiders have earned national recognition for their immediate impact. Both Taylor Sutton and Anna Jones were named USBWA National Freshman of the Week during their respective rookie seasons, reflecting the consistency with which Brewton develops guards who can perform under pressure at the highest level.

Brewton's coaching influence stretches across multiple championship-caliber backcourts. She helped transform Kortni Jones from a traditional point guard into one of the most prolific shooters in school history. Jones set Middle Tennessee and conference single-season records for three-pointers made (115) and attempted (329), ranking second nationally and tying for 10th all-time in NCAA history. Jones also became the first Blue Raider to compete in the State Farm College 3-Point Championships in 2013.

Brewton later developed Brea Edwards into one of the nation's top perimeter shooters in 2016–17, as Edwards hit 98 three-pointers (second-most in program history) while earning First Team All-CUSA and Tennessee Sports Writers Association Player of the Year honors. Another standout guard, Ty Petty, blossomed under Brewton's direction into one of Middle Tennessee's most complete floor generals. Petty set the program's single-season assists record (195) in 2015–16, earned First Team All-CUSA and CUSA Championship MVP honors, scored over 1,000 career points, and finished second all-time in assists (540).

Even in her early years on staff, Brewton demonstrated her ability to maximize guard talent. In 2011–12, Shanice Cason started 30 games at point guard, leading the team in assist-to-turnover ratio, while walk-on Caroline Warden became a key contributor during the Blue Raiders' sweep of the Sun Belt Conference regular season and tournament titles.

Three-point shooting has been a consistent hallmark of Brewton's influence. Of the 14 seasons in program history with 200 or more three-pointers made, 10 have come during Brewton's tenure—a testament to her ability to develop confident, high-IQ perimeter shooters within Middle Tennessee's balanced offensive system.

Before arriving in Murfreesboro, Brewton spent six successful seasons (2004–05 through 2009–10) as an assistant coach at Gardner-Webb, where she served as recruiting coordinator for her father, Rick Reeves. She helped the program transform from a five-win team into a 28-win powerhouse, culminating in a school-record 28 victories, 16 consecutive wins, the first Big South regular-season title in school history, and a WNIT berth in 2010. Brewton coached Margaret Roundtree to Big South Player of the Year honors and developed three additional all-conference performers during her tenure.

A native of Lynchburg, Virginia, Brewton began her coaching journey at Southern Miss, where she served as an administrative assistant and radio color analyst from 2002–04 while completing her master's degree in sports administration.

As a player, Brewton was a standout at Liberty University, where she was a three-year letterwinner and played two seasons for her father. The Flames captured three consecutive Big South championships and made three straight NCAA Tournament appearances, including an undefeated 28-0 regular season in 1998 before falling to eventual national champion Tennessee. She graduated Summa Cum Laude from Liberty in 2000 with a bachelor's degree in sports management.

Brewton and her husband, Eric, live in Murfreesboro with their children—daughters Grace and Kalyn, and son Gabriel.

Nina DAVIS

ASSISTANT COACH | SIXTH SEASON | BAYLOR '17

A rising star in the coaching ranks and one of the most accomplished players in Big 12 history, Nina Davis enters her sixth season as an assistant coach at Middle Tennessee in 2025–26. A native of Memphis, Tennessee, Davis brings over two decades of experience to the Blue Raider bench through a career that spans playing, coaching, and broadcasting at the highest levels of the game.

Since joining Head Coach Rick Insell's staff in 2019, Davis has become a cornerstone of the Blue Raider program. She is actively involved in all aspects of Middle Tennessee women's basketball, including recruiting, on-court coaching, scouting, and player development. Her passion, energy, and elite understanding of post play have made her one of the nation's most respected young assistants—a reputation underscored when the Women's Basketball Coaches Association (WBCA) named her to its prestigious Thirty Under 30 list in March 2023, honoring the top 30 assistant coaches in the country under the age of 30.

Davis has been instrumental in developing some of the most dominant frontcourt players in program history, none more impactful than Anastasiia Boldyreva, who has become one of the premier post players in the nation under Davis's guidance. A 6-foot-7 center from Moscow, Russia, Boldyreva has emerged as a defensive force and an offensive anchor for the Blue Raiders. During the 2024–25 season, she led the nation in blocked shots, pacing all NCAA Division I players while anchoring a Middle Tennessee defense that ranked among the top 10 nationally in field goal percentage defense and scoring defense.

Boldyreva, a multiple-time All-CUSA honoree, also became just the third player in program history to surpass 200 career blocks and enters the 2025–26 campaign among the all-time leaders in rebounds, field goal percentage, and games started. Her growth and consistency stand as a testament to Davis's coaching philosophy—combining technical skill development with an emphasis on confidence, positioning, and IQ in the paint.

Under Davis's leadership, Middle Tennessee's post rotation has consistently been among the deepest and most efficient in CUSA. Alongside Boldyreva, Davis has worked closely with veteran forwards Courtney Whitson and Kseniya Malashka, who each made All-CUSA selections and played major roles in the Blue Raiders' postseason success. The trio helped propel Middle Tennessee to back-to-back NCAA Tournament appearances in 2023 and 2024, as well as a 30-win season, CUSA regular season and tournament championships, and a berth in the NCAA Round of 32 in 2024.

Head Coach Rick Insell frequently credits Davis as one of the best post coaches in the game today—someone who not only knows the physical demands of the position but also understands its mindset. As a player, Davis was one of the most decorated forwards in Baylor history, helping the Lady Bears maintain their status as a national powerhouse under Hall of Fame coach Kim Mulkey.

At Baylor, Davis enjoyed a legendary four-year career from 2013–17, helping lead the program to an astonishing 134–15 record, four Big 12 regular season championships, four Big 12 Tournament titles, and four consecutive NCAA Elite Eight appearances. She averaged 16.3 points and 7.7 rebounds per game for her career, finishing as one of just five players in Baylor history to eclipse both 2,000 career points and 1,000 rebounds.

Davis was a two-time Associated Press All-American and earned All-America honors from the USBWA, WBCA, and Wooden Award committees. She was the Big 12 Freshman of the Year in 2014, Big 12 Player of the Year in 2015, and a three-time First-Team All-Big 12 selection. Remarkably, she is the only player in Big 12 history to be named to the All-Tournament Team all four years of her career and was voted Big 12 Championship MVP twice.
In 2015, Davis represented the United States on the USA Basketball World University Games Team, helping lead Team USA to a gold medal with a perfect 6–0 record in Gwangju, South Korea.

After her collegiate career, Davis signed professionally with the Austria Flying Foxes, where she immediately made an impact—leading her team to both the regular season and cup championships while earning league MVP honors in 2017–18.

Following her professional playing career, Davis transitioned to broadcasting, quickly establishing herself as a dynamic analyst. She covered the NCAA Women's Final Four and National Championship for ESPN in 2019 and later joined FOX Sports, where she provided insightful commentary on women's college basketball. Her ability to articulate the game from a player's perspective continues to serve her well on the sidelines, where she communicates with clarity, passion, and purpose.

Davis's impact extends far beyond the court. She has become a mentor and role model for the Blue Raiders' student-athletes, embodying the work ethic and character that define Middle Tennessee's program. Her recruiting acumen, player relationships, and championship experience have helped sustain the Blue Raiders as one of the top mid-major programs in the nation and a perennial contender in CUSA.

Before her time at Baylor, Davis was a prep standout at Memphis Central High School, where she earned Tennessee Gatorade Player of the Year, Parade All-American, and Class AAA Miss Basketball honors in 2013. She led Central to four consecutive state tournament appearances, winning the 2013 state championship while averaging 28.3 points, 10.8 rebounds, 2.7 assists, 2.7 steals, and 1.5 blocks per game. She finished her high school career with over 2,000 points and 1,000 rebounds.

With her combination of championship pedigree, player development expertise, and infectious enthusiasm for the game, Nina Davis continues to be a driving force in the sustained success of Blue Raider basketball.

Tom HODGES

ASSISTANT COACH - DIRECTOR OF ANALYTICS | FOURTH SEASON | TENNESSEE TECH '04

A veteran of the women's basketball coaching ranks and one of the most respected analytical minds in the game, Tom Hodges enters his fourth season as the Director of Analytics for Middle Tennessee women's basketball in 2025–26.

A Shelbyville, Tennessee native, Hodges brings a wealth of experience and success to the Blue Raider program, having served on Head Coach Rick Insell's staff during multiple championship eras. His deep understanding of the game, recruiting background, and ability to combine traditional coaching principles with data-driven analysis have made him a valuable part of the Blue Raider operation both on and off the court.

This marks Hodges' third stint at Middle Tennessee, previously serving on Insell's staff from 2005–10 and 2014–17. During those years, the Blue Raiders captured four Sun Belt Conference titles, a CUSA Championship, and multiple NCAA Tournament appearances while developing some of the most prolific scorers and rebounders in program history.

As Director of Analytics, Hodges plays a vital role in game preparation, opponent scouting, advanced statistical breakdowns, and player efficiency analysis. His expertise in modern basketball metrics—integrating film, shot charts, lineup data, and tempo analysis—has helped shape the Blue Raiders' consistent success within CUSA and on the national stage.

Hodges' work has been particularly impactful in the continued development of Middle Tennessee's frontcourt, including standout Anastasiia Boldyreva, who has evolved into one of the top post players in the nation. A 6-foot-7 center from Moscow, Russia, Boldyreva led all NCAA Division I players in blocked shots per game during the 2024–25 season while anchoring a defense that ranked among the best in the country in opponent field goal percentage and points allowed.

Behind Hodges' analytical insight and the coaching leadership of Nina Davis, Boldyreva refined her defensive timing, post positioning, and shot selection efficiency—finishing top 10 nationally in field goal percentage and leading CUSA in both rebounds and blocks. She enters 2025–26 ranked among Middle Tennessee's all-time leaders in career blocks and field goal percentage.

Hodges' analytical approach has also enhanced Middle Tennessee's offensive philosophy. The Blue Raiders have consistently ranked among the CUSA leaders in 3-point field goals made, assist-to-turnover ratio, and offensive efficiency—trademarks of a disciplined, balanced system built on precision and preparation.

During his first two stints with the program, Hodges helped guide Middle Tennessee to unprecedented levels of success. From 2005–10, the Blue Raiders compiled a record of 126–38, earning wins over national powers such as Georgia, LSU, Kentucky, Louisville, Indiana, Penn State, Minnesota, Arizona, and Old Dominion. During that period, the program's home attendance skyrocketed from an average of 600 fans to more than 4,000 per game by the 2009–10 season, establishing the Murphy Center as one of the toughest environments in the nation.

Hodges returned to the staff in 2014–17, helping the Blue Raiders claim the 2015–16 CUSA Championship and earn their 18th NCAA Tournament berth. The 2014–15 team also made a strong postseason showing, advancing to the WNIT Quarterfinals.

While on staff, Hodges played an integral role in the development of several elite Blue Raiders, including Alex Johnson, who was named CUSA Freshman of the Year (2015–16) and later became a three-time All-CUSA selection and member of the 1,000-point club. Under his mentorship, Johnson was also named the CUSA Preseason Player of the Year and selected to the Katrina McClain Award Watch List, honoring the nation's top power forwards.

Hodges also helped develop Gabby Lyon, who earned CUSA Sixth Player of the Year honors in 2016–17, and worked with standout guards Amber Holt, Chrissy Givens, and Alysha Clark, all of whom became All-Americans and eventual WNBA Draft picks. Both Holt and Clark led the nation in scoring under Hodges' tutelage—Holt in 2007–08 (28.3 ppg) and Clark in 2008–09 (28.5 ppg) and 2009–10 (29.2 ppg).

Over the course of his career, Hodges has been part of eight conference championships, five NCAA Tournament appearances, and four WNIT runs. He has coached six conference players of the year (Janet Holt and Emily Christian at Tennessee Tech; Katasha Brown at Chattanooga; Chrissy Givens and Alysha Clark at Middle Tennessee; and Chynna Bozeman at Morehead State) and three All-Americans (Givens, Clark, and Holt). Four of his players have gone on to be selected in the WNBA Draft.

Before returning to Murfreesboro, Hodges spent four seasons as the head coach at Morehead State University, where he became the youngest Division I head coach in the nation at the time of his hiring. In his debut season (2010–11), he led the Eagles to a 21–10 record, the best mark ever for a first-year coach at the school, and guided OVC Player of the Year Chynna Bozeman to an All-America-caliber campaign.

Prior to that, Hodges served as an assistant coach at Chattanooga, where the Mocs went 25–5 in 2004–05, won the Southern Conference regular season championship, and earned a berth in the WNIT. He mentored All-SoCon standouts Tiffani Roberson and Katasha Brown.

Hodges began his coaching career at Tennessee Tech as an undergraduate assistant under Hall of Fame coach Bill Worrell, where the Golden Eagles captured two Ohio Valley Conference regular season titles and posted an impressive 78–42 record during his tenure.

A graduate of Tennessee Tech, Hodges earned his bachelor's degree in extended education with concentrations in health and history in 2004. He later became part of the inaugural graduating class of the Center for Coaching Excellence at Columbia University in 2011, a program that emphasizes leadership development and modern coaching strategies.

Hodges is married to the former Hillary Maxwell, a championship coach in her own right who guided Riverdale High School to a Tennessee state title in 2010. The couple has two children, Cooper and Isabelle.

Shelby Davis enters her first season as Assistant Coach – Coordinator of Basketball Relations on Head Coach Rick Insell's staff, continuing a strong connection to the Middle Tennessee women's basketball program that began during her undergraduate years.

A native of McKenzie, Tennessee, Davis has been an integral part of the Blue Raider family for the past three seasons, serving as a student assistant while completing her degree. Her tireless work ethic, attention to detail, and infectious enthusiasm quickly made her a valued member of the program. Whether helping coordinate practice drills, breaking down film, or supporting game-day operations, Davis's contributions played a key role in preparing the Blue Raiders for success both on and off the court.

Now in her first season in a full-time coaching role, Davis works directly alongside Coach Insell and his staff to help cultivate a competitive and disciplined NCAA Division I program. CHARLES M. MURPHY ATHLETIC CENTER

The Charles M. Murphy Athletic Center, commonly known as the Murphy Center, is the home of the Blue Raider athletic department at Middle Tennessee State University. Opening its doors on December 11, 1972, the building is named in honor of Charles M. Murphy, the former director of athletics. He was a standout athlete in the 1930s and also served as the head coach of MTSU football (1947–1968), basketball (1948–1949), and baseball (1951, 1953–1955) programs.

Situated on the northwest edge of campus, adjacent to Johnny "Red" Floyd Stadium, the Murphy Center houses most of the university's athletics offices, several classrooms, multiple practice gymnasiums, training rooms, locker rooms, weight rooms, dance studios, racquetball courts, and notably, the 11,802-seat multi-purpose Monte Hale Arena.

Known as the "Glass House," the Murphy Center is the home of Middle Tennessee men's and women's basketball. It has hosted numerous events, including multiple conference tournaments, an NCAA Regional, MTSU indoor track and field, the Tennessee Secondary School Athletic Association's boys and girls Division I state high school basketball championships, commencement ceremonies, and various concerts. Renowned artists such as Elvis Presley, Bon Jovi, KISS, The Judds, Johnny Cash, Garth Brooks, Elton John, U2, Diana Ross, Jack Harlow, and more have graced its stage.

Scheduled upgrades and revitalization are planned for the entrance and seating bowl of the Murphy Center, ensuring it remains an ideal venue for hosting events. Future projects include a grand, fan-friendly entrance, a large interior atrium, a ticket office, and state-of-the-art training and skills center for both basketball programs.

THE MASCOT

In Greek mythology, the winged horse possessed superior cunning and speed. The thundering horse of the gods was entrusted to carry awesome lightning bolts and could only be harnessed by a noble being with a pure heart. Character, talent, and strength were required to mount and ride the fabled winged horse.

Today, this winged horse is a fitting symbol of a university that has earned its wings and excels in many academic arenas, including historic preservation, teacher training, aerospace, political science, horse science, and recording industry. But the winged horse is more than a symbol of physical accomplishment; it's also a symbol of character and the responsible wielding of power.

The challenge of all great universities and university athletic departments is to help studentathletes build character as well as strength. This winged horse, Lightning, is a symbol to Middle Tennessee students, athletes, and alumni of the soaring school spirit they experience at sporting events.

For its nobility and character, the winged horse was immortalized in the stars. Now, with breathtaking speed and thundering, unbridled power, Lightning strikes, forevermore, fear in the hearts of Blue Raider opponents and leads Middle Tennessee to victory!

BLUE RAIDERS

In the early days of athletics at Middle Tennessee State University, the teams were known by several nicknames. Among these were Teachers, Normalites, and Pedagogues.

In 1934, it was decided that the school needed a specific nickname. During football season that year, the Murfreesboro Daily News Journal held a contest to name the team.

The late Charles Sarver, then a Middle Tennessee football player and later principal at White County High School in Sparta, Tenn., won the $5 prize for his entry of "Blue Raiders." Sarver later indicated he had "borrowed" the nickname of the Colgate Red Raiders but substituted MTSU Blue for Colgate Red. Ever since then, Middle Tennessee athletic teams have been known as the Blue Raiders.

For a time, the "unofficial" mascot for the Blue Raiders was a costumed, cartoon-like dog that debuted in the 1980s. A reasonable facsimile of a bluetick hound, the affable character was dubbed "Ole Blue."

On January 17, 1998, the current mascot, "Lightning," was born. The mascot was unveiled at a basketball game in Murphy Center. The introduction of Lightning gave a new identity to the nickname Blue Raiders.

THE LOGO

The first official athletic logo was unveiled on January 17, 1998 after a committee worked nearly two years on the project. The logo that debuted was a picture of a winged horse which snorts lightning bolts between the nickname Blue Raiders and MTSU.

In time, Chris Brady of the Publications and Graphics Department continued to work on the logo to offer some variations. It was Brady who came up with the concept of the current logo that is recognized as the athletic department's primary logo today - a flying horse with a lightning bolt on top of a blue MT.

THE COLORS

During the early spring of 1912, President Jones appointed two faculty members and a student leader to bring to the faculty recommendations for school colors. The two faculty members were Jeannette Moore King and Tommie Reynolds, and the student leader was Q.M. Smith. They met in the east corner first floor room of the women's dormitory and after considerable discussion reached consensus on the two colors, blue and white. The committee pointed out in its report to the president that blue and white more nearly approximated the wearing apparel colors of the early Normal students and "school affiliation and spirit could be displayed in a more economical and practical manner." The committee further stated that school colors embodied in everyday apparel could be purchased across the counter in any general merchandise store. The 1913 football team carried the first blue and white motif.
