Head Coach

6th year as HC; 8th year at UConn

In just his sixth season as head basketball coach of the UConn Huskies, Kevin Ollie has packed a lifetime of coaching experiences into his first five years. From standing tall through postseason ineligibility, to the exhilaration of NCAA and American Conference championships, to the frustration of an injury epidemic, Ollie has emerged with the knowledge and fortitude of a coach with far more years on the bench. Add that to Ollie's perseverance as he crafted a 13-year NBA career and he is clearly well-schooled in basketball situations at every level.

Ollie has compiled 113 wins (113-61, .649) in his first five seasons, already fifth on the all-time list of UConn coaching victories and that includes a sparkling 7-1 record in the NCAA Tournament, an .875 winning percentage that ranks fourth all-time. He guided the Huskies to the 2014 NCAA Championship, the 2016 American Athletic Conference Championship and along the way has coached players selected All-American, Final Four Most Outstanding Player, Conference Player of the Year, Conference Rookie of the Year, Conference Defensive Player of the Year, Scholar-Athlete, and numerous all-tournament and all-conference selections. He has had three NBA Draft picks and sent many others into professional basketball careers overseas.

In addition, in his relatively short tenure as head coach, Ollie has completely turned around the academic situation he inherited that had made UConn ineligible for the 2013 NCAA Tournament. Under Ollie, the Huskies have posted three perfect Academic Progress Rate scores in the last four years (scores for 2016-17 have not yet been released) and have been cited with the NCAA Public Recognition Award, given to teams in the top 10 percent of APR scores in their sport.

Of all the seniors on Ollie's five UConn teams, all but one has earned his degree (92.3 percent) and three of the four graduate students who have joined Ollie's program have received their master's degree.

In the summer of 2016, Ollie gained coaching experience on the international level when he was asked by USA Basketball to be part of the coaching staff for the USA Men's U18 National Team, which captured the gold medal at the 2016 FIBA

"Kevin Ollie was a game-changer for us. I think he changed the whole culture in Oklahoma City ... just his mind set, professionalism, every single day. We all watched that, and we all wanted to be like that. It rubbed off on Russell (Westbrook), myself, Jeff Green, James Harden. Everybody who comes through now, it's the standard that you've got to live up to as a Thunder player. And that started with Kevin Ollie."

Americas U18 Championship in Valdivia, Chile.

Last season was the most frustrating of Ollie's coaching career, as the Huskies were forced to play nearly the entire season shorthanded because of numerous injuries. Before the season was 10 days old, UConn had lost three players, two of them starters, to season-ending injuries, setting a tone that continued throughout the year. In total, 106 games were missed by eight different UConn players due to injury or sickness. In a few games, UConn had just six scholarship players available. The result was the first season that an Ollie-coached team failed to win at least 20 games, but it did include the milestone of Ollie's 100th coaching victory, the second-fastest UConn coach to reach the plateau.

In 2015-16, after reaching the championship game of the American Athletic Conference postseason tournament for the third consecutive season, Ollie achieved another milestone, UConn's first AAC title, with a 72-58 victory over Memphis at the Amway Center in Orlando.

The win secured a second berth in the NCAA Championship in Ollie's four years, where the Huskies defeated Colorado in the first round before bowing to overall No. 1 seed Kansas in a second-round game. Add that to a fourth consecutive 20-win season, and his second season of 25 wins or more.

It took Ollie just 70 games to join the elite of the coaching profession --- those who have won an NCAA championship. In just his second season as UConn's head basketball coach, after just two years on the staff of Hall of Fame coach Jim Calhoun, Ollie firmly established himself in the college game by guiding the Huskies to a 32-8 season in 2013-14 and the NCAA title, defeating Kentucky, 60-54, in the tourney's championship game at AT&T Stadium in Arlington, Texas.

On his way to guiding UConn to its fourth NCAA crown in the history of the program, Ollie marched the Huskies past storied programs Saint Joseph's, Villanova, Iowa State, Michigan State, and Florida in the tournament before the finale against Kentucky.

It would have been a dream season for any college coach, but for a coach of just 70 games, whose team was not even able to compete in the 2013 NCAA Tournament, it was truly remarkable. The Huskies won eight of their last nine games, 11 of their last 13, and had a 10-4 record against ranked opponents, including two wins against Florida, the overall No. 1 seed in the NCAA Tournament.

Ollie had accepted a huge responsibility on Sept. 13, 2012, when he was named the 18th head coach in the history of UConn men's basketball, succeeding the legendary Calhoun, Ollie's own college coach and mentor.

Despite a roster depleted by transfers and early NBA entrants, Ollie surprised the experts by guiding the Huskies to a 20-victory season (20-10), a feat no other UConn coach had ever accomplished in his first year. At season's end, Ollie's efforts were recognized by Collegeinsider.com, which selected him to receive its Ben Jobe National Coach of the Year Award, given to the top Division I minority coach.

Ollie's UConn history --- which began in the fall of 1991 when he reported to school as a freshman from Los Angeles, continued through four successful seasons, including two as a Husky team captain, and resumed when he returned to join Calhoun's coaching staff following a 13-year NBA career --- has come full circle. He may have only served two seasons as an assistant on Calhoun's staff, but possessed a wealth of basketball knowledge after learning from some of the finest teachers to ever coach the game, including Calhoun, Chuck Daly, Don Nelson, Larry Brown, and George Karl.

Coming out of Crenshaw High School in Los Angeles where he played for reknowned high school coach Willie West, Ollie played on some of Calhoun's finest UConn teams during the mid-1990s, as a four-year starting point guard and a two-time captain. He played in 124 games for the Huskies, averaging 6.7 points and 5.0 assists. A third team All-Big East pick, his 619 assist total still ranks fourth on UConn's all-time list. He graduated in 1995 with a degree in communications.

After his UConn career, Ollie fought through years in the Continental Basketball Association and the U.S. Basketball League to get his chance in the NBA. Once there, Ollie would simply not give up his dream, signing a series of 10-day and one-year contracts, dealing with trades and frustrating roster cuts.

Yet Ollie would not be deterred, earning a reputation throughout the league as an outstanding teammate, with strong moral fiber, impeccable character, and a vast knowledge of the game. During a 13-year NBA career, Ollie played for 11 different franchises in 12 cities.

Ollie couldn't have had a more successful debut season to his coaching career than in 2010-11, when as an assistant, he helped guard Kemba Walker produce one of the most spectacular individual seasons in UConn history in leading the Huskies to the program's third national championship. He has had the same kind of success mentoring guards Jeremy Lamb, Shabazz Napier, Ryan Boatright and current Husky Jalen Adams.

Born in Dallas on Dec. 27, 1972, and raised in Los Angeles, Ollie resides in Glastonbury and has two children, son Jalen and daughter Cheyanne.

Raphael CHILLIOUS

Associate Head Coach

1st year at UConn

Raphael Chillious joined the UConn coaching staff in March, 2017, as associate head coach, bringing with him a wealth of experience coaching on the prep and college level and the reputation as a top-notch national recruiter.

Chillious came to UConn after spending seven of the past eight seasons on the coaching staff at the University of Washington in two separate stints, including the 2016-17 season as associate head coach.

He began his Division I coaching career at Washington in 2009-10, where he remained for three seasons before joining the coaching staff at Villanova in 2012-13. After one year at Villanova, Chillious returned to the Washington staff and was part of that coaching staff until coming to UConn. Chillious has been credited as the key to Washington's highly-ranked recruiting classes of 2010, 2011, the No. 7-rated class of 2015, and the outstanding class of 2016, which included Markelle Fultz, the No. 1 pick of the 2017 NBA Draft.

Prior to his first stint at Washington, Chillious served a year as a business manager for Nike's Elite Youth Basketball in Beaverton, Ore., where his responsibilities included leading a team that conducted clinics and camps throughout the United States and foreign locations, identifying young basketball talent.

Chillious previously served as the head basketball coach and co-athletic director at South Kent (Conn.) School (2003-2008), where he mentored future NBA stars Isaiah Thomas, Dorrell Wright, Andray Blatche and Dion Waiters. Before going to South Kent, he was also a prep school coach at West Nottingham Academy (Colora, Md.), where he coached future UConn and New Jersey Nets forward Josh Boone.

Chillious and UConn head coach Kevin Ollie have a relationship that dates back more than 20 years and Ollie describes him as a coach who brings energy, an extensive knowledge of the game, along with a talent for developing players.

For his part, Chillious found UConn attractive because of the history of success in Storrs, with four national championships and numerous high-level pros that UConn has produced, as well as Ollie's vision and contagious passion for the program.

A native of Olney, Md., Chillious attended Lafayette College (Easton, Pa.), earning a bachelor's degree in psychology in 1996. He served as the basketball team captain during his senior year and also received the President's Cup Silver Award with a 3.45 GPA. He continued his education at the University of Victoria (Victoria, B.C.), where he also began his coaching career in 1997. From there, he moved on to become the head coach at West Nottingham in 2001, then took the job at South Kent two years later.

Chillious and wife Charlene are parents to a daughter, Zaya Joy.

Ricky MOORE

Assistant Coach 6th year at UConn

Ricky Moore, co-captain of UConn's first national championship men's team in 1999, is in his fifth season as a UConn assistant coach after serving as the program's Assistant Director of Basketball Administration in 2012-13.

Moore, a 1999 UConn graduate with a degree in community program development, came back to Storrs after serving as an assistant basketball coach at Dartmouth College from 2010-2012, following his retirement from an 11-year career in professional basketball. Moore played professionally in five countries --- Austria, Ukraine, Sweden, Turkey, and Germany --- as well as in the Continental Basketball Association and the NBA Developmental League.

During Moore's four seasons as a player at UConn (1995-99), the Huskies compiled an overall record of 114-24 (the most wins of any four-year span in UConn history) and a Big East Conference mark of 55-17, winning three Big East regular-season championships, three Big East Tournament championships, and reaching the 1996 NCAA Sweet 16, the 1998 NCAA Elite, and capturing the 1999 NCAA Championship. He was a three-time co-captain and his 510 assist total still ranks seventh on UConn's all-time list.

Moore was named to the 1999 Final Four and West Regional All-Tournament Teams and Basketball News Magazine selected him as the 1998-99 National Defensive Player of the Year. In 2001, he was selected to UConn's All-Century Team.

Originally from Augusta, Ga., Moore was born April 10, 1976. He and wife Heather are the parents of two children, daughter Kendyll and son R.J.

Dwayne KILLINGS

Assistant Coach 2nd year at UConn

Dwayne Killings is in his second season as an assistant coach at UConn, joining the coaching staff in July, 2016, following five years in the same position at Temple University.

Killings has a wealth of basketball experience at every level, ranging from high school and AAU ball to the NBA.

After graduating from Hampton University in 2003 with a degree in Sports Management, his first job was as a special assistant with the NBA's Charlotte Bobcats, where he served as video coordinator and helped with player development. After three years in Charlotte, Killings became Temple's assistant director of men's basketball operations, a position he held for three years.

Killings moved on the NBA D-League, where his responsibilities included monitoring player development programs. From there, he accepted his first collegiate coaching position, joining the staff at Boston University for the 2010-11 season, helping the Terriers capture the America East Championship and an NCAA Tournament berth.

In 2011-12, Killings returned to Temple as an assistant coach. In his five seasons with the Owls, he gained a reputation as a national recruiter, helping the Owls compile a 104-63 overall record, winning regular-season conference titles in both the Atlantic 10 and the American, and making four postseason appearances, three in the NCAA Tournament and one to the NIT semifinals.

A native of Amherst, Mass., Killings was born in April 4, 1981. He and wife Ana are parents of daughter Alecia and son Tristan.

Kevin FREEMAN

Director of Basketball Administration

7th year at UConn

Kevin Freeman is in his sixth season as UConn's Director of Basketball Administration after serving for one year as the Assistant Director.

Besides his responsibilities as the coordinator for all the Huskies' travel and practice schedules at home and on the road, Freeman serves as the liaison between the men's basketball program and the university administration, as well as the campus community.

Freeman, a former UConn captain and second in the history of the program in games played (140), came back to Storrs in 2011-12 after playing 11 seasons of professional basketball in Italy, Australia, Greece, South Korea, China, Puerto Rico, Spain and Venezuela.

Freeman, a native of Springfield, Mass., was an all-state performer at Paterson (N.J.) Catholic High School before his outstanding career at UConn.

While at UConn, he was named the Most Outstanding Player of the 1999 Big East Championship and selected to the 1999 NCAA West Regional All-Tournament Team as an invaluable starter on UConn's first National Championship team.

During Freeman's career, the Huskies compiled an impressive 109-32 record, and made three NCAA appearances, reaching the Elite Eight in 1998 and winning the NCAA crown in 1999.

At the start of the 2017-18 season, he still ranked No. 19 on UConn's all-time scoring list with 1,476 points, and No. 8 on the all-time rebounding list with 913. He earned his degree in 2006.

Born March 3, 1978, Freeman and his wife Nicole are the parents of a daughter, Kekoa, and two sons, Sire and Legend.

A Look Ahead: 2017-18 Preview

As the UConn Huskies journey through the 2017-18 college basketball season, it is clear that three of the main keys to any success will be fresh faces, team chemistry and experience. With seven new scholarship players on board, the Huskies will not only have to quickly assess talent, but will have to spend some time getting to know each other as players and as teammates, both on and off the court. They will have to learn the nuances about each other's game and what makes their teammates click.

Likewise, sixth-year head coach Kevin Ollie and his staff will have to use an accelerated learning curve when it comes to discovering team strengths and weaknesses and identifying areas that need improvement, not to mention discover the best combination of players for particular game situations.

With only two players returning who played more than the opening four games of last season, UConn may well be among the least experienced teams in the country. While that doesn't mean the Huskies are short on ability, experience is an aspect that cannot be rushed. The Huskies, however, are counting on steady improvement as the season progresses.

UConn has much to replace from last season, losing over 62 percent of its points, over 66 percent of its rebounds and, perhaps most importantly, 66 percent of its minutes played. There is plenty of playing time up for grabs and the competition to earn it figures to be fierce.

With no scholarship seniors on the roster, team leadership responsibilities fall primarily to junior Jalen Adams and redshirt junior Terry Larrier. They, along with sophomore returnee Christian Vital, and redshirt freshmen Alterique Gilbert and Mamadou Diarra are the players who have been with the program the longest. They will combine with the newcomers --- including graduate students Antwoine Anderson and David Onuorah, junior Eric Cobb, sophomore Kwintin Williams, and freshmen Josh Carlton, Tyler Polley and Isaiah Whaley --- to complete the Huskies' roster.

Faced with a demanding schedule, particularly early in the season, how quickly the Huskies can figure out their identity as a team, mesh their individual talents and gel as a group will determine how far the 2017-18 Huskies can go.

BACKCOURT

UConn's offensive strengths clearly lie with its perimeter players, led by Adams, an American Athletic Conference Player of the Year candidate, who returns after leading the Huskies in scoring (14.4), assists (6.1, 1st in conference, 14th nationally), steals (1.1) and free throw shooting (.828) and earning First Team All-AAC honors. In control of the ball whenever he was on the floor, Adams produced a solid 2.0 assist-to-turnover ratio. He had five double-doubles, seven 20-plus games and one game of 34 points. With added depth this season, look for Adams to see more time at both guard spots, allowing him the chance to break free for more open shots and an improvement on his three-point shooting percentage. The Huskies are expecting another breakout season from their junior floor general.

The expectations were high surrounding Alterique Gilbert last season, coming to UConn as a McDonald's All-American, Mr. Georgia Basketball and Gatorade State Player of the Year. They were all cut short when Gilbert suffered a left shoulder injury in the season's third game which required season-ending surgery. At the time, Gilbert was averaging 10.3 ppg, 5.0 rebounds, and had made half the shots he attempted. Following a lengthy rehab, Gilbert is back and ready to go this season as a redshirt freshman and the expectations haven't changed. The lightning-quick Gilbert figures to take much of the ballhandling pressure off Adams, as well as give the Huskies a dynamic scorer, via a slash to the basket or an outside jumper.

Gilbert's early-season injury provided an opportunity for Christian Vital last season and he took advantage of it to average 9.1 points, 3.5 rebounds and become the team's second-leading three-point shooter. The hard-working sophomore guard will find a way to earn his minutes, especially when the Huskies use a smaller lineup.

Making the UConn backcourt even more formidable is the addition of grad student Anderson, who started every game at Fordham last season, averaging 11.1 points, 3.2 assists, and 1.7 steals per game.

Grad student Michael Noyes and sophomore Omotayo Aiyegbusi also return as veteran walk-ons to give the backcourt more depth and push the regulars in competitive practices.

SWINGMEN

Larrier, like Gilbert, never got much of a chance to live up to his high expectations last season and will hit the reset button this year.

After leading the Huskies in scoring (16.7) through the first three games, Larrier suffered a torn ACL in the season's fourth game and required season-ending surgery.

Given a clean bill of health after some nine months of rehab, the lanky, redshirt junior will be counted on to pick up where he left off, providing scoring, rebounding and leadership. His versatility will allow him to perform at either forward spot, as well as on the perimeter or close to the basket. He will likely be an integral part of any alignment the coaching staff wants to use.

Polley, another lanky, versatile forward, enters the season as the likely backup to Larrier at the small forward slot. While he will need added strength and stamina to adjust to the college game, Polley already possesses a skill set of mid-range shooting and passing that could make him a contributor as a freshman.

FRONTCOURT

The frontcourt will be the Huskies' most challenging area, manned by a group of players with diverse and differing talents, but entering the season with no one who has played a game for UConn.

Diarra is the only member who has been part of the UConn program, playing 10 minutes in the Huskies' first exhibition game of last season before a knee condition forced him to the sidelines for the rest of the year in an attempt to strengthen the area and allow his career to continue. He enters this season as a redshirt freshman with the reputation as a fierce rebounder and his familiarity with the program gives him the inside track, at least early-on, for frontcourt playing time.

Grad student Onuorah comes to UConn after playing three seasons of Ivy League basketball at Cornell, the same school that gave UConn grad student Shonn Miller in 2015-16. A big body who will give the Huskies some much-needed strength underneath when it comes to rebounding, screen-setting and rim protection, Onuorah will also add some maturity to the Huskies.

Another big body joining the team is Cobb, a junior college transfer. Originally recruited by South Carolina, Cobb spent one year with the Gamecocks before playing last season at Chipola College. He will resume his Division I career at UConn, giving the Huskies a big man with strength near the hoop, but also the ability to step out and hit a mid-range jumper.

Sophomore Williams comes to UConn from Anchorage, Alaska, by way of junior college in Arizona, and could be an interesting piece of the Huskies' puzzle. Williams' extraordinary leaping ability gives the Huskies a player who can rebound as well as finish around the basket, helping to not only defensive rebound and start the break, but also boost the offensive rebounding stats.

Two freshmen forwards who are bound to see more action as the season progress are Josh Carlton and Isaiah Whaley. Carlton is a strong, back-to-the-basket type of player, while Whaley is the more athletic, finesse sort. Both will get the change to be effective, depending on the game situation.

Senior walk-on veteran Christian Foxen returns to put the pressure on during practice.

SCHEDULE

Another challenging schedule awaits UConn in 2017-18, including games against some of the country's top college basketball programs. Again, the Huskies will be part of a prestigious in-season tournament in November, they will make another appearance at Madison Square Garden, and also play two former Big East rivals.

In November, the Huskies are part of an elite group of 16 teams invited to Portland, Ore., to participate in PK80 – the Phil Knight Invitational, celebrating the 80th birthday of the legendary founder of Nike. The Huskies will challenge national powerhouse Oregon in the first game, then meet projected Top Five team Michigan State or DePaul in the second round. The remainder of the teams in UConn's part of the tourney include defending national champ North Carolina, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Portland.

The longtime rivalry with Syracuse adds another chapter at the Jimmy V Classic at Madison Square Garden, while former Big East colleague Villanova comes to UConn in January. The Huskies travel to Pac-12 opponent Arizona and SEC foe Auburn and entertain Colgate, Stony Brook, Boston University, Columbia, Monmouth, and Coppin State as part of the non-conference slate.

The addition of Wichita State to the American Athletic Conference has not only raised the league's profile, but also added considerably to the difficulty of the conference schedule. UConn will play two games against the Shockers, two against perennial NCAA team Cincinnati, and two against up-and-coming UCF. There are also home-and-homes against Temple, Memphis, East Carolina and Tulsa. SMU, Houston, Tulane and USF meet the Huskies once each.

2017-18 UNIVERSITY OF CONNECTICUT MEN'S BASKETBALL NOTES

UCONN Coach Kevin Ollie begins the 2017-18 season with 113 coaching victories, one of just five elite coaches in UConn history with 100 wins or more. With this season's eighth win, he will move into fourth place on UConn's all-time coaching wins list behind Jim Calhoun (625), Hugh Greer (287), and Dom Perno (139) and just ahead of Dee Rowe (120). Ollie's .649 winning percentage ranks fourth all-time of UConn coaches who coached more than 20 games.

UCONN junior Jalen Adams averaged 6.1 assists per game last season, 14th in the country. He was a First Team All-Conference selection, UConn's third first-team pick (Shabazz Napier, Ryan Boatright) since the formation of the American Athletic Conference. Adams is UConn's 63rd First Team All-Conference pick all-time in the Yankee Conference, Big East, and American Athletic.

UCONN is more than just a visitor to Madison Square Garden, the Mecca of college basketball. Other than its home venues, there is no place in which the Huskies have played more games than MSG --- 115 (62-53) to be exact and they have won 10 championships there of one kind or another, including seven Big East Conference titles. The Huskies will again play in The Garden this year, taking on Syracuse in the Jimmy V Classic, as well as in 2018-19, when they meet Villanova there.

UCONN will renew its series against longtime Big East rival Villanova this season, meeting the Wildcats for the first time since the second round of the 2014 NCAA Tournament in Buffalo, N.Y. In 59 games as Big East rivals, UConn had a 28-31 record against Villanova --- interestingly, the Huskies were 1-17 against Nova for the first eight years and 27-14 against the Wildcats for the last 25 years.

UCONN lost 62 percent of its points and 67 percent of its rebounds from last season, but also lost 50 percent of its turnovers and returns 61 percent of its assists.

UCONN has 4 NCAA National Championships in the last 18 years, more than any other Division I program and 5 Final Four appearances, the third most in the country. Since 1990, UConn has 10 Elite Eight appearances (5th in the country) and 14 Sweet 16 appearances (6th in the country). Since 1990, UConn has made 20 NCAA appearances and owns a record over that span of 55-16, a .775 winning percentage.

UCONN has an overall 8-1 record in the Final Four, the best Final Four winning percentage (.889) of any team in the country.

UCONN has had 30 four-year players over the last 22 years and has taken 28 of them to the Final Four.

UCONN has had 30 players drafted in the NBA Draft over the last 28 years, 19 of them were 1st round selections, and 13 of those were lottery picks. The Huskies have also had three players sign as free agents and make the league.

Werth Family UConn Basketball Champions Center

The Werth Family UConn Basketball Champions Center opened its doors in October, 2014, giving the UConn men's and women's basketball programs one of the finest practice facilities in the country.

Built on the site of what was Memorial Stadium, the former on-campus home of the football Huskies, the Werth Family Champions Center is located on Jim Calhoun Way, adjacent to Gampel Pavilion and provides the UConn men's and women's basketball programs each with a place to call their own.

Built at an estimated cost of $40 million, the 78,200-square foot facility consists of two massive and identical wings, containing practice courts, locker rooms, coaches' offices, athletic training rooms, strength and conditioning areas, areas for sports medicine, film rooms, fully-equipped academic study areas, dining areas, and will be filled with memorabilia celebrating the two programs' combined 14 national championships and decades of success.

The practice courts for each team include one full-size court and two half-courts and a dedicated free throw shooting basket, equaling eight goals per court. A viewing balcony allows coaches and visitors to observe practices with ample space for video equipment to record practice sessions from an elevated position.

Team locker rooms are state-of-the-art, equipped with spacious individual lockers, each with a combination-lock slide-out closet to house valuables.

There are three meeting rooms in the building and each program has student lounges, featuring space to relax, socialize, play video games, or watch TV. There is a full dining area and buffet style serving area on the second floor, ensuring that the athletes get proper nutrition.

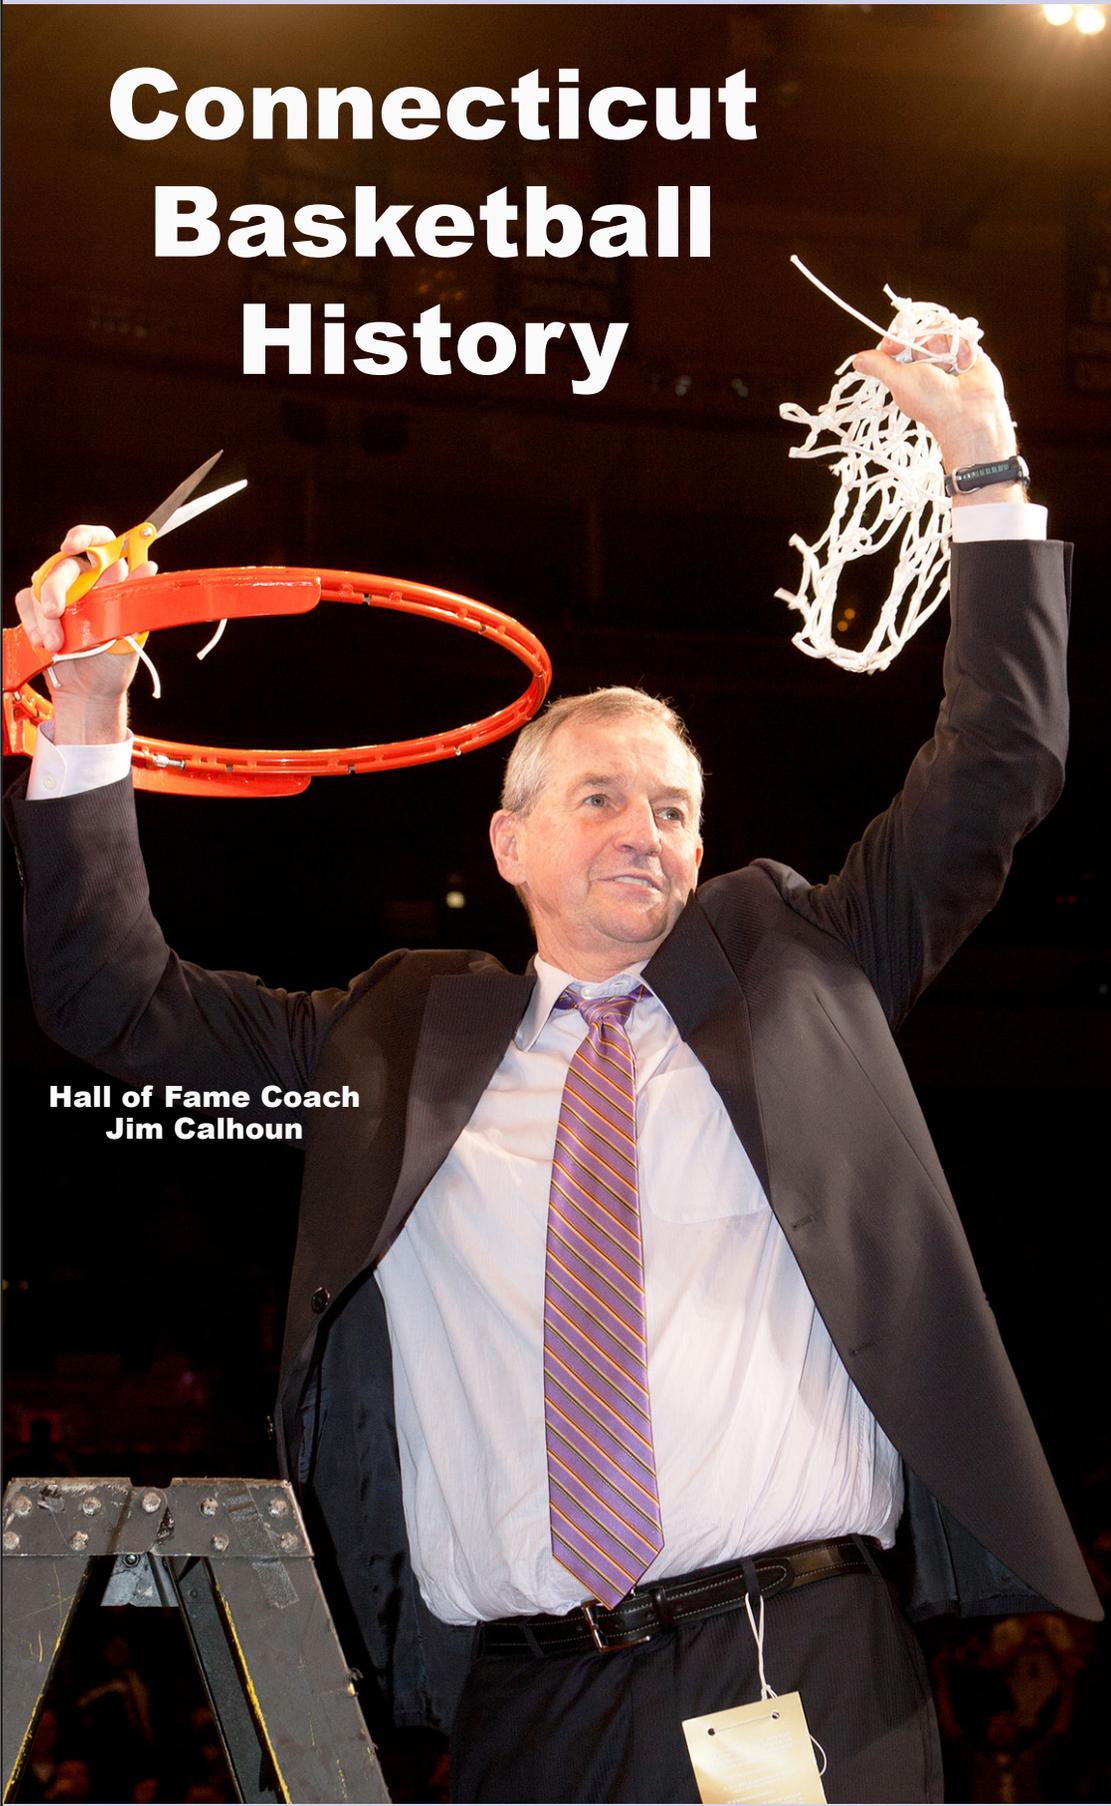

The sports medicine components include areas for testing, hydrotherapy, treatment and taping, doctor's office, and state-of-the-art rehab equipment.

The spacious academic area includes numerous computer-equipped study stations as well as private academic counseling rooms.

Combining with The Burton Family Football Complex and Mark R. Shenkman Training Center, just a short walk away, the Werth Family UConn Basketball Champions Center gives the University of Connecticut on-campus practice and training facilities for football and men's and women's basketball that rank among the finest in the nation.

* - Note: In 1910-1911 an independent team was given permission to play some games under the college name. There was no official team, supported by the CAC Athletic Association, between 1908 and 1914. The "independent" CAC team was self-supporting, and played no collegiate opponents.

CAC reinstated its support of basketball at the end of the 1913-1914 year. The last two games of the 1914-1915 season were played in Hawley Armory. The first full season of competition at Hawley was during the 1915-1916 season.

UCONN AS THE NO. 1 TEAM: UConn has been in the No. 1 spot in the national rankings nine times and 29 weeks in school history. The Huskies have played 50 games in their history as the No. 1 team in the nation (29 total weeks), compiling a 41-9 record in those contests. UConn was the top-ranked team for:

- 1994-95 -- 2 games (1-1, 1 week)
- 1998-99-- 17 games (16-1, 10 weeks)
- 1999-00-- 2 games (1-1, 1 week)
- 2003-04-- 13 games (11-2, 3 wks and 5 weeks)
- 2005-06-- 9 games (7-2, 4 weeks and 1 week)
- 2008-09-- 7 games (5-2, 3 weeks and 1 week)

UConn is 21-3 at home as No. 1 (11-1 in Gampel, 10-2 in HCC), 17-3 on the road as the top-ranked team and 3-3 on a neutral court (2-3 in MSG, 1-0 at the United Center in Chicago).

DUAL NO. 1's: The Husky men and women have been ranked No. 1 at the same time a total of six different times/seasons (twice in 2008-09) and for 17 total weeks. Prior to 2008-09, in each of the previous four seasons (13 total weeks) that UConn accomplished this feat, one or both of the teams went on to capture the national championship. In 1995, both teams were top-ranked for one week, February 13, 1995, and the women captured the 1995 title. In 1998-99, the teams spent six weeks together at the top spot and the men were crowned national champs. In 1999-00, the teams spent one week together at No. 1 and the women won the title. In 2003-04, both teams started the season ranked No. 1 and were together at the top of the rankings for five weeks, going on to become the only school in NCAA history to capture a men's and women's title in the same season. The UConn men's and women's teams repeated the dual championships in 2013-14, although the men's team was not ranked No. 1 during the season.
