Kevin OLLIE

Head Coach

4th year as HC; 6th year at UConn

Forgive UConn basketball fans if they began to experience a bit of déjà vu in early March of 2015, hoping that Coach Kevin Ollie could engineer another remarkable postseason run, just like the one that took the Huskies to the 2014 NCAA National Championship.

The feeling likely only grew stronger as UConn marched through the first three games of the American Athletic Conference Championship to reach the title game for the second straight season. This time, however, the run did not end with a berth in the NCAA Tournament and the Huskies settled for another 20-win season and participation in the National Invitation Tournament for the first time in five years.

In three seasons as UConn's head coach, following two years as an assistant under Hall of Fame Coach Jim Calhoun, Ollie has already experienced a long career's worth of ups and downs. Still, his teams have never won less than 20 games, while posting two perfect APR scores of 1,000. His career record of 72-33 (.686) already has him tied for sixth place on UConn's all-time coaching wins list.

The 2014-15 season was full of ups and downs as well --- with wins over top AAC teams SMU, Tulsa and Cincinnati and the thrill ride through the AAC postseason tournament, coupled with six losses by four points or less. At 42, Ollie is still considered one of the bright, rising stars in the college basketball coaching world.

It took Ollie just 70 games to join the elite of the profession --- those who have won an NCAA championship.

In just his second season as UConn's head basketball coach and only his fourth year in coaching since retiring from the NBA, Ollie firmly established himself in the college game by guiding the Huskies to a 32-8 season in 2013-14 and the NCAA title, defeating Kentucky, 60-54, in the tourney's championship game at AT&T Stadium in Arlington, Texas.

On his way to guiding UConn to their its fourth NCAA crown in the history of the program, Ollie marched the Huskies past storied programs Saint Joseph's, Villanova, Iowa State, Michigan State, and Florida in the tournament before the finale against Kentucky.

It would have been a dream season for any college coach, but for a

"Kevin Ollie was a game-changer for us. I think he changed the whole culture in Oklahoma City ... just his mind set, professionalism, every single day. We all watched that, and we all wanted to be like that. It rubbed off on Russell (Westbrook), myself, Jeff Green, James Harden. Everybody who comes through now, it's the standard that you've got to live up to as a Thunder player. And that started with Kevin Ollie."

coach of just 70 games, whose team was not even able to compete in the 2013 NCAA Tournament because of academic shortcomings of years long past, it was truly remarkable. The Huskies, who had a 12-6 mark in the new American Athletic Conference, won eight of their last nine games, 11 of their last 13, and had a 10-4 record against ranked opponents, including two wins against Florida, the overall No. 1 seed in the NCAA Tournament.

Ollie accepted a huge responsibility on Sept. 13, 2012, when he was named the 18th head coach in the history of UConn men's basketball.

With only two seasons of coaching experience after joining Calhoun's staff as an assistant in 2010-2011, Ollie quickly embraced the opportunity to lead the storied UConn program.

Despite a roster depleted by transfers and early NBA entrants, Ollie surprised the experts by guiding the Huskies to a 20-victory season (20-10), a feat no other UConn coach had ever accomplished in his first year.

The Huskies also posted a 10-8 mark in the difficult Big East Conference. At season's end, Ollie's efforts were recognized by Collegeinsider.com, which selected him to receive its Ben Jobe National Coach of the Year Award, given to the top Division I minority coach.

Less than a dozen games into his first season as head coach, Ollie was awarded a five-year contract. Following his second season in 2013-14, he spurned interest from NBA teams to sign another new contract with UConn that runs through May, 2019.

"It's a humbling experience to be around the UConn fans and the UConn family and to know that I am their basketball coach for the foreseeable future," Ollie said. "I'm very proud of that. UConn is a place that I love. This is where my heart is."

Ollie's UConn history --- which began in the fall of 1991 when he reported to school as a freshman from Los Angeles, continued through four successful seasons, including two as a Husky team captain, and resumed when he returned to join Calhoun's coaching staff following a 13-year NBA career --- has come full circle. He may have only served two seasons as an assistant on Calhoun's staff, but possessed a wealth of basketball knowledge after learning from some of the finest teachers to ever coach the game, including Calhoun, Chuck Daly, Don Nelson, Larry Brown, and George Karl.

"After 13 years in the NBA, Kevin's got a PhD in basketball," Calhoun said as he passed the torch to his former point guard. "He's a great basketball man and an even better person. I'm very proud of him."

Coming out of Crenshaw High School in Los Angeles, Ollie played on some of Calhoun's finest teams during the mid-1990s, as a four-year starting point guard and a two-time captain.

He played in 124 games for the Huskies, averaging 6.7

points and 5.0 assists. A third team All-Big East pick, his 619 assist total still ranks fourth on UConn's all-time list. He graduated in 1995 with a degree in Communications.

But Ollie was far more concerned with team statistics than individual ones. During his four-year UConn career, the Huskies had a record of 92-33, 51-21 in the Big East Conference and made three NCAA Tournament appearances. During Ollie's last two seasons, when he served as a team captain, UConn's record was 57-10 overall and a dazzling 32-4 in the Big East, capturing two Big East regular-season championships, and reaching the NCAA Sweet 16 and Elite Eight, respectively.

Yet it was after his UConn career that Ollie was most impressive, displaying unmatched perseverance, intestinal fortitude, and a never-say-die attitude as he fought his way through years in the Continental Basketball Association and the U.S. Basketball League to get his chance in the NBA.

Once there, Ollie would simply not give up his dream, signing a series of 10-day and one-year contracts, dealing with trades and frustrating roster cuts.

Yet Ollie would not be deterred, earning a reputation throughout the league as an outstanding teammate, with strong moral fiber, impeccable character, and a vast knowledge of the game. His perseverance finally paid off with a multi-year NBA contract from the Cleveland Cavaliers.

In part, Ollie had been brought to Cleveland to mentor a young LeBron James about acting as a professional and Oklahoma City brought Ollie in to do the same for Kevin Durant. During a 13-year NBA career, Ollie played for 11 different franchises in 12 cities.

Ollie couldn't have had a more successful debut season to his coaching career than in 2010-11, as he helped guard Kemba Walker produce one of the most spectacular individual seasons in UConn history in leading the Huskies to the program's third national championship. He has had the same kind of success mentoring guards Jeremy Lamb, Shabazz Napier, and, this past season, Ryan Boatright.

Born in Dallas on Dec. 27, 1972, and raised in Los Angeles, Ollie resides in Glastonbury and has two children, son Jalen (born 6/22/96) and daughter Cheyanne (born 2/6/01).

Glen MILLER

Associate Head Coach

13th year at UConn

Glen Miller is in his fourth season as the Huskies' Associate Head Coach under Head Coach Kevin Ollie. It is Miller's 13th season overall on the UConn staff and his sixth since returning to UConn in 2010-11.

Miller rejoined Coach Jim Calhoun's UConn staff in 2010-11 as Director of Basketball Administration following 17 years of head coaching experience at Connecticut College, Brown University, and the University of Pennsylvania. One year later, in 2011-12, he moved into the role of fulltime assistant coach and when Ollie took over as head coach in 2012-13, Miller was appointed Associate Head Coach. He has been an integral part of all practice work, game strategy, recruiting and scheduling. Miller has primary responsibility when it comes to film breakdown and evaluation of UConn opponents.

Miller's Division I head coaching experience began at Brown in 1999-2000, where his teams set school records for wins in a two-, three-, four-, and five-year span, as well as most Ivy League wins in a season. He recruited and developed 10 all-conference players and the Ivy League's 2004 Player of the Year.

Following seven years at Brown, Miller was hired as head coach of the prestigious program at Penn in 2006. He led the Quakers to the Ivy League Championship and an NCAA Tournament berth in 2006-07, setting the school record for most Ivy League wins by a first-year coach. He spent three full years and part of a fourth as the Penn head coach.

Previous to taking over at Brown, Miller enjoyed a highly-successful span as head coach at Division III Connecticut College. In six seasons, beginning in 1993, Miller led Conn College to unprecedented heights, including a 28-1 record, a No. 1 national ranking, and a berth in the Division III Final Four in 1998-99.

In 17 seasons as a college basketball head coach, Miller compiled 233 victories.

A native of Groton, Conn., where he starred at Fitch High School, Miller played for two seasons at UConn, then played two seasons for Calhoun at Northeastern. He joined Calhoun's first staff at UConn in 1986 and worked with the Huskies for seven seasons before being named head coach at Conn College in 1993.

Born Aug. 20, 1961, Miller and his wife Yvonne reside in Mansfield and are the parents of four children: Tony, Genelle, Jillian, and Emma.

Karl HOBBS

Assistant Coach

13th year at UConn

Karl Hobbs is in his 13th season overall on the UConn staff, his fourth as an Assistant Coach after returning to the Huskies in 2011-12 as the Director of Basketball Administration. Hobbs, a former UConn team captain, spent eight years as a UConn assistant coach from 1993-2001 and helped the Huskies win eight Big East championships and the 1999 NCAA title.

In between his two UConn stints, Hobbs spent 10 years as the head coach at George Washington University, leading the Colonials to two Atlantic 10 Tournament championships, a regular-season title, and five straight postseason appearances, including three consecutive NCAA Tournament berths. He was the Atlantic 10 Coach of the Year in 2005-06, and notched 166 wins while at GWU.

Hobbs began his coaching career as a six-year assistant at Boston University before joining Jim Calhoun's UConn staff. While Hobbs was at UConn, he was instrumental in the recruitment of such Husky stars as Richard Hamilton, Caron Butler, and Emeka Okafor. The Huskies had a record of 216-56 while Hobbs was on Calhoun's staff.

Out of Roxbury, Mass., Hobbs was named Massachusetts Schoolboy Player of the Year in 1979-80 after leading Cambridge Rindge and Latin High School to the state high school championship. Hobbs was a four-year starting point guard for UConn (1980-84), where he served as team captain and was an All-Big East selection as a senior. He led the team in assists all four years and still ranks sixth on the all-time list with 534.

Born Aug. 7, 1961, Hobbs and wife JoAnn are the parents of two daughters, RaShauna and Kaliah.

Ricky MOORE

Assistant Coach

Ricky Moore, co-captain of UConn's first national championship men's team in 1999, is in his third season as a UConn Assistant Coach after serving as the program's Assistant Director of Basketball Administration in 2012-13.

Moore, a 1999 UConn graduate with a degree in community program development, came back to Storrs after serving as an assistant basketball coach at Dartmouth College from 2010-2012, following his retirement from an 11-year career in professional basketball. Moore played professionally for 11 years in five countries --- Austria, Ukraine, Sweden, Turkey, and Germany --- as well as in the Continental Basketball Association and the NBA Developmental League.

During Moore's four seasons at UConn (1995-99), the Huskies compiled an overall record of 114-24 and a Big East Conference mark of 55-17, winning three Big East regular-season championships, three Big East Tournament championships, and reaching the 1996 NCAA Sweet 16, the 1998 NCAA Elite, and capturing the 1999 NCAA Championship. He was a three-time co-captain and his 510 assists still rank seventh on the all-time list.

Moore was named to the 1999 Final Four and West Regional All-Tournament Teams and Basketball News Magazine selected him as the National Defensive Player of the Year. In 2001, he was named to UConn's All-Century Team.

Originally from Augusta, Ga., Moore was born April 10, 1976. He and wife Heather are the parents of two children, daughter Kendyll and son R.J.

Kevin FREEMAN

Director of Basketball Administration 5th year at UConn

Kevin Freeman is in his fourth season as UConn's Director of Basketball Administration after serving for one year as the Assistant Director under Karl Hobbs.

Besides his responsibilities as the coordinator for all the Huskies' travel and practice schedules at home and on the road, Freeman serves as the liaison between the men's basketball program and the university administration, as well as the campus community.

Freeman, a former UConn captain and second in the history of the program in games played (140), came back to Storrs in 2011-12 after playing 11 seasons of professional basketball in Italy, Australia, Greece, South Korea, China, Puerto Rico, Spain and Venezuela.

Freeman, a native of Springfield, Mass., was an all-state performer at Paterson (N.J.) Catholic High School before his outstanding career at UConn.

While at UConn, he was named the Most Outstanding Player of the 1999 Big East Championship and selected to the 1999 NCAA West Regional All-Tournament Team as an invaluable starter on UConn's first National Championship team.

During Freeman's career, the Huskies compiled an impressive 109-32 record, and made three NCAA appearances, reaching the Elite Eight in 1998 and winning the NCAA crown in 1999.

At the start of the 2015-16 season, he still ranked No. 19 on UConn's all-time scoring list with 1,476 points, and No. 8 on the all-time rebounding list with 913. He earned his degree in 2006.

Born March 3, 1978, Freeman and his wife Nicole are the parents of a daughter, Kekoa, and two sons, Sire and Legend.

Danny GRIFFIN Director/Player Development 2nd year at UConn

Danny Griffin is the newest member of the UConn staff, in his second season of working on the off-court development of the student-athletes, helping to set them up for a successful career after college, no matter what their chosen field.

Griffin brings a wealth of basketball knowledge, having played and later coached under the legendary Coach Willie West at Los Angeles' Crenshaw High. In college, he played under both Jerry Tarkanian and Rolie Massimini at UNLV before transferring and finishing his career under Al Skinner at Rhode Island.

Knee surgery stopped an attempt at a pro career overseas, but he was a phys ed teacher for 10 years in Compton, Calif., and has been a motivational speaker and an entrepreneur on his way to joining the UConn staff.

James DORAN Athletic Trainer 11th year at UConn

James Doran is in his 11th year with the University of Connecticut. His responsibilities are with the University of Connecticut men's basketball and rowing teams.

Doran received his B.S. degree in kinesiology from San Diego State University in 1998 and his M.S. degree in exercise science from the University of Wyoming in 2000.

He was the associate athletic trainer for the University of Wyoming and was primarily responsible for the Cowboy men's basketball team from 2000 to 2005. During his tenure at the University of Wyoming, he also held responsibilities with football, wrestling, men's and women's track, women's tennis, men's and women's golf and cheerleading.

Doran received his National Athletic Trainers Association Board of Certification credential in 1998.

Travis ILLIAN Strength & Conditioning 3rd year at UConn

Travis Illian is in his third year as the strength and conditioning coach for the UConn men's basketball program. Illian is in charge of the Huskies' in-season and off-season weight training, conditioning and nutrition.

Previous to his time at UConn, Illian spent six years at the University of Alabama, working primarily with the Tide's national championship gymnastics team as well as being involved with the football program. Before that, he also worked at TCU and Mississippi State.

Illian received his bachelor's degree from Texas Lutheran in 2002, earned a Master's Degree in Human Performance from Alabama in 2003, and was awarded his doctorate in Human Performance from Alabama in 2011.

Dave SEVUSH Director/ Scouting-Video 4th year at UConn

Dave Sevush is in his second year as UConn's Director of Scouting-Video, following two seasons as a graduate assistant. He is directly involved with practice and game planning, workouts, opponent scouting, film breakdown and on-campus recruiting.

Sevush earned his bachelor's degree in Political Science from UConn in 2010 and a master's degree in Kinesiology with a specialty in Sports Management from UConn in 2014.

Sevush did a year-long internship in Basketball Operations with the NBA's Charlotte Bobcats in 2011 and became an administrative assistant with the team. He then moved on to Florida State as Assistant Video Coordinator for the men's basketball program before returning to Storrs in 2012-13.

A Look Ahead: 2015-16 Preview

Begin with a solid base of returning veterans. Add a healthy portion of impact newcomers. Blend them together under the direction of a strong coaching staff. Toss the mixture against a demanding schedule for about five months.

That sums up the recipe for the 2015-16 University of Connecticut men's basketball team.

The Huskies face the season after the season after winning the national championship with renewed enthusiasm, excitement and optimism. Although UConn has eight players returning from 2014-15 --- who accounted for 66.7 percent of the points, 78.2 percent of the rebounds, 68.0 percent of the assists and 92.3 percent of the blocked shots last year --- and even though the team lost just one starter, the 2015-16 Huskies clearly will have a much different look.

butions. Graduate students Sterling Gibbs and Shonn Miller arrive with experience, maturity and resumes filled with college basketball success, while freshmen Jalen Adams and Steven Enoch bring unlimited potential to the program following stellar high school/prep school/AAU careers. Even redshirt freshman Terry Larrier, sitting out the season after transferring from VCU, helps the Huskies as a long, athletic, talented swingman to provide high-level competition in practice every day.

Combine that group with the returnees: seniors Omar Calhoun, Phillip Nolan and Nnamdi Amilo, juniors Amida Brimah, Rodney Purvis, Kentan Facey and Sam Cassell Jr., and sophomore Daniel Hamilton and there are the makings for an exciting 2015-16.

BACKCOURT

Despite the loss of unanimous first team All-American Conference pick Ryan Boatright, UConn has again placed itself among the top backcourts in the nation with the addition of Gibbs and Adams.

Taking advantage of the fifth-year graduate rule, Gibbs arrives at UConn after a stellar two-year career at Seton Hall, which followed his freshman season at the University of Texas. Last season, he was an All-Big East Second Team pick, as well as second team NABC All-District, second team All-Met Writers, a two-time Big East Player of the Week and a five time selection on the Big East Weekly Honor Roll. He was the only Big East player to rank in the league's top five in both scoring and assists.

Gibbs' ability to hit the three-pointer (.436 last season) or take the ball to the basket will combine with the similar talents of returning starter Rodney Purvis to give the Huskies an explosive offensive backcourt. Purvis, a redshirt junior, hit his stride toward the end of last season and shot 40.4 percent from three-point range over the last nine games, while averaging nearly 17 points a game during that span.

Adams, meanwhile, gives UConn another quick, talented player who can effortlessly shift between the two guard positions, equally adept at attacking the basket or distributing the ball. After leading Brewster Academy to the National Prep Championship last season, Adams is likely to see plenty of playing time in the UConn backcourt.

Redshirt junior Sam Cassell Jr. had his season cut short in 2014-15, sitting out the last 17 games with a stress fracture in his right ankle. If healthy, Cassell gives the Huskies added depth in the backcourt as a solid ballhandler and a long-range shooter.

SWINGMEN

Sophomore Daniel Hamilton comes off an outstanding freshman season that saw him earn American Athletic Conference Rookie of the Year honors as he led the conference in rebounding, was second on the Huskies in assists and third in scoring, all while playing any of three positions as needed. With an improved UConn frontcourt this season, Hamilton figures to spend more time at his natural small forward spot, but his versatility is a trait that UConn Coach Kevin Ollie covets.

Senior Omar Calhoun was slowed by a strained MCL at the beginning of last season, but recovered to give the Huskies some solid minutes as a deep shooting threat, a role he figures to expand upon this year.

Larrier will have three years of eligibility remaining when he begins play for the Huskies in 2016-17. With a build similar to that of Hamilton, and also possessing the same type of game and court versatility, this season Larrier will provide formidable competition during practice, forcing both players to improve.

FRONTCOURT

The UConn frontcourt should be much improved in 2015-16, deeper and more experienced, leading to a more balanced offensive attack and making the Huskies more difficult to defend.

Much of the Huskies' success in 2015-16 will depend on the continued development of junior center Amida Brimah. Already a premier shot-blocker who led the nation in total blocks and was second in blocks per game last season, Brimah captured the American Athletic Conference Defensive Player of the Year Award. This season, the 7-footer will be expected to improve his offensive game and his rebounding to give UConn an offensive presence close to the hoop.

Complementing the big guy at strong forward will be Miller, who will spend his final college season with the Huskies after an outstanding three seasons at Cornell University. A unanimous All-Ivy League First Team pick twice in his three years, Miller ranked second in the Ivy League in scoring, rebounding, and free throw percentage, was fourth in blocks and eighth in steals. Miller, who recorded 11 double-doubles last season and had 18 during his Cornell career, gives the Huskies a strong forward who can contribute at both ends of the floor.

Phillip Nolan brings 97 games worth of experience into his senior year, including starts in every NCAA Tournament game during UConn's 2014 run to the National Championship, and starting the final 10 games last season. He will see action at both the 4 and 5 spots after a strong summer of work on his overall game.

Junior forward Kentan Facey more than tripled his playing time, as well as his scoring and rebounding numbers, in his sophomore year and started 22 games. He will clearly be part of the battle for minutes up front.

Senior Nnamdi Amilo, a former walk-on who earned a scholarship last year, also adds depth to the UConn frontcourt, while incoming freshman Steve Enoch will have the chance to prove himself and earn playing time after an impressive season at St. Thomas More.

SCHEDULE

The 2015-16 Huskies will face a challenging schedule that includes preseason top 5 pick Maryland, former Big East rival Georgetown, perennial Top 25 team Ohio State, and Big 12 power Texas as well as a meeting against Michigan in the first game of the Battle 4 Atlantis, a tournament that also includes the likes of Syracuse, Gonzaga, and Texas A&M.

In addition, the American Athletic Conference should be much improved this season with most of the league's key players returning. SMU, Cincinnati, Tulsa, Memphis and Temple seem certain to again battle with UConn for post-season invitations, with Houston, UCF, Tulane, East Carolina and USF each making upward strides.

The 2015-16 edition of the Huskies has all the ingredients necessary for success. And with 124 victories and two National Championships over the past five years, it's clear that UConn knows the recipe.

2015-16 UNIVERSITY OF CONNECTICUT MEN'S BASKETBALL NOTES

UCONN recorded its fifth consecutive 20-victory season in 2014-15, its seventh in the past eight years, and its 16th in the past 18 years. It was UConn's 28th straight winning season.

UCONN is bringing back 66.7 percent of its scoring, 78.2 percent of its rebounding, 68.0 percent of its assists, and 92.3 percent of its blocked shots from last year.

UCONN returns junior center Amidah Brimah, the 2014-15 American Athletic Conference Defensive Player of the Year. Brimah led the country in total blocked shots last season (121) and was second in blocked shots per game (3.46). His .674 field goal percentage set a UConn single-season record and his .699 fg percentage in league games led the AAC.

UCONN returns sophomore swingman Daniel Hamilton, the 2014-15 American Athletic Conference Rookie of the Year. Hamilton led the AAC in rebounding in league games (9.1) and was the only freshman in the country to notch 300 points (380), 200 rebounds (267), and 100 assists (128).

UCONN redshirt junior guard Rodney Purvis came on strong toward the end of last season to average 16.7 points, including career-highs of 28 and 29 points in games against nationally-ranked SMU, and shoot 40.4 percent from three-point range in the Huskies' last nine games.

UCONN incoming graduate students Sterling Gibbs and Shonn Miller combined to average 33.5 points, 10.5 rebounds, 4.8 assists, and 32.5 minutes per game last season and started a combined 57 games. Both were all-conference selections, Gibbs (Seton Hall) in the Big East and Miller (Cornell) in the Ivy League.

UCONN has 4 NCAA National Championships, 5 Final Four appearances, 8 Elite Eight appearances, and 10 Sweet 16 appearances over the past 20 years. UConn's NCAA Tournament record over that span is 43-10, an .811 winning percentage.

UCONN has an overall 8-1 record in the Final Four, the best winning percentage (.889) in the country.

UCONN has had 28 four-year players over the last 20 years and has taken 26 of them to the Final Four.

UCONN has had 27 players drafted in the NBA Draft over the last 25 years, 19 of them were 1st round picks, and 13 of those were lottery picks. The Huskies have also had four players sign as free agents and make the league, including last year's captain, Ryan Boatright.

A Look Back: 2014-15 Review

Ryan Boatright

Despite carrying the label of defending national champion and the wearing the huge target that automatically comes with it, the UConn Huskies produced another 20-victory season in 2014-15, their fifth straight year of 20 wins or more and seventh in the last eight years, and were again selected for national postseason play.

While UConn did not replicate the NCAA national championship run of 2013-14, the Huskies did reach the American Athletic Conference championship game for the second consecutive season and made the 13th NIT appearance in the history of the program.

From a basketball standpoint, it certainly was a difficult task to replace the six players lost following the national championship year, including three starters and a top reserve, but perhaps just as important was filling the void created as far as leadership and experience were concerned.

Much of that responsibility fell on a single set of shoulders --- those of senior guard Ryan Boatright, who responded with a first team All-American Athletic Conference season. The point guard led the entire conference in scoring and led the Huskies in scoring, assists, steals, three-point field goal percentage, free throw percentage and minutes played. Besides earning honors as a unanimous selection to the all-conference first team, he was named the AAC Player of the Week twice and was on the league's weekly Honor Roll 10 times. He was an all-district selection by both the U.S. Basketball Writers Association and the National Association of Basketball Coaches.

By the end of the season, Boatright had joined former UConn All-American Shabazz Napier as the only two Huskies to reach the school's all-time top 10 in both career scoring and assists.

The 2014-15 season also saw the continued emergence of sophomore center Amida Brimah as a defensive force and the spectacular all-around debut of freshman swingman Daniel Hamilton.

The 7-foot Brimah was named the AAC Defensive Player of the Year after leading the conference and ranking second in the country in blocked shots. His .674 field goal percentage set a UConn single-season record and he set a school single-game record with a perfect 13-of-13 shooting performance against Coppin State. Brimah's 40 points in that game was the Huskies' highest-scoring total in four years.

Hamilton earned AAC Rookie of the Year honors after leading the conference in rebounding in league games. He was the only freshman in the country to score 300 points (380), grab 200 rebounds (267), and hand out 100 assists (128). He led the Huskies with five double-double games and his 17-rebound effort against East Carolina was the most by a UConn player in four years and the most by a UConn freshman since 1979.

Following a season of waiting as a transfer student, redshirt sophomore guard Rodney Purvis came into his own in the latter part of the 2014-15 season, giving himself a springboard for 2015-16. In UConn's last nine games, Purvis averaged 16.7 points per game and scored double figures in eight of them, including games of 28 and 29 points against nationally-ranked SMU. He was named to the all-tournament team at the American Athletic Conference Championship.

While there was plenty of uncertainty surrounding the 2014-15 Huskies as the season began, the one aspect UConn could count on was that no opponent would need added motivation other than a chance to defeat the reigning national champions. The Huskies were clearly going to get every opponent's best effort.

Almost every team looks back on a season and sees plenty of "what if" moments, but UConn's season would have changed dramatically with just a basket here or a free throw there. The Huskies lost five games by a combined total of eight points and another in overtime. UConn won three straight games on five separate occasions during the season, but could not quite put together a lengthy winning streak.

UConn would play 10 games against teams that would make the NCAA Tournament, including eventual NCAA national champion Duke at the Izod Center in East Rutherford, N.J. Following a 17-13 regular season, and a 10-8 American Athletic Conference record, the Huskies forged into the American Athletic Conference Championship with renewed vigor, helped by the partisan tournament crowd at the XL Center in Hartford. UConn became the first team to play four games in the AAC tournament, reaching the title contest for the second straight season.

As the No. 6 seed, the Huskies began tourney play with a 26-point win over No. 11 seed USF, led by a 20-point performance from Hamilton. In the tournament quarterfinals, guards Boatright and Purvis combined for 35 points as the Huskies came from behind to edge No. 3 seed Cincinnati. Advancing to the semifinals, UConn used 21 points from Boatright and a smothering defense to capture a four-point triumph over No. 2 seed Tulsa to earn the right to challenge No. 1 seed

SMU in the championship game. It was the second time in the short two-year history of the tourney that UConn played in the championship game.

In the title contest, UConn cut a 17-point, second-half deficit to five, fueled by a 29-point effort from Purvis, but the Mustangs eventually prevailed, denying UConn the chance to play in the NCAA Tournament.

UConn did accept an invitation to the National Invitation Tournament, however, its 13th overall appearance in the event, which the Huskies won in 1988. Again, UConn made a valiant comeback, rallying from a 16-point deficit in the second half against Arizona State to tie the game. However, with Boatright missing a game due to injury (shoulder) for the first time in his career and UConn allowing an opponent to shoot over 50.0 percent for the only time last season, the Huskies bowed to the Pac-12 Sun Devils to finish the season at 20-15.

It would be an understatement to say that UConn has ridden a roller coaster's worth of ups and downs over the past three seasons --- from postseason ineligibility, to the NCAA National Championship, to the NIT. For Coach Kevin Ollie, who has 72 wins in three years to tie for sixth on the Huskies' all-time coaching victory list, 2014-15 clearly added to what has already been a wealth of experience.

Werth Family UConn Basketball Champions Center

The Werth Family UConn Basketball Champions Center opened its doors in October, 2014, giving the UConn men's and women's basketball programs one of the finest practice facilities in the country.

Built on the site of what was Memorial Stadium, the former on-campus home of the football Huskies, the Werth Family Champions Center is located on Jim Calhoun Way, adjacent to Gampel Pavilion and provides the UConn men's and women's basketball programs each with a place to call their own.

Built at an estimated cost of $40 million, the 78,200-square foot facility consists of two massive and identical wings, containing practice courts, locker rooms, coaches' offices, athletic training rooms, strength and conditioning areas, areas for sports medicine, film rooms, fully-equipped academic study areas, dining areas, and will be filled with memorabilia celebrating the two programs' combined 14 national championships and decades of success.

"The success of our men's and women's basketball student-athletes, in both the classroom and on the court, will be greatly enhanced by the UConn Basketball Champions Center," said Director of Athletics Warde Manuel. "I want to thank all of our benefactors whose generosity allowed us to construct this project."

The practice courts for each team include one full-size court and two half-courts and a dedicated free throw shooting basket, equaling eight goals per court. A viewing balcony allows coaches and visitors to observe practices with ample space for video equipment to record practice sessions from an elevated position.

Team locker rooms are state-of-the-art, equipped with spacious individual lockers, each with a combination-lock slide-out closet to house valuables.

There are three meeting rooms in the building and each program has student lounges, featuring space to relax, socialize, play video games, or watch TV. There is a full dining area and buffet style serving area on the second floor, ensuring that the athletes get proper nutrition.

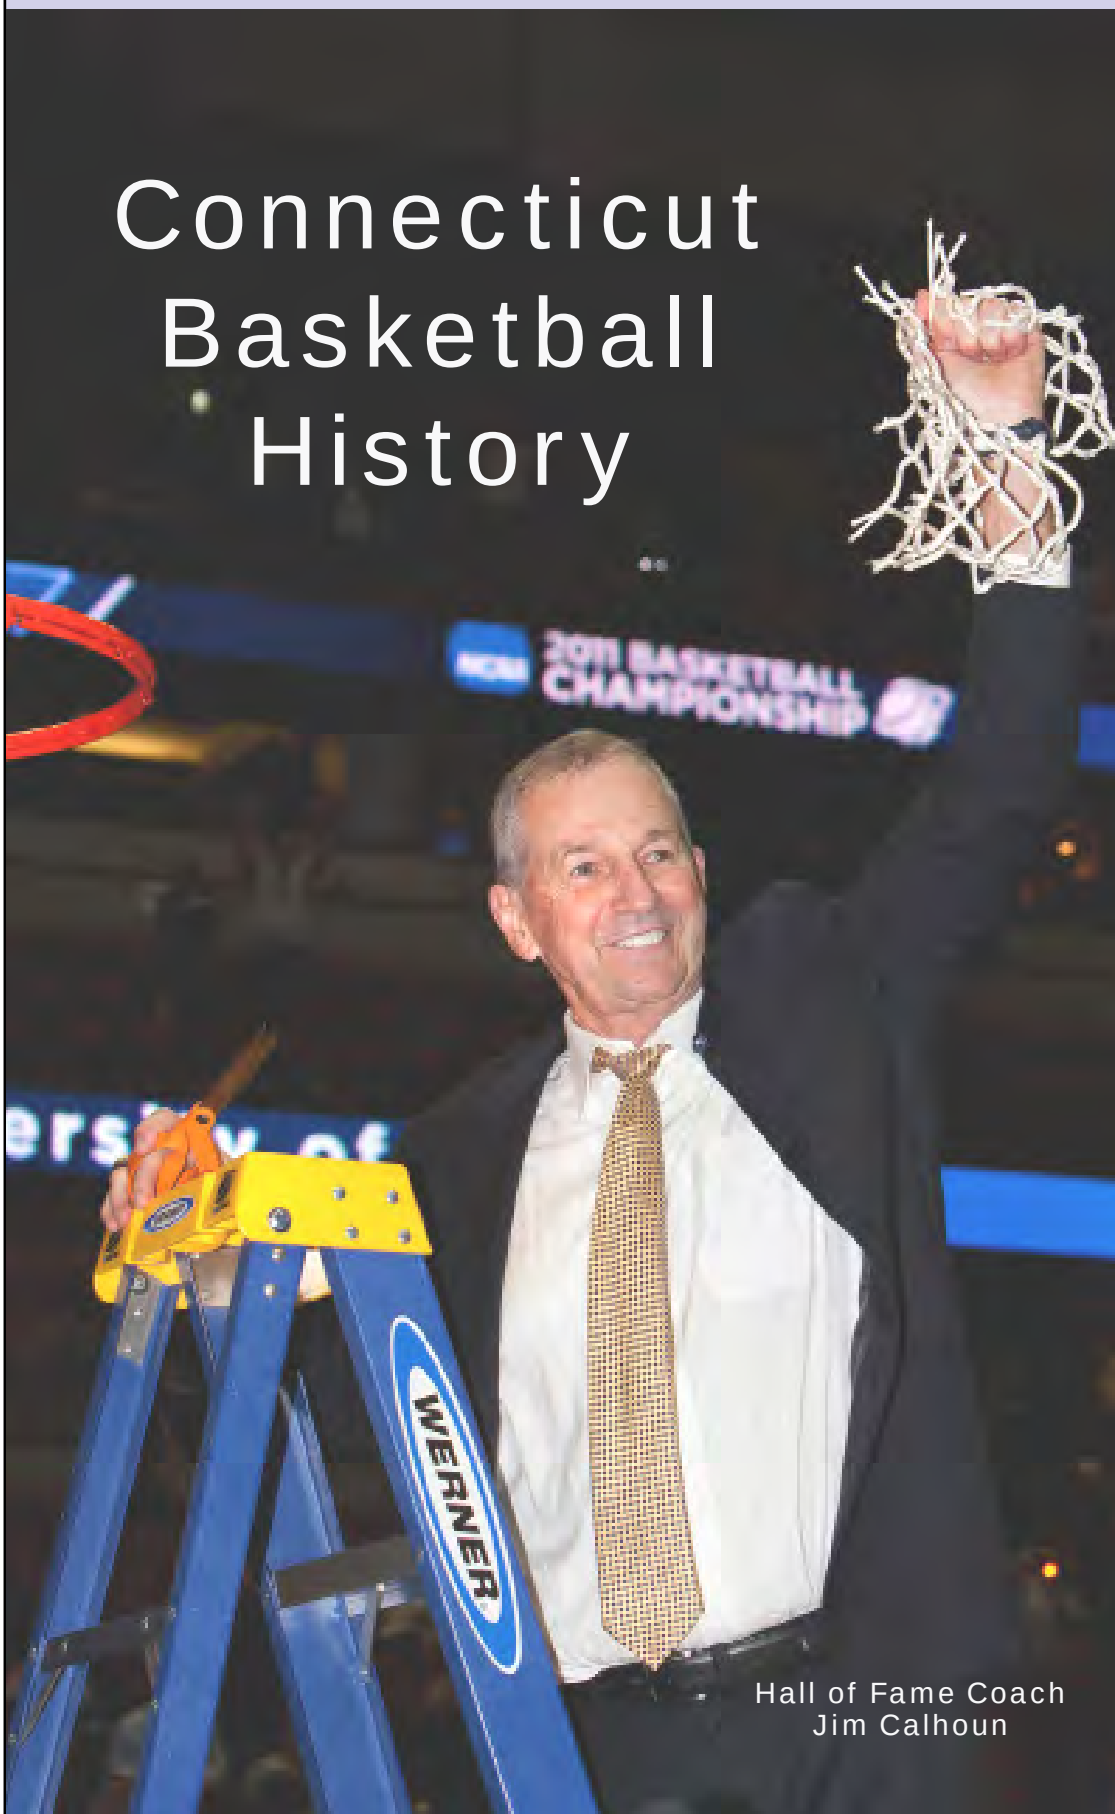

The sports medicine components include areas for testing, hydrotherapy, treatment and taping, doctor's office, and state-of-the-art rehab equipment.

The spacious academic area includes numerous computer-equipped study stations as well as private academic counseling rooms.

Combining with The Burton Family Football Complex and Mark R. Shenkman Training Center, just a short walk away, the Werth Family UConn Basketball Champions Center gives the University of Connecticut on-campus practice and training facilities for football and men's and women's basketball that rank among the finest in the nation.

* - Note: In 1910-1911 an independent team was given permission to play some games under the college name. There was no official team, supported by the CAC Athletic Association, between 1908 and 1914. The "independent" CAC team was self-supporting, and played no collegiate opponents.

CAC reinstated its support of basketball at the end of the 1913-1914 year. The last two games of the 1914-1915 season were played in Hawley Armory. The first full season of competition at Hawley was during the 1915-1916 season.

UCONN AS THE NO. 1 TEAM: UConn has been in the No. 1 spot in the national rankings nine times and 29 weeks in school history. The Huskies have played 50 games in their history as the No. 1 team in the nation (29 total weeks), compiling a 41-9 record in those contests. UConn was the top-ranked team for:

1994-95 -- 2 games (1-1, 1 week)
 1998-99-- 17 games (16-1, 10 weeks)
 1999-00-- 2 games (1-1, 1 week)
 2003-04-- 13 games (11-2, 3 wks and 5 weeks)
 2005-06-- 9 games (7-2, 4 weeks and 1 week)
 2008-09-- 7 games (5-2, 3 weeks and 1 week)

UConn is 21-3 at home as No. 1 (11-1 in Gampel, 10-2 in HCC), 17-3 on the road as the top-ranked team and 3-3 on a neutral court (2-3 in MSG, 1-0 at the United Center in Chicago).

DUAL NO. 1's: The Husky men and women have been ranked No. 1 at the same time a total of six different times/seasons (twice in 2008-09) and for 17 total weeks. Prior to 2008-09, in each of the previous four seasons (13 total weeks) that UConn accomplished this feat, one or both of the teams went on to capture the national championship. In 1995, both teams were top-ranked for one week, February 13, 1995, and the women captured the 1995 title. In 1998-99, the teams spent six weeks together at the top spot and the men were crowned national champs. In 1999-00, the teams spent one week together at No. 1 and the women won the title. In 2003-04, both teams started the season ranked No. 1 and were together at the top of the rankings for five weeks, going on to become the only school in NCAA history to capture a men's and women's title in the same season. The UConn men's and women's teams repeated the dual championships in 2013-14, although the men's team was not ranked No. 1 during the season.

UConn Head Coach

“Greatness is never on discount. Success is never on sale.”

“You can’t control events, but you can control the meaning of events.”

“When you go through trying times, you don’t stop trying.”

“On the other side of doubt is your breakthrough.”

“The escalator’s for cowards. We’re going to take the stairs -- one step at a time.”

“If you stay ready, you don’t ever have to get ready.”

“I don’t see obstacles, I see opportunities.”

“The greatest performers are the greatest learners.”

“Make the rest of your life the best of your life.”

“You don’t just go through life, you grow through life.”

“Go the extra mile. There’s always less traffic on the second mile.”
